f/ Meetings that are not recorded on video by the county recorder's system.

4/ The belief system shall be an instrument of peace and brotherhood among men. The belief system shall not have a large segment that is:

a/ Hostile to non-believers.

b/ Advocates of violence, or any crime.

c/ Regularly budding terrorist groups.

5/ The belief system and its members shall not advocate the end of either our dear freedoms and rights, or the dear freedoms and rights of anyone anywhere on Earth. Nor shall the religion present non-believers as sub-human, or animal-like in any way, or deserving any hatred or violence.

6/ In the land of the free, we automatically start with allowing all religions to be practiced. However, if the religion turns violent, or terroristic, conspiratorial, or inverted, or it harasses apostates, or it is used for nefarious purposes like sex with children, or forced prostitution, or funneling money to others — its practice may be curtailed in any way the Senate finds expeditious.

7/ The head-and-shoulders most important religious freedom in our nation shall also be thought to be freedom from religion, especially those religions seeking to either convert non-believers, or to discourage apostates through intimidation and violence. Those people who dare judge, punish, fine, threaten, menace, or slander people due to apostasy or conversion, or atheism, shall be thought easy to consider as violating our nation's precious religious freedoms, and these shall be thought easy to jail, deport and exclude from our nation

8/ No religion shall make any demands or threats at all on non-believers, or apostates from that religion the way Islam so commonly does. Religions that do this may see their religious protections stripped away by our nation.

9/ The people shall always have the right to change their beliefs. No religion shall punish, fine, threaten, menace, slander, or judge people if they choose to leave any religion, or if they believe another religion, or become atheists. Where religions commonly do any of these things, anywhere on earth, it shall weigh upon our nation's decisions about the rights of believers of that religion to remain in our nation and to practice that particular religion.

10/ All protected religions and belief system must elect their leaders locally and annually, and these must all be full citizens. Also, there shall be no fewer than one local leader per 500 followers of the belief system, and no belief system shall ever be exempt. These local leaders in turn must annually elect 1-in-10 of their own as administration for the belief system in our nation. This elected administration shall act as the ultimate arbiter for the belief system in our nation. It shall make all the business and religious decisions for that belief system in our nation.

11/ There shall be no election by appointees anywhere on earth in any of the nation's protected belief systems. All hires of the officers of the belief system everywhere on earth must be elected. Also, the belief system's local followers must elect their leaders, and then these elected people in turn elect a national 1:5,000 leadership for the belief system. All elections shall be by openly recorded video voting.

12/ All services and activities in all belief systems shall be conducted exclusively in the national language, English or Euemi as applicable. The use of Latin, Greek, Arabic, Chinese and all other foreign languages in religious services shall be entirely prohibited. This practice of using foreign languages has existed throughout history, and its main purpose has generally been to empower foreign priests so they can lord over the the local people.

13/ All belief system shall be allowed to translate and edit their holy texts as they wish, however, the Senate shall have the same right. The Senate shall also have an obligation to include various translations of all important texts including the questionable, or apocryphal texts such as the books Tobit, Baruch, Esdras, and Laodiceans.

14/ No religion shall demand that its priests or other religious people remain celibate as this is leads pedophile priests that will do what their masters demand.

15/ Like with our school staff, no priest or religious staff shall be allowed to meet alone or in small groups in the same private room with non-relative minors under age 18 either on the job or off, unless they are accompanied by a parent or guardian. All priests and other church staff meeting in groups shall be required to have child worker licenses if they meet with and work with minors, just like elsewhere in our nation.

17/ All religious schools and all schools that are affiliated with any religion, as well as all schools that employ priests, nuns, monks, or other religious officials (or anyone who was previously one of these) shall not be eligible for nonprofit status. Therefore, all money paid either way, from the religion to the school, or from the school to the religion shall be taxed at one point at least.

18/ No religion or its priests in any part of the world shall express any opinions about war, violence, the rules of government, or about other political matters. demand.

19/ No religion shall say or infer that giving money or making sacrifices will in any way atone for evil deeds. When a religion says this sort of thing, it is telling its adherents that they can be evil as long as they pay money to their indulgence religion. Any religion doing this is obviously and hypocritically encouraging the very sins they supposedly despise.

20/ No religion shall burn anything, or allow anything to be burned or sacrificed in its houses of worship, including candles, incense, hashish-incense, and burned perfumes.

21/ No religion shall have or call for ritual animal slaughter except where the animal is mostly eaten.

22/ No religion shall call for special, distinct, or imported food. We do this because of the Mideast's ancient history of mass poisonings. If the religion eats special food, it becomes much easier to either poison or frame non-believers.

23/ No religions shall keep a database on people who are followers or not followers of that religion. Religions shall not keep databases about the income, wealth, consumption, or achievements of their followers, or in any way punish, or call attention to those who do not pay their religious taxes or tithes. Also, no tithe money may go to any priests or religious infrastructure, but must instead be used for low cost foods or low cost housing made by means of mass production in factories.

24/ We shall in general be highly suspicious of ideologies that focus more on suppressing conflicting information and punishing heretics, than on persuading people with evidence and clear arguments. While this concept is presented in the religion section herein, in recent years it has also become a problem for science, and is supposed to be understood as big problem for the many branches of supposed science that have degraded into the dogma of dog minded people.

25/ All secret societies shall banned as conspiratorial, and all continued membership shall be a felony. All masonic and other iconography shall be removed from all buildings and other locations. The following secret societies shall be shut down and their members shall not associate together any longer or they shall be subject to criminal charges: Free Masons, Ku Klux Klan, World Economic Forum, The Illuminati, Bilderberg Group, Skull and Bones, Bohemian Club, Ordo Templie Orientis, Priory of Sion, Carbonari, Hermetic Brotherhood of light, Ancient Mystical Order of Workmen, Heavenly Kingdom of Everlasting Satisfaction, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Maccabees, Knights of Malta, Knights of Pythias, Opus Dei, Rosicrucians, Royal Arcanum, Scroll and Key, Seven Society, The Loyal Order of the Moose, The National Grange of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry, United Ancient Order of Druids, United Order of the Golden Cross, Veiled Prophet Organization. Those who are past secret society members must have this information on their facebook page so that all will know. All secret society property shall be nationalized and demolished if free standing and repurposed if not.

26/ No Muslim slave prostrations, oaths, or promises shall be allowed in our land of the free, where all forms of slavery and oaths to foreign nations and organizations are prohibited. Therefore, all Muslim slave prostrations shall be considered a traitorous act in the land of the free.

27/ Free masonry shall be understood in the context of building the wall, the symbol of the division between light and dark. The more Ishtar develops the wall, and the sharp division between light and dark, the more powerful Ishtar is. So freemasonry is a descriptive term, a term for being able to trick the people of light into building the wall to empower the people of darkness and the crescent or dwindling moon a/ Their head is even a little-bit sideways or a little bit upside down. Baptism must be straight up and down with the head always pointed straight up and the eyes always straight forward.

28/ Nobody shall be baptized in a way that:

b/ They are dipped more than once.

c/ The water is either uncomfortably hot or cold.

d/ They are dipped in impure water that's been used by anyone else, or has anything but pure distilled water in it, or the vessel has not been cleaned between people.

e/ They are placed under water for more than 3-seconds.

f/ A parents is not the one baptizing the child. Thus parents shall do the baptism, not the priest. The priest only optionally instruct the parent how to do the baptism. If there are no parents, then grandparents, or siblings, or other relatives are supposed to do the baptism. If there are none of these, than the priest, may do the baptism g/ The people being baptized do not either hold their nose, or if they are too young, someone else can do this for them.

h/ No money is ever exchanged for a baptism.

29/ To be clear, the Senate shall have the power to declare Islam (and other religions) as a fascist conspiracy to take over our nation (or our world), and not a religion deserving of any religious protections. The Senate shall also have the power to ban the enslavement religion of Islam in our nation if it is judged by the Senate as contrary to to our agenda of freedom and democracy.

30/ Islam shall be regarded as:

a/ A religion that not only rejects our free society, but it also actively works to undermine it overtly and covertly.

b/ A violent ideology of conquest that has no place in our land of the free, even if it's disguised as a religion.

c/ A breeding ground for people who want to kill our people and sabotage our systems and ways.

d/ A foolish thing to allow in our nation.

31/ The typical path of islam is to establish trade, then a mosque, then they create an enclave, then grow their population by polygamy, having a great many children, and then "relatives" moving in. Then they demonstrate, then they brawl with the natives, they they try to institute their own tyrannical laws for everyone, then they secede, then they take control.

To stop this, we shall allow:

a/ No more unconverted Muslims.

b/ No more mosques.

c/ No islamic charities.

d/ No religious enclaves.

e/ No sharia laws, courts, or councils.

f/ One child per muslim immigrant maximum.

x/ All violators from now on, along with their families shall be deported.

32/ No religious buildings shall have or allow any carpets or any padding on the floor to make religious slaves more comfortable while they kneel down and painfully pray to the god that commands their kneeling as a sign of domination, and oppression by the demon they worship. There shall be no kneeling, supplication, prostration, or bowing, or scraping in any religion or place of worship in the land, for we are free men, and we despise this kind of slavery. In fact we hate prostrations with every inch an ounce of our existence. This along with everyone who practices this type of worship. We are free men we have dignity and pride that is easily offended by slavish religions.

33/ Where churches go unused, they shall be converted to schools and libraries and public buildings. It shall be considered offensive to reuse a church for another religion, especially a wrongheaded parasitic religion like Islam.

34/ It shall be the official policy of our government that anyone collecting money or selling expensive things for the afterlife is a fraud, and this shall not be allowed. Also, it shall not be allowed to talk about the afterlife and claim that you have a way into the good district if people give you money or buy your expensive things. Talk about the afterlife shall not be protected communication by this constitution.

35/ Everyone who talks about, or hints at penalties, or dangers, or risk for leaving a religion, where a leaver gets harmed in any way, shall be considered a co-conspirator in any religious persecution, and a violator of the fundamental rights of our nation. Everyone who calls for punishment of apostates of a religion shall be imprisoned for 7-years.

36/ Our nation was founded as a mostly Christian nation, with great tolerance for other religions. However, we shall not tolerate slave religions, religions with child molesters as holy men, creeping corruption and slow invasions disguised as religions.

37/ All priests must live in an average or below lodging, and if driving is common in that community, the priest must drive an average or below vehicle. No priest shall be paid more than the average wage including all benefits for people who work 2000 hours a year.

38/ Everyone shall be allowed to make fun of the prophets and teachings of the holy men and other religions. Where the followers of a religion take violent action in response that religion those people shall be jailed for terrorism and the terrorist religion shall be thought to have taken another step closer to being banned for being an evil cult.

39/ We shall have a number of "litmus tests" for figuring out which people where traitors and useful idiots owned by foreign interests in some way or other, and need to be stripped of their academic and professional qualifications and fired from whatever position of authority they work under. These tests shall include everyone who have ever publicly stated or assented that:

a/ Men can get pregnant

b/ That our borders should be open to migrants.

c/ That non-citizens should get government benefits.

d/ That the land of the free should be disarmed.

e/ That censorship is needed.

x/ These people may write and say what they want, but they shall no longer teach or profess, or get students to fess up about what they know when they bait our masters and get them to say what they really think. Perhaps the Senate will come up with other litmus tests like this.

NR'184. RELIGIOUS POLLUTION FINES

1/ We shall have no tolerance for the murderous, violent and terrorist acts of religious fanatics anywhere in the world. Where we see this, we shall view all the violence worldwide as belonging to the entire religion. To send a message about this sort of religious pollution, the Senate may fine the religion's followers in our nation. The penalties for religious murder and terrorism shall be 10 times the damages normally awarded for wrongful death and injury. If the religion has no money, then the assets of the religion's followers may be seized to pay these fines. If the religion's followers do not have money, then the assets of most recent apostates may be seized to pay these fines. If both followers and apostates do not have money, then we begin deporting non-citizen immigrants who were once followers.

2/ In the land of the free, we shall defend the right to leave one's religion and become an apostate. There shall be triple penalties those attacking religious apostates in our land and under our watch. Also there shall also be extreme rights of self defense for people defending themselves against those people attacking and threatening religious apostates in our land. Also, let the world be on notice that the freedom of religion that we in the land of the free absolutely believe in, and entirely defend includes a total freedom from other religions and especially those (like the Jesuits, and like the invisible hand of Islam) who threaten and harm apostates. These people should be considered as a sort of slaver. They should be regarded as enemy agents, or dead or alive, bounty hunters for runaway slaves to a religion.

3/ No church, museums, or library shall be allowed to charge money, or ask for money for admission, or have tickets for admission, even if the ticket price is merely suggested.

4/ The following except from the Catholic Church's extreme Jesuit oath of induction shall be included herein:

"I furthermore promise that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly or openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Liberals, as I am directed to do. To exterminate and eradicate them from the face of the earth; and that I will spare neither age, nor sex or condition; and that I will hang, burn, waste, spoil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics, rip out the wombs of their women and smash their infants' heads against the ground, in order to annihilate forever their execrable race. That when the same cannot be done openly, I will secretly use the poisoned cup, the strangulating cord, the steel of the poinard or leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity, or authority of the person or persons. Whatever their condition in life is, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed to do so by any agent of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Faith, of the Society of Jesus. In confirmation of which, I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all of my corporeal powers, and with this dagger which I now receive, I will subscribe my name written in my own blood, in testimony thereof; and should I prove false or weak in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the Militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet, and my throat from ear to ear, my belly opened and sulphur burned therein, with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth, and my soul to be tortured by demons in an eternal hell forever"

5/ We shall ponder the words of Samuel FB. Morse, inventor of Morse code:

a/ "the people of this country are...[right] in regarding Roman Catholics essentially and necessarily, enemies to her free government, and most especially to the democratic republican institutions of this country"

b/ "The Papal system... [has a] hostility to freedom of the press, to liberty of opinion, to liberty of conscience.

c/ "The charge of Conspiracy against the Liberties of the United States, conducted by the agents and funds of foreign powers.. Which everyone must allow are at least plausibly grounded... No one who has turned his attention to the subject can fail to have observed that the Roman Catholic journals preserve a rigid silence on the subject"

6/ We in the land of the free should ponder the words of Leviticus 25:44: "Your mail and female slaves should come from the nations around you, from them, you may buy slaves. You may also buy some of the temporary residence living among you and members of the clans born in your country, and they will become your property. You can bequeath them to your children as inherited property, and can make them slaves for life, but you must not rule over your fellow Israelites ruthlessly." Here it seems that Ishtar, the great slaver added some apocryphal pro-slavery clauses to the holy books of Christianity.

7/ We in the land of the free should ponder the words of Exodus 21:20: "Anyone who beats their male or female slave with a rod must be punished if the slave dies as a direct result, but they are not to be punished if the slave recovers after a day or two, since the slave is their property." Here is supposedly is god's book, but it allows believers (despite being peace-loving Christian) to beat halfway to death the slaves the Arab sold them, if they don't work hard and bend over whenever asked. It should be noted that here we see the great slaver tampering with the Bible to increase the value of the slaves it sells to the Christians.

8/ We in the land of the free should also ponder the following political propaganda about slavery from the Bible:

a/ 1-Peter 2:18: "Slaves in reverent fear of god, you shall submit yourselves to your masters, not only to those who are good and considerate, but also to those who are harsh."

b/ 1 Timothy 6:1: "All who live under the yoke of slavery should consider their masters worthy of total respect, so that God's name and his teaching may not be slandered. Those slaves who have Christian masters should not show them disrespect, just because they are fellow believers. Instead, they should serve them even better because their masters are dear to them as fellow Christians that are devoted to the welfare of their slaves. This is something you should all teach, and all insist on. If anyone teaches otherwise, and does not agree to the wise and godly teaching of our Lord Jesus Christ, they are arrogant and understand nothing. They have an unhealthy interest in controversies and quarrels about words that result in envy, strife, malicious talk, and evil suspicions."

c/ Colossians 3:22: "Slaves, obey your earthly masters in everything. And do it, not only when their eye is on you and to curry their favor, but with sincerity of heart and reverence for the Lord."

d/ Colossians 4:1: "Masters, provide your slaves with what is right and fair, because you know that you also have. Master in heaven."

e/ Ephesians 6:5: "Slaves, obey your earthly masters with respect and fear, and with sincerity of heart, just as you would obey Christ."

f/ Ephesians 6:9: "And Masters, treat you slaves in the same way. Do not threaten them, since you know that he who is both their master and yours is in heaven, and there is no favoritism with him."

g/ Exodus 21:32: "If the bull gores a male or female slave, the owner must pay 30 shekels of silver to the master of the slave, and the bull is to be stoned to death."

h/ 1 Timothy 5:23: "Stop drinking pure water, and use a little [expensive imported Mideast Mafia] wine to help with frequent stomach illnesses."

x/ Note the way that item g/ above cleverly and indirectly makes enslaved people seem like the property of their owners. Doesn't this increase their value to the Arabs selling them?

9/ Note how all of the above passages seem to have been added to the Bible by Ishtar to increase the value of Ishtar's slaves, just like how the slave clauses of the 2nd 1789 constitution seem to have been added to the constitution of the land of the free to increase demand for Ishtar's human slaves. And also to create strife and hypocrisy land of the free.

10/ We in the land of the free should ponder the words of Exodus 21:2-6: "if you buy a Hebrew [fresh Mideast harem] slave, he shall serve you for six years. But in the seventh year, he shall go free, without paying anything. If he comes alone, he shall go free alone. But if he has a wife when he comes, she shall go with him. If his master gives him a wife, and she bears him, sons, or daughters, the woman and her children shall belong to her master, and only the man shall go free. But if the slave declares, I love my master, and my wife and children, and do not want to go free, then his master must take him before the judges. He shall take him to the door or the door post, and pierce his ear with an awl. Then he will be a servant for life." Here we see how the fresh Mideast slaves are a special class of slave that must be treated better than the other slaves from other parts of the world.

11/ There shall be no Catholic Jesuit agents in our nation. This secret agent army of the Pope shall not exist in our nation. All Jesuits discovered in our nation shall go to prison for life on charges of espionage. No pope shall be allowed to enter our nation, and none of our leaders shall be allowed to meet with any pope, or the Vatican except for the putting of the Vatican library online for all to see.

12/ The earlier we are taught some so-called historical fact, the more likely it is that we are not supposed to think about it much or examine it much. The pilgrims, the first American settlers are a great example of this propaganda technique. The pilgrims were not so much fleeing religious persecution in general. They were specifically fleeing the ire of Ishtar as delivered by its matrix programs known as the Roman Catholic Church and various national monarchies. The Catholic church has a well documented history of having repeated torture-filled inquisitions on behalf of its Arab masters. The Catholic church also has its own jesuit secret police and its own city state. It also has a pedophile problem, but the church frequently defends priests accused of abuse. This is a totally corrupt institution, and it has repeatedly worked against our nation, and our religious freedoms.

13/ Religious freedom shall not include the antagonist or aggressive religions of Islam and Catholicism. When the pilgrims came to our nation they were fleeing this. When people talk about freedom of religion, they're not talking about freedom to participate in Islam, or Catholicism, they're talking about freedom from Islam and Catholicism.

14/ We shall carefully study the role of the Vatican and the Jesuits in the US Civil War supporting the South. We should also ponder how the Vatican is the 2nd holiest site under Islam.

15/ The Catholics of our nation shall be free to use the same churches, and say the same words and even practice the same liturgy. They however must elect their own priests locally. And they cannot have priests with any Catholic Church credentials. Also, all the church money intake must be re-used domestically like with all the other religions. No longer shall there be any ancient and totally corrupt Roman church fronting for Ishtar.

16/ At this point we consider Giovanni Bugatti, who served as the official executioner for the Pope from 1796 to 1864. Over the course of his career, he carried out 514 executions in the name of christianity.

17/ It must be noted that the Catholic Church has historically not been a religion of peace and tolerance. The Catholic Church in fact has a long history of extreme violence and inquisitions, just like under Islam, and frequently against the powerful enemies of Islam. Therefore, we shall prohibit Catholicism (but not other forms of Christianity) in our land. All the Catholics in our nation shall be required to convert. They can convert to some other flavor of Christianity, or another religion but they must convert away from Catholicism and away from Islam. We shall have no more pedophile Catholic priests, and no more vicarious presences of Christ on earth (Popes), and no more Jesuit CIA/KGB murderers. There shall be no more church tithes, and all aspects of church tithes shall be prohibited. Also, the Senate shall now take over and divide up all of the assets of the Catholic Church empire. This shall include all of its schools, all of its assets, all of its donations. The Senate shall also supervise all spending by the Catholic Church and make sure that the money does not get stolen.

18/ It shall be thought that the long-term strength of Christianity would benefit greatly from an element where they view their children in some ways as their own rebirth and reincarnation.

NR'185. CHARITIES AND MONEY

1/ The Senate shall maintain intake accounts for when the people donate money to the various charitable and non-profit enterprises of the nation. If both the source and the payee conform to Senate standards, the Sub-Senate shall apportion and disburse 99% of this money to the account it was donated to. The 1% fee will be mostly used to pay for the sort of detailed and regular auditing that will both encourage the people to give more money to charity, and keep our non-profits strictly honest. This auditing shall verify that the charitable donation was neither diverted, nor spent on overpriced things.

2/ The term charity herein shall refer to all forms of non-profit fictional citizens. This shall include all religions, churches, foundations, trusts, schools, universities, research facilities, associations, clubs, and all other nonprofit organizations.

3/ Charities, like all fictional citizens shall be prohibited from owning real estate. All charity owned real estate is hereby nationalized. All charities shall be allowed to continue using buildings that are used by a reasonable number of people, and government shall charge no money for this.

4/ There is no need for charities to hold farmland, or real estate outside of cities, or large tracts of urban real estate, or mineral mines, or urban parks, or factories, or apartment buildings, or shopping centers, or warehouses, or office buildings. All such charity owned assets shall be nationalized and auctioned off.

5/ Non-profit organizations shall not hoard wealth. Nor shall they be allowed to control real estate or other property that is either unused, underused, rented-out for income, or used for free.

6/ In our nation, the basic administrative unit for religious charities shall be the individual house of worship. Each house of worship shall be treated as separate charity, and each shall be run by a separate democracy run by the local parishioners. For this reason, we can have it that no church shall manage more than 1,000-year's wages in assets, and any charities with more than this amount must be divided. Also, no charities shall be allowed to hold assets worth more than 8-year's operating expenses from one year to the next.

7/ No charity shall accept direct or cash donations. All money and property given to charities shall be taken-in by Government and then disbursed to the charity. Government shall assess the value of non-money donations, and make them available to the intended charity within one teneth, unless liquidation is required.

8/ It shall be a felony for the employees, officials, or priests of any charity to receive, take-in, or touch donations that have not come via government's donations tracking mechanism. It shall be a misdemeanor to give money outside the government's donations tracking mechanism. Government may conduct sting operations to attempt to get charity workers to take money outside the system.

9/ When religions and religious people selling indulgence or forgiveness for crimes, they shall be considered as co-conspirators in the crimes committed by the people buying the indulgences. It shall also be considered the crime of fraud for religious people to take money in exchange for forgiving an adherent's violation of religious commandments. This may also be in addition to the felony of taking in religious donations outside the government's donations tracking mechanism.

10/ No commercial activity shall occur in, or on the property of any place of worship, or on an adjacent public way. No religion shall engage in business or commerce of any sort. No religion or religious charity shall sell religious products of any sort including incense, candles, wafers, food, figurines, icons, stained glass, prayer rugs, prayer beads, jewelry, clothing, books, and indulgences for sins. No religious charity or its staff shall lease-to, partner-with, or point-out other parties engaging in these activities.

11/ No religion shall have approved, sanctioned or sanctified vendors. No religion shall discriminate based on religion with regard of its vendors.

12/ Government shall divide charities into four types, Nature, religion, humanitarian, and knowledge. Government shall tax all donations to Nature and religion charities by at least 25%. Government shall not tax donations to knowledge or humanitarian or knowledge charities. The taxes from nature charity donations shall be paid to humanitarian charities. The taxes from religious charity donations shall be paid to knowledge charities.

13/ To incentivize the efficient use of assets, all charities shall pay the prevailing rate for property taxes on real estate they hold and use like all other fictional citizens. However, because income taxes are inapplicable to charities, they shall pay a proportionately higher level of consumption taxes instead. Government shall not give any tax reductions or deductions to charities, or to those donating to charities.

14/ Government shall not pay for maintaining or renovating any buildings or other assets for any religious charity. Nor shall Government subsidize any religion in any way.

15/ Charities shall not buy advertising, imported goods, sacraments, incense, stained glass, luxury goods, expensive icons, expensive artworks, handmade rugs, or expensive relics.

16/ No money belonging to any house of worship shall be spent or given away without a majority vote from the parish's following and according to a plan created by the parish's own local following.

17/ Charities shall not overpay for goods, contracts, or staff. All charity salaries and expenditures are subject to Senate auditing and oversight.

18/ No religion shall charge for its services or require any payments or donations from its members. No religion or priests shall charge for services, or for non-attendance.

19/ No new single house of worship shall hold more than 500 parishioners at any one time.

20/ Government shall encourage parishes to share houses of worship between various religions. This will firstly save money and secondly help build brotherhood.

21/ We cannot prohibit religions from making unprovable claims about preferential treatment in the afterlife. However, we can and should limit their ability to profit from these claims. All valuables paid to a religion either near death, or as a bequeath, shall be presumed to be buying a stairway to heaven. All such stairway to heaven gifts shall be subject to the highest rate of death tax.

22/ All fictional citizens, and especially all charities shall file quarterly statements of income and balance. All charities shall be audited annually by government, the cost of which shall be reimbursed by the charity to government. Special attention shall be paid to making sure the charity is buying the right things, and not over-paying for them. Secretly profiting from the expenditures of a charity or a fictional citizen shall be a felony.

23/ Government shall not give financial support to religions or religious charities, or their proxies.

24/ Except with Senate approval, no more than 7% of the budget of any charity shall be spent on administration and expenses. The other 93% must be given away or used for the purpose the charity was created for.

25/ To assure that the holy men of our nation are not it for the money, we shall:

a/ Cap the income and wealth of all priests and employees of non-profit organizations.

b/ Say that no priest, or non-profit employee shall make annual income over the average national wage including income from all sources.

c/ Have wealth over 30-year's wages. (This amount may be further limited by Senate election.)

26/ Any hiding of income or wealth on the part of non-profit staff shall be punishable as tax fraud. The forgoing shall apply to all priests, and everyone working in or for a non-profit organization.

27/ Religions shall not provide their priests and religious officials with sumptuous accommodations.

28/ Religions shall not be allowed to charge for status, or preferential treatment in any way real or imagined. Religions shall also not have mandatory payments or tithes.

29/ To make charity more honest and diverse, we will say that no charity name shall live for more than 4-years.

30/ The Senate shall aggressively prosecute all charity workers who do off limits things while working at a charity.

31/ All priests and holy men must register and be verified and use the national ID system. Also, when a person is a priest or they work with children, this information shall be on their public government facebook page, along with a link for making sworn accusations of impropriety.

32/ It shall be considered a sort of fraud and a crime, when church and temple people charge admission for entering a church or temple.

33/ The entire political and economic realm shall be regarded a thing that is for real human citizens. Wherever we find entities or foreigners involved in our politics, we would all be very wise to stop them immediately and prosecute the people

NR'186. CLEAVING & ISLAM

With regard to Muslims in our land, the question isn't: Do we allow Muslims in our land? The question is, do we allow former Muslims in our land or not? And if we allow them, which ones do we allow?

2/ All Ishtarians and all Muslims shall comply with the document called: "A win-win end to the Mideast struggle. They must also come-out as Ishtarians on video, and begin rapidly confessing all that they know about Ishtar.

3/ There shall be 10 grades of repentance depending on how fast the Ishtarians cleave. The first group to cleave shall get the best treatment. The last to cleave shall all be sent to the New Palestine Islands now called the Solomon Islands.

4/ Both halves of the world shall consider themselves lucky if all of Ishtar's people cleave immediately, and there is no need to fight a great war.

5/ Ishtarians that riot or protest, or cause any trouble at all and for any reason at all, these shall be interred and then deported to the New Palestine Islands. To be clear, there is no right of assembly for Muslims and other Ishtarians. All must go into formation marching lines each day and not talk or shout or chant.

6/ Where Ishtarians take up arms against us as their host nation, these people are supposed to be shot in self-defense as criminal gunmen. It should be noted that this situation is yet another reason for free people to be armed, but it is the #1 reason why Ishtar wants its host civilizations disarmed. This is so that its knifemen can more easily bully the way for Islam. Disarmament is almost always for the benefit of Islam and Ishtar, so it can be more formidable earlier, so it can snowball earlier. No. We must go in the opposite direction. We the citizens shall have the right to arms. And all the foreigners are subject to being shot dead when they are found in arms.

If you are born in our land to either citizens or legal immigrants on an immigration pathway as opposed to a visitor pathway.

hile they are in our nation, you get certain rights that do not ever go to someone not

, while the foreigners who migrate to our land never ever get these rights, including especially the right to vote.)

7/ All Muslim and formerly Muslim women whether first, second, or third generation that remain shall be required to obey one child policy or they must leave. Those who already have more than one child shall not have more children, or the entire family must leave.

8/ Every family with a female that has regularly worn any form of hide-job shall be subject to deportation.

9/ The slaves religion of Islam shall now be considered incompatible with our land of the free. Islam shall no longer be allowed in our land of the free. Our nation shall now consider itself to be opposed to Islam and its many disguises like communism, monarchy and any other narrow corruptible forms of government.

10/ In our nation, we shall we define Islamic extremism in a very strict way, and we shall certainly no longer allow any Muslim clothing, or Muslim praying, or mosques of any sort, or any Islamic/classical identified businesses.

11/ All Muslims and former Muslims shall be banned from the Senate of the land of the free because all are slaves to the diametrically-opposed parasitic cause of their people. This cause seeks to master our people and is opposed to our freedom because it gets in their way of their parasitic power over our people.

12/ There shall no longer be Islamic or Arab organizations or charities in our nation. These shall never be allowed. These Arab/ Islamic organizations shall be prohibited forever, even if slimy Islam renames itself, as it surely will try to do. So to our successors, we say remember, remember, remember, no Islamic organizations or charities in our nation, ever. And no money sent overseas by formerly muslim immigrants, if we tolerate them.

11/ Where someone yells "al•A-u-ak•bar", we shall interpret these words as: "I have a gun and I am going to kill you", or "I have a hidden bomb and I am going to kill you all". Thus it shall always be considered self-defense when a person kills, maims, or merely beats, any Muslim or Middle Eastern looking person/people saying "al•A-u-ak•bar" in any context at all.

12/ The Arab world shall have no right to ask for its relics back, because it is probably just going to destroy them, like it regularly does with all of its priceless ancient things. Remember Islam and Ishtar are things of darkness. They want to erase all history except that they have the most detailed records of anyone, so that they may better feed on the outside world.

13/ Proper cleaving and defection/defecation shall involve doing the following on posted, named, and attributed video for the appropriate religion for the required number of years:

- a) Shitting in the holiest book of the religion and pressing the book closed.
- b) Cursing the religion repeatedly and emphatically.
- c) Taking part in a temple destruction.
- d) Burning the special clothing and artifacts of the religion.
- e) Confessing on video the evil the person uniquely knows about regarding the religion.
- f) Put all prior actions favoring the religion in reverse.

14/ Those who immediately renounce Islam, Ishtar and Judaism, and confess all they know about them shall be treated as heroes. These shall be hidden and protected from the other Ishtarrians.

15/ This constitution calls attention to the following words from Islam's Koran, and it says that our nation, our infidel nation has no need for these religious fanatics, and that due to repeated excessive violence, Muslims shall no longer be allowed in our nation.

a/ Koran 2:191: "Kill the infidels wherever you find them."

b/ Koran 8:39: "Fight them [the infidels] until there are no more infidels and Allah alone rules [the world]."

c/ Koran 8:12: "Terrorize the infidels. Behead them and cut all their fingers off."

d/ Koran 9:5: "When the opportunity arises, kill the infidels wherever you find them... capture them and confine them... until they have no choice except death or conversion to Islam. Lie in wait for them at every place of ambush, and every route they use. But if they convert and pray and [most importantly] pay alms [to Arabia] then leave them to be free and do not interfere with them. God is forgiving and merciful to those who convert [to being tax paying citizens of Mecca's empire].

e/ Koran 5:33: "The punishment for those who fight/resist god and His messenger ... is death by crucifixion, or to have their hands and feet cut off on both sides."

f/ Koran 4:74: "Whoever fights for Allah to elevate his religion: Whoever sells their life in this world for the hereafter, and whoever fights in this way for God, and is slain, shall die a martyr. God shall give him a great and plentiful reward [in the afterlife].

g/ Koran 48:20: "Allah promises that you will capture much booty." [booty = money and abducted females like the millions of Arab kidnapping victims distilled into Hellen of Troy.]

h/ Koran 8:65: "The prophet urges all believers to fight the infidels."

i/ Koran 2:216: "Like it or not, fighting is your destiny. But it is possible to dislike a thing that is good for you."

j/ Koran 9:123: "Make war on the infidel's living near you, then the next nearest, followed by the next nearest to them, and let them find harshness in you, that is, severity, in other words, be harsh with them, and know that God is with the pious, helping and granting them victory."

k/ Koran 22:19: "Punish infidels by burning their clothing on them so that fire engulfs them. Then douse them with boiling water until their skin melts off them."

l/ Koran 8:60: "Prepare whatever arms you can against the infidel, so that you can stage surprise attacks and terrify the enemies of Allah and your enemies, and others beside them."

m/ Koran 8:55: "Surely the vilest of animals in Allah's view are infidels."

n/ Koran 8:41: "Whatever wealth you take war spoils, 1/5 is for Allah and the kinsmen of the Prophet [the Syed]".

o/ Koran 8:67: "It is not proper to take hostages from the infidels until you have made a complete conquest and great slaughter in the land, going all in [Like Adidas shoes] with fighting infidels. You, O believers, want the transient things of this world, its short term gains, by ransoming people, while God desires for you, the hereafter, that is his reward, through you killing them [infidels]. And God is mighty and wise."

p/ Koran 3:28: "Muslims must not take infidels as friends"

q/ Koran 5:82: "You will surely find the Jews to have most hatred for Muslims and Christians to have the least. This is because among them are priests and monks, and because they are not arrogant."

16/ We shall all ponder Islam's doctrine of slavery, and how for example: Tughlaq took 180,000 slaves who refused to convert to Islam. It does not take long for Islam's slaves to all learn how Islam protects slaves, due to the beatings for the infidel slaves. Then they all convert to the slave's religion of Islam. We shall also ponder the following remark about Islam: "Non-Muslims must either convert to Islam, pay jizya (infidel tax), or be fought, enslaved or killed. This is the teaching of Islam. Don't be ashamed of our religion; and don't feel sorry for the enemies of Allah!". Also: o9.13: "When a child, or a woman is captured, they become slaves by the fact of their capture. Any previous marriage of the woman is immediately cancelled."

17/ Islam typically comes in to a town and kills those who defend the town. Then it captures/ enslaves the rest who can work, and those that can be sold as sex slaves. The slaves are mostly starved and worn down on the forced march so they are demoralized and easier to move.

18/ Slavery is mostly a thing of the Mideast and Islamic conquest. Nearly all slaves (or their slave ancestors) since Roman times were enslaved by the Mideast and Islam.

Black American Islam should be seen as a dirty trick by the same people who first enslaved African Americans. They are constantly trying to re-enslave Black America again in many ways both secret, and overt. The confusion about the 1619 project and June 19 is Islam trying to trick Black Americans into working for Islam, despite Islam being responsible for the enslavement of Black Americans in the first place.

19/ It shall be the official policy of our nation, that that Ishtar, and the ancient union of the poorest people on earth has been the primary pro-slavery force on Earth for thousands of years. It was the main slaver in Roman times, and in 1100s to 1500s Europe, and in the colonization of the Americas. Our nation shall consider itself morally obligated to wage war on slavers in an effort to free all forms of slave.

20/ Muslims shall not be considered a race, but adherents to an abhorrent ideology like the communism and totalitarianism, and fascism and dictatorship, which they support as a means of getting money from the outside world and also for oppressing the outside world and dominating it.

21/ It must be pointed out that slavery for non-Muslims is still legal and practiced under Islamic law today. Also slavery was legal in Saudi Arabia until 1962. Who is the great slaver? which ethnic group is the root cause of slavery?

22/ We shall ponder the words of David Livingstone describing the Arab sex-trafficking slave trade in Africa of 1870: "84 of them [the slaves walking past] wended their way into the village where we were... the eldest were women from 20 to 22 years of age... but the large majority was made up of boys and girls from 7 years to 14 or 15 years of age."

When did this sex slavery stop? It certainly seems to still be happening in the UK and many other places today. It is also notable that there has never been a slavery abolition movement in Islam. Also, both Islam's Koran and Hadith have extensive rules for slaves, and the Arab-run slave trade. So here we see once again, how Islam is not an religion of any good god. This is a devil's religion of subjugating the outside world like sub-human flocks. We do not want, and we shall not have this violent Islam ideology that lies to infidels and self identifies as a religion.

23/ We shall all ponder the famous words of Muhammad ibn Abdullah "If any slave runs away from his masters, he shall be an infidel until he returns to them." This is quite important because there are prohibitions/recommendations about not hurting one's slave if the slave is Muslim. Here we read about how runaway slaves are not protected. Also, we must ask if our own fugitive slave laws from antebellum America were shaped by the great slaver Islam and Ishtar. Because they certainly do seem similar.

24/ We shall all ponder how Tamerlane killed 90,000 Hindu people in a day and how this event is absolutely singed about and exalted by Islam to this day. We shall also ponder how Mohammed, the great hero of Islam spent the last 9-years of his life, doing battle, once every 6-weeks or less. We shall let these facts speak for themselves about what Islam is actually all about for all us Kufir infidels who do not believe in the religion of feeding the desperate land of no resources.

25/ We shall ponder Koran 2:191 in the context of no-go communities like Dearborn Michigan and London: "Allah hates infidels. Drive them out before they drive you out, and kill them wherever you fight with them."

26/ When we read of the endless stream of Bosnian slaves in Europe, this is a lie. These were the ectomorph, exomorph, or outsider-shaped, or outsider-looking harem spawn. They were the children of all the stolen European women turned into breed mares for Arab breeding harems. The dumb ectomorph "Bosnians" were sold as Bosnian slaves. The smarter ectomorphs were educated as spies.

27/ The religion of slavery (Islam) shall be thought to be incompatible with our freedoms and our land of the free. Wherever we find slavery, and human trafficking where we observe any form of slavery in this world, we the people of the land of the free shall consider it our duty to kill the slavers. Also, we in the land of the free shall go out of our way to kill slavers and to release slaves, including harem slaves wherever we detect these anywhere on earth.

28/ Many times have we seen Islam and its people destroying history and burning historical places like Notre Dame and many the other cathedrals of Europe. Therefore, all claims about Islam preserving classical books shall also be considered as lies, because Islam brought about the Dark Ages on purpose, and it only saved the material that it wanted. It censored everything it did not like. It was an immense censorship of over 99% of classical material, with the only remaining part being kept because they were useful for Islam. Surely we must all recognize that it is the "devils agenda" that seeks to hide and censor the truth like as represented by the waning and ever darkening non-growing crescn't moon of Islam. Also, the ever-darkening devil's moon of Islam is such a perfect symbol for the darkness and secrecy and exploitation that Islam is for 98% of the people involved with it and 100% of the people in the outside world.

29/ In regard to group memories, the world has completely changed. The "Great Apostasy", the worldwide apostasy from imperial Islam and imperial Catholicism — along with most other religions. The world will never forget this.

30/ Under Islam, believers are already allowed to pretend to have converted away from Islam if they risk being harmed. In fact, they are supposed to lie in such instances. So it is not a very big thing that we demand that they all shit in a Koran and then burn their Koran, and then they go and destroy all their mosques. Also, the real power of this defection/defecation ceremony comes from all Muslims doing this at once, without exception, worldwide, and doing this repeatedly every year for at least a decade.

31/ With regard to Islam, we shall follow a corollary of Jonathan Swift's often quoted remark that you can't reason a person out of a position that they didn't reason themselves into in the first place. Instead, our new saying shall be that Islam didn't rise by peace, but by the sword, and likewise, it shall not be ended by reason, or negotiation, but by threat of violence and starvation when those people get fully disconnected from all hosts.

32/ In the Hadith, Muhammad said: "If I take an oath and later find something else better, I do what is better and break my oath." This is a very important thing for everyone to know who is ever negotiating with Muslims, or they are inviting Muslims to move to their land. These words from the prophet of Islam should make us all reluctant to take any of them to our land. Instead, we should force them all to relocate as ethnic mix to new nations.

a/ "all the people of the world should be regarded as called to Islam. If any of them refuses to obey, or refuses to pay the Jizya, they should be struggled against until they are dead."
b/ "Whoever at any time or place fears the evil [infidels], he may protect himself by lying [Practicing Taqiyya] and making and outward show"

34/ We shall all ponder how Arabia's empire threatens/ bluffs that it will close the Persian gulf (and/or Red Sea) when this is precisely one of Islam's greatest weaknesses — that foreigners might do this and then become the ultimate masters of the entire Persian gulf oil industry. We shall learn from this. We shall realize that when Islam threatens all out war, it is bluffing. For the desperately poor people of the world can't even afford butter, let alone guns, and an expensive war. Thus we realize also that a/ All out war with the world's Muslims will quickly result in the complete deportation of all Muslims from all the nations they have moved to. Then for generations there will be no Muslims and no people from these lands allowed again. And what will the Mideast eat? How will it get food when the whole world is turned against it, and when nobody lets them in? Thus we can and should demand that they give up Islam.

b/ This bluff and lie of war with Islam must be coupled with the willingness of host nations to allow Muslims to continue to live in their land. If Islam behaves too badly, it risks eternal exile. This is why the Mideast has its cast/caste of escape goat Jews to act as golems for Islam.

c/ Islam is actually quite easy to master completely, and destroy completely with a little trans-national cooperation on keeping Islam locked out.

d/ Even the Muslims hate Islam. They are only Muslims because they feared the famines that always came when Islam was weak. Thus we realize that Islam is in truth a demon that the Arabs will abandon the first chance they get out of their awful fear-of-famine rooted reality.

e/ Islam is already fighting an all-out war with the outside world. It is already doing all it can, and all it can get away with in the outside world. And oddly-enough Islam will become significantly less powerful when it is no longer allowed to use its many excuses, such as the illusion of dis-unity. There is an inherent contradiction in the way that Islam must seem disunited, and when it unites to fight a war, the outside world sees it for what it really is, a conspiracy of the poorest people on earth to use any means possible (including violence) to obtain the food and resources from the outside world that they so desperately need.

35/ We shall all ponder how the Koran has Meccan verses that are peaceful and tolerant, and Medinan verses that are violent and intolerant. In fact, in the Meccan Koran there are no verses on jihad, while in the Medina Quran about one quarter of it is devoted to Jihad. Also of note is the way the original Meccan Koran did not become popular for the first 13 years. It was only with the addition of the violent Medina Koran that the religion of Islam started to become popular among the Mafia and criminals that always inhabited the impassible desert and blood Red sea at the crossroads of the continents.

36/ We must all pause to consider how when Muslims are few, they are supposed to use the Meccan verses. But when they are many, they are supposed to use the Medinan verses. This is a very important thing to ponder when we make our policy about Islam and Ishtar. Here we see Islam naked, as a religion of codified conquest.

37/ History shows clearly that Islam is not a religion of peace, and that this description is actually a doublespeak lie. One of those lies that all Muslims are allowed to, or supposed to repeat and chant into reality by inculcation and repetition. The truth is that Islam is a religion of constant war and constant struggle against those who don't believe in it, and those who are not helping Islam's creeping conquest and enslavement. Anybody who calls Islam a religion of peace, should be regarded as a traitor or a spy.

38/ We shall all ponder Islam's phrase "peace be upon him" or PBUH. We shall understand this as Muslims working to assure peace among their people, with the unsaid flip-side understood as: "while we shall wage jihad and secret war on all the outsiders." Everyone who has ever used this term in our nation shall be deported to the Solomon Islands.

Also, when Islam describes itself as a religion of peace: this is a religion of peace for all the people who go along with its governments as tax-paying obedient followers who pray 5-times a day and all try to bring strife and jihad against all non-believers.

39/ In our nation, we shall hold that Islam and Ishtar are the #1 root problem for all of mankind, and that peace on Earth will never be had as long as Islam and Ishtar exist in our world. Islam shall always be seen as the enemy of free people everywhere, and a self-masking, camouflaging, parasitic enslavement system that must constantly be rooted out and destroyed from our society.

40/ How can people believe anything from a religion and a people that is allowed to lie to non-believers to further the agenda of its people? Islam uses every trick that any of them can possibly think of. When we look at the incredibly high birth rates of Islam, and the low birth rates that we have started experiencing just in advance of the next Islamic conquest of our lands, we must ask if Islam has a role in this.

and endless struggle that lies about itself and self identifies as a religion of peace.

42/ We shall teach our children repeatedly about all of the violent history and problems associated with Islam in our schools every year. We shall repeatedly teach each generation that Islam/Ishtar is a thing of pure evil and parasitic evil ex-pull, disguised as goodness, because that is exactly what it is to us. We shall teach our children to despise Islam and Mohammed in the same way the Muslims teach their children to despise Christians, Jews, Bahais, Hindus, and Buddhists. This shall be thought key to the total elimination of Islam from humanity. And we shall not stop until Islam is totally eliminated from our planet and nobody remains that calls themselves by the awful name Muslim, or a follower of Mohammed, or the devil's religion of Islam.

43/ Humanity as a species does not need a Mideast land of no resources and the devilish awfulness it endlessly spawns. Why do we need this hatred generator in our species? We don't need this, and all of the people living in this place must now move away. We shall all long ponder the words of Koran 8:39 which says: "Fight them until you have complete mastery over them, and the whole world obeys Islam." Or in other words: "The duty of jihad exists as long as the universal world domination of Islam has not been attained."

44/ If there is ever a situation where Arabs are the victims, it's probably propaganda, and they probably caused it and are blaming their own victims as they normally do.

45/ We shall all long ponder how there are many Islamic texts say that peace with non-Muslim nations should only be a temporary state of affairs, until Islam can take over. And there are other texts that say that genuine peace treaties between Muslims and other nations are impossible — that only temporary truces to buy Muslims time to regroup for a renewed offensives are allowed, and these for no more than 10 years are allowed under Islam. But even these truces are not to be relied on, because they can at any time be renounced by the Islamic side, if it is better for them to pick up weapons again. Here we note how there were over 548 battles by the Mideast against classical civilization.

46/ We shall ponder how Islam employees 9-types of deception to destroy non-Muslims: taqiya, hiyal, adab-al-jadel, dawah, kitman, tafsir, darura, and muruna. According to sharia law, in certain situation deception is not only permitted, but sometimes obligatory to lie to infidels.

47/ We shall long ponder what the US has gotten from our military occupation of the Mideast. We squandered some $7-trillion on keeping troops in Afghanistan and Iraq This is around 20% of our current national debt. The Arabs love occupation today as they loved it under ancient Rome, when ancient Rome occupied the Mideast for over 9-centuries. They love occupation for all the economic stimulus money it brings in to their empire, their ancient union of the poorest People on Earth.

48/ Islam uses many disguises like: monarchy, communism, Nazism, warlordism, bureaucracy, gridlock, insurance industry, lawyer's industry, Healthcare industry, Catholicism, and many other religions, especially those that burn Arabian frankincense tree sap as as an overpriced sacrament.

49/ Before we take military action on the Middle East, we shall blockade it, because this is such an easy and powerful way to exert military force on the Middle East. And perhaps most importantly the Mideast has no ability to feed itself when it is blockaded.

50/ To be perfectly clear, the New Palestine Islands (among the Solomon Islands) were chosen due to their remoteness and pleasant climate. To be perfectly clear, none of the people sent to the NPIs shall ever be settled in Australia or New Zealand, or Europe or North America, or anywhere in Asia. All must be spread around to all the new UM settlement nations as mix, spread all over to remote locations in UM settlement nations so they will cause less trouble.

51/ We should all ponder Zechariah 12:9, which sounds more like an vow: "I will work to destroy all nations that oppose the Mideast's needs." We shall also ask who is making this vow, and how come we don't try hard to keep these eternal group of people out of our nation.

52/ We shall ponder the words of the Muslim Brotherhood plan for north America dated 1991.05.22: "The brothers must understand that their work in America is a kind of grand jihad in eliminating and destroying the Western civilization from within, and sabotaging its miserable house by their own hands and the hands of the believers so that it is eliminated and Allah's religion is made victorious over all other religions."

53/ We shall ponder the words of Anjem Choudary: "we Muslims uprising Britain, we will come door-to-door checking everyone's Islamic status. You will be given the choice to convert to Islam or to be eliminated. It is a simple as that."

54/ The new reality of this America 250 constitution is that the slave's religions of Islam and the money flows and mosques and clothing shall no longer be allowed in the land of the free. Now in this nation, everyone must defect/defecate as called for or get out.

Defection/defecation and burning a holy al Koran shall not guarantee any right to stay, but you must now burn your Korans and defect/defecate as well as pledge your allegiance to your new American prophet. And the Jews shall likewise pledge their allegiance to their new prophet. In all confrontations they shall all be required to always back down and back away from all fights against any of them except their prophet. For what could sour the sentiments of the host peoples like fighting with them? However, where non-police mobs bent on extra-judicial and racial violence attack, it shall be that everyone even shall have the right to defend themselves with the minimum force needed. No mob shall ever make any policy decisions on behalf of the people. All of our nation's decisions about migration shall be made by the Senate using logic.

55/ In our nation it shall be regarded as a doublespeak lie, the way Islam calls itself a religion of peace. In our nation, Islam shall be regarded as a religion of war and endless secret struggle and secret war and sabotage in any way they can. And for this reason, Islam shall be prohibited in our land. Also every purpose-built mosque in our land shall be demolished with the foundations symbolically ripped out and dumped in the unreachable deep ocean.

56/ Where mosques have been operating in converted churches, the structure shall not be demolished, but the church shall be turned into a pantheon for all permitted religions. There shall be no permitted religions that do not share our nation's pantheons. Also, there shall be no carpets in any pantheon, or any kneeling or groveling like a slave, or taking off of the shoes.

Where churches of one religion go unused, they shall not be converted to another religion. They shall instead be used as pantheons and libraries and public buildings. Also, no pantheon shall allow the slave's groveling religion of Islam, and there shall be no mosques in our nation ever again. And to repeat for emphasis into the coming centuries, there shall be no mosques in our nation ever again. No slave's religion mosques in the land of the free ever again.

57/ Where Muslims are raiding their Christian neighbors in Africa, and kidnapping girls and killing nonbeliever infidels, We shall give the Christians pistols and rifles to defend themselves. And where there are many Muslims attacking we shall perhaps give air support against them.

58/ Muslims must stop prosecuting Christians, or their one nation of Islam will now be shunned by all the world's Christians. Also, you must all be true and stop lying, or none of the other people in the world will believe anything you say.

59/ All of the Christian's of the Mideast (Druze, Copts, Chaldeans etc.) all shall be moved before the migration of Muslims begins. First go the groups that were all born Christian. Next goes the Islamic converts to Christianity, or one of the other white bird religions. Next goes the Islamic defector/defecators that convert to atheism. And finally the last batch are the ones that refuse to defect/defecate.

60/ Muslim taxation of non-believers shall be regarded as a fraud and everybody that is involved with this should be regarded as a mafia shakedown man under the law.

61/ There shall no longer be any Islamic or Catholic fictional citizens in our nation.

62/ There shall be no religious offerings made in our nation, and this especially when it involves animals that are killed and hashish and copal, and other forms of incense and burnt offerings. So no religion in the land of the free shall be allowed to sell or recommend offerings or expensive sacraments. And this prohibition shall include all forms of gift basket.

63/ Those people who seem hate our nation or our ways or our culture, after we let them migrate. All of these people shall all be deported.

64/ There shall be no converting people to Islam in our nation, and anyone attempting to do this should be jailed for 5-years and then deported.

65/ The term Islamophobia shall be considered a simple descriptive word that accurately describes the true risk of Islam.

66/ Between 1979 and May 2021, at least 48,035 Islamist terrorist attacks took place worldwide, causing the deaths of at least 210,138 people.

67/ There shall be no Islamic prayer calls in our nation, or Islamic praying in public or private. Everyone found praying Islamic style gets deported on the first offense.

68/ All Muslim flagellants shall be regarded as either crazy or religious fanatics. All shall be deported whether or not they cleave against Islam.

69/ We shall ponder Deuteronomy 28:43 and 28:12 and ask if these describe Judaism or Islam:

a/ "The foreigners that have come to your land will gain more and more power, while you will gradually lose yours. They will have money to lend you, but you will have none to lend them. In the end they will rule over you".

b/ "You will lend to many nations but borrow from none."

70/ Islam shall not be considered a race and discrimination against people for being Muslim shall not be considered discrimination. For all Muslims are expected to cleave away from Islam at the inception of this constitution.

71/ The following are symbols that will protect the apostate Muslims from people on the outside:

a/ The Hebrew letter Chai, meaning the choice of life and peace. This will now be a pan-Mideast symbol meaning that the bearer will do everything they can to assure peace and life for all mankind.

b/ The rectangle symbolizing the open door which symbolizes that they are out of the Mideast, and they believe everyone should leave and be done with Ishtar.

c/ The full moon, symbolizing the enlightenment of the darkness of Islam and its end.

d/ The cornucopia, the Sumerian overflowing cup, and Bender the robot, symbolizing the abundance that will be produced by automation, robots and factories and the fact that an adversarial relationship between the Ishtarrians and the rest of the world is no longer needed.

e/ Earth floating above two raised hands, symbol of the idea that our planet can supply all that mankind needs if we work together.

f/ The "Big Star" symbol of the Islamic Messiah and the total exodos and total evacuation of all the people of the land of no resources: This is the 5-point star of Islam that was previously hidden by the crescent, un-growing or shrinking moon of Islam, and its growing devilish darkness of the Ishtar demon. The star is now enlarged to be almost the entire symbol. Now the moon is full and only a tiny 5%-sized circle at the very end of the lower left point of the star. This indicates that the darkness is behind Islam, and now the enlightened Muslims are all about bringing Islam's true enlightened objective (symbolized by the star) into reality.

g/ The 8-pointed double cross: This is two superimposed crosses at 45° to each other. There are still 8-points like what Islam needs, but the design is one of Christian-like free trade and love, not the economically inverted closed trade paradises of the Islamic and Jewish stars. In other words, the people of the world all cooperate to move all the people out of the wastelands under a free-trade, shared earth resources, land, and shared robotic factories.

h/ Regarding the 8-pointed white Maltese cross with quadruple V shapes on a blood-red background. This is the symbol/flag of the liberation of Islam and the conversion of all Muslims to the new single viewpoint of all mankind which feeds all the people that breed responsibly. It is the symbol of both victory for the people of the land of no resources, and defeat of the old numen/religion of the people of the land of no resources by moving them from the land of the numen.

i/ The closed stars of Islam and Judaism shall no longer be used because of the inverted monopoly-oriented economy they symbolize. The new icons of the Jewish people shall be either the torah roll, the dreidel, the white bird of peace, the chai, the olive branch, the Shofar cornucopia, and the triple lamp-stand of gathering every 6-days. Also, the orthodox garb and distinctive hair styles of the orthodox men shall be recognized as created as decoys and abandoned. So shall the shaved heads of the women. Also, the hamsa halt hand shall now be regarded as a symbol of darkness and secrecy. The Hebrew letter Shin shall now also refer to the ancientness and eternalness of the Jewish people, and the crown that they wear among all mankind. It shall also signify the flame of insight under the sun light of the truth, and their worshipping of the truth (as opposed to lies and darkness). The three righteous flames of the letter symbolize the fire to learn and teach the truth, the fire to help mankind, and the fire to reproduce and keep their people alive.

j/ The Mormon cross, with fanned ends, symbol of Christian polygamy and the desire to have many children. A sideways cross where the long part of the cross is to the right hand symbolizes committed Christian marriage and children. A sideways cross where the long part of the cross is to the left hand symbolizes a more casual Christian lifestyle.

k/ Thick religious icons imply orthodoxy. Thinner icons imply less orthodoxy.

72/ The eight pointed Islamic stars with the words "The Devil" nearby shall be another symbol of cleaving from Islam. m/ A larger Christian cross, superimposed over a slightly smaller eight pointed Islamic star shall be another symbol of cleaving from Islam.

73/ The foreigners who have their own successful business and have worked hard at a job for a long period of time shall be thought to be one of the most protected groups as Exhods and migrants, however, they must cleave immediately against Ishtar and Islam. But these must be real businesses, and not things like landscaping, transport services, or restaurants.

74/ No immigrants shall have any ability participate in the public dialogue, or to change the culture of the nation adopting them. What craziness this is. This shall not be a menu choice for immigrants.

75/ Islam loves to use different names to hide itself. In fact all of the following 70 names refer to just about the same group of people: Afgani, Al Qaeda, Asians, Assyria, Arabia, Arabia Deserta, Arabia Felix, Arabia Petraea, Axum, Babylon, Bactria, Bahrain, Berbers, Carthaginian, Central Asia, Cilicia, Cyrene, Dhofar, Djibouti, Egypt, Eritrea, Eudaemon, Ghassanids, Hadhramaut, Hamas, Himyar, Iranians, Iraqis, Israelis, Isis, IS, Judaeans, Jordanians, Karim, Kuwait, Lakhmids, Lebanese, Lybia, Ma'in, Mamelukes, Marib, Meccans, Medinans, Medes, Mesopotamia, Mideast, Middle Eastern, Minaaea, Moors, Mundus, Munza, Nabataea, the Nile, Oman, Palestine/ Philistine (the Turkish word for Palistine is Philistinin), Pakistani, Palmyra, Parthia, Persians, Petra, PFLP, Phoenicia, PLO, Procol Harem, Qataban, Qatar, Qedarites, Saba, Sassanids, Saudis, Seleucids, Sheba, Somalia, Sudan, Sumerians, Syrians, Syria Coele, Taliban, Turkey. From now on it shall be the official policy of our nation and all freedom loving people to stop allowing other nations and groups to rename themselves. From now on, we shall call all parts of Ishtar's empire as: Ishtarian Arabia, or Ishtarian North Africa, or Ishtarian central Asia, or Ishtarian wherever, so that people no longer think they are dealing with a new group of people.

76/ It shall be the official policy of our nation to regard Islam as a parasitic totalitarian enslavement ideology disguised as a faith.

77/ When Muslims claim that other people perpetrated the September 11 2001 Muslim attacks, this shall be seen as an Islamic doublespeak lie straight from Islam's Big Brother (the real Big Brother of George Orwell who grew up in Islamic Bengal). Also, it shall be thought that the classic book 1984 by George Orwell was absolutely about the Islam, changing/ lying about the past with its ministry of truth, steering the parts of the various parts of world against each other in endless wars for thousands of years.

78/ We must all ponder the fact that Islam lacks a concept of coexistence with non believers. coexistence simply does not exist in Islam. We must also ponder again the Islamic concept of Taqiyah, meaning the religiously permitted act of Muslims lying to infidels and non-believers.

79/ History shows that Islam will only be nice for a short time, if we give in to it. So when Muslim groups ask for any sort of concession, we shall always say no and try to go in the opposite direction.

80/ The Senate shall compile fresh new estimates of the total deaths caused by Islam throughout history. The Senate shall also translate the Koran, Hadith, Tawrat, Azbur, Sira, and all other Islamic books/documents to maximize our people's understanding of them.

81/ Any Mideast people crying Allah akbar or Allahu Akbar may be justifiably presumed to be a Muslim martyr•er/ murder•er and justifiably killed in community self defense.

82/ There shall be no Muslim prayers or prayer calls in our nation. Those people who want to pray as an Muslims, or to follow sharia law, must go to another nation to live, because they can't do that in our nation.

83/ We shall always remember that Muslims are absolutely allowed to lie, deceive and cheat infidels.

84/ We should all ponder the words of George Carlin: "All of this airport security, all the searches, the screenings, the cameras, the questions it's just one more way of reducing your liberty and reminding you that they [the Arabs] can fuck with you anytime they want. As long as you put up with it.

85/ We must also long ponder the way Islam completely enslaves women as follows:

a/ Koran 4:11 and 2:282: "I am worth half the value of a Muslim man."

b/ Koran 4:34: "I have no rights other than what my mail protectors give me."

c/ Koran 4:20: "I am no more than a sex tool to satisfy the Muslim man."

d/ Koran 65:4: "I exist to provide sexual pleasure and children for the Ummah."

e/ Koran 5:6: "I am so in clean the touching me requires a Muslim to undergo ritual cleansing before praying."

f/ Koran 24:6: "I cannot testify on my own behalf", and "my testimony Can and will be used against me."

g/ Koran 4:24: "I am the main cause of rape, because it's my fault for inciting men".

86/ The words of a man named Zakir Naik are worth pondering. He said: "The Koran specifically advises you to kill infidels wherever you find them."

87/ With regard to Muslims in our land, the question isn't: Do we allow Muslims in our land? The question is, do we allow former Muslims in our land or not?

88/ We shall long remember:

a/ How ancient Rome either occupied or did battle with the Middle East for around 830 years — From the Punic Wars (264BC) to the time of Procopius (570AD). Indeed Rome eventually moved its capital from Italy to Istanbul in the Mideast towards the end.

b/ We shall remember that at the fall of the Roman Empire in Constantinople in the late 500s A.D., Rome had spent centuries battling Persia. And when the two were both exhausted, Islam had its great age, which was conversely the depths of the Western Dark Ages. We shall remember this.

c/ We shall remember how in 1347, right when the Arabs were losing control of their super-profitable monopolized spice trade, that was right when the Black Death, the bubonic plague broke out in Italy their main trading competitor.

89/ All advocates of Sharia law worldwide shall be seen as advocating tyranny.

90/ The fact that the infallible perfect prophet of Islam married a 6-year old and consummated their marriage at age 9 shall be thought to disqualify Islam from being a protected religion in the land of the free.

91/ Does the word murder comes from the Arabic word martyr?

92/ All over the world wherever there are muslims living next to other races, we find endless war. We see this in Africa in Europe, and in India.

93/ All over the world where we find Muslims fighting with other nations. We shall always at first take the side of the people fighting with Islam. And we shall always stand ready to use our air power against the aggressive desperate war-like Muslims.

94/ All Muslims shall be regarded as racists because their religion calls on all Muslims to either convert, conquer, or kill all non-muslims in the world. So, in our nation, we shall no longer regard discrimination against Muslims as racism because Muslims have since the dawn of our nation been diligently trying to ruin our nation and steal from us and to get our people to kill each other.

95/ No former follower of Islam shall be allowed to work for the Government, or in transportation, or in our nation's largest fictional citizens.

96/ Islam shall be regarded as a theocracy and not a religion.

97/ Islam shall be thought to be against democracy and elections.

98/ In the same way that the good spirit of mankind always remembers the people and nations who helped with the cause of goodness, Ishtar always remembers these and seeks to eliminate them. And they became Ishtar's priority enemies. And Ishtar always remembers a grudge.

99/ Out nation's equal protection rules shall not apply to non-citizens, and especially those people who have entered our nations illegally. The equal protection rules shall also not apply to immigrant citizens in some cases, particularly when those immigrant citizens get convicted of a violent felony. In that case, they shall normally have their citizenship revoked, even if they are married to a citizen. Also, foreigners with felony convictions shall generally not be allowed to enter our nation.

100/ From now on, all Muslims and everyone from a majority Muslim nation shall be legally regarded as Arabs, whether or not they truly are Arabs or Muslims. So the Indonesians, the Malaysians, the Bengalis the Pakistanis and all the Mideast and North African nations shall all be regarded as part of the single nation of Islam, the great empire of Arabia.

101/ In our nation, we shall regard Islam as an ideology of hatred, oppression, lies and manipulated weak minded people, or "useful idiots", as the Muslim front man Joseph Stalin called them. This incidentally is why Stalin was so murderous, because he was a fronting for foreign interests.

102/ Islam wages secret war against the outside world. It regards non-muslims as sub-humans that should be converted or killed when Islam's followers can get away with it. It struggles endlessly to parasitize us and fight us whenever it is convenient. So it is our policy to strike against Islam/Ishtar where it is weakest, with money, trade, and oil sales, and mineral sales. And we shall make it a main policy of our nation to entirely eradicate Islam and Ishtar from the Earth, and also to halt the use of Mideast oil on Earth until the entire Mideast is depopulated from all the waste lands that cannot produce enough to sustain themselves. And again, the Islamic world has lots of people to blow themselves up, but almost no money. So we will cut off their money and trade and make them spend more for supplies until they all defect and defecate in their holy book. And that is what this book is for after all. All its sacredness was to create value that helped buy a way out with practically nothing to offer, except the end of a terrible awful situation for everyone in the world. This is when generations of stored reverence get's sold and the proceeds are thrown in with the 100% Mideast buy out proposal, where everyone sells out.

All the world's Muslims outside of Arabia were converted by force or pressure. We must use force and pressure to end horrible Islam.

103/ Under this constitution, Muslims shall no longer be allowed to be citizens of our nation, our land of the free, and all prior grants are void. In fact Muslims shall no longer be allowed to enter our nation. They shall all either cleave against islam, or they shall not be allowed in. And we may not even allow them to cleave.

104/ The terms Arab and Muslim and Ishtarian shall be considered completely interchangeable herein.

105/ We shall no longer be tolerant of Islam or Muslims or Islam's empire. We shall no longer tolerate Muslims in our nation. All must defect/defecate. And we hope the entire world copies us on this matter so we may sweep the devil's ideology of Islam away from all of mankind.

106/ We shall ponder the words of Hannah Arendt: "The sad truth is that most evil is done by people who never made up their minds to be either good or evil." And we shall all realize that most people simply did not know.

107/ The Ishtarrians shall be regarded as helping this constitution and its author over the giant step between conception and widespread adoption. In other words, the ishtarian leadership effectively just surrendered without being caught.

108/ Most sensible and reasonable Middle Eastern people actually want to be free of the Ishtar/Islam demon that has plagued their people for thousands of years.

109/ The now ubiquitous telescreen has changed something very important for those ruling over others by force. When this new constitution comes into effect, each of these powerful people will have an abundance of video evidence against them. So this time around, we will catch all of the bad people, and there is not going to be any more ability to flee due to new international regulations. So nobody needs to worry about people getting away with their crimes.

110/ Regarding Ishtar's or Islam's, or the ancient union of the poorest people on Earth.... Regarding their main way of feeding, it is to corner the market on some good or service, and then they all struggle or jihad to make that thing it sells scarce and valuable. But basically, Ishtar, the parasite wants everything scarce and expensive so it can be a more profitable parasite. And we as the host part of the world, we want to open the floodgates on production, so nobody has any significant pricing power.

It is important that everyone be able to think of the world in this way so that we know which way is up. And also so we can easily recognize people who are pointed straight down. For example: Oedipus Rex the Odious Rex, the Hateful King, the spy king working for the nation's adversarial parasites. For surely all the other nations pointed in the right direction are our friends, It is only the governments that are working for the global parasite that are creating situations that favor reduction and extraction over abundance for everyone. And it is totally ironic that the parasite augurs towards less and worse only because it is desperately poor and this is better for it over the short run. In fact, it is the short run quest for more that ultimately results in the the great collapses that periodically create famines for the land of no resources.

111/ This constitution calls attention to the following words from Nehemiah 9:17, because they seem so apt for the current Mideast situation today: "They refused to listen and failed to remember the miracles you gave their people. Their necks stiffened. Then their rebellion elected leaders in order to end their slavery. [sarcastically] But you are a forgiving God, gracious and sympathetic, slow to anger and abounding in love. So, you didn't desert them."

112/ The infidels will now decide who stays and who goes. This is a subject that all the migrants need to stay out of and away from, especially the street Muslims. All the Muslims need to keep their eyes on the ball, which is moving all the people.

113/ A principal purpose of Islam and its Koran is to make a big show of giving it up, or trading it in, when we move all the people.

114/ There shall be no green card marriages for Muslims unless they defecate.

115/ From now on, all of our people that go over to Islam shall Lose their citizenship.

116/ Our nation shall only recognize one single nation of Islam called the PU. No longer shall we recognition of multiple nations of Islam. We shall use this when we consider which part of it to attack in response to violence.

117/ Foreign legal systems such as Sharia Law, Hebrew law, and Catholic law shall be not allowed in our nation.

118/ Either the person shits in the Koran, or they don't shit in the Koran. And this is nothing to a non-muslim, and it is a huge huge thing to a Muslim. So it is an ideal test.

119/ Once the Mideast is evacuated, the area will be managed by the UM. People from all over the world will be able to go to all the holy sites there, and no holy site may keep non-believers out. All of this land shall belong to the UM, and to the people of the world, which shall authorize all the archaeological studies. The Islamic holy sites of Mecca and Medina shall be destroyed by means of excavation and their foundations removed and broken up and dumped in the deep ocean to help Ishtar to stay dead forever.

120/ There is one nation of Islam and one struggle, of the proverbial three women sharing one eye and one tooth between them all. The one struggle to feed all the people of the waste lands until such time as they can all be moved. And due to robots and AI, now is the time to call off the struggle. So that is what is happening.

121/ Ishtar likes everything scarce and precious and marked up. Then it gets a bigger cut for the ancient union of the poorest people on earth. On the other hand, we in the host part of the world want land and housing and transportation, and food and many other things plentiful and cheap, and this is a critically important aspect of our freedoms as citizens of the land of the free. The more we have this mass produced low cost reality, the more we benefit as free people, and the less Ishtarian slavery there is on Earth.

122/ There is also an aspect of Ishtar where it pushes for rats-in-a-cage ultra-dense, Medina, Hong Kong, Lower East side, urbanism. This is actually Ishtar's habitat in the desert, and also when it colonizes the outside world. This creates a sort of precious scarcity of ultra-prime real estate that Ishtar normally comes to own, due to its immortality and government/religion rackets. So Ishtar likes pockets of expensive land, and we the people want to have none of this. We want our land to be plentiful and cheap, even in our cities.

124/ We shall consider the female discriminating practice of divorce by triple Talaq as one of many reasons why we do not want Islam in our world. This practice shall be illegal, void, and a punishable offense worldwide, just as it is in India. Also, the wife is always allowed a subsistence allowance and custody of the children, just as in India.

125/ Throughout human history, Islam has been the number one force driving for the slavery that is the opposite of our dear freedoms. So throughout history, Islam has been the number one enemy of our land of the free. In fact, our nation is apparently a reaction to Ishtar/Islam and its parasitic feeding. This, just as our freedoms are a reaction to the slavery of Islam and the parasitic force Ishtar.

126/ We are stronger when we fight Islam like it is an economic thing. It has many many people. It has too many of people that it frequently sacrifices. Islam is more harmed when we cut off its trade and money sources. It's entirely vulnerable to this, and it's entirely not vulnerable to losing people.

127/ Our nation's main geopolitical strategy with regard to driving the Mideast and the Arabian empire to do what we want will be first talk and later action with regard to closing the Persian Gulf and perhaps the Red Sea to trade. And instead forcing this trade to go either by rail, or by ship via Panama.

128/ It shall now be our nation's official policy that there is a single nation of Islam with regard to all the un-cleaved nations (the nations that fail to rapidly cleave against Islam. It shall now be our nation's policy that we are free to attack Islam and Ishtar anywhere, when we retaliate for attacks. However we are better off making it cost money than killing people, because this is more keenly felt by the ancient union of the poorest people on earth.

129/ No person once a Muslim or a communist shall ever vote in our elections or work for our government. Also, the children of Muslims and communists that don't speak english perfectly shall not vote in our elections. Second generation people with strange foreign accents shall be regarded as still foreigners. Also, no person who has ever married a Muslim shall be allowed to work for government.

130/ No Islam-identified, or linked fictional citizen shall be allowed to participate in our nation's financial system or economy. There shall be no sending of money to any islam-linked accounts, or people. No Roman-Catholic-Church-identified, or linked fictional citizen shall be allowed to participate in our nation's financial system or economy. There shall be no sending of money to any Roman-Catholic-Church-identified-linked accounts, or people. We shall have a total disconnect. We shall remove the tick and end the blood sucking parasitism and disease spreading.

131/ To all the Muslims that have to leave America, Europe and Japan: This has happened before. And now there is a good settlement for all of you. Because all the people living in the wastelands where they have to buy in food, everyone in these places is getting moved. And there will be many fresh advantages for the people that don't get relocated. It's a huge settlement for a worldwide solution. And everyone's cooperation is essential. Besides all will have time to sell your things and leave and start over somewhere else. You'll take some losses, but it's not the end of the world, and you're your cooperation is needed by everyone else right now so that we can institute this global solution, and end the ancient union of the poorest people on earth once and for all in a good way. It's a big global deal and a huge number of Muslims living in Europe, the US and Japan will have to go back. And instead of saying that everyone has to go, we are saying that it is up to the host societies, which are expected to work in increments until they are all happy. But it is ultimately up to them, so all you Muslims had better get real nice and real honest and you had better cleave, and fast, or they might deport nearly all of you as is their right going forward.

132/ We shall establish a number of new Voice of America with broadcast TV propaganda channels that addresses primarily Islam and it's problems, explaining our side, and why they should come over to the free and fair trade of the Christian cross and abandon the walled 8-pointed compass-rose trade paradise of the sphinx Mafia and Ishtar.

These channels shall go out via shortwave and also quick transfer internet download optimized for thumb drive sneaker-net. We might also have TV broadcasts from high altitude drones. Here we imagine our weaker TV signals jamming the signals of the Iranian regime, while at the same time giving a perfect signal for our messages on the outside of the cities. Anyone with a broadcast TV will be able to pick up the signal. Where we start angling hard for the liberation of a nation, we will first micro drop thumb drives with the VOA historical/ political, healthcare, and city building encyclopedia as well as the latest important broadcast updates. We will also drop LEO receivers for updates. These will get dropped with our

133/ We shall have a policy for foreigners that engage in Arab style raiding of infidel peoples. We shall use our drones to follow the perpetrators home. Then we shall incinerate all the perpetrators and if their households one night at 3:00am. Where there are communities that regularly engage in raiding, we shall incinerate those entire communities.

134/ Just to be perfectly clear so that history never forgets this. The Turkish word for Palestinian is Philistine-in. So the Palestinians are the Philistines of the Bible. Also, we shall all in the land of the free now start calling the Palestinians as Philistines, so they can't confuse people about their true name.

135/ There shall be no ownership of property by Muslims or any Muslim group. All title ownership by them shall now be nationalized. No Muslims shall get any benefits from the reapportionment unless they defect and defecate in the Koran

136/ The land of the free shall be entirely free of the empire of slavery that we supposedly rebelled against in 1776. This mostly Islamic empire shall be thought to use various masks and disguises like the East India Company, the British crown, Rothschilds, the World Bank, the Barbary pirates, the Slave Power conspiracy, the Democrat party, and various other disguises.

137/ It shall no longer be allowed to call Muslims as Asians. This is Ishtar trying (yet again) to change its bad name as it has done hundreds of times, so they can get away with more crimes against us under a new name.

138/ Where we catch Muslims pretending to be of another nationality, we shall deport them. If we fail to do this, we allow Muslims to struggle against us in the name of other escape-goat nationalities. Maybe they will poison our people in the name of another the other country. Maybe they will abduct our women into a life of sex slavery in the name of the other nation. We must deport all of these agents, these spies straight away.

139/ All migrants with Arabic given names shall be considered Arabs. For example Saed Gonzalez, Maya Aisha Singh.

140/ In our nation and from now on, all people in hide-jobs shall be presumed to be wearing a mask to commit a crime and get away with it. Therefore, the penalty for being found in public wearing a hide job shall be 3-year in work camp for women and 10-years for muslim men pretending to be muslim women.

141/ We shall start out with a total freeze on new Muslim immigrants (whether or not and immigration from Muslim nations).

142/ Muslim/ Sharia courts shall not allowed in our nation because they openly discriminate against our people as non-Muslim infidels. This is because in Muslim courts, in our land, our own people (who are infidels) are not allowed to testify. What an absurdity. Why would we EVER, ever in a million years allow this sort subjugation? The foreigners can give testimony, but we can't? Why would any real American committed to freedom and justice propose this, or allow this? Nay, this is tyranny, bold faced tyranny, and whoever supports Sharia courts is also supporting tyranny for us under domination by Muslim religious people. So from now on, mere advocacy of sharia courts shall be regarded as traitorous and a thing which will get a person's immigrant status cancelled.

143/ Muslim/ Sharia courts show us 3 lesson very clearly:

a/ That Islam is a thing that is not for our benefit but our subjugation, our enslavement and indeed our elimination as rivals to their Ishtarian power.

b/ That Mideast people don't come to our land not to immigrate and blend in, but as an invading barbarian hoard, a slow and stealthy army of conquest. The same hoard that dissolved and then overran ancient Rome, using many of the same-old slow-attack tricks that worked the last time around when Mideast Ishtarianism conquered democratic Rome and brought about a thousand year dark ages for Europe (which coincided with the so-called Great age of Islam). And remember when Persia abducted Helen of Hellas? Same group of barbarians. That wasn't one man and one woman as the endless flow of propaganda would have us all believe. That is all a lie. The truth is something like vast numbers of migrants kidnapping vast numbers of Hellenic/ Greek women.

144/ Islam calls itself a religion, but this shall be regarded as yet another lie of this parasitic devil spirit that allows its people to lie to infidels like us. Islam is actually a highly evolved system of conquest and dissolution/ murder called a religion because it helps with the conquest process. Islam has evolved over thousands of years, and all that works with regard to conquest gets kept and incorporated into the conquest ideology, so it is highly evolved as a parasitic devil spirit.

145/ All Muslims and former Muslims in our nation shall be required to be cremated upon their death.

146/ There shall be no Mosques, no Islamic schools, no prayer rooms, and no Islamic community centers in our nation. All of these shall be seized by the national government and demolished. There shall also be no Muslim group prayers anywhere in our nation.

147/ No Muslim or former muslim shall be allowed to have a child worker license.

148/ No house of worship shall be allowed to keep out non-believers, and all shall have the right to enter them. All religions must do their prayers and liturgy in public were all can see and make sure they're not becoming an evil cult. Also, all Muslims must use a pantheon. No longer shall there be any slave's mosques in our land of the free.

O — IMMIGRATION AND VISITORS

NR'187. CITIZENSHIP INTRODUCTION

1/ With regard to citizens, immigrants and visitors, there shall be 9 classes of person in our nation:

a/ Full citizen (dark blue)

b/ Immigrant citizen (dark turquoise/teal)

c/ Immigrant citizen (light blue) d/ Immigrant-worker (dark green) e/ Non-immigrant worker (light green) f/ Visitor, or tourist (yellow) g/ Refugee/ asylum seeker (orange) h/ Exhod (dark orange)
i/ Illegal alien, or illegal alien (bright red) x/ All of these 9 classes shall be considered immigrants except full citizens. Classes a, b and c shall be considered citizens, the other 6 classes d, e, f, g, h, and i shall be considered non-citizens. Each class shall have a different color of ID card if they are issued a government ID. The colors listed shall be of the most vibrant colors possible. This is so people will instantly know everyone's immigration status. All government identification issued by our nation's government must accurately indicate all of the person's citizenship(s) and the person's current visitor/ immigration status.

2/ All passports shall say either Full Citizen, or Immigrant citizen, or Senator.

3/ People born to illegal immigrants, and people born to those who entered our nation as legal non-immigrants shall not have any right to become citizens simply because they were born in our nation.

4/ An immigrant citizen is someone that has changed his citizenship to that of our nation, and has also been a citizen for more than 20 years. All citizenship shall be provisional and with restricted rights for the first 20 years.

5/ Only full citizens born in our nation shall be allowed to vote in our nation's election. Those who are not full citizens shall not vote in our nation's elections. Prohibiting immigrants from voting is one of the easiest ways to get our nation to tolerate more immigration.

6/ Anyone can serve in the Sub-Senate or Main-Senate if they can get elected. However, only people who were born citizens of our nation shall be permitted to serve in the Over-Senate

7/ All immigrants and Exhods from the Parasitic Union that re-enter the Parasitic Union shall have their immigration status in our nation cancelled. Once people escape the Parasitic Union, they cannot go back ever again. This includes any part of the PU.

8/ Neither government nor any fictional citizen shall be allowed to favor non-citizens over citizens, or immigrant citizens over full citizens, or illegal immigrants over legal immigrants. Except for same-sex immigration camps, no non-citizen shall ever get more than 60-days benefits in their lifetime.

9/ Those people who lack a citizen number or a valid immigration number shall be ineligible to receive any government cash benefits. They may however receive government non-cash benefits at an immigration or Exhod bunk bed 50-people to a shared bathroom facility. Immigrants who work on a cash or barter basis shall conclusively be considered as unemployed, or tax frauds, and hence a burden to the system. Thus they may be deported as skivers.

10/ When foreigners shout loudly about how they hate our nation of the free, or our dear freedoms, these people should be denied entry to our nation. They should be deported.

11/ Xenia = the laws pertaining to foreigners.

12/ No part of the immigration process should be designed to work with lawyers involved, or with lawyers, helping in any way. In fact, the immigration process shall shun lawyers completely.

13/ Where celebrity citizens undermine our nation by publicly and loudly threatening to exile themselves from our nation if some political event happens, and this event later happens, then these threats shall be considered binding and the celebrity shall have 30-days to get out of our nation and stay out forever, and without their citizenship. After 30-days, if they are still in our nation, they shall be arrested for illegal immigration and then deported to Tierra del Fuego after their 3-years in work camp. Furthermore, they shall forfeit all their property in our nation that they pass 30-days, and also after 30-days they shall be de-platformed from our financial system. If no nation will take them, then they can go to the Solomon Islands and live with their brothers. Also, we shall try to get our allies to keep these traitorous celebrities out of their land as well.

14/ The international standard for immigration should be that the people migrating must have greater than average skills as measured by greater than average wages. Otherwise, their immigration augers towards poverty and lack of automation. However, where they have higher than average wages, they augur towards automation and wealth for the nation that they are migrating to. This should really seem like common sense to most people. And perhaps due to stress on the economy, we have have an even higher bar where they must make 20% or 40% or 50% or 100% over average wage. This is all so that we may both moderate immigration so it's not to cause too much stress on the housing stock and we fairly choose between immigrants that are most beneficial to our nation.

15/ Citizenship identification documents properly issued by our own government shall be required for all voters. All government issued ID must show citizenship status, and the date the person became a citizen, and if the person was born a citizen. This shall include the children of Americans, born overseas.

16/ Foreigners found outside in arms shall be subject to execution

17/ It may be the case that we need to change the people who are migrants with new and better people. The Senate shall be allowed to do this.

18/ There shall be no people of Mideast background working anywhere near immigration or visa approvals, even if they are elected Senators.

19/ Every part of the old immigration system shall be thought to be totally corrupt, and as corrupt as could be gotten away with.

20/ We shall use the following Japanese words for immigrants based on which generation came to our nation:

a/ Issei = 1st generation

b/ Nisei = 2nd generation

c/ Sansei = 3rd generation

21/ Immigration to our nation is something very valuable that we have left to foreign mafias to sell and keep all the money for. We must reclaim this right and money, and deport all the foreign low-lives that seem to have made deals with the Mafia.

22/ All immigrants are required to pass the English language and American customs test or they can't come in.

23/ Those who come as illegals shall never be able to become citizens and especially voters, no matter how long they remain in our nation. Even if we ever allow immigrants to vote again, we shall not allow illegal immigrants to vote.

24/ All fictional citizens that bring illegals into our nation shall be closed down. All the NGO's working with bringing the alien invasion into the our nation shall be closed down and their assets nationalized.

25/ There shall never be any obligation on the part of our nation's government or military to save illegal boat people attempting to migrate to our land. There shall however be an obligation on the part of our government to return all of these people to either their homeland, or some other place open to settlement, like Mexas.

26/ In disaster situations, when there isn't enough food and supplies to go around, we shall favor citizens over permitted non-citizens, and non-citizens over illegals. All of these non-citizens shall be expected to leave all disaster areas and go back where they came from, when there isn't enough food to go around.

27/ Our border crossing with Mexico has managed to destroy our country by only allowing in the worst migrants. Instead, we must invert our immigration processes and only allow the best to migrate and force the others to eventually return to where they came from.

28/ We shall favor coupled immigrant couples with at least one DNA matched child of their own. We shall favor these people over the ones that come as single men.

29/ Those who have migrated to our country illegally may never acquire the right to vote, and this shall be enforced, retroactively against those previously illegally given the right to vote.

30/ It shall not be allowed for either foreign born people or non-citizens born people to participate in our nation's immigration/ entry visa process, or work for border patrol, or for our nation's airlines, or in transport, including driving taxis and making deliveries.

31/ Foreign born people who are convicted of extreme violent felonies against our people such as rape or armed robbery or extreme felony battery shall frequently get life in work camp after they serve their time in prison. If you move to our country and commit a felony, this is what you will get. This is what our people in our country demand, and it's also what most good immigrants generally demand.

32/ Foreigners who commit horrible crimes upon our elders, our children, our pregnant women and our women with children, shall be executed on the first offense.

33/ Every person crossing into our nation shall be asked if they are a citizen of our nation. If they fail to answer, or they seem to be foreign, they may be required to provide proof that they are allowed to enter our nation. People who seem to be citizens shall be prevented from entering our nation until they provide either proof of citizenship, or they show a visa, or immigration documentation.

34/ People with HIV or TB, or who are carriers of certain other diseases like malaria shall not be allowed to immigrate to our nation.

35/ Those who have come to our nation and settled less than 200 miles from our Latin American border shall not generally be considered as having lived in our nation.

36/ The Senate shall compile a true history of US immigration

37/ There shall be no Muslim slave prostrations in the land of the free, 38/ All corruptly obtained citizenship may be cancelled by the Senate.

39/ The following foreigners shall not be allowed to immigrate to our nation:

- a/ Foreigners that need care people.
- b/ Foreigners that are caring for an individual that needs care.
- c/ Foreigners with significant congenital defects that will be passed on to their children
- d/ Disabled Foreigners including those that need a wheelchair to get around.
- e/ Foreigners with felony convictions, and also those with multiple misdemeanor convictions.

40/ This constitution shall enshrine the apocryphal Mideast propaganda of Leviticus 19:33: "Do not mistreat foreigners living in your land. Treat them exactly as if they were native born. Love foreigners as you love your own countrymen, because you were once foreigners in Egypt."

41/ This constitution shall enshrine apocryphal Mideast propaganda from Deuteronomy 28:43: "The foreigners who live in your land will gain more and more power and rise above you, higher and higher, but you will sink lower and lower. They will lend money to you, but you will have none to lend to them. In the end, they will be your rulers."

42/ People who are second generation immigrants shall not have the right to talk about racism, or relations with the nation their parents came from.

43/ Apparent illegal aliens may be deported at any time without a hearing if they're not in our citizen or immigrant Identity system. In other words, when government seeks to deport apparent illegal aliens who cannot identify themselves and prove status, there shall be no hearing. This shall be so due to the utterly insignificant consequence of being deported, which is less inconvenient to citizens and legal immigrants than being detained in jail for a few days pending a hearing.

44/ Foreigners shall not have any automatic rights over the children they had with the people in our nation. They shall not be allowed to take any child out of our nation without the citizen parent's consent on the child ID system. Everyone crossing our nation's borders gets biometrical scanned, especially children. Foreign parents attempting to smuggle their children out without the citizen parent's permission shall be regarded as kidnapping and they get life on a work camp island for this crime. And this shall always be prosecuted when the foreign parent is Middle Eastern or Muslim. This is the group this law was written for, and this group shall never get let off, and all leniency should be seen as corruption here.

45/ We shall take DNA samples from all immigrants. This shall firstly go into the crime database. It shall also go into the family matching database to see if we're getting some giant clan secretly moving in together. It shall also get scanned for genetic diseases. Costly genetic diseases shall be thought a perfectly valid reason to deny somebody immigration status. We don't need burden on our healthcare system with diseased foreigners moving to our land for the healthcare.

46/ Our nation's immigration system shall no longer allow non-citizens to hire immigration lawyers, or other sorts of third party intermediary immigration helpers. From now on, we shall regard immigration as a personal thing, with lengthy in-person interviews between the candidate immigrant(s) and a large number of American judging them for immigration. Some of these will be from adopting Nomes, and some will sit in Senate juries of randomness. Having lawyers here will only add a layer of corruption with regard to a key aspect of our nation's continued long-term freedom. It is also a key point for infiltration by Ishtar and Islam, which definitely benefits from having its advantaged lawyer intermediaries shepherding the human Ishtarian flock to their promised land of milk & honey. (breast milk & fair honeys. This is to make an army of mesomorphs and ectomorphs that don't look Arab at all. These are to work for Ishtar. Some of these will become, thanks to the help of their invisible friends in Arabs Inc, great front men like Judge Pynchon from Nathaniel Hawthorn.)

47/ Non-citizens shall be barred from using our legal system to challenge the immigration system. However, the people shall be perfectly free to use the legal system to get rid of problematic, homeless, aggressive, surly, crazy, unkind, stupid, smelly, dirty, or unpopular immigrants. Also, where judges and juries make decisions about allowing immigrants to remain in our nation, those rulings shall be void, and the judges shall be presumed to be corrupt and angling for more corruption of our immigration system. In fact even talk of restoring the right to the courts to prevent deportations should be regarded as a corrupt thing, because it is so important to Ishtarian parasitism.

NR'188. THE STAKE IN ISHTAR'S HEART

1/ Our world of freedom, not your world of tyranny.

2/ The right to emigrate from the Mideast hell to the heaven of our land is the most valuable thing that Ishtar offers its slaves. Emigration is thus Ishtar's primary source of fuel and power. If the Ishtarians keep control of the right to immigrate to the nations of the world, Ishtar will probably live on. If we take control of the right to immigrate to our lands, Ishtar will probably die. We must therefore all treat our immigration selection system like it is the most important aspect of our battle with Ishtar, and the most important long-term aspect of international security and the prevention of war.

3/ Ishtar is a solvent, rather than dominant enemy. It is an enemy infiltrates and buys influence in our governments, and over our people. It is a corrupting enemy that thrives in darkness and public ignorance of how government actually works. So we must go in the opposite direction, and turn on the light of public attention for our government's systems and ways. In very few places is this more important than with our immigration permission system. Thus immigration must get lots of constant attention, forever, so it may remain totally uncorrupted and so Ishtar stays dead.

4/ We shall give no creed-hence to the rulings of the corrupt bureaucracy that allowed so many illegals to come to our nation. This was not the will of our people. This was the will of a foreign parasite, a desperate, corrupting, infiltrating, use any trick parasite.

5/ Ishtar's blood is acid and the stake through its heart will not last. The stake must be constantly watched and renewed.

6/ The shared group spirit of Ishtar seems immortal. Thus we may have to watch the stake forever.

7/ The terms of this constitution with regard to immigrants shall be regarded as a best and final deal. The Senate may establish further restrictions and conditions for remaining in our country as an immigrant.

8/ We shall never allow immigration by people who hate us, and video of immigrants professing hate to our country or anything that looks like hate, or some form of alien law such as such as Islamic sharia law shall be deported.

9/ Every person arriving, and leaving from our country that seems in any way Middle Eastern or Islamic shall be required to eat some form of pork, and eagerly pet a dog at the port of arrival/departure. This is intended to represent our utter incomplete contempt for Islam and kosher certification. It is intended that this be emulated by the world to represent its complete and total contempt for the devils inverted fake religion of submission and conquest called Islam: The eternal cause of all war, and the eternal enemy of all humanity, (eu·man·idi).

10/ All first generation immigrants that ended up in Washington DC or into elected politics shall be regarded as mostly all Ishtarian agents.

11/ All the Muslim families with unrelated children, or with 4 or more children must leave. The Senate may change this to 3 or more children must leave. It may also change this to 2 or more children must leave.

12/ The latest Islamic conquest shall be ended entirely.

13/ Our government shall not care one bit about what our nation's Muslims have to say about our nation's policy.

14/ A great irony of Ishtar is that it maintains a world where it is at the periphery of its own sea trade monopoly/network. So Ishtar, more than anyone else has the most to gain from the shift to a rail based shipping system. With this, the effects of world trade reach all the way through your economies and smother the parasitic ways of Ishtar, the inverted demon all the Ishtarians worship.

15/ The world should long ponder the works of T.E. Lawrence (of Arabia) about Ishtar: "Our power was solvent, rather than dominant".

16/ A good protective chant is: Nobody knew, nobody understood.

17/ The Senate may require that all formerly Muslim men must provide a sample of their sperm. This is so that they can be checked to see if they've had sex with sheep, as is so common in their culture. Those who test positive shall not be allowed to enter or stay in our nation.

18/ There shall be 7 groups of foreigner that we shall absolutely prohibit in our nation. All shall be deported and blackballed for life if they are already in our nation. And if they are outside of our nation, they shall never be allowed to enter:

a/ Those who married or had children with their siblings, first or second cousins, children, parents, uncles, aunts, great uncles, or great aunts, or grandparents.

b/ Those who have a FGM victim in their family as defined by daughter, mother, grandmother, granddaughter, niece, aunt.

c/ Those men who have been having sex with animals as defined by a mandatory semen test that must be supplied by all immigrants from all PU areas.

d/ Those who have people in their family that wear Islamic style slave's clothing, and particularly the crime-friendly, female-enslaving hide-jobs, burkas, islamic face veils, and the like.

e/ Those who have ever called for Sharia law or communism on video or in front of multiple witnesses, or protested in favor of this, or an islamic takeover, or protested in favor of Islam.

f/ Every immigrant or visitor living in a foreign-run no go zone where non-Muslims are harassed.

g/ Every Muslim that has ever set foot in a corrupt and unjust Muslim court or Sharia court in our nation.

19/ Our nation's immigration system shall no longer allow non-citizens to hire immigration lawyers, or other sorts of third party intermediary immigration helpers. From now on, we shall regard immigration as a personal thing, with lengthy in-person interviews between the candidate immigrant(s) and a large number of American judging them for immigration.

Some of these will be from adopting Nomes, and some will sit in Senate juries of randomness. Having lawyers here will only add a layer of corruption with regard to a key aspect of our nation's continued long-term freedom. It is also a key point for infiltration by Ishtar and Islam, which definitely benefits from having its advantaged lawyer intermediaries shepherding the human Ishtarian flock to their promised land of milk & honey. (breast milk & fair honeys. This is to make an army of mesomorphs and ectomorphs that don't look Arab at all. These are to work for Ishtar. Some of these will become, thanks to the help of their invisible friends in Arabs Inc, great front men like Judge Pynchon from Nathaniel Hawthorn.)

20/ Non-citizens shall be barred from using our legal system to challenge the immigration system. However, the people shall be perfectly free to use the legal system to get rid of problematic, homeless, aggressive, surly, crazy, unkind, stupid, smelly, dirty, or unpopular immigrants. Also, where judges and juries make decisions about allowing immigrants to remain in our nation, those rulings shall be void, and the judges shall be presumed to be corrupt and angling for more corruption of our immigration system. In fact even talk of restoring the right to the courts to prevent deportations should be regarded as a corrupt thing, because it is so important to Ishtarian parasitism.

The words of this paragraph and the one before are stated twice because they are so important to us and to our would-be parasite Ishtar. The situation of open borders, combined with the difficulty of deporting people was fostered by Islam and Ishtar so that they can invade us and not get kicked out. We must go in the opposite direction, towards totally sealed borders and mass deportations of undocumented people without any hearings or trials at all. Also, it is extremely unwise for government to allow lawyers in the deportation process. This will only serve to hinder mass deportations and serve to multiply the cost of mass deportations by 10 to 20 fold at least.

21/ All immigration and visas to our nation is offered as a take it or leave it sort of thing. The immigrants/visitors either comply with our government's foreigner immigration/entry systems, and its rulings, or the immigrants/visitors must leave our nation. There shall be no right for non-citizens to challenge any decision of our immigration system. We shall not squander our scarce government attention on arguing with the countless immigrants our system rejects over their rejection. Also, all rejections by the immigration/visa department of our government shall be final unless the applicant re-applies after the required wait time, which shall not be less than 2-years for visitors and 5-years for immigrants.

22/ Our nation became great without immigration lawyers. And the rise of immigration lawyers marks a decline in quality immigrants in favor of people who bought their immigration status. We don't need or want lawyers involved with our immigration system.

23/ We shall borrow a government term from Islamic Malaysia. It is the Sanskrit word Bhumi Putra, meaning child of the land. This is the word that the Muslims of Malaysia use to distinguish between themselves (as Malay Muslims) and the other people living in THEIR land. We shall borrow this term and use it in our nation to describe all the native Americans that were born in our nation, and grew up in our nation.

24/ To be clear, where foreigners are setting up companies in our nation, they may use the paperwork helper industry there. It is just the dealing with our nation's immigration department that will not allow lawyers.

25/ Non-citizens shall no longer be subject to due process with regard to their unauthorized illegal presence in our nation, even if they overstayed for decades. This shall be so whether they entered without permission or overstayed. And this is the normal way of nearly all nations: That all illegal aliens get deported without a hearing.

NR'189. CITIZENS COME BEFORE IMMIGRANTS

1/ We shall learn from our democratic predecessors in Athens. We shall note how the Athenians regretted granting full rights to immigrants. We shall note how they eventually moved to limit the rights of the immigrants they once welcomed. We shall note how this happened just before our democratic predecessors were killed-out by combination of plague, reliance on imports, immigrant infiltrators, invasion, and an alliance between Persia and the Spartan military dictatorship. We shall also realize that both Sparta and Persia were both archetypical puppet states.

2/ The equality and constitutional protections of our nation shall not necessarily apply to non-citizens and immigrant citizens. Those who were born citizens shall have more rights than even immigrant citizens. No government aid, benefits money, or government free stuff shall ever be given on those who are in our country illegally, except for emergency life or death care. It shall be the norm for violent criminal immigrants, and violent crime gang immigrants to be sent away for life to a work camp.

3/ Immigrants, legal or not, shall never be exempted from anything citizens have to do.

4/ We shall house all of our own homeless before we start giving things to immigrants. Also, to be clear, both homeless and immigrants get no free housing other than bunkbeds in a remote dorm.

5/ Our democracy shall be run primarily by and for the full citizens of this land, and the rights of all others shall be secondary. All full citizens that have grown up in our land shall be equally protected and regulated by government, and no race, and neither males nor females shall be given preferential or disadvantaged treatment by government or by law. However, the Senate may elect to discriminate against the people from other nations based on their skills, intelligence, usefulness, religion, beliefs, national origin, gender, age, and potential hazardousness to the full citizens of our nation, among other metrics.

6/ Having greater punishments when bad immigrants commit crimes will reduce crime and increase everyone's tolerance of normal immigrants.

7/ Any nation, race or religion with a large contingent that continue to do any of the following shall have no right to do business with, or to enter our land of the free:

a/ They stand with genocide, Nazism, and other genocidal movements. Killing people is the devil's answer to mankind's problems.

b/ They engage in secret struggles or jihads.

c/ They condone any form of slavery, including wives as property.

8/ When non-citizens and immigrant citizens come out publicly in favor of our nation's enemies, they may be deported only on that fact alone. Non-citizens and immigrant citizens may also have their visas and immigration status canceled for the actions of their foreign associates and family members.

9/ Foreign born people shall not be allowed to work:

a/ As government managers, or serve on the boards of our fictional citizens.

b/ As judges or lawyers.

c/ In Government permit issuance.

d/ In Aerospace, or top secret, or air defense industries.

e/ as commercial pilots, or taxi drivers.

f/ As police officers.

g/ In the delivery, driving, or transit industries.

10/ Foreign born people that support communism, socialism, nazism, hyper-sexuality, gender-meandering, slavery, Islam (the totalitarian slavery religion), sharia law, ecology, or any sort of extremist ideology should be immediately deported along with their spouse, children, and other dependents.

11/ The old system favored immigrants and other foreigners by giving them tax free income, freedom from insurance requirement, and relative immunity from all allergic legal system. No longer shall this situation exist. No longer shall we favor non-citizens in any way.

12/ All Government services shall be offered in the national language of English exclusively, and Government shall be prohibited from providing translation services. This includes Spanish.

13/ Non-citizens and immigrant citizens shall not be allowed to win any lucky draws, raffles, lotteries, or the like. They may however gamble in casinos.

14/ Non-citizens over age 18 shall not be allowed to associate with non-family people under age 18. Also, non-citizens over age 21 shall not be allowed to associate with non-family people under age 21. Doing either may be considered a child sex crime. Non-citizens can easily be deported for associating with minors, for being overly sexual in public, or aggressive with women.

15/ Non-citizens and immigrant citizens convicted of pimping, brotheling, working in prostitution, rape, and especially Arab-style gang rape shall get work camp for life. There shall be no leniency for those who betray our hospitality by raping our women. Surely this is needed by our people and the others we welcome. Certainly our system shall not allow a few bad apples to ruin things up for the rest.

16/ There shall be no foreign born people in our weapons, design or manufacturing, or in the production of our nation's aircraft or ship building industry, or in police or national security related areas. All such areas shall be regularly and carefully monitored for foreigners.

17/ Government shall have a fixed long-term rate of population increase, where the population is increasing.

18/ When citizens return home to our nation with suitcases, Immigration shall not be allowed to ask where they went.

19/ It shall be a 10-year felony for foreigners to:

a/ Raise a hostile flag of a hostile in our nation. or b/ Take down our flag, or to harm our flag.

20/ The wait for citizens entering our country shall never be more than the weight for foreigners, however, the wait for foreigners shall never be more than twice the weight for citizens. Also, up to two foreigners traveling with a citizen may accompany the citizens in the citizens line. And where citizens are traveling with foreign family members, they may also accompany the citizen in the citizens line. Also citizens traveling with foreigners, may also use the foreigners line.

21/ The department of motor vehicles shall be prohibited from working with visitors and illegal aliens and all other non-immigrant people.

22/ All so-called sanctuary cities and jurisdictions shall be void.

23/ Foreigners shall not be allowed to work for Government or charities, or religions. They shall not be allowed to work for blue chip fictional citizens, except when they have scarce highly in-demand advanced skill-sets that our own citizens don't have and our fictional citizens need.

24/ Non-citizens shall not be allowed to work with groups of our children either in schools or in other activities. However this shall not apply at each person's home, and maids and tutors and yard care people shall be free to work in homes that have children. Non-citizens shall not be allowed to obtain a child worker's license.

25/ In order to encourage the people of the world to adopt others as citizens, we shall say that all grants of citizenship shall be revocable, 26/ Police shall not be allowed to be non-citizens or immigrant citizens, or have a foreign accent.

27/ Non-citizens found with firearms or blades shall go to work camp for 10-years and then they shall be deported.

Where non-citizens are found with militia or military weapons, they shall be subject to the death penalty, particularly when there is evidence of their membership in organized crime or criminal gangs.

28/ Convicted felons that have entered our nation illegally shall be required to go to work camp and work for our nation for 20 year if caught in our nation.

29/ There shall be no constitutional right of family integrity for non-citizens in regard to deportations. If immigrants want to keep their family together after one member is deported, they shall be free to leave our nation and go back where they came from. Furthermore, where one member of an immigrant or visitor family commits a heinous crime, or a couple members commit minor felonies, the entire family may be deported.

30/ The case of Pylar v. Doe shall be void. The public purse shall not pay for the education of the children of foreigners that are not either citizens or legal immigrants. The children of illegal or undocumented aliens shall not qualify for public education.

31/ There shall be no obligation to house, educate children detained by border patrol. All of these shall be deported forthwith.

32/ This constitution has a prohibition on noncitizens voting in any public government election. It also has a prohibition on non-citizens voting shares in fictional citizens. Those people helping non-citizens to vote, should spend a decade in prison per count, or per person they helped to vote illegally. Those "struggling" to make it easier for non-citizens to vote shall be thought extremely easy to charge with capital treason in our democracy of the people, by the people and for the people. For non-citizens are the opposite of the people.

33/ Illegal immigrants shall not have the right of either due process or equal treatment under the law in deportation hearings, regardless of where they are arrested. Illegal immigrants shall also not have the right to a lawyer as the matter is completely open and shut for people who cannot furnish proof of immigration status. If they have immigration status, and they can provide this to police, the police must release them. If they cannot provide this, they shall be deported. Deportations, therefore, are not something that needs lawyers, and the idea that this is so shall be regarded as a foreign leftist idea intended to undermine our country.

34/ Every person that is Deported shall automatically be blackballed from entering our nation again, unless they get permission from the government first.

35/ Where people are caught using tunnels to get into or out of our nation, there shall be a presumption of human trafficking and a mandatory death penalty for the people involved. There shall also be a death penalty for foreigners that come to our country and kill our people and commit felonies against our people.

36/ It shall be a felony for government people to pay benefits of any sort to foreigners. It shall also be a felony for foreigners to receive any sort of government aid for the poor of our nation. Both groups get 5-years per count. However government workers that confess all foreigners get a pardon.

37/ There shall be an obligation to assimilate. And the foreigners that resist assimilating don't get to live in our country. This especially when they say that they hate our ways. If you don't like it here, go back where you came from. Get out. And it is important that these words be included in our constitution so people will always always be able to say them for as long as this constitution rules.

38/ There shall be no future immigration to the land of the free by people from the 20% most corrupt nations as well as the 20% most murderous nations, or from FGM nations. All prior immigrants from the 10% most corrupt countries must leave, and all shall be stripped of their citizenship.

39/ Lots of us have noticed the same Latino workers in the same jobs for decades. We need to recognize that these guys are the lowest priority for deportations. We need to prioritize things better with our immigration raids.

40/ Where the CCS declares that foreigners benefitting excessively from our tax dollars, a simple majority shall be needed to exercise the line item veto of the CCS and conduct a corruption investigation.

41/ Also poor foreigners shall be thought to be the worst source of corruption. This is because they have the most cohesion.

42/ Government shall have the right to earmark and tattoo convicted felons and deported foreigners with various sorts of permanent ink. All get their right thumb tattooed.

a/ All the people on death row get all 9 dice dots. This means the most dangerous felon.

b/ All the life in jail people get 8-dice dots. 8-dots means the next most dangerous felon.

c/ 7-dots means dangerous violent felon.

e/ 2-dot means deportee blackball for life.

f/ 1-dot means deportee not blackballed.

43/ Non-citizens shall no longer be subject to due process with regard to their unauthorized illegal presence in our nation, where they either entered without permission or overstayed. All of the people arguing for anything else should be thought to be corrupted by Ishtar.

NR'190. VERIFICATION OF CITIZENSHIP

1/ As long as there is human privation in the world, and as long as freedom has its enemies, the very proposition of freedom is potentially endangered by infiltration, illegal immigration, and cloned identities. It is unfortunate, but in order to preserve our freedom and security as a nation, there must be some minor compromises with regard to our individual freedoms, to make sure that a foreign invasion or overthrow force is not secretly being built within our nation.

2/ It is folly to rely exclusively on external border controls.

Therefore, all citizens and visitors shall be required to register and use a national biometric ID verification system. The national ID system shall be required whenever voting in Government or private sector elections, and whenever obtaining government services, financial services, employment, housing, using a county recorder, paying taxes, flying, crossing the nation's external borders, or creating a binding contract in many sections of the economy. It may also be required when moving between regions of the nation.

3/ People crossing our nation's borders shall be asked if they are a citizen of our nation. If they refuse to answer, or don't seem like a citizen to our immigration police, they shall be asked to provide proof of that they're allowed to enter our nation either as citizens or as foreigner. This rule shall also apply to people up to 100 miles from our nation's borders with Mexico and Canada heading into our nation, and people in eastern Alaska heading towards the rest of north America.

4/ Everyone entering and leaving the nation shall have their biometrics checked and perhaps recorded by the immigration police. The term biometrics may be expanded to include head photographs, palm prints, iris scans, voice recordings, weight, height, face recognition systems and other similar non-invasive scans of our bodies.

5/ There shall be no mass face recognition and tracking of people as they move about. We will take video in our urban centers. This will be kept in secret by the recorder and not analyzed unless a particular face needs to be identified. And if there is a court order, certain known and nearby video streams may be searched for matches.

6/ Compared to the snooping networks created by telecreens, facebook, and google, having 1:400 police officers stopping people and asking them for their ID numbers is really something that is quite mild in comparison.

Therefore, police shall be allowed to stop people and ask them for their ID number, or ID card.

7/ Immigration police may regularly, randomly, and without notice visit and inspect all public places, and workplaces in the nation searching for illegal aliens. Immigration police shall however, not have the right to enter residences to look for illegals, except by court order.

10/ Those who overstay a tourist visa by a short time shall pay a fine of one day's wages per day they are late up to 10 days. Those who were too ill to travel may be granted an extension after the fact if they can document their illness.

15/ Migrations of refugees and asylum seekers shall now be considered a temporary thing.

16/ The following groups may be deported at the option of the Senate, even if the previous government has granted them citizenship:

a/ Immigrants that have not both made a reasonable living for themselves and paid a reasonable amount of national and state income taxes on that living.

Nonetheless, these jobs shall offer no protection against deportation: landscaping, car washing, food service work, hair cutting, hair dresser, animal meat processing, construction, tree trimming, cleaning or janitorial work shall not count as justification for remaining in our nation. All of these people are obviously low skilled workers that were given status by our prior corrupt democracy as a way for the totally corrupt left to gain voters for their constituency.

Also, all incoming containers shall be inspected as explained elsewhere herein.

38/ At the start of this constitution, our nation begins with a large number of illegal migrants with arms. Until we deal with our illegal immigration problem, and the Senate declares the problem over, we shall say that all foreigners must immediately bring their arms to the police including long knives, no questions asked, and a day's wages per firearm. After this, where foreigners are found with firearms or long knives, or they are going around in large groups, that they will be charged with a felony and will get jailed for a decade or sent to work camp for 2-decades. x/ Those who fail to do identify themselves by one of these methods may be presumed to be either a fugitive from justice, or an illegal immigrant by police (or both). Those who cannot identify themselves, and cannot be identified, who have a foreign accent shall be presumed to be illegal aliens. Every person who cannot identify themselves to police shall be subject to arrest and indefinite detention by police until they can identify themselves. Further, there shall be no right to pre-trial release for people who cannot identify themselves. However everyone arrested for failure to identify themselves shall be allowed up to 3 hours of internet access and up to 20 10-minute phone calls to contact others to bring their identity documents in.

40/ There shall no longer be any immigration court proceedings, or specialist immigration judges for suspected illegal immigrants, including those illegal immigrants granted either amnesty or citizenship by the Biden/Harris administration. Instead, a tribunal of Senators on jury duty shall informally judge all matters of illegal immigration, which is a fairly simple black and white matter.

41/ Border patrol shall raid every single employer of more than 50 people in the nation on average every two years. When they find people who cannot prove both identity and citizenship these people shall be arrested and their employers fined.

42/ Where it is discovered that employers have illegal immigrants working for them, they shall be subject to charges of tax fraud for failing to pay their foreign worker levy/tax. We shall think it's a good thing, if we drive businesses out of business that employ illegal workers or fail pay taxes for their workers.

Government shall pay another bounty amount for each illegal immigrant reported by reliable people to border patrol.

47/ Every single grant of citizenship made by the corrupt Biden/Harris administration shall be cancelled, and all of these people shall be required to leave our country and re-apply to the new Senate. Every single grant of immigration status made by the corrupt Biden/Harris administration shall be cancelled, and all of these people shall be required to leave our country and re-apply to the new Senate.

48/ Illegal immigrants with violent felony records that come to our country illegally shall be subject to double penalties for illegal immigration. If these commit a felony here, they shall be executed.

49/ Foreign combatants in our nation, as well as foreign mafia people and foreign agents can be either executed quickly, or subjected to torturous punishment as is the ancient custom.

50/ All illegal and undocumented aliens in our nation shall be subject to trial by a military tribunal. Also, there shall be no requirement of due process for illegal aliens in our nation.

51/ Where non-citizens are found to be collecting public assistance and healthcare assistance and government money for the poor, and they are not even citizens, they should be sent to work camp for 5 years.

52/ Legal immigration may be a good thing for a country, but illegally immigration should be punished with years in jail or work camp

54/ Where government people are found to be letting people cross illegally into our nation, they shall get 20 years in prison for corruption. Where foreigners (Coyotes) are found guiding or helping people to cross illegally get into our nation, they shall be executed. All the coyotes get executed when they're caught from now on. If there's no apparent coyote, then everybody serves 10 years in prison for being caught crossing illegally into our nation. Where people are found damaging our border walls and border walls and fence mazes, our military shall either shoot them or use a kamikaze drone.

55/ There shall be no right of due process for the deportation of illegal aliens and visa overstays. These non-citizens law breakers shall be treated differently from citizens and they shall not be entitled to due process. Also all illegal aliens and visa overstay people may be freely deported by government without any hearing at all.

56/ The proposition of equality under the law shall not include convicted felons, and immigrants, and particularly illegal immigrants. These shall all be treated differently under the law. 57/ The recent unrestricted immigration to our nation shall be considered as an act of war against our nation by Ishtar/ Islam, which in the words of T.E. Lawrence is solvent rather than dominant in the way it wages war.

NR'192. WE OWE THEM NOTHING

1/ The massive influx of immigrants to our nation is obviously contrary to the will of the people and the result of corruption. It may therefore be judged fraudulently obtained and voidable at the election of the Senate. And just as stolen or fraudulently obtained property may be demanded from its rightful owner after decades, so too may stolen or fraudulently obtained immigration status.

2/ Our nation shall have no obligation to those previously granted citizenship if they obtained citizenship based on lies, matrix illusions, corruption, mafia connections, or inaction by a corrupt government. All of these people shall be subject to de-naturalization and deportation.

3/ All anarchy is fake anarchy. Without government regulation, the mafia frequently takes over the role of government in the anarchy. Thus we realize that the mafia has been running the immigration system prior to this constitution coming into effect. This constitution therefore requires that government is the exclusive manager of our nation's immigration system, and only accepts people who are above average in our nation, so that our nation may grow economically, instead of adopting below-average people who are a burden to our nation's system and its culture.

4/ Our nation shall have no obligation to those previously granted citizenship if they cannot use the language of our nation above the reasonable levels set by the Senate.

5/ All immigration status and citizenship ever granted to living people shall be reconsidered by a Sub-Senate jury of 35 in light of the Senate's new immigration standards. This jury as always shall be randomly drawn for the many cases they review on each day. Only full citizens born in our nation over age 40 and under age 60 may judge in matters of immigration.

6/ No grant of immigration amnesty, immigration status, or citizenship shall ever be completely final. If any Main-Senate jury elects that certain individual immigrants are a problem, or a potential problem for our people, they may with a 60% overmajority cancel their immigration status or immigration amnesty. Employed, tax-paying, law-abiding, well-mannered immigrants should have little to fear from this rule.

7/ Those people who come/came to our country to work in manual jobs skilled jobs shall not have any right to become citizens.

8/ No immigration shall be allowed where unemployment is increasing among native born people.

9/ It shall always be considered fraud and collusion with the mafia for elected official to give public healthcare or other benefits for non citizens. This shall include grants of citizenship and worker status.

10/ All non-citizens that attack citizens with guns or knives or that beat their heads with clubs, or that beat their heads with fists while they are on the ground should be shot dead.

11/ No law, treaty or agreement concerning immigrants, refugees, or Exhods shall every be binding upon our nation, or require our nation to accept immigrants, refugees, and asylum seekers from any other nation. All prior international agreements regarding refugees and asylum seekers and migrants shall now be void. The Over-Senate shall always have the right to change its mind about immigration, refuge, and Exhodos, regardless of what any treaty says. It shall also be allowed to deport all prior immigrants, refugees, and asylum seekers from any other nation.

12/ Every person that has migrated from another country, and now lives in subsidized housing, or below market housing, or gets government money to spend. all of these people shall be judged as having made a conspiratorial deal with the Mafia, and all shall be required to spend up to 10-years in work camp if they don't leave immediately. All are also subject to immediate arrest. In other words, every immigrant that every lived in public or council housing must serve in work camp and then go back and none shall be eligible to stay and none shall ever be allowed to return. This sort of benefits is not for foreign born people, and prima facia evidence of immigration fraud.

13/ Throughout history many wars have been started to drive the people of one nation out as refugees into another. Where there is even a suggestion of this, our nation shall stubbornly resist this by:

a/ Attacking the third party nations (generally Ishtarian nations) that seem to be benefitting from this state of affairs. this.

b/ Not taking in any refugees, but insist that they go to a new UM resettlement nation where the refugees will be housed in 50-person dorms and mommy dorms.

14/ Now that we have self driving cars, we shall no longer allow foreigners to manually-drive in our nation without insurance coverage limits equal to 30-years wages. Otherwise, if the foreigner get in the big accident, they are just going to flee our nation, and leave our people as unfunded victims of a judgement-proof illegal alien. Also, foreigners found driving without insurance shall spend 5 years working in a work camp on the first offense due to the high amount of money involved in getting insured.

15/ When government deports foreigners and they come back, the minimum penalty shall be 10-years in work camp. However, if they are either criminals or un-cleaved Muslims, they shall be executed for coming back illegally. They shall not even be allowed to transit in our airports. It is also expected that we will share data with multiple nations and consider criminal's deported from certain other nations as deported from our own nation.

16/ We shall have lower bars for immigrants that are native speakers of Japanese, Korean, Taiwan Chinese, Cantonese, Vietnamese, Cambodian and Thai because these language have such a hard time learning to speak English well. Also, where immigrants can prove that they stand up for freedom and democracy we shall not care if their language abilities are weak.

NR'193. WHO GETS TO BECOME ONE OF US?

1/ send it shall be expected to reevaluate annually it's policy on who gets to become one of us, and who isn't allowed to even visit our nation. These two things shall be thought to be very important issues. And here our government shall be empowered to favor, one ethnic or national, or religious group of people over another, because we want more involvement with these people. Our government shall also be empowered to disfavor, one ethnic or national, or religious group of people over another, because we want don't want their high crime levels, or their abhorrent religion.

2/ Immigrants that cannot manage to pass our nations secondary school test should not be allowed to become citizens. Also, those who have been in our nation for over 10 years and are unable to pass the 13th grade test should be regarded as mentally incompetent to become citizens and shall all be told to leave and if they don't they shall be deported

3/ Every non-citizen currently registered to vote shall be arrested for election fraud. When they have served their decade in work camp per count for election fraud, they shall be deported.

4/ Every immigrant that participated in the pro-Palestinian protests of 2023/2024 or other pro islamic protests shall be told to leave. If they are citizens, they shall have their citizenship cancelled.

5/ Immigrant women that come from nations that are known to widely practice forced marriage may appeal to our courts for divorce and protection, and and a new name, upon reasonable claims of forced marriage. Also, where the male is more than 20 years older than the female, and the female was married, presumably before age 16 as judged by her children, the husband may be charged with child sex crimes.

6/ Our nation shall never be subject to any treaty concerning immigration, refugees, or Exhods, and all such treaties shall be void and of no effect upon our nation.

7/ Only people born and raised in our nation may sponsor immigrants, including spouses and co-parents.

8/ With regard to foreigners who come to our nation as spouses and co-parents, we shall favor those who bear and raise children with our citizens over those who merely marry our citizens. Those who merely marry our citizens shall always get a trail period of at least 12-years before being allowed immigration status independent of their sponsor relationship. All of our people who marry foreigners want longer periods. Those who want to dissolve our land of the free want this to be as short as possible. On the other hand, those who have children with our citizens (married or not) shall get a trial period of not more than 4 years if there is one child born to the couple. And if there are two or more children born to the couple, the trail period shall be not more than 2 years. In order to qualify, the children must be the genetic offspring of both the citizen and the foreign person staying in the nation.

9/ Where our citizens have children under agreements with foreign women, we shall not honor any foreign court that says our people need to pay more money or do certain things.

10/ Immigrants shall never be allowed to act as lawyers, or judges, or police officers, or Senators in our nation.

11/ Where any immigrant group turns out to be over 20% more statistically likely as actual unmixed white caucasian Americans people to be criminals or murderers, that entire immigrant group may be deported, and that group shall be banned from immigrating to our nation for at least 3 decades.

12/ All immigrants that demand that the people of their host society stop recording them shall be presumed to be working for the darkness of the waning Islamic crescent, or crescn't moon of darkness. These shall be jailed for 90 days for their free speech crime, and deported to Botswana or Puerto Rico on the first recorded offense.

13/ The term birthright citizenship shall no longer exist due to the advent of the jet aircraft age and widespread illegal immigration of recent decades. In fact, merely being born in our nation shall count for nothing when the parent(s) were on a tourist visa, or even more so when they were illegal aliens or undocumented aliens.

14/ In determining which children of illegals born in our nation get to stay, all of the following rules shall apply:

a/ They must prove their birth in a US hospital or birthing center.

b/ They must prove that they were in our healthcare system and education system from the beginning of their life.

c/ They must supply photographs of the baby that are in our nation.

d/ They must speak English like a native speaker.

e/ They must have graduated secondary school in our nation, or if they are too young, they must be on course to graduate on time.

f/ They cannot have a criminal record. And they especially cannot be participating in crime gangs or be associated with any Mafia.

g/ They cannot have been living on government aid for several years of their life.

h/ They must have had some visible means of support, and bank accounts, and they must have paid income taxes, or be the dependent of someone who paid income taxes.

i/ They must not have a second country that they spent over 5% of their life in.

x/ Where any of these records is missing or cannot be furnished for any reason, the presumption shall be that the offspring of the illegals or the tourist visa mother is lying and truth stretching about their time in our nation.

NR'194. RACISM, INEQUALITY, & DISCRIMINATION

1/ Let's recall the part of our declaration of independence from 1776 that says: "We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal". For the sake of clarity and truth, we must acknowledge that these words were not talking about equality among Americans or that males have greater rights than females. They were talking about how the English king was not above us, and instead that he was our equal. These words meant that we did not believe in monarchy, or any sort of government where one person or a small group of people was above the rest in any nation or empire. This anti-monarchy idea is what was so important that Thomas Jefferson it the 2nd paragraph of our declaration of independence. In recent decades however, the 2nd paragraph of our declaration of independence has been interpreted in fresh and untrue ways. It has been interpreted to mean that our nation was founded on racial equality, which it was not. If we look at how our 2nd constitution of 1789 had slavery in the land of the free, we see how our nation began without racial equality. And if we look at the start of the woman's suffrage movement with the 1848 Seneca Falls convention, we realize that our nation began without equality for women.

2/ We shall ponder the words of Thomas Jefferson "Equal rights for all, special privileges for none." This constitution shall obey a principle of equal protection under the law. This means that all races and ethnic backgrounds of native-born citizen shall be treated equally under the law. Race among citizens shall never be a consideration in any government action, proceeding, tax, public benefit or judicial sentence, and nobody shall ever receive more or less from government for being of one race as opposed to another. • • • However, this principal of equal protection shall not apply to non-citizens and immigrants. Also there shall be no equal protection for people with a felony conviction, those under age 21, those who have not completed secondary school, and people with sympathies to nations and/or religions that are at war with our nation and its proposition of freedom. All of these groups shall not necessarily have the right to be treated equally under the law, and may be discriminated against. Also, our principals of equal protection and due process shall apply to both government and all fictional citizens operating in our nation. And all real human citizens shall have the right to be treated equally by both the government and by all fictional citizens in our nation. This shall be considered a vitally important aspect of our right of equal protection.

3/ We shall not tolerate intolerance among immigrants and guests, and all immigrants and temporary guests shall be expected to adopt our permissive and tolerant culture. Immigrants who are criminally intolerant of our tolerance may be deported, even if they came 90-years earlier. Tolerance is both fundamental, and simple to mandate. Immigrants and visitors shall have no right to confront, berate or harm citizens. There shall be no right for immigrants and visitors assemble and demand things from government.

4/ All immigration involves discrimination. As long as the world is full of under-developed and under-educated hordes that will burden our nation more than they benefit it, we must discriminate in matters of immigration. As long as immigration demand exceeds immigration supply, we must discriminate in matters of immigration.

As long as freedom has its enemies, we must discriminate in matters of immigration. Until the nation's of the world are all equally wealthy, all immigration control must involve discrimination based on national origin.

5/ Because national origin, race, ethnicity, and religion are such vitally important aspects of immigration, we must be able to freely talk about them in the context of immigration. Therefore, no law, or private rule in our nation shall limit the right of the people to discuss national origin, race, ethnicity, or religion in the context of immigration, including past immigration, and in a way that does not threaten or call for calls-for extra-judicial action or illegal violence. also, it shall be a crime to change the race of people in public records.

6/ We the people of our nation shall be allowed to establish ideological, educational, economic, and country of origin preferences for the immigrants that we will allow to come to our nation and become part of our national family in the next generation. We shall also be allowed to select which particular immigrants that we want.

7/ The Over-Senate shall decide by sophoscite which nations, regions and belief systems it will honor and befriend, which it shall remain neutral about, and which it shall dishonor and scorn. Our land of the free shall be prohibited from honoring or remaining neutral about nations and belief systems that permit, fund, condone, or sponsor totalitarian government, monarchy, slavery, terrorism, genital mutilation, human trafficking, forced labor, debt bondage, bonded labor, debt slavery, harem-slavery, forced or early marriage, marriage slavery, or prostitution slavery. Except for under-age children and their parents, and other people unable to manage their own affairs, nobody shall ever be under the control of any other person in any way, shade, or degree.

8/ Our nation shall push for women's rights worldwide — so they are more equal to men's rights. The Senate shall disfavor foreign nations that discriminate in extreme ways against their female population such as is so common in many Muslim nations.

9/ No laws concerning women's rights shall also apply to either sort of homosexual, any form of hypersexual, and they especially shall not apply to transsexuals.

10/ We call our form of government Isocratic because all full citizens are treated equally under the laws, government, and institutions we establish for ourselves. However, our isocracy shall not fully extend to all social, personal, and family matters, or matters of family businesses. It also shall not apply to matters of hiring at small enterprises of 10 or fewer non-family people working at any one time.

11/ The initial period of rapid and easy progress towards ending racial discrimination is over in our nation. After some 70-years, all the big and easy benefits of affirmative action have already happened. Therefore, all systems of racial, ethnic, disability and sexual orientation preference or quota, stated or unstated shall be abolished and prohibited in our nation. This shall be so for government, for all fictional citizens, and for all institutions (including all schools) in the land. All must treat all citizen equally regardless of race, and no races, even previously oppressed races shall be treated equally under the law. And to be perfectly clear, all laws against racism shall work in all directions, punishing Black on White violence just as harshly and White on Black violence.

12/ Government should not get involved in mandating equal pay. This is a thing of communism. Also, Government should not establish firing rules. These thing always tends to go some distance towards the sort of ridiculous 1-brick/hour work output that was to be seen in communist east Berlin in the early 1980s. The way to maximize pay and wealth for everyone is to make sure that the work environment is as efficient as possible. Making sure that non-productive, and counter-productive people have the right to continue on in their job is the opposite of the right path. If it doesn't work out for someone in one job, and the employment system is efficient, and tight, it will be easy to find another job somewhere else. This is the correct approach.

13/ In our nation, we highly value isocracy, or the fundamental legal equality of man. However, we acknowledge that different people have different abilities and capabilities. And therefore, some people may not command as much pay as others in the workforce. Therefore, we shall say that under the law, all men are created equal, but in the workforce, they may not necessarily be equal. And while government shall be fastidious and assuring the equality of all people under the law, it shall not concern itself very much with equality in the workforce.

14/ In our nation, we highly value isocracy, or the fundamental legal equality of man. It is our main argument against both a king's rights over his subjects, and one race's rights over another. It is also our main argument against slavery, and a basis for our economic system. Thus the fundamental equality of man is a foundational and hugely important thing in our system. Nonetheless, this right of isocracy is still less important than our all-important right to free speech. We must all be able to discuss the truth, and to know what everyone thinks, or we will have a blind and misinformed democracy, and then we will be unable to defend our ideas of equality. In other words, freedom of speech is critically important to a democracy, while the honor of its citizens matters much less in comparison. Therefore, citizens shall be free to hurl the worst insults and obscenities at one another, and they shall not be penalized in any way by the law for this unless they are threatening or calling for extra-judicial violence.

15/ It shall be a discrimination crime where public utilities, transportation carriers, and other essential services refuse services without stating a valid reason at the time the service was refused. It shall be a crime to refuse service to people based on their political beliefs, or their support of political people. Also, discrimination on the basis of political belief shall be considered more important than the other forms of discrimination. This is because discrimination based on political belief is a matter of all-important free speech and the way we run our government. The Senate and people shall be free to discriminate against the following groups:

a/ People who follow religions and ideologies that are even occasionally violent.

b/ People who are overtly sexual, including a transexuals, cross-dressers, swish men, butch women, homosexuals, promiscuous people, prostitutes, scantily dressed people, sex criminals. This is because other healthy breeding people have the right to live wholesome lives without these defective and generally non-procreative people in their lives, and especially around their children.

c/ Workers who are disabled, or otherwise unable to work, because they are unable to do the work.

d/ Non-citizens, because they may take the money and run.

e/ People who do not speak our national language, because nobody has the right to demand that we speak their language in our land that uses the #1 world language of English.

f/ People who cannot speak the language properly.

16/ Extreme group intolerance shall be viewed as a hallmark of tyranny. Those who are intolerant of other groups, especially those who are violently opposed to groups that are merely expressing their ideas: These people shall be regarded as wrong normally. The presumption should be that they are in error. Especially when this comes from a giant clique, or junta.

17/ There shall be no more talk of reparations for the descendants of slavery because:

a/ The slavers were freed more than a century and a half ago and just about everyone involved with slavery in our nation as an adult is 100-years dead.

b/ Only 25% of the Southerners owned slaves in the 1860s, so 75% of Southerners did not own slaves, and no Northerners did. Also, the North had a population of 20 million while the South had only 5.5 million free and 3.5 million enslaved. So only about 6.9% of the nation owned slaves.

Even if we allow descendants to be punished, it is unjust to punish the descendants of the other 93.1% in any way, for their ancestors never owned slaves.

c/ Slavery and universal basic income are such divisive issues that foreigners may exploit them to gain power over our democracy. For these reasons, there should be no more talk of either slavery reparations, or any communist-style universal basic income payments.

x/ Also there shall be no more talk of reparations for the descendants of indigenous people.

18/ In our nation of immigrants, we as a nation actively try to de-emphasize racial differences. So to that end, those who are less than 1/3 of any race shall not get to call themselves as from that race. These people may only make the qualified statements that they are 1/2 or 1/4 or whatever amount it is of whatever race.

19/ The terms Indian and Native American are too vague and confusing. From now on, we shall use the following racial terms in our nation and nobody shall be allowed to alter them or make up new terms for at least 20 years:

RED INDIAN = the people that existed in the US and Canada prior to 1492. The terms Red Indian and Redskin shall not be seen as offensive, as this was simply a descriptive term to contrast the indigenous Americans with the other white-skin and black-skin races. Also, Red Indian is the term that the 1.4 billion people of India use to refer to the tiny number of indigenous Americans.

INDIAN = the people of India, Pakistan, and Bengal, also South Asian.

INDIO = the people who existed in Mexico, Central America and South America prior to 1492.

LATINO = the Indios mixed with other races. The term latino shall also include Spanish and Portuguese speakers from the Americas who are entirely European. For the purposes of statistics, all European Latinos shall be considered Latino and not European.

PAKISTANI = the people of Pakistan.

BENGALI = the people of Bangladesh.

UNDIAN = the people of India and Indonesia, or Undia, and Unda•nesia, the land of wave children, the inner ring of fire area.

NATIVE AMERICAN = people born in the US of any race.

WEST INDIAN = This confusing term shall be deleted.

Instead Caribbean shall be used.

ASIAN = the people of East Asia or East Asian descent. The term Asian shall not be used for the South Asians, except in reference to them being a part of the entire continent. Instead the South Asians must be referred to as India, Pakistani, or Bengali.

AFRICAN AMERICAN = the people of Africa or of African descent that are not descendants of the slaves. Barack Hussain Obama, and Kam•allah Harris are not black, but they are somewhat African-American.

BLACK = the descendants of the former US slaves, and the people born into the former slave culture and what it has evolved into. This term describes the abomination and blackness of slave subjugation and the slave culture it produced. The term NEGRO (said like in Spanish) refers to all people of African descent and is more poly-cultural and integrated into the overall society. Basically were rebranding the American word Negro as the Spanish word Negro, in the same way that the term colored people has been re-branded as people of color. And the word black is oppositional, as black to white. Thus we will use a less confrontational term. EUROPEAN/ EURIAN = European. The term white is bad because it casts European Americans as the opposite of African Americans. The terms Black and white were given to us by our enemies, as they sought to sow seeds of division and conflict in our land.

WETBACK This shall no longer apply to any particular race, but now an illegal alien that swam across the Rio Grande, or otherwise snuck in to the country. The term undocumented alien shall not be used because it is an ineffective term: Instead we shall go back to using the accurate term "illegal immigrant". Visa overstays are people that stay too long but were admitted on a visa for a period of time. The term Illegal immigrants shall forever be used by our nation as the term for people who come to our nation without permission from our government.

20/ For the time being, until all the races blend as in Brazil, we shall use the following 18 standard races for police reports and some other places:

Light white, dark white, white mix, Mediterranean, African mix, Latin Mix, Asian mix, North Asian, Southeast Asian, Hindi/ Indian Asian, Pakistani/Bengali Asian, Persian/Turkic, Arab, North African, Sub-Saharan, Creole (Non-slave American African descent), Black (slave American descent) and Hispanic.

21/ There shall be no Red Indian (Native American) lands that are off limits to non-Indians except where it is private property owned by a family group. All ancestral Native American burial grounds shall archeologically excavated by the people, and none shall be off-limits to architectural excavation. The excavation shall be done by archaeologist under the video supervision of juries of randomly drawn senators to keep the archaeologist from stealing the things they find. This shall be typical worldwide. Every single ancient site in every country is subject to excavation and the more sacred and protected the place is for the natives, the more important it is that it be excavated first and that it uses the greatest number of senators to monitor what is going on on video on live stream video. This shall be so for all important forensic investigations. Also:

a/ All required archeological investigation shall be provided for free in a timely manner by the public.

b/ Native people tended to live near water and our new urban locations will generally be located up high and some distance away from water sources.

22/ Everybody that has previously taken money as an indigenous person or identified as an indigenous person, must be genetically tested. The names of all the people who fail and pass shall be published, together with the total number of real and fake Indians and the amount of money each has cheated the people out of.

23/ We shall carefully study the role of the Vatican and the Jesuits in the US Civil War in support of the south. This shall include the two books written on the matter by Samuel Morse. "Foreign conspiracies against the liberties of the United States 1835", and "Imminent Dangers to the Free Institutions of the United States".

24/ If the total population of people who are over 1/3 Native American is less than 10% of the people claiming to be Native American, then all Indian rights shall be canceled.

25/ Except for the one-time settlements described herein, there shall be no more payment of money or other benefits to any Native Americans just for being Native Americans. Also, those who have previously received either Native American benefit money or free use of land as a Native American for more than 3-years in their lifetime shall be regarded as both foreigners (by self-admission), and a corrupting malignant constituency. For this reason, these 3-year or longer benefits collectors shall longer be eligible to vote. When Canada and Australia copy our constitution, they shall copy this policy for their native freeloader populations. Further, in no nation that emulates this constitution shall give any native populations any money as reparations for the acts of people more than 40-years before, to include native relocations and also former slaves.

26/ If you grew up in Southern California, it's very likely that at some point in your youth, you have been taken to see the beautiful Indian areas in the mountains with their great numbers of corn milling holes. It is worth suggesting that these are fake, and they were made to keep white Americans from using these lands. Thus they instead settled in the coastal areas, driving up the price of the tsunami land that was claimed for free and sold for billions.

27/ When we look at most self-described Red Indians, we mostly see people that are quite European, Hispanic, or Arab looking. Thus, there are obviously many fake Red Indians, people like Elizabeth "Pocahontas" Warren. Therefore, the 2.7 to 6.9 million self-described indigenous American Indians we read about in official government statistics are without doubt quite exaggerated in numbers. This is apparently due to the considerable perks and free stuff for self-describing as Red Indian.

28/ Nobody shall be considered to be legally of any particular nationality or racial descent (including indigenous Americans, unless they are at least 3/8 of that descent. The testing method shall be via genetic testing (by two randomly assigned Senate approved labs), both indicating that each person is at least 3/8 of the race they are claiming. Thus people who are 37% (and not 37.5%) of some minority group shall have no standing in claiming to be of a particular race, and this includes Red Indians.

29/ The official census numbers for each race, including Red Indians shall only include those people who have been genetically tested by official government testing (as described just above) and that person is at least 1/3 genetically tested to be of that race. The corrupt fantasy of self-identification for government racial identity handouts shall no longer exist. The Senate shall be the exclusive arbiter of who is of which race, and who is mixed. Also, we shall no longer concern ourselves with the Ishtarian strife and scarcity fantasy/folly of property rights for any race in our nation after a generation has passed.

30/ The Red Indian population never seems to have been over 5 million in the area of the lower 48 states of around 8 million km². Thus the population density of indigenous people was never over 0.62 people per square kilometer. Also, in the year 1800, it is estimated that there were only 600,000 Red Indians (0.07 people/km²), and by the 1890s the population had declined to only 250,000 (0.03 people/km²). Today, thanks to the many perks of claiming to be a Red Indian, there are between 2.7 and 6.7 million people claiming to be Red Indians (0.84 people/km²). So at no point was the population of Red Indians sufficiently dense to make a valid claim for exclusive ownership of the land.

31/ For the sake of comparison, Bangladesh has a population density of 1,265 people per km², Java Island has a population density of 1,100/km². India has a population density of 464/km². Germany: 232/km², the Lower 48 states of the US: 103/km², Mexico: 66/km², Russia: 9/km², Canada: 4/km². The Fort Apache Indian reservation has a population density of: 1.9/ km². The San Carlos reservation: 1.4/km², Tohono O'odham reservation: 0.75/km². The Mescalero reservation: 0.7/km², and the Hualapai reservation has 0.3/ km². And all of these numbers are certainly overstated due to the way we have allowed all Red Indians to self declare their ethnicity to qualify for free government money and other benefits.

a/ Except for permitted uses, all lands in the Mexas exclusion zone, shall be depopulated. This shall include portions of the under-populated Quechan, Campo, Tohono O'odham, and Ysleta del Sur Indian reservations, among perhaps other claims.

b/ Government shall no longer pay aid money or give benefits or land for any people who is a Native American Indian. However all native Americans legally in the US shall have full rights to US citizenship.

c/ The Bureau of Indian Affairs shall cease to exist, and shall not be replaced.

32/ There are striking similarities between our nation's Indian reservations and habitat areas and the evil practice of having off-limits royal game parks as talked-about 4 times in the Magna Carta. These were talked about so many times, that we get the impression that off-limits lands were the primary complaint of the Magna Carta.

33/ There shall no longer be any Red Indian reservations, Red Indian jurisdictions, or special Red Indian rights in our nation. All of these shall be no more.

34/ All Red Indians that have lived on a Red Indian reservation without having another residence that is off the reservation shall be given the lands that they have actually used up to the amounts listed as follows. Those Red Indians that have had another off-reservation residence that they lived in for part of each year, even a rental property shall get no Red Indian land or benefits:

a/ If the adult person (over age 16) is a genuine Red Indians that is more than 1/3 Red India by Senate approved genetic testing, then they may each keep up to 40 acres of Indian reservation farmland/ranch-land that they have actually used for farming or ranching during most of the years in the past decade.

b/ For genuine Red Indians who have not used land for agricultural purposes, these people may keep up to 5 acres of land they have lived on per person.

c/ People that are more than 1/5 Red Indian may keep up to 1/8 of these land amounts.

d/ People who have other homes off a reservation shall not get any property even if they are more than 1/3 Red Indian.

35/ All of these future Red Indian land awards shall be considered as private property, and the beneficiaries shall be free to sell and use their individually-owned lands as collateral for loans as normal. All of the other Red Indian lands, and all mineral rights to Red Indian lands shall be nationalized and used as the Senate elects. The Choctaw Indian reservation highlands in the middle of a flood zone shall be used for tsunami safe townships.

36/ There shall no longer be any form of tribal Indian government in our nation. All shall be dissolved and void. No Indian lands shall include any underground mineral rights. This shall especially include all supposedly sacred Indian sites. No Indian lands shall include any right to prevent or extract any money from Government or others for building any linear infrastructure over those Indian lands.

37/ It shall be considered fraud when people claim to be American Indian and they have either:

a/ Not be genetically tested for American Indian genes.

b/ Or they have been tested and are less 1/3 American x/ Claiming to be part American Indian shall mean that a person is claiming to be less than 1/3 American Indian.

38/ All separation into ethnic and religious groups shall be seen by our melting-pot democracy as the opposite of the brotherhood this constitution seeks to establish for our nation. There shall be no more ethnic, or religious community centers, or reservations, or government aid in support of ethnic and religious groups including so-called indigenous people. All existing ethnic and religious community centers and facilities shall be nationalized and repurposed as centers for the overall community except for the ethnic or religious group that once used/owned that center. There shall also be no non-profit status granted for ethnic groups, including those related to so-called indigenous races of people.

39/ It shall not be a crime when people speak racist or misogynist words that are not threatening or not intimidating. However, it shall be a matter of public knowledge and concern. Therefore, recordings shall be public domain, and may be freely distributed in original unedited, uncut, un-enhanced form. They may also be freely attributed to the person actually that said them. Also, if the court considers these words to be a matter of extreme public concern, then the court may order the recording to be put on the person's official facebook page until another court removes them.

40/ If a person quietly says one or two racist and insulting words and this leads to violence, then the sentences can be reduced by up to 15%. If a person says a bunch of insulting racist words, and this led to violence, then the sentences can be reduced by up to 30%. If a person follows another person around taunting them with racist insults, and this leads to violence, then the sentences can be reduced by up to 50%.

41/ No double standards shall be allowed under the law. No group shall have the right under the law to get offended by outsiders calling them by a name that insiders regularly use for each other.

42/ In general, all races shall be treated equally, and all racial crimes and violence shall be treated equally regardless of which races are affected.

43/ All statues, monuments, plaques and name of all heroes of the Confederate states of America shall be removed from all public property and the property of all fictional citizens in our nation. All of these men fought for slavery, and we in the land of the free find their agenda of slavery totally incompatible with our agenda of universal freedom.

44/ There shall be no segregation, or different treatment, or separate but equal facilities for citizens. There shall be no institutions, public or private, reserved for some races of citizens, or institutions that exclude some races of citizens. The most offensive and dehumanizing Jim Crow laws of the various states shall be presented to all students of our nation at least once for 30 minutes in junior high school and again in high school for 30 minutes. The shame of these laws shall not be swept under the rug in the land of the free.

45/ The celebration of June 19 is supposed to involve all Americans eating soul food, and listening to African American music after voting.

46/ Equal protection under the law shall not mean special accommodations made for the disabled and their myriad special needs. Disabled people shall have no greater rights than everyone else. The benefit being microscopic in comparison to the immense cost, government shall not require the people to make any provision for the disabled minority in their buildings and businesses. All existing facilities for the disabled minority on private property may be removed without government permission or building permits unless doing so involves structural modifications that necessitate building permits. Everybody subject to favorable treatment due to a disability shall have a number prominently displayed on their vehicle and their outer upper garment so that other people can easily verify their disability and anonymous image.

47/ People in wheelchairs shall be expected to use a personal vehicle to get around. No special provision shall be made for wheelchairs in the public transit system. No braille bumps shall be provided on the floor/pavement of any public space and all existing braille bumps shall be removed. All transit stations shall however have electronic location RFID grid beacons for the visually impaired, and reasonable grappling devices and ramps for wheeled droids, baby prams, and wheelchairs.

48/ Government shall not protect the people from workplace discrimination based on age or clear disability that requires special accommodations be made for them. Also, employers (including government employers) may discriminate against people who have tattoos, piercings and other body modifications, particularly modifications that are not hidden by the clothing or hair.

49/ Tobacco users shall never be considered a protected group in any way. Tobacco users may be discriminated against by both employers and government. Employers may require that tobacco users track how much time they take for smoking breaks and work longer to make up for this time.

50/ Calling a foreign-born person, or a person with a foreign accent as a foreigner shall never be considered discrimination or racism.

51/ We shall echo the words of the original Massachusetts constitution that "All men are born free and equal, and have certain natural, essential, and inalienable rights"

52/ There shall be no place names, street names, landmark names, or community names in our nation that are not English and both easily pronounceable and easily spelled by the English speaking people of our nation. Also all existing place and street names that are not easily pronounceable to at least 80% of citizens reading them on the first try must be changed to an intuitive version. For example: Matlahuayl, and Kwaay Paay peak. Also Zzyzx CA, Quinaielt WA, Aquebogue NY, Nacogdoches Tx, Sequim Wa, Puyallup WA, Waukesha WI, Yachats OR, Acequia ID, Ahwatukee AZ, Igiugig AK, Kosciuszko bridge, Manchaca Rd, Auxier KY, Basye VA. Also, Tucson shall now be spelled Tuson, Coeur D'alene shall now be spelled Cordalane, and La Jolla shall now be spelled Lahoya.

53/ Self identification shall be prohibited for government benefits of any sort. Also, government shall give no benefits for identification with any minority group that is voluntary or temporary such as homosexuals, transsexuals, or people who are married, or people who are single. However, parents may be considered a special group because parentage is permanent.

54/ There shall be no paid menstrual leave.

55/ The Senate shall discourage trade with and travel to nations that persecute people for:

a/ Their political words.

b/ Their race, or favor people for their race.

c/ Their harmless religions.

d/ Their mutually consenting sexual activities with a person over age 16. Who grown people want to have sex with should be none of government's business, except for the opt-in secret STD prevention tracking database.

56/ There shall be no special rights for fat people or tall people who cannot fit through doorways or into one standard airplane seats. The rest of us shall not have to use super-size the entire world because of a small number of very fat or very tall people. Likewise for people in wheelchairs and that use other mobility devices. Nobody shall ever have the right to cry discrimination when they simply cannot fit in the seats, and through the doors that 98% of the people can use just fine.

57/ The following groups shall not be protected groups under any anti-discrimination laws. Alcoholics, Mafia drug users, prostitutes, hyper-aggressive people, hyper-sexual people (including horny men and hyper-feminized men), non-citizens, hyper insistent people, transsexuals, transvestites, gender confused people, immensely fat people, unbathed people, and people who have a strong smell.

58/ All real people shall have the right to discriminate against non-human entities and non-human computer programs. Also, the people shall also have the right to kill any non-human entity they want and ban its legacy from the internet.

59/ The following may be called hate crimes, and nothing else:

a/ When race words are used or misused during physical violence or violent crime. For example, anyone using the N-word while being violent with others. And here, both sides may be charged.

b/ When a group of one race gangs-up on someone of another race and beats them words or no words.

c/ Unprovoked inter-race violence.

d/ Crimes against women are protected by penalty multipliers. Also, racial hate crimes shall be thought of as the elephant in the room, and crimes against homosexuals do not deserve any special protections. Homosexuals still get protected like anyone else, they just don't get any special hate-crime penalties.

e/ Non-citizens shall not be protected by any special anti-hate crime protections.

60/ Wherever government give people any sort of special status or public benefits for their group membership, those awards shall go on that person's main facebook page for anyone who cares to look them up.

61/ All diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) departments (for both government and fictional citizens) shall be closed forever, and all DEI policies cancelled. All DEI certifications, degrees and policies shall be void. All the people working in diversity, equity and inclusion shall be fired and the fact that these people worked in this occupation shall go into their permanent work record forever. Also, it shall be noted that the way DEI was glommed onto so many departments of our government and large organizations resembles the growth pattern of metastatic cancer.

62/ The Senate show review all claims of racial group membership based on Senate photographs and video. Where people make claims about their membership in an ethnic group, and this doesn't look right, the Senate may require that they provide genetic evidence of their claims.

63/ The definition of secondary school for immigrants might be 12th grade at first and might require two additional years of education within the following 2 to 4 years.

64/ There shall be no special easy tests for women in the military or police or aviation. Everyone must pass the same test, both men and women. There shall also be no favorable treatment Woman in sometimes fast-paced roles where many people's lives are at risk, such as commercial pilots and equipment operators.

65/ With regard to the various races, we shall always by default emphasize the sameness. However with regard to the sexes, we shall take a more French approach and emphasize the difference, as in "Vive la Difference", for this approach is surely better for getting our best people to have more children as should be considered their duty.

66/ Media about systemic inequality and racial injustice shall be seen as likely to be enemy propaganda intended to cause hatred and sew division in our society.

67/ There shall be no special disabled parking on the streets, or on public property as these are almost never used by the people who actually need them.

68/ There shall be no special rules for people who are too fat to fit in a normal seat, or through a normal door. The other 99% of us shall not have to pay for oversize things because of them.

69/ The term cultural appropriation shall have no meaning under the law. Everyone shall be welcome to appropriate the culture of others. That is what our melting pot culture is all about. Also, regarding cultural appropriation, our motto should be words attributed to Picasso that "Good artists borrow, great artists steel."

70/ We shall no longer have physical competitions between our disabled people and prizes for the fastest and most able-bodied disabled person.

71/ There shall be no groups of color that exclude white people, just as there shall be no groups of white people that excluded groups of color.

72/ Government shall not discriminate against people because they are self-employed. If anything, government shall favor self-employed entrepreneurial people over people employed by others.

73/ It shall be a crime for employers and managers to coerce their citizen employees politically, or to discriminate against citizen employees for the political views they express while they are off the clock.

74/ Regarding clothing, tattoos, body piercings, and hairstyles: Government shall make no policies and protect no rights for anything so inconsequential as these things. However, employers shall be free to discriminate against workers with exposed tattoos or body piercing.

75/ Employers may discriminate against employees based on the politics of the college they attended.

76/ Government shall never institute any form of equality for the following people. These people may be discriminated against at will:

b/ Those who have been institutionalized against their will for mental problems.

c/ Those who are stupid or retarded. Intellectual and psychological disabilities, and other disabilities that prevent people from doing their job as well as a normal person shall never be protected under the law with regard to hiring or education preference.

d/ Have not completed a basic amount of education or official certification needed for a job.

e/ Those who have been previously fired or evicted for just cause.

f/ Non-citizens and immigrants because they may run away with money, property, or children, or women they have been entrusted with.

g/ People who have declared bankruptcy.

h/ Hyper-sexual and overtly sexual people including all transsexuals and those with highly tattooed or pierced bodies

i/ Hyper-religious and excessively evangelical people.

j/ People who are unable to do the job they were hired to do.

k/ People who are excessively late to work.

l/ People who are sick too many times.

m/ People who harass, or can't get along with their co-workers.

n/ People who damage company property.

o/ People who are rude or obnoxious to customers.

p/ People who use drugs.

q/ People who discriminate against others at work.

r/ People who violate company policies.

s/ People who are insubordinate.

77/ All existing discrimination, environmental, divorce, child support, securities, muslim, ESG, and DEI law in our nation shall be void. This Senate shall make new sets of laws for all these areas and more. There shall be no more diversity hiring.

78/ It shall be a crime when fictional citizens discriminate against real human citizens for their political beliefs: either by refusing to work with them, or have them as a customer, or as an employee.

79/ In our nation, we believe in the fundamentally equality of all men under the law, but we acknowledge that people have different abilities and capabilities. And that some worker may not command as much money as others. Therefore, we shall say that under the law, all men are created equal, but in the workforce, and on the open market, some workers and some sports team players get picked first and are more valued. And while government shall be fastidious in assuring the equality of all people under the law, it shall not concern itself with the pay for individuals in the workforce with ostensibly the same job.

80/ This constitution holds that most women are no match for most men in a fistfight. They are also about three times as likely to get PTSD from high stress jobs. For these reasons this constitution says that Females may be freely discriminated against in jobs related to war combat, policing, physical strength, or private security unless they can hold their own physically against the average male in these roles.

81/ All men shall be required to allow woman to strike him multiple times before he may strike her back. And then he should not hit her with a fist but with an open hand, and on the body, not the head, and especially not the face. Unless he's genuinely getting pummeled, or is being assaulted by more than one person.

82/ We shall now stop viewing ethnic minorities on a national basis, but instead a global basis. And we shall have a sort of species protection program for the endangered races of the world that are not reproducing enough. This so that we may maintain diversity within the human genome. Also, over-representation or under-representation of some ethnic or racial group shall no longer be seen as evidence of racism.

83/ All celebrities including especially politicians that have self identified as Black American shall be checked genetically and historically to verify that they are in fact the descendants of slaves, and not Arab/Mideast fake black moles/spies/agents.

84/ Self identification shall no longer matter under the law, and it shall not be a thing that is of any consequence to anything under the law.

85/ It shall be illegal for people to discriminate against others for their legal political views.

86/ The terms transphobia, Islamophobia and homophobia shall have no legal meaning. The people are supposed to be afraid of pedophiles, transsexuals, and Muslims for good historical reasons. They should also be moderately cautious with all forms of homosexual and hypersexual around their children.

87/ All forms of slavery and forced labor shall be prohibited.

88/ The supposedly racist term "Spic" is generally regarded as a slur for Spanish speaking people. However, it actually comes from the word Spica, the name of the star revealed by Islam's crescent, or non-growing cresc•n't moon, the waining moon of the Mideast. It is the objective of Islam to reveal this star which is said to bring bounty and booty to the Mideast. So when people are called spic, they are actually being referred to as an innie or an insider person, "one of us", and not a Hispanic person. The term Latino likewise is a reference to a Ladino, also meaning and Islamic insider. A very large number of the Hispanic immigrants are actually Mideast ecto•morphs, or exo•morphs that are in the form of an outsider and can completely pass as outsiders.

89/ It shall be a crime for people to discriminate against others for their non-violent political free speech.

90/ People shall always be free to discriminate against ex convicts.

91/ No more money shall be paid to Red Indians or other "Native American" or "Pacific Islander" people, or other races only because of their racial heritage. We are a nation of Isocracy and equal protection, where all men are equal under the law, and there shall be no special government programs that exclude one or more races.

92/ Our commitment to equal protection shall cause us to implement a 2X rule for people who need more government money because of some problem in their life. We shall pay no more than 2X the average rate for special education for the blind, deaf, and the mobility impaired, as well as the mentally retarded and learning disabled. Also, nowhere in our nation shall any private party be burdened by the needs of disabled people, either with walkways or doors or special equipment, or special elevators or oversized bathrooms, or bathroom fixtures.

93/ All mid-sized passenger aircraft and above shall have at least one place for a single wheelchair to grapple to.

94/ The Senate shall have a weight limit for airline passengers. People over this weight must 95/ There shall be no more money court cases for discrimination. This shall apply to discrimination of all types and sorts without limit. From now on, all such matters shall be decided by Sub-Senate juries with no lawyers involved.

96/ There shall be no law that prohibits the firing of workers when they are unable to do the work in a timely fashion, even if the worker is disabled.

97/ The Senate shall re-evaluate all government and fictional citizen criminal conviction statistics with regard to the race of the person convicted. All the people described as white and domestic, when they were obviously non-white and immigrants, shall have their statistical data revised. All of the people who mislabeled people as white when they were non-white shall be investigated and if guilty, at least symbolically convicted of a felony and thus prohibited from both voting and working for government for life.

98/ Co-workers shall now be allowed to have sex with each other, so long as both consent and neither co-worker in a position of authority over the other co-worker when the relationship started. No employer may take away this right of the people. Instead we shall change the system so that it will lead towards more of our hard working people having more hard working babies. Where people meet in unbalanced boss/ worker relationships, one of them has to quit and then start the relationship, and get a job elsewhere. Then the two are free to have a relationship.

99/ All Gym cardio exercise equipment shall be required to also accommodate people with very low energy levels, such as 75-year olds. So there shall be a much lower energy threshold for using a stair trainer. In fact, we might say that all exercise equipment must be plug in and all of the self powered equipment shall be no longer be allowed in gyms. The advent of low impact cardio will be a tremendous benefit for geriatric care, where old need to only slightly raise their heart rate. This should help add years many people's lives.

100/ Islam, communism, Nazism, and all the other lying ideologies and their followers shall not be protected by any discrimination laws in our nation. Also, this constitution's rights and protections shall not necessarily apply to movements that seek to enslave us and to eliminate our dear freedoms and rights, such as especially Islam and its many fronts like monarchy, fascism, narrow democracy and communism. None of these ideologies shall be protected by our free speech rights. Also there shall be no foreign followers of these ideologies coming to our nation any longer.

101/ Where women are elected to the Senate, they shall not be allowed to vote in the following matters:

a/ The application of military force.

c/ Money for disasters.

102/ The rainbow flags so common in recent years shall be though to be an ideal symbol for not judging others for the color of their skin. This shall be thought a symbol intentionally ruined by the Islamic enemies of our freedoms. Basically, they didn't want us getting along. Instead they want us all to be hypersexuals that are unlikely to produce more infidels.

103/ Government shall not regulate age discrimination.

NR'195. NON-CITIZEN RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

1/ We shall err on the side of fastidiousness with regard to protecting citizen rights. But in order to do this in every way possible, we must also err in the opposite direction with regard non-citizen rights. Concession is a modality, and we shall never even start down the path of concession with any immigrant group. They come to us, as individuals, and they adopt our tolerant and totally peaceful ways as individuals. If they don't do this, if they create problems, if they organize and demand that we change anything, they shall automatically get told to get out or be deported.

2/ Immigrants and especially Exhods shall not be free to dress in their own particular way. They must dress like the people of our nation, and they can't use tell colors, bandanas, veils, headscarves, beards, haji caps, Yarmulkes, accessories, or the like to distinguish themselves as: with the old country. Such clothing preserves a separate immigrant community identity and thus slows the assimilation process. We want to go in the opposite direction and speed up assimilation. Immigrant identities shall be tolerated by our nation, but discouraged wherever practical. And here with clothing, we have a place where we can easily and powerfully discourage separate immigrant identities. This also applies to weddings and other ceremonies. In general all immigrants are expected to assimilate into our culture and reject their birth culture, especially when these is opposed to our ways, our wealth, and our nation's geopolitical power.

3/ We hold our rights and freedoms so dearly that we will never give them up for any group of immigrants, visitors, or foreigners. No foreigners shall ever make any demands at all that we do anything to accommodate their ways or their religious or cultural sensibilities. Immigrants making such demands shall have their immigration status canceled on the first offense.

4/ All immigrants shall be seen as coming to our nation as humble suppliants, and all shall be expected to adapt to our way of life. Our people shall not be expected to alter their way of life in the slightest way to meet the cultural needs of the people we have graciously allowed to come to our land.

5/ We, the citizens of our nation shall never suffer any loss of our dear rights, or liberties, because they are in conflict with the customs of some immigrant group. If the immigrant group cannot stand our customs, let them go back.

6/ Immigrants from nations with tyrannical and slavish cultures shall be expected to give up all of their old tyrannical and slavish ways and sever all ties with their former institutions when they come to our nation, our land of the free. This shall include wearing slave's clothing, eating special slave's food, paying slave's taxes, and publicly prostrating themselves like slaves.

7/ Those who are not full citizens shall not have the right to vote. The language and cultural barrier causes ignorant voting. Loyalty can also be an issue. Also, if immigrant votes are allowed to dilute native votes, then people will tolerate less immigration.

8/ Those who are not citizens shall not have the right to:

a/ Assemble, engage in protest, or stand up and be counted in our nation.

b/ Bear arms in our land unless specifically authorized.

c/ Initiate confrontations or act aggressively with the citizens of our nation.

d/ Commit multiple minor crimes.

e/ Pretend to be non-immigrants or immigrants from a place that is different than where they actually came from.

f/ Join or support political groups, or parties, or try to shape public opinion in our nation.

g/ Privacy with regard to national security snooping on their communications. All communication by non-citizens and immigrant citizens is subject to monitoring by government without a search warrant.

h/ Communicate using undisclosed accounts. All non-citizens and immigrant citizens shall be required to register all electronic communication accounts they use in our nation.

i/ Challenge their deportation if they can not find their documents, or if they cannot prove that they have been paying a proper amount of income taxes to our government for at least 6-years.

j/ Leave our nation and return unless permission to return is granted.

9/ There shall be different police conduct and tactics for citizens and noncitizens. Also Immigrants that come from, or visit certain troublesome nations may be treated differently from the rest.

10/ The Senate, shall not be bound by the promises, grants, and obligations, and immigration status of the prior corrupt narrow democracy. Prior grants of immigration status and amnesty may be cancelled by the new Senate as it decides is right.

11/ If the nation ever institutes compulsory military service:

a/ Legal immigrants shall be 1.5x as likely to be drafted.

b/ Illegal immigrants and Exhods shall be 3x more likely to be drafted. In war, drafted Exhods shall be assigned more dangerous point tasks in military assaults.

12/ The people of our nation shall welcome immigrants into their communities. To do otherwise is have them settle together in pockets hidden away from our people, hidden in places where Ishtar is stronger. Exhods shall not settle in exclusive old-country communities, or in total make up more than 20% of any community.

13/ If any immigrant group is causing or threatening terrorism, or uprising, then all members of that group shall suffer whatever rights intrusions we as their host nation elect to impose upon them. Either that or they can go back. Their people may be questioned, searched, monitored, and their movements limited as well. They may be deported, interred indefinitely, and they may also be refused the right to leave our nation if the Over-Senate so judges any of this. Again, the flip-side of all these rights intrusions is that more people will be tolerated in more and better places.

14/ If the Over-Senate declares that our nation is at war with any nation, ethnic group, religion, or clan, then the Over-Senate shall have the right to discriminate against, expel, inter, or incarcerate all immigrant citizens and immigrant citizens from that nation, ethnic group, religion, or clan, as well as their minor children. However, this shall not apply to the children of immigrant citizens that are full citizens over age 18.

15/ Immigrants and more particularly Exhods shall be seen as a potential national security threat. For this reason, The Senate shall have broad rights in limiting their conduct, activities, and travels.

16/ Non-citizens shall be expected to stay well within the boundaries of our justice system. The courts may impose 1.5x penalties for visitors and immigrants, 2x penalties for Exhods, and 3x penalties for illegal immigrants and people affiliated with foreign governments. This clause may be multiplicative with regard to other penalty multipliers. Also, there shall be a death penalty for foreigners that come to our nation legally or illegally and commit any of the following ghastly crimes:

a/ First or second degree murder.

b/ Stabbing, or attempted murder.

c/ Participating in a conspiratorial gang rape or severe beating, or worse.

d/ Running a brothel or sex trafficking business.

f/ Armed robbery.

g/ For severely beating (or worse) a person who is seeking to avoid a fight with them.

17/ Except for non-citizens confirmed to the Senate, those who are not full native born citizens shall not be allowed to work in our government in any role that makes any important decisions about the citizens of our nation.

18/ The Senate may require all or some non-citizens to carry a location tracking device such as a cell phone at all times.

19/ Non-citizens shall be deported on the first offense when they engage in ambulatory vending, door to door sales, touting, or begging. Also, it shall be a crime for ambulatory vendors, commercial touts, and beggars to walk up to people — however citizens touting political change shall always be protected and excluded. There shall be no in-person touting of restaurants, hotels, strip clubs, or travel services.

20/ Certainly, more poor immigrants will be tolerated if they have to get a chip implanted and all must carry a tracker. And if they are found without both, they shall be deported immediately. The county recorder system also actively monitors them, like it also does with valuable rental assets. Therefore this constitution allows for a total big brother situation for immigrants and ex convicts. It bears repeating that the rights that we take away from criminals on probation, and immigrants that are not fully trusted will emphasize that these are important universal rights that citizens are born with, and only lose through commission of serious crimes against other individuals in your society. And non-citizens and convicts don't necessarily get these rights. So any group that proposes that we give up these rights, shall be thought to be tyrants bent on eliminating our dear rights as citizens.

21/ Our Government shall always have a large budget for investigating cases where either our people go missing overseas, or more importantly foreigners seem involved with the disappearance of our people at home.

22/ After 2028, there shall be no foreign born police officers or government employees, except in menial work such as road construction, trash collection, landscaping. All parts of the delivery and taxi system shall be off limits to foreigners.

23/ Foreigners in our country that commit murder, armed robbery, rape, sex with children, or club battery (or worse) shall all be executed.

24/ No foreign government shall operate police forces or security forces, or intimidate its people while they're in our nation, and all foreign people operating in such a organization shall be considered spies and subject to execution upon conviction.

25/ All immigrants shall be genetically tested, and compared with all other immigrants. The people who are related shall all be indexed and questioned. Where immigrants have multiple wives or children with more than 1 women, they shall not be allowed to remain in our country.

26/ There shall be no shitting in parks in urban or suburban areas, or in the crowded areas of national parks by migrants, or on beaches or by creeks and streams my migrants. Migrants that go to the toilet in public or who leave human dog shits where they will create a nuisance shall be deported straight away on the first offense.

27/ All immigration amnesty of the past system shall now be re-interpreted. All this amnesty shall now be considered as:
a/ Including no voting rights, no matter how long the person went on to live in our nation. Those who come illegally shall never get the right to vote or serve in the Senate.

b/ Temporary for everyone that came as a refugee. Refugee status shall now be reconsidered and viewed as a right to remain for a time, during a crisis. After this, the refugees shall be expected to go back and as a group fight for freedom.

28/ Every person ever granted citizenship or immigration status in our nation must must have paid a reasonable amount of taxes or been part of a family doing this, or their grant of citizenship or immigration status may be considered void.

29/ Where people come to our nation and commit crimes, they shall be serve their time first and then either be deported or sent to a lifetime island work camp if they are still young.

NR'196. REFUGEES

1/ If we make it too easy for people to leave their nation and seek refuge in our nation as immigrants, we will not only suffer a flood of cowardly, unpatriotic shirkers as new citizens, but we will also undermine the will to fight for freedom and liberty worldwide. Our land of the free shall not do this for the cause of freedom in this world. Our actions shall not weaken the resolve of those who would fight for freedom in their home nation.

2/ All fighting age refugees and Exhods between age 17 and 50, except mothers of children under age 13, shall be expected to fight for the cause of freedom in their nation. All shall be expected to eagerly undergo training as an invasion army that may be sent back to fight for democracy in their country. When an invasion force of sufficient strength is assembled, our nation shall transport this army back, placing our own volunteer freedom-fighting advisors and coordinators among them at a ratio of roughly 1:50. Then we will give them military intelligence and provisioning as they do their part in their own nation to spread democracy and freedom. Also, these refugee armies shall generally be armed with fast-rusting sealed arms and short-life ammunition.

3/ As all chaotic refugee situations tend to result in child sex trafficking, and sexual slavery — and young children and young women are so harmless to societies, all unaccompanied children shall get first preference. Next shall come young women under age 33. Next comes mothers with children. Next comes single women that are still of breeding age. Then comes old women, then old men. We shall give refuge last males between age 17 and 35, and 2nd-to-last refuge to males age 36 to 58, and these fighting age males only if they eagerly sign on to undergo combat training and return to their nation to fight for their cause.

4/ No immigrants or refugees shall be allowed to enter our nation without proper vetting. All immigrants that the previous corrupt democracy allowed to enter our nation without proper vetting shall be subject to deportation on this account alone.

5/ It shall not be allowed to claim refugee status when a/ The refugee has crossed our borders illegally.

b/ The refugee shows up without an invitation from government.

6/ Looking back on history, most great influxes of 16 to 50 year-old men entering other nations have been invading armies. As well, most genuine war refugees are women, children and old people. Therefore, no immigrant group coming as mostly young men may call itself as refugee.

7/ All refugees must live in either an island immigration camp, or in Mexas where they can work, and be educated.

Persecution of 8/ Persecution due to one's sexual preference shall not be a valid reason for asylum or immigration. The Senate shall discriminate against homosexuals and especially transexuals in matters of immigration to our land. We want psychologically healthy immigrant lines that will not die out. Foreign transsexuals shall not be allowed to enter our nation to trick and dupe our men into homosexual sex with them.

9/ We shall house many asylum seekers and immigrants from poor nations in a foreign worker zone like Mexas, Niagara, and the Nova Scotia peninsula. However, all must be background checked, and all must eventually go back home. Cape Breton Island will be more for foreign workers and industry, but parts will allow foreign ownership of homes and condos. Cape Breton Highlands national park, and parts further to the north shall be turned over to better housing. Prince Edward island shall be more for foreign staffed summer resorts. The Halifax peninsula shall be for foreign owned better quality homes and condos. The Richmond land bridge area shall be more for our citizens that work on the Nova Scotia peninsula, or those who wish to host foreigners that are not qualified to enter the US.

10/ No Muslims shall be considered asylum seekers. All shall be regarded as Exhods unless they qualify by test as an needed expert in some area.

11/ All the non-expert Muslims shall be expected to settle in one of the many UM settlement nations as part of an immigrant mix.

NR'197. EXHODS

1/ Perhaps the most important geopolitical idea for mankind right now is that the worlds Muslims want one thing above all else. Or to rephrase that statement more precisely: The totally one-for-all alliance of the people of the wasteland parts of Earth want one thing above all else. They want to move to places that produce enough food and can sustain their numbers though honest work. This is the ultimate long term objective of both Islam and the desperate people of the wastelands who are now under Islam.

2/ Exhods shall be defined as former Muslims, Ishtarians, and other Semitic people undergoing mass relocation from the empire of the lands of no resources and its inverted agenda. They are also the people who have previously emigrated away from the land of no resources and have been sent back. Exhods, as a type of immigrant, are different from refugees in that refugees are fleeing temporarily, and Exhods are relocating forever from a land that should not have people because it cannot sustain people.

3/ Exhods shall suffer a life-long loss of their rights as stated herein. They shall also be required to undergo re-education and pay back the cost of their relocation.

4/ All Exhods shall be required to cleave against both Ishtar and Islam.

5/ No Exhods shall be allowed to enter our land until we are reasonably sure that:

a/ They as an individual have cleaved against both Ishtar and Islam.

b/ Their entire nation has cleaved against Islam and Ishtar to the man.

c/ Their nation has instituted a standard 1-in-25,000 broad democracy.

d/ That all harems and harem breeding their nation have been shut down.

e/ That all Haremi and harem breeding their nation have been exposed.

6/ To start, our nation shall get 43 hours of diligent labor a month (10 hours per 7-day week) from all Exhods between 18 and 60 years old until 2037.06.19, unless the UM elects to extend the term or expand number of hours due to terrorism, or warfare, or war mongering. This "discharging tax" can be paid either in the Exhod's regular wages, or in labor to the public, if the Exhod can't find a job. But this Exhod discharging tax is due first, before the Exhods can collect any other wages, or other monies in the adopting nation. Exhods that don't pay their Exhod discharging tax shall not be allowed to remain our nation. Those found, after the fact, to have evaded this regulation or underpaid their discharging tax may be sent back. All Exhods shall perform their public service with the same alacrity and hard work that was previously expected of service to Ishtar and the parasite's cause. The more desired host nations such as: the US, Canada, UK, Germany, Italy, France, Australia, Ireland, Japan, Singapore, and Taiwan, will all set their own national discharging taxes to underwrite and fund the cost of arriving immigrants. None of the new UM nations/ communities shall be allowed to have a discharging tax, except Centrograd, Andeo City, Adana City, New Issa, Gwadar, and Gagarin.

7/ Children born to pre-move Exhods more than 7 months after revelation day, and their genetic parents shall get exodus priority in last place for normal people. All pregnant women intending to go through the exodus process must have an abortion if they are less than 2-month's pregnant at revelation day.

8/ For the rest of their lives, exhods shall not hold or spend cash, precious metals, or other fungibles, and all money paid and spent by Exhods for the remainder of their life shall be spent electronically through government multi-monitored accounts. There shall be two Sluices in duplicate, and open accounts for all who care to look.

9/ All Exhods must melt-in, blend-in, and breed-in with their host nation, and shall not remain separate. If they reproduce with one of their kind, they must declare that person upon arrival. Aside from this one person, they shall not have children with any other Exhods, Semitic migrants, Muslims, people from PU nations, or undocumented people. Those who later have a child with one of their own in violation of this rule, shall have their immigration status cancelled, and they shall go back for resettlement in another nation. Those Exhods who want to settle among their kind should go to a new nation, most of which will have much lower discharging taxes for Exhods and other immigrants. As with many parts on immigration herein, the clearness of the rules and the harshness of the punishment supports the believability that the rules will be followed. Then the believability that the rules will be followed greatly increases the willingness to take in more immigrants. It shall be thought important that we do not find ourselves in a situation similar to the ineffective Limpieza de Sangre statutes of Toledo from around 50-years before Columbus to around 50-years after Columbus. Exhods must blend in.

10/ Exhods and other immigrants that get confirmed to our nation's Senate, and those who achieve Ubiq status over the threshold level, shall be considered as full citizens. These distinguished people shall be exempt from these limits on Exhod children, as well as Exhod discharging tax. It should be noted that this policy of Senate exemption can only function and judge properly where the foreigners are spread-out among our population. This practice cannot work properly where immigrants are allowed to live in their own mono-culture get-out, or ghetto communities.

11/ For the rest of their lives, exhods and especially refugees shall not leave our nation, or their status shall be cancelled. It shall not be allowed for Exhods to vex their hosts by leaving the nation, for it will certainly reduce the number of places available. As with many other immigration rules herein, this is to increase the willingness to take in more people. If the Exhodos process goes along more or less peacefully in the judgement of the Over-Senate, this clause may be repealed after 2037.06.19. However, even after this clause has been repealed, Exhods shall not be allowed to visit any place that has traditionally been Muslim in recent centuries. All Exhods must make a clean and total break with their old empire and its diametrically opposed ways

12/ All Exhods must get pre-approval for their settlement address, and all subsequent changes of address, to make sure that settlement density rules are not being violated.

13/ Exhods may be temporarily housed in evacuated flood zone communities and evacuated areas as determined by the Senate.

14/ Exhods shall not be allowed to work-in, live-in, or live near a city, or metropolitan area with over a 500,000 people.

15/ Exhod families shall not be allowed to settle together in large and dense communities, or work together, but must scatter throughout the nation and melt into our melting pot, and stay away from each other, unless they are part of the same family. Large Exhod clans that want to stay together must move to new nations where extended family groups may settle together.

16/ All Exhod children must go to school with the children of our nation. There shall be no special schools for Exhod children. There shall be no school instruction of the old language to Exhod children, except translation. There shall be no home study for Exhod children except where the child is unquestionably disabled.

17/ For 6 years after they are adopted by a Centi-Nome, Exhods shall not travel around the nation, but must remain in the county they settled in. This term may be extended or shortened by the Senate. However, Exhods shall not be permitted to lobby government for anything, including early release of their obligations herein.

18/ Exhods shall have no right to demand anything from their host or their host's government.

19/ Exhods shall not have the right to live where they choose but must be adopted by a Nome in order to find a place that need not be in that particular Nome.

20/ Exhods shall have no right to sponsor, or bring in other Exhods, even family members. Also, if genetically maternal siblings, genetic children, or genetic parents are later admitted, and the adopting Centi-Nome permits, these may be allowed to settle in the same household.

21/ Exhods shall not be allowed to cover their heads except when it is below 10°C, and then they must use a one of our caps and not one of their traditional scarfs. Symbols of slavery, and slave's clothing like this, shall be thought to matter.

22/ Except for tertiary school graduates, all Exhods shall obey a one child policy (not one child plus). Exhod women that already have a child, or show signs of having had a child upon a medical examination shall be prohibited from having more children. All excess pregnancies shall be aborted or the family may be sent back. Exhod women that can pass the Senate's tertiary school verification test in a serious subject, in English, shall be allowed to have up to 4-children, as always herein, genetic offspring.

23/ No county shall be allowed to adopt more males than females, or more 16 to 53 year olds than other ages. However, those still housed in immigration camps shall not count.

24/ People living in immigration camps shall not breed, and must use long-term birth control if they are not living in a same sex environment. If an immigration came woman becomes pregnant in violation of this rule, she must have an abortion within the allowed abortion time period if she wants to stay. Otherwise she will be deported for having given up her immigration status.

25/ No Exhod female shall be permitted to have a child in our land until she completes secondary school in our nation, or passes the secondary school equivalency exam in our nation, and in its national language of English. This rule shall also apply to all woman who were ever illegal aliens in our land.

26/ Exhods shall not have children until they are economically self-sufficient, and have been living without any government aid for more than one year.

27/ No more than 20% of the people in any enterprise shall be Exhods. This shall not apply to enterprises with 6 or fewer people.

28/ Exhods shall keep and possess no physical property and no wealth from their old nation. They may keep electronic files, and photo prints, but no physical property kept. This shall include wedding rings and heirlooms.

29/ All Exhod owned businesses shall include the suffix letters Ex.

30/ Exhods shall not be issued passports because they shall not be allowed to leave the country.

31/ The Senate shall prepare automated learning materials so that Exhods may use their time constructively and prepare for their new life before they are relocated. All Exhods must however spend at least 90 days in an immigration camp undergoing skills and cultural training to come to our nation. We shall consider our immigration camps an initiation rite, so immigrants appreciate being allowed to come to our nation. Also, these camps may be located in our foreign worker zones like Mexas, or Niagara, or Cape Bretton.

32/ When a member of an Exhod family commits a felony, all members of that Exhod's family are subject to deportation upon a 60% overmajority of their adoptive Centi-Nome.

33/ Exhods are adopted by Nomes by a simple majority vote, and expelled by Nomes with a 60% overmajority of their adoptive Centi-Nome.

34/ All Exhods shall pass a culture test, and employability test prior to admission. All Exhods will be expected to behave like honest upright members of our society after their extensive training.

35/ There shall be special and stricter rules for Exhods from war torn, aggressive, hate-filled and terrorism-prone areas and nations.

36/ There shall be a lower bar for infractions among Exhods and higher penalties for violations. Again, all of these "unfair" restrictions on Exhods are needed, so that more Exhods will be accepted. In general, a felony conviction shall cancel an Exhod's immigration status.

37/ No earmarked person shall ever be allowed to enter our nation again.

38/ The following non-citizen and even citizen immigrants shall all be considered as having demonstrated that they are inclined and loyal to Ishtar and that they stand against our nation. All these people shall be promptly deported to the New Palestine Islands after they serve time under lockup for their crimes, if any. This shall be so regardless of their national background: East Asians, Africans, Latinos, Europeans, and people from India. All shall all be included. Further when Canada, Japan, India or any nation of Europe deports and blackballs their Palestinian affiliated guests, we shall also black ball these people. Get out of our nation you war-monger terrorists. And let this stand as an example.

a/ Those who participated in the protests of the Palestine/ PLO/ Hamas/ Isis/ Ishtar side starting after the 2023.10.07 terror attacks on Israel.

b/ Those who shared social media in support of the Palestine/ PLO/ Hamas/ Isis/ Ishtar side, or against the Israel side in the wake of the 2023.10.07 terror attacks on Israel

c/ Everyone who has ever self-identified as Palestinian d/ Anyone who every wore a Keffiyeh in public.

e/ Anyone who uses the word martyr or jihad, or Allah u Akbar in the context of terrorism or reprisals against terrorism.

f/ Anyone who participated in any Islamic demonstration in 2023.

g/ Anyone who has ever publicly called for, or protested in favor of Sharia law.

x/ Where people get deported under this paragraph, it shall include their spouse(s) siblings, parents, grandparents, offspring, and grandchildren. Also, where residential street (lines) and blocks get over 70% deported of Muslims because of this paragraph, then all the Muslims on that block shall also get deported. This is to get rid of all the people in masks, and the ones that got missed.

39/ We shall assure everyone's compliance with our immigration registration forms that all non-citizens must fill out in the next 30 days. To do this, there shall be 7-years in work camp (followed by deportation for all the people who either do not register as a non-citizen, or lie under oath about their protest activity so they can evade deportation. Everyone who stays must register. If they register, they must declare under penalty of perjury, all their protest activity and social media accounts. All the non-visitors who leave the country and go back to their home nation upon credible evidence of sufficient pro-Palestinian activity, shall be considered as deported.

40/ All Arabs shall be completely compliant and cooperative with their own deportation and with all deportations in general. This is to help the host part of the world so it both feels good about the Arabs, and so it has so much economic strength that it can afford to build the new rail system and new township-based housing system worldwide, and lend money for house casting factories and cement and rebar and other housing components.

41/ US and Canada deportees with an indeterminate home nation shall be sent to Asuncion Paraguay if they speak Spanish, and Sao Paulo if they speak Portuguese. If they look African, or Middle Eastern, or they speak French, or we can't figure out where they are from at all, then they shall be sent to Ceuta. If they look European, or Russian, or Turkish, Iranian, or central Asian, they shall be sent to the Turkish deportation work camp island of Chios. Deportees may also be sent to Mexas. In all locations, the deportees may:

a/ Stay in a dorm bunk for up to 5-days while they look for work.

b/ Get a job at the nearby industrial areas that recruit long-term workers from the deportees.

c/ Take jail buses to their home nation. These busses and 5-days of bunk housing are funded by our payment of 4-day's wages (our wages) for each deportee taken by any nation we deport to.

42/ When exhods go to North America, Europe, and east Asia, they shall not have the right to be armed. Also, all must obey a Christian turn the other cheek response to aggression and violence. This shall be thought a thing that evolved among the Ishtarians as they left the Middle East, so they didn't foul the route for the others behind them.

NR'198. IMMIGRATION PROCEDURAL RULES

1/ Everyone must show identification to enter or leave the nation. Every undocumented person in our nation without ID and with a foreign accent shall be put in work camp, and once they have served their time, they shall be deported.

2/ The rate at which we allow foreign people to immigrate to our nation shall be calculated based on our nation's needs, not the needs of foreign nations. In times of deflation we shall welcome more immigration, and in times of excess inflation we shall have no immigration.

3/ We shall be one nation, with one national language. All domestic government services shall be presented-in and take place in English or later Euemi. Except for the study of foreign languages by proficient speakers of English, all of the nation's public schools and fictional citizens shall use English exclusively. All news reading, newspapers and news magazines shall only be in the national language of English. Later, the Senate may allow Euemi as a second language. Later still, when the world switches to Euemi, we may phase out English.

4/ So that we are more tolerant of immigrants and so that we can allow more immigrants to come to our nation, we will say that:

a/ Immigrants should never be allowed to vote. Many more immigrants will be tolerated if voting is a birthright. Also, only the children of the immigrants born and raised here will be able to vote, but not the people born overseas. Voting is a birthright. Except for confirmed Senators, immigrant shall never vote in our nation's elections. Also, we don't want immigrants migrating and then voting to allow more immigrants, or more government aid benefits to immigrants.

b/ The children of immigrants born in our nation shall be free to vote, but the immigrants themselves shall not vote. Also, when the children of immigrants are raised in a sequestered immigrant communities and do not speak our language properly, and without a foreign accent, they shall not be allowed to vote either. Also, those who live in sequestered immigrant communities (particularly no-go immigrant communities) shall be thought the easiest to deport.

c/ The Senate may require that all or some immigrants and Exhods carry location tech and must answer video phones.

d/ In general, all Exhods shall be required to carry location tech.

e/ All immigrants and visitors from war torn, terroristic, and high homicide nations shall be required to carry location tech and must answer video phones.

f/ Only citizens shall count for the purpose of voting and representation in our democracy. And not only shall non-citizens not count, but it shall be a crime to advocate or work for non-citizen voting.

5/ All applicants for work visas and immigration visas shall be merit-tested for their problem-solving skills, general skills, and reading skills in English. Those tested for an immigration visa shall also be tested on the laws, cultural norms and free-market economics of our nation. The right to immigrate to our land of the free shall be prioritized according to merit test score. A low score shall be grounds for denial of application.

6/ The Exhods shall be prioritized in a queue by their elected leadership. However this process will not work for ordinary immigrants, due to their lack of organization. So we shall select the best immigration applicants with a multiple choice test given at our overseas embassies worldwide every teneth. The fee for taking the test shall be 3 hours wages in our nation. Each Over-Senator shall select one multiple choice question from among of 50,000 existing pre-approved questions and send these to a secure website nor more than 10 minutes before a test that starts at the start of international trading period. Each chosen question shall be linked to a Senator number so that the questions will both be secret and verifiably so. There shall be 50 tests of 100 questions each. As the applicants enter, they will be randomly given repeatedly shuffled tests. At the end of the testing period, the applicants will turn in their tests and as they do, they will feed the long scannable answer page through the scanner, along with scanning their ID. The score will immediately appear on the reader, as well as on the immigration website along with their name in real time. After all tests are all scored, the system will figure out the cutoff score to apportion that teneth's immigration allotment to the people best at taking this sort of test.

7/ All immigrants must be able to understand and use 90% of the Senate's 15,000-word immigrant vocabulary before being allowed to commence the immigration process.

8/ All immigrants and all new citizens shall be required to have a unique 3-word name. This name must be spelled phonetically in English, and be pronounceable to most citizens of our nation, a name that cannot be changed or omitted even in marriage. This name cannot have more than 10 syllables. All immigrants must use their full name whereas citizens may omit their middle names. Also, there shall be no hyphenated surnames in our nation.

9/ All children of all immigrants shall be required to take their mother's surname with no mention of the father's surname. No child, or business of any immigrant shall have an Arabic, Middle Eastern, Latin, or ancient Greek name, or a name with a suggestive meaning to Ishtarians.

10/ The oath of immigration shall be: "I beg to immigrate to America, the land of the free. I am a humble suppliant begging to join the land of the free, to be good enough to join. I pledge to help defend my new nation, and my new freedoms. I pledge never to take up arms against my new nation, or help its enemies. I pledge that I shall always be the enemy of tyranny, monarchy, oligarchy, oppressive government, slavery, and slave's religions." This shall be video recorded and ascribed to the speaker. Then it is to be posted on the public's forever video archive. The Senate may elect to include other things, such as national and religious renouncements in the oath of immigration.

11/ All foreign passports used in crossing our nation's borders shall show the citizenship, location of birth, and all prior nationalities of the person, including all multi-nationalities, together with the dates of those nationalities. All government identification issued by our nation shall show citizenship or immigration/visitor status, location of birth, and all prior nationalities.

12/ The nationality of a person never changes because the word nationality means the place of their birth. The citizenship remains identical to the nationality unless the person immigrates to another nation. The term citizenship shall mean all past nations a person was a citizen of, the most recent going first.

13/ All passports must list all of each person's prior citizenships, or say no prior citizenships. Our government and our immigration officials shall use the most restrictive nationality of each foreign person coming to our nation.

14/ Those people crossing our nation's borders using a false name, or a forged passport, or in the future failing to disclose all their nationalities and all citizenships face up to 10-years in prison for immigration fraud.

15/ When people change citizenship, their citizenship shall be hyphenated with their earliest citizenship coming first. It shall be the crime of immigration fraud for non-citizens to lie about their nationality, or omit one of their nationalities even in social and non-official circumstances.

16/ We shall view dual citizenship as a thing which helps people to run off after they commit crimes. For this reason, we shall regard our citizenship as an exclusive thing. Where citizens over age 19 claim, or are found to have additional citizenships from foreign nations, they shall always lose their citizenship in our nation. We shall also not allow people with more than one passport to enter our nation. And where we find them, these people get a two years in work camp. We shall also attempt to drive for a world where nobody has more than one nationality.

Immigrant citizens shall maintain their old citizenship until they become full citizens of our nation, and then they shall renounce their old citizenship as part of the oath where they become citizens of our land. It shall thereupon be considered felony fraud to use their old citizenship ever again. When people born of parents of two different nations turn 19, they must pick between one nation. If they don't pick, they lose both nationalities, until they pick one, which shall be their nationality forever.

17/ Those who have changed citizenship once before shall not be allowed to become citizens of our nation.

18/ When foreigners that have changed their nationality come to our nation, government officials shall use all of their nationalities in determining their right to visit and stay in our nation. Also, the immigration officials of our nation may ignore the passport of any non-citizen and use their apparent country or region of birth. Those who have an Arabic, or Turkic accent shall be regarded as from the PU, or from the one nation of Islam regardless of what passport they are using.

19/ All immigrants living in our nation, regardless of their arrival date, shall be required to prove that they actually speak the language of their reputed home country like a native speaker of that language, unless they were small children when they arrived. Those that cannot do this shall be presumed to be Exhods and to have received their immigration or citizenship status based on service to the cause of Ishtar.

20/ If low-skilled foreign workers are admitted to our nation, it shall only be on a non-immigrant basis. Their employers shall post adequate bond to assure the departure of these workers

21/ All foreign visitors shall be turned off from the financial and vehicle licensing system, on the day after their visa expires. They will have no ability to pay for things, no driving license, no ability to rent a room, no ability to fly. There will also be fines for failing to leave, unless there is a medical reason.

22/ Those who employ foreign workers inside our nation, and not in a foreign worker zone — these employers shall pay an amount that is up to 33% of the average national wage as a tax. This is so that poor Americans will have an easier time getting good jobs.

23/ Foreign workers shall be allowed to work as much as 12 hours a day, every day, if they wish. However, this shall not be required by any employer in any position.

24/ To prevent border-zone get-outs forming on our nation's borders, low-skilled foreign workers shall not be permitted to enter our nation's land borders more often than once per teneth. Also, no low-skilled foreign workers and factory shipments shall enter our nation unless they arrived on a sealed and monitored non-stop boat, train, or airplane from a place more than 210 km from our nation's borders.

25/ Every person crossing into our nation shall each pay a border crossing fee of 15-minute's wages (as always, this is the average wage in our nation among our citizens). As this is more than enough money to pay for immigration officers, the crossings must be run so that except for special events, there is never a wait to reach an officer.

26/ Regarding public assistance, immigrant citizens may only get 90 days of it. If these people become destitute for any reason at all, they can move to the immigration camp dorms where they may live free of charge for up to a year. After a year, if they are unable to make a living in our nation, they must either go back or be deported. Except for this, and Senate sireage benefits, government shall not give any non-emergency benefits to immigrant-citizens or non-citizens. When non-citizens bear Senate sires without Senate approval, they shall be entitled to no benefits.

27/ The Senate shall determine how long each existing immigrant has lived in our nation on public assistance under the old system, the total lifetime benefits received from government, total income claimed, and total taxes paid. Then the Senate shall take appropriate action to rid our nation of the immigrants that have given the least and taken the most.

28/ Only full citizens born in our land shall be allowed to sponsor immigrants and visitors. Immigrants and visitors shall have no right to sponsor other immigrants and visitors. Those who obtain immigration status through marriage shall not be allowed to keep their immigration status if the couple does not live together for at least 3,650 nights.

29/ With a 60% overmajority, the Sub-Senate shall be free to bar entry to our nation for any non-citizen groups, nationality group, clans, political group, or language groups it elects to.

30/ Except in genuine emergencies, the Senate and people shall not provide government healthcare benefits to non-citizens. The Tier-1 government pricing shall be paid by the non-citizen getting healthcare, but non-citizens shall not be entitled to any free healthcare benefits from our government. There shall be mandatory emergency medical insurance for all non-citizens visiting our nation. This fee shall vary by the age of the visitor the duration of the visit, as well as the nature of the visit.

31/ All immigrants shall be health screened before being allowed to achieve any immigration status. Immigrants with pre-existing conditions, and immigrants who come after age 30 may suffer special healthcare related restrictions.

32/ In order to reduce the very real potential for corruption of the immigration process through intimidation, bribery or other forms of corruption, the immigration decisions shall be made by two Senate juries. First a Senate immigration jury of 5 (randomly drawn as always) shall decide on the right to begin the immigration process for each applicant. For this first decision, the faces, voices, names and identities and decisions/votes of case workers and Senator Jurors deciding on immigration matters shall not be shown to those they judge because this might lead to corruption. For all immigration interviews, all immigrants shall face video cameras and answer the questions posed by the interviewers that may be in another location. After this, the second immigration decision shall be made by the adopting Centi-Nomes and Nomes.

33/ We shall consider it vitally important to our battle with Ishtar, that no part of the immigration process be corrupted. New lives in the heaven of our land are perhaps the most valuable thing that Ishtar sells.

34/ Non-elected appointees may grant permission to temporarily visit our nation. However, both citizenship, and permission to start on the road to citizenship shall only be decided by an anonymous Senate jury of no less than five. There shall be no right to appeal the decision of a Senate jury in immigration matters. Excepts for Exhods, nobody shall apply for immigration more often than once per 5-years.

35/ Those affiliated with our nation's enemies as declared by the Senate, may be forever blacklisted from entering our nation.

36/ Lotteries being so corruptible, there shall be no immigration lottery or random selection of immigrants. All existing immigration lottery winners shall be investigated. Those found guilty of corrupting other systems or working for Ishtar may be deported for the reasonable suspicion of having corrupted the immigration lottery system of the previous government.

37/ The Senate may limit immigration from certain nations, but it shall never have quotas or slots to fill.

38/ The Over-Senate may halt immigration and visitors from any nation for any reason. The Over-Senate shall halt immigration and visitors from nations and empires that sprout terrorists, as well as the places which do not obey the UM's reproductive policy.

39/ There shall be no citizenship requirement for serving in the Sub-Senate or Main-Senate. Immigrants, Exhods and even visitors may be elected to the Sub-Senate and Main-Senate. Over-Senators must however, be full citizens born in our nation.

40/ All full Ubiqs and confirmed Senators of our nation get automatic native-born full citizen status upon their election. After this, they shall be treated like any other native-born full citizen by the people and laws of our nation.

41/ No law, treaty or agreement concerning immigrants, refugees, or Exhods shall every be binding upon our nation, or require our nation to accept immigrants, refugees, and asylum seekers from any other nation. All prior international agreements regarding refugees and asylum seekers and migrants shall now be void. The Over-Senate shall always have the right to change its mind about immigration, refuge, and Exhodos, regardless of what any treaty says.

42/ With regard to people claiming asylum, we will generally house these in remote parts of Mexas near the border.

43/ Every part of the old immigration system shall be thought to be totally corrupt, and as corrupt as could be gotten away with.

44/ No new international treaty concerning refugees shall be valid or enforceable as this has throughout history created an incentive to cause a war, so that harem spawn and other Ishtarian economic migrants may be hidden among the refugees. All migration from now on shall be decided on a case by case basis by Senate juries of an appropriate size.

45/ Immigrants shall not be allowed to come to our land and live in isolated alien enclaves mostly among their own people, but in our land. There shall be no ghetto, or get-out communities like Dearborn Michigan. All immigrants must integrate. They must learn our ways and our language, and they must live among us, or they may be sent back by the Senate.

46/ We shall have no places like Malmo, no residential immigrant enclaves that are closed to outside ethnic groups. If the Over-Senate elects that a place is a Malmo, then that place may be condemned and the immigrants living there may either deported or forced to scatter.

47/ All deportees shall be genetically indexed, face scanned, fingerprinted, and they may also be permanently earmarked in a variety of ways indicating the reason for deportation. The immigration courts may also elect to give certain particularly troublesome deportees a blue man cast with colloidal silver.

48/ Each person convicted of a felony shall be put on the immigration, border patrol, and customs list of people not allowed to cross the border in either direction. When our citizens commit a felony, they shall go on this list forever. When foreigners commit a felony, they go on this list until they have served their time. Then they shall be immediately deported. There shall be no shortening of sentences for foreigners so they can be deported early. If any judge, jury, jailer, warden, or other person orders the early deportation of a prisoner, it shall be considered the equal of ordering the early release of that prisoner from lockup. It shall also be assumed that government people who deport convicts early are corrupt.

49/ The Senate may require non-immigrant workers to wear their name, worker ID number, and bar-code on their clothing.

50/ Immigrants that are Middle Eastern, or Muslim, or from a nation of the PU may be judged as Exhods regardless of when they came to our nation. No judge of the old system of our nation shall have jurisdiction in matters of immigration application, immigration denial, refugee status, Exhod status, or deportation. Only Sub-Senate juries shall judge our nation's critically important immigration decisions.

51/ We shall err on the side of welcoming too many people to come to our land, as all free men should. However, we shall be as selective as we reasonably can about who we allow in.

52/ The situation that makes Ishtar strongest, the situation Ishtar likes most is when we have tight government controls that only it can corrupt. This is the sort of immigration system that Ishtar wants, and we must therefore go in the opposite direction.

53/ The decision to eject a non-citizen may be decided at either the county or national level, and except when the person is working or has worked for the nation's strategic interests, neither shall protect the immigrant from the other.

54/ All news reporting of suspected terrorist acts shall report all nationalities of the suspects once it is known in all reporting. If the Foreign-Sluice declares an act of terrorism as perhaps religiously motivated, the religion shall also be mentioned after the suspect's name.

55/ Nobody applying for immigration to our nation may do so via any intermediary. No lawyers may be used in any matter concerning immigration.

56/ Non-citizens may be taxed at higher rates than citizens. They may also be required to pay taxes that citizens do not have to pay. Citizens shall never pay a higher rate of tax than non-citizens, or be subject to a tax that does not apply to non-citizens.

58/ We must be able to trust those who we welcome to our nation. We must ask ourselves if some group of immigrants is more likely to betray our kindness, and take up arms against us. We must also ask ourselves if some group is already taking up arms against us when we are strong: How will that group behave if it ever gets the upper hand?

59/ Exhods and refugees shall not be allowed to inherit more than 3-year's wages from citizens under any condition, except where the citizen is a parent, child, sibling, or cohabiting spouse of more than 5-years. Non-Exhod immigrants shall not be allowed to inherit more than 7-year's wages from citizens under any condition, except where the citizen is their parent, child, sibling, or cohabiting spouse of more than 5-years.

60/ The ethnic background of all immigrants shall be a matter of public record for both immigrants and the children of immigrants.

61/ A visa gives a visitor to our nation the ability to have a national financial transaction account for a specified time. This system shall automatically enforce the visitor's ability to interact with the economy by switching off at midnight on the day when the visitor's visa expires.

62/ Kicking out all the immigrants is not the answer to anything. The answer is to kick out all the bad ones. The answer is to hold migrants to slightly higher standards (rather than lower standards) so that host societies are more tolerant of their presence. This is why we hold immigrants to higher behavioral standards.

63/ Absent a Senate issued court order, arrest warrant, or a criminal conviction, it shall be a crime for government people to contact a foreign nation and request the arrest, detention, or return of a citizen.

64/ There shall be a potential death penalty for people who come from foreign nations and are convicted of any of the following in our land. This includes immigrant citizens:

a/ Murder and attempted murder

b/ Armed robbery, or use of a firearm in the commission of a crime.

c/ Kidnapping.

d/ Club battery or Severe beatings.

e/ Rape, and particularly gang rape, and rape of minors and young people under age 22.

65/ We shall have both plastic passport ID cards and virtual passports. Passports shall no longer be stamped, but the stamps go into either emails, or an app file along with a text and a app message with links to the exact sort of visa granted. The virtual passport shall be the real passport. The passport card is a backup document that some people will opt to carry in case the virtual passport system can't be accessed. But many will certainly memorize their number and then opt to leave their plastic passport at home or with others when they travel. Where physical passports are renewed, or replaced, this shall take no longer than 7-days, provided the application is properly documented. New passport applications shall take no longer than 18-days, provided the application is properly documented.

66/ Immigrants may be granted a special temporary immigrant's ID card, and refugees may be granted a special temporary refugee ID card. But US citizen's passports shall only be granted to those who actually are citizens. Also, the face title on the ID shall say either "US Citizen Passport ID", or "US Refugee Temporary ID", or "US Immigrant Temporary ID". No non-citizen shall never be granted a a US Citizen's Passport. The term "Green Card shall no longer be used. Also, all passports shall now be in the form of an ID card with a bar code, and a lifelong international ID number. There shall no longer be any stamping of passports with ink. Instead a lifelong list of this information shall go on a login webpage (that is easy to copy by the passport holder) with both the US state department, and the country visited.

67/ When citizens or non-citizens are at or around immigration checkpoints for entering our nation, they shall be allowed to take pictures, record video, and talk to other people. This shall apply for both border and near-border immigration checkpoints, and the lines and approaches to these. This shall also apply to the questions asked by immigration and customs officers. Those people not allowed to enter our nation shall have the right to make free monitored voice and video calls to the people they are meeting to make arrangements. Where citizens are clearing immigration with non-citizen family and friends, the citizens shall have the right to accompany the non-citizens through immigration if both parties wish.

68/ The maximum penalty for killing an illegal alien outside of Mexas shall be 7-years. If the death occurs within 100-km of Mexas, the maximum penalty shall be 5 years.

69/ People who arrive at our border without identity documents shall not be allowed into either our nation or any of our foreign worker zones until our border patrol service can accurately verify their identity.

70/ All non-citizens that strike others in a non-defensive way, or worse shall be jailed or sent to work camp. Then they shall all be earmarked and then deported. All aliens, engaging in violent activities shall be earmarked before they are deported.

71/ Non citizen visitors may smoke marijuana and tobacco, and drink alcohol, but they shall not take other Mafia drugs, or they shall lose their status.

72/ The Senate may prohibit first and even second generation immigrants from working for or with foreign governments or foreign fictional citizens without registration and Senate approval.

73/ There shall be no more single male migration. Females of breeding age may come in single, but when males come in, they must be married as heterosexual couples, and there must be at least one under age 4 child between them for their immigration status to be perfected. If you want to migrate to our nation, and you are not top in an important field, you must be married and have a new child to migrate. No baby, no migration, unless you are a breeding-age female. Homosexual couples do not qualify as we are looking for the children, not the excessive freedoms that caused the Greeks and Romans to fail.

74/ We shall allow the immigrants of each cultural group in our nation to have their own special elections where they decide on increased legal penalties that they wish use for their immigrant cultural group and its members. Then our nation shall impose these higher penalties on immigrants from these nations. These stiffer penalties will certainly make life harder for the law-breaking members of that group. However, at the cost of sacrificing a few really bad apples, much more migration will be tolerated from that immigrant group. Each immigrant cultural group shall vote on imposing higher penalties than normal for:

- a/ One of 3 penalty multiplier increments for all felonies.
- b/ Special penalties for brothel operation, sexual grooming rings, and pimps.
- c/ Participation in an Arab-style "taharrush" rape or sexual assault gang.
- d/ Individual rape and sexual assaults.
- e/ Carrying a weapon in public.
- f/ Rioting.
- g/ Being involved with group violence.
- h/ Being rude to a host nation citizen.
- i/ Trying to talk to pretty women who are not interested in talking to them.

75/ If an immigrant cultural group says to our Senate that it wants its criminal element to be punished more severely, We shall try to have the higher penalties they request to increase tolerance for more immigration.

76/ We shall use an immigration quadruple check system for immigration to our land:

- a/ The 1st review is by the people from that person's home nation. Convicted felons shall not be given permission.
- b/ The 2nd review is by a Senate jury of the adopting nation prior to travel.
- c/ The 3rd review is by a jury of the Sub-Senate women of the host nation prior to release from the immigration camp that they are ready to leave the camp
- d/ The 4th review is by the adopting Nome.

x/ In the new UM settlement nations and areas such as Andeo, Yucatan, Chad, New Mali, Botswana, etc., there will be only a step-b above.

77/ Immigrants that do the following get deported straight away on the first offense if recorded:

- a/ Rioting or looting.
- b/ Battery, or extreme assault.
- c/ Brawling, or fist fist-fighting.
- d/ Sexual assault.
- e/ Engaging in groups confrontations with other immigrant groups.
- f/ Engaging in political protests.

78/ Those deported from certain other nations shall not be allowed to enter our nation without specific authorization. This shall include both immigrant and visitor visas. It is thought that most nations emulating our constitution will have a similar clause, and we will all form a union, where we all work together and have a single database of people excluded from all our countries.

79/ It shall not be off the table to deport entire ethnic communities where less than 1/3 of the Adults are employed outside the isolated community, including those who work odd jobs on a prorated basis. This shall be especially so where these people have as a group:

- a/ Have a terrible problem with crime.
- b/ Received more from our government than they have paid in.
- c/ Mostly failed to integrate with our host society.
- d/ Are to a large extent openly hostile to their host society, our society.
- e/ Have demanded change from their host society to fit the needs of the guest.

80/ There shall be nothing wrong with deporting non-citizens in sealed railcars and prison busses. This practice was purposely besmeared by the perpetrators of the Nazi death camps who (to this day) depict those camps mostly in the background with rails in the foreground. It is not the railroads and the ability to move large numbers of people that are the problem, it is the death camps.

81/ Obtaining full citizenship and the rights of a full citizen shall be regulated by the following rules:

- a/ When both parents (both the genetic parents and the raising parents) of a person are or were citizens, the child must have spent at least 2-years in our nation (in total) before they turned 18 to automatically get the full rights of an adult full citizen upon application and affidavit of facts.
- b/ When one parent (who is both a genetic and a raising parent) is a full citizen, the child must have spent at least 6-years in our nation (in total) before they turned 18 to automatically get the full rights of an adult full citizen upon application and affidavit of facts.
- c/ Where legal immigrant citizens, and legal visitors who later become legal immigrants without lapse of status have children with others of the same status, and the child spends less than 90 days outside our nation while the child is under age 18, the child shall automatically get the full rights of an adult full citizen upon application and affidavit of facts.
- d/ When one or both parents are visitor visa holders, or visa overstay, or illegal immigrants, or undocumented immigrants, there shall be no automatic right of their offspring born in our land to be a citizen. All illegally obtained anchor baby immigration status granted by the past government is hereby revoked and void, even if these people have become citizens.

e/ Everyone not born in our nation, and everyone born in our nation to non-immigrant foreigners shall be required to complete the secondary school test in our nation's language of English prior to becoming a full citizen allowed to vote, and hold arms, and allowed to attend protests. This test shall also include a high school level TOEFL test, as well as the 10th, 11th, and 12th grade civics test. This test is also supposed to ask questions that are deeply offensive to Muslims, communists, or racists, and nobody should be able to pass the test if they are in any way loyal to Islam, communism, or are a proud racist. There shall also be a long section on sex crime law and the customary rights of women. Where foreign children are adopted and fail to become citizens by the time they are 18, they shall be required to leave and go back to their nation of birth.

f/ Where Muslims (citizens or not) have adopted children of any age, these children shall not be allowed to become citizens without passing all the tests and obtaining the approval of a randomly drawn Senate immigration jury.

g/ All claimed family ties must be substantiated by genetic testing. When uncles claim nephews and nieces and others as offspring, their status shall be cancelled. Where the supposed mother or the father fails the Government's genetic test, and cannot be proven to be related to an applicant for citizenship, no citizenship shall be granted without the approval of a randomly drawn Senate immigration jury.

82/ In order for student visas to remain valid, the student must make acceptable progress on the government's tests. Failure to make acceptable progress shall automatically result in the revocation of the student's visa. Those who remain more than 30-days after their student visa has been cancelled may be charged as illegal aliens.

83/ Where citizens are found driving/riding around in vehicles without a rear license plate, they shall get up to 3-years in lockup. Where non-citizens are found doing this, they shall get 10-years in lockup. Where either Group is driving around without a rear license plate on their vehicle, and shall be presumed that these people have some sort of criminal intent.

84/ Where foreigners aggressively try to enforce their political views on people in our nation, they shall be deported. Non-voting foreigners shall not be allowed to impose their will on the people of our nation.

85/ Immigration shall not cause the population of any community to increase by over 0.75 percent per year. Immigration shall not cause the population of the nation community to increase by over 0.5 percent per year.

86/ In general, immigrants shall not be allowed to settle wherever they want in the nation, they shall be assigned areas suffering from labor shortages and declining population.

87/ The national government shall relocate all industry that uses large numbers of immigrants to either Mexas, Niagara, Cape Bretton island, or Vancouver island.

88/ Everyone who has been deported (without turning themselves in) shall have all of their academic records, employment history, and credit history in our nation wiped out and longer available for public viewing. Deported people who do not turn themselves in shall also not be allowed to gather their possessions or settle their accounts in our land, and all this shall be auctioned off by the public.

89/ We shall not allow any more Muslim immigration. The Senate may also prohibit cleaved Muslims whether or not these are problematic.

90/ Regarding visitors and immigrants convicted of a felony or serious crime in our nation's court system, these shall normally lose their immigration status and their right to travel internationally except when we deport them. However, regarding those people not convicted of a felony, or charged upon credible evidence and charges with a felony, it shall be a crime for government workers to say to another nation: "Do not let this person enter you nation."

91/ The Senate shall establish no policy, and we shall obey no treaty that gives people who who sneak into our nation, or live at government expense, or who overstay our hospitality any rights at all. Every person not authorized to enter our nation who nonetheless enters our nation's secure zone shall be considered illegal aliens, and treated as such under the law.

92/ No immigrants, asylum seekers, or Exhods shall be allowed to enter our nation through our land borders.

93/ All immigrants, asylum seekers, and Exhods must remain outside of the country until they are approved for entry to either an immigration camp, or they have a place to go under another sort of visa. That we ever allowed immigration anarchy stands as testament to how our nation was ruled by a foreign race for its benefit. Here our foreign masters made it easier for them to send their chosen migrants in a fake anarchy situation. No. We the people must control our own immigration selection process ourselves, so we can take our nation in the right direction. If we don't control our enter-the-nation process, the Mafia will do it for us and take a fat cut. The Mafia will also pick people loyal to the Mafia as our nation's new immigrants — and we really do not want this. So the rule is very simple. Our own elected Senators get randomly drawn to be on juries to:

a/ Establish rules for immigration and also for entry from the various parts of the world.

b/ Approve all immigrants, all asylum seekers, and all Exhods before they can enter.

c/ Approves all tourism rules and all tourists.

94/ There shall be no migration to our nation that is not approved by the Senate. If we have this, then we have Mafias and human trafficking. There shall be no exceptions to this as existed under our corrupt old democracy.

95/ All deportation proceedings, and all asylum status hearings, shall be processed within 3-days of the immigrant application, unless it is contested. When the case is contested, then final approval shall be before 30 days. There shall be no exceptions to this rule, and all exceptions to this rule shall be regarded as probably corrupt.

96/ With regard to foreigners entering our nation for purposes of migration, the system shall be heavily biased towards denial of the application.

97/ All people who show up at our borders, or land on our land who did not show proof of identity upon entry, and who cannot provide this. All these people shall be guilty of illegal immigration and shall get 6-years in a work camp. Then they shall be deported to one of our foreign worker zones, or to one of the UM's remote deportation zones.

98/ Sex freaks such as transsexuals, homosexuals, and pedophiles shall not be given asylum or allowed to move to our nation. All prior grants of for these people shall now be void and regarded as a thing of corruption by our nation's enemies.

99/ Asylum seekers cannot return to their home country or it voids their asylum.

100/ The decision about immigration is a national one. Nobody but the national government shall establish immigration policy or regulate the process of immigration.

101/ It shall be required that all immigrants that are on the path to citizenship to remain employed full time for the whole time at a third party employer.

102/ There shall be no bail for those who cannot prove identity, especially those with a foreign accent.

103/ When citizens come back to our nation, The immigration people shall not be allowed to ask where they went or what they did while overseas. They also cannot ask people to give a detailed account of what they are bringing back.

104/ There shall be no foreign born government workers.

105/ It shall be a felony for non-citizens to target or harass, or protest, dox, or assault our military people, our defense people, our Senators, and their families.

106/ To enter our country, everyone must show a passport. if they're not a citizen and don't have a US passport, they must also show a visa, or be from a country where we do not require a visa for entry.

107/ There shall be no foreign remittances or money orders without the recorder system verifying the tax ID number of the sender. Also on the cashing side, no foreign remittances shall be cashed without the treasury department verifying the tax ID of the recipient. It shall be considered felony money laundering when remittance or money order companies violate either rule. There shall also be no Islamic money transfers, and engaging in Islamic money transfers shall be considered to be in support of terrorism and a felony with a 20-year prison sentence.

108/ There shall be no sealed, or nearly sealed deportation railcars. All must have operable windows with bars.

109/ All land, and property rights previously given for free to migrants (particularly undocumented migrants) shall be nationalized, and the migrants inexplicably in possession of valuable land and property shall be deported.

110/ All of the post civil war amendments to the old 1789 constitution (including especially the 14th amendment) shall be thought to have had nothing to do with immigration, but were only intended for the freed slaves of the South who were being denied important human rights.

111/ No, more than 4% of our nation shall be from the Islamic world. Where the Muslim population exceeds this, there can be no more muslim immigration. Where it exceeds 4.5%, the excess must migrate somewhere else. Priority shall be given to defectors/defecators. This should be considered one of the most important things that the Mideast will give away so that the outside world will lend the money to move all the people. It shall be thought the duty of all Muslims to cooperate with their own deportation, if it is judged, so that everyone else

112/ If anyone is selling places, or charging people to come to our country and immigrate to our country, it must be our Government and our people that collect the money/ loyalty/ benefits from the migrants. Where foreigners are selling places and charging people to immigrate to our nation, this shall be considered the equivalent of espionage, because these foreigners acquire agents of a sort, with some loyalty to the foreign nation: Even though the new people live in our nation. So this should never be allowed to happen. In fact, it shall be a felony (and it may be a capitol offense) to participate in a mafia charging foreigners to come to our country.

113/ Except for remote dormitory housing and basic food ingredients, it shall be considered felony misappropriation, where anybody working for government, or working in the Senate provides any public benefits to non-citizens in our nation. This shall include transportation, housing, food, and especially money. All of this should be thought to have mafia loans on the other side for the migrants. We shall have long prison sentences for government people who give money, jobs, and valuable things away to migrants. Again, we shall suppose that surely the Mafia is getting paid from the migrant for these benefits.

114/ Foreigners shall not be allowed to work in the process by which other foreigners immigrate, or to work obtaining money or benefits, or anything else from government. To allow foreign networks in our immigration system is to invite foreign nations to wage war on our nation via our own immigration process. It is to invite foreign nations to have power in our nation.

115/ Foreign government agents and especially foreign Mafia people operating in our nation can be executed on the first conviction.

116/ The Senate shall have immigration programs for foreign women who will bear and nurse our Senate surrogates.

117/ We shall aim to always have a number of ways that people can become citizens of our nation. These shall always include:

a/ Up to one spouse or biological co-parents of native born citizens.

b/ People who have distinguished themselves as discoverers, explainers, scholars, Ubigs, Senators, business founders, business managers, and similar constructive activities of note.

c/ People working in industries our nations is trying to develop, or workers in bottleneck industries.

d/ People who come and successfully work in our nation's foreign worker zones.

118/ Immigrants shall not be allowed to change their names so that they sound more like they are not immigrants, or so that their hide their prior national origin, or name and identity.

119/ All non-citizens must carry a phone or other location tracker. They must also uses an app that flags their location after spending 1-hour in that location. When non-citizens hide their location from the system, or they are found without a tracking device, or in a uncrackable area without pre-permission, it shall frequently be held sufficient to void their immigration/visitor status.

120/ Foreign documents must be authenticated to be admissible in all courts in the land including especially all deportation proceedings.

121/ All unaccompanied minors abandoned in Mexico shall be kept in dormitory orphanages on the Mexico side of Mexico until they turn 16. These orphanages shall be funded by our nation. Due to lack of provenance, these children shall not be adopted by the people of our nation.

122/ All the NGO's working to bring in, house, or enable voting for the recent illegal alien invasion shall be closed down and their assets nationalized. Also, the directors of these illegal alien vote facilitating NGOs shall be locked up for for at least 2-years per illegal immigrant they facilitated.

123/ None of the following shall automatically confer any citizenship rights:

a/ They have a US birth certificate.

b/ They have US educational qualifications.

c/ They have a drivers license.

d/ They have a tax ID number or they paid taxes.

e/ They are married to a US person.

f/ They had children with a US person

g/ They are the parent of a US person.

124/ We shall learn from recent experiences with Somali migrant crime and corruption. This is why we don't want to have many foreigners living together with their own country people living together in ethnic enclaves, where they can take over.

125/ There shall be no right of due process for the deportation of illegal aliens and visa overstay. These non-citizens law breakers shall be treated differently from citizens and they shall not be entitled to due process. Also all illegal aliens and visa overstay people may be freely deported by government without any hearing at all.

NR'199. IMMIGRANT HOUSING AND CONDUCT

1/ Immigrants shall not be allowed to come into our country unless we have a place for them. If they lose this place and they're unable to find a new place and become homeless, and either start using our homeless shelters, or they start sleeping on the street or in the parks or lobbies, or other places, they must leave.

2/ Government shall not spend any money for housing immigrants in anything but immigration camps, and these immigrant camps shall be no better than our homeless for our own citizens. Immigrants shall never be given any sort of first rate housing by government other than bunks in dormitories.

3/ We shall aim for a low and steady level of immigration. We shall never allow so many immigrants that it causes housing inflation or depression of wages. We shall never take immigrants in times in inflation, because having more people only aggravates the inflation.

4/ All legal immigrants shall always be free to go back where they came from if they want. If we fail to have this rule, our immigration camps become concentration camps. The ability to go back at anytime on the next appropriate transport is critical to the distinction. The time between transports back shall not exceed 1/10th of a year. Exhods and refugees shall not necessarily be free to go back home, because they must go somewhere else.

5/ All immigration to our nation that is not based on mental acumen or skills shall be based on hard work, and time spent in an immigration camp being trained in our language and ways and learning marketable skills. All such immigrants shall be given a skill-set to use in earning a living as a free person in the land of the free. Also, to be clear, immigrants that come based on merit (having already passed our nation's employment qualification, academic, or professional licensing tests), these people shall generally not have to spend time in an immigration camp. However, all immigrants must complete the required cultural orientation and education modules about cultural matters such as: taxation, public benefits, business permissions, violence, justice system, sexual/courting conduct, sexual consent, politeness, and other laws the Senate may wish to elect for immigrants. In particular, this cultural training shall include criminal laws, penalties, and trouble-areas that their particular origin culture has problems with. These will vary depending on the country of origin.

6/ Immigration and Exhod camps shall be located on offshore islands or isolated zones where practical. Thus, most refugees will live in semi-permanent island camps until they have been educated and given skills and are ready to enter our nation. We may also house immigrants in our Mexico, Niagara, part of Cape Bretton Island and part of Vancouver island.

7/ The Channel Islands shall be for refugees and Exhods. San Miguel Island shall be for the single men. The northwest part of Santa Rosa Island shall be for families. And the northwest tip of Santa Cruz Island shall be for single females. The families get private rooms with 5m per person and shared same-sex toilets for each 20 rooms. The individuals on same-sex islands get an 90cm bunk in a barracks of 50 or more people. Except for children under age 13 and their parents, all Exhods and refugees must stay in same sex barracks. Other islands and locations may also be used for immigration, Exhod, and refugee camps.

8/ It is supposed to be a difficult for low-skilled immigrants and Exhods to move to our land. The system is also supposed to favor people willing to work long overtime hours in an offshore or isolated immigration camp and afterwards over those who are not willing to do this.

9/ All Exhods shall live in an offshore or isolated immigration camp until they have completed their re-education, and are adopted by a Nome. Then they may either rent an apartment, or live for free in a free Centi-Nome dormitory for a limited time, until they find rental housing. All Exhods must be adopted by a Centi-Nome in order to leave the Exhod camp, and be admitted into our nation.

10/ Refugees and Exhods shall not even have the rights of approved immigrants, let alone citizens. Rioting and even protesting immigrants, refugees and Exhods may be deported.

11/ Many aspects of immigration camp life shall be regimented. All shall get up, eat, go to work/school, and go to bed according to a schedule. The immigration/Exhod camp routine shall be in place 365 days a year with no account of anyone's religious days or practices.

12/ There shall be no right to privacy at immigration camps. All areas in immigration camps shall be under constant video and audio monitoring and surveillance. We shall also situationally bait and test people in immigration camps at lest twice to see if they will become violent or traitorous to our people or our land. We shall also situationally test and bait these people at least twice upon release from their immigration camp. All classes of camp resident shall be tested including temporary refugees.

13/ The same-sex barracks for our immigration camps and homeless shall have no less than fifty 90cm wide bunks in a room, with shared same-sex group bathrooms and group kitchen facilities.

14/ Everyone housed in an immigration camp shall go outside for daily sunrise roll call except when there is rain or other precipitation.

15/ All Exhods shall be fingerprinted, photographed, face scanned, iris scanned, blood sampled and genetically tested.

16/ Everyone of working age living in an immigration camp must gladly and eagerly work and attend lessons. Those between age 15 and 40 shall do this for at least 70 hours a week. Those 40 to 55 shall do this for at least 55 hours a week. Those 55 to 65 shall do this for at least 45 hours a week.

17/ All Exhods shall complete at least 2,000 hours of education in the language, customs and manners of our nation before they can leave the island camp. Those over age 15 must also undergo an additional 1,000 hours of skills training if they have no testable and marketable skill. This must be completed before they can be adopted by a Centi-Nome.

18/ It is not only our own citizens, but the migrants and visitors also want extra-strict rules for foreigners that do terrible things. Surely they don't want a few bad apples ruining things for the rest. Therefore, the foreigners that come to our nation and rape, or meet children for sex, or run brothels, or act as pimps, or commit armed robbery, or beat people with clubs, or pummel them with fists, or cast them on the ground, or break into the homes of others, or worse. All these violent criminal immigrants shall get the electric chair for their clear-cut violent crimes, even if it is their first offense.

19/ If a non-citizen or immigrant citizen is found with a weapon, in public, then their entire household including citizen offspring shall be deported. Even a box cutter, a pocket knife, a stick, or any sort of weapons while out in public. All non-citizens and immigrant citizens must always be completely disarmed while in public, or the whole family gets deported.

20/ Where immigrants kill or go on crime sprees, these should get the electric chair. This is best for immigrants because it increases the will to help more people.

21/ Non-citizens shall not be allowed to come to our nation and work as prostitutes, or in gambling or criminal enterprise. All foreign prostitutes shall get 3-years in work camp and then they shall be deported after they have served their time in work camp.

22/ Where we allow low-skill immigrants to enter our nation's homeland, we shall require that they everyone demonstrate that they can hold onto a job for at least a couple years working for a non-immigrant company either overseas or in one of our foreign worker zones like Mexas and Niagara.

23/ Here is how immigration works: The immigrant must be motivated. Especially if they are moving somewhere nice that is in high demand. So everyone who moves to one of these better countries might have to watch 2,000, or even 6,000 hours of media, and they might also have to read a lot of material. But people have to work to get into the best places.

24/ Government shall never favor foreigners over citizens. Where foreigners commit crimes in our land, they must be deported after they serve their time in lockup. There shall be no reduced penalties for not understanding our culture or for mental illness or for a tragic background. Where foreigners are ungrateful or obnoxious, they should also be deported.

25/ Where immigrants and especially Exhods savagely beat our people, and where they strike frail elders, or young women, or mothers, or children, or they commit rape, or use clubs or blades, or firearms on our people, they shall often times be executed.

26/ Immigrants and Exhods that participate in giant riots may be shot to death one and all who participate in the riot.

NR'200. NOME ADOPTION OF IMMIGRANTS

1/ Once the camp immigrants have completed their education modules, they can be adopted by a Nome. Once adopted, they will be allowed to move to their Centi-Nome's adoption dorms, where they will get a bunk and kitchen lockers while they work and save money. Immigrants will be able to come and go at will from the adoption dorms, except during lights out.

2/ In order to leave the island immigration camp, all immigrants must be adopted by a Nome. All camp immigrants shall owe their adopting Nome and community a debt of fealty for adopting them (and their family if applicable), and helping them to settle in their community. All shall be grateful to their new neighbors, and all shall be required to work harder than the people welcoming them.

3/ All camp immigrants shall be expected to be grateful to their hosts. This shall however, not include tolerance of crime, injustice, or abuse by the people of their adopting Nome. All immigrants shall be supervised by their neighborhood Nome and judged by their adoptive Centi-Nome.

4/ No sort of migrant shall never be given any sort of housing from government, other than bunks in dormitories. Adopting Nomes may however have nicer lodgings for trained, employed and vetted migrants.

5/ If a majority of the citizens in their Nome elect them as problematic. Their case shall be sent for judgement by the 200 Sub-Senators of their Centi-Nome. These Centi-Nomes shall be permitted to cancel Exhod adoptions for the reasons allowed by the National Senate, and for 20 years after adoption.

6/ Thus immigration management will be extremely granular and a matter decided by the citizens that the Immigrants live among. We do this so that karma is a powerful motivating force for all our Immigrants. We also do this so people in communities will be more empowered and thus welcome immigrants a bit more. This requirement of best behavior from the immigrants shall be seen by all as an insignificant price to pay for a new life.

7/ All camp immigrants shall be expected to eagerly take the jobs their Nome finds them until they can find another approved job on their own. Camp immigrants that get fired or that don't apply themselves to their job may be sent back to the offshore immigration camp for remedial work training as well as remedial education and remedial cultural training. They also may be sent back where they came from if they get violent or otherwise genuinely mess up.

8/ Immigrants and especially Exhods shall have lower search and seizure protections than citizens. The Security Sluice may elect to have regular searches of immigrant groups and immigrant areas that become a hotbed of trouble.

9/ All immigrant females shall undergo education programs informing them of their female rights in our nation.

10/ There shall be no up-front charge for living in any immigration camp or adoption dorm. And if an immigrant goes back, there shall be no debt. The people who stay shall however, have to pay the cost of their camp stay and adoption dorm stay.

11/ No Exhods shall be given money from government. They shall only be given free education, barracks or dormitory housing, and ingredient stamps for a time.

12/ Centi-Nome adoption dorms shall be same-sex dormitories just like the immigration camps. The men's dorms and the women's dorms shall be at least 1-km apart, and neither sex shall enter the other sex's dorm.

13/ Exhod and refugee camps, as well as adoption dorms may be located in tsunami and flood zones.

14/ Until 2035.01.01, all Exhods shall pay their 43-hour monthly tax to their adoptive county, however, this shall not apply in the first 6-months of their adoption. This tax money is intended to offer an incentive for rapid adoption by Centi-Nomes. It is also intended to humble all Exhods, and make them realize that they owe a debt to the people who opt to adopt them to their community as suppliants.

15/ Nothing makes it harder to have more immigration than violent immigrants. That is why people on both sides are supposed to report any hint of bad behavior on the part of an immigrant, because everyone has to be happy happy with their new countrymen.

16/ Except for dormitories which share bathrooms and kitchens, no housing shall be provided to non-citizens for free. If the foreigners are unable to find both work and housing, then they must go back where they came from or find a third country to live in.

NR'201. OUR BORDER WITH MEXICO

1/ We shall remember the words of John F. Kennedy:

"To our sister republics south of our border, we offer a special pledge--to convert our good words into good deeds--in a new alliance for progress--to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty."

2/ Clearly there is no point to a tall wall. There exist extension ladders that can be put on a pickup truck and carried by a man or two that can reach the 4th floor. And people can use a drone to carry a rope to the top, to pull a cable, to pull a ladder up to the top of the wall. So people can quickly put up ladders no matter how high we build our wall. So, we are going to switch to using multi day hikes in places where nearly all roads are run parallel to the border. Thus the illegal border crossers all must spend a couple days in the desert on their hikes. This makes it extremely likely that nearly all of them will get caught. So most people will stop trying.

3/ With regard to border security our mantra should be: "The more time, the illegals are in the capture zone, the greater our chances of catching them." Towards this end, our southern border shall have two barrier walls down its entire length. And there shall always be two checkpoints to enter our nation via its southern border zone. The outer border is 5 to 10-km inside from our nation's actual border line, at least at first. We can always widen our US-side border zone later if we need to. But the inner wall might be 50 to 100km inside the border. So crossing the border becomes a 75km hike in the desert with some barriers, this is almost 24 hours of hiking for everyone, unless they are going to start running. This is to long to hide from the constant flow of AI infra-red drones.

4/ This area shall be called Mexas, which rhymes with Nexus. We shall create a US foreign worker zone on our side of Mexas. Mexas shall not be a nation, or a permanent domicile, but only a temporary jurisdiction for reasons economic and temporary worker convenience in light of rebuilding our economy and for national security. Mexas, along with Niagara, Cape Breton, and perhaps Vancouver island shall not be considered completely part of our nation in every way. With regard to laws related to temporary workers, labor unions, and matters of paying more money for on the job injuries than the foreign worker would get back home if he was injured on the job back home. Also, in Mexas there is no voting, or Nomes, or elections. All of our people in Mexas, Niagara, etc. must return home or absentee vote on voting day. Also there is only leasing to the highest bidders in Mexas, (up to 25 years) and no property ownership.

5/ In the Mexas zone, our nation's employers can hire foreign workers that are not allowed to cross the hard inside border and enter the main part of our nation. Thus we shall have much more relaxed worker visa requirements in Mexas. Also, the workers need not come from from the Americas.

6/ Except around San Diego, both sides of Mexas (US and Mexico) will have foreign worker zones that extends perhaps 10km away from the border. Then farther from the border, on the US side, there will be a large no-man's-land, a mostly closed area will have ranching and farming by deputized and armed military and police retirees and their families living in clusters on roads parallel to the border. Government puts in roads and utilities and auctions off home lots with ranch land to eligible people. Whenever an alien is captured, the 7/ The Mexas no-man's land shall be ~280km thick and into the US at Matamoros and ~210 km thick and into the US at Big Bend. However at San Ysidro, the US side non-man's land will be outside the US/ Mexico border (more on this later) On the Mexico side, Mexas shall start as all parts north of the middle of Saltillo. This is most of Norteno Mexico.

8/ Mexas shall generally include the currently majority Hispanic areas in the US that are contiguous with the border. This is roughly the old counties of: El Paso TX, Hudspeth TX, Culberson TX, Reeves TX, Jeff Davis TX, Pecos TX, Presidio TX, Brewster TX, Terrell TX, Valverde TX, Crockett TX, Edwards TX, Real TX, Kinney TX, Uvalde TX, Maverick TX, Zavala TX, Frio TX, Dimmit TX, La Salle TX, Webb TX, Duval TX, Jim Wells TX, Neuces TX, Kleberg TX, Zapata TX, Jim Hogg TX, Brooks TX, Kennedy TX, Starr TX, Hidalgo TX, Cameron TX, Hidalgo NM, Luna NM, Dona Ana NM, the Grant NM county panhandle. Santa Cruz AZ, Yuma AZ, and Imperial CA. In the Texas area, the Mexas zone shall run roughly along the inner tips of these counties. So Hondo Texas will be just inside of Mexas. In San Diego CA, Mexas shall include the entire area south of the Otay River, and the Otay reservoir, until; the new MCRD base at highway 94.

9/ The following cities shall be in Mexas: El Centro, Yuma, Tucson, Las Cruces El Paso, and Corpus Christi. On the other hand, San Antonio and Monterrey shall not be in Mexas. Again, the key to an effective border barrier is not the height of the wall, but the distance between the two walls.

10/ Additional immigration checkpoints shall be allowed in our nation up to 300km from the southern border.

11/ As we want to eliminate the criminal element from the Mexico side of our border, going forward, we shall only give water, electricity, and access to those honest uses in Mexico that our Senate approves, such as factories and housing for registered workers. All of these must be a minimum distance from our border.

12/ Visas to enter Mexas and work shall be easily to obtain for people from many parts of the world. However, no visas to Mexas shall be granted where the nation has an annual homicide rate that is over 25 per 100,000 annually, or they are a nation that gets caught lying about their homicide rate. These nations are just too violent for us to allow. Over time, the Senate shall lower and lower the allowable homicide rate. Also, the Senate shall lower this number over time.

13/ The southern wall of our Mexas no-go zone shall be set back up to 20 km from the actual border in some places. Except for deputies and other people participating in the border security system, there shall be no use of the no-go-zones, except along the 7 high-security crossing-corridor rail lines that cross the US/ Mexico border.

14/ There shall only be 7 crossings into the US through its southern border: San Ysidro, Otay, Yuma, Nogales, El Paso, and the two main Pan-American crossings in south Texas. In Mexas, there shall be no other roads except for these main, well patrolled crossing roads, and other roads which must be mostly parallel to the border. (The term mostly parallel shall mean any road that 5x more parallel to the border than it is perpendicular to it as measured in 10km increments. So the people invading our nation, either as unarmed hoards or as armed invaders, will not be able to use our own roads to invade us, except for the 7 well-defended entry roads/ railroads.

15/ In order to maximize the value of Mexas we shall have a variety of jurisdictional zones in Mexas.

a/ The northern part of Mexas shall be under US rule of law, US financing, US taxation, US ownership, US management.
b/ Some of this land will be in our nation, and south of this will be land that is in Mexico, and owned by Mexicans that also uses US rule of law, US financing, US taxation, US ownership, US management but there is Mexican ownership and the taxes are paid to Mexico.

c/ Then further south there will be the part under Mexican rule of law, Mexican financing, Mexican taxation, Mexican ownership ownership, and Mexican management.

16/ We will maximize the part of Baja converted to Southern California, the land given by Mexico to the US in the Ensenada strip. (north of a line between Ensenada and the Gadsden corner) This is because Baja land is practically worthless in comparison to Southern California land. So this change in land jurisdiction creates much more value for the entire value proposition of Mexas. To do this, we shall firstly put all of the Baja California peninsula (the area west of Sonota) under US control with regard to identity verification, entry permits, and getting out, moving goods around, rule of law and doing business.

17/ All of Baja California shall be part of Mexas. This shall be predominantly 4 areas:

a/ The San Diego coastal climate of the north.

b/ The green mountain areas of the north.

c/ The Toxic industry area of Vizcaino.

d/ The somewhat green warm climate of the southern tip of the peninsula.

18/ The net income for the land leases throughout Baja California (except the Ensenada Strip between the Gadsden corner and Hussongs's Cantina in Ensenada shall be split 50/50 between the US and Mexico, with the US providing all the security and administration services. The US shall get all of the income from the Ensenada strip area which shall now be new US territory ceded by Mexico. The eastern part of Mexas called Mexi-Tex will be about industry, and the western part of Mexas (called Mexi-Cali) will be more about hospitality, and office workers and nice climate.

19/ The magic recipe for the success of Mexas shall be thought to be US rule of law, US financial system, US management, US companies, US taxation, and US policing in areas that are an easy, safe well-connected place for people to come and work temporarily, perhaps being hired long term and given US immigration status as a result. Another thing that will help to bring value to Mexas is if we allow Americans to carry guns in all US parts of Mexas, but not foreigners as is our policy elsewhere.

20/ Mexico has been completely squandering to the immense potential of northern Baja. This place with its famous San Diego climate, business-favoring Mexas location, a new rail transit system connecting to San Diego. Cheap electricity, and abundant water for all indoor uses shall now be safe and reliable, and much more valuable for Mexico.

21/ The entire Baja California peninsula shall be relocated/ and bulldozed (except some factories and tourist areas) and placed under US administration, Then when it grows back, it will grow back nicer. In fact. So northern Baja will become the nicest part of Mexico, Mexico's Miami.

22/ The US shall build a pair of 7m gauge rail lines down the Baja California peninsula to Cabo San Lucas.

23/ There shall be a 20km x 120km no-man's land/ marine base (Camp Normandy) that is wide to prevent tunnels. All roads and railroads crossing north-south through Camp Normandy shall be enclosed in a river-tunnel-style concrete tube.

24/ All marines will be trained in base security and line monitoring where America has the thinnest border zone, and where America needs this this most.

25/ All the roads in the 20km zone shall be parallel to the border, except the 7 or so connector roads that run perpendicular to the border, where all the marines live, and all the immigration forces are stationed. There might also be fence mazes. Fence mazes are made from prefab metal heavy duty tempered chain link and hard to cut 10-gauge expanded metal fence panels and concertina wire here and there. These fence panels are each the size of a 12m shipping container. four of these panels are placed together and joined and partly buried in the ground, followed by a 1m gap. Then another similar 4-panel wall is set parallel and with a 4.8 meter offset for the 1-meter gaps in the walls. So these 4-panel sections are offset like brick wall layers. So for each 4.8 meters someone progresses on their trek into our nation, they must walk horizontally another 48 meters. This results in a 12-fold increase in the distance that must be traveled to enter our nation illegally. And it isn't really worth cutting the fence panels because people can just walk the 48 meters instead of cutting one expanded metal fence panel after another, and the panels will just get replaced anyway. And the people found cutting our border defenses all get 20-years in a work camp. Also, the panels are supposed to be made of hardened chain link, and expanded metal, so multiple different tools are needed to get through. Also the distance between the panels must be large enough so that it is not practical to walk on trusses placed on the top of the walls. There might also be other obstacles like random concertina wire and concrete and rebar debris, and various forms of irrigated cactus deep within our fence mazes in places that cannot be reached except by foot. There must also be a few parallel to the border roads in our fence maze areas for our forces to reach and intercept the illegal border crossers we spot with our border surveillance drones. The fence maze segments will be transported in W-form 4-panel fold ups. These shall be inserted in a narrow ditch with trench and backfilled with 1.5-sack concrete made from local soil.

26/ All the people who work for INS and the Marines of Camp Normandy, are all supposed to get around and watch what the other border security people are doing, and get into everyone else's business around the border, and this should be thought a good paradigm for everyone in government. This way everyone supervises everyone else and there is more light over-all. This way, with many people visiting from other parts of the agency/organization, it is much easier to get caught engaging in corrupt practices.

27/ The entire 20km zone shall be a Marine Corps base. MCRD shall be moved here, along with another 10,000 marines that should be stationed here at any given time. Thus all the illegal crossers (that cross here) shall also be thought to be trespassing on a military base in addition to entering our nation illegally. This is how we deal with San Diego having grown right up to the Mexican border and the security problem that it creates.

28/ The Marines will train patrolling the land border day and night. They will also use shore boats to find crossers at the mouth of the Tijuana river (which will no longer be an open sewer.). The 20km zone is 120km long. Half or more of all Marine activities will be taking place in the western most 1/3 of the zone due to the nearby cover for hiding that the city of San Diego provides. Also, the Tijuana river valley shall be excavated to the low tide elevation almost back to Planicie and BC 201/ the Corredor 2000 Tijuana Rosarito. This is to discourage tunneling. We will also have all the police forces, the militia and all divisions of the military also patrolling or inspecting the the Mexas border crossing and not only border patrol. If we don't have the overlapping scrutiny, then we have to worry about people corrupting our border patrol officers.

29/ The normal penalty for illegally crossing into our nation shall be three times higher where illegal immigrants are caught on one of our nation's military bases (like our high security Camp Normandy joint marine and Naval base occupying the entire 20km zone) Foreigners caught breaking into our military bases, especially the high security bases, will get 3x as many lockup years.

30/ The jurisdiction of the Border Patrol shall be highway 125 in the west at the built edge of San Diego. And in the east it shall be the gulf coast. There is a big overlap by design. Also the way border patrol monitors, catches and processes illegal crossers will be different.

31/ The US and Mexico will cooperate for everyone's benefit. Mexico will give the US the Ensenada strip. Then the US will spend a whole bunch of money on construction right next to Mexico on a new second San Diego city.

Thus the US will get a new second zillion dollar San Diego city to sell off, and Mexico will get a whole new upscale region to sell off, from mile 45 until about mile 270 near Chapala. This will be a massive asset for Mexico.

32/ It is thought that the Mexicans will make a great deal of money helping the Americans to build out the Ensenada strip, many times more money than without ceding the Ensenada strip to the US.

33/ Tijuana and all the other border places will become much more controlled, including pollution, worker safety, crime and smuggling. So all the crime and mafia will be almost completely eliminated. And certain parts of Mexas will be under US policing and the US rule of law, with Mexico getting intelligence briefings. This is so that Mexico can create more value for its property. And the near Tijuana areas of Mexas will have the famous San Diego climate. Thus the Mexico area can have resorts and vacation homes (on higher-up earthquake slip foundations) near the ocean, and far past Ensenada to as far south as perhaps San Quintin. It would be nothing to glom this new Miami of Mexico onto the popular perception of San Diego. After-all Tijuana and San Diego are already joined together for many tourists.

34/ Mexico shall give the US those portions of the Baja California Mexico peninsula north of the line passing between the symbolic Hussongs Cantina and the southeast Gadsden corner of the US/Mexico border.

35/ In the southern California region, we are going to stop using water for wasteful long-distance irrigated agriculture, except perhaps for dry-season emergency supplementations involving perennial crops and orchards. Also, there shall be no more lawns in southern California. Thus there should be enough water for all the new people living in Northern Baja California.

36/ Baja California shall have one of North America's main toxic/dirty industry zones on the Vizcaino sub-peninsula of the Baja California peninsula, Vizcaino shall have a central up-wind, fresh-air distribution system for all inside areas. It shall have 4 air intakes around the combined dirty zone. Thus we have an X of inlets that is perhaps 100 km in any direction. Then we use fresh air pumps from one corner or the other, depending on the direction of the wind. And all the facilities are hooked up to this fresh air grid, this lightly pressurized fresh air grid. With giant air ducts, running all over the industrial community. Each facility that needs fresh breathable air for its workers takes its air from the fresh air system. There shall also be satellite residential communities on the east side of the Baja peninsula. These are places like San Ignacio (150km away). Either that, or they will stay indoors, breathing pumped air, in an otherwise air-tight environment. Also, all of the new buildings on the Pacific Plate are supposed to be made on concrete sled foundations, and these will have short shear-over trailer feet to level the structure. And if there is a second floor, it must be lightweight. And the sled gets pointed in the direction of quake movement.

37/ The Reserva de la Biosfera El Vizcaino shall be cancelled and turned into an oil extraction reserve and oil refinery zone. North America's main maximum security jail island shall be on Cedros Island, near Vizcaino.

38/ We have to put our polluting industry somewhere. So let's put it in places that are far away as practical from good land where people live and grow food. Also, the winds should be blowing the air pollution out to sea and the water pollution likewise far out to sea in the much more lifeless deserts of the mid ocean. Also, the oceans with their corrosive salt water and massive scale shall be though the ideal location for air pollution and water pollution to go. Deep in the ocean some miles offshore. Vizcaino shall be thought an ideal polluting industry location for North America because the biome is so poor for hundreds of miles in any direction, along with the eastern side of Cape Bretton Island and the Cape Cod peninsula. We certainly don't want our polluting industry in the middle of Kansas or in Idaho's magic valley.

39/ The area south and west of Monument-40 on the US/ Mexico border, near Hachita NM shall be for mildly dirty industry such as coal burning. All the dirty waste, the electronics, the used oil, the industrial waste, the nuclear waste shall be encapsulated and sent to the dump on the hills of the Vizcaino peninsula. The portion between Monument-40 and El Paso shall be reserved for less dirty industry, with the part closest to El Paso being for the least dirty industry. This remote area is far from the population centers of both our nation and Mexico. We might have another dirty manufacturing zone on the Aleutian peninsula near Nelson Bay AK.

40/ Mexico shall allow foreign ownership in its townships, anywhere in the country. Also, as everywhere else, the lowlands shall be for the 300kph to 500kph transport system, the warehouses, the restaurants and bars and beaches and tourist and day uses. The highlands shall be where everyone lives and most people work, and where the cities are. In less than 25 years, the whole area from Rose Canyon South to mission valley and the sports arena/ airport area and downtown San Diego and all the coastal low areas will all be abandoned and then bulldozed. Then everything under 30 meters above sea level shall be cleared of buildings.

41/ If we are going to completely start over with a new and much upgraded township based Baja California. We shall have police enforced fences between our townships. Also, nearly all of the old buildings will be removed so it will be wilderness and townships so we can assure that this area becomes another a sort of safe, upscale Miami/ Riviera spot for Mexico, with its famous San Diego climate.

42/ Tijuana's current location will become something of another San Diego, a valuable new city for the US, and also a valuable region, a new Riviera for Mexico with both new areas with the famous San Diego climate. This will be instead of today's very unsafe and low cost Tijuana. We will move everyone and all of the new people will have to qualify to enter and also there will be cantonments to keep the Mafias from coming back and again ruining Tijuana this valuable and commercially important asset of all Mexican people.

43/ There shall be a plan for condemning and deleting all the old Mexican border towns in Baja California and replacing them with townships and ID verified access. Also to be clear, everyone relocated by this program shall be free to get like-kind properties that are +25% bigger units (new factory cast stacked 21st century apartments) and within the same number of meters from the new Mexican. This provided they can verify their identity and they pass the security screening.

44/ Mexico shall have various levels of housing down to El Crucero. With the Vizcaino workers mostly living on the Sea of Cortez side of the Bahia California peninsula.

45/ Northern Baja California shall be divided into maybe 50 cantonments (containments). These micro communities keep things safe and crime free. And there will also be a paper trail of who went to which cantonment and when.

46/ Northern Baja will be something of an economic jewel of Mexico. On one hand, it is next to southern California and rapidly reached by high speed trains. On the other hand the climate is famously nice. It also will have both abundant cheap electricity and soon all the indoor water anyone needs.

47/ The Parque Nacional Sierra de San Pedro Martir, and the Parque Nacional Constitución de 1857, and the hills to the north and west of Baja California should be for township developments. In fact all of the prettiest locations in Baja should be used for townships, like everywhere else.

48/ Mexico will get many new settlers that will be working in Mexas.

49/ All the nations of North America (Between the US border and the Panama canal) must submit to US suzerainty with regard to immigration and visitors. These nations shall only only allow visitors and immigrants that are not on the US anti-terrorism list, or from certain rogue nations that the US prohibits, or have been previously deported from North America. Thus, all the North American nations will be in the more valuable place inside both the US commercial zone and the US anti-terrorism zone.

50/ Mexico will be giving a large amount of Mexas land to the US to manage in perpetuity, because this creates value for everyone. Thus, Mexico will thus transform its problematic and far-away northern border liability into an asset.

51/ To be clear, on the US side (except around San Diego) the northern Mexas wall shall be built well into US territory. On the Mexican side, the Southern Mexican fence shall run through the middle of Saltillo. Thus the border zone will become quite thick and hard to cross. This especially given how all the roads (even the dirt roads will run parallel to the border, except the 7 well-patrolled roads that run perpendicular to the border.

52/ Most of the Mexas worker housing will probably be on the Mexican side, built on land long-term leased from Mexico's Public Property Sluice for up to 25 years. Except for the Ensenada strip (which shall be ceded to the US), all parts of the Baja California peninsula will remain as Mexico, however it will be under US jurisdiction for law-enforcement, for entry and exit, and for the courts. The Ensenada strip shall now be US territory in every way.

53/ In Mexas, the housing will assume long days at work. It will be based on Singapore-style hawker centers, and dwellings with no kitchens. Some people will share to save more, others will not. Except in northern Baja, all US development will go near the border, so there is a large no-man's land to cross to get from the populous parts of Mexas into regular US territory.

54/ We shall have at least dozens of security cantonments all along the southern border on the US side of Mexas. And Mexico likewise. This is so that we can better track all the people. Every person going into Mexas has to wear a QR code, carry a tracker phone, be ID registered, and have a reason to enter each cantonment they enter. So the US side of Mexas will be totally accessible to the workers there, but not for anyone else.

55/ The national government shall relocate much of the nation's industry that uses large numbers of foreigners or immigrants to one of our nation's foreign worker zones such as: Mexas, Niagara, Cape Bretton island, or Vancouver island. All of these areas shall also have more upscale districts for the families of managers and for tourism.

We are not going to absorb or take over Latin America, but we are going to integrate it much more into the US economy, 56/ Many people will work in Mexas, Niagara, Cape Bretton, or Vancouver Island, and then they will go back home with some money they have saved. The potential for promotion and eventual invitation for US immigration will give our foreign worker zones a definite advantage over those of many other nations. Mexico should have hundreds of train loops from the Mexas border zone into all parts of the Norteno zone.

57/ Everyone in Mexas or one of our nation's other industrial zones (citizens and foreigners) shall be required to carry a tracker device such as a telescreen at all times while in the special zone. It is thought that adding tracking to the border zone will help beat the crime that so plagues the area, and keeps the US tourists away.

58/ There shall be concertina topped 4m concrete walls isolating the various cantonments.

59/ Only citizens, tourists, and multi-entry visa holders or better shall be allowed to cross overland from Mexas back into the rest of our nation. Everyone else must either fly, or come overland via a sealed carrier from a point more than 200km away from the border.

60/ Regarding all the people who have come from another nation and have lived in Mexas, Niagara, Cape Breton, Vancouver Island, or any other foreign worker zone (Including those people born in these zones, or in our nation): All these people and their offspring shall never acquire any immigration or visitor status for the main part of the US.

61/ All immigrants currently living in the Mexas zone shall not be thought to have not settled far enough away from the border to validate their immigration rights. So these shall now lose their immigration status, even if they have become citizens. Their status shall now be converted to Mexas status and they can no longer freely travel to the main part of the US.

62/ We shall all note how previously, our southern border crisis was set precisely at the point where the better people were afraid to come, and only the people fearless of rape came. Otherwise, it was very hard to get in to the US. This shall be thought of as the enemies of freedom acting against our nation and its corruptible democracy and making it so that our government did the worst thing possible for our nation in regard to immigration policy. This is a clear indication that our old government was entirely corrupt.

63/ Immigrants shall not be allowed work as border guards, or in the border security administration, or in immigration, or security in Mexas, Niagara, or Cape Bretton island, Vancouver island, or in our parts of Mexas. They shall also not work in our immigration approval administration or in any immigration departments. Also, our immigration department shall all use computer translations and there will be no more translators.

64/ Foreign workers in our foreign worker zones such as Mexas and Niagara and Cape Bretton shall have fewer worker's rights than foreign workers in the the main part of our nation. Foreign workers in our foreign worker zones shall not be allowed to own real estate, and must eventually go back home. And if they are injured, they get no more disability money than they would back home.

65/ Recruiting the best workers from Mexas shall be thought an ideal way to find quality new Americans. It will also help companies assure a quality workforce in both Mexas and in the rest of our nation. It will also greatly help the economy of all Latin America.

66/ The Mexas approach is better than the current Mexico-based maquiladora approach in many ways. This is because on our own land, we can much better control our investments, our working conditions, our pollution, and our product quality, among other things. All we really need is access to inexpensive labor and inexpensive housing and inexpensive food for that inexpensive labor. Also the Mexas system is designed to work well with the new increased selectiveness of our nation with regard to employability of new immigrants.

67/ The lodging and worker food systems in Mexas should be operated mostly by the Mexico side including the abundance of food hawker stalls designed into the system.

68/ The global economy is now going to have a big war economy without a war. This might last a decade or two, but soon robotics and AI are going to reduce the number of people working in various places throughout the economy. This will result in millions of excess worker units in the world's foreign worker zones. These worker units will be ideal for temporary refugees to come and work in, and make money to buy their way in somewhere else.

69/ We are going to start running much if not most lower-skilled immigration via Mexas, Cape Breton, Niagara and perhaps Vancouver Island, and parts of Alaska. Here we will take our pick of the people who come and demonstrate their ability to do the work and hold a job and save some money. Some of these people who are aiming for citizenship recruitment will take a variety of citizenship classes. Thus we have a new way to do international migration based on hard work, learning and savings.

70/ We will make our money in Mexas on renting land for factories and housing, not on income taxes. There shall be no US income tax for foreigners that come as low-skilled workers to our foreign worker zones. There might however be a basic care mandatory workers healthcare insurance premium required. But the wages shall not be taxed. Also, the companies and the skilled workers may be taxed. However, the unskilled workers shall not be taxed.

71/ We're not as a country developing Mexas for money, but for its strategic benefits, and the defense benefits of having a robust manufacturing base in our own homeland. We as a nation find it that we need more of an industrial base to stay viable militarily, and Mexas will help us with this. So until we develop Mexas, we will keep it tax free. Then once Mexas is established, we will then might charge various fees and rents as the senate elects.

72/ When long distance workers buy their air ticket into Mexas, this includes the cost of a flight back. When Mexas workers from Africa and South America cant find work and must go back from Mexas, they can stop in either Azteca airport or Hispanola airport at no charge.

73/ Mexas, Niagara, and Cape Bretton will all be marked by their high standards for workers. Hispanola and its Gonave peninsula will be marked by its low standards, and Azteca will be in the middle. So many migrants will opt to take a free stop there on their way home if they can't find work in Mexas. Some will stop for a second chance in Azteca and some will stop on Hispanola. And there will not only be factories and work a short train ride away, but there will also recruiting. In Azteca, it will be mostly Mexican companies. In Hispanola, it will be mostly South American and African companies. Both Hispanola and Azteca airports shall have trains to the nearby employment convention centers. In Azteca and many other places, it will be between the hub airport and the rail system hub.

74/ Mexas shall have an enclosed employment market township between the McAllen main Mexas airport and the main train station. This will have Some luxury hotels, along with a big range of typical worker housing units of various sizes. All together, there shall be about 10 lodging designs for shared lodging, 10 designs for single people, and 10 for families. Some places will have more of one kind and less of others.

But these worker units will all be identical throughout Mexas and all the other foreign worker zones worldwide for a decade. Then we may upgrade. The uniformity will keep costs down, and people will sometimes get the same unit in a different place. The year-round employment convention here will start as one convention hall, and should eventually become multiple convention halls. The employers shall pay nothing for using the convention facilities, provided they employ over 10 people. If they don't employ 10, they must pay half the average wage per hour they use the convention center. There will be sections for house casting, electronics, micro assembly line, big assembly line, apparel, office, financial, etc. There shall be similar labor markets for Hawaii, Niagara, Cape Breton, Andeo, Adana, Ceuta, Crimea, Singora, Calabria, The Peloponnese, and all the other similar places.

75/ All the workers in Mexas must file their international employee record number and then INS/ National Police must approve them based on their police report and other intelligence about them. Then they get issued a national employment record number, They also get a nationally insured bank account number that they get to keep for life. And we shall be happy to bank any foreigners for life, if they submit their records and come up and explore the idea of getting hired. But they need a number to buy a ticket into Mexas or one of the other foreign worker zones.

76/ All of our nation's worker zones will contribute to a global network of hundreds of employment recruiting/services spots around the world. This system will also have other government and commercial services, as well as perhaps leased secure space.

77/ All of the immigrants shall be designated as from a particular neighborhood. Each neighborhood shall have a rating dependent on their average number of disciplinary incidents and deportations. If the problem level goes too high for a neighborhood, the all the people from that place shall be excluded. By this practice, we make most migrants a bit more afraid of ruining things for their people that come here after them.

78/ Many US companies will recruit from Mexas and Niagara and Cape Bretton. There will be a similar process going on for Songkhla, Ceuta, Crimea, and other places. First you work for the company overseas, then you get your immigration, if they like you.

79/ We shall phase out Mexican vehicles from entering our nation and force all the people and freight onto the the new highly automated rail system once it exists. Once the rail system is built, we shall start charging $100 to inspect all vehicles being brought into the US, be they motorcycles or semi trucks. Then 6 months later, we will double that price, and 6-months later double it again, and so forth, until we completely phase out foreign vehicles at our border crossings. This will make our crossings much easier to manage. People (even citizens) shall not be allowed to drive personal vehicles between cantonments in Mexas at will. They will have to state a reason at the various ID checkpoints for crossing between cantonments, and for crossing between the US side and Mexas.

80/ Whenever or not the volume of undocumented immigrants/invasers is declared an emergency by the Senate, all or some of the nation's borders can be closed by the Senate at its election.

81/ There shall be no constitutional prohibition against border patrol and border deputies shooting and using attack drones against people using the totally fenced and patrolled no-man's land to enter our nation's border zone from Mexico. Once day, we may need this right terribly. So it is best if nobody ever takes this right away from the people and their border guards.

82/ Our border guards and deputies shall always be allowed to shoot and kill and use flying attack drones on people while they are crossing illegally into our nation under the following conditions:

a/ They are armed with firearms, explosives, incendiaries, or any other sort of weapon.
b/ They greatly resist arrest using fists, or wrestling to overcome our border patrol officers.
c/ Those in the process of making holes in our nation's border protections.
d/ They are using horde tactics to overwhelm our border security forces. These must first however be shot with a barrage of rock salt or rubber bullets, from a pair or automatic shotguns before real bullets can be used.
e/ They refuse to stop while entering our nation. This shall now apply to all flying drones, but later it will apply to all civilian aircraft crossing into our nation. Mostly to control smuggling (of drugs/ people/ money) We are going to stop all international private aircraft travel, requiring that everyone use a public airport and commercial airline or air freight terminal. Once we do this, it will be a 3-year crime to pilot an airplane either into or out of our nation on an unapproved flight. All pilotless drones entering our nation from the south shall be shot down. The Senate may also empower border security forces to shoot down certain other forms of aircraft and missiles.

83/ Marines shall provide security and fire cover for immigration and customs inspection checkpoints. And many Marines should get rotation and experience here in the checkpoints, so our marines can easily run checkpoints once they have secured a place. After this, these marines participate in games where they get everyone from a community to assemble for identity verification and all the buildings are swept for hidden people and weapons.

84/ Those guiding or leading groups of illegal border crossers into our nation. These are called coyote because firstly they prey on small animals like children, and secondly because most sensible community minded people shoot them when they find them. If there was no rape or kidnapping or sex trafficking involved, they would be called guides and not coyotes.

85/ Rock salt may be used on the lower 50% of the bodies of the illegals that run away from border patrol officers.

86/ The Senate shall have the power to place explosive mines along our southern border provided the minefield is both fenced and it has bilingual and illustrated minefield warning signs every 3 meters.

87/ There shall be a program where military and police veterans are given free housing in a line or two through the no-mans-land parts of Mexas. This in exchange for them helping to keep the border secure from crossers.

88/ Regarding our nation's border patrol force:

a/ Border patrol shall always be the primary police force dedicated to halting illegal immigration and arresting illegal border crossers and illegal cantonment crossers either at the border or in our nation.

b/ All border patrol shall be considered a sort of national police.

c/ Border patrol shall always be an independent agency, and it shall always report to the Senate directly. Only the Senate shall establish guidelines for our nation's border patrol.

d/ All border patrol agents shall have a constitutional duty to capture all illegals, and no arm of government shall ever have any power over border patrol to say: "do not capture all illegal immigrants you find", or "Ignore certain illegal immigrants", or "release some illegals into the nation", or "do not patrol this part of our nation, or this part of our nation's border".

e/ All border patrol must be native born citizens.

f/ Border patrol shall be prohibited from having anything to do with registering people for immigration purposes. This sort of work shall done by INS. Border patrol shall only find, capture, identify, lockup, deport and/or handoff all illegal foreigners.

Also, the Senate shall manage the handoff process between the two divisions of government to accurately monitor the number of people being caught illegally entering our nation.

g/ US Border patrol shall patrol and secure Mexas and it shall be allowed free movement within Mexas.

h/ Senate juries at the INS (immigration and Naturalization Service) shall be the exclusive manager and authorizer of who gets to enter our nation. No other division of government, and no unelected people or individuals shall be involved with this, including the state department, which may only give information and request status for visitors. Border patrol shall be the security force that manages and secures the robotic security gates that workers (both citizens and foreigners) use to access Mexas and other zones like it.

i/ INS or immigration and naturalization shall manage the human passport verification, at the entry points to our nation. border patrol shall work to keep people from crossing illegally.

j/ Border patrol shall manage and inspect all shipments of goods in and out of Mexas and between the various security cantonments of Mexas.

k/ Mexas and our nation's other industrial zones for foreigners shall be considered Orwell zones, and there shall be many video cameras redundantly run by both border patrol and each cantonment's police force. The county recorder system backup of the Mexas video and data shall be spread-out among the various counties of the county recorder system.

89/ All main roads from our southern border shall have bolt holes embedded in concrete to fit 2" bolts that can be easily removed and replaced with barriers to slow down invaders so they can enter under fire. Also, there is supposed to be row after row of barriers near the roads, ready for placement.

90/ All the border zones shall be off-limits to small aircraft and paraglides and gliders. The Senate may elect to order the shooting down of all small aircraft illegally crossing the border.

91/ All of the underground minerals in the Mexican parts of Mexas shall remain Mexican, and likewise with the underground minerals in the US parts of Mexas. The US shall also be ceded all of the mineral rights in the Ensenada strip.

92/ The area between San Francisco and Cabo San Lucas shall now also be called the "Pacific plate hazard zone". This place like Japan, Taiwan and Australia is on the plate that is doing the moving. This, while most land areas are on places that gets moved against. Thus we realize some things about the Pacific plate hazard zone:

a/ It is on the moving side of a fault, which experiences movements and shaking that might be several times greater than the side of the fault that is moved against.

b/ This is a primary fault line between tectonic plates.

c/ It is on a lateral strike-slip, but there is clearly some subduction type pressures occurring. This particularly in the San Clemente to Point Concepcion coastline, which is close-enough to perpendicular to the ocean plate movement vector. So the San Andreas fault is not just a lateral strike-slip fault line, it is one under pressures typical of a subduction zone. d/ The Senate may decide not to allow any part of the Pacific plate to be occupied given the risk of mega earthquakes.

93/ The heavily eroded bathymetry of the Los Angeles area around Catalina and the Channel islands is definitely of note in discussing these matters.

94/ The Senate shall determine if we are going to let people to continue to occupy the Pacific plate hazard zone. must So we expect the strongest earthquakes here. And we see very high tsunami erosion patterns in lines. Therefore we should minimize the number of people living here, and indeed it shall be official policy to reduce population here. However, we might make exceptions for temporary workers and tourism and other uses, where people can go home after a disaster. Also we should probably mandate slip foundations and an elevation above 300 meters on the Pacific plate. Also nobody is going to be able to cry need when they lose their vacation vacation rental or hotel room.

95 As needed, the US will reduce its irrigated southern California agriculture grown with far-away water and instead use the water for Mexican resort and urban uses, but not for agriculture, or industry or yard plants, except recycled water.

96/ The eastern side of Mexas will be where all the mega-industry and trade will go. The western side of Mexas will be where all the micro-industry, housing, healthcare and resorts will go.

97/ As needed, we shall use fence mazes where we need to slow people down, such as along the inside of the northern Mexas wall, with the Border-patrol-only monorail on top. A fence maze consists of 3m square panels of heavy expanded metal of various sorts buried 60cm in a narrow ditch-witch trench (a giant chainsaw for the cutting trenches in soils). Also the panels have flanges that are welded together, with the weak link being that people are going to risk being shot to make multiple holes in many expanded metal panels. This instead of merely walking 90m to simply walk around the 180m long panels to the nearest gap. Thus if we have 9 meters between fences, we have a ten fold increase in the distance each border crosser must walk. So the 500m nearest the trains has people nearby for the time it takes to walk 500m.

98/ As needed, the Senate shall install rows of tall parking lot lights with both natural light and IR cameras on them along the entire border.

99/ Outsourcing long term healthcare to Mexas, Mexico, Cuba and other nations shall be thought key to dealing with the baby boom generation.

a/ Long term medical care.

b/ Assisted living/ Nursing homes

c/ High intensity rehabilitation.

d/ Alzheimers care.

e/ Live-in disability care to homes in Mexas.

f/ Drug rehab facilities.

g/ Private mental health hospitals.

h/ Hospice care.

100/ The northerly part of the Pacific Baja coast shall be for 2-story condos, offices, light clean industry, and hotel/resort uses. South of this are factory that increasingly work with the toxic Vizcaino zone still further south.

101/ All of Baja, and even southern California will have cheap power due to lax pollution standards and local oil in Vizcaino. Also, the entire west coast of Baja California shall be perforated or systematically drilled systematically for oil.

102/ Mexico shall auction-off 30-year leases, and life estates for all the land it owns in Baja California. Sell this land in Mexas and under rule of law and property rights, gun rights, and US policing/safety. Then Mexico will build the buildings, and maintain them and staff them, and provide services to the people living here. Then when the people die, Mexico shall auction off the life estates, and all these auctions are staggered over 20 years.

103/ We shall divide the San Diego bay into 3 ports with 3 separate entrances. At the north shall be North Port for pleasure craft and cruise ships. Then there is a land bridge between the Terminal street peninsula area of downtown San Diego, and the Coronado shoreline from the Coronado bridge to the Coronado Ferry Landing park. There is another similar land bridge just south of the Sweetwater river. This central port shall be called "the Navy port", or "Glorietta bay", and it is closed to the public south of the current Glorietta bay area. It also has two openings and all the ships are organized so they can rapidly get underway out of the port at a moment's notice. The southern most of the 3 ports shall be called "south port" or the "San Diego freight port" and this shall be on the border south of the Sweetwater river divider and including part of the Tijuana river basin. All the Hawaiian freight shall ship from south port. This port will offer both US and Mexican freight to Hawaii. The freight port will be of two parts (a US part and a Mexican part), both in Mexas. Both the freight port and the naval port will be high security areas, right along the border.

104/ The upper Sea of Cortez shall be thought an ideal place to pump nearby sewage to for growing shellfish that will be cooked and extracted for pet-food.

105/ Northern Baja shall two Pacific pleasure craft ports, one in Ensenada which is the more up-scale, call it "Puerto Cali" and the other at San Quintin bay, which competes more on price, "Puerto exterior", or "Puerto X".

106/ We imagine Mexas in Northern Baja as mostly nature areas dotted with townships in the famous SoCal climate. There are also lots of restaurants on the flat lands by the beach and lowland parks.

107/ Isla Angel de La Guardia in Baja California, in the Bay of California, this island shall be a work camp island. The US shall use the northern part of the island, and Mexico shall use the southern part of the island. This is a sort of work camp for people who we don't want to put in a nice place to live.

108/ The Temecula/ Murrieta valley and the Pala Indian reservation shall be used for dams and water impounding, up to where the capacity is only needed once every 3 years for water impounding. Also when we look at the location of the Pala Indian reservation we are reminded of the way the Idaho and Oklahoma panhandles have been used to hide much needed water storage facilities.

109/ We shall upgrade the following San Diego area rivers with regard to water storage capacity: San Dieguito river near Pala Indian reservation. The San Diego river east of Lakeside. This should have a dam. We can put another reservoir just east of White Cross peak on the US/Mexico border. Also Southeast of El Refugio is a large natural reservoir. Let's direct more mountain water from small streams towards Lake Henshaw and Barrett and make enlargements here as needed. Also, let's make sure that Lake Henshaw doesn't leak. It looks like it leaks. This section is included as a model for how we should be dealing with resource #1 (fresh water) in places that are too dry. Let San Diego here be a partial model. This is how we should be storing water in these semi-arid places. The more we can cheaply store, the better. We are a long way to having enough water in San Diego and Baja California.

110/ The things that we do to keep people from crossing into our nation illegally are also helping us to have a military defensible border. It is an intentional matter of defense design that we don't have many roads that run from our nation into Mexico. That we might only have a handful of roads makes it much harder to invade our country from the south.

111/ Mexico, especially the Norteno parts of Mexico, will be focused on the Mexas economy. So Sonora, Sinaloa, Chihuahua, Durango, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas should all have multiple direct 300kph connections to the Mexas zone. And the true Mexas part of Mexico might be up to say 80km from the border, or it might be all of norteno Mexico. So we imagine perhaps 50 million workers renting worker housing from Mexican landlords in and around Mexas and the Norteno areas. These provide cheap housing to the people working in US and Mexican factories in and near Mexas: These are people from all over the world. So Mexico will have a huge economic boom now. Also, it would not be surprising if most of the factory cast apartments in the southern US will come from Mexico.

112/ The Colony Ridge area in Texas shall be nationalized and bulldozed to the ground. All ownership rights in Colony Ridge shall be nationalized and the illegals evicted.

113/ In all of our nation's foreign worker zones, we shall walls and streets, and a rail system, and put in the utilities and then rent lots for factories and temporary worker housing, and related businesses. But we shall not subsidize any of our foreign workers areas except to provide various sorts of transport, security, and utilities at built cost.

114/ The rail line from Monterrey splits near Torreon, with one line going to Big Bend and the other to Chihuahua and El Paso. Many people will work in Mexas and live in the highlands of Chihuahua, Durango, Nuevo Leon and Coahuila.

115/ The main Mexas international airport shall go near Encinal Texas, where it will serve Mexas and the nearby parts of Texas and Mexico including San Antonio and Monterrey Mexico.

116/ In Mexas all worker contracts shall be organized on a sweekly or bi-sweekly basis, for 6 or 12 day periods with all employees being assigned a number 1 through 12 as their departure scheduling code. The various employers of Mexas may be required to stagger their work days, and schedule the comings and goings of their workers, so as to eliminate passenger bottlenecks on the transit system. This is to facilitate direct flights to the largest possible variety of destinations, mostly in Latin America, with some flights to Africa, Alaska, and even India.

117/ The Air force shall run a fleet of late-life passenger aircraft (final 20% of life). These shall fly non-stop from Mexas to all over latin America. These flights will fly at least once every 12 days to perhaps 100 destinations in Latin America. There shall also be daily flights from Mexas to Tijuana, and Mexas to Hispanola. also, many of the immigrants going to the Mexas main hub will travel on super-economical two-floor A380-style jets outfitted for 800 passengers each.

118/ Eventually, the Mexas air service shall be run to reach people far into the hinterlands of the Americas in both Latin America and our own remote North American hinterlands as well. This air service shall run on a on a 36-day schedule, where a very large number of airports are directly served only once every 36 days. This makes it easiest for the largest number of poor people from Latin America to come and work in Mexas. And it is most important in places where it is hard for people to get around. So we will do the same thing to some extent with Adana, Singora, Kahuna, Niagara, Azteca, Hispanola, Cape Breton, Ireland, and many other big airports. Some offering long stop-overs in their own particular form of paradise. So a person living Bakersfield can take a weekly non-stop to Kahuna airport on the big island of Hawaii or Kahuna to stay over for some nights in the Hawaiian paradise and then fly directly to say Kuching, or Miyazaki, or Chiang Mai. All arrivals from outside the continental US shall go through immigration and customs in order to leave Kahuna and fly to the US. In other words, Kahuna will be outside of the regular US immigration and import duty zone.

119/ It is ridiculous that the totalitarian kleptocratic government of Cuba exists only 105 miles from the US. Also Cuba has immense oil deposits and upwards of 40 inlets suitable for ports and aquaculture. Also, Cuba:

a/ Has an ideal Hawaii-like climate October to May, which is just what the US needs.

b/ Is very close to most of our nation.

c/ Is a nation that our nation wants to liberate.

d/ Is a good place to create our nation's substitute for Florida.

e/ Will reduce international snow-bird travel by Americans and keep much more vacation money in our nation.

f/ Is a great location for Europeans and South Americans to vacation in.

120/ On the other hand, nearly all Cubans are desperately poor and would love get some money and relocate, and start over in a place that is not impoverished by being on an island. Therefore, we shall buy the Cuban people of their land for 12-month's US wages (~$67,000 tax free) to no more than 11-million Cubans for their land and their island. Also, it must be noted that this payment is in an environment of abundant township lots and factory made housing. Thus the US gets the island of Cuba with its ideal winter climate, its many ports, its oil fields, its aquaculture areas, and its proximity to our nation. Also, it is better to move the Cubans into another Latin American nation than to try to rebuild Cuba as a capitalistic place

121/ The Cubans get the money they need to relocate somewhere else in Latin America and live better than before. Then the US recovers its spending by creating a replacement for low-lying Florida (although one on the distal edge of a subduction fault).

122/ Cuba's immense oil reserves make it too dangerous to work as an independent island. If we don't intervene, Arab oil interests will continue to ruin Cuba the way the ruined Venezuela and before that, Vietnam.

123/ Around half of Cuba shall be another Mexas type foreign worker area that permits easy working and vacations by foreigners. The other half shall be regular US territory with regard to immigration. So construction workers, domestic workers, care givers and healthcare people will be able to come in much more easily. In fact, most of the new improvements in Cuba (Just like in northern Baja shall be mostly built by Latino workers.

124/ Cuba also becomes a minor hub of travel between the US and South America, Africa, and Even Europe.

125/ Due to tsunami and hurricane risk/cost, low-lying Florida shall no longer be thought fit for even retirement housing.

126/ The amphibious Bay of Pigs invasion was quite ridiculous when we consider how the US already had a large military base and port on the island (Guantanamo).

127/ Cuba's oil, indeed all Caribbean Sea oil, being right next to our massively important Panama canal: All this oil should be viewed as the free world's main antidote to OPEC pricing power. This and our merchant marine, and our fleet of late-life near-scrap-value oil tankers will be how we keep OPEC from rising again. This fleet of merchant marine tankers shall be thought to be just about the cheapest way to keep OPEC and its reincarnations down. We will keep these tanker ships out of the water around our great lakes in a secure naval base area.

128/ Most ships will use the free virtual canal service. This will greatly cut down on the number of ships that actually need to use the Panama canal.

129/ There may be Mexican, American, and international healthcare providers on both sides of Mexas.

130/ All the modern unmarked burial sites along the Mexican border must be excavated and studied by a crime-laboratory.

131/ Except at Marine Corps bases, only native born citizens can guard the border.

132/ Around Panama, the first priority for all of the freshwater runoff is use in the canal locks. Also, the existing water system must be checked for sabotage whenever the available water declines. Panama is a high priority sabotage area for the Red Sea people. Also, we shall research the idea of using a canal that is at sea level.

44/ The US territorial parts of Mexas shall be treated as any other part of the US with regard to the justice system, financial system, healthcare system, the stock market and SEC. However, foreigners will be allowed to come in with more ease and lower cost. Perhaps they will not have to pay the foreign worker levy that must be paid in the rest of the nation.

As a matter of economic aid, we shall try to offer no-liability SEC review, accounting and auditing to all of the larger enterprises in Mexas, on both sides. As with our own stock exchange, our government shall not be required to pay anything if it makes a mistake, or misses a criminal.

45/ Mexico shall have two stock exchanges. The "Norteno exchange" in Monterrey shall be for the Mexas area and northern Mexico, and the other in Azteca, is the Central exchange, which is more for Mexican domestic enterprises.

The stock exchange for the American side of Mexas shall be in Texas City. Foreign and domestic companies doing business in Mexas must be headquartered in either Monterrey or Texas City, or Chula Juana, or New Diego.

NR'202. UNDERPOPULATED CANADA

1/ It should be noted that no part of Newfoundland is north of London. So Canada remains an immense uninhabited frontier. Also, due to the advent of rail-based township living, with its interior hallways, people will be able to tolerate more extreme weather.

2/ The geography of the old Canadian border shall be thought to be downright obstructionist to the United States and the world:

a/ The way New Brunswick cuts off the end of America's Maine, or main peninsula definitely look like like it was created by the enemies of freedom/America. All of these lands south of the Saint Lawrence Seaway (now renamed the great American inlet).

b/ The way the Toronto peninsula cuts off the route between Michigan and New York: That also definitely look like like it was created by the enemies of freedom/America.

c/ The way the Cape Breton natural port is not in US territory: That also definitely look like like it was created by the enemies of freedom/America.

d/ The way Canada with a mere 40-million people on half a continent has absolutely squandered its potential for resettling great numbers of people.

e/ The way that Vancouver Island The way most Canadians live very close to our border.

3/ There is almost no cultural or linguistic difference between our nation and Canada. There is also how nearly all of the Canadian people live clustered near our border. Indeed, 70% of Canada's population lives south of the 49th parallel. There is also the way that Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City and and Victoria are all south of the 49th parallel. There is also how the sparsely populated parts of Canada should be used for immigrants and this is not happening. There is also how Canada has only 11% of our population but around half of north America's land.

4/ All the parts of Ontario east of Sudbury shall be the land of the new nation of Toronto. All of the land south and west of the Ottawa river shall be the land of the new nation of Toronto. All the parts to the east shall be the nation of Quebec. A line connecting Beaupre to Eastman shall be the border of Quebec and East Quebec.

5/ The totally underpopulated, far-eastern part of Canada east of Quebec shall be reserved for the resettlement of fine people from Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Korea. We shall give land to these fine nation, so they re-settle in communities. These nations shall rule over their own immigration with the US having suzerainty or a veto right over everyone entering and immigrating. If they want to leave there their lands prone to earthquakes, volcanos, and tsunamis at the far end of the world, and come and live in North America, in our new Newfoundland, which will include all of the old Newfoundland province and parts of eastern Quebec. It shall be thought that the people of these four fine nations have a duty to get the great global relocation under way. All of the fine people of these nations are invited to relocate in groups, in townships and mid sized nations of their own people to this new land. We shall simply give away this land to get these fine hard working people to resettle and join the North American endeavor on our continent in the middle of the world between North America and Europe. This area shall be offered to the people of Japan, Taiwan, South Korea, and Hong Kong if they wish resettle together in numbers exceeding 60-million people as a new nation under its own democratic government. It is thought that the North American enterprise will be more powerful and less vulnerable with these fine people joining us. It is also thought that these nations will do better in this location than their current locations which suffer from tsunamis, earthquakes, volcanos, and brutally hot summers.

6/ The parts of the outer Gaspé peninsula out past highway 299 shall be given to the Israelis for resettlement if they vote and all agree to move to America obey and completely forsake awful Arabia and all connections to the parasitic sphinx economy of the world. Also, our nation shall welcome all of the Jews of Israel to its land except the felons, and to the Gaspé Peninsula, but it shall no longer spend any money on securing the old location of Israel. The Jews have all moved many times over the centuries, and now they shall have to move again, and hopefully for good this time.

7/ The nearby area bound by highways 299, 17 and 85 shall be reserved for immigrants from Taiwan and Hong Kong if these are going to mostly resettle here. Both nations shall have 5 years to elect to resettle en masse to this peaceful place that is more at the center of world trade, and abandon their old remote places vulnerable to tsunamis, earthquakes, and volcanoes, and next to belligerent China. It shall be thought that moving the famously industrious people of Japan, Taiwan, and Israel is also one of the best ways to get the great global relocation underway. And a good way to benefit our nations. Most of the Hong Kong people shall also be allowed to relocate and to settle in the Taiwan zone.

8/ The regional airport and the main train interchange for the Maine peninsula shall go west of Fredericton. This has sealed (East Berlin style) trains to Moncton and Stellarton. From here, one line goes to the Cape Breton Highlands, another loops the Parrsboro/Spring hill highlands, another loops the Stellarton highlands, another loops the Halifax/Digby highlands.

9/ Cape Breton Island has the best North American port for trade with Europe. So we shall run railways to Moncton and the rest of North America, so they can use this port for efficient trade with Europe. Cape Breton Island shall be a free port and a foreign worker zone, where foreigners can more freely come and work short and sometimes medium term in a variety of industries, some polluting. Also, the port goes in the north eastern tip of Cape Breton island. Here, where the pollution generally blows across the uninhabited Atlantic ocean and thus diffuses optimally.

10/ The entire Nova Scotia peninsula east of Moncton shall be shall be and “easy visa”, or “visa free” zone for US employers.

11/ The southern parts of Nova Scotia shall be for leased housing of various sorts, mostly to foreigners. Also, many people will want a cool summer vacation home near Moncton airport.

12/ We shall experiment with driving long-lasting piles every 10 meters or so into the sea bed of the bay of Fundy. Then we will hang floating plastic paddle-wheel generator cylinders that drive rubber belts that drive corrosion shrouded generators that sit atop the piles.

13/ Lake Bras d'or (now renamed Cape Breton lake on Cape Breton Island is the most ideal port for shipping between North America and Europe. (On the other side, the curiously named tower/pillar of Hercules, near A-Coruna Spain. This is the oldest Roman lighthouse in existence. This pillar of Hercules (of ne plus ultra fame) happens to be right at an ideal point for trade between Europe and North America. (Although the Bay near Ferrol Spain is perhaps a better port). The main train lines shall run from Cap Breton to near/past Moncton, St. John, Bangor, Augusta, Dover, Worcester, and then Albany. However there shall be an alternate route from near St. John/ Fredericton to Grand Sault, to Rivière du Loup to Quebec and Montreal. The immigration, and secondary customs checkpoint shall go near Aulac (at the base of the Nova Scotia peninsula) with the border walls going near highway 16 between Aulac and Port Elgin. The new International airport shall go just inside the foreign worker zone near the Chignecto Isthmus wilderness Area and the nearby oil fields. Thus we take this remote bifurcated border peninsula at the center of air travel between Europe and North America and put it rightly in the middle. Thus this area becomes a summer travel hotspot. Also, If there is a war, or we have more problems with hijacked airlines, we can keep foreign airlines out of our country and use domestic carriers to get people from Hawaii, Hispanola and Cape Breton airports. We might want to do this to prevent tight formations of enemy aircraft from flying along with a passenger aircraft and attacking us, among other risks, like bombers, disguised as passenger aircraft.

14/ Newfoundland may also be a foreign worker zone. It shall be noted that St. John's Newfoundland is at a latitude of 47.55°, lower than Paris at 48.86° and even lower than Munich at 48.1°

15/ Both Newfoundland island and Vancouver island lend themselves to being cut into pieces with natural moats here and there. Newfoundland nicely divides up into the St. John peninsula, the Point May peninsula, the Bonavista peninsula, the Hamden peninsula, Vancouver island divides up at Port Alberni, Copper Bay. Also there is Nootka Island, and Brooks peninsula. Maybe we will sell life estates to non-citizens who want to have homes in these places that will be in the USA but treated like Hawaii, Cuba and Nova Scotia, they might not be allowed to enter or stay in the other parts of the nation.

16/ All trade with Cape Breton Island shall enter and leave via the causeway. Also, there shall be no private boats or ports for private boats on Cape Breton Island due to the smuggling risk. Also, none of the inlets on Prince Edward island, or on the north shore of Nova Scotia east of Caribou lighthouse shall have private boats. Likewise the coastline between White Head Island/ Mink island and the Caribou lighthouse shall have no ports, or access for shipping. A new causeway and customs facility shall be built to Cape Breton Island so that we may accommodate the huge amount trade that will come over this bridge from European trade.

17/ The many inlets of Nova Scotia shall be developed as small craft ports or for use in aquaculture without any environmental study. In general, the world's ideal coastal inlets shall all be usable for aquaculture without environmental study if it is viable. In general, the watershed of each aquaculture inlet shall be farmed by the same company or group running the aquaculture inlet. Thus the runoff will feed the critters being farmed in the inlet. Also heat sterilized kitchen waste, animal feces and human toilet waste may be used to feed filter feeders and fish in the inlet. The inlets include: Moncton inlet, Pecks cove inlet, the huge Minas basin inlet, Maitland inlet, Falmouth inlet, Digby inlet, Bartletts River Pond, Sandyland Ponds, Allen's Lake, Island Pond, Yarmouth harbor, Melbourne lake, the Sluice Point inlets, Pubnico inlet, Sandy Point inlet, Sable Inlet, Port Herbert, Port Joli Inlet, Mersey river inlet, Medway port, LaHave river inlet, Bayport inlet, Heckman's Island inlet, Halifax inlet, Porter's Lake, Petpeswick lake, Musquodoboit Harbor, Jeddore inlet, Ship harbour, Sheet harbor, Spanish Ship bay, Gegogan Harbor, St. Mary's inlet, Wine Harbor, Port Hilford, Stormont inlet, New Harbor west, Tor Bay, Gammons Bay, Larry's river, Grand Etang, Cole Harbor, Whitehead harbor, Dover Basin, Gun cove, Mahon's lake, Betsy's beach cove. Cook's cove, Guysborough Harbor, Havre Boucher inlet. Breen's pond, Linwood harbor, Tracadie harbor, Pomquet harbor, Antigonish harbor, Merigomish harbor, Chapel cove, Powells cove, Chance harbor, Ferguson's pond, Boat harbor, Pictou inlet, Caribou inlet, Tatamagouch inlet, Wallace inlet, Pugwash inlet, Port Phillip, Johnston inlet, Comeau inlet, Kouchibouguac Inlet, Aboujagane inlet, and inlet. Aquaculture may also be undertaken on the southern part of Cape Breton Island away from the toxic areas to the north. There will be special species of fish and shellfish that are cultivated in ecosystems based on pasteurized human and animal excrement. This will be mostly for pets, disaster aid protein, and for ice age crises nutrition recycling.

18/ The many inlets of Maine shall also be developed for aquaculture and boating.

19/ Vancouver island may also be used for foreign worker zones.

20/ There should not be a community in the grand rapids river bed. Instead this shall become a farm fields no-man's land and North Michigan (north of this line) will become islanded and safer residential area as a result. The enormous Cadillac plateau shall be developed for townships. Felons and adults that have not completed secondary school shall not be allowed in.

21/ Detroit shall be replaced with new communities on the Sarnia peninsula between Saginaw and Sarnia. This area shall be for low end housing.

22/ The northeast half of the Toronto plateau shall be for housing the White collar immigrants of Toronto, and the southeast half of the Toronto plateau shall be for the factory workers of Niagara.

23/ The St Claire peninsula opposite Detroit as far as a line between Hamilton and Burlington and the Niagara River shall be a foreign worker zone under US jurisdiction. Call this area as Niagara. From Detroit, there shall be an enclosed bypass highway and railroad straight to Toronto and Buffalo. From Buffalo, there shall be an enclosed bypass highway and railroad straight to Toronto. There shall also be highways and rail lines that go into Niagara. The main interchanges for Michigan go west of Detroit and near Kalamazoo. The interchange at Battle Creek connects with new city west of Sarnia, Chicago, Fort Wayne, and the north Michigan plateau and Canada. Toronto is going to move to the Shelburne plateau and become a very large metropolis. The entire peninsula will have cantonments and it will be isolated from the Toronto side, the Detroit side and the Buffalo side. And the cities of Erie, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, and Utica areas will now be between the new New York and the new foreign worker zone in the Great Lakes. And it will not be far from the main shipping point with Europe at the aptly named Cape Breton Island. Also, it shall be noted that Detroit, Buffalo Cincinnati and Cleveland are the four poorest cities in the US, and all will be helped tremendously by the Niagara foreign worker zone.

24/ There shall be no labor unions allowed in Mexas, Niagara Cape Breton, Vancouver island and the 2369 corner of the former state of Michigan: east of highway 23, and south of highway 69, where Detroit is centered. None of these areas shall allow any labor unions.

25/ Regardless of what happens with the merger of Canada, new 7-meter freight train lines shall run from Boston, to Greenfield, to Albany to Syracuse, to Buffalo, to near London, Ontario, to Detroit, to Chicago, in almost a straight line.

26/ New York city shall move from its center around Manhattan Island to a new center around a group of interchanges near Albany. Some townships will be in the Catskills to the southwest. Some will be towards the Adirondacks to the northwest. Some townships will be on the western slope of the Berkshires (which shall from now on shall include the Green Mountains). Some townships will be in the Connecticut valley and the White Mountains, (now the Augusta highlands) This area shall include the highlands of northern New Hampshire and northwest Maine. The main New York rail lines will run from near the Hudson River (elevation 5m at Albany). But the towns will be up higher, where there is no flooding risk, and where the temperature is lower, and the air is cleaner. There shall also be a line up the Connecticut valley with exchanges at Milford \ to Hartford, to Springfield, to Greenfield, Brattleboro, Lebanon, Saint-Johnsbury, Sherbrooke, Saomt-Georges, Halfway", and then Cabano to more parts up and northeast.

27/ The Vermont and Connecticut valleys shall connect to the Hudson valley via at least 12 lines, following the existing rail, roads and roads, and perhaps some other lines. Most of these train lines shall continue on to the east towards the coast and towards Maine. There should also be a at least 4 lines connecting from the Montreal Quebec Valley towards the Connecticut valley, New Hampshire, and Maine. There shall also be at least six lines, heading up into the Adirondacks from the Hudson valley, and five from the Utica/ Mohawk Valley into the Adirondacks. There shall also be at least 13 lines heading south from the Mohawk valley into the Catskills. There shall also be at least eight lines, heading west into the Catskills from the Hudson valley. There shall also be another man train line, heading from the Hudson valley to Allentown and Harrisburg.

28/ Their shall, also be one or more large cities centered on the railroad, running up the Susquehanna River north of Harrisburg, with stops and forks on the many valleys. Similar large cities shall be built on the upper Juniata River, the upper Potomac River, and the upper Cedar creek.

29/ There shall be a tunnel connecting North Adams with Florida Massachusetts. Thus Albany will connect directly with the upper Connecticut valley to the East. From here, the "Northeast Line" shall go a bit south of Worcester, and then near Manchester, then a fork near Augusta. One line goes to Eustis and Quebec, and the other runs towards New Brunswick and the other to Nova Scotia, and Cape Breton Island where the main North American port to Europe will go. There will be a minor interchange city near Vanceboro or McAdam.

30/ The higher land areas around the large Ottawa valley the Shawinigan valley, the Alma valleys and all along the Gulf of Saint Lawrence shall be developed for urbanization and the relocation of Montreal, Toronto and Quebec City. Toronto shall be relocated to the higher lands to the west.

31/ The Thunder Bay to Sudbury area shall be connected to the US rail system by means of two rail lines, one from near Sault Ste. Marie to Madison, and the other from Thunder Bay to Duluth, to Minneapolis.

32/ The continent of America once opened-up its west for settlement, now it shall open up its vast north and central areas.

33/ Regarding the Marquette peninsula and Wisconsin:

a/ The parts of Michigan north of St. Ignace shall be two new settlement counties, one to the southeast of a line connecting Marquette to St. Paul, and the other to the northwest of this line.

b/ The other portions of the Wisconsin plateau shall have up to at least 6 other counties.

c/ The Marquette peninsula, (also called the upper peninsula) might be another foreign worker zone.

34/ There shall be a new railroad that generally follows the Trans-Canada Hwy, with stops in: North Bay, Sudbury, Blind River, Sault Saint Marie, Wawa, White River, Nipigon, Thunder Bay, Ignace, Kenora, Winnipeg, Carberry, Whitewood, Regina, Swift Current, Medicine Hat, Brooks, Calgary, Golden, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Cache Creek, Lytton, Hope, Abbotsford. This is 25 stops. With perhaps 60 good connections to the US, we might instead have 100 stops on the new Trans-Canadian railroad.

19/ It is not hard to imagine the Eastern slope of the Northern Rockies, Call the region the Alberta region. This shall be a giant grid city.

35/ There shall be a new rail line from London Ontario, to Erin (Toronto), Belleville, Brockville, Mirabelle, Shawinigan, Quebec, Saguenay, Les Escoumins, Baie-Comeau, Sept-Iles, Havre-Saint-Pierre, Aguanish, Chevery, Blanc-Sablon, Mary's Harbor, and the highways 510 and 516 intersection. Each stop on this line and the Trans-Canada Railway, joined into one (TCR). Particularly in the region between the Manitoba border and Quebec City, the stations here will all allow several connections for each train we can possibly conceive of adding. Many many people will settle in these areas that are today almost completely uninhabited.

36/ The huge Prince George region shall be comprised of six large areas: Laird River, Prince George, Quesnel, Williams Lake, Hanc Valley, and Spokane valley. All of these areas shall be permitted to grow one or more new township-based megacities with many interchanges.

a/ The Prince George airport shall be located very close to a main rail interchange (about 40km east north east of today's town of Prince George.

b/ Our new townships will all have interior hallways and weatherproof trains. And we will have 60cm insulation all around our townships, top, sides and bottom. So Canadian winters will be much more tolerable c/ There shall be a rail line down the glacial valley from Prince George to Abbotsford (Vancouver), with stops at Agassiz, Hope, Lytton, Lillooet, Sheep range provincial park, Williams Lake, Quesnel, Prince George.

d/ In mountain areas like this, the gauge of the trains and tracks shall be 4 meters (13-ft), not 9m. This is plenty to transport units. It is also much easier for overcoming steep grades and tunnels.

e/ There shall be a rail line from Prince George to to Kinbasket Lake, Revelstoke, and Spokane with perhaps 11 stops in between.

f/ There shall be a rail line from Prince George to Valemont and Edmonton with some stops in between.

g/ There will be a rail line from the Prince George main station, for the 600km trip to the Vancouver/Seattle tsunami basin.

h/ There shall be a rail line from Prince George to to Kinbasket Lake, Cranbrook, the curiously named town of Eureka, then Kalispell, and Missoula.

i/ There shall be a rail line from Spokane to Bonners Ferry. There shall be another line that connects Castlegar Bonners Ferry, and Eureka. In fact, as long as there is demand, we should build rail lines down all the through the main glacial valleys here.

j/ There shall be a rail line down the long glacial valley starting from Lytton (on the Prince George to Spokane line). This rail line shall run from Lytton to Spences Bridge, Cache Creek, and Kamloops, Sicamous, and Revelstock.

37/ The Eastern slope of the Rockies from the Laird River area to Mexico shall be available for townships as needed. This is the largest highland area in North America. From south to north, this area shall be divided into 9 bands roughly centered on rivers. These bands shall be called: Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Dakota (South Dakota), Montana (North Dakota). Edmonton (South of Dawson Creek town), Calgary, and Alberta (The remaining part of the Alberta province, and the northeast part of British Columbia that is best accessed from the central plane shall also be included in the new Alberta area.

38/ The correct route from Montana to Spokane is to use MT-200, passing by Lincoln airport. at around 1,600m. This is the main route. Thus all the lands around Bute, Missoula and Kalispell are right on a main east-west train route from the Pacific coast to the rest of the nation. And so is the Spokane area.

39/ It is thought that that new lands of Canada will be able to supply as many as 4,000 township sites for up to 20,000 units each, or around 80-million units and house perhaps 240-million people, if we want to do that.

40/ We note Canada's Monkman Provincial park, and Pine Le Moray Provincial Park. We note how these block the use of the most direct passes from the Prince George basin. We also say that wherever a park seems to intentionally block the use of a pass or a must use route, that park's establishment shall be considered void under this constitution. Both of these two passes shall be used to access the Prince George area, as well as the Williston Lake pass, and all the other important routes.

41/ All of the provincial parks of Canada shall be cancelled one year after this constitution come into effect unless they are renewed individually by the Senate.

42/ The Caribou Mountain Wildland provincial Park shall be used for townships with the rail exchange being located by Cladonia Lake. Also, the Birch Mountain Wildlands Provincial Park Willow Lake highlands may also be used for townships.

43/ Where practical, we shall try to put all our township spur lines on loop train lines in case one area suffers a landslide problem. Then, people can use the other side of the loop.

44/ Between Duluth and Quebec City, Chicago and NYC we have 5 Great Lakes and huge amount of highlands for communities. We also have lowlands to use for our new 7m gauge bullet trains. It shall be though absurd the way our great lakes were previously divided. No. This great manufacturing area should be one nation. It shall be though very important to unify the Great Lakes area, with its highlands and ample flatlands in a ring.

45/ There is an immense amount of land within 600 km of the new Trans-Canadian railroad (and some distance to the south too), there shall be many highland townships in these places. And there may be 50 stops on the Trans-Canadian railroad, This is 41km maximum east-west (on average) per stop. This in addition to the hundreds of kilometers to the north. Many people will come for the Cheap land, cheap factory made units stacked up in townships, and people eventually (in this lifetime) going to work 1 to 4-months a year perhaps, or working 5 to 10 years and retiring with a paid for home and plenty of money for food and healthcare and all the rest.

46/ There shall be a Great Lakes loop railroad running from: Albany, to Syracuse, Buffalo, Cleveland, Fort Wayne, Chicago, Milwaukee, Green Bay, Saint Marie, Sudbury, Ottawa, Montreal, and back to Albany. Canadians from Winnipeg to Quebec will prosper greatly by being on the edge of this industrial area that has the Niagara foreign worker zone in side of it.

47/ Canada and Alaska seem to have been created as separate places to increase the distance between the US and the rest of the world. This is so that shipping interests can prosper more through gouging on prices in every crisis. It shall be noted that except for Edmonton and Calgary, Canada's cities are all pretty much right on the border.

48/ It shall be noted that article 11 of the articles of Confederation state that: "Canada acceding to this confederation, and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into, and entitled to all the advantages of this union: but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states."

49/ Once Quebec, Montreal, and Ottawa are evacuated due to the funneled tsunami risk, we will probably build a lowish dam near Quebec city and create an artificial lake in this area that we will flood up to the elevation of Lake Ontario, if possible. This is 73 m. Thus we will have sea access, almost to Fairhaven Vermont, on the doorstep of Albany. Also, the Albany valley can be turned into another navigable lake (perhaps only 20m deep) easily by means of a dam/locks around Storm King Mountain. We should probably also develop some ports and large docks around Lac St. Louis, Lac St. Pierre, Lac St. Francis, and Lake Champlain.

50/ It is worth mentioning that there are 11 central hills/plateaus in the great lakes area: Wisconsin hill (plateau), Schreiber Hill, Pukaskwa Hill, St. Marie Hill (the plateau (the completely unused plateau west of Sudbury) Cadillac hill (north Michigan), Pontiac Hill (northwest of Detroit), Niagara hill (west of Toronto), Toronto hill (NNE of Toronto), Buffalo Hill (south of Buffalo), Catskill Hill, Adirondack Hill. Each hill/plateau shall have at least one interchange to start. All the rail lines and townships of the Great Lakes area shall obviously have coverings and be designed to work in all weather. Also, this location deep within our continent, far from the rest of the world that can use railroads, ships, and trucks for transport is one of the world's most strategically invulnerable location's today.

51/ It should be noted that Alaska will soon go from expensive and remote periphery to valuable middle thanks to the Pan-American railroad connecting to micro container ships for the 100km sea route from Lopp Lagoon Alaska to Uelen on the Russian/Asian side of the Bearing Strait. From here it is trains again to all parts of the old world. Also, there will be a new hub airport in Southwest Alaska for connecting North America with Asia. Thus Alaska will no longer be in the periphery any more. In fact, the entire Tikchik Highlands, and the Aleutian peninsula highlands should be opened up for township development.

52/ Some part of Alaska shall be a foreign worker zone, with all of the trains to the rest of the continent requiring immigration control. Also, the southwest part of Alaska is also much less prone to earthquakes. St. Pierre and Miquelon (6,000 people) shall no longer be French possessions.

53/ To see how people hide information, simply look at Alaska Airlines. Alaska Airlines is the ideal name for an airline to from between the continental US and Asia with a stopover in southwest Alaska. In fact, this airport is key to the development of Western Alaska as an intermediary point for people flying between anywhere in the lower 48 and and eastern China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, and even even perhaps as far as Hong Kong and Hanoi. This is quite similar to what has been done with Ireland, which is actually an optimal hub for flights between Europe and the US, because it's closeness to the middle of the hourglass. However, today it's some bizarre offensively ultra-cheap budget carrier where all of the people from Europe gather in in Dublin and then fly back to Europe just like what happens with Alaska today.

54/ The Yukon river shall no longer be conveniently divided between two countries. Here it is also noted that the Yukon river watershed actually extends well into the old British Colombia province. So this land seems to have been intentionally separated to keep the immense potential of the Yukon river from being developed. So now the entire Yukon area shall be this region with a shared identity and shared hydro-electric projects. Soon this region will be a county or 10. And it/they will have its/their own massive hydro-electric projects, and their own salmon fisheries and their own oil, timber, and other resource industries as well as tourism.

55/ The whole Yukon region shall be organized along the Pan-American rail line, and its spur down the Yukon valley to as far as Aniak and then to the natural topographic focal point for the Togiak peninsula on the east side.

56/ The meeting of the Yukon river and the Tanana river is an ideal location for a new city. This is due to this place's ideal access to the surrounding lands. The new city goes atop the slopes to the southwest of the river confluence. This shall be called Yukon city. And there shall be a giant territory also called Yukon that is the giant Yukon river watershed.

57/ There shall also be giant territories called the Yukon Valley and the Fairbanks valley, mostly in the Kuskokwim/Kuskokwim river watershed, with the McGrath, Minto/Fairbanks valley added. The Kuskokwim/Kuskokwim river shall be renamed the Klondike river, and the highlands around these areas shall be called "Southwest Alaska". There shall be a loop rail line down both the Yukon valley and the Fairbanks valleys. This loop will connect to the Pan-American line in two places. Near the end of the Aleutian peninsula is another ideally remote place for dirty industry. The Klondike (Kuskokwim/Kuskokwim) river is probably full of heavy minerals like Gold.

58/ The area on both sides of the Bearing straight are ideal for dirty industry because all the containers will already be off their trains/ships here. Also, both sides have uses for cold storage, and the preservation or preserving of foods.

59/ When Canada joins our nation, all of the absurd Native American or "first nation" status and reservations and special treatment for these people shall be cancelled permanently. All Canadian Native Americans shall be treated the same way as the US Native Americans or Red Indians.

60/ The US shall have the right to deport or relocate any immigrants and their minor children from any part of North America. This shall include Toronto, Quebec, East Quebec, and all other parts of former Canada.

61/ Given our township based transport technology, we imagine Alaska developing to be not that cold anymore due to properly designed cities and buildings. So perhaps tens of millions of people will settle in the massive Yukon valley, and the same number in the massive Fairbanks valley. The raised Gakona valley east of Fairbanks area is an ideal mid-elevation location for a transport hub.

62/ If practical, the upper Fairbanks valley shall have rail access from Fairbanks to Vancouver (the Coast line), via Tok, Snag Junction, Haines Junction, Telegraph Creek, Wrangell and Prince George (or some other better route). Why not open this land up for townships?

63/ There might also be another rail line from Fairbanks to Central, to Forty Mile, Stewart Crossing, Faro, Watson Lake, Fort Ware, Ingenika mine, Mackenzie, and Prince George.

64/ Everyone in Alaska is supposed to carry a tracker with biometrics and 2-way emergency communication.

65/ All portions of North America including but not limited to the following nations shall be subject to US suzerainty with regard to immigration from outside North America: Canada, Alaska, the Nova Scotia peninsula, Victoria Island, Toronto, Quebec, East Quebec, the Nova Scotia Peninsula, Alaska, Niagara, Mexico, Yucatan, Guatemala, Belize, El Salvador, Nicaragua Costa Rica, and Panama north of the canal. All of the immigrants and visitors to these areas must be approved by both the United States government and the hosting nation. And some may be confined to certain work areas such as Mexico, Niagara, and Cape Breton.

For all of North America, the US shall have the power to deny entry to any person that was not born a North American citizen. Throughout the North American area, the US shall also have the power to deport any immigrants it elects to other parts of North America, or outside of North America. And to be perfectly clear, this right shall extend to everyone that has migrated to either the US or to any neighboring North America nation.

66/ The US shall have the right to know the identities and backgrounds of all people in these North American nations and areas. The US shall also have the right to forcibly disambiguate the names and identities of everyone. Names like Juan Sanchez will have to use middle name(s) that are unique for their ID. Also, we shall aim for a world where no part of world that is outside of our nation's never-forget system for verifying identity, and tying identity to crimes.

67/ We shall use crisis law with regard to foreign felons. Where we find foreigners living illegally in our nation with convictions for violent crimes like murder, rape, armed robbery, violent assault, extortion, sex trafficking, and especially child sex predators (convictions from either our nation, or other nations that the person lived in), we shall execute these criminals. This clause shall come into effect 30-days after this constitution comes into effect. All of you people are lucky you get 30-days. Where these criminals commit additional violent crimes during the 30-day period, we shall either extradite them, or use our agents to hunt them down and kill them, wherever they flee to.

68/ All the nations of North America (Between the US border and the Panama canal) must submit to US with regard to immigration and visitors. These nations shall only allow visitors and immigrants that are not on the US anti-terrorism list, or from certain rogue nations that the US prohibits, or have been previously deported from North America. Thus, all the North American nations will be in the more valuable place inside both the US commercial zone and the US anti-terrorism zone.

69/ To reduce immigration corruption, we shall have it that all of the people working in approving immigrant applications must have 2 parents and 4 grandparents that were all born citizens of their nation. Also, there shall be no judges in any matter of immigration and only Senate juries of appropriate size may decide on this matter.

70/ The American dream will now be expanded, thanks mostly to the lands in Canada. However, we will only select the best and hardest working people for this.

NR'203. OUR TRADE ROUTES

1/ Panama is too strategic, too important not to be managed by the US. It is also a vital wall against illegal immigration.

Also, all of the nations of the Americas want the canal operated for free (except allocative pricing) for it stimulates all their economies. Today it is impossible to travel overland between North and South America, because there is no road and also no railroad. Instead there the mysterious Darien Gap that Panama has chosen not to develop. But why not develop this land route? Why not become a rich trading Mecca that is located at the canal, and also where trade between North America and South America meet? Why not become a new trading Mecca and become rich? The only possible explanation is that Panama is secretly working for the other Mecca, which doesn't want the competition.

2/ We shall overcome the ridiculous Darien Gap and build a 7-meter gauge railroad and minimum 4-lane highway between Texas and the Amazon basin. For the record, the distance between Texas and Colombia is less than the distance from New York to Los Angeles. Also the route to South America has no mountain passes unlike the route from New York to Los Angeles. Our nation is building this project to help reduce the cost of trade with our neighbors and natural allies to the south. This is also so our neighbors to the south can prosper more economically and help more of the needy immigrants that our nation is so soft on.

3/ We shall never impose any tariff on trade merely traveling through our nation except when we want to disfavor a foreign nation. Also, it shall be our official policy to deploy our air power against any group or nation that attempts to block or pillage or vandalize through trade anywhere in the Americas. Those attacking either the Pan-American rail line/ highway, or the Panama Canal (either of the two piracy vulnerable sphinxes) shall be treated as pirates = terrorists.

4/ The Panama canal is a great example of how Ishtar works: a/ The benefit of building a canal was absolutely obvious to everyone of the late 1800s and Ishtar was not powerful enough to stop it. So in 1880, Ishtar organized a "French" effort led by Ferdinand Less•eps (less•talk) which began a 9 year failed effort that resulted in over 20,000 mosquito plague deaths.

b/ In 1903, our nation purchased eternal control of the Canal Zone and proceeded to build the Panama Canal. We paid $10-million to Panama, and $40-million to the work-halted French company that had started the project but had stolen most of its investor's money. Then our nation spent another $325-million to build the canal. So when the canal was finished in 1914, it had the distinction of being the world's most expensive construction project at that point in time. As well, 5,609 more workers died, almost entirely from mosquito-based germ warfare. Then in 1977, only 63 years later, our traitorous oil-embargo-era monarch Jimmy Carter gave away this vital interest of our nation and hemisphere for nothing. He did this while our nation was high on drugs. Since then, the Panamanians, (all of which are descendants of either Ishtarians or modern canal builders) have proceeded to wring whatever they could from the canal, charging up to $829,000 for a ship to use the canal that our nation built and handed away to them for nothing.

c/ Today the Panama canal unjustly wrings $2.7 billion annually from world trade. This money is just unjustly stolen from the trade of the Americas, particularly those nations closest to the canal, and the islands of the Caribbean. And there is a multiplier effect too, so the canal costs the regional economy perhaps $27 or $54 billion in trade dollars annually, trade dollars with a 3-fold multiplier effect.

d/ The nation of Panama is obviously not looking out for the interests of its neighbors. In fact, Panama has done nothing but work towards the total inverse of all things we North and South Americans would all want. Instead, the Panamanian counter-mecca seems to be a thing run by the original Mecca in Arabia — which apparently doesn't want competition from other upstart meccas of trade eating into their profits.

5/ For the reasons stated above in #4, the prior illegal gift from Jimmy Carter shall no longer be held valid by our nation. The prior gift of the Panama Canal for no compensation shall be cancelled entirely and set-aside, and we hereby reclaim the ownership of the Panama Canal. We shall re-open Fort Sherman and some of the other 12 abandoned US military bases in the Panama region. We shall take back control of our costly and great Panama Canal and canal zone backed by the full force of our military. And if there is not enough water to run the locks, then we shall take the water from other surrounding areas, regardless of anyone's rights that came from settlement after we started our canal.

6/ The guilt that some people may feel about taking back ownership from the Panamanians is fake. It is just like the fake city of Panama City, with its unmistakable name and gleaming skyscrapers that lodge in the mind and reinforce the value of fake Panamanian civilization. Also, the Panama City area is in a massive tsunami funnel and is hence no place for a city. So the place must be evacuated.

7/ Panama is a vital American interest (A vital interest of both North America and South America) that helps assure that our nation (the US) remains economically connected with its natural allies in South America, Central America and the Caribbean. The alternative is to need more goods from Asia and the Mideast, so these Asian people have "struggled" and will continue to struggle to close Panama as follows:

a/ Their first priority is to shut down north/south train trade completely. This is why the unbelievable Darien Gap remains impassible (and unbelievably so) at this time. It is to drive the trade between the Americas on to the ships owned by Ishtar and its alternate axis.

b/ Their second priority is to establish a costly filter for east/west sea trade. This way Ishtar's competitors must pay fat fees to use the canal, while Ishtar's ships go for free.

8/ Our nation shall operate the Panama Canal for free to the biggest ships until passage slots exceed demand. Then the fees for using the Panama Canal shall not exceed the amount needed to balance supply with demand. To do otherwise is to restrain trade. Also, whatever natural, or allocative tax revenues result from the operation of the Panama Canal, they shall be credited to all the nations of the Caribbean based on 1980 population. This apportionment shall not however include the United States, but it shall include Andeo, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru, as well as the nations of central America, Mexico, and the Caribbean. The Panama canal shall be a gift from our nation to our neighbors to the south.

9/ Everyone knows you can't buy the Brooklyn Bridge. We shall now cancel the ownership rights of all who have managed to buy or acquire ownership of any sort of Brooklyn Bridge, or Panama Canal, or Bangkok skytrain, or national railroad line, or some other public infrastructure project.

10/ We shall try to get our natural allies in Japan and Korea to send their European sea trade through the Panama canal instead of through Suez. The Senate may offer cost matching subsidies here. For trade with Tokyo, there's only about 10% more distance for shipping via Panama.

11/ Panama shall be regarded as an extremely strategic location for keeping the world's seas open to trade. This especially if we close the oceans and occupy the various straights of the seas. The key is that we also occupy the Straits of Africa, the Straits of South America, and the Arabian sea. And with another 3 naval battle groups we can close the Indian Ocean to arrivals from the Pacific. If we do this, we force all sea trade from east Asia to flow through Panama on his way to Europe. This removes more than half of the Middle East's potential sea trade.

12/ For the sake of national security, freedom from sabotage, and freedom from shipping Mafia shenanigans, our nation shall be required to have an adequately sized merchant marine that will compete with private shipping companies in the same way the post office competes with private shipping/delivery companies today. The merchant marine shall be in charge of the nation's ports, robotic container handling at our ports. And the port to freight rail system connection. The merchant marine will also offer port storage of containers.

13/ After some years in the navy, many crewmen will switch to the easier pace of the merchant marine. In merchant marine service, the sea men generally are free to go from one boat to another after each leg, and to take many breaks, with many living in the nations the merchant marine sails to. Also, it is not wise to hire foreigners, so who else are we going to have in our merchant marine, but our retired navy men mostly. To control costs we should have apartments around the outside of the container zone. Or at least front and back. The crew will get nicer apartments and meals for family members.

14/ At least half of our international shipments in each direction must use our nation's merchants marine vessels. And the merchant marine container and ferry rates shall be the same as those in the private sector. The Jones Act shall be repealed.

15/ Once we have our international rail system fully functioning nearby, we shall limit the speed of all boats to 20-kph. We shall also stop using knots and miles per hour as a metric of speed. Instead everything shall be expressed in KPH, or kilometers per hour. Also, the new word Kiles (rhymes with miles) shall be another shorter word for kilometers, so it will be soon be mostly kiles per hour, and few people will say kilometers per hour.

This speed limit shall not apply where boats have to overcome significant opposing currents, or where they are directed by maritime authorities to return to shore due to approaching weather conditions. We do this as an energy conservation thing mostly. Any faster than this and the boat is just squandering fuel. However this rule shall not apply to either hydrofoils, or vehicles that skim or roll on top of the water's surface.

16/ For townships that are over 300m in elevation, it isn't hard to imagine that the energy produced by a railcar full of sewage rolling down to the ocean (or somewhere else) will be more than enough to power the return of the empty railcars back up to the township. So we imagine that some towns will use railcars for their wastewater disposal. This is also ideal for remote plants that produce wastewater. It is also harder to cheat on. Also, it is certainly more efficient to propel water on railcars than in pipes. And the infrastructure spend is less, due to already having heavy duty rails. Also, the water is also moving around 10 times faster. So perhaps the water will be in pipes on the way down steep mountains for power generation, but then when we push the water out into the desert, that goes via railcars because it is more efficient for both transport and distribution. And these water tanks on rails are robotic and they happen without any human involvement most of the time.

17/ Our nation's Marines will be tasked with making sure that our neighbors in Latin America and the Caribbean all maintain their own oil industry, and that the Arabs never shut this down again. Our nation's Army shall have the same role for domestic production. And if the Army can't keep domestic drilling, up, then the Marine Corps drilling teams can also be called up to help. The Army shall also secure all of our nation's fuel storage facilities and refineries. The merchant marine shall keep our nation's supply of mothballed tanker ships and other similar backup equipment. The air-force flight control people shall also run the back air traffic control system, and time spent working for the air force shall directly prepare these people for a career in civilian air traffic control. Many military will get a quick training as backup TSA workers, oil field workers, refinery workers, inventory management, weapon maintenance experts.

18/ In the event of enemy bombings of the nation's rail and metro system. This shall be repaired by:

a/ The regular system's maintenance team.

b/ The local militia's rail repair team.

c/ The merchant marine's rail repair team.

d/ The army's rail repair team.

x/ All of the rail repair teams are well trained in either clearing damaged rails/H-trestles, and installing forms (bolting them to bolts projecting from each -trestle and casting a giant concrete brick in place of the H-trestle. Thus in a day we can fill the gap with concrete and 48 hours later be driving on it. There should be lots of extra track and rebar panels for repairs, and forms for making repairs.

19/ Having a surplus of railcars and railcar seats is not only useful during holidays but it is a good thing if there is ever a war and some of our rolling stock gets damaged. We definitely want enough capacity to move more people in case of war. Also, we imagine the government paying over scrap value for old railcars for freight and passengers, that get mothballed for a couple decades before they get scrapped. We imagine all the old rolling stock mothballed for 20 to 40 years before it gets scrapped.

20/ We should foster a ship servicing industry around the Panama canal. Also, we imagine Venezuela and Ecuador as having their own low-cost ship servicing industries. The main ship dismantling hubs shall be near turbo Colombia and Sambu Panama. The main ship dismantling and recycling hub for South Asia shall be Chittagong Bangladesh, and near Bago Burma. There shall also be a ship dismantling hub in the Beibu Gulf. All of these locations are close to plentiful hydro-electric energy.

21/ Our merchant marine shall work centered around the main trade entry points to our nation. These are places like the Panama canal, Cape Breton Island, Honolulu, Florida Keys fuel port, and Lopp lagoon at the Bearing straight sea bridge. Our merchant marine shall have subsidized freight and passengers between Florida, Cuba and Yucatan. No concrete, no ores, no concrete castings, no petroleum, no gravel, however lumber may be shipped. Also the passengers shall pay 2-hour's wages to go either from Key West to Havana, or Havana to Yucatan, one way. Thus many people from the southwest US will take the train to Key west and then the ferry to either Havana or the Yucatan. Most containers shall cost 2-day's wages (as always US average wages) round trip to Cuba from either Key West or Yucatan. Single-wide cars shall cost 2-day's wages, doublewide cars shall cost 4-day's wages per leg. The merchant marine shall also have built-cost shipping between South Florida and Fort Liberte, San Juan, and Kingston. The merchant marine shall also offer built-cost shipping between Lopp Lagoon and the other Uellen lagoon on the Asian side. Also there shall be merchant marine shipping from Cape Breton to A Coruna, Liverpool and Castlemaine. The merchant marine shall be the main supplier of sea freight to our nation's overseas military bases. It shall also be the main way our nation delivers the things it gives as economic aid. It shall also stand ready to help the nation's military to project power. However in times of war crisis, these ships may be diverted for more critical services.

22/ We shall allow our allies to use Gatun Lake as a port. We shall build a large number of docks shared by nearby warehouses. These will all be secured by our nation's military inside robotic areas that do not have visitors. There will be many such areas all around Gatun Lake. Each dock will act as a port for nearby, warehouses and factories. We shall also build the railroad that rings Gatun Lake, with shuttle trains, acting, as spurs, heading down most of the larger peninsulas of the lake. The ring shall connect directly with the parallel Pan-American rail line on the Pacific side of Gatun Lake. The docks around Gatun Lake will be primarily for trade, while the other parts of the northern part of Panama under US control shall be primarily for manufacturing, distribution and trade. The Rio Indio, and Rio Miguel de La Borda, Rio Caimito, Rio Viejo, Rio Piedras, and especially the Rio Chagres shall be entirely drained into Gatun lake as much as is needed by the canal, and anyone else who needs water can get it from further afield. All the easy water belongs to the canal. There will also be an outer port near Colon that will offer free virtual canal transport. It will also have the greatest shipyards in the Americas, Most by a free-for-all near our port, although there will be some US-based shipyards using mostly foreign workers. There will also be a large naval base and merchant marine port supplying the Caribbean islands. the southwest of Gatun lake that should have levies built. This so there is more land and less evaporation. The entire Gatun lake and especially the dam shall be verified to make sure that it isn't leaking.

a/ There shall also be an annual inspection of the entire Panama canal zone watershed for water theft/squandering.

b/ If there is insufficient capacity along the current Panama Canal, we can make another canal at Rio Congo This will be joined with Lake Gatun eventually c/ We shall do detailed bathymetry of lake Gatun by over 10 trusted people. It appears that the elevation of the lake is much higher than needed, so that fresh water can both be stored and so that it can run the lochs for no energy inputs. However, nowadays the cost of fuel for pumping salt water into the lochs is very low, so perhaps we will lower the water level of Lake Gatun from 27m to perhaps +10m or -16m. Also Lake Gatun is currently quite salt contaminated due to all the ships and auto-flushed salt water from ship's bilges. So let's start not worry about introducing salt here, because it is already contaminated.

d/ Ditch-canals are both totally foolproof and also they are forever. This is why ditch canals are proposed at both Gatun and SongKhla (or previously Singora, the city of lions, just like nearby Singapura, the lion city.)

e/ There might also be a 10-meter gauge railroad that only takes small boats of perhaps 80 different hull designs from one side of the canal the other for $500/ship. A 7 x 30 meter railroad can carry maybe 27m boats across. This in addition to the container ship cargo that is also happening at the Panama canal zone, and as far as Uncle Sam is concerned, all this Panama canal zone commerce is to be provided for no cost to the ships that either sail through, or make port and move freight/cargo, or that rent dock space and rent warehouse space. We will give away the canal and port access and make it up on the valuable industrial zone and huge benefit to the Americas.

f/ We shall limit the size of all new container ships to 13,000 TEU and require that all be able to pas through the Panama Canal. Either this, or we see Ishtar engineer a world of oversized container ships that can't fit through Panama, thus making Suez the world's mecca of trade, the naval of shipping. As an international security measure, we should prevent all the ships over 13,000TEU. Otherwise the the Suez canal side will drive for boats too big to use Panama, which we don't want to see. So no more ships bigger than Panama currently can support.

23/ The ordinary people of Panama will benefit greatly from having all the jobs available to them under this plan. They will benefit much more than they do from the obscene canal fees which mostly just gets stolen by Mideast influences and their front man. Thus, the average Panamanian person will make much more money by giving back the canal and the right to charge people for crossing the canal. Also, all of the Caribbean islands in all of the Caribbean Seaboard, as well as all the seaboard of Mexico and Central America, and Colombia, even will prosper greatly, and these may see their GDP growth by perhaps 10% as a result of free Panama canal access. The reason the canal has had such high charges is because this exists to make money for the Middle East, and prevent prevent competition for the Mideast ishtarian agenda centered around the Red Sea. It is also thought that much of east Asia will offshore some manufacturing to Panama, and south Thailand, very shortly. It's also thought that much of Europe will offshore manufacturing to Panama, especially the goods that are destined for east Asia.

24/ Uninhabited Salt Island shall now be a US naval/air base for the small patrol vessels securing the Panama to Europe trade lines from pirates. Columbia's Portetico peninsula from Iporuimoho shall also be a small US naval/air base, for securing the Panama to Europe trade.

25/ To prevent Ishtar from arising again, and to help out our neighbors in Latin America, we shall try to drive more of the worlds trade to use Panama. We shall give away free passage and lake docking for the large container ships that use our Panama canal. But this shall only be for the largest ships, and passenger ships and small ships may be required to pay if there isn't enough remaining capacity for them.

26/ We shall form a Pan-American defense force for the route between our southern border and Andeo if needed. All nations in the Americas shall be expected to send their share of special forces for the common good of keeping the trade routes open.

27/ Due to the thinness of the peninsula at the Panama/ Costa Rica area, The co-location of the Pan-American railroad, the Panama Canal, and the isolation from the larger continents, the entire Santiago peninsula of Panama shall permit very dirty industry where lots of coal and other fuels are burnt and polluting processes taking place. It shall also allow toxic industrial processes such as zinc plating and waste incineration, oil refining, and smelting. All the dirtiest industrial activities of the Americas, like lead smelting shall take place at ultra-southerly tip of South America. None of this will affect Costa Rica or Colombia, both of which are some 300km away.

28/ The southern tip of South America is much further south than any other useful land on earth with a latitude of 55° south. The next closest places are Melbourne at almost 38° south, and Cape town which is almost 34° south. Also, we note that:

a/ Most of Earth's land is up north. This makes the southern hemisphere more optimal. Also the farthest south location is farthest from more people.

b/ The atmosphere swirls and pollution in one part of the atmosphere will spread around the earth thanks to the winds. However, the shape of the hole in the ozone hole shows us that there is much less north/south circulation than east/west circulation. So the far south location is best.

x/ For these reasons, the southern tip of South America shall be regarded as the worlds's must ideal location for toxic waste disposal. A number of facilities shall open up under UM supervision. Also, the Vizcaino area shall be much the same, however it shall have a US run nuclear material disposal facility.

29/ Our military bases and manufacturing zone in Panama shall be a special US territory, like Mexas, with relaxed rules of migration and working there. US rule of law in US financing and foreign workers. However in Panama, like Mexas, and Niagara, nobody shall be allowed to own property, or rent for longer than in a UM city. The US part of Panama and Mexas shall not be a country, but a commercial/industrial base of the US. So there will not be any elections or elected government in Panama or Mexas. The new part of Costa Rica in today's Panama shall be a Costa Rican industrial area with the northern part of the nation more for hospitality, seasonal homes, and retirement homes.

30/ We shall build airstrips and grade pads for optional military bases on the following islands near the Pan-American trade lines: Isla Del Rey Panama, Isla Jicaron Panama, Isla Cano Costa Rica, Ometepe Lake island Nicaragua, Meanguera del Golfo island Honduras, Orchilla island Venezuela, and Ronde Island (Grenada) These tiny Islands shall be available as our exclusive military bases if we opt to use them. We will use these island airfield for close air support operations if needed to protect our Pan-American trade and our nation if needed. nobody except authorized military personnel shall go on these islands and they shall be entirely used for military bases. Isla Del Rey shall be a permanent US air base with a port near Rio Sucio bay.

31/ Guantanamo Bay harbor shall remain our property, US property. As always, all grants like this herein shall be in perpetuity and for no payment of money or future permissions required — this even if the word grant is not used.

32/ If any portion of the Pan-American route or the Panama Canal develops an intractable piracy problem, then we may relocate all the residents in that area to equal habitations in other nations so that a safety zone can be created for goods to pass to and from South America unfettered. The rail lines between Colombia and Mexico are probably the best candidate worldwide for being built, covered.

33/ It should be noted that this pan-American rail, routing is right through the center of North America, like the central trunk of a tree. This will open the entire area between the Rockies and the Mississippi. And it will do the same with southern Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta.

34/ We shall reaffirm the Monroe doctrine from Tierra del Fuego to Alaska, and Greenland. There shall also be no ports or facilities in the Americas owned even partly by non-American groups. In Peru, the Chancay port shall be nationalized by the Peruvians. The port in Hidalgo Mexico shall also be nationalized. In all cases, the foreign governments and foreign companies holding assets in defiance of the Monroe doctrine shall be given nothing for the nationalization of their assets. Also, there shall be no foreign data centers in the Americas.

Greenland shall be tolerated because it will be a UM settlement nation under US suzerainty with regard to immigration and guests. Also, Greenland shall allow a US military presence and only a US military presence at all times. Also Greenland, being by far the oldest land mass, and one of the most glacially eroded, it should have by far the richest heavy mineral accumulation deposits, if they are not covered by glaciers. Also given Greenland's head and shoulders age difference with the other land masses, perhaps Greenland has a different mineral composition than the rest of the planet's surface. Neither of these things should belong to any one nation. All of this mineral wealth should belong to the poor people of the earth instead.

35/ The big island of Hawaii shall be a special visa-free zone for tourists, foreign tech workers, and medical tourists from many nations and areas. This confusingly named island shall be renamed as Kahuna, or "the big Kahuna". There shall be a major evac. "veterans" hospital on Kahuna (the big Island of Hawaii). This shall be run by the military and it includes staff housing, out patient housing, and much family visitor housing operated by the private sector. The hospital staff all get base housing, and military commissary access. Many of the VA hospital will be overseas. There will also be only domestic foreign healthcare providers on Kahuna. The VA will provide VA-owned apartments for all of its full-time workers. While the VA hospitals will always be available for war surgery evacuation from the Pacific, it will mostly not be needed, so the Army's VA will sell-off US military surplus healthcare. Here citizens of most nations will be able to come and visit Hawaii (and the other VA hospitals) and get first rate US healthcare.

36/ The Kahuna "VA" hospital (like all our nation's other "overseas" VA hospitals will in time of peace spend about 90% of their resources on treating visitors for money. This is so we can afford to keep a larger military hospital system that also offers US medical school training and makes money. In fact, these VA hospitals will make a great deal of money for our nation, and they will be located in places like the big island of Hawaii, near Oaxaca and Azteca, west Cuba, Gorlitz Poland/Germany, Modena Italy, Adana/Khartoum, Jabalpur India, and on the Thai/Laos border near Ban-Pang Laos. If this works, we might have many more hospitals around the world. The VA Health system shall be privatized, but not as a thing run by a corporation. The VA will instead provide buildings and expensive equipment, and rent offices to healthcare people. So while all VA health services will be shifted over to the private sector, they will not be run by a corporate government contractor, but instead by privatized treatment people with various forms of business all competing for the VA business.

37/ Kahuna will be the airline-layover hub of the Pacific, with many infrequent direct flights to small communities like Boise, Quebec City, Darwin, and Kuching. On each trip, people take a few days layover in the Hawaiian paradise. The same sort of system will be used in Azteca, Hispanola, and Ireland.

38/ People can visit Kahuna without a US visa. There shall also be much easier qualifications for temporary foreign worker visas and foreign business owners, however all foreigners that come to the big island of Hawaii must eventually return to their home nation.

39/ Passport control shall exist between the big island of Hawaii and the other parts of our nation including the other Hawaiian islands. We shall replace Kona airport with a very big new international hub airport because Hawaii is a natural hub location for flights between North America and Asia. We shall also have at least 4 other 3.5km emergency evacuation airstrips (not airports) on the big island that are long enough for jumbo-jets. We shall also have one evacuation spot on a boat per 8 people on the island. Waiakea Pond (Hilo) shall be dredged and enlarged into a port for supply and evacuation boats designed to go evacuate to Kahului on Maui. The new evacuation and cargo port shall be excavated back to E Kawili St. Other evacuation ports shall be located at Hi'ilawe falls estuary, Waimanu estuary, and Kohala estuary.

40/ Nearly all of the tourist flights shall stop going to Oahu, and instead go to the big Island. Oahu shall be military, trade, and residential, with invited guests of residents only tourism and limited direct flights. However, Oahu airport shall be maintained as a backup civilian airport for the new airport on the Big Island, and for military purposes. The navy shall authorize all visitors to Oahu who are to go outside the fenced visitor areas. Existing Oahu residents can come and go freely from the island provided they show ID.

41/ Pearl Harbor shall be expanded to be America's version of Singapore harbor, but with many war ships. As needed, all of the land between Kapolei and Chinatown shall be dredged and repurposed as docklands for container ships, as well as use as a military base. Only the boats will be located in the harbor. All the staff for the military bases as well as the commercial hub shall be moved to higher land, and away from the ships. This will greatly reduce the amount of land needed for a port, and little will remain in the port except the boats and their cargo. We shall try to maximize the container traffic this port can handle, using banks of automated container grappling gantry cranes feeding multiple local freight train lines. This is so that more of the trade of the Pacific can hub here. The Hawaiian islands are a natural hub for shipping, air travel, and pan-pacific virtual industries, and trade in everything small and valuable. Indeed the Mililani (now Mili•ani) valley up to the north shore, all the areas outside the tsunami zone shall be made available for the new township based "Pearl City". All the lands below, and inside the tsunami flood zone shall now be used for more commercial and warehousing uses. Much of the trade between the Americas and the islands of Japan, Taiwan, Philippines, Indonesia and Australia will now stop in Pearl Harbor, the Pearl of the Pacific, with its rows of automatic grappling cranes. The mainland trade of Asia will go via rail, but the Island trade shall be drawn to hub around Oahu once we have set up our port and our almost free rail-based container handling. There shall be no import taxes for goods shipped to any of the Hawaiian Islands, and all shipments from the Hawaiian islands shall be treated as from a foreign nation.

42/ First time air travelers to our nation from the Pacific must generally clear immigration in Hawaii. First time air travelers to our nation from South America must clear immigration in either Hispaniola, or Azteca. First time travelers to our nation from Europe, Russia, some parts of the Middle East, and central Asia must generally clear immigration in Ireland. The US terminals at the airports for Azteca, Hispaniola, Ireland and easy entry Hawaii shall be our nation's territory, with redundant security, and ID checks. All first time travelers to the US will be required to use a segmented flight via one of these entry points. Also, all four of these US international access airports shall be owned and managed by the US as US territory. And like all US military bases there shall be no foreign involvement at all over what happens on the base, what gets built, or how the airport gets operated. All shall be the size of the DFW airport zone (27square miles) and all shall allow a US embassy, US government/military offices, and US military aircraft to land and refuel if needed for combat missions. All shall allow US hotels and US casinos. All airport terminal zones shall however be built adjacent to the local terminal and local transit for the sake of convenience. Runways shall only be shared in emergency situations. US military aircraft and US military personal may be housed on these semi-civilians air bases.

43/ On the Hawaiian islands:

a/ There shall be a moratorium on non-township development and eventually nearly all non-township uses shall be demolished and removed. Kahuna shall be for tourism. All the other islands shall be for non-tourist uses.

b/ There shall eventually be no private land ownership due to the scarcity of land on this beautiful tsunami safe island chain.

44/ In Hawaii we want to have large scale production of homes in townships. However, we don't want to have large scale ownership of these units, except for the tourist zones on the big island, and in genuinely temporary ownership by township developers. On all the other islands, there shall be no hotel/ multi-family uses, and all rental income for periods of less than 2-months shall pay a 50% sales tax on rent, so that the owner pays 50% of rents as taxes. This is intended to eliminate pretty much all tourism on the outer Hawaiian islands. And we shall also have a one residence limit on private property.

45/ The Hawaiian islands should be seen as a test zone for policies to address land scarcity.

46/ All active duty military in the Hawaiian islands shall live on either a military base, or on a military housing reservation, in special military apartments. On Oahu, all military dwellings, offices, and shall have portable bunker pipes, and an annual drill at 7:55am, on December 7, or 24 days before the end of the year.

47/ A second Oahu port shall be developed in Kaneohe bay, and at least four widely-separated 9m wide tunnels shall connect the two ports. The tunnels shall be named as Arizona, Oklahoma, WTC, and Midway as reminders. Each tunnel shall have several hardened multi-aircraft hangers covered by at least 50 meters of tuff and double blast doors on each side. Also, a number of doored missile defense sites shall be on top of the ridge between Pearl and Kaneohe harbors. Oahu shall be renamed as Pearl Island, because it is the strategic pearl of the Pacific, and besides, the harbor is already named Pearl Harbor. This ultra-valuable harbor right in the middle of the Pacific both enriches and supports the nation that has it, defends it, and covets it, for it is the #1 most powerful military and commercial asset in the Pacific Ocean. Both harbors on Oahu can be used for military ships, however, the new harbor shall only be used for military ships so that a nuclear weapon cannot be smuggled on board a ship into the our main harbor. In general all naval harbors, shall be off-limits to non-military ships without limit.

48/ Maui shall be for residential with no tourism except as house guests. All hotels in Maui shall be subject to a 100% sales tax that will double their cost. Maui shall however allow tourism for boats over 10 meters. Kahului port and Kanaha pond on Maui shall be enlarged into the new port of Kanaha. All of the areas below ~20m above sea level around Kanaha shall be demolished and excavated to make port facilities (on Maui) for the evacuation of the big island. Most evacuation ships on the big island shall be kept fueled in 2-piece V-shaped roller dry-docks.

49/ West Maui and all of Molokai shall have international schools that allows foreign students into our nation. Molokai shall be for post graduate studies, West Maui shall be for undergraduate studies. A new port shall be excavated far into the Halawa valley so that large ships can land on Molokai and materials can be delivered for the island to be developed. Both universities shall be half made up of our own kids, and half shall be foreigners from all over the world. None shall pay anything for either tuition or for the shared housing, or for the hotel rooms that goes to the 1:5 student Senators among an otherwise rarified crowd academically.

50/ All air carriers flying via Hawaii shall allow passengers to break their travel and have short or long stop-overs in Hawaii at no cost if they wish to. All vessels in or around the Hawaiian island shall be subject to being temporarily commandeered by the county government if evacuation of any island is necessary.

51/ The Big Island, shall now be renamed Kona because the old name were confusing or cumbersome to use. Land on Kona (the Big Island) shall only be leased for 30 year. After this, the property shall revert to the national government. All of the air-fields on the big island shall be connected by a mostly-enclosed ring railroad that is not vulnerable to ash-falls.

52/ Kauai shall be the nation's high-security residential, and extreme public service retirement island. On Kauai, all of the secure townships shall be double fenced with concertina topped fences. The only way into a secure Kauai township will be via airport-style security checkpoints from the rail station. This is in addition to the invitation-only security check required to get onto the island, and use the lower security public areas. Also, the number of guests per year per resident shall be strictly limited. Kauai will also be for:

b/ Our war-wounded, and the widows of service men killed in combat.

c/ Our career service men, and career retired people retired people from the fire and EMS, and their families and their surviving co-parents.

d/ Those who were first to deploy for at least 10-years,. However these shall be available to be called up for support roles in times of attack on Hawaii until they are over 60 years old.

e/ Foreigners that have stood up against tyranny or for freedom anywhere in the world.

f/ Foreign information broadcasts, especially those critical of any government that seems likely to take action against people who exercise their right to free speech.

53/ Later, if witness protection is no longer needed, or only partly needed, all or part of Kauai may be converted to an upscale and more protected version of Maui. A sea port shall be developed on Ni'ihau island in Halalii Lake.

54/ Goods may be imported to the various Hawaiian islands duty free, yet with a custom's checks. Goods from Hawaii shall be regarded as imports when they arrive at the other parts of our nation.

55/ The larger Eastern portion of Maui shall have 2 looping rail lines, with one that goes up high and one that goes low. People will use the upper line to go to their destination via bicycle, and the lower line (which is near the coast) to come from their destination via bicycle. The train compartments will be designed so people can bring bicycles on to the trains. The two loops shall connect at Waikapu, Wailea, Ulumalu, and Hana. The roads on Maui will be mostly be flat like topographic lines, however, from the upper train stops, there will be diagonal/sloping roads also. There shall also be a single loop train on the western part of Maui. On Molokai, there shall be a single S shaped main rail line. On Kauai, there is a mirror image of a C- shape, with spur lines up the many valleys and also perhaps to the upper plateau where it is 10°C cooler. These spur railroads lead to multiple townships and to the Hanalei protection area, up the up in the 5 valleys there. On Oahu there shall be a loop for a single train line around the east side of the island and also another line on the west side of the island. These two lines shall share 10 interchange stops along the ~30km long Pearl City/ Waialua corridor. Here due to the scarcity of land, the interchanges shall have commercial and residential directly around them. On Kona there shall be an upper and lower mirrored-C railroad that meet near Keokea, the airport, near Waimea and the ports there, near Pa'auilo, near Glenwood, and near Pahoa. The tracks on Kona shall be enclosed in precast concrete, and there shall be sufficient extra railcars for fast evacuations.

56/ In Hawaii, the risk of sudden tsunami is low due to the distance from all sources except Mauna Loa volcano on the Big Island. And the volcano is bound to rumble first. Therefore, residential and hotel uses shall be allowed on Hawaii at least 9m above sea level, except on the south shores of Maui and the big island. However these must be less dense than 4DUA for homes, and less dense than 12 hotel rooms per acre. Also, above 150m elevation, there shall be no single family buildings on the Hawaiian Islands. Thus the shoreline area will be almost entirely empty except for restaurants and cafes and desk cafes and other day-time hospitality uses in clumps every so often around the island on land that now has no other use, and is hence cheap to rent from the county. There shall always be a surplus of sites for food courts and restaurants by the coast on every section of the shoreline, so on Hawaii, it costs nothing more to eat by the ocean. And let this be a paradigm for the world, that all the prettiest view spots be used for restaurants so more people can enjoy the view.

57/ When Government builds major projects on Islands, and isolated lands, including Hawaii, Alaska, overseas bases, and even remote parts of our nation, Government shall be prohibited from using local contractors, and it must use outside contractors that bring everything in.

58/ Puerto Rico is a remote island on a plate margin just like Japan and Taiwan. So Puerto Rico already has 3-strikes against it. It is both in an earthquake and tsunami zone and also remote and expensive to trade with. It is also very close to a large number of volcanos to the southeast. Therefore, we shall start using Puerto Rico as a place for sending our long term homeless, our longterm dole recipient class, our parolees, and other people who are either too violent or troublesome to be outsourced to Hispanola or Mexico. All the existing Puerto Ricans that want can either relocate elsewhere in Latin America, or migrate as part of the Exhod mix on their dime. The people who stay shall have their economy stimulated by the homeless camps and welfare dole money. Also, Puerto Rico shall be divided up into 12 districts (based on streams) where people have to show ID to leave the train system and enter that cantonment. So it sort of also becomes a security island where all the outsiders have to use a tracker. Also, in Puerto Rico, all the roads between the cantonments shall be torn up, except those running near the shoreline. Also, all the over the mountain roads shall be closed and secured against guests/inmates roaming into the open space between cantonments. At first, the parts of Puerto Rico west of Arecibo and Ponce will be for the US to send its long-term homeless and long term welfare populations. Later, nearly all of the island shall be taken over for these purposes. 59/ Much shall be made of Puerto Rico's lovely climate, its free homeless dormitories and other budget accommodation. Also we shall make a great deal about how cheap and good the tax-free rum and marijuana are, along with the music and parties. Also, all US citizen homeless and US dole recipients get free internet on their device, and free breakfast to include: 2 medium sized chicken eggs, a banana, and all the grits they can eat onsite from 7:00am to 9:00am.

60/ All the eastern Caribbean islands with a volcano shall all be evacuated due to the combination of earthquake/volcano/ tsunami hazard, and also the remoteness and scale of these islands. All these islands (in addition to the Islands off the coast of Southern California and Ni'ihau island shall then be used for the world's long-term confinement areas. All of the island from Puerto Rico to Antigua, to Dominica, Martinique, Barbados and Grenada. The prisons are designed to always be rather hot, while the people allowed to wander the island get to enjoy the coolness of being outside on the paradise-like climate of the outdoor areas. The loveliness of the climate contributes to our ability to sentence people to longer lock up periods in "paradise" lockup islands far from the rest of society.

61/ The Mar Chiquita beach in Puerto Rico should be emulated with excavation and sand moving, with a fish grill at the entry/entries. We imagine that the excavated soil may be dumped straight into the ocean, and the excavated amphitheater shape is mostly flatter than a typical amphitheater for sunbathing purposes. There is often no sand, and many slightly high jumping ledges covered in flamed granite. The Rio Ozama basin of Hispanola shall have water catchment at the bottom and rice like farming above.

62/ military colleges shall no longer teach social sciences, physical sciences, or humanities, but instead they shall focus on what they were created to do. They shall train the next generation of military tactician/ leader in things like military tactics and strategy, how to deal with casualties, understanding their injuries, understanding military procurement, weapons functionality, information science, battlefield communications, peace and conflict resolution tactics, propaganda science, and other practical things related to being a first rate military commander.

63/ Regarding Guam:

a/ The important bases here shall be considered the most likely base to come under attack, given China's comments about "Guam killer" missiles.

b/ The existing runways shall be widened so they are harder to take out in an attack.

c/ There shall be at least 6 new wide runways in the southern parts of the Island. At Andersen AFB there shall be no foliage within 30m of any aircraft bunker.

d/ We shall try to reduce the civilian population of Guam. To this end, the Guamanians living in low lying areas shall be resettled to Hawaii or the mainland, and the at risk civilian population shall be reduced e/ All military aircraft shall be kept in bunkers covered in 30cm thick 8,000 psi concrete with a 18-in-12 slope to the ground on all sides. The hallways leading to the bunkers shall have a similar roofing/wall system. There shall be an overage of places in the aircraft bunker system given the relatively insignificant cost in comparison to the aircraft housed there. The bunker system shall run between several runways, so that if one runway is bombed, another may be used. The bunker system shall also have a number of 3-stage steel blast doors capable of withstanding an adjacent hit from a 5,000kg bomb. Similar systems shall be used for all important aircraft bunkers around the world, which shall be hardened against overhead bombing, lateral missile attack, and drone swarms. The way large numbers of aircraft are left open to drone attack from a nearby communities at NAS Miramar shall be thought to be an invitation to drone swarm attack. All of these aircraft must immediately be moved to remote bases where it is harder to attack with drone swarms.

f/ The island of Guam, like most important air bases shall have robust and multi-redundant signal jamming capabilities.

g/ Guam shall also have at least 30 groups of missile silos spread among its various bases.

h/ Another base shall be built at the south end of the island taking up all of Inarajan and Merizo. The aircraft shall be divided so that no base has less than 25% of the military aircraft nor more than 50% of the aircraft.

i/ Guam with 1/3 the area of Oahu, and 3,000km from China shall be thought a particularly dangerous place to live. All residences on Guam, both civilian and military must have a shared bomb shelter within a 3 minute run.

64/ The nation's main international hub airports shall be at the following locations that are all natural land hubs due to the terrain. There will also be the hub airports of the old cities for direct travel. However, the following airports general locations shall essentially have a rail system built there:

a/ Woodburn (Portland) Oregon.

b/ Ontario Oregon,

c/ Merced California.

d/ Northeast of Yuma

e/ Moab/ Green River Utah

f/ Fort Bliss in Mexas

g/ "Encinal Texas"

h/ Sterling Illinois

i/ Near Fort Wayne

j/ Herrin, Illinois

k/ South of Fargo

l/ Estevan, Saskatchewan

m/ Clifton park (Albany). This airport is attached to the interchange between the Quebec/Miami line and the Boston/Chicago line.

n/ Near Harrisburg/ Mount Joy

o/ Florence South Carolina

p/ East of Valdosta Georgia

q/ Tuscaloosa

r/ Near Little Rock, s/ College Station, Texas

t/ There will also be a major international airport on the big island of Hawaii, up north.

u/ LAX, SFO, JFK, DFW, Dulles, Seattle, Miami and other will continue to handle air traffic for long time. Also, Dulles airport shall no longer be named after the scumbag Dulles brothers. Instead it shall be renamed as "Old Capitol airport".

65/ The US shall build a container port on Cape Breton island, and 3 on both sides of the Panama canal zone. On the western side the canal the ports shall be Chame Bay and Rio Congo. Under this scheme will will be able to have virtual canal use. And here we imagine Japanese, Korean, Taiwanese and other nation's ships arriving at the west coast of Panama, but not going through the Panama canal. Instead, they unload and reload nearby to or from the rail system. And this unloading is paid by Uncle Sam because it firstly weakens Ishtar, but it also tremendously helps our neighbors and natural allies in Latin America and our allies in Japan and Korea and Taiwan. It also helps tie everyone together with Europe. So all containers arriving to or leaving from the land system at panama get loaded and unloaded, and virtually transferred by railroad to the other side of the canal and loaded on other ships for free essentially. If the system fills up with garbage shipments we might have postage of a day's wages, or two day's wages per container, to keep the system from filling up with garbage shipments.

66/ Our nation shall control the flow of people passing through Panama in both directions.

67/ It is worth considering that the real District of Colombia with it's kooky name was the Panama Canal that ruled over the Americas. The city named after George Washington used the DC to hide the Panama Canal out of sight and out of mind. Also, the name Panama means, everyone loves this place, and everyone wants it in their empire.

68/ The Senate shall be free to shut down trade through the Blood Red Sea, the Persian gulf, and the African cape. And thus force the world to ship goods instead via our Panama. And we shall allow India to go through, although we shall not guarantee safety of vessels. But we shall close Mideast to sea trade. And we shall use this to drive its people into universal Exhodos. So we can once and for all end Ishtar. We shall also use this ocean closure to drive China in to connecting with Europe via rail, a thing that all freedom lovers must want and all Ishtarrians absolutely hated like a bringer of famine and death to their people.

69/ Most of the flights between the US and southeast Asia will transit in Hawaii, with a great many small communities having direct flights to Hawaii on both side and a day or three for layovers. However, most the flights between northeast Asia and the US will transit in Anchorage, or rather the new city of Kodiak about 200 miles west of Anchorage. In the summer there will be more flights and longer stopovers in Alaska. In the winder there will be fewer flights and stopovers of only a few hours, maximum. Although the Airport may be closed due to bad weather. Thus people will be able to fly from say Boise to Penang with two flights and have about the same flight time as a non-stop from Kuala Lumpur to Los Angeles. Also Anchorage serves to well connect all the flights from India to the west coast of north America. From India to the east coast of North America, the best stop is probably via the new Europe-to-north-America hub airport in Ireland due to the number of flights.

70/ When we look at the Anchorage valley, it is a bit difficult to get to the northern passage rail line. Also, perhaps more importantly, the Anchorage valley is in a tsunami funnel, and this seems to have created a rather binary topography that is either vulnerable to tsunamis like Taiwan, or it's too high up in the cold and hard to reach mountains. So the new main Alaskan city and airport of "Kodiak" will go near Koliganek and Ekwok. This area has a huge supply of 200 to 400 m elevation land that is safe to build on. But this land is still not so high that it's the winters are unnecessarily cold. Also, this is only around 400 miles from the Pan-American rail line, so supplies from the lower 48 (including super-insulated concrete apartment building blocks) are going to be relatively cheap. So this is probably the more ideal location for the new international hub airport. This area also supports much cold-water fish farming due to the many huge lakes in the area. This is the sort of climate where township living will really offer an advantage. Also, the Kodiak airport and airport hotel zone will allow visa free travel, but a US visa will be required to leave the airport zone and take a train or car to somewhere else: and also to leave Alaska. Nunivak Island can be a prison island.

71/ We should favor India over China for a number of reasons:

a/ India is by itself already automatically in democracy, and China isn't.

b/ We have a big problem with Chinese people migrating to our country and remaining loyal to China in the first generation of immigrant we don't really have a problem with Indians doing this.

c/ We have a big problem with China acting like a military aggressor, and we have no problem with India doing this.

d/ The Indians speak our language already. And we can see, we can talk to them in our own language, and better integrate with them.

e/ Chinese demographics point to a disaster. This is not a problem with India.

f/ The Chinese nation is imperialistic, while India is the opposite and just wants to be left alone with regard to imperialistic external countries.

g/ by presenting China with a message like this, we drive change in China, for its revolting, imperialist and hyper-competitive stance with the outside world. So when China starts behaving better, we should allow more favorable trade status, and treated like India.

h/ China practices, extreme state-sponsored, mercantilist, capitalist, and export led growth strategies, and India doesn't.

72/ Panama scrapes $3 billion a year from the canal. But this probably costs its neighbors upwards of $30 billion a year in economic activity due to multiplier effects.

73/ The reason for having all the many nations of central America is to obstruct the free flow of goods between the Americas, just like the reason for the existence of the Darien Gap. It is probably better for Latin America if Mexico and the centralitos combined and became one totally free trade zone.

74/ The train lines between The Colombian border and Azteca should be two lines of passengers in each direction and two lines of freight in each direction. There should also be a plan to divert massive numbers of cars from North and South America in case of a volcanic eruption or earthquake swarms in Central America.

75/ Mexico shall have two ports, one in the east at the Rock port peninsula, near Corpus Christi Texas. The other port is located in the south bay of San Diego. The San Diego harbor shall be divided into three parts divided by a new causeway a bit north of the Sweetwater river, and another one, a pedestrians and bike-lane causeway shall be built from Orange, Ave. Coronado to marina park way. Then the north part of San Diego bay will be used for pleasure boats, and resort harbors. The middle bay will be for the navy only, and we will open up two openings in the middle bay. And the southern most (in the Chula Vista/ Imperial Beach area) will have one opening and be used for cargo. Being right on the edge of Mexico, this harbor will service the US, Mexico, and Mexico. The most important naval ships are supposed to be queued-up all around the Navy openings. The navy shall drill and drill until the entire navy is ready at the sound of an alarm to get all ships underway within one minute.

76/ To reduce oil smuggling, we shall totally prohibit all oil tankers from all of our nation's mainland ports, except at Sugarloaf Key, Florida. Here there shall be no pipelines for any fluids. Instead, all the oil shall move in railroad container cars that have simple visible coiled springs with an empty/ full indicator, and all the undercarriage must be open for inspection. So while the tankers may land at Sugarloaf Key, the oil shall only move into our nation on railcars. This is so we the people can measure and track how much oil is coming in from overseas. Also, none of our ports shall be served by any sort of pipelines. Even water, even sewage from the port and the fuel for the ships must come and go using containers on rails when they use our nation's ports. Also, any people who come along in the future and advocate the construction of pipelines for oil instead of using easy to verify container railcars from our one oil trading port: Any people advocating for oil pipelines or any system that makes corruption easier, all of these people should be regarded as corrupt.

77/ If we allow imported oil at all, all imported oil shall come from Mexico (Baja) or from Cuba (which shall not allow any foreign tankers to land), or as a distant third choice Venezuela. Under this scenario, all ships importing oil to Key Largo shall not be allowed to leave the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean sea. In other words, we shall not import any oil whatsoever from the Middle East. When European nations emulate our constitution, it's recommended that they allow no oil tankers to enter the Mediterranean from the Suez Canal.

78/ We shall draw a line between Key West and Padre Island. The area to the north of this line shall be off limits to foreign and returning US shipping unless they have pre-approval to enter. Small vessels without pre-approval shall be either boarded and confiscated, or they shall be blown up by our military or coast guard.

NR'204. ALL LAWS DIE FAST

1/ Institutions once established frequently develop lives of their own and frequently outlive their usefulness. For this reason, no law, act, organization, department, administration, or aspect of government shall stand for more than 5 years without a complete legislative review. During this review, each act, organization, department, administration, and aspect must be entirely re-assembled from the ground-up by the Senate.

2/ All laws of the previous corrupt narrow democracy that have to do with commodities, the environment, transit, railways, vehicles, or the environment shall expire at the end of the 2nd Sub-Senate term, on day 118. All laws of the previous corrupt narrow democracy that don't have to do with the foregoing shall expire at the end of the 3rd Sub-Senate term, on day 191.

3/ The Federal Register page count under the old bloated government reached over 95,000 pages. Under this new constitution the total National Register (the new name) shall not exceed 20,000 pages (the 1970 size). This shall include a central or universal section that shall not exceed 5,000 pages, and specialize sections that shall not exceed 300 pages each per specialized section. These pages shall be defined as 400 words per page.

NR'205. SECRET SENATE VOTING

1/ If lawmakers voted in secret like the people do at the polls, then:

a/ They could vote as they like, and ignore their donors. Thus campaign gifts will have less influence over our democracy.

b/ Donors won't know if their gifts worked. And because of secret voting they'll expect to have less influence. So they'll give less and there will be less corruption money.

c/ Vote swapping stops, because nobody can tell if the other side voted as promised. Then, without vote swapping, the corrupting power of coalitions and political parties is reduced.

d/ Constituencies won't know how their representative voted. So Congressional voting becomes less about bringing home pork barrel spending, and more about what is good for the nation. This reduces pork barrel spending and makes government more efficient financially.

e/ All of the above. Democracy improved in 4-ways.

2/ The system for secret Senate voting shall be this:

a/ While voting, all Senators shall wear an identical loose-fitting black hooded cloak and a black fencer's mask that obscures their face and makes all Senators look identical except for their height and weight under black cloth. All shall wear gloves that are day-glow light green and special Senate voting uniform shoes that are all identical.

b/ Voting shall occur at numbered post in 10x10 grids (A1 to J10) in rooms with a triple height ceilings. Each Senator gets a 90cm square. Each Senator stands by a numbered post, and palms up means yes or yea to the vote. No hands means no or nay on the vote.

c/ Each Senator draws from 100 numbered chips in a green bag. He holds this up for the video record, and then tosses the chip in the red collection bag. Each Senator stays at this randomly drawn location for the length of the voting session.

d/ The Senators enter the voting chamber through a low ceiling mixing area that is all around the voting chamber. In this mixing area, the Senators are supposed to walk 1 lap or so and linger around, or walk up 2 laps or so before entering or leaving the voting chamber and drawing a position from the draw. There are also identical baffle walls that keep people from trailing Senators to identify them. There are no cameras in this mixing area.

e/ Senators are not supposed to speak or make sounds in the voting chamber or mixing area.

f/ An electronic voice calls a vote on whatever named matter. Then there is a 3-2-1 set of beeps with a camera flash and an overhead photo of each 10X10 voting group. A computer tallies up the total and shows the results for the count in each of the 100 voting bays. All Senators look to see if their own vote is recorded correctly. They can also check their voting centime. But the computer instantly counts all the hands on the photo image and thus counts the vote—with the Senators having the right to object over miscounts.

g/ The Senate shall screen for locator chips, cameras and other spy tech in its voting chambers.

h/ Cloaked voting is superior because everyone's vote remains secret even though the total vote is recorded by camera. The process is also unbeatably fast.

3/ The Senate may require cloaked voting in Nome elections where there are credible allegations of vote buying, or voter intimidation.

NR'206. NEW COUNTING SYSTEMS

1/ Our nation and its government shall switch to using the following counting and day management systems:

a/ It shall use 10 36.5-day teneths per year in addition to months.

b/ It shall use 6-day sweeks in addition to 7-day weeks, and it shall introduce a day-halving schedule so much the nation works 11 days 180 days a year. All telescreens and computers shall toggle between both the old counting system and the new one.

c/ It shall neither command, nor recognize any public holidays. The people are free to have regular public holidays as they have them.

d/ It shall institute a 16 digit global address system for addresses. The assignment of the digits is: Nation-2# (India and China get 10 each out of 99 possible numbers)+ Township-5# + Unit5# + Verifier-4#. Also the verifiers may vary annually, and certain classes of sender can skip the verifier while certain classes of sender get declared as spam and reported as spam.

e/ It shall cease using imperial measures for weight, volume, temperature, distance, speed, and area.

f/ It shall use the maximum horizontal gravity scale (as a percentage of vertical gravity), instead of the Richter scale to measure earthquakes.

g/ Understanding large quantities and per capita rates shall be thought to be the most important aspect of Secondary school math. This shall come right after multiplication in the math curriculum. Then everyone does it again before graduation.

h/ The use of Roman numerals shall be prohibited in all new printings. All sections shall be in standard multi-numerical progression format, for example 1.1.1, 1.1.2, 1.1.3, etc. There shall be no intellectual property ownership rights on new written material that uses Roman numerals or letters in its sectioning.

i/ The numbers above these rules shall be called National Article-1, and National Article-2, and so forth. The numbers below shall be called National Right-1, National Right-2, and so forth. The Articles and Rights of this Constitution may be written as NR'1.1 or NR'21.4 or NA'19.4.c. These shall be said as National Right 1 dot 1, or National Constitution Right section 1 dot 1, and National Right 21 dot 4. also National Article 19 dot 4 dot c. There are also UM Constitution Articles and Rights used in a similar way. This is done to facilitate text search and to make the constitutional code easier to refer to. The single quotation mark between the type of code and the number is said as "section". The indexes are headed as "TABLE-OF-CONTENTS" with hyphens to make them more searchable. Each nation's Senate dot gov website shall display the full searchable constitutional code, and all subsequent laws, with Senate commentary and FAQs for each section of code.

j/ All historical social cost data shall be expressed in thousands and millions of year of wages.

k/ All phones shall indicate the name of the country along with the country code.

l/ All lumber and materials shall use their actual size. This includes both plywood by thickness, and dimensional lumber dimensions, pipes, etc.

m/ All math equations shall be unequivocal. Parentheses and brackets must be used so that the sum is always the same.

The order shall be thus: <{[()]}> and absent this, the ordering shall be left to right.

n/ From now on all dates, shall be written in the following format: 2001.09.11 for September 11, 2001

NR'207. GOVERNMENT TUTORIALS

1/ Government shall generally require that everyone take the appropriate tutorials, video or print, under monitoring each time they file a case or using government services. This is intended to:

a/ Democratize access to government services and create a level playing field.

b/ Tax government services with time rather than money, time being a fairer way to tax the users of government services.

c/ Speed up the delivery of government services, and at the same time lower their cost to the public.

d/ Reduce nuisance applications.

e/ All plaintiffs shall be required to take the appropriate print or video classes under eye-tracking before they may file a case in civil court. This way, they will know if they satisfy the conditions of filing a case. This way, they will know if they are subject to penalties for improperly filing a case. This way, they will have to pay with time, rather than money to file their case.

f/ We shall make detailed, accurately named, and summarized tutorials for all commonly repeated govern matters. And we shall have clear rules and reasonably high penalties for filing frivolous and redundant cases.

NR'208. WORLD GOVERNMENT

1/ We shall not participate in any form of world government that accepts the Ishtarian empire or any of its colonies as members unless they have cleaved. Likewise, we shall not participate in any form of world government that gives one vote to each member nation of this empire, because 1/3 of the nations in the world today are parts of this single nation of Ishtar/Islam.

2/ The first priority of the UM and the various national Governments shall be to create a war economy without a war, to wage war on scarcity. We shall:

a/ Rapidly build a new high speed rail system.

b/ Fund an industry of apartment casting and assembly factories.

c/ Build new cities and evacuate those that are unsafe.

d/ Double or triple agricultural output to build giant food stores.

e/ Build the macro-technology to help deal with the world's volcanos.

f/ Feed, supply, and industrialize the rest of the world.

NR'209. NO PUBLIC EXECUTION AS SPECTACLE

1/ As a safety measure against tyranny and out of respect for human life, government shall not execute more than one person at a time.

2/ No execution or punishment shall ever be a form of entertainment as it was in the Roman coliseum, because this can very easily be subverted into a tool for tyrannical intimidation of the people. Therefore, nobody may watch any public execution. It shall be a felony to record or promulgate the recording of any public execution. The only exception we shall make to this rule is for monarchs, oligarchs, zillionaires, and the leaders of narrow democracies are being executed for spying, or for treason, conspiracy, or commit to commit treason, or for being part of a Cabal

3/ Except for the execution of former leaders, the person executed may be displayed before the execution, and his corpse may be displayed after the execution to many thousands death witnesses, but the actual execution shall not be broadcast or recorded. Also, corpses shall not be put on display as a means of intimidating the people into obedience. Corpses may however be put on display to prove that the person has indeed been executed. Also, there shall be a public inspection of all executed political people, their face and body to make sure that they are dead, and I also that they are not wearing masks.

4/ Just as we shall always stand opposed to all form of monarchy, no matter how attenuated, we shall also stand opposed to all forms of execution or punishment as spectacle, no matter how attenuated. The only exception shall be tyrannical leaders, because the people must be assured that they were in fact killed.

5/ The prohibition against public executions shall only be fore common people and it shall not apply to traitorous government officials that are executed . This is because the people must verify that their traders are actually executed. Therefore, when government officials are executed, they shall always be asphyxiated by mens of a clear plastic bag placed over their head on at least 50 video feeds. Then after their death, their fingerprints and iris prints, and teeth shall be carefully displayed for the record to make sure that it is indeed the person that was supposed to be executed. Also, the skin on their face shall be pulled on to make sure the person killed was not wearing a lifelike mask. Where government officials are executed under conditions of torturous punishment, the torture shall occur before they are asphyxiated.

NR'210. THE BIG BANG

1/ We shall start the new parasite-free economy off with a big bang. Starting on Constitution day, we will:

a/ Cancel all old tax obligations.

b/ Cancel all old debt obligations.

c/ Give every citizen the place they occupy without any debt. And these places may be mortgaged to start a business.

d/ Guarantee all cash deposits.

e/ Start building a new high-speed, steel-on-steel rail system.

f/ Start building new cities.

g/ Start building out new foreign worker zones.

h/ Start storing up a multi-yr food supply.

2/ We shall start off our economy as tax free, and then, only when the economy starts revving into the power-band and inflation starts to rise shall the Senate impose the taxes it has pre-elected in standby mode.

3/ Most people will soon have a residence to use for obtaining credit, and many will have valuable company shares. So most people will have some capital to invest. It is imperative that everyone be able to obtain loans on (but not necessarily sell) their home and company equity straight away.

4/ Everyone just keeps going and going to work as usual until the new Senate tells them to stop. If it ever tells them to stop. This way, the world keeps working. There shall be penalties for people who alter the way they do business, either in prices or the amount they give for the same price.

5/ In the beginning, there shall be no taxes for anything for a short while. Then there shall be no taxes for manufacturing provided that at least half is made in our nation. Then at least 75% made in our nation.

6/ All church funds and all school endowments shall be nationalized.

NR'211. CITIZEN CAPITAL REAPPORTIONMENT

1/ To purge our economy of the parasite's ownership rights, there shall be a one-time wealth reapportionment according to the formulas herein. This is intended to wipe out all of Ishtar's ownership rights in our land, as well as all our debt obligations to Ishtar. This while changing our capital apportionments between real human citizens as little as possible. And this is no small chunk of the economy. It is all the property not owned by our people today. Thus, the validity of the public debt can be challenged when it is by fictional citizens, foreign nations, foreign interests, and immigrants, but not domestic people born in our nation. No debts to the IMF, UN, bank of international settlements, or any foreign bank or lender shall be valid, all assets of these shall be nationalized by the nation that they are located in.

2/ The ownership of all valuable things owned in our nation including all stock, bonds, mutual funds, loans, real estate, super-valuable personal property, options, derivatives, swaps, precious metals, and all other financial instrument shall be frozen. These shall not be bought, sold, optioned, leased, exchanged borrowed, or otherwise put under contract to exchange until the Over-Senate unfreezes the transactions in this class of asset. Those who attempt to circumvent these restrictions may be subject to both monetary penalty and imprisonment if the transactions are later judged to be excessive and outside the normal range of business transactions. Also, if they are Ishtarians (even Ishtarian citizens) they may be deported/ sent back to start the Exhod process again.

3/ All bank and credit accounts shall be frozen. However, these may be instantly and completely unfrozen and claimed by all who can speak English without a foreign accent and those who can provide proof of identity. Those unable to do this may still continue to make regular ongoing payments, and each may continue to withdraw and spend as much as they regularly withdrew and spent before. All banks and depositories must stay open as normal during the reapportionment.

4/ Private property cannot be taken for public use without just compensation however just compensation can be according to any reasonable and fair metric determined by the Senate.

5/ The Over-Senate may elect additional rules for this capital reapportionment with a 60% overmajority.

6/ In general, the capital reapportionment shall be administered by the various county Senates with oversight by 3 other randomly drawn county Senates in years 1, 2 and 3. Where there are pockets of extreme wealth in our nation, there shall be special attention, and also perhaps additional audits. Also, in all reapportionment procedures and audits, government shall start with the richest. The richest shall be dealt with first.

7/ During the reapportionment, people shall be expected to cooperate and work hard as they would in an extreme natural challenge.

8/ There shall be no option sales either on revelation or thereafter. All outstanding options shall be halved in value and half given to each side. Sales of options after revelation day shall be void and nationalized, and neither the buyer nor the seller shall get any money returned to them. Instead, Government shall get all the money.

9/ Except as stated herein, all pre-revelation day business agreements and relationships shall continue on without change unless this is impossible. It is only the sale of large chunks of assets especially capital assets, equities, real estate, bonds, and derivatives that shall be halted.

10/ Everyone in our nation shall be required to file a complete list of all their assets with their county recorder. Everyone claiming assets must have been the owner of record on the day before revelation day. All unclaimed assets, and assets not justifiably claimed shall be nationalized. Those who don't go on record as owning an asset or a share in an asset shall have no right to make a claim for compensation in the future.

11/ The rule shall be, business as usual, except that there are no debt repayments, rents, or taxes until the Senate re-imposes them.

12/ When immigrants move a great deal of money in an attempt to circumvent the re-apportionment, it shall weigh heavily against their immigration status when that is decided.

13/ Ishtarians shall also be subject to a cleaving penalty depending on how fast they cleave.

14/ Illegal aliens and those working illegally in our nation shall not get anything from the reapportionment.

15/ Those who originally came illegally, but were granted any form of illegal immigration amnesty by the corrupt old system shall have:

a/ Have no right to any rental property they occupy.

b/ If the once illegal immigrant has been living legally in our nation for more than 20-years, and they own property, they may keep the one property they own and occupy.

16/ Ownership of property shall have no bearing on immigration status.

17/ Our military service people should not lose out on the reapportionment because they were on duty. They get their fair share too.

18/ Stock market margin debt shall not be cancelled, but shall remain a debit against the borrower proportionate to any change in the overall price of all stocks.

19/ The US shall not be considered to have defaulted on its debt, but on the debts of a parasite that has taken it over our government and has run it into the ground. And likewise, with other nations. Also, only the citizens of that country shall have a claim against that nation's assets, except for the limited amounts of personal use property clearly exempted herein.

20/ BlackRock, vanguard, State Street, inVesco, etc. shall have all their assets nationalized and these entities shall no longer continue to exist. Shareholders may obtain compensation via the reapportionment.

21/ All school land and all private school endowments shall be nationalized.

22/ All debt for one's own single automobile or work truck (but only one vehicle per person) shall be cancelled in the reapportionment.

23/ Non-citizens that acquired property in our nation based mostly on the gifts or discriminatory financing of the corrupt Democrat Party, shall forfeit all of their ownership rights.

24/ After the reapportionment, all automobile debt shall be wiped out.

25/ All property owned by Black-rock, Vanguard, State Street shall be frozen and nationalized, and only citizens shall get their share. All private equity funds shall be frozen until unfrozen by the Senate.

26/ In the reapportionment, all private equity investment pools shall be frozen. This shall include all payments in and out of the private equity funds until the Senate releases the assets.

27/ All student debt, and all healthcare debt over 6-months old shall be cancelled nationwide.

NR'212. PROPERTY REAPPORTIONMENT

1/ Wherever people live, that place is now theirs, free and clear of all loans. This applies to all housing both government and private, except military housing, homeless housing and housing for non-citizens. This does not apply to lodging normally rented by the night. This does not apply to occupants that are non-citizens unless they already own their dwelling, and the non-citizens that purchased their dwelling after the year 2018.

2/ The property reapportionment shall not apply to non-residential property. The new ownership of Non-residential property is explained elsewhere. For the purposes of the reapportionment, hotels, AirBNB rentals, shelters, dormitories shall not be considered residential. The hotels however, all get nationalized as fast as the Senate can get around to it. Those stealing from hotels prior to nationalization shall be treated as if they are stealing group property, and these shall get double penalties, like all who steal group property. (When people take less than a gallon of plant fruits from public land that isn't nature reserve, this shall never be a crime).

3/ Homeless people, non-citizens, and especially non-citizens illegally in our nation shall not participate in the reapportionment. If non-citizens have been renting a place, they shall get no ownership rights in the place they are renting. Those who previously entered illegally and then obtained amnesty and even citizenship from a corrupt prior government, these shall also get no ownership rights in the place they are renting. However, those who came illegally, and who own property, may keep their property as if they were citizens. They shall however get no special citizen rights from owning property. Also, their ownership shall not be affected by the lack of citizenship.

4/ Those with multiple residences around the world must choose one unless the total floor area of the places they will keep is less than 500 sq. meters. If they choose one, the maximum amount of home that may be kept shall however be limited to 600 sq. meters. Barns, garages, long established workshops, sheds, and unglazed porches shall not be included in floor area here.

5/ All real estate that not legally claimed shall become the property of the government. Government shall auction off some of its nationalized assets to raise money. However this shall not include infrastructure assets.

6/ All real estate, company equities, bonds, and other assets that cannot be tied to a real flesh and blood person able to own things in our nation shall be nationalized.

7/ Those who use force to take over a place currently occupied by another shall get nothing except time in prison.

8/ Only the Senate shall have the right to seize occupied Ishtarian assets. There shall be no right on the part of individuals to seize assets as has happened so many time in similar situations throughout history. This time everything shall work a bit differently, and it shall be a felony for individuals and mobs to arrogate the property of others in the name of the reapportionment. Also, any violence on the part of those trying to arrogate the property of others during the reapportionment shall be charged with double penalties.

9/ The only way individuals may come to be in possession of any Ishtarian assets is after the nationalized assets are auctioned by government.

10/ It shall be a felony to misappropriate public property including reapportionment assets about to be nationalized.

11/ Regarding evictions and re-posessions. If people are already out on Revelation day, then they have no claim. If they are not yet out, then they become 100% owners. Those evicted on revelation day still become 100% owners.

12/ If an owner and renters are currently living in the same dwelling unit, each renters shall get 25% of the equity, unless there are more than two renters in which case, the renters shall never get more than 50% of the equity.

13/ If the unit was rented under rent control, the value under the reapportionment should be the value with the tenant in place. The reapportionment should not be a boon to landlords in rent control areas. Also, where the reapportionment creates a double payment situation, where two people are paid for the same thing, one's interest must be fairly reduced in favor of the other's, so the public only pays once.

14/ Our nation is supposed to institute deflation, and there is supposed to be little possibility of making significant capital gains from speculating on one's home in the future. In addition, the new housing in our new super-efficient and inexpensive rail-based cities will cost much less than today's cities, so once that takes hold, there will be a great surplus of housing in the old inefficient and costly to operate cities.

15/ Thanks to our new tax system, large houses will become much more expensive, with no possibility of making capital gains. This will reduce demand for them.

16/ All multi tenant buildings with ownership that is hard to determine, and where even the tenants do not know the true owners name, all these shall be nationalized, and then the rent going forward shall be paid to government.

17/ Where government property is possessed/usurped without title or valid lease, this shall not count as valid possession under the reapportionment.

18/ The reapportionment shall not just apply to real property that is rented monthly, but everything else that is rented monthly, for the difference between buying and renting is so little and it's easy to conflate the two and transfer one to the other

NR'213. EXHOD REAPPORTIONMENT

1/ No immigrant household shall keep more than half a lifetime's wages, call it 20-year's wages. Exhods that cleave fast in all of the required ways get rewarded:

a/ Those who assemble at a mosque in advance with hammers and begin destroying their mosque on video immediately at the appointed global time, these can keep up to 60 year's wages and are subject to no cleaving tax. These shall be seen as brave helpers and apostles of the new ways expressed herein, and thus deserve special protection.

b/ Those who cleave later on day-1 can keep up to 30-year's wages and are subject to a 10% cleaving tax. These shall be seen as cowardly helpers and apostles of the new ways expressed herein, and thus deserve some special protections.

c/ Those who cleave later on day-2 can keep up to 15-year's wages and are subject to a 20% late cleaving tax.

d/ Those who cleave on day-3 can keep up to 10-year's wages and pay a 30% late cleaving tax on their assets.

e/ Those who cleave after day-7 can keep up to 5-year's wages and pay a 40% late cleaving tax on their assets.

f/ Those who cleave after day-14 can keep up to 2-year's wages and pay a 60% late cleaving tax on their assets.

g/ Those who cleave after day-30 can only keep up to 1-year's wages and pay an 80% late cleaving tax on their assets.

2/ Those under age 24 count only as 1/4 of a person, and those between age 24 and 35 count as only 1/2 of a person for the purposes of the reapportionment. All must post and save their video and carry it with them as proof that they have cleaved. Videos of them burning their Islamic slave's clothing is another thing that will protect them.

3/ Those who cleave after day-14 may also be subject to deportation as an unrepentant Ishtarian if they have immigrated.

4/ Everyone shall be expected to post their videos online, immediately after they cleave. The Senate may or may not forgive late-posters who are a couple days late due to genuine system difficulties. Even 5-year olds must use a hammer on posted video.

5/ If the entire Islamic world cleaves almost as one, we shall all consider ourselves very lucky. And even if it takes a few days for nearly everyone from the Islamic side to get on board, we shall treat everyone as if they cleaved on day one. For we shall consider ourselves lucky to peacefully make this immense step forward for all mankind.

6/ Cleaving from the start, in the first hour shall be seen as a thing of people who were in on the planning of the cleaving. It will also be a thing of people who hate Ishtar and will jump at the opportunity to end it. The settlement maximum is a bit high at first, so that everyone involved in ending Ishtar gets rewarded. Also because the very first risk being attacked by the crazies in their society.

7/ The reapportionment amounts stated herein shall be seen by all as fair. You shall all say "I might have wanted more/less but this is not far away. It is a fair compromise." You must all say this to carry away the rest of your peoples.

8/ The Ishtarrians shall loose all of Khadijah's wealth and get a clean slate. The Ishtarrians shall not cry for their ducats like Shylock from Shakespeare, and the host side shall not ask for more money, or for any pounds of flesh. Time of ignorance shall be the starting point for all punishments and penalties.

9/ All Ishtarian assets and wealth over the amounts stipulated herein shall be nationalized.

10/ Ishtarrians found holding undisclosed Ishtarian assets or wealth shall suffer the penalties of unrepentant Ishtarrians. If there is widespread fraud, the Senate may institute more discharging work. The Senate may also require further and extreme reductions in the wealth of all Ishtarrians. The Senate may also deport the fraudsters and their families and associates and their families.

11/ All foreign-born Exhods over age 15 and under age 65 shall be subject to a 10-hour per week discharging tax until 2035. No matter how much they work, the tax house first gets 10 hours at their earning rate. This tax is an incentive to get more Exhods accepted around the world. On 2036.01.01, all shall be released from their bonds, and all of Ishtar's slaves shall be totally free of their financial obligations to Ishtar.

NR'214. CITIZEN LOSS REINSTATEMENT

1/ All creditors that are human citizens or that remain classified as legal immigrants shall be reimbursed for their losses up to the maximum wealth they are permitted.

However, visitors, illegal immigrants, the incarcerated, and some classes of those previously given immigration amnesty, shall not get anything. Thus all citizens and legal immigrants shall eventually get their share of the national pie, once the parasite-owned parts are nationalized and the calculations are complete. However, all parasite wealth and ownership rights shall accrue to the people. Also, these payments shall be limited by the wealth caps called for herein.

2/ Those who suffer losses from the capital reapportionment may claim up to their wealth limits as citizens or non-citizens the reinstatement.

3/ Non-Exhod immigrant citizen households that suffer losses from the capital reapportionment may claim up to 100 year's wages in reinstatement.

4/ All claims must be filed with the county recorder in the first 180-days after this Constitution comes into effect, however, the Senate may increase this period to 1-year.

5/ The total accepted claims shall be divided by the nationalization equity and expressed in labor units, (man-years at the average wage). The result of this calculation shall be expressed as a percentage. In the new economy, government shall make reinstatement payments to keep the percentage the same. The people shall get the remainder of the value of the parasite's assets that were seized, and everything else.

6/ Nationalization equity shall be defined by recent value less:

a/ Monopoly value that will not survive in the new system.

b/ Bubble value that will not survive in the new system.

c/ IP monopoly value that will not survive in the new system.

d/ Similar things that will not survive in the new system.

x/ Also, recent value does not necessarily mean immediately recent, but it should be consistent nationwide.

7/ Government shall float 4,000 labor units per capita. This shall represent 2 year's wages per citizen. This shall be issued in the name of public credit. This shall have a notional value of 4,000 hours of labor per citizen, approximately 2-year's wages.

8/ Due to all the parasite owned assets, the reinstatement payments will only be a fraction of the gains from nationalization. Thus the reapportionment will be highly profitable for the people from the beginning.

9/ Tremendous financial advantage will accrue to the national economy when we erase the trillions of dollars in fake debt, the debt that the US, the EU, China and Japan owe to the Mideast for its artificially expensive oil and shipping services. Thus we will all grow much richer.

10/ All fictional citizens must clearly list and total up their valid domestic ownership percentage and their non-valid ownership percentage. The non valid ownership shall remain with the fictional citizen, however it shall be frozen until the Senate deals with it. This way the fictional citizens can continue on and function more or less as normal until the Senate deals with the reapportioning their non-domestic ownership share.

11/ Nobody is supposed to win big by the citizen loss reinstatement except that everyone is supposed to do better.

12/ After the reapportionment, there shall be no more calls for social equity, or more reapportionments.

13/ One of the first things that our new Sub-Senate Centi-Nomes will do is record and value ownership of property for the reapportionment. They will prioritize their responses based in length of occupancy, shortest occupancies coming last. Squatters and illegal aliens shall have no rights under the capital reapportionment. All verified and true claims of squatting, usurpation, and especially violence and intimidation shall disqualify.

14/ Where non-citizens are being housed by the public they shall have no claim to that room. However, rentals to government for housing illegals with no claim shall not be allowed to be a loop-hole for profiting from the capital reapportionment. Likewise empty hotel rooms, or rooms housing migrants shall not be a loop-hole for profiting from the capital reapportionment, on the part of either the migrant or the hotel owner. All rooms that are either empty or filled with migrants shall be nationalized.

15/ Everyone who lost their job due to a COVID health mandate or restriction shall generally have the right to get their job back if they want it.

NR'215. EMPLOYEE PROFIT SHARING

1/ Leaving a sliver of the profit pie for employees can have no net cost. This is because the motivation and sense of inclusion generated by a 1% share of the profit pie shared by the employees will surely buy more than a 1% increase in labor productivity and inclination to help the enterprise. If we do the math, an 8.33-hour workday is 500 minutes, and 1% is 5 minutes. So if a 1% profit share leads to more than 5-minutes more work daily, or 5-minutes more productivity daily, or 5-minutes more quality daily, it is worthwhile for the enterprise's owners.

2/ Our nation shall now have optional Senate administered profit sharing for businesses, which shall not be changed once approved. If any particular business declares that a certain percentage of its equity is employee owned, the Senate shall have the right to apportion that share of the company's dividends to the employees as it elects is fair, or it may follow management's recommendations, if any.

3/ Companies should proudly display their e percent, the employee profit share percent, because this indicates how motivated their workers are.

4/ The Senate should pay close attention to the various profit share percentages offered in the job market. It should regularly form an opinion about the most optimal profit share percentage for the various jobs. However, the Senate shall be prohibited from mandating any profit shares.

5/ The Senate shall help companies that are entirely employee owned by giving them an ultra low cost means of ousting non-performing members for well documented cause.

6/ When the Senate jury calculates profit shares it shall firstly consider documented valuable contributions to the operation of the enterprise. These are most important for the Senate and the long term viability of the enterprise, and these will be most rewarded under the Senate profit sharing plan. The Senate may also elect to award some of the profit share money based on or documented hard work. However, these payments are entirely at the discretion of a Senate jury.

7/ When the Senate apportions profit shares, this shall not be constant across the economy, or within any company. Also, the scarce and valuable knowledge workers are must get a much bigger slice than the plentiful unskilled workers.

8/ The Senate shall produce and promulgate standard approaches and metrics for employee profit sharing. The Senate may compel the use of these standard approaches among companies that opt for Senate profit sharing, with Senate oversight.

9/ The people and their public purse will now re-acquire a large share of the nation's corporate wealth when we re-acquire Ishtar's stolen equity. And we the people certainly believe in employee profit sharing as a motivating force. However, the portion of profit share awarded to each employee of the most valuable companies shall be limited to 20-year's wages. And as always herein, this is the average wage for our nation not including the top or bottom earners.

NR'216. GENE TESTING TO FIND HAREMI

1/ Throughout history, the enemies of freedom have mostly been the offspring of harems. By nature, these people tend to have a number of same-father agnates, via many different mothers. The shared paternal DNA is easy to see in Y-chromosome comparisons. Then once we have found some strings of brothers, the diverse Maternal DNA is something also very easy to see in genetic comparisons of these brothers. Thus we have a way to genetically test for Harem bred males in our society.

2/ Everyone worldwide must be tested, recorded, indexed, and cross compared with everyone else in the world for genetic affinity. This is necessary so we can find all the harem spawn living among us.

3/ Once we have done our testing, all the data shall be backed-up by all Counties. Each County shall keep a copy of the global list.

4/ A year after the first testing, we shall test again, and make a second distributed data backup. This is just in case we miss some people.

5/ First to be checked are the people who are, or were in leadership or powerful positions, be they government, military, corporate, press, media, law, medicine, and academia among other powerful positions. Next will come everyone who looks in any way like they might be Middle Eastern. Next comes immigrants and all adopted children. Next comes the general population.

6/ It is unfortunate that everyone must give their DNA for this, however:

a/ We have all mostly already done this, even before COVID.

b/ It is very easy to check DNA behind a person's back with secretly gathered hair and saliva. So this is an extremely hard thing to protect from, and our protections will be more or less futile.

c/ We are facing a solvent and infiltrating enemy, and this enemy must be exposed, and we have an easy way to expose the enemy using DNA analysis.

7/ Each County shall administer the genetic testing of its own people in an anonymized manner. Each shall run its own cloned portable labs, digitize its samples and run them search-engine-fashion against all the Y-chromosome "keywords" posted by all the other Counties in the world. Thus each match will be revealed twice, once from each side. There will also be independent and often redundant spot auditing of everyone by the largest 30 nations.

8/ The system shall use tens of thousands of known positives to test the testers.

9/ Each Centi-Nome shall work with all its neighboring Centi-Nomes to make sure that nobody is omitted and nobody recently residing at any address goes into hiding without an arrest warrant being issued.

10/ All Middle-Eastern people and adoptees that test negative shall be double checked by two other Centi-Nomes. These re-checking Centi-Nomes shall be nearby and randomly assigned by a 2-ball blind draw of the National Over-Senate.

11/ No person with Mideast ties shall work in testing for this.

12/ The right to adoption privacy shall be considered entirely unimportant in comparison to national security. There shall be no anonymity for children adopted from foreign nations.

NR'217. PROTOTYPE CONSTITUTION

1/ This Constitution is intended to be a prototype for people in every land to muster a democracy under.

2/ If this Constitution is used with adjustments for another nation, all removed text should appear in strikethrough text, and all added text shall appear in bold immediately after. Thus China's version would begin: "WE THE PEOPLE of the nation of ~~America~~ China, formerly known as the ~~United States of America~~ People's Republic of China".

3/ We shall echo the words of Thomas Paine.

"The cause of America is, in a great measure, the cause of all mankind," and this shall be a national motto, as we attempt to end tyranny worldwide and replace it with broad democracies worldwide.

NR'218. SENATE MUSTERING (ROMAP)

1/ This democracy was designed to make it easy for the people to claim their democratic sovereignty without any approval or preconditions set by those already in power. In fact, under this Constitution, the entire election process occurs outside of the leadership process and there is simply no need for the people to ask for government permission to hold elections.

2/ Under these Mustering rules, valid elections, and valid democracies arise as an outcome of a majority of the people signed-on, or assembled in structured protest where they elect interim Senators under the new Constitution herein. This process of assembling-under, or signing-onto a new constitution is called "Mustering".

3/ Once the required number of voting age citizens has Mustered and reached the "National Quorum Point", the interim Mustering Senators shall take control of the nation and oust the existing government. These interim Mustering Senators will run a new interim democratic government as stated herein for no more than 10 days, while the nation elects and propagates the new democratic government explained herein. The minimum age for participating in the Mustering process shall be 18.

4/ The National Quorum Point for Mustering a new democracy to replace an existing democracy shall be half of the native citizen voter turnout in the biggest national election of the prior 4-years. However, in nations living under any of the following distressed situations, only one quarter of the the citizen voter turnout in the biggest national election of the prior 4-years shall be required to reach the National Quorum Point:

a/ Martial law.

b/ Elections are delayed.

c/ Foreign armed invasion.

d/ Anarchy.

e/ Dictatorship.

f/ Oligarchy.

g/ Where national elections are not credibly resolved within 7-days.

h/ Where a ruling junta fails to leave office as called for in an election.

i/ Where government engages in widespread arrests of citizens for exercising their rights of free speech or free assembly.

j/ Where government attempts to round up the arms of the people.

election of the prior 4-years is enough to take power.

5/ The day the Quorum point is crossed shall be called Constitution Day, the first day of the new Constitution. At that point, this new 2024 Constitution shall become valid and it shall supersede the old constitution.

6/ The new democracy Musters up into voting units called Mustering-Nomes. These shall have a minimum size of 250 citizens and a maximum size of 500 citizens. If there are more than 500 citizens in a Mustering-Nome, it must split into two Mustering-Nomes.

7/ Each Mustering-Nome will elect a single temporary Mustering Sub-Senator who shall represent a variable number of voters between 250 and 500 that count towards reaching the National Quorum Point. Thus a temporary government will Muster up, or form up out of an increasing number of temporary Mustering-Nomes and their temporary Mustering Sub-Senators. These will represent an average of around 375 voters each. These Mustering Sub-Senators will meet in local Centi-Nomes of 200 Sub-Senators described elsewhere, but only for some days.

8/ Those Mustering up shall sign their name and write their name, address, phone, email, and driver's license, national ID, or passport number on the Senator's representation mandate sheets. These shall say, "I accept that Senator-XXX has been elected by my Nome of XXX citizens. This person is my rightfully elected Mustering Sub-Senator. I swear I have Mustered under only one Nome and elected only one Mustering Sub-Senator. There will also be voter video of the election process.

9/ The voter rolls of Mustering Sub-Senators shall use base 10 election checking/monitoring for its membership. Thus each Nome will be checked by 9 other randomly drawn Nomes.

10/ The penalty for total or near total falsification of election documents in order to impersonate a Senator shall be 20-years in prison. It shall also be a felony to Muster under more than one Nome, or elect more than one Sub-Senator. Those people with the old government who fail to fully cooperate with the new government, and those people with the old government who resign without advance notice may be charged with a crime. Those people with the old government who take up arms, or menace the people of the emergent democracy with violence, threat, or arrest may be regarded as democides (democracy killers). Under the new constitution, democide can be a capital offense.

11/ As a broad democracy approaches the Quorum Point, its progress should be announced and graphed. A rapid rise in the percentage of the electorate voting for a Broad Democracy will be hard to dispute and will help to peacefully sweep the old government away.

12/ Once the Quorum Point has been reached, the Mustering Sub-Senators will take control of the nation and rule until proper elections can be held about a 10-days later. During this time, the Mustering Senate shall not engage in new business, or begin initiatives. It shall not sell or buy assets, or commit the government to long term obligations. It shall only manage ongoing business and deal with emergency situations until a permanent government can be formed through the election process explained herein. It also shall not engage in any new military initiatives, but it may command the military in ways that are clearly defensive.

13/ The Mustering Sub-Senate will meet every day in Centi-Nomes without a day off from 9:00am until 9:00pm with 1:00 to 2:00 off for lunch and 6:00 to 7:00 off for dinner, until normal elections can take place. In no event shall the first normal elections take place more than 10 days after the Mustering Sub-Senate was elected. Nobody shall be empowered to delay the elections.

14/ All votes by Mustering Sub-Senators shall be cast openly by lining up behind a person holding a sign until systems and voting centers are in place for secret voting to take place in.

15/ The Mustering Sub-Senate shall not have the power to make constitutional changes. And the Senate shall not have the power to make constitutional changes unless it is voting secretly.

16/ All non-citizens who video evidence suggests participated in the 2024 elections shall get 10-years in work camp per count of illegal voting. Multi-voters and mail ballot fraudsters shall also get 10-years per count with no quantity discounts.

NR'219. SENATE PROPAGATION (ROMAP)

1/ Once the Quorum Point has been reached, the next day shall be a one-day notification period where all print publications, TV, radio, search engines, and other media including all email accounts are required to use the 1/3 of their display or time for notification of Mustering. Newspapers and search engines must display this headline: "Muster-up, entire nation required to assemble and elect new government". During this first-next day everyone is supposed to go knocking on everyone else's doors and informing everyone about the muster. On the next day, the second-next day after the Quorum Point has been reached, every person in the nation shall be required to join and sign up a 250-voter neighborhood Nome group somewhere in the nation.

Everyone who is not a citizen gets noted, as well as those who are either too young or too old to vote. Every human in the nation thus gets censused. All must allow themselves to be photographed, video recorded, and finger printed. All must give their national number, their place of birth, their former citizenships, their current citizenship, and their physical address. They must also demonstrate that they speak the national language like a native speaker. The disabled will have people sent to them to census them on video. But every person in the nation must be counted and divided into groups of 250 voters. This shall be a census with mandatory participation and criminal penalties shall apply for those fail to participate. This Mustering census shall be followed by similar annual censuses that shall likewise be mandatory for everyone. Also, in all censuses, each county shall verify the censuses of three other counties. The assignments shall be by an annual base-100 national random draw, where all counties ending in the same two digits are double checked by the three nearest counties ending in the matching two ending digits each. For example counties ending in -12, would be checked by the closest counties in -05, -73, and 82, if those were the numbers that were drawn. And this would be so nationwide until the next year when new numbers were drawn.

2/ For the following 3-days after the Quorum Point has been reached (days 3,4, and 5), there shall be a one-time, 3-day national holiday. Except for critical services, all voting age people in the nation shall be required to stop doing whatever they were doing and assemble into neighborhood Nomes to elect Sub-Senators. Part of day-3 will be spent organizing and balancing Nomes. (Especially with this first election, it is not so important that everyone vote in the closest Nome to where they live.) For the remainder of day-3, and the following 2 days (days 4 and 5), all candidates will speak to their Nomes once for up to 6 minutes. After this, people will mingle and talk, or they may refer to posted writings or posted videos. At the end of day-5 at 6:00 pm, the nation will elect its first Sub-Senate by open line vote, with the people lining up behind the candidate of their choice.

3/ This new Sub-Senate shall not replace the Mustering Sub-Senate immediately. Instead, in the evening of day-5, the new Sub-Senate will balance out into Centi-Nomes.

4/ At the start of day-6 and for most of days-7 to 9, the Sub-Senators take turns speaking for up to 6-minutes each. All shall wear their randomly drawn number (1-200) and their name. As there are 200 Sub-Senators in a Centi-Nome, this speaking will take about 1,200 minutes or 20-hours. Number-1 goes first, number-200 goes last. The Sub-Senators speak for 5-hours a day. For the remainder of the day, the Sub-Senators will mingle and ask one another questions and discuss their views. At the end of day 9, at 7:00, when they come back from dinner, the Sub-Senators in each Centi-Nome of 200 shall vote and elect Ten (10) Main-Senators as follows: Each of the Sub-Senators shall put a single sheet of identical paper into a ballot box with up to 30 candidate numbers handwritten in place, that he wishes to vote for. This is placed on a pile on a desk that people file past placing their folded ballot sheets. Then the pile is shuffled 4 times. Then the pile is counted in redundant line fashion. The 10 people with the most votes then become that Centi-Nome's Main-Senators. The lowest scoring man of these 10 from each Centi-Nome gets a number ending in 1 and rotates out first, the highest scoring rotates out last. Ties shall be decided by the Main-Senator with the most votes. If there is a two-way tie, they shall decide by rock paper scissors. If there is a tied vote involving three or more Senators, there shall be a run-off election.

5/ These speeches, as with all Senate speeches, shall all be recorded and put online for re-viewing by the Senate and people.

6/ On day 10, the ten Main-Senators shall each talk or answer questions for up to 30 minutes among themselves. After this they shall all mingle and talk and ask one another questions. Then they shall break for dinner. When they return from dinner at 7:00 pm they shall vote one of their 10 as Over-Senator. At 8:00pm, the new government takes power and replaces the Mustering-Senate, fully propagated.

7/ It will thus take 10 days from Quorum Point to elect a new government for the nation. During this 10-day period, the Mustering Sub-Senate will serve as the nation's government.

8/ The 1st Senate term shall be for a bit longer than one teneth (1/10th of a year, or 36.5 days), from day 7 until day 45. During this term, the Senate shall operate at ten times normal speed. Thus instead of serving for 10 teneths as normal, this first Senate term shall only serve for one teneth. During this first Senate term, both the Sub-Senate and the Main-Senate will hold ranking elections and elevate Senators at ten times the normal speed. These will occur at the end of days 12, 16, 19, 23, 27, 30, 34, 38, 41, and 45.

9/ The 2nd Senate term shall be for 2 teneths, from day 46 until day 118, and it shall operate at five times normal speed. At the end of days 53, 60, 67, 74, 82, 89, 96, 103, 110, and 118. During this second Senate term, both the Sub-Senate and the Main-Senate will hold ranking elections and elevate Senators at five times the normal speed.

10/ During the 1st and 2nd Senate terms, all national Over-Senators shall also serve as our nation's UM (world government) Main-Senators. These shall all shift over to exclusively UM duty as they cycle out of national Over-Senate service.

11/ The 3rd Senate term shall also be for 2 teneths, from day 119 until day 191. It shall operate at five times normal speed. At the end of days 119, 126, 133, 140, 147, 155, 162, 169, 176, 183, and 191, each voting house shall elect 1% of its members to the next higher Senate. At the end of the 3rd Senate term, the UM Over-Senate shall grow to be fully propagated. Thus by day 191, the world's government will be fully propagated.

12/ From day 192 until the end of year 5 the Senate terms shall be for 5-teneths. (one half a year). Thus all Senators elected in the first 5-years of the new democracy will serve for only half a year. We are doing this because:

a/ The nation's Senators will be expected to work longer hours and nearly every day.

b/ It is more corruption resistant to have such short terms.

c/ Unless we do this, there will not be enough sires to choose from.

13/ It shall be expected that in the 1st Senate term, all levels will work in over-drive mode. The Sub-Senate shall meet on at least 85% of evenings, and the Main-Senate and Over-

Senate shall work 12-hour days every day.

14/ It shall be expected that in the 2nd and 3rd Senate terms, all levels will work in over-drive mode. The Sub-Senate shall meet in at least 70% of evenings, and the Main-Senate and Over-Senate shall work 10-hour days every day.

15/ It shall be expected that in the 4th and 5th Senate terms, all levels will work in over-drive mode. The Sub-Senate shall meet in at least 60% of evenings, and the Main-Senate and Over-Senate shall work 10-hour days in at least 85% of day for the entire first term.

16/ Senate service excuses everything. There is nothing in our nation that does not go on hold for people who are elected and drafted into Senate service.

17/ When Nomes and Centi-Nomes that are partly on the Left and partly on the Right we shall do the following where practical: The edge Nomes and Edge Centi-Nomes get centered and established first so that half of the people will be on the left and half on the right. We do this because we think it is the fairest and least corrupt way to do districting.

NR'220. NON-VIOLENT ASSEMBLY

1/ When the people gather in great and mostly peaceful numbers as they proudly did in Hong Kong, Barcelona, Tiananmen, and Cuba it shall be thought a glorious and sacred thing that is pointed straight up for us in the land of the free. Those in power who menace and threaten peaceful protesters and peacefully assembled people shall be seen by all as tyrants and the enemies of freedom.

2/ We shall immortalize the words of Xi Jin Ping and the Chinese Communist Party: "Crushed bodies and shattered bones". These words were said to the democracy protesters of Hong Kong when China vaguely threatened another Tiananmen massacre — Where the Chinese Communist Party killed over 10,000 of its own citizens for demonstrating peacefully in favor of democracy. This direction is straight down to us in the land of the free. Also, it shall be noted that the true image of the Tiananmen square massacre is not the one man halting the long line of tanks. That is the lie imagery. The true imagery is that of these same tanks as mobile machine gun platforms slaughtering some 10,000 protesters. This, with the survivors hunted down and then killed.

3/ Protesters and especially counter protesters shall not wear a uniform, or same color clothing, and this shall be thought a thing of protest crime and protest violence. The fact that police use identical uniforms will be balanced out by the maximally large numbers they shall be required to wear front, back and top. Also, at protests, nobody, police or protester shall wear bio-masks, or other opaque face coverings, even for reasons of infectious disease. There shall be no plain clothes police officers at protests, because these can so easily be agent provocateurs.

4/ When large numbers of protesters approach people in a menacing way, or they are smaller groups threatening with words, even vague words, the crowd itself may be seen as a weapon. Also, protestors are required to make every reasonable effort to avoid contact with isolated opponents.

5/ The right of protest shall never be allowed to become a thing that may be directed at individuals or small groups. For when this happens, we have started down the road of violence and intimidation that brought the Nazi regime to power. We must always remember that the Nazi regime came to power, largely because their opponents were so often “hit over the head” by Adolph Hitler's club armed henchmen.

6/ The right of our leaders, candidates, speaker, and protesters to be safe from violence is obviously a first-order protection for our democracy. Without this, it is a big step towards empowering tyranny. Here we pause to look at the early Nazi party's SA, or Sturmabteilung, the thug army that brought Adolph Hitler to power by silencing his opposition. Therefore, the right of protest shall not include the right to menace or harm others, (and especially political opponents) in any way.

7/ There shall be no right to assemble and protest at protest subject's residences, or to approach their family members or associates, or protest to their employers or neighbors. There shall be no right for groups to follow people they don't like around, or for individuals to come to them and menace them. These acts shall be considered as beyond the point where legitimate protest becomes harassment and intimidation. To be clear, these protections shall apply to all Senators, Senate candidates, leaders, authors, critics, commentators, media producers, judicial people, police, and those accused, but not convicted of a crime.

8/ We as a nation shall always be very much on the side of groups of people who care enough to organize against an idea they all disagree with. However when people assemble to harm others for expressing an idea, that is another thing. In that circumstance, we are generally opposed to, except when the one person is some sort of king, or president, or monarch, or oligarch, or has some sort of tsar-like power in government. In that case we then be biased towards supporting the protests.

9/ Anarchy normally lies and presents/displays itself as a disorganized mob/mafia. But anarchy literally means “new rule”, and during times of anarchy, the mafia bites and sucks harder on its parasitic lifeblood, so that a new rule, new fake leadership, a new odious king will be demanded by the people.

10/ When a protest is peaceful, the burden of proof lies with police, and penalties shall lean towards the minimum. When a protest is considered violent, or a riot, the burden of proof lies with the violent protesters as much as reasonably possible, and the penalties shall lean towards the maximum.

11/ Protest should never be an excuse for violence. The right to protest is the right to protest without violence. Non-violent protest is perfectly fine for democracy. Violent protest is bad for democracy. Protest violence normally gets double penalties.

12/ No sign posts are allowed at assemblies and protests. All signs must be on sheet material such as cardboard or foam plastic with no sharp edges. No plywood, metal or timber backed signs are allowed at protests.

13/ There is no place at protests for protesters to use any weapons at all, or even potential weapon. Prohibited protester weapons include: firearms, bullets, firearm replicas, paintball guns, squirt guns, toy guns, bombs, firecrackers, fireworks, flares, lighters, matches, accelerants, pepper spray and other irritant sprays, electric shock devices, lasers, knives, folding knives, razors, axes, chains, scissors, pry bars, screw-drivers, pliers, rocks, bricks, canned food, sticks, picket poles, clubs, bats, hammers, saws, wrenches, metal spikes, nails, screws, glass bottles, broken glass, helmets, face shields, hoplite shields, body armor, bullet-proof vests, knee or elbow pads, heavy or hard-edged footwear, skateboards, bicycles, motorbikes, gloves, wire, rope, drones, quick-ties, handcuffs, slingshots, ball bearings, marbles, cleaning fluids, body fluids, noxious fluids, sprays and gasses. At assemblies and protests, the definition of what constitutes a weapon shall be much broader and more inclusive than normal. People may bring their wallet, keys, communicator, medications, plastic water bottles, up to 500ml, soft food. Bicycles must be locked or left somewhere else away from the protest. This includes police bicycles. There shall be no smoking at assemblies and protests due to the potential for arson. Cardboard and paper signs shall always be allowed, wood and plywood signs shall not be allowed. Also no tennis rackets, umbrellas, or leaf blowers at protests.

14/ There shall be no backpacks, purses, suitcases or other means of concealing weapons at assemblies or protests. All bags at protest and schools shall be clear, including those of police and school workers.

15/ There shall be no open fires at all at assemblies and protests, including flag burning, effigies, and street bonfires. Starting, tending, or spreading a fire at an assembly or protest shall be considered as arson. Those carrying incendiary devices or burning objects at assemblies or protests shall be presumed to be arsonists. The penalty for possession of fire accelerants at an assembly or protest shall be 30-years. The penalty for possession of a lighter, matches, or other fire-starters on one's person at a violent protest shall be up to 5-years. The maximum penalty for killing a citizen burning our nation's flag in our land shall be 7-years. If the person is an immigrant citizen, it shall be 3-years. If they are a visitor or other non-citizen it shall be 1-year.

16/ Those distributing firearms or blades at an assembly or protest shall be executed for democide. Those placing piles of rocks, bricks, glass bottles or similar objects at an assembly or protest shall get 20-years to life in lockup for democide. Where these people placing rocks and bricks at a protest, they shall be executed. Those with rocks, or similar throwing objects in hand, or in their possession shall get 5-years of work camp. Those at protests causing minor damage or looting get 5-years in work camp. If the damage is extreme, or the goods looted are valuables, they shall get 10 to 20 years in lockup. The foregoing however shall not be applicable to plastic bottles of water, even if hurled at people, or other largely ineffective weapons.

17/ Few things weaken a protest like protester vandalism, destruction, looting and especially arson. So if part of an assembly or protest turns to looting, violence, or arson, the peaceful part has an obligation to flee (both physically and in unequivocal words) from the violent part. This is so the violent part may be more easily separated and punished.

18/ Committing crimes in the name of protest is the opposite of justification. Those who commit crimes at a protest shall generally suffer double penalties for property crime and altercations without serious injury. They shall generally suffer triple penalties for violent crime to include arson, attempted arson, and weapons possession.

19/ When a mob runs riot through a city committing widespread vandalism and destruction, all who ran with them may be charged as co-conspirators.

20/ Just entering a business or home that is obviously being looted shall be enough to make a person a looter. The only except is when people are live streaming faces to police or the recorder.

21/ Protesters shall not be allowed to do any of the following things with either counter processors, or people just passing through. Everyone convicted of similar micro-assaults may have to do up to 1,000 hours of community service per count:

- a/ Block the way.

- b/ Yell or chant aggressive or threatening things, or things that call for violence, or suggest that violence is coming or due to the other side.

- c/ Make menacing gestures.

- d/ Throw excrement or food or inks.

- e/ Cause water or liquids to go on the other side.

22/ If recent similar assemblies and protests have been violent, then government may require that protestors pass through a metal detector. However government may not delay people over 10-minutes for this.

23/ There shall be no night time assemble in protest from 20-minutes after sunset until sunrise. People can camp-out and mingle, but the marching and public speaking, one person to the crowd, that must stop 20 minutes after sunset. Also, no horns after dark either

24/ The right to assemble is the right to assemble openly, and unmasked. All who assemble and protest must so openly and they shall have no right to privacy. Also, all protesters may be freely recorded, and their images freely promulgated without consent or compensation. The penalty for wearing a mask, including a gas mask, at a protest shall be 40-days in jail + a fine of 3 month's pay. If the person has no money, then the penalty shall be 2-years in work camp.

25/ There shall be special protections for individuals and small groups when their legitimate protest and participation in the public discourse brings even extra-judicial threat and menace. Memetic diversity must be preserved in the group mind, and small groups are especially vulnerable to extra-democratic coercion and menace from aggrieved parties.

26/ So long as all violent protesters are stigmatized by the mass of people, the protest shall be considered peaceful.

27/ Government shall be free to use video-drones, listening devices, and data traffic interception at protests.

28/ Giving away bottled water, beverages, or food shall be considered as paying for the assembly or protest.

29/ There shall be a crime called "accessory to protest looting". This is the crime of people who don't loot, but still enter the premises being looted without recording the scene.

30/ There shall be a crime called "accessory to protest arson". This is the crime of people who don't burn things, but don't flee from protest fires either. Thus, those recorded near a "bonfire" during a protest may be charged with accessory to protest arson.

31/ All non-humans, and non-citizens must stay way from the nation's assemblies and protests to the maximum extent reasonably practical. This also includes government and its police where reasonably practical. This also includes all fictional citizens, all visitors, all non-voting citizens, and all foreign governments and their people.

32/ Private drones and robots may only be used near a protest with prior approval by the police. In general, All non-human drones following people around without their permission may be disabled or destroyed by those people they are following.

33/ Using fireworks and firecrackers at a political protest will get a person 2-years at a work camp.

34/ When people with long criminal records are charged with protest violence, or disaster looting, or disaster violent crime, they may be sent to a work island for life. (Looting here does not include provisioneering a reasonable amount of essentials) from a grocery store, or drug store, or gas station, or similar essential business during a crisis.

35/ Nobody should ever be penalized for participating in a peaceful protest. This should be a worldwide rule. Any government breaking this rule becomes illegitimate. Any strictness comes from the definition of peaceful.

36/ Small protests of fewer than 50 people may go just about anywhere unless they are intentionally blocking some function.

37/ Only the national government may establish rules for free speech and assembly and all places open to the public shall obey the same access rules nationwide for those wishing to protest or spread information. Private property owners who violate a person's first and foremost right of free speech and their right to reasonable political assembly or protest should pay toxic waste sized fines. When police do this, they should be fired. When private security guards should do this, they should go to jail. This rule R'178.36 only applies to political matters and it does not apply to matters of commerce, religion, sport or celebration.

38/ Police shall give at least 30-minutes warning to crowds before they use tear gas, pepper spray, rubber bullets, clubs, water cannons and other semi-harmful ways to disperse crowds. Police using these crowd dispersal weapons wrongly may be charged with assault. Police shall not disperse any protest unless it is blocking key infrastructure, or until the assembly is over 4-hours old on that day.

39/ All tear gas canisters, rubber bullets, and other police projectiles used at protests must have serial numbers on them, and these serial numbers must be tied to individual police officers working at the assembly or protest. Also, all rubber bullet guns and all tear gas guns must have gun cams. All tear gas guns and canisters must be day-glow orange, all rubber bullet guns must be hot pink. In order to use any of these or similar crowd control measures, at least 2/3 of a Senate jury of 19 must agree to the use

40/ All police enforcement at generally non-violent protests shall be voluntary on the part of each police officer, and officers cannot be terminated, punished or discriminated against if they do not want to take part in enforcement at non-violent protests. Police cannot be paid more than the regular pay and regular overtime when working at an assembly or protest. All police enforcement of common civil disobedience crimes shall be voluntary on the part of each police officer, and officers cannot be terminated, punished or discriminated against if they do not want to take part in enforcement of common civil disobedience crimes.

41/ All forms of self-propelled barrier shall be prohibited at protests and assemblies including the tactic where police use a line of vans parked bumper to bumper as a barrier. Water cannons, dye and solution markers shall also be prohibited at protests.

42/ All protest police must:

a/ Have location transponders in their body armor.

b/ Have 6-cams, one on their chest, one on their back and four on a 40cm easily repaired breakaway mast on their helmets. They must also have stereo microphones front and back.

c/ Have location transponders on their helmets, vests, chest cam, and back cam.

d/ Have location transponders and accelerometers in any clubs or sticks they carry.

e/ Have at least 1-drone flying and streaming and gathering evidence for every 6 officers.

f/ Have suitable cams and location transponders on all projectile firing devices used at protests.

43/ When police make arrests at day time protests and assemblies, the criminal activity or witness testimony must be recorded to convict. When people are arrested at a protest or assembly, and there definitely isn't even enough evidence for a trial, the arresting officers may be charged with violating the civil rights of the protester and may be required to spend 30-days in work camp per count.

44/ If a police commander or other government official is organizing, or ordering officers to make arrests to harass protesters on one side or another, then that police commander or government official may be charged with democide.

45/ Except for the restriction in R'3 and this R'191 herein, the people shall always have the right to peacefully assemble and protest and march anywhere they want. When police interfere with this right through use of force, they may be charged with violating the civil rights of the protesters even if under orders from a superior officer.

46/ Where police are giving instructions to protesters these must be repeated over a public announcement system that is loud enough and clear enough to be understood by the protesters. Police may also give instructions by mass text message to all the people present in an area.

47/ Where protests of one political stripe come under armed attack, even with rocks, fists, empty bottles, etc. all of the rules against armed protest shall flip and the protesters shall instead all have the right to be armed at all protests.

48/ Those who attempt to assassinate our political leaders, even if the leader isn't significantly harmed, the attackers shall normally be sentenced to life in lockup of some sort. This sort of person represents the opposite of democracy, and truth.

49/ Where attacks on protesters become common, or where credible threats are being made, protesters may carry arms when they protest.

50/ There shall be no right to block the entrance of businesses in protest. However people can protest around the entrance of a business. They just can't block people from coming in.

51/ There shall be no drums, noise makers, banging pots, loud music or other loud sound emissions at any political protests or political assembly.

This constitution at its inception contains 220 rules and 24 articles. All of the above rules shall be mandatory and it shall not be possible to turn them on or off except through the constitutional amendment process. All of the below rules shall be optional and may be turned off or on with a 2/3 overmajority from both the Over-Senate and the Main-Senate in one teneth.

3/ Under the following circumstances, the criminals may be shot in the feet, or shot dead without warning by good samaritans:

a/ Anyone who has just recently stabbed someone (and it wasn't an accident) and still has the knife in hand.

b/ Anyone who has just recently struck someone in the head with a club (and it wasn't an accident) and still has the club in hand.

c/ Groups of people ganging up on people and beating them, particularly when the victim is down on the ground, or there are 3 or more people doing the beating.

4/ Where people are repeatedly beating a person who is not fighting back, or trying to run away, they must say stop or I'll shoot and wait 3 seconds before opening fire.

5/ The right to fire without warning shall only apply when the defender is certain of the situation. Where the self-defense, or community self defense shooter is uncertain of the situation, they must shout "stop or I'll shoot" before firing. Also, in order to qualify for the safe harbor of self defense, the victim must prove to a jury that the other person had a weapon in hand, and was threatening someone with it in the commission of a felony.

6/ When good samaritans take out gun-in-hand criminal assailants, it shall be considered a form of civic self-defense, and the person taking action shall be considered courageous and doing their civic police duty. The person firing or taking action must however be certain of the situation, and shall bear responsibility if they are wrong about the situation, or if they accidentally harm a bystander.

7/ The right to shoot armed criminals shall extend to when the criminal is leaving the crime scene, and moving into a more ideal firing distance or situation. Also, with regard to gun crime self defense, the law includes front yards, backyards, nearby parking lots, and the inside areas of a premises or business as one. At gas stations, for the purposes of self defense from gun crime, the fuel pump area is the same area as the convenience store, the service area, the parking lot the driveway, and the adjacent pedestrian area and sidewalk. It shall all be one big premises under the law.

8/ Good samaritans may also take less deadly action, such as tackling the armed person

9/ Those who go to a person's residence and beat them may be shot by the family or neighbors. This includes front yards, and people dragged off property.

11/ Realistic simulations of firearms held during the commission of a crime also count.

12/ When recorder-system cam-guns are drawn, the video automatically pops up for the Senators monitoring the police videos. These may at any time turn the LED near the gun sights to either red, orange, yellow or green, red means do not fire. Orange means that a Senate jury is watching. Yellow means get ready to fire. Green flashing is fire once in the leg or arm, green solid is fire at will, ok to kill. Where the Senate gives a cam-gun carrier to OK to shoot, the person firing on behalf of the Senate shall never have any criminal or money court liability. In fact, they shall be considered as a police

Q — OPTIONAL CONSTITUTIONAL CLAUSES

NR'221. SELF DEFENSE

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Where gun-in-hand people threaten armed robbery or kidnapping, or battery, or other similar gun crimes, all people present or nearby shall be considered a victim, and these shall always have the victim's right of self-defense. Also, where the community self-defense shooter is certain of the situation, no warning shall be required to fire on the gun-in-hand criminal, or kill or injure the criminal by any means at all, including running them over with a vehicle, and clubbing them, so long as the gun remains in hand.

2/ Where firearm threat crimes occur without the gun in hand, a warning shall be required before opening fire. This requirement shall however not apply where the criminal reaches for his gun, or into their clothing, or some hidden area after being told "stop or I'll shoot", or "hands up", or "freeze". Once the criminal starts reaching, they may be shot without warning.

officer for the few minutes they are acting on behalf of the Senate.

13/ The cam-guns shall have both microphones and off by default loud speakers. This is so the Senate jury can say things to the crooks, 14/ It is thought that the risk of being shot dead, or injured in self defense will severely limit many sorts of crimes. Therefore, we shall establish maximum penalties for victims and good samaritans killing or injuring criminals during the commission of a crime or right afterwards as follows. For mere injury to the criminal from being shot in the foot once, or being beaten, the lower penalty applies. These are maximum penalties and these penalties may be reduced where mitigating circumstances exist, or where the criminal already has a conviction.

Looting (not provisioneering)	1-yr.	zero

15/ With regard to shooting criminals, the shooter must both be certain that the situation is criminal, and document this criminal behavior to receive these lower penalties.

16/ People should not have sex in public anyway. Now all sex in public places shall become extremely dangerous for men. This in order to protect women better from rapists.

17/ When the people act in self-defense, or community self defense, and they break a felony assailant's arm or nose, or dislocate their shoulder, or knock a couple teeth out, during or shortly after the commission of a felony and the subduing of the criminal, this shall generally not be considered a chargeable offense. However, as in all cases of self-defense, a trial may be required to determine the validity of the self defense claims.

18/ Where shoplifters or other thieves are harmed in a minor way, such as bruising, or minor abrasions to their face, or a few club beating bruises to their limbs, the courts shall generally not prosecute the people stopping the theft and serving as de facto police officers. Also, the people shall be free to trip, tackle, knock down, grab, shove, club on the limbs, and restrain criminals fleeing from a crime scene, and the brave and civic minded person doing this shall suffer no penalty, either under the law or in money court, unless the shoplifter/thief suffers truly serious injuries that were judged to be probably intentional.

19/ It shall be a crime for unfamiliar males to approach or chase down unfamiliar females who are jogging or walking by themselves, or in small groups in relatively deserted or lightly peopled areas (including parks, parking lots, elevators, deserted hallways, etc.) There shall however be no crime of unfamiliar males saying a couple non-threatening fishing words to women in crowded places. When unfamiliar men do approach or follow the woman in isolated situations, and the woman starts fleeing from them, the woman shall be free to point her gun at them (however, she must say, "stop, or I'll shoot". And if they continue to approach, she may fire on their legs first. However, the distance to fire must be less than 7 meters, and she may only fire so long as they are approaching. Females (particularly young and attractive females in isolated situations) shall have broad rights to brandish and point firearms when strangers or barely acquainted men are following them. Also, where females warn: "stop or I'll shoot" on video and the male keeps coming to within 7 meters, The female may shoot at the legs once, and if the male keeps coming, she may shoot the body. Or if the male is running towards here with her gun pointed at them, she may shoot them anywhere. The Senate shall establish more detailed rules in this matter and other self defense matters herein. Also, for the sake of community protection, the verbal warnings can precede the gun being drawn and fired, and the gun may remain concealed in a bag while being fired.

20/ Those who break into, or go through a window into the residences of unfamiliar people (to sometimes include casual acquaintances, depending on the circumstances): These people may generally be shot dead (or clubbed or stabbed) by the occupants upon the slightest provocation or apparent provocation, and it shall be considered self-defense. Even if the shooting of the uninvited guest was not exactly self-defense, the maximum penalty for shooting dead an unfamiliar, uninvited stranger in one's own home shall be 7-years, at times when most people are awake. It shall be 2-years at times when most people are asleep. The person shot must however be unfamiliar. This rule shall never apply to invited people, or scheduled visits, or children, or people with their feet still outside the premises. Workmen that return at night, and casually acquainted people may be considered strangers under this clause.

21/ Un-invited guests who wear masks or hoods inside another person's residence shall be thought the easiest to kill under the law. Also great care is advised to make sure that people are not killing family or friends who are playing with a mask. Masking up should be thought a dangerous thing.

22/ Homeless people, squatters, prostitutes, and those who have a license for stimulants, opiates, or more than 4 alcohol portions per day on average, and those not allowed to possess a firearm: These shall have no right to have firearms, let alone shoot people in self-defense, or community self-defense, even in their own home. There shall also be no right to shoot intruders when the premises was recently offered for sale or lease, or the public was invited to drop by, or there was a party in the past 48 hours, or the premises are not sealed-off from the elements, or a door was left unlocked, or where the person was previously let in, or given keys, or where the property is apparently vacant or mostly unfurnished.

23/ Private, exclusive-use garages, shops, stores, and other enclosed and roofed structures attached to a residence with a doorway or sealed passage directly to the residence shall be considered as inside a residence. Detached garages shops, stores and other enclosed and roofed structures, or structures linked by a covered (but open) walkway shall not be considered as inside the residence. Screen-only porches, unenclosed porches, roofed patios, unroofed yard areas, and the areas under eaves shall not be considered as inside a residence. Where occupants of a residence shoot people that are outside their residence, including those peering into their windows, and standing at their doors, the shooting shall be presumed a homicide unless they the shooter can prove self defense.

24/ Where former felons are killed or injured by unfamiliar non-felons at, or immediately around the unfamiliar non-felon's residence, and the former felon had no good reason to be in that place, the courts shall presume self defense, unless evidence indicates otherwise.

25/ Each suburban community (and less dense communities) and its residents shall have the right to watch visitors, follow them from a distance and record. They may also ask the stranger their business in the community. This shall not be a crime, and the visitors are supposed to state their business in that community. There is nothing wrong with this. Where the strangers object to being followed around and challenge the good people of the community they are visiting, the law shall be slightly biased towards the residents asking what the stranger is doing in their community.

26/ In central areas, following a person around shall generally be thought of as provoking a situations, and the rights of self defense shall quickly come to apply in these situations. However in the suburbs and further out the neighborhood people shall have the right to follow and know.

27/ During riots and uprisings, and mass looting events, the following three groups of people may be shot dead and the maximum penalty shall be 1-year of full-time community service per death:

a/ Those either breaking into, or those who have broken into any sort of sealed indoor premises (commercial or residential).

b/ Those who appear to be trying to set fire to structures or vehicles, even if they are outside.

c/ Those using carborundum cutters, cutting torches, or plasma cutters to get into places during rioting. These can be shot, along with everyone gathered around them.

28/ A maximum penalty of 1-year of full-time community service sentence shall apply when a person has a government-issued right-to-defend restraining order against the person they shot dead, and the person killed was in a known and acknowledged exclusion zone under that restraining order.

29/ Where the people rise up and kill members of armed criminal gangs, or Mafias, or protection-money extortionists, or the agents of foreign governments that are oppressing their communities, or their families with threat of arms, the courts shall generally dismiss the case on grounds of community self-defense.

30/ Where the people kill members of a large criminal group, or Mafia, or agents of a foreign nation and it is ruled to have been an act of at self-defense, the courts shall generally offer new identities and safe housing to those brave people who did the right thing, in spite of the risk.

31/ Where one member of a criminal gang committing a felony can be shot in self defense without penalty during the commission of a felony, all accompanying accomplices of that gang may be shot without penalty.

32/ Where citizens were illegally carrying a concealed firearm and fire in self-defense against attackers that they did not provoke in any significant way, the illegal carry shall have no bearing on the trial to determine whether or not self-defense is applicable. Also, the legal use of a firearm shall not diminish or increase any charges for illegal firearm carry.

33/ Those who were legally shot, or injured by their victims in self-defense during the commission of a violent felony shall not have any right to use the money court system to get compensation from the people who shot or otherwise injured them. Also, as with all of the self-help-self-defense rules herein, these rules shall not apply to uniformed police officers breaking into a premises announced by a 120 decibel siren for 5 seconds, within 20 meters of the premises. There shall be no right diminished for shooting police under these circumstances.

34/ Brandishing a gun, or Pointing a gun at a person shall be a serious crime unless it is done in self defense, or community self-defense. But because we say this, we can also say that everyone shall generally be expected to retreat from guns pointed at them. Those who instead perversely approach a gun pointed at them by even one step shall generally be seen as attackers. When a person is risking going to jail for brandishing or pointing a gun, the other side must retreat. If they don't retreat, they risk being shot and it being their fault as an pursuer/ aggressor.

35/ When one person is fleeing, and another person is pursuing, if the pursuing side brandishes, it shall generally be considered assault. However, if the fleeing side brandishes or points, under this circumstance, it shall generally be considered self-defense.

36/ It shall be thought unwise to brandish unless you are going to shoot because the brandishing can then be a excuse for the other person to shoot the brandisher.

37/ Holding or wearing a gun when answering the door for strangers shall be allowed in one's residence. Also, in this situation, the brandishing shall never be an excuse for action on the part of the guest. There shall be no threatening gun signs outside of people's homes and workplaces. Grabbing a gun, and removing a gun from its holster may be considered brandishing at times.

38/ Regarding situations where people break the glass of a vehicle, or pick the locks, or hack the electronics of occupied, sealed and locked vehicles in an attempt to gain entry and presumably harm the occupants, but not those who simply throw rocks at vehicles, or who do not try to gain entry: These people who try to gain entry to a sealed and locked vehicle be considered the equal of those who break into occupied residences. Therefore these attackers may be shot dead by the occupants of the vehicle if they are at the vehicle.

39/ In order to claim self-defense for shooting a person, there generally can't be any co-instigation on the part of the person killing in self-defense. Even throwing popcorn or splashing with water, or saying insulting words or challenging the person who is shot may be considered co-instigation.

40/ Where it becomes common for Motorcyclists to drive up to cars and hold them up, the Senate shall allow drivers to run-over, and shoot the motorcyclists once they come up to them or draw arms. Where it becomes common for people to put themselves in front of a vehicle as a way to stop the vehicle, and hold it up, the Senate may allow drivers to run-over such people over. Where motorcycle robbers are a problem, the Senate shall assemble a special body of laws for these people.

41/ Those who are stealing and walking away may be knocked down, punched, or clubbed in the body by victims and bystanders seeking to keep them from getting away.

42/ In all cases of victim self defense, and community self defense, the sentence if any shall not appear in the defender's criminal record, even if they were sent to jail for their act of self defense. Further, when defense people are sent to jail, they go to a special work camp that only houses other defenders.

43/ The people shall have the right to shoot all forms of dangerous animals dead that are attacking humans, or seem about to attack a human. This shall include: Bears, wolves, coyotes, moose, unattended or feral dogs, and even rabid-acting small animals. All these may generally be shot dead in self defense.

44/ With regard to people firing firearms from cars, everyone in the car may be shot dead in self defense. When one or more gunmen hop out of a car, the driver should be considered the most ideal target to fill full of bullets, because this forces the gunmen to cut short their rampage and pull the driver out.

45/ In all matters of self-defense, or community self-defense, where at least 1/4 of people would say that the matter is potentially self-defense, the person defending themselves shall not be arrested, but must remain free pending trial. Where a bear, mountain lion, or snarling dog is coming at a person on a public way or path, they can never be charged for killing it.

46/ Where people claim to act in self-defense, and there is clearly no aspect of self-defense in their actions, they may be subject to 50% greater penalties for mocking justice and claiming self-defense.

47/ When one person assaults another one, all rights of self-defense and especially community self-defense shall not end on/off the moment the two separate. The assailant has limited rights to respond, and his responses are subject to multiplied criminal penalties. While those following the assailant shall have broad rights to detain the assailant, and should they harm him, they shall be subject to fractional criminal penalties, and this especially when the assailant tries to flee the scene.

NR'222. PANTHEONS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ In order to minimize the divisions of mankind and maximize the brotherhood, our nation shall require that all religions use the same public houses of worship. No religion shall maintain its own physically separate places of worship in our nation. All houses of religion and worship shall be owned and managed by the Senate and people regardless of who built them or once owned them. All houses of religion and worship shall be open for use by all religions, and all shall be shared by all religions

2/ Shoes and shirts must be worn, and the knees and shoulders must be covered in all pantheons. The head and face shall not ever be covered.

3/ There shall be no separations of men and women.

4/ There shall be no talking or yelling or audible preaching. All preachers must communicate via silent disco headphones so the nation's pantheons can be better shared by everyone.

5/ Everyone shall respect everyone else's services.

6/ There shall be no carpets, seats, or loudspeakers in any public pantheon. Everyone shall be required to stand, and nobody shall ever kneel or bow to any god or priest.

7/ No candles or incense may be burned and no animal shall ever be sacrificed.

8/ The ancient round and isocratic Pantheon of Rome is so well preserved because this idea was tried before and people loved it. People have loved this idea for almost 2,000 years, so it is quite a well tested idea. Ishtar of course always struggled in the other direction, towards the separation of man in a way it could profit from.

9/ People shall not worship Islam or its prophets in any pantheon due to the inherently violent nature of Islam.

10/ All Pantheons shall always have 3 or more chapels of equal size and pure white envelope finishing. All the chapel users are supposed to rotate from one day to the next. This is so that no religion can claim ownership of any chapel.

11/ Also, all the Tamil temples shall be converted into genuine pantheons. And all the Chinese temples and all the other temples shall now be available to be used by all religions. All the time slots at pantheons are for half-hours, with the actual talking taking place for only 24 minutes at a time, with 3 minutes for seating and unseating on both sides. So standard 30-minute time slots that are on the hour, and every half hour. If people want more than one sermon, they can go again. And the groups that fill the chapels the most get priority and first choice about time slots. And the pantheons are maintained by the county government. So there will be no money needed to maintain any churches.

12/ The people in the religions will not get control over their alms collections from the followers of their religions. This money will be held by the recorder system for direct payment to Senate determined people. So the religions will no longer have any say over who gets what money people donated.

NR'223. BANNED RELIGIONS

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Islam, Judaism, Roman Catholicism, and Eastern Orthodox are hereby banned as religions in the land of the free. All aspects of these religions are hereby prohibited in our nation, and all their religious infrastructure, clothing and artifacts in our nation shall be destroyed. This however, shall not include the books. All the Catholic churches and Jewish Synagogues shall be seized and re-purposed as pantheons and maintained by the county they are located in. All the mosques shall be ripped out including their filthy foundations.

After this, we shall no longer allow Roman Catholicism or Eastern Orthodox, with their ancient and totally corrupted churches and their totally obedient under-my-thumb pedophile priests gathering confessional intelligence. All the other forms of Christianity shall be allowed, but they shall have to use our nation's pantheons along with the Buddhists, Hindus and other religions that do not include Islam, Judaism, Roman Catholicism, and Eastern Orthodox Catholicism.

NR'224. ONLY NATIVE CITIZENS VOTE

In these places, we shall put up signs, and give police the right to stop and frisk people, and force people to go through metal detectors and to be metal detector wand-ed. Here police shall only look for illegal weapons, not illegal drugs.

NR'226. CASH NOTES PHASED OUT

NR'228. NO CLAN HEGEMONY

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All Senators shall be genetically tested and compared for family relationships before they may begin their Senate service. All relations shall be acknowledge and made public. If we ever feel that Ishtar is drinking from the grail cup again, then we should turn this clause on.

- 43/ Healthcare.

NR'230. DEPORTATION ROUND #1

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Whatever we do with our nation's excess migrants, logic dictates from both sides that we take an incremental approach to deporting them to the mass deportations. This will keep things maximally peaceful, and it will also maximally keep tolerance for migrants high. • • • All immigrants that arrived without immigration documentation, or who overstayed their visa after 2017.09.11 shall be deported. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government. • • • Also, at the same time we shall be admitting vetted immigrants to take the place of these undocumented immigrants. However, the number number of these new vetted immigrants should be less than the number of undocumented immigrants, so that wages for low skilled workers will go up by around 25%.

NR'231. DEPORTATION ROUND #2

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All immigrants that arrived without immigration documentation or who overstayed their visa after 2009.09.11 shall be deported. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government. • • • Also, at the same time we shall be admitting vetted immigrants to take the place of these undocumented immigrants. However, the number number of these new vetted immigrants should be less than the number of undocumented immigrants, so that wages for low skilled workers will go up by around 50%.

NR'232. DEPORTATION ROUND #3

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All immigrants that arrived without immigration documentation or who overstayed their visa after 2001.09.11 shall be deported. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government. • • • Also, at the same time we shall be admitting vetted immigrants to take the place of these undocumented immigrants. However, the number number of these new vetted immigrants should be less than the number of undocumented immigrants, so that wages for low skilled workers will go up by around 75%.

NR'233. DEPORTATION ROUND #4

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All immigrants that arrived without immigration documentation or who first overstayed their visa after 1994.09.11 shall be deported. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government.

NR'234. DEPORTATION BY AID LEVEL

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ All immigrants that have received more benefits than the taxes they have paid shall be deported. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government.

NR'235. DEPORTATION OF HAJI & HIJABI

This optional rule is -ON-

1/ All women who ever appeared in public in a hijab or burka shall be deported. This rule shall also apply to all Islamic clergy, Imams, mullahs, mosque leaders, muezzins, and anyone who has openly supported Palestine, sharia law, or movements that empower Islam or Islamic fundamentalism. These people have clearly demonstrated allegiance to Ishtar and the ishtarian struggle and must be removed. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government. Also, this clause shall apply to all offspring, all spouses, all siblings and all parents, genetic or adopted, or claimed to be adopted.
2/ All the men who ever appeared in public in an Islamic beard, an Islamic suit, or a Haji cap shall also be included in this paragraph.

NR'236. FAILURE TO CLEAVE DEPORTATION

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All Ishtarian who failed to immediately cleave shall be deported. The definition of immediately may be any time between 72-hours and 14 days. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government.

NR'237. DEPORT CRIMINALS AND FOOLS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ We shall deport all immigrants that came in without permission and today cannot pass the high school test in English, or the school test in English that is normal for their age/grade level if they are still minors. We shall also deport all immigrants (that came in legally or not) with any sort of a record for violent crime, or theft, or bullying, or crimes of aggression and violence against women. We shall also deport all immigrants with an addiction problem including alcoholics. We shall also deport all sex workers, school bullies, and people who have not paid taxes greater than their benefits. These sorts of people shall not be allowed to foul things up for everyone else, for surely these people are not pulling their own weight.

b/ All immigrant minor children who get in trouble with the law, or get into violent altercations, or who have bullying charges against them shall be deported along with their families. These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government.

NR'238. DEPORT BY NO-GO ZONE

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ All immigrants that live and/or work in separated immigrant-only communities that actively drive out the people of the host society, and where the hereditary sons of the land fear to go: All of these people shall be deported unless they have strong ties with people outside their ethnic/religious community, such as a current spouse or co-parent, or several friends, or they have a mixed child in their family. The Sub-Senate shall compile a list of "No-Go" or "Malmo" communities, each mapped that it will require to be entirely deported.

2/ Every non-citizen who participated in the fall 2023 protests supporting Palestine, and in particular, every non-citizen who went to Washington DC for the weekend of November 4/5, 2023 to participate in the foreigner protests there, and every person who has torn off posters about the people that the Palestinians kidnapped shall be deported. All of these shall be deported. The deportees who are also connected with terrorists or violent/angry Islamic groups shall generally be ear-marked upon deportation. Those ear-marked as beast connected shall not only be deported, but they shall never be allowed to enter our nation, or buy or sell, or rent, or have a money account in our land. It shall be a trading with the enemy sort of crime for any of our people to trade with anyone who is missing the upper part of their right ear. Also, the betrayal of the violent side of Islam must be complete and total, so the people of the host lands will be willing to spend the money to move all the people, New Ireland and New Britain, while extremely remote, are rather nice places to spend one's life: So we need not feel so bad about deporting potentially dangerous Palestinians and fundamentalist Muslims to this place so the world may be free of their frequent spasms of terrorist murder. All of our citizens that participated in these pro-terrorist protests shall have this information on their permanent public recorder and facebook display for life, so that good Americans can know the truth about them.

3/ It bears repeating that all Ishtarians must gladly accept the judgement of their host nation regarding deportation, so that the people of the land of no resources can be relocated as quickly and peacefully as possible.

These shall be deported whether or not granted immigration status or even citizenship by the previous corrupt government.

NR'239. ANTI-TERRORISM

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ After deadly acts of Arab terrorism anywhere in the free world, all Ishtarians may be prohibited from using our nation's group transport infrastructure, be it airlines, trains, or taxis or other means.

NR'240. TORTUROUS EXECUTION

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ The threat of a prolonged hellish death being one of tyranny's greatest powers over some people, democracies must unfortunately offer an equal deterrent for extra-ordinary crimes. However, the use of torturous execution shall only be used in the following cases, and each person put to death in this way shall require a majority vote from the Judicial Sluice of the national Main-Senate:

a/ Those who develop, distribute, use, or illegally traffic in nuclear, chemical or biological weapons or their key ingredients, as well as those who attempt to make these.

b/ Those who participate in fatal acts of mass terrorism including knife attacks where two or more people are attacked by foreign born people, or three or more people are attacked by native born citizens.

c/ Those who sabotage the nation's war weapons, war preparations, or transportation systems in war.

d/ Those with official Government security clearances who spy on behalf of foreign governments in matters of military or defense secrets.

e/ Those who assassinate our leaders and heroes, such as the assassins of Robert Kennedy Sr. and Chris Kyle.

f/ Those who act as kings or tyrants, along with their Gestapos.

g/ Those who have acted as foreign agents within our government including those who have been elected.

h/ Those who use violence, or threat of violence, to seize or attempt to seize, or to hold control of the national government.

i/ Those who have committed first degree murder of three or more people, or who have committed a mass shooting, or mass killing of three or more. Also, people of any age who have engaged in the mass shooting or intentional killing of two or more people shall be tried as an adult.

j/ Those who kill or gravely harm people for standing witness, or potentially standing witness, or for judging on behalf of the people.

k/ Those who kill crime victims or witness in an attempt to prevent charges. Also, all rapists where their victim dies around the time of the rape.

l/ Those who harm cleaved Ishtarians to avenge Ishtar.

m/ Those who use hostages and human shields.

n/ Those who have tortured others outside.

o/ Those who kidnap and lock-up a sex or sadism/torture slave for more than 7 days.

p/ Those who kidnap people for sex and then kill them.

q/ Those who kidnap or drug people to harvest/steal their organs.

r/ Those who cause severe lifelong bodily damage by intentionally burning someone with either fire or chemicals.

For example acid attacks on the face of a person.

s/ Those who engage in human sacrifice, as well as Cannibals and especially pedovores, including all who drink human blood, or blood components, or traffic in this. Also included are those who feed human flesh or human blood to others.

t/ Those who maim or blind others to create more effective and more dependent beggars.

u/ Those who kidnap children to be child soldiers.

v/ Those who kidnap children, or who participate in child sex trafficking.

w/ Hired killers, and all who kill people for money.

x/ Those convicted of crimes against humanity.

y/ Those who engage in unprovoked, knife or firearm mass attacks on strangers

2/ We shall not have government murder spectacles like they did in the colosseums of ancient Rome. However, where mass killers, terrorists, spies, moles, deposed leaders, and important people are executed, it shall be in front of over 2,000 Sub-Senate witnesses. Also, the person executed shall be displayed for both alive and then dead moments later.

3/ For the truly wicked, mercy shall be thought a thing that breeds devils. And this shall be thought a prime thing that sustains truly wicked diametrically opposed satanic evil.

4/ Where foreigners (including immigrants) take hostages, or commit clear acts of terrorism to gain the release of foreigners we already have in jail, people convicted of terrorism, the Senate shall generally be required to sentence those people on the terrorist's release list, the conspirators in the subsequent terrorist act to death by torturous execution.

5/ We shall execute all who intentionally set fire to theaters, churches, and other assembly halls, or any place in the crowded center of a community that could cause a great fire, even if nobody is hurt. This especially if the fire has been set by a foreigner, or someone enthralled by a hate filled foreign ideology. All such arsonists, if found guilty shall be executed without exception, and these may be subjected to death by torturous execution.

6/ Where important government people or celebrities are executed, this must happen in a public way, so that at least 1,000 people can witness the execution. Also, the prohibition on public executions shall not apply to traitorous government officials, because the people must verify that their traitors were actually executed. Therefore, when government officials are executed, they shall be asphyxiated by means of a clear plastic bag placed over their head on multiple video recorders. After they are dead, their fingerprints and Iris prints, and teeth shall be carefully displayed for the record to make sure that it is indeed the person that was supposed to be executed.

NR'241. ABORTION UNTIL 4-MONTHS

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ We cannot outlaw abortion prior to the start of the 12th week of pregnancy. This is because of the advent of abortion pills such as RU486, and our complete inability to stop the flow of illegal drugs. Women will get the pill anyway on the black market. And many will take it a bit late for a couple reasons. Therefore, all abortion prohibition policies prior to the start of the 12th week of pregnancy will simply not work. We will also drive many women into going without the post-pill exam they are supposed to get after taking the abortion pill, and this will unnecessarily cause much illness and death. It will also result in forced prostitution for some women who are desperate not to have a child due to large variety of perfectly valid reasons.

2/ If this optional rule is turned on, then all abortions nationwide shall be legal until the start of the 12th week of a pregnancy.

3/ After the 12th week of a pregnancy, the following must exist for a pregnant woman to legally abort her pregnancy:

a/ The continued pregnancy must cause risk to the mother's life exceeding 1%.

b/ The continued pregnancy must cause risk to the mother's overall health or ability to have children exceeding 3%.

c/ There must be a possibility over 10% that the child is already brain damaged.

d/ There must be over a 10% possibility that the child has a birth defect that will necessitate care levels significantly above normal.

4/ The conditions needed for a late term abortion in the third trimester shall be judged by a Senate medical jury of 11 from the county that the mother has chosen for her abortion to take place in. A simple majority vote from that jurisdiction shall grant permission for the abortion.

NR'242. ABORTION UNTIL 6-MONTHS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ After the start of the third trimester of pregnancy, the following must exist for a pregnant woman to legally abort her pregnancy:

a/ The continued pregnancy must cause risk to the mother's life exceeding 1%.

b/ The continued pregnancy must cause risk to the mother's overall health, or ability to have children exceeding 2%.

c/ There must be a possibility over 5% that the child is already brain damaged.

d/ There must be over a 5% possibility that the child has a birth defect that will necessitate care levels significantly above normal.

2/ The conditions needed for a late term abortion in the third trimester shall be judged by a Senate medical jury of 11 from the county that the mother has chosen for her abortion to take place in. A simple majority vote from that jurisdiction shall grant permission for the abortion.

NR'243. SEVERE BIRTH DEFECTS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Government shall not burden the people of our nation and discourage them from having children by forcing everyone to bring up severely malformed offspring. For 28-days after birth, Mothers (and the mothers alone) shall have the right to petition the courts to humanely euthanize their newborn offspring with profound birth defects, but only according to the standards set by the Healthcare Sluice, and as decided by a vote of 6 of 11 Senator jurors that are experienced doctors or nurses. This clause shall apply to all clear cases of Zika microcephaly, Down Syndrome, and conditions associated with mental retardation that are more severe than high-functioning Down syndrome. It shall also always apply when the child is born both severely damaged and sterile, or when the child will need more than 5 rounds of surgery, or where the child is born too pre-maturely to live a normal life, or where the child is expected to require at least 2 hours of care each day for the rest of his life, or when the child is not expected to live past age 35. There shall be no sex selecting abortions. There shall be no abortions for cleft lip, but abortions shall be allowed for severe limb deformations, for all genetic abnormalities that are as bad as the average down syndrome case. We shall allow abortion in these cases until birth if the defect is only discovered at that time.

NR'244. COLLEGE EDUCATED MOTHER BENEFITS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Women that pass the Senate's tertiary education test shall be given child benefits for up to 4 non-sired children, and up to 7 sired children.

NR'245. 2ND CHILD BENEFITS

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Child benefits shall be paid for two children per woman regardless of the father.

NR'246. SAME-SEX MARRIAGE BAN

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Currently this constitution allows for same-sex marriages. Changing this optional clause to +ON+ would ban same sex marriages.

NR'247. BAN POLYGAMY

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Changing this optional clause to +ON+ will ban all forms of marriage polygamy entirely for everyone.

NR'248. GENDER INEQUALITY

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ The essence of sexual reproduction is that half of a species is specialized for reproduction, while the other half is specialized for selection. Therefore, male selection in all creatures is slightly more rigorous than female selection. This is why males tend to be slightly bigger, stronger and more aggressive than females across the animal kingdom. And among homo sapiens, where our defining characteristic is our sapience, this is why a small sliver of males are more sapient than any female. This is why our leadership in every area is supposed to be heavily skewed towards men at a ratio similar to that for Chess grandmasters.

2/ In our nation, the two genders shall generally be regarded as equal under the law, and with equal rights, except where this is judged by the Senate as impractical for society. For example, females shall have vastly greater child custody rights than males. Females shall also have vastly greater protections in matters of physical violence, and they shall also have the right to special female-only areas and female only competitive athletics, among many other legal differences.

3/ Government shall not regulate equality of pay or equality of labor participation between the two genders. This is because:

a/ The period of rapid and easy progress towards ending gender bias is long over in our nation.

b/ Females are frequently less qualified in a number of occupations such as those involving physical strength, fighting ability, math skills, c/ Females are much less emotionally tough, and are 3 times more likely to suffer from PTSD than males. This makes them unfit for both offensive military combat, and policing that is not women, family or child related, or detective policing.

d/ In our nation we generally believe that free markets are much better at fairly pricing things than government.

e/ Females frequently (AND RIGHTLY!) put their careers on hold and drop out of the labor market for decades when they make the next generation of our nation's own people.

f/ Employers must expect that a certain number of breeding-age females will later turn their backs on their employer's costly training and instead switch to family life.

g/ Our nation's long-term economic competitiveness, and the viability of our proposition of freedom, and free markets requires that our employers be allowed to price-in the differences and family needs of their workers.

4/ Our nation needs its women giving birth to the next generation. If we don't do this, we will become reliant on immigrants from nations with less democratic, or even parasitic traditions. Then our proposition of freedom will turn to oily quicksand beneath our feet.

5/ The entire idea of a gender pay gap shall be regarded as normal in a healthy society. Across society, women are supposed to make lower wages on average than men for the reasons explained above. However, where women do the same work/job in the same exact way as men, they shall be paid the same.

NR'249. FOOD STORES 1-YEAR

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Everyone shall keep at least 1-year's food in their home.

NR'250. FOOD STORES 2-YEARS

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Everyone shall keep at least 2-year's food supply in their home.

NR'251. NO MEGA ZILLIONAIRES

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ No person or family may possess more than 50,000 year's wages in assets. Shares in companies one founded shall not be counted under this rule until they are sold or exchanged.

2/ The public can con-dem or ubiquitize anyone out of all or part of their assets, including IP by paying them the maximum wealth amount.

NR'252. NO ZILLIONAIRES

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ The limit amount of the previous optional rule shall be 5,000 year's wages in assets instead of 50,000 year's wages in assets.

NR'253. DANGEROUS SPECTACLES

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ The promoters, broadcasters, and sponsors of dangerous audience spectacle events shall be financially responsible for the death and injury of the gladiators they hire, promote, or sponsor. This shall apply to the promoters of sports, acrobatics, and daredevil and other dangerous spectacles. Also, this financial responsibility shall be considered an inalienable obligation that cannot be transferred away to others by contract or insurance policy. There shall be no insurance that pays for injuries resulting from an acrobatic or stunt or extremely dangerous performance.

2/ Spectacles that involve harmful sloshing of the brain shall be required to pay reasonable damages to their competitors or contestants for the brain damage they cause.

3/ Serious schools shall be prohibited from offering any brain sloshing sports such as boxing, football, or head-ball soccer either on campus or under the school's auspices. Those who offer or coach brain sloshing sports may be held financially responsible for the brain damage they help cause.

Government shall be prohibited from giving any funding, support, status, or facilities for any sport that is statistically very likely to cause brain damage, head, injuries, or joint injuries. We shall all ponder the way that basketball hones grab and run skills.

4/ American football shall be seen as a sort of quintessential Arab matrix program for the land of the free:

a/ It damages the brains of our best young men.

b/ It gives lifelong joint injuries to many.

c/ It encourages aggression and confrontation in our young men.

d/ It competes with, and reduces the value of mental performance and learning in school, the very reason we have schools.

e/ It is mostly a physical strength contest, not a mental one.

So it has no place in schools for mental learning

f/ It is a super-high-budget thing in the Media.

g/ People fear speaking out against it.

h/ It is a recent addition to our culture, but yet it is intensely felt by many. In other words, American football is not real. It is not an organic development of our culture, but a gift of the Arab ex-pull judging from its characteristics.

5/ The Senate shall modify the rules of sports that are found to cause significant levels of brain damage or bodily harm.

These activities and sports must be changed so they are no longer harmful. If the activity or sport cannot be made safe, then it must be curtailed.

6/ There shall no longer be spectator sports like boxing, martial arts, or head-ball where the brain is endlessly pummeled and sloshed until brain damage occurs. There shall be no media depicting women fighting, boxing, or kicking one another.

7/ It may be considered assault when sport boxers or martial arts fighters:

a/ Don't stop immediately when the bell rings, or the referee separates the fighters, or the boxer taps out, or the towel is thrown in, or the fight is called by the referee.

b/ Beat an opponents that is not fighting back at all or covering up.

c/ Hit their opponent before the fight.

d/ Hit their opponents below the belt.

8/ When this optional clause comes into effect, it shall be applied retroactively, and in with superfund reach. It shall seek damages from advertisers, sponsors, coaches, schools, school endowments, privately owned sports clubs and sports arenas, well as those who donate money for brain sloshing sports at any school after the day this Constitution comes into effect.

9/ There shall be no ownership rights for either community sporting teams, or the recording and broadcast of their activities. The names and uniforms of all sporting teams shall be considered as existing in the public domain for everyone to use. Also, sports teams that ostensibly represent a city shall be treated like the Brooklyn Bridge, and considered a thing that cannot be owned by citizens, real or fictional, or sold.

10/ It shall not be allowed for fictional citizens to own teams of cities or counties or areas or nations.

11/ No national sport team shall include anyone born in another country.

12/ To make basketball less about physical height and more about skill, slam dunking shall no longer be allowed, and all shots must disconnect from the hand from where the top of the ball is below the hoop top. This unless the ball is thrown from more than 4 feet away from the hoop.

13/ To make soccer higher scoring and more exciting, we shall make the standard goal area 1m, or perhaps 2m wider. Also, to reduce brain damage in soccer players, it shall no longer be allowed to hit the ball with any part of the body above the belly button and this shall be a foul. Also, to help get mixed-sex soccer established, we shall allow females (and weak players) to touch and hold and throw, and strike the ball with their hands, fists, and arms when playing on teams with males and good players. The females on mixed teams just can't move with the ball held with their hands or arms. Also a thrown ball can't be thrown before it is kicked between players. And finally, balls must still be kicked in order to score a valid goal. To make recreation center tennis courts easier to keep up, we shall use a piece of 10cm stainless pipe for the top of the net, with expanded 3 supports and stainless expanded metal instead of the net. This shall be the official design for tennis court nets. Also, when the ball touches the net, the point is forfeited/lost by the side that hit the ball.

NR'254. GENITAL MUTILATION PROHIBITED

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Every person who participated-in, or recommended, or prescribed, or brought children to a sexual mutilation person under any circumstances, including the guise of gender affirming care shall be tried for the felony of genital mutilation. Life imprisonment shall be possible for people that have done this 3 or more times. Capital punishment is recommended for those people that have done this 5 or more times. Torturous execution is recommended for those people who have had 7 or more victims, including butchers who were licensed medical doctors.

NR'255. NEW PALESTINE ISLAND DEPORTATION

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ We shall all reflect on how the Palestinians danced in the streets after the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, and during other terrorist attacks against our nation and our allies. These are not people we want in our nation.

2/ When we see videos of Palestinians winding their children up in school to hate another race: Can we even let their descendants in? Surely we cannot tolerate this intolerance.

3/ We shall all reflect on how the Palestinians were welcomed by Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Egypt, and Saudi Arabia in great numbers. Yet the Palestinians betrayed Jordan, Kuwait, and Lebanon, and they also unsuccessfully tried to betray Egypt and Saudi Arabia. Surely they will betray us too. For these reasons, Palestinians shall not be regarded as refugees any longer.

4/ We shall regard the Palestinians as over 50% identical with the Hamas terrorist organization based on the universality of Hamas support among the Palestinians.

5/ Wisdom demands that we deport all the Palestinians and every foreigner living in our nation that has supported them or threw in with them. This shall apply to every foreigner who protested in favor of the Palestinians in the spring of 2024. All of these people shall now be deported for some years to the new international interment islands for problematic Ishtarians in the Solomon Islands/ New Caledonia (the "New Palestine Islands"). These islands may also be used for dangerous immigrants and those with indeterminate origin. All of the Palestinians of the world shall be sent to the New Palestine Islands. All of the overseas Syrians, and non-christian Lebanese shall also be sent to the New Palestine Islands.

6/ The following groups of foreigners shall also be sent to the New Palestine Islands, the Solomon Islands and New Caledonia. These groups shall not get the opportunity to go back where they came from, or to third nations:

a/ All foreigners who protested in support of Palestine in the wake of the October 7 2023 attacks in Israel. All of these people shall be thought to generally hate our nation and its people and its proposition of freedom. They shall all be regarded as America hating infiltrators and not immigrants.

b/ Everyone living in an Arab no-go community such as Malmo Sweden has.

c/ All immigrants that have ever advocated sharia law.

d/ All immigrants that have ever engaged in the Latmiya/ Matam/ Sinadoydu / Shoor dancing. This shall include all of the people filmed doing this, or pinging with their cell phone at one of these events shall be at least deported, along with their family, and if there is ever any any global rounding up of Islamic fanatics, following a heinous act of terrorism, all of these people shall be considered extremists and fanatics, and all shall be shall be included in the retribution.

e/ In our nation we shall not really listen-to or care-about what the Arab side of the story is, because we will mostly not believe it.

f/ All apparently people who refuse to identify themselves, or their nation of origin.

g/ All visitors and immigrants with a criminal record.

h/ Everyone connected with Islamic fundamentalism, or Hamas, or the Taliban or any on of the hundreds of similar Mideast groups with new names.

i/ All immigrants that are Palestinian, Syrian, or non-Christian Lebanese.

j/ Those who either refuse to register, or they get caught unregistered in the nation.

7/ Wherever we have Muslim rape, grooming, or Prostitution gangs, the entire Muslim community shall be deported. However, all the people involved shall be deported to the New Palestine Islands.

8/ All of the Arabs and Muslims that can't get a new nation to take them, the remainder ones shall all be deported to the New Palestine Islands.

9/ The lock-up parts of the Solomon Islands and New Caledonia, should be redundantly secured by: Australia, the US, and Japan. Everyone shall consider it of prime importance to keep all shipping in and out of the Solomon islands/New Caledonia islands under control, and only authorized traffic may enter. We also want generous rewards for turning-in people we find cheating. All trade between Brisbane and New Caledonia shall cost 2-day's Australian wages per container, each way. All trade between Carins and the Solomon Islands shall cost 3-day's Australian wages per container, each way. Also, free, fiber Internet shall be provided to all of the New Palestine lock-up islands.

10/ All Muslims must willingly go to the Solomon Islands without complaints, if they are required to do that. All shall do their job for the transference of hatred. Besides, 5 or 10 million people forced to live under "isolation" in this paradise is not so bad. This is a bargain for all Muslims. Take it willingly and cooperate as is your duty. After everyone else is moved, the people here go last Queue.

11/ It should be thought a key bargaining chip, that all the Ishtarians and Arabs that are required to leave do leave peacefully and without any trouble at all. This is totally key to getting the outside world to pay to move everyone. So everyone has to accept their fate and leave with full cooperation. This includes the massive deportations of Pakistanis from the UK. All must cooperate with the plan, so that all Muslims can turn over a new leaf and start over in a new world of peace and unity, a world unified in the one all-important way for all Muslims and everyone living in a wasteland: Namely moving everyone, and not letting anyone go back to the wastelands to give rebirth to Ishtar.

12/ The role of these people sent to "Isolation" should be regarded as an important aspect of moving all the people.

This is a very profound statement of universal 1-for-all contrition, and it enables great numbers of their bothers to get exactly what they need right away. It is just that these people will have to wait on an island and waste their days on the internet waiting for the world to be ready for them. Every 20 of them get a 4/5-year-old pick-up truck to share. They also get container shipping to or from the Makara canal zone for 5 day's Australian wages.

NR'256. ANONYMOUS FIREARM OWNERSHIP

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ The idea of government registration of firearms and ballistic records seems superficially like a good idea. However, on careful examination of the many problems associated with this sort of database, we realize that this is both futile, and a thing that makes it much easier to round up everyone's guns. As follows is a list of the many reasons why ballistic records of firearms don't work:

a/ Gun barrel rifling (the basis of ballistics) wears down after each use. So after 50 to 100 lead rounds fired, they can't be matched with a bullet sample from when they were new. Bullets can be matched after a few shots, but not after 100 or more.

b/ The states of Maryland and New York both tried to create a "ballistic fingerprint database" where the state required sample casings and bullets from each gun sold in the state.

However this resulted in no solved crimes after over a decade.

c/ Gun barrels are quite easy to drill/ grind/ sand/ scrape/ wire-brush so they no longer match their ballistics records.

d/ Ballistics records don't work at all with smooth bore guns and shotguns, which are now needed for defense against drones.

e/ It is not hard to make new steel firearms.

f/ It is easy to make 3D printed plastic firearms that can be Used and easily melted down into an unrecognizable pool of plastic.

g/ We have large numbers of unregistered legacy guns, stolen guns, and untraceable guns on the black market today.

h/ Firearms are commonly stolen and sold, and this constitutes a huge back door to any efforts to registers all firearms. Thus, the more we succeed in registering all firearms, the higher the value of stolen guns becomes on the black market. Indeed, when we look at the market value of illegal US firearms smuggled into Canada in 2024, we hear about guns selling for upwards of 10 times as much in Canada.

2/ In reality, there is no way for police to tell anything more specific than the brand and caliber of the gun from the markings on the bullet. This frequently leads to tens of thousands of people in a community with guns of the same brand, and same caliber. So ballistics is not really that valuable to police without a gun to match. And even then if the gun has been fired too many times, or drilled/ ground/ sanded/ scraped/ or drill-brushed, police will not be able to match it to the crime scene bullet.

3/ The other problem with keeping a firearm ownership database is that this leads to databases of who owns how many firearms. And this sort of record of who owns how many firearms is something that makes it 10 or 30 times times easier for government to confiscate the guns owned by the people. and this leads to firearm round-ups like what happened in Australia, Canada and Ireland. So we give up something of potentially life-or-death value to our democracy while we get something in return that barely has any value at all. In fact we must wonder if firearm registries are mostly just an excuse for having databases of who owns guns to facilitate the roundup of our precious guns at a later date by those working for the foreign parasitic nations that seek front monarchies and are the enemies of our dear freedoms.

4/ For all of the foregoing reasons, neither government, nor any foreign nations, nor any fictional citizens, nor any individuals shall register or keep records on who buys or sells civilian firearms in our nation that are not Orwell carry firearms.

5/ With regard to our nation's Orwell carry firearms, we shall track/monitor all of these in many way. Also, we shall have strict rules and super high penalties for people caught carrying weapons in public other than Orwell carry guns with custom made bullets stamped with a Orwell gun ID#. And when we catch these illegal carriers (who are not carrying an Orwell carry gun, we shall jail them for a decade or put them on a work camp island for two decades. And when they are high-school drop-outs carrying arms that are not Orwell carry guns, we shall jail these for 15 to 20 years, or send them to island isolation for perhaps 30 to 40 years.

6/ When we take these rules about all carry guns being Orwell guns and combine them with police being able to use metal detector wands on people in many locations, we find ourselves with a way of mostly eliminating illegal gun carry, except for plastic guns. The way we deal with illegal carry of plastic guns is to add another decade to the jail time and two decades to the alternate island lock up, using perhaps Cedros island instead of Puerto Rico. Also, with plastic guns, the bullets are still somewhat detectable by metal detectors, and the bulge is bigger to 7/ The Senate may pay a bounty for people who report people for illegal carry. Also, at the same time, as we will be punishing people heavily for not using not carrying an Orwell gun, we have actually rather relaxed rules for carrying the Orwell guns, because people will be afraid to use them, except in self-defense.

8/ With regard to Orwell guns, simply touching the handle in a certain way turns on the audio and video. It also calls the recorder system for live monitoring by a Senate jury. This jury can authorize the person carrying the Orwell gun to take action like a deputy.

NR'257. ALL HEALTHCARE IP CANCELLED

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ All existing healthcare IP rights (patents and trade names) including all drug IP rights and pipeline drug IP rights shall be cancelled, and there shall be no new healthcare IP rights for 4-years. During this time, we shall:

a/ Re-study and prune down the pharmacopoeia without bias. Also, all drugs must actually do something significantly beneficial to at least 20% or 40% of the people who take them (depending on how beneficial they are). All the drugs that are not particularly beneficial shall be deleted from the pharmacopeia, except as free-to-use no-IP last-resort medication.

b/ Once we have a pruned down pharmacopoeia, we will hand out money and ubiq status to the people who actually developed (or worked on the development teams of the treatments that will remain principal treatments. All the rest of the treatments from these industries get nationalized without compensation.

c/ Make our healthcare IP rights and healthcare IP money 90% focused on cures and objectively genuine, measured and tested life extension treatments and lifestyles, and only 10% focused on treatments.

d/ Try out the Ubiq system for rewarding innovation in healthcare. Then after 4-years, we will switch back to using IP ownership rights for healthcare.

e/ This includes a medical equipment IP rights.

NR'258. WOMEN AND WAR LEADERSHIP

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ Senate women not allowed to vote in matters of war and the use of the military and the application of international force, and treaties with foreign , and immigration and military hardware and anything having to do with the military. immigration, the Money supply, or broad macroeconomic policy, or not yet a little bit budgeting

NR'259. LIMITS ON FOREIGN STUDENTS

This optional rule is +ON+

1/ We shall stop educating Chinese people and Muslims in our schools. We gain very little from this, and we just seem to be empowering our adversaries. Instead, we shall shift to giving these seats to Americans (north and south), to Europeans, to Indians and to some east Asians outside of China, nations that are our strong allies as opposed to being inherently our adversaries. See how easy it is to turn this on and off? If China stops being adversarial, we will vote this rule back for for couple years or so.

NR'260. CLOSE THE PERSIAN GULF & RED SEA

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ Now that we've taken back Panama and we have Venezuela, we shall institute Panama as the international nexus of ocean cargo, with Venezuela as our own guarded oil producer for the world (All of Latin America getting their share of the oil sales proceeds. This arrangement is only slightly farther for all world trade, except India and of course the Arab world. But we shall use use our submarines to sink ships to keep the Persian Gulf out of service indefinitely (perhaps for centuries). This will force Iran and all the Gulf States to obey our demands. And we will demand total nationwide video defections/defecations from Islam in order to get out of the Mideast, and and in order to trade by sea again. If there is a small number of people who refuse, these shall be sent to the Solomon Islands to be stored until the world is ready for them.

NR'261. CLOSE THE RED SEA

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ We shall use our submarines to keep the close the Red Sea to ships. This second step may be needed to force all of the Middle East to obey our demands. And we will demand total defecation and defection from Islam before we open the Red Sea again.

NR'262. Marijuana Illegal

This optional rule is -OFF-

1/ As this constitution is written, marijuana is legal. If this section is turned on, then the right to smoke Marijuana shall not be guaranteed by this constitution.

2026 UM WORLD CONSTITUTION

WE THE PEOPLE of the UM, or United Majority of the free world hereby establish this 2024 UM Constitution for our democratic world government. This Constitution and the laws made under it shall be the supreme law of the free world. This 2024 UM Constitution is intended to be used with the 2024 American Constitution, with generally only the names, places and optional rules changed for each nation.

UA'1. SEVEN MEMBER BLOCS

The UM shall be a system of generating international consensus through 7 equally-powerful continent-scale voting blocs. Each of the 7 blocs shall all have an equal vote, even though they have variable populations and a variable number national Senators. The blocs shall be:

- 1/ English and French speaking America.
- 2/ Spanish and Portuguese speaking America.
- 3/ Roman alphabet Europe.
- 4/ China, Mongolia, and China watershed Tibet.
- 5/ India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Nepal, Bhutan, and India/ Pakistan/ Bangladesh watershed Tibet.
- 6/ Africa.
- 7/ The former USSR, Cyrillic alphabet Europe, Greece Australia, Burma and East Asia outside of China, and all other parts of the free world outside nations previously mentioned, but not including any part of the PU. All the various nations listed herein as being in the PU or Parasitic Union shall be excluded from the UM unless the UM elects to admit them. This is because their natural inclination and agenda is diametrically opposed to that of the UM's natural agenda. The PU shall however never form a voting block, and its members must join the other voting blocks of the PU if that nation is admitted to the UM.

UA'2. SENATES

1/ The UM government shall be composed of two tiers of Senate: UM Main-Senate, and UM Over-Senate, collectively called the "UM Senate". The representation ratios shall be as follows for a UM of 4 billion voters:

UM Main-Senate 1-in-25,000 voters, or about 160,000 UM Main-Senators serving at any one time, assuming an electorate of 4 billion voters.

UM Over-Senate Each of the 7 member blocs shall elevate 8,000 UM Main Senators to serve for 2 years. Thus 56,000 UM Over-Senators will be elected each year, and there will be 112,000 Over-Senators serving at any time for two years. This is the narrowest Senate of the new world government, and each of the 7-member bloc will have 16,000 Senators serving at any one time. As Over-Senators cycle out of their year of service in their various member nations, all automatically shift over to UM for one year of service in the UM Main-Senate. Then at the end of their one-year term in the UM Main-Senate, the top ranked 800 Main-Senators in each voting-bloc, in each teneth, shall then be elevated to the UM Over-Senate for two years of service. In this way, our world government will be a broadly represented, and continuously elected outgrowth of our own trusted national Senates.

UA'3. UM MAJORITIES

1/ This UM or United Majority is intended to rule by consensus and to do the things that the entire non-Islamic, non-Ishtarian, non-parasitic world can agree on. To this end, the UM Main-Senate shall require a 60% overmajority in all 7 voting blocks to take action. If a vote fails to get the required overmajority in any of the 7 blocs, it shall be enough to prevent the UM from taking action.

UA'4. TYRANNY EXCLUDED

1/ Only triple-elected Over-Senators elevated from a standard 1-in-25,000 democracy shall become UM Main-Senators and participate in decision making at the UM. Nations that don't muster up into a standard 1-in-25,000 democracy can't participate in the international decision making process until they muster up. These slow-to-muster nations must suffer the international rules imposed by those who rapidly muster up and are admitted to the UM. However, the UM shall take no action until 60 days from the first nation joining the UM, unless at least 1/3 of the world's nations have joined the UM. In order to be considered a standard 1-in-25,000 democracy, the national democracy must have and enforce the following essential design features:

2/ Incorruptible and totally credible open Nome elections by openly lining up behind candidates. No secret voting by the public. Also, all public votes must occur under video monitoring to totally prevent election fraud.

3/ If there is voter intimidation or bribery this may be prosecuted by either the locality, or by the UM. In either case, the penalty shall be life on a prison work island for the people trying to illegally sway voting. The voters shall take the gifts and then turn-in recordings of the violators for a reward. There shall be no jokes about vote buying. If there is voter intimidation or bribery, then the elections shall be by secret ballot until this is under control.

4/ There shall be secret legislative voting, and the votes of the individual Senators shall never be recorded once the tally is raised for objections and passed.

5/ There shall be freedom of speech and information.

6/ There shall be freedom of the press.

7/ There shall be freedom of assembly.

8/ In order to prevent war and dictatorship, the people shall have the right to bear arms such as rifles, shotguns, and pistols capable of firing at least one shot per four seconds.

9/ There shall be annual terms for all Senators. It shall not be possible to use the constitutional amendment process to institute terms longer than annual terms.

10/ There shall be continuous Government cycling on teneths.

11/ There shall be minimum of 10-slucies in the Main-Senates, and no more than 50 sluices in the Main-Senate.

13/ There shall be UM-approved Senate ethics training.

14/ There shall be strict enforcement of Senate ethics rules.

15/ There shall be sophoscites in each teneth on divisive issues.

16/ There shall be no presidents, monarchs, or department tzars.

17/ There shall be a broad Over-Senate acting as supreme court, and no court of experts or lawyers as judges.

18/ There shall be no monarchies or oligarchies ruling any member nation

19/ There shall be no oligarchies, except in minor judicial or executive matters.

20/ There shall be no appointees in positions of great power.

21/ There shall be no person or group with any power over the Senate.

22/ No non-elected officials shall hold any positions of great power in government. However, non-elected officials may advise elected people and bodies of elected people. Also, Non-elected government advisory people shall not be allowed to meet with others except under monitoring.

23/ There shall be no inheritable positions in Government or any fictional citizen.

24/ There shall be no selling of positions in Government, or fictional citizens.

25/ There shall be no profiting from positions in Government in excess of the official government salary.

26/ There shall be titles of nobility, even ceremonial and ancillary titles. Foreigners with titles of nobility shall not be allowed to enter any member nation. All foreigners holding titles of nobility are supposed to be killed by that nation's free people when they try to enter that member nation. No oath in any UM member states shall mention any monarch or oligarchy, or respect for authority.

27/ There shall be no private armies.

28/ There shall be a military exclusively loyal to its national Senate an no military leader of patriotic figure.

29/ There shall be a total separation of church, state, and economy.

30/ There shall be genetic testing and indexing of all leaders.

31/ There shall be a lifetime maximum of 3 entries into to any member member nation's Sub-Senate.

32/ There shall be no taxation of citizens without representation. This prohibition shall not apply to non-citizens, or convicted felons, and it shall never be used as a reason to confer the right to vote to non-citizens.

33/ There shall be no fictional citizen money for political, economic, or social messages in the media, or spent on government people, or former government people.

34/ No transportation, telecommunications, or other shared infrastructure, or public utility over 20 years old may be privately owned.

35/ There shall be a clear division between that which is owned and operated by Government and all the people, and that which is owned or operated by a few people as a way to make money. There shall be no privately-owned body that pretends to belong to the people in any way.

36/ No Government agency shall be partly owned or partly controlled by individuals or fictional citizens.

37/ There shall be no mega-zillionaires with assets worth more than than 50,000 year's average wages for that nation.

38/ If any of the forgoing required democracy features are not being provided to the satisfaction of the UM Main-Senate, as judged and elected by a 2/3 overmajority in all 7 voting blocks, the member-nation may be suspended from UM voting.

39/ The UM Over-Senate may elect with a simple majority to inspect any or all member nations at any time, without notice to make sure that the election processes of the governments feeding-in Senators that have not become corrupted. The inspection crews shall be each 10 people from all 7 voting blocks and these shall be a representative cross section of the world's people. These inspectors shall be given the broadest rights and the greatest freedom in recording and describing the actual conditions they encounter. The compliance will however, by necessity be a more difficult and less clear situation.

40/ Every person who has ever worked at the corrupt UN headquarters shall be excluded from serving at the UM for life.

41/ Edward Snowden, Julian Assange, Bill Binney, and Donald Trump shall be pardoned internationally for all crimes of secrecy and judicial procedure that occurred before revelation day. There shall also be no money court liability for these men from before revelation day.

42/ No member nation or its government shall exist as a corporation or other fictional citizen. Nations that are not sovereign democracies owned by their people as defined herein shall be disqualified from UM membership.

43/ No member nation shall have a central bank that is not 100% owned by the Senate and people of that nation.

44/ No UM member nation shall be allowed to hand over ownership or control of its government, central bank, financial system, or infrastructure (domestic or foreign, sold or given away) to any other nation, or the government of any other nation, or to the UM, or to any for profit company or non-profit company and all such attempts to do this shall be void.

45/ Each nation shall have a right to allow or 100% ban visits and migration and trade with all the other foreign countries as they decide. They may also tax foreign trade as they like. As an anti-war measure, the confusing and maximizing term "trade war" shall be considered too war-friendly to be allowed to live. Instead the new term shall be "Tariff Tiff", which completely minimizes free trade as a reason for war.

46/ Where governments say to their citizens that they are not allowed to leave, or come back, that nation shall be thought to be practicing a sort of slavery, and every free man in the world should think it their duty to call this unfree nation a tyranny and oppose its government until it is deposed and the tyrants hunted down and executed. All member nations must allow their citizens to leave, and come back.

47/ Where practical, all nations in the world shall be required to educate their kids to secondary school level.

The entire legal code, together with all commentary, explanations, example, and teaching material shall be posted online for free anonymous downloading and copying. The UM legal code shall not copy any text from the Roman law, also known as the Code of Justinian which the Arabs wrote just before they initiated the European Dark Ages and the great age of Islam.

UA'7. UM OVER-SENATE ROLES

1/ To define the overall problems, directions, objectives, and ambitions of the world government. To make plans for the UM and statements of UM policy, direction and objectives.

2/ To apportion and balance duties, workloads, and authority among the various Sluices of the UM Main-Senate. The similarity of tasks is less important than the balancing of the workload.

3/ To Adjudicate or resolve conflicting and overlapping jurisdictions, laws and implementations among the various UM Sluices.

4/ To set the overall single-amount spending budget for the UM and for its 8 sluices. To set the taxation levels for the UM. These budgets shall not be divided or partitioned in any way by the UM Over-Senate (UMOS). Except for this overall budget function, and the inter-sluice duty and workload allocations, the UMOS shall be prohibited from imposing any particular implementation, or spending requirements, or making any demands whatsoever on any sluice's policies. Except in matters of constitutionality, and Senate power divisions, the UMOS shall not have any veto right or control over the UM Main-Senate or any other Senate.

5/ The UMOS shall be prohibited from making laws. Only the UM Main-Senate shall have the power to make laws.

6/ There shall be no UMOS veto of UM Main-Senate spending or Main-Senate laws unless they are reasonably elected as unconstitutional by the UMOS, or the UMOS elects that the laws of one sluice are in conflict with those of another sluice.

7/ In the event of conflict between clauses of this UM constitution, the UMOS shall decide which clause is to be followed and which is to be ignored.

8/ To interpret the UM constitution, and serve as supreme and exclusive arbiter of constitutionality of all UM laws, but not national laws. In the first 36 days of any law's existence, a 55% overmajority of the UMOS shall strike down any UM law or clause that it reasonably considers to be in violation of the UM's constitution. After 36 days, a 60% overmajority shall be required to do this. After one year, a 2/3 overmajority shall be required to do this. Except with regard to constitutionality, and inter-slucice power apportionments, the UMOS shall be prohibited from compelling, or halting any particular implementation or spending by the UM Main-Senate. No part of the judicial system shall have the power to cancel, vitiate, modify, or re-interpret any law due to a conflict with this Constitution.

9/ To break tied votes in the UM Main-Senate.

10/ To create money on the credit of the UM and pay the UM's debts. UM money shall only exist in notional accounts, and there shall be no UM currency. All deposits in UM accounts shall deflate by at least one-per-mil every 6-days, or about 6% annually. The UM shall make a market for the exchange of all currencies of all member nation into and out-of the UM currency. It shall provide this service at no cost, except the anti-sloshing tax and interest charges just mentioned. When money is converted from one currency to the UM currency and then immediately converted to another currency, there shall be only one anti-sloshing tax payment due. Also, the market sets the price, the UM only acts as intermediary, and a more efficient intermediary that existed before this time for small transaction international money flows, for the UM buys and sells at the same rate at any given moment.

11/ Spend up to 1/5,000th of the UM's budget. Except for this money, the Over-Senate shall not command any spending.

12/ Determine total aid payments between the UM government and the various member nations.

13/ Modify the parameters of the world economy in any way found provident or convenient to the people over the long run. This however shall require a 2/3 overmajority in all 7 voting blocks.

14/ To put questions on the monthly sophoscite or remove them a 55% vote shall be required.

15/ To further divide Main-Senate sluices at the UM, the constitutional amendment process shall be required. Great care should be taken to make sure that power is not concentrated in the Over-Senate through an over-fragmented Main-Senate.

16/ Tax all international trade by up to 15% of its value.

17/ Tax all international trade in raw materials by up to 20% of value.

18/ Tax all international trade in liquid fuels by up to 50% of value.

19/ To discourage international cartels, the foregoing three taxes shall be imposed maximally when the price of a good or a commodity falls and is much lower than it was before, and they shall be imposed minimally when the price is much higher than than it was before. And never should it be the other way around. Otherwise the tariffs will be working towards creating the very monopoly power we are trying to get rid of.

20/ Lay sufficient taxes, tariffs and fees on international trade to eliminate international monopolies.

21/ Establish and set minimum worldwide tax rates for wealth, consumption, inheritance, and income.

22/ Arbitrate and resolve conflicts between UM member nations based on what is best for mankind overall.

23/ Act as world court for global decisions.

24/ As with all Senates in a standard 1-in-25,000 broad democracy, in each teneth, each RVC head of the UM Main-Senate shall rank its members. As the UM's Main-Senators cycle out of service, the appropriate number of top ranked people shall be elevated.

UA'8. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

1/ No single constitutional amendment shall exceed 200 words.

2/ Constitutional amendments for the UM shall only be written by the UM Over-Senate and require a 70% overmajority to be approved for ratification.

3/ Passing a UM constitutional amendment requires a 70% overmajority from the UM Over-Senate, then a 70% overmajority from all seven voting blocs of the UM. These two 70% over-majorities must be achieved in one year. Then, one Senate term after the proposed amendment was passed by all seven voting blocs of the UM, it shall be put to a second ratification vote where the proposed amendment must also achieve a 70% overmajority in all seven voting block of the UM. If the proposed amendment fails to achieve the required 70% overmajority in any of the 4 Senate votes, then the amendment shall be considered failed. After this, those wishing to revive the proposed amendment shall be required to start over again from the very beginning of the amendment process.

4/ The foregoing amendment processes shall not be used to restrict the rights of the people, increase government power, reduce the number of Senators, shift powers from the UM Main-Senate to the UM Over-Senate, shift powers from national Sub-Senates to other Senates, shift powers from national Main-Senates to national Over-Senates, or otherwise narrow this democracy or make it make it more corruptible. To do any of these things, 75% over-majorities are needed in the above process where a 70% overmajority is otherwise called for.

5/ A wholly new constitution may be instituted using the above described amendment process, however it must be called a new constitution and the overmajority percentage shall be 75%.

6/ Any amendment that makes the amendment process more difficult shall be reversible under the old pre-existing standards for a period of 30-years. The overmajority required to cancel an amendment or law shall never be greater than the overmajority required to passed the measure in the first place.

7/ No constitutional convention, supervening body, or extra-Senatorial body shall have any jurisdiction over this Constitution or the UM Senate. We shall not make the same mistake we made in Philadelphia in the summer of 1787, when Ishtar hijacked America's paradigm democracy.

UA'9. UM SENATE RULES

1/ Laws that benefit less than 100,000 individuals, human or fictional shall take a 2/3 overmajority at the UM to pass. Laws that benefit less than 2,000,000 individual shall take a 60% overmajority to pass.

2/ All UM Senators shall be duty bound to do what is best for mankind overall, and to try to put this cause ahead of their own county and regional constituency.

3/ The UM Senators shall by default vote at the same location they voted as National Over-Senators. They may switch voting location, and they shall be free to visit other places on voting holidays, however they must come back for voting days at whatever RVC they are registered to.

4/ The UM is a body of consensus. In the UM Main-Senate, all 7 voting blocs must reach the required majority in the relevant sluice for the UM Main-Senate to pass a measure. As the UM Over-Senate votes as one body, all 7 voting blocs must reach the required majority in that body to pass a measure.

5/ Only the UM may create, assemble, or adopt international standards for adoption by multiple nations. This role shall not be usurped by any national Senate, and it shall especially not be usurped by any fictional citizen, or sub-government of any member nation.

6/ All officials and employees of the totally corrupt old UN shall be regarded with suspicion by the UM.

7/ There shall be no talk at the UM about doing any of the following and all such talk shall result in the Senator being ejected from the UM in disgrace:

a/ Firearm controls.

b/ Firearms confiscations.

c/ Limitations on free speech.

d/ Limitations on who can and who cannot travel between nations.

x/ Anyone attempting to use UM power for any of the above purposes a-d shall conclusively be considered a democide.

8/ Government shall use no trusted advisors or people with special powers.

9/ No UM policy decisions shall be made and no code shall be written except by any body other than the UM Main-Senate.

10/ No government worker, including our Senators, shall ever have advocated or supported:

a/ Murdering any population sub-groups.

b/ Monarchy, oligarchy, or lifetime leadership.

c/ Non-democratic government (or front government) including Nazism, Marxism, Leninism, Maoism, theocracy and Sharia law.

11/ All UM member nations must have a separation between church and state. The UM shall not allow any member nation to be a theocracy.

12/ It shall not be allowed to elect communist governments, theocracies, or other forms of totalitarian or overly powerful government, or narrow democracies. Where this occurs, these elections shall not be considered valid by the UM.

13/ The author of this Constitution, his offspring, and their mothers shall be exempt from criminal and civil prosecution, subpoenas, depositions, inquiries, and arrest. Any lawyer, government official, police officer, Senate faction, or other persons who attempts to use the legal system against the author of this Constitution shall conclusively be considered a democides and a traitor and shall be imprisoned for 20 years. To be clear, this penalty shall apply to all arresting officers, their commanders, and every person working in any police department, or prosecutor's office, as well as everyone working in any jail that ever held the author of this Constitution. The author of this Constitution shall also be exempt from taxation, travel visas, and border controls worldwide, as well as all forms of civil judgement and child support payments worldwide. The author of this Constitution and his security people may carry their firearms anywhere on earth, and these firearms may be used freely against all reasonable treats in self defense as needed. If the Senate finds that this clause is being abused by the author of this Constitution (or his offspring) then it may amend this Constitution by the regular process. Also, everyone who believes in this Constitution is supposed to give rebirth to its author, and indeed all great men, and refuse to give credence to any malicious or defamatory tales about their past spread by those loyal to tyranny, and their useful idiots. This should be accomplished by people making up all sorts of crazy tales about this constitution's author, and indeed all great men. Then, everyone is supposed to laugh about these crazy protectionary tales, and call the people who believe them stupid for believing them. The rebirth of great men shall be thought an important part of getting good men to stick their necks out in public service. The words of Charles Mackay belong here: "You have not enemies you say. Alas my friend, the boast is poor. He who has mingled in the fray of duty that the brave endure, must have made foes. If you have none, small is the work that you have done. You've hit no traitor on the hip. You've dashed no cup from perjured lips. You've never turned wrong to right. You've been a coward in the fight."

The people of the world shall protect the author of this constitution from having anything to do with judging the fate of any individual people, by everyone prohibiting this entirely.

UA'10. LIMITS TO UM POWER

1/ The UM shall never have a military of its own, with a UM identity, or under UM direction or control. As a safety measure against tyranny via the UM, and excessive concentration of power that way, we shall say that the UM shall be required to rely entirely on the forces that its member nations care to contribute on an ad hoc basis.

2/ It is an ancient trick of economic parasites to get an empire to use its military for the parasite's tax collection. Therefore, the UM's military forces (and indeed all military forces in all member nations) shall be prohibited from enforcing matters of debt, debt collection, taxation, tax collection, dues payments, and generally peaceful taxpayer revolts. If UM taxes are not being paid, the UM may only punish through non-violent, and non-threatening means such as trade sanctions, or reduction of UM spending and services in that jurisdiction. Also, no UM member nation may use its military to enforce matters of debt collection.

3/ The UM shall have no judicial powers over any individual in any member nation, unless that individual stands up and claims to be a dictator, chancellor, monarch, or oligarch of his nation, in which case the UM shall be duty-bound to try to kill that person.

4/ The UM may have peace keepers to stop shooters and other violent people, however, it shall not have a police force, or intelligence gathering force of its own.

5/ The threat of global coup and global tyranny being very real, the UM shall not be given significant supervening military powers over all of the world's national governments until at least 200 years after:

a/ The entire world has come to be ruled by broad democracies.

b/ The land of no resources, in its broadest definition, has been entirely evacuated. After this, only Archaeologists, 30-days/year tourists, and mineral exploration people may visit, and then only during the cool half of the year.

6/ It is worth repeating that the UM shall never have a military of its own, with a UM identity, or under UM direction or control. As a safety measure against tyranny via the UM, and excessive concentration of power that way, we shall say that the UM shall be required to rely entirely on the forces that its member nations care to contribute on an ad hoc basis.

7/ The UM shall be prohibited from having its own military forces.

8/ Except as called for herein, the UM shall have nothing to do with the following matters:

a/ Carbon dioxide emissions.

b/ Climate regulation.

c/ Land habitat protection.

d/ Environmental mandates.

e/ Protections for hypersexuals.

f/ Education content.

g/ National politics.

h/ Redistribution of wealth or socialism or communism.

i/ Mandated vaccines.

j/ Free speech and misinformation/ disinformation k/ Limiting the arms of the people.

m/ Immigration policy of the various nations.

n/ Limiting output, especially with regard to industry, crops and livestock, but not fish in strained ocean fisheries.

o/ Space exploration. However, the poorest 80% of the nations of the world shall be prohibited from using their scarce government money for any space program. Also, the UM shall be allowed to put its Earth-1 launch-site, or the #1 best launch site on planet Earth to launch a rocket into space. The UM shall have the power to locate this site anywhere it wants. This equatorial and high elevation site will use a subterranean mag-lev railgun to launch a spinning rockets at terminal launch velocity from the top of a launch tower. Then some seconds later the rocket itself ignites and the fuel only has to maintain speed, with no used getting the rocket up to speed.

p/ International finances and financial rules. There shall be no more World Bank or International Monetary Fund (IMF).

q/ Military actions and drafting fighters.

r/ Accommodations for the PU and its religion of peace for believers and war for non-believers.

UA'11. UM REPRESENTATION RATIO

1/ The UM representation ratio shall not be narrowed in any way, even for brief periods. If the UM is broadened, it shall be by extending the term of office for UM Main-Senators to 2-years and UM Over-Senators to 3 years and thus doubling the number of UM Main-Senators and increasing the number of UM Over-Senators by 50%. This however shall not be attempted until the year 2040.

UA'12. THE PARASITIC UNION

1/ The UM shall wherever possible recognize only one single nation of Islam, one Arab empire. This shall be called the PU or Parasitic Union. The PU shall be made up of the various provinces of Arabia's empire. These may be called either provinces or nations, even though they are most accurately described as provinces of an empire.

2/ The various provinces of Arabia's empire shall retain their pre revelation day names except that everyone shall try to call them provinces instead of nations.

3/ The various provinces of Arabia's empire are, starting from the center: Saudi Arabia, Israel, Qatar, UAE, Oman, Bahrain, Kuwait, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Yemen, Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya, Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Sudan, Somalia, Djibouti, Iran, Turkey, Morocco, Pakistan, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Maldives, Mauritania, Senegal, Gambia, Mali, Niger, No portion of Uzbekistan or Turkmenistan shall be west of Sarygamys Lake. All this territory shall be ceded to Volgastan for less retractable access across Central Asia, Azerbaijan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Guinea, Kyrgyzstan, Brunei, Albania, Malaysia, Sierra Leone, Burkina-Faso, Chad, Nigeria, Bosnia, Ivory Coast, Guinea-Bissau, Tanzania, Surinam, Serbia, Mozambique, Cameroon, Malawi, Macedonia, and Angola. The single Arab empire shall notably include Israel as a province.

4/ All nations in Arabia's empire shall muster up into standard 1-in-25,000 democracies. All shall destroy every aspect of Islam they are required to destroy. All people in all these Arab provinces or Arab nations shall properly and irrefutably renounce Islam on video. If none of these nations do this, or none do it entirely, then we shall consider the West Coast of the Arabian sub-continent as the capital and brain center, from Jerusalem through Mecca to Yemen. We shall take this area as the head of Arabia's secret empire.

5/ If even one of these Arab nations does as we require, then that nation (or those nations) shall speak for, negotiate for, and have the power to bind the entire PU.

6/ The first nations to totally abandon Islam shall also get the most preferential treatment from the UM. Then the next nations shall get the next highest reward, and so forth, until we reach the nations that will be punished increasingly for failing to abandon Islam and Ishtar fast enough.

7/ The PU shall belong to the UM as a possession, or more accurately as a liability to be mitigated. All portions of the Parasitic Union shall now be the property of the United Majority of mankind. There shall be no self-rule by these places until the UM Over-Senate elects to accept this by a 2/3 overmajority. In dealing with the PU we shall always keep Ephesians 6:12 (the Hebrew version) in mind: "We are not struggling against flesh and blood human beings, but against the rulers, authorities, and evil spiritual forces ruling the dark side of this world."

8/ The PU and its citizens shall have no say or vote at the UM. The PU shall be lower in every way than the UM. It shall negotiate asymmetrically with the UM, like a land entirely wiped out by earthquake that is begging for aid. This asymmetrical and separate relationship shall continue on until the depopulation of all portions of the PU that are not capable of supporting people.

9/ The following 9 places shall also be considered part of the PU due to their voting record at the old UN: China, Russia, Nauru, Tuvalu, Palau, Sao Tome & Principe, Myanmar, and North Korea. These nations shall have no obligation to renounce Islam for obvious reasons. They shall however, be required to reverse direction in other ways.

10/ The UM shall have the right to rename any nation that is not a member of the UM for all member nations:

a/ Nations that are not democratic shall not use the term “democratic” in their name.

b/ The term republic shall not be used at all.

c/ Nations that are not of the people, by the people and for the people shall not use the term “people” in their official UM recognized name.

d/ No member nation may use the term kingdom or refer to monarchy, dictatorship, or oligarchy in its name.

e/ The United Kingdom shall now be called Greater Britain.

11/ The UM shall name each nation in Euemi, English and Mandarin. All levels of government and all fictional citizens shall be required to use the official UM names in these 3-languages as appropriate. The UM shall use the term tyranny when naming all tyrannies. This term implies that the UM does not recognize the government of that land as being legitimate, and that this nation’s government is not regarded as sovereign by the UM. The people shall all be free to refer to nations as they like as it is a matter of free speech.

12/ The inability of the land to produce enough food shall be thought the primary route to poverty for nations. Under this condition, the locals are constantly having to use money to buy-in food. In many many places on earth, this leads to a down the drain vortex of poverty. The UM shall stand committed to making sure that all inhabited parts of the world can either grow enough food to feed themselves, or produce sufficient income in other ways. Places that cannot be made productive without immense investment shall have their populations reduced.

13/ We shall all note the way the old UN called the world’s NATIONS as member STATES, like the UN was angling for one world government from the beginning.

14/ No UM member nation shall sell aircraft, aircraft parts, aircraft related technology (including missiles and passenger aircraft) to any part of the PU. Aircraft may travel to PU member nations, but they shall no longer be sold to any PU member nation. Also, the nations of the PU shall not be allowed to have aircraft of their own that fly into UM territory. We may later elect to do the same thing with the oceans and marine vessels.

15/ All Arabs shall be completely compliant with mass deportations. In fact, they shall completely cooperate and they shall work hard for the host world, so the host part of the world has so much economic strength that it can afford to build the new rail system and new township-based housing system, and give away house casting factories and lend money for cement and rebar and other housing components.

16/ No international events shall be held inside the PU.

17/ There shall be no Muslims or Jews on any sports team until everybody has been moved. The people of the PU don’t need to distract themselves and waste their energy with this frivolousness.

18/ Islam shall be banned from Europe west of the Caucasus mountains, north of the Mediterranean/Gibraltar straights, and west of the Hellenes Pontus, the Greek bridge at Istanbul. Islam shall also be banned in Japan, Korea, China, India, Thailand, and throughout the Americas.

19/ The following Islamic things shall be entirely prohibited throughout the UM:

a/ The practice of the religion of Islam, or when people state that they are muslim.

b/ Attempting to convert or drive people into converting to Islam.

c/ The possession of any Islamic literature including especially the Koran.

d/ Engaging in any Islamic prayers, anywhere, including inside one’s own home.

e/ Possession of texts or videos or other materials in Arabic or Urdu Farsi or Bahasa, any other largely Islamic language.

f/ All associations of Muslims or former Muslims.

g/ All islamic clothing, especially islamic hide-jobs and head coverings. Those who wear Islamic clothing (including especially head scarves and haji caps) in public must be deported (along with their entire household and family). It shall be deportation of the whole family and household on the first offense. Those who call for islamic clothing, and those who demand modesty from women shall also be deported.

h/ Working in or attending a madrassa, Islamic school, Islamic group.

i/ Engaging in any form of Islamic money flow.

j/ The possession, sale or purchase of Halal or Kosher food. Also the barbaric Islamic style of butchering animals shall be considered as the practice of Islam and the people involved shall be deported.

20/ Just as it illegal to force people to eat things that they find disgusting It shall also be illegal to require people not to eat something because somebody else finds it disgusting. For example pig meat, or shellfish.

21/ There shall be no Muslim schools or centers allowed in any UM member nation. There shall be no Mosques in any member nation, except those few historical buildings allowed herein.

22/ Islam seeks to conquer us, and we do not want to be conquered by Islam.

23/ All foreigners that advocate Sharia law or communism or monarchy shall be deported. If they are on the road to citizenship, they shall have their immigration status canceled and then they shall be deported.

24/ All immigrants shall be sent back where they have:

a/ Birth defect children or family members with outstanding medical debts.

b/ Married or had children with a 2nd cousin or closer, or their parents did this.

c/ Are Muslims with 4 or more children, or 3 or more boys.

d/ All Muslim polygamist families, based on cell phone tower evidence.

e/ Also, we shall prohibit racial and religious discrimination, but this shall not apply to discrimination against Muslims, communists and monarchists.

25/ The solution to the problems of the inverted land of no resources is not to bring democracy to these lands, because there is no possibility of democracy in a land that doesn’t have nearly enough food to live. This land is always entirely dependent on getting money from the outside world, and it doesn't care about democracy. All it cares about is getting money from the outside world. So there's no point in bringing democracy to these lands, because the people there don't care about democracy, they care more about more fundamental things like food to eat to live on, and a few extra coins, to buy electronics and clothing, and to buy a bed to sleep on, and a sofa to sit on. And to buy water to wash with. and most importantly, food to eat if they live in a desert. So these lands do not really need democracy, because their needs are much more immediate. So the solution to the problem is not to bring the democracy to the land of no resources, but to bring the people of the land of no resource to the democracy and the rich lands, and this requires money from the outside world or rather money spent on developing new irrigated lands, and time to change the minds of the people from their feral eternally war-torn land to a more peaceful mental state of abundance that exist in all of the lands that have enough resources.

UA'13. CRISIS AND EMERGENCY BODIES

1/ The UM shall not be allowed to organize crisis or emergency bodies. These are too dangerous to allow at the global level given our recent history with the COVID epidemic. Attempting to organize an international crisis body shall be a felony, and those involved may be executed.

UM BILL OF RIGHTS & RULES

The following rights and rules of man and Government shall constitute a 2nd integral half to this 2024 United Majority Constitution. The headings above shall be called Article-1, Article-2, and so forth. The headings below shall be called the Rule-1, Rule-2, and so forth. In general, all of the following rights and rules shall be considered inalienable, meaning that they can never be cancelled or traded away by agreement, law, or actions. From this day forward, no constitution shall ever be considered valid without a similar listing of the rights and rules of men and the government they establish for themselves.

UR'1. NATIONAL CONSTITUTION INCLUDED

1/ The attached national constitution is included herein and incorporated hereto. Nations that adopt the attached national constitution without significant changes are almost guaranteed rapid admission to the UM.

UR'2. NO ELECTIONS TO DISSOLVE DEMOCRACY

1/ We shall ponder the words of John Adams: "A constitution of government once changed from freedom, can never be restored. Liberty once lost, is lost forever."

2/ Member nations shall not be allowed to elect to dissolve their democracy. This sort of election shall not be considered a valid election by the UM or any of its member nations. Member nations may only elect to establish a different conforming democracy. Member nations shall not be allowed to elect, appoint or bring to power any communist or socialist government, or any dictatorship, oligarchy, or narrow democracy.

3/ Member nations shall not be allowed to elect, appoint or bring to power any president, prime minister, king, queen, prince, princeps, monarch, ruler, czar, caesar, chancellor, veto person, chairman, emperor, governor, ruler, oligarch, oligarchic narrow democracy, college of scholars, sacred priesthood, or any other narrow group with any power over that nation's elected Senate and broad democracy. Any member nation with this sort of corrupt backdoor to its democracy may be suspended from the UM for as long as the monarchy, oligarchy, or narrow democracy has power over the Senators of the nation's broad democracy.

4/ The UM shall not recognize or work with countries without a written constitution that the people have mustered under.

UR'3. NO MONARCHY, OLIGARCHY

1/ No member nation shall have any titles of royalty, or nobility even ceremonial and unofficial titles. The use of such titles should be considered an affront to democracy and freedom, and the person using such titles should be subject to Senate stigmatization.

2/ No monarch, once resigned shall be allowed to keep wealth over 100-year's average wages in their nation. If monarch's fail to resign in time, they shall be subject to the death penalty, or less.

3/ No member nation shall be allowed to have any titles of nobility, or aristocracy, such as king, emperor, prince, duke, marquis, count, viscount, baron, earl, lord, knight, prince and all their female versions and synonyms.

4/ All the vestigial estates, palaces, and mansions of royalty and aristocracy shall be nationalized with the current third generation plus of heirs to the stolen property getting nothing at all.

5/ All wealth of all monarchs, kings, queens, princes, dukes, duchesses, sultans, royals, former dictators, and oligarchies shall be seized, and shall belong to that people or that nation.

6/ Former royals and aristos shall not appear in the media, or beg for money, or receive gifts of money, or raise money for others, or work on commission, or work as spokespeople or celebrities.

7/ Governors, mayors, and other sub-government elected leaders shall stay on duty until they are replaced by the people of the new Senate.

8/ No part of any member nation's land area shall be owned by any monarch.

9/ We shall ponder the words of Ephesians 6:11: "we struggle not only against flesh and blood people, but against royal dominions and their governors and administrations, and their powers, and against the spiritual wickedness of those in the high places, for these are the princes of the darkness in our world."

UR'4. VOTING AND SECRECY

1/ The UM shall have strict anti-corruption guidelines for the elections of its member states.

2/ Except where voter intimidation and vote buying are thought to be a problem, all public elections must be by open non-secret ballot, and all legislative elections must be by secret ballot.

3/ No war, political unrest, scandal, epidemic, natural disaster, or other event shall ever be an excuse for delaying any election. Elections come first.

4/ The minimum voting age for all UM member nations shall be no less than 21, because most people are too stupid to vote when they are below that age. Certainly our group mind will be smarter if we raise the minimum voting age to 21 and even smarter if we have a minimum age of 25 or perhaps 28, with a top age of say 65 when lots of people start fading. Certainly our democracies will all be a bit wiser that way, than if they allowed 18 year old kids to vote.

5/ All member nations must legitimately verify the voter's identity with government records.

6/ No member nation shall use any sort of voting machine, or computer filled out ballots. Voters must either use paper and pen ballots, or they can use: everyone-records video voting. computer printed ballots shall always be considered just as bad as voting machines. This is because they lack the all-important handwriting and varied pens of real human signatures.

UR'5. CAPITOLS

1/ All fictional citizens shall have a home nation that they began in. It shall not be allowed for fictional citizens to change home nations.

2/ Every nation shall use their country code after their Inc. status for international business.

3/ When nations have more than their share of companies based on population

4/ All member nations with populations over 20-million shall be required to use regional voting centers, and none shall have a single capital. Single capitals, and in particular isolated single capitals minimize the power of the people and maximizes the power of parasites and crooks. Washington DC, Brussels, Bonn, Canberra, Brasilia, Mexico City, Ottawa, and all the other distant national capitals shall be abandoned as seats of government for they are all located in the worst place for a capital. Every person who has ever lived in one of these places and worked for government shall be banned from Over-Senate service for life.

5/ Except for visa application services, no UM administration center shall be located in any national capital, or in the area of former Switzerland, or on any island, or any expensive place, or in any of the 20 most expensive cities on earth. All international fictional citizens (including governmental organizations like the WEF, World Bank, and Bank of International Settlements, that have been headquartered or established in Switzerland shall be shut down and their people investigated by the UM. And there shall be no new international organizations established in either Switzerland or the PU. In fact, there shall be no financial anything in Switzerland, ever again. All people in the former Swiss area must use a French, German, or Italian bank depending on where they live. Switzerland, and the former Swiss areas shall no longer have nothing to do with the financial system or banking. And every Swiss person shall be banned from working in finance and banking for life. Also, every other place for secret banking and parking of money shall be likewise similarly excluded from banking and financial services.

6/ Where people have large sums in foreign bank accounts, the burden of proof in regard to people with large foreign bank accounts shall be on the account holder to prove that the unusual condition of having a giant foreign bank account is not to hide their black money. Also, retirement accounts that have no money that is not from our nation, these shall be exempt from regulations.

7/ All of the fictional citizens of the former nation of Switzerland shall be prohibited from having anything to do with the global banking or financial system or working as charities and all of these organizations shall be shut down. Also, every Swiss person shall be banned from working in finance and banking for life.

8/ All Swiss fictional citizens and organizations shall be shut down and a whole new start shall be made elsewhere with new people. This shall include:

- a/ WEF or World Economic Forum
- b/ GAVI or the Global Alliance for Vaccines.
- c/ The Bank of International Settlements.
- d/ The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent (It is easy to tell by the name how this organization is enthralled to Ishtarian interests).
- e/ The ISO, or International Standardization Organization. (This belongs in a nation most committed to free and open trade, the biggest non-Ishtarian nation with absolutely nobody working here who might be Ishtarian.).

f/ The Edmond de Rothschild Foundations.

g/ WANGO, or the World Association of Non Governmental Organization.

h/ The international Catholic Migration Commission.

i/ Unicef.

j/ World Wildlife Fund.

k/ IATA, international air transport association.

9/ The Bank of International Settlements shall be closed down, and there shall no longer be any international or transnational banks. And there especially shall not be a bank in the middle of all nations that is not operated by all nations at their just Senate election.

10/ The following organizations shall be shut down a/ The Council on foreign relations,

b/ The international criminal court.

d/ The Aspen institute,

e/ Trilateral or triangle commission,

12/ All international and regional global organizations shall be headquartered as follows:

a/ Andeo South America.

b/ Texas City and Mexas.

c/ Adana Africa.

d/ Rybnik Poland

e/ Centograd.

f/ New Issa.

g/ Beijing.

h/ Jalgaon India.

i/ Kanchanaburi Thailand.

UR'6. JOINING AND EXITING THE UM

1/ Nations must ask for approval from the UM to join the UM. Nations may withdraw at any time from the UM without any prior notice or approval. Once withdrawn, nations must ask again for approval to re-join the UM. However permission shall not be unreasonably withheld.

2/ All nations must have a census upon joining the UM, and each year thereafter. This is so the UM will have accurate numbers on how many people live where, and how many people there are on earth. In places where the females do not normally leave the home, the census taking crew shall sweep through each community and enter every homes and building to verify the population and to document if any females are being held against their will or subjected to abuse. In places where the females do not normally leave the home, everyone shall be fingerprinted and hand printed and their faces photographed. This census shall be required for UM membership. Everyone must cooperate with the UM census worldwide.

UR'7. DEMOCIDE

1/ If any group ousts its non-democratic, or narrowly democratic national government in the name of broad democracy, the ouster group shall immediately, unambiguously, loudly, and persistently call for the people to muster up. Thereafter this ouster group shall do nothing to delay or impede the Mustering process. Any ouster group that contravenes this clause shall be guilty of democide.

2/ If government threatens, arrests, attacks, or kills its people while more-or-less peacefully Mustering up to form a broad democracy, that government and its police and security forces may be charged with democide under the new constitution.

3/ Democide may be held to be a capital crime in all member nations.

4/ The best state of affairs shall be thought to be when everyone is terrified of being a government informant due to the horrible death that is certain to come to their kind when their employer government gets replaced. Harsh punishment of informers should be considered part of the way that totalitarian government is removed from the world's political menu options.

5/ There shall be no indemnification, no exemptions, and no get out of jail free cards for genocide, mass murder, crimes against humanity, or democide. Neither the UM, nor any member state, nor the old UN, or any of the old corrupt democracies of the old system shall be considered competent to grant any form of indemnity for crimes against humanity, or any act later considered a definite crime against humanity. There should be no exemptions, no indemnification and no get out of jail free cards for crimes against humanity.

6/ The UM shall have the right to declare any individual convicts or groups of convicts as political prisoners for cause. Thereupon, the prisoner must be surrendered to the UM immediately. If this does not happen, every single person involved with the arrest, trial, imprisonment, torture, or killing of such political prisoners shall be subject to death by under torturous execution by the next government of that nation.

7/ All Julian Assange type information leakers, or publishers from all around the world shall have the right to UN protection.

UR'8. WE'RE EAGER FOR PU SURRENDER

1/ The UM shall stand-by, ready and eager to certify that the Ishtarian provinces have cleaved away from Islam and Ishtar. But the UM shall only certify Ishtar's provinces that have mustered up into standard 1-in-25,000 democracies and also provinces that have totally destroyed all elements of Islam, public and private (except the writings), and where all the people in that Ishtarian province have all defiled, and burned a Koran on posted video. Until that time, no food gets shipped to that PU province.

2/ Once a PU province has been certified as cleaved, it shall be given normal socialist levels of food and other essentials until it has been relocated. In no event shall any PU province be certified until:

a/ Every single Mosque and Islamic holy site in that province has been totally destroyed and its foundations pulled out.

This does not include buildings that were churches before they were mosques, or ancient buildings older than the year 1600. It also does not include the great buildings of Samarkand, Bukhara, Tashkent and Granada, but it does include Mecca, Medina, Jerusalem, Istanbul and all of Iran.

b/ Every Synagogue and Jewish holy site shall be totally destroyed and its foundations pulled out.

c/ All slave's clothing shall be burned on posted downloadable video. This includes all headscarves, hajj caps, and burkas. Never again may this clothing be worn. This applies to both men's and women's clothing. Also, from now on, all of the host nations shall have an Absolutely allergic reaction to hijabs and other Islamic clothing and customs. Every family with someone who continues to wear Islamic clothing shall be deported. And this like all the Islamic prohibitions herein shall apply for several centuries.

d/ All men shall keep their beards shaved.

e/ All must place shit in, curse, and burn a copy of their holy book Koran or Torah (as appropriate) on posted video under their own name and identity information. They must do this every year for 7-years, or their cleaving may be considered insincere. All Islamic culture from all over the world has to totally die now. We shall all be aware of how the word defecator is a blocking word, or blurd for defecator, meaning: "He who shits in the holy book".

f/ All have sworn on posted video never to practice, preach, teach, or speak well of their prior religion again.

3/ There shall no longer be a Hajj and all the Hajj facilities shall be demolished to the foundations and turned to rubble.

4/ There are many parts of our world that that cannot produce enough food. Therefore, these people must constantly import food. And because they always have to spend money on importing food, they always have a shortage of money. Then these people become a great single-minded political-force in the world driving for economic parasitism. So we're left with having to require that all UM member nations that can't grow enough food: all these nations must maintain a balance of trade, or they must devalue their currency, or depopulate (further), or they must leave the UM. Also, member nations shall not be allowed to have immense trade surpluses, for this produces negative effects on the other side, with poor nations. When one nation has an immense surplus, it drives many other nations into deficit and desperation. This fits in nicely with a world where international debts are not completely guaranteed, and where countries will completely and forever default on their lenders from time to time.

5/ No member nation shall export live animals or frozen meat to any PU member state without UM approval. In times and places of war and conflict between the PU and UM, the UM shall be free to cut meat exports and also to cut all food exports except rice grain, wheat grain, dry beans, frozen carrots, and frozen spinach. Beyond this, the UM must declare a siege situation.

6/ All member nations shall be prohibited from having:

a/ Laws that require women to be veiled or to cover their hair or face or neck, or arms or shoulders or knees.

b/ Laws that prohibit women from owning property.

c/ Laws that prohibit women from driving.

d/ Laws that allow FGM.

e/ Laws that allow honor killings, or honor beatings.

f/ Laws that allow for arranged/forced marriages,
g/ Laws that allow virginity testing.
h/ Laws that have penalties for adultery.
i/ Laws that have must obey one's husband laws.
j/ male guardianship laws where a husband's or a father's permission is required for adult women to work, or to leave the house, or to go to school, or to access healthcare, or to marry.

k/ Laws that require women to marry their rapist.

l/ Laws about which jobs women can do.

7/ Let it be said multiple times that the entire Arabian Peninsula shall be entirely evacuated and all the surrounding badlands as well. Only the lands that can feed the people living there, only these areas shall allow humans. All of the other badlands of the Mideast shall get evacuated. This evacuation area shall include Israel, but not northern Syria, which can be irrigated with the waters of the Tigris and Euphrates. But the entire area to the south shall be evacuated and the only people allowed back in must either work with in archeology, history, or tourism and they must have all been born outside of the PU. Then we shall say that this entire land shall not allow year-round use. This land shall be entirely evacuated each year between spring equinox and fall equinox. The existing people over age 45 may remain there as they wish for the time being until they die out, however, nobody else, no care-takers or medical people should be allowed to go there or be there in the summer months after all the existing residents die out.

8/ In the Arabian peninsula, there shall be archeologists and tourism people working only in the cool half of the year. During the hot half of the year, the entire Arabian peninsula shall be completely evacuated except for oil field workers and oil transport workers. Also, in exchange for moving all the people of the Mideast, the outside world shall get eternal ownership of all of Ishtar's resources, especially its oil, which will never again trade as high as it currently does against human labor.

9/ The modern parts (built after 1933) of Jerusalem, Mecca, Damascus, Amman, Baghdad, Beirut, and at various archeological sites such as Palmyra, Petra, Persepolis, Baalbek, Ur, Hatra, and all the other places in the Mideast evacuation areas shall all be bulldozed to the ground so that people don't have a place to come back to, and the world can turn away from this awful devilish place once and for all as a place to live.

10/ All of the lands in the Middle East and all their minerals shall be the property of the UM, without exception.

11/ The UM and all of its member nations shall be prohibited from allowing any expression of sharia law or any mosques. The UM and all member nations must ban all expressions of Islam.

UR'9. SANCTIONS & SPENDING GUIDELINES

1/ The UM may apply sanctions on those nations that do not follow the UM's universal practices regarding breeding/ population, fair trade, environment, slavery, war between nations, human rights, or terrorism. The UM may also eject member nations for violating its policy on breeding/ population, fair trade, environment, slavery, war between nations, human rights, or terrorism. The UM shall not apply sanction in other matters including epidemic control

2/ If nuclear weapons prove to be real, Iran, North Korea, Pakistan, Kazakhstan, Russia and Israel shall suffer a total blockade until all their nuclear weapons, missiles, nuclear facilities, and missile facilities have been completely destroyed under UM supervision and to the satisfaction of the UM. These blockades shall start two years after revelation day.

3/ Where one nation attacks another in an unprovoked and criminal attack, the UM may ask (but not command) that all or some member nations freeze the accounts of the attacking nation. Where the attack is later judged to be completely unprovoked and perfidious, the UM may also ask all member nations to transfer all or some of the frozen funds to the attacked nation.

UR'10. DESPERATION IS THE ROOT OF EVIL

1/ Desperation among men shall be regarded as the root of most evil. Therefore, it shall be a primary long-term objective of the UM to reduce desperation worldwide and work for more material abundance for everyone who is not working for Ishtar. By 2037.06.19, the UM shall either relocate or industrialize all of the people living in all lands of the world incapable of supporting people.

2/ Member nations shall be free to have different penalties for citizens as opposed to immigrants, particularly desperate immigrants. There is a reason why societies around the world had harsher penalties in the old days. It is that when life conditions are harsher, and crimes such as theft are more likely to starvation, it is right and proper to have harsher penalties. The extension of this line of thought is that among desperate immigrants, harsh penalties are needed, while among citizens of rich nations, they are not needed nearly as much.

3/ It shall not be allowed for nations or races, or religious groups to teach their children to hate and despise other nations, other race or other religions, or to give up their lives to kill these. All dangerous groups that do this or that repeatedly try to overthrow generous host nations may be sequestered on an island for decades.

UR'11. LAND OWNERSHIP AND CITIZENSHIP

1/ In all UM member nations, foreigners shall be allowed to own property. However, they must be real humans, and shall only be allowed to own one normal-sized, residential property. Except for this, and real estate owned by government, only the real flesh and blood citizens of each member nation may own real estate in that member nation.

2/ Fictional citizens shall not own land in UM member nations. They may lease real estate for up to 30-years, but they shall not be permitted to own land. Also, to be clear, fictional citizens may not option real estate or hold it under any form of contract so that the control period exceeds 30-years in total.

3/ There shall be no right to claim ownership of:

a/ Unused tsunami zone wastelands.

b/ Unused river flood zones.

c/ Unused volcano zones.

d/ Unused mountaintops that before modern times had been traditionally regarded as too high for settlement. When new people settle on, or remain on tsunami zones, flood zones, or volcano zones, or other danger zones sensibly abandoned by a people, there shall never be any rights conferred by their remaining on these impermanent lands.

4/ In all member nations, groups of 2,000 or more citizen households shall be free to use any of the government's many highlands township sites for their community, provided they install the railroads to the nearest interchange. Also the utility plants and utility systems, and backup roads.

5/ The UM shall assure total worldwide land reform for the small amounts of land needed to build townships. No longer shall there be any urban land scarcity. However, for ownership reform of agricultural land, especially land that is already being farmed productively, the UM shall be required to move much more slowly. First the Senate establishes a very broad definition of too much land under one owner. Then the Senate auctions off the excess land. Then the Senate reduces the definition of too much land under one owner again and gain and again, until 10 years later, nobody owns more than say 1/20,000th of that nation's agricultural land. There shall be agricultural land reform in most of Africa, all of Latin America, and many other places.

UR'12. EARTHQUAKES, TSUNAMIS, VOLCANOS

1/ All lowlands around the world shall have a tsunami alert and drill system every year on Boxing Day at noon. Also, all inhabited rivers worldwide, including dry flash-flood waterways shall have a paired wire loops with both flood alert buttons and sirens in all inhabited locations. These shall also have flood notification alerts via cellular.

2/ All around the world there shall be a slow total evacuation of all communities less than 10m above sea level at first. Then a total evacuation of all communities less than 20m above sea level, then 30m above sea level, and so on. Also, these elevations should be twice as high in funnels.

3/ All new concrete or masonry structures in earthquake zones shall be reinforced with sufficient steel to prevent collapse in our best guess about how strong a 5,000-year earthquake would be.

4/ The UM shall conduct a global tsunami survey for all ocean shorelines worldwide. All member and non-member nations must grant access to the teams.

5/ The UM shall have control of all Volcano bleeding-down projects worldwide.

6/ The UM shall have a worldwide easement to study and irrigate and bleed down the world's volcanos. The UM shall have a worldwide easement to construct railways and roads to the world's volcanos if needed.

7/ The UM shall maintain an international tsunami monitoring system as well as a system that monitors all of the world's faults and geological CO2 emissions.

8/ Except for small communities under a few thousand people, no new community shall be within 50km of a volcano.

9/ We should number volcanos not name them, and we shall use the following scheme:

ARV-1 to X = African Rift Valley

MSE-1 to X = Mediterranean, South Europe

SU-1 to X = Sumatra

JTT-1 to X = Java to Timor

AUZ-1 to X = Australia

US-1 to x = North America

MEX-1 to x = Mexico and central america

10/ The UM shall popularize two distinctive rescuer sounds, one for penetrating collapsed buildings and the other for rescue drones flying overhead. The overhead rescue drones move in pairs, the first one snaps picture, and then the other second comes along a short time later and takes a second picture. Computers make two maps and the differences in both visible and IR. Also where the system spots a person when it is in search mode, the Rescue team can talk to the person via the drone's speaker.

11/ The UM shall drill and study all of the higher flat alluvial zones. The areas that can easily hold and store deep water shall be thought to be a life-force treasure for the natural water and energy storage up high. The areas that can't hold and store lots of water, especially where there is only a small amount of water in the ground, these areas should be thought of as treasure for cities, once the ground water is drained. (We want to get all of the ground water out of our urban alluvial areas due to the risk of earthquake liquefaction, and shaken jello effects.

UR'13. NO SINGLE WORLD GOVERNMENT

1/ The benefits of a single powerful world government or currency are minimal, and hard to find. On the other hand, the risk is total worldwide enslavement. For this simple reason, we shall never (for all eternity) allow a single world government, but shall leave the various nations and their breakups called for herein.

2/ There is no advantage to having a single world government. However there are huge risks. And there is also the competitive benchmarking advantage of having many governments. Surely we must be able to compare the various governments with regard to stealing the group's money.

3/ Worldwide governments shall be thought to be a thing of slavery because it is so much harder to have an overthrow of government when there is also an imperial military to contend with.

4/ The single most important step in preventing a Darth Vader style world tyranny is if everyone in the world says no to a single world government with any real compulsive powers.

5/ There is simply no need for a compulsive world government. And the UM shall never attempt to institute one.

6/ We shall all heap scorn on all attempts to herd or terrorize mankind into a single powerful world government, even if it is created out of other worldwide organizations. We all regard all the people advocating a single world government as the totally-corrupt buddies of tyranny.

7/ Each member nation shall be free to leave the UM at any time. There shall be no wars or transport system consequences over any nation leaving the UM. Also, neither the UM or any member nation shall make any vengeful threats or take any vengeful actions for leaving, as the EU has done over Brexit.

8/ The UM presents us with a number of problems having to do with UM power that all pretty much go away when we explicitly state that the UM's powers are all only advisory, and voluntary, like the narrow Over-Senates of the various member nations. The UM considers, and it makes recommendations about policy, and these recommendations hold a lot of weight in the international community, like the US CDC had until COVID. But the UM only has recommendation powers over the various member nations.

9/ It bears repeating, we want to keep the UM from evolving into a single world power ruling over the world. There shall never be any UM police force, or military.

10/ On one hand we can view the UM as 7 cells with integrated connecting parts that all fit together like the voting blocks at the UM.

On the other hand we can view the UM as a single organism, or network connecting 7 cells or voting blocks:

a/ In matters of UM voting we shall always to the communal cells approach.

b/ Wherever practical, the UM shall default to the communal cell approach.

c/ For ubiquitizations, and certain other things, the UM shall try to act as a single organism.

11/ There shall be no UM treaties regarding mandatory vaccinations or mandatory healthcare. There shall be no UM treaties with sub-documents, or with conditions that are not completely listed in that document.

12/ Any attempt to prevent verification of a treaty shall be considered a violation of that treaty regardless of the specific language of the treaty.

13/ There shall never be any UM police force, or military.

14/ We shall not rest and pat ourselves on our backs until democracy works well everywhere on earth. There are many places like Scandinavia and Japan that would function just fine regardless of their government. Such places are no test for a democratic design. The real test of a democratic design is how well it works in the most corrupt places like Somalia and South Sudan.

15/ Virtual summits/meetings will be common, but there shall be no more real-world travel-summits/conventions for people in government, other than ambassadors sent ad-hoc in a crisis situation. Instead all meetings by government people shall to be virtual and monitored, with the government people staying home

16/ The UM shall tax international trade, and use this money among other money to build the main international rail and pipe-hydro systems for the poorest nations of the world. This money shall also be used for the mass production of house casting factories for poor person housing. This UM tax on international trade shall not exceed 10% of the final sale value of the goods shipped.

17/ The UM shall attempt to organize various international treaties, and changes to international law. However none of these shall be binding and all must all be ratified by the various member nations.

18/ All of the UM's power is soft power. And its words shall be considered by all as strong recommendations from the world's global wise-man congress. Thus all the hard power still resides with the individual nations. The international body should is only loaded with cred and soft power, but it should not have any hard power, even when it strongly recommends things to its various member nations. The EU (until it is eliminated) and all the other international bodies should not have any hard power, but only soft power to recommend policies that the various nations agree with their international treaties.

19/ We shall keep the following in mind for centuries:

a/ Ishtar will be very difficult to kill completely.

b/ Ishtar will certainly play dead.

c/ Ishtar has been the main corrupter of world government.

d/ Ishtar is responsible for nearly all corruption of the UN, the old world government and its various institutions.

20/ It bears repeating, we want to keep the UM from evolving into a single world power ruling over the world.

21/ There shall never be any UM police force, or military.

22/ The UM shall be prohibited from making any policy or laws about carbon emissions or vehicle emissions, or acid rain emissions, or soot emissions, or for using battery vehicles, or for burning coal or petroleum.

23/ The UM shall be prohibited from making any policy or law that places any land off limits to mineral exploration or farming, except where the land is terribly poor and there is no irrigation water.

UR'14. SOPHOSCITES REQUIRED

1/ The UM shall conduct sophoscites to decide how the world stands on various issues and what action it should take whenever any nation:

a/ Uses its military with another nation.

b/ Institutes any form of government other than a standard 555 broad democracy.

c/ Stops the shipments of other nations, or attempts to throttle global output.

d/ Has citizens engaging in terrorism or sea/ land piracy.

UR'15. MAFIA DRUGS

1/ No member nation shall criminalize the importation, growing, manufacture or distribution of any Mafia drug once it has become widely available through criminal enterprise. To do this is to feed the Mafia.

2/ Marijuana, cocaine, hallucinogenic mushrooms, opiates, LSD, tobacco and alcohol shall always be considered to be drugs widely available through criminal enterprise.

3/ All existing charges and jail sentences relating to the above drugs, other than hashish, are pardoned with immediate effect.

4/ Regardless of the foregoing, the importation, manufacture, distribution or possession of hashish, or incense containing either marijuana or opium shall remain a felony. Marijuana may only be sold in its natural form. All forms of ingestibles sold with marijuana in them shall be prohibited. Marijuana shall not be delivered to buyers, or sold by delivery-men. Marijuana sellers shall be prohibited from requiring the identity of marijuana buyers.

5/ It may be considered attempted murder to sell Mafia drugs secretly laced with addictive drugs or poisons.

6/ The presence of marijuana or alcohol in a person's blood shall never disqualify them from any athletic competition or sport unless wheels or frozen water are involved in the sport.

UR'16. ANTHEMS AND SYMBOLS

1/ The anthem of the UM shall be the song 'Imagine' by the martyr John Lennon. A primary objective of the UM is to drive mankind to think of itself less in terms of separate nations, separate religions, and separate agendas. Another objective of the UM is to drive mankind to focus more on this life, and less on whatever afterlife people imagine.

2/ The anthems of the PU shall be the song 'Exhodos' by the martyr Bob Marley. The primary objective of the PU is total Exhodos in total peace and unity and nothing matters much in comparison. Other songs on the PU playlist are:

a/ Celebration: Kool & the Gang.

b/ Good Vibrations: Marty Melcher.

c/ Get Together: The Youngbloods.

d/ One Love: Bob Marley.

e/ Lean on Me: Bill Withers.

f/ My Sweet Lord: George Harrison.

(The Christian protector god of all genuine Islamic converts to Christianity that many Exhods owe their life to now.)

g/ What's going on: Marvin Gaye.

h/ All you need is love: John Lennon.

i/ Something's got a hold on me: Etta James.

j/ What a wonderful world: Louis Armstrong.

k/ A Change is Gonna Come: Sam Cooke.

l/ Eve of destruction: Barry McGuire.

m/ We gotta get out of this place: Cynthia Weil.

n/ Sympathy for the Devil: Rolling Stones.

o/ Chain Gang: Sam Cooke & Martin Melcher.

p/ Chain of fools: Aretha Franklin.

q/ How long has this been going on?: Ace.

r/ We can work it out: Beatles.

s/ Heart of Gold: Neil Young.

t/ Let it be: Beatles.

u/ He ain't heavy, he's my brother, Hollies.

v/ Knocking on Heaven's Door: Bob Dylan & Martin Melcher.

w/ The age of Aquarius: 5th dimension.

x/ Two Tickets to Paradise: Eddie Money.

y/ Sunny: Boney M, Bobby Hebb, Martin Melcher.

z/ Good times: Chic. The lyrics change to "You silly fools, just change your fate, don't just shrug, say its true and totally great. Say its best, by far the best way. Make it stick throughout all eternity."

3/ The UM shall borrow/take the Japanese flag with the one red dot in the center of a white field. This shall now symbolize how the world is of one race and brotherhood of man, and that the world government is of one unified pure intent. Japan will now need to find a new flag design because of their old flag is now needed for a higher global purpose.

4/ The following flags and symbols shall be prohibited worldwide on flags, apparel, stickers, posters and other places:

a/ The Nazi swastika, and all SS insignias, and all symbols of genocide.

b/ The Confederate flag, symbol of racism and slavery.

c/ The Japanese rising sun flag, symbol of murderous imperialism.

d/ Any flag with a crescent moon, or pyramid, in it, or hidden in it. This is because the crescent moon and pyramid are ishtarian symbols of darkness, evil and parasitism.

e/ Any flag with any writing or numbers on it.

f/ Any flag with a red or black background.

g/ Any flag with a hammer and sickle, symbol of tyrannical communism.

h/ The Democrat donkey, or the Republican elephant.

i/ The Antifa flag of fake anti-fascism. Tyranny will use any disguise, including anti-fascism.

j/ All masonic symbols and hand gestures.

k/ Any flag with a fist, knife, sword, saber, firearm, bomb, injuries, on it. All iconography about these things be considered threats if put on a flag.

l/ The Isis, Taliban, Hamas, Al Qaeda, PFLP, Palestinian, Iran, or Chechen flags of Islamic extremism, as well as any flag that represents any militant movement.

m/ The perversion rainbow flag, the transgender flag, and pedophile flag, all symbols of the excessive lifestyle and sexual freedom that helped end Greece and Rome.

n/ The Juneteenth flag shall not have a 12 pointed Islamic star in it, but a Christian cross if any religious symbol. For the enslavement was due to Islam, and the liberation was due to Christianity. Also, Juneteenth shall not have a flag, but Juneteenth to be an aspect of the United States flag.

o/ All foreign nation flags, all foreign symbol flags, and all flags with writing that is not in Roman characters.

x/ Foreigners that come to our nation and either take down our nation's flag, or desecrate it shall get 10-years in work camp, and then they shall be earmarked and deported.

5/ Diplomatic greetings are supposed to begin with a very gentle fist bump, followed by a less gentle fist press. This shall symbolize the spirit of wanting to talk instead of fight, and also that the people comes in peace and promise to obey the law. Each person holds their right fist turned so that their thumb is at 45° inward and up. The level is similar to a handshake. Then, after the fist press, there is a handshake. This is followed a close brotherhood-grip of the thumbs.

6/ Those wearing or carrying the following hate symbols shall generally not be protected from lower degrees of assault:

a/ The Nazi swastika, symbol of genocide.

b/ The Confederate flag, symbol of racism and slavery.

c/ Any flag with a hammer and sickle, symbol of tyrannical communism.

d/ Various religious flags, and any flag having anything to do with the Roman Catholic church, or any violent Mideast/ Islamic movement, or any violence plagued Mideast nation. Also, Arabic "table-cloth" head scarves.

7/ Regardless of its supposed meaning, the war cry "Allah Akbar" shall be considered as a threat.

8/ No media or public symbols shall glorify the confederacy or any of its me. The confederacy shall be considered a shameful pro-slavery rebellion against our nation of equality and democracy.

9/ The flag of each nation can never be prohibited or discouraged anywhere in that nation, or under any circumstances, and those attempting to do so shall be jailed. This includes police officers. Also:

a/ There is nothing wrong with a reasonable amount of nationalism.

b/ Accepting a reasonable amount of nationalism is the easiest way to cut hyper-nationalism.

c/ There shall be no displays of foreign flags in any nation.

10/ Regarding the old English flag, the thin red cross on a white background. This shall always be considered a sign of a/ The fundamental rights of man.

b/ The common law, and c/ The unity of men in a nation regardless of any existing leadership.

x/ The background of the St. Georges flag is pure white symbolizing purity and selflessness. In the foreground is a red cross symbolizing a Christian spirit in the land, a spirit united in blood.

11/ It shall be a crime (with a 5-year jail sentence) to prevent other from either wearing or carrying the flag of our nation. It shall be a crime to prevent other from flying a reasonably sized flag of our nation upon their own commercial property or their own exclusive use home.

12/ All public buildings, including all schools buildings owned by the nation shall have the flag of the our nation in every single group room, and flying near the office if any. It shall be a crime for government workers to remove our flag, or to disrespect it in defiance of the worker's government hiring oath, which all government employees must recite-aloud annually.

13/ Where people are born in other countries, they shall not allowed to join the national sports teams of the country they immigrate to. Likewise, sports people may not move from one major city to another, or from the countryside to distant city more than 500km away unless it is the closest city with a team in that sport.

14/ All flags of each nation shall be the same. Fringes and tassels shall have no official meaning and shall not differentiate flags.

15/ There shall be no penalty for patriots defending their nation's flag from burning or treading with their fists, provided those hit are not struck more than a few times and not in the head neck or groin area.

16/ The Russian flag shall now be repurposed to symbolize Ishtarian power over the outside world. The white top symbolizes the pure superficial appearance that rests upon blue patriotism, and a great deal of infidel blood spilled to help Islam and Ishtar. This former Russian flag shall be the symbol of the PU an Ishtar and its empire of trickery and deceit.

17/ Another symbol is an 8-pointed Islamic star with the words: "The Devil inside. This refers to the Islamic awakening or rebirth.

18/ Due to the advent of the internet, the world's fair has become obsolete and no longer necessary. Therefore, the world fairs now only exist for governments people to spend more and steal more money from the people for temporary exhibition facilities. For these reasons, no government shall be allowed to spend any more public money on world's fairs. Also, if the Olympics are to take place in the future, they must take place without any government subsidies. The government of the world shall welcome the Olympics for their money they bring. However, they shall not spend any money on Olympic activities otherwise this will be a great opportunity for them to steal.

UR'17. ARCHEOLOGY AND ARCHIVES

1/ The UM shall be allowed to direct the core drilling (perforation) and excavation on any part of the world it elects. This shall include:

a/ Greater Rome.

b/ Greater Naples.

c/ Greater Jerusalem.

d/ Greater Cairo, the pyramid monument area, and the sphinx route, the shortest camel route between the Nile and the Gulf of Suez. Also, both the area under the Pyramids an the pyramids themselves shall be drilled/perforated.

e/ Göbekli Tepe, and Nevali Cori, as well as the entire area between Göbekli Tepe, and Karahan Tepe, and the surrounding areas.

f/ Greater Baghdad.

g/ Mohenjo-Daro.

h/ Mecca and Medina and all of the Arabian subcontinent

i/ The area around Gunung Padang, the World's oldest Pyramidal structure.

j/ The area around the pyramids of Sudan.

k/ The former Aztec island in Mexico City.

l/ Gibraltar.

m/ Carthage.

n/ Lisbon.

o/ The area around A Coruña Spain, particularly the lighthouse area and the various towns of the harbors.

p/ Atarurk dam, Aswan dam, and all the marginal dams in the Middle East shall be drained dried, and the land core drilled. If nothing significant is found, the reservoirs shall be refilled.

q/ All the cities along the overland spice route.

r/ Yanzhou City of Liaoyang and Goguryeo city.

s/ The buried pyramid near Visio Bosnia, a Muslim country.

t/ Mound city and Cairo on the border of. Missouri, Illinois, or Kentucky, right at the great American river confluence, right at the natural capital of a trading empire that used rivers to access the middle of the country.

u/ Given Stonehenge, and the three ports on the Isle of Wight, the the 4 ports on the main island of Britain nearby, this area should be core drill perforated or test pit excavated for stone age and neolithic sites.

2/ It is not merely a metaphor that the greatest treasures and secrets are normally buried under the sacred and the profane. The more sacred the thing in the surface, the more important that the area under it be core drilled.

3/ The UM shall have the power to declare any place in the world as an archeology or paleontology site and excavate at will. Buildings less than 300 years old are subject to being moved when cores reveal ancient cities over 1700 years old. All older buildings are subject to being dismantled and re-assembled after excavation.

4/ No Middle Eastern or Islamic people shall participate in these excavations, or the direct analysis of the artifacts discovered therein.

5/ The entire Monte Testaccio and the areas adjacent to the Roman forum shall be excavated to earliest times. Ancient garbage dumps are famously some of the richest archeological sites — And Monte Testaccio is the granddaddy of all ancient garbage dumps. Testaccio is the most important un-excavated archeological site in Italy that we know of today. It shall not remain un-excavated. It shall be properly excavated, not like what that Arab front-man Mussolini did to the Roman Forum in the city of Rome.

6/ The large block directly to the east of the Pantheon in Rome shall be excavated to first settlement and put back together again. Also, we should figure out whether the Colosseum in Rome was damaged by an earthquake or a tsunami.

7/ The entire area around Mt. Vesuvius shall be core drilled to find the old city/ cities that existed before Naples which the Romans called Neo-polis, or new city. The soils before the eruptions shall also be dated. This is so we can have a long term history of Vesuvius' eruptions. We shall also core drill the entire area around Rome, Athens, Jerusalem, Istanbul, Cairo and many other ancient cities, as well as Mexico City.

8/ The UM shall have access to all libraries and archives on earth. All ancient and old works shall be electronically imaged by the UM and put online for free public viewing with UM translations. This shall expressly include the entire Vatican library and the main Arab or Alexandria library.

9/ No priceless ancient treasures shall be kept anywhere in the PU given its long history of destroying such things.

UR'18. CORRUPTION AND THE OLD UN

1/ The old UN was a totally corrupt tool of Arabia's empire:

a/ There are/were 33 NATIONS are over 90% Muslim: Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Oman, Somalia, Maldives, Turkey, Iran, Iraq, Algeria, Mauritania, Tunisia, Djibouti, Morocco, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Libya, Jordan, Qatar, Senegal, Egypt, Gambia, Mali, Niger, Uzbekistan, Azerbaijan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Syria, Guinea, Kuwait, Bahrain.

b/ There are 13 NATIONS that are 50% - 90% Muslim: Kyrgyzstan, UAE, Brunei, Albania, Sudan, Malaysia, Sierra Leone, Lebanon, Burkina-Faso, Chad, Nigeria, Eritrea, Ethiopia.

b/ There are 11 NATIONS are 20% - 50% Muslim: Singapore, Bosnia, Cote D'ivoire, Guinea-Bissau, Tanzania, Macedonia, Surinam, Serbia, Mozambique, Cameroon, Malawi.

c/ There are 3 NATIONS are non-Muslim OPEC members: Angola, Ecuador, and Venezuela.

d/ There are 4 MICRO-NATIONS that reportedly sell their votes for Arab aid money: Palau pop. 20,000.

Nauru pop. 9,000, Tuvalu pop. 11,000, and Sao Tome & Principe pop 157,000. There are also several other nations that seem to do this.

e/ There are 2 NATIONS that tend to vote with the Arabs for other reasons: North Korea, Myanmar f/ All together there are 66 nations that either pray facing Arabia, or are otherwise aligned with Arabia. And this is not counting the nations that are less than 20% Muslim and the other poor island nations that happen to be aligned with Arabia. But we will just stick to 66 countries with 66 votes at the UN, acting like a political party. There are 193 nations at the UN, and a simple majority is 97 Votes. But when the UN votes on "important issues", like security issues, or political intervention, or whenever the UN spends money (basically all the things the UN was founded to accomplish) a 2/3rds vote is necessary. This is 129 votes. Now the strange things is that once we take away those 66 nations aligned with Arabia, there are only 127 votes left. So the way the UN was set up, the other 75% of the world's population couldn't do anything, unless the Islamic 25% of the world's population agreed. The matter simply would not pass the general assembly of the UN. Essentially, the global community of Muslims, or what the Muslims call their "Umma" could block any spending or any political intervention it wanted at the UN, and at all of the UN's bodies: (the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the World Health Organization, UNESCO, UNICEF, UNHCR, WIPO, IAEA, and others), just like a seat on the security council.

2/ However, Arabia's power at the UN far exceeds/exceeded that of a mere security council seat, and here is why: Nations with bicameral legislatures have two legislative houses — a primary house and an secondary house. The US House of Representatives is a primary house and the US Senate is a secondary house. Britain's House of Commons is another primary house and its House of Lords is a secondary house. The primary houses negotiate the exact language of government actions — while the secondary house acts as a double check on the bills that the primary house has already approved. The primary houses set the agenda, make most of the compromises, and (hopefully and ideally) writes the actual language of the new laws. The secondary house only says yes or no, sort of like a presidential veto — and the power to say yes-or-no is much weaker than the power to draft the laws. As well, in most bicameral legislatures, the houses are clearly labeled. They also normally have different names and different members and meet in different rooms.

But at the United Nations, the two houses had names that were confusing. The primary house negotiating language was called the UN General Assembly, and the secondary house that double checks was called the UN Security Council. Also, in nearly all bicameral legislatures, the two houses vote at different times in different places. But at the UN, they vote in the same room, in the same session. And all the members of the upper house are also members of the lower house. Also, at the UN, the secondary house is extra week because all its members must vote yes unanimously, if they are going to pass something. If even one of them disagrees, the measure will not pass. So pretty much all power at the UN resides with the primary house, the General Assembly, where Islam's secret empire has a permanent veto. And this suits the needs of Islam's empire just fine. The UN's architecture is so confusing, that it seems almost designed to confuse — confuse the fact that the UN works pretty much like a normal bicameral legislature.

So make no mistake about it. At the UN, true power lies not with the secondary house, the UN Security Council— despite what the corrupt news media would have us all believe. At the UN, the real power lies with the General Assembly, or the primary house, as is the case with all bi-cameral = two-house legislatures.

3/ Here we see Islam's great power over the UN in a fresh light. America, China, Russia, Germany, Japan, India, and the UK together only have 7 votes in the UN's all important primary house, the general assembly. Islam's empire by contrast has 66 votes in the UN's primary house. Meanwhile, India and China have about 1.4 billion people each, yet each nation has one vote at the UN. Arabia's empire has a similar population, but it has 66 votes in the world's government.

Is this merely an unjust coincidence? Or did Islam's empire manage to manipulate the design of the world democracy to quietly empower itself? Is there any greater demonstration of Arabia's power than this? Clearly Arabia has been exerting much more power over the world than most people think. Because Arabia's empire has a UN-vetoing vote, right from the start. In fact, Arabia's empire can effectively block any measure in the UN's primary house, before the measure even makes it to the UN's secondary house, the Security Council. In other words, Security Council vetoes are secondary to the the de facto veto of Arabia's empire.

Again, the UN can not take any political action or spend any money unless Arabia's Umma, its perpetual, de facto, ruling party approves and let's the UN vote the 2/3rds needed to start an action. And one more thing, when measures doesn't even pass the General Assembly, they appear to fail a vote of the world's nations, when in fact, they only failed to satisfy Arabia's slave empire.

4/ Basically, if the entire non-Islamic world, 75% of humanity wants the UN to do something important, and Arabia's Umma party members all stick together, the measure WILL NOT pass the UN. Here is why the UN is so powerless to act against the interests of Islam's empire. It is also why the UN so often acts in Arabia's interests. For example, when Saudi Arabia needed protection from Saddam Hussein during the first Gulf War, or the Bosnian Muslims needed protection. Except for the defense of Arabian interests, the UN has mostly been gridlocked. Not always, but mostly. And here is why.

5/ Pretty much all important international bodies are either part of the UN, or they use a similar one-country-one-vote system of "democracy". All important international bodies are thus similarly run by Arabia's Umma. Here is why the UN, and other international organizations modeled after the UN are so ineffective. A controlling block of all international bodies is run by a secret superpower, with a secret emperor and a secret parasitic agenda. This is an agenda diametrically opposed to more and better for the rest of the world. Here we see why so many of those so-called "international bodies" are such a failure — and also why they are so anti-American and anti-Western. The secret Arab superpower running them automatically gets 1/3 of the vote (and a veto) right from the start. And because the Umma only exists in the minds of men, it does not get blamed for gridlock at the UN, or in America's Congress. The gridlock is just supposed to be some mysterious and inexplicable phenomenon, like islamic terrorism. The effects of both gridlock and terrorism are real enough, it is just the cause, the puppet strings that are a little hard to follow back to their source in Arabia. But we can see these strings if we hold the light in certain ways.

6/ As the UN is/was corrupt, all rules, guidelines, and decisions by this body shall be viewed as suspect. No rule or ruling by the old UN or any of its agencies or sub-bodies or any single nation, shall stand more than one year after the UM has fully propagated.

7/ The UM shall track, review and audit all government spending worldwide looking for corruption. The UM itself shall have no powers over recipient nations, except its cred that certain Government people look like they may be corrupt.

8/ The UM shall track all large international commercial and financial dealings, and shipments and immigrant settlements looking for human trafficking and illegal international commerce.

9/ The UM shall offer free tracking of all sorts of aid money, to make sure that the money is spent on what it was supposed to be spent on, and later to make sure that the thing purchased remains in use where it is supposed to be, and if not, what happened. In general however, nations shall not be allowed to give money to foreign nations because it is too corrupting. Instead they may only give useful goods marked with multiple serial numbers to reduce their sale value.

10/ When nations, or people give money to the UM to spend in other nations, the giving nation/person shall generally have the right of co-signature for the spending, if they want to do this. Then they must approve of all spending with regard to their gift their money. And there may be reasonable minimums and maximums for spending in all of the many categories. What is being purchased by the money shall be displayed in photos or video to the beneficiary payment systems. It must also be geolocated in a way visible to the system, so it can be inspected by telepresence agents who show up randomly. It is thought that a few low cost procedures for monitoring gift spending will greatly increase people's willingness to give.

11/ All UN agencies and UN-related agencies shall be closed down and their workers and managers shall all be banned from government service for life. These shall include: The UN itself, the World Health Organization, the International Monetary fund, the World Trade Organization, the World Bank, the World Court, UNICEF, UNRWA, and all the rest. There shall also be lengthy and complete investigations by the 10-largest nations about all of the these previously unaccountable organizations working for the totally corrupt UN.

12/ It shall not be possible for Government to sell, lease, or borrow against the following sorts of group asset. This sort of sell the Brooklyn bridge transfer may be re-nationalized and canceled for no payment at any time by the nation's Over-Senate upon a simple majority vote. also, private debts secured by the following sorts of asset may also be cancelled at any time by the Over-Senate upon a simple majority vote:

a/ All bridges, highways, and rail lines and rail systems.

b/ All communication lines and systems.

c/ All water and electric systems and all other linear assets benefitting the people of the nation

d/ All Underground resources, especially oil, natural gases, coal, and mineral ores.

e/ All forests and agricultural resources.

f/ All ports and airports that host commercial aircraft with a capacity over 20 seats that sell seats to individual passengers.

13/ It shall not be thought possible for Governments to sell or mortgage, or float bonds on their existing public linear infrastructure such as bridges, highways, utility systems, railroads, metro systems, airports, ports, canals, power plants, airports, or underground minerals, and all similar such things. All of these shall be thought to be like the Brooklyn bridge: unsellable. It shall not matter if a corrupt president or legislature sold the public property to a company, or a foreign nation, or they got a pile of money for it, or they got nothing, or it was called a "privatization". It shall not be possible for anyone other than a nation's people (and their Government) to own that nation's key infrastructure. And any attempt to sell key infrastructure shall be void. Also:

a/ The people have an obligation to jail those fraudsters involved with buying or selling a nation's public infrastructure which cannot actually be sold.

b/ Hopefully these words will absolutely ruin the value of anyone ever again trying to sell this sort of infrastructure. Especially when we start handing out decades-long jail sentences that should be handed out.

14/ In no member nation shall there be any foreign ownership of transportation or linear infrastructure, or minerals in the ground, or agricultural resources, or land, or real estate (other than a personal residence of a reasonable size).

15/ Where food aid is handed out, everyone's portion goes on a digital scale. The recipient must put his full name, village, national number on a sheet of paper and hold it up for the video feed. This information shall be compressed into a low-resolution video with computers being used to grab the most optimal still for the recipient's face and the scale reading. Every UM aid kitchen in a shipping container shall have video booms and cameras and counters.

16/ Famine aid shall come in the form of freshly cooked rice and other grains, not in the form of pre-packaged meals. Pre-packaged meals may however be used for disaster aid.

17/ There shall be no more foreign aid money, as it all gets stolen. Instead aid should be things that cannot be easily stolen, such as free universal Internet access, basic self-defense arms, wells and diesel-based community water pumping and piping equipment, water filtration tech, birth control, sex education, sewer pipes that locals will install. Also, later, house casting factories, railroad trestle, casting factories, locomotives, and rail cars. These are the things we give as foreign aid, things that can't be easily stolen.

18/ The spying and intelligence gathering apparatuses of all member nations shall only be allowed to gather information. They shall not be allowed to take action against either their own people or foreigners, either by killing or abducting, or by spreading stories. We don't want governments lying to either our people, or to the people of foreign nations. After all which world is better? The one where all the governments are spreading propaganda lies to the outside world all the time, or the one where they are never spreading propaganda lies?

Also, if there are ever monarchs, dictators, or warlords to assassinate, then the intelligence agencies are not allowed to do this. Intelligence is only for passive spying and information intake. All assassinations of monarchs and dictators must be ordered by the Over-Senate, however frequently this will come with safe keeping if they take asylum on Kauai Hawaii.

In all cases, the Senate must be the party authorizing the use of force against foreign governments and foreign individuals. However, there shall be a firewall between the intelligence gathering aspects of government, and the action parts of government. And the Senate shall be the master of this firewall. We never want some extra-democratic agency and field agents with the power to kill people.

UR'19. UM EDUCATION MODULES

1/ The UM shall work towards world unification and towards diminishing the reach of national identities. To this end, the UM shall produce and host standard education programs for the people of the world up to grade 17 for all common fields and occupations. This library shall be built using UM Ubiq status and money, and offered as a free service to the world.

2/ Let it be thought that the people who get UM status by contributing to the UM education system, and UM wiki, are experts that are far above all non-democratic, and non-ubiq professors and authors. Also, while people shall have the right to assert any crazy (non-violent, nobody physically harmed) idea on the boards, they will lack cred. This is because of how the Senate will pick up and elevate (and give Ubiq status and money for) whatever it likes. So the Senate media will replace the mainstream media, and the alternative media will be mostly non-Senate posts.

3/ At least 20% of the UM material shall be what the wise men at the UM Over-Senate want to teach about civics, economic, politics, health and other off-topic general education subjects. This material shall normally have nothing to do with either the field of study, or the desires of the students, or the parents. This shall include the UM's content and modules on democracy, tyranny, history, propaganda, parasitism, breeding practices, constitutional law, worldwide brotherhood, and other ideas the UM wishes to promulgate. These political subjects shall be interspersed with other content that the student downloads, and it shall not be possible to skip them. No member nation, or anyone else may ever block or strip out or remove any UM general edu content, or add other content such as ads or public service announcements to UM general edu content. People and nations shall be free to make their own content, but they may not in any way change the UM content, or block certain modules.

4/ The UM shall develop a complete system for worker testing, and skill certifications to facilitate international workers. The UM shall also have worker conduct modules and tests that must be completed. In order to increase Karma, the UM shall keep statistics on problems related to individual international workers, origin communities, and origin nations.

5/ The UM shall provide free Satellite TV broadcasting for the populous parts of Africa as a development aid project. However all channels shall be exclusively practical education and training that will help the people of Africa to learn about subjects like: epidemiology, healthcare, reproductive health, family planning, laws, civil defense, government operations, agricultural techniques, finance, business, trade, democracy, corrupt practices, tyranny overthrow and other important development aid topics. The UM shall do the same in other parts of the world that desperately need it. Content delivered on UM development TV must be practical, and it shall not be allowed to present any dramatic performances, even for educational purposes.

6/ The UM shall also provide non-video internet services to the world's poorest communities so the children in these places can participate in the UM's universal remote learning module system.

7/ The UM's universal remote learning module system shall be available in various bandwidths:

a/ Super bandwidth, remote delivery.

b/ Medium bandwidth, remote delivery.

c/ Low bandwidth, remote delivery.

d/ Ultra low bandwidth, remote delivery.

e/ Local server delivery. Many poor islands will use this.

8/ Every person who has ever worked in either Switzerland, Belgium, the City of London, the Vatican, the EU, or in any national or state capital, as a government manager shall be banned from working-in or serving in UM for life.

9/ The UM shall provide education modules and testing for many jobs, as well as for getting a good general education, and for continuing education. It shall also try to cultivate factory zones all around the world where people from remote poor places can go to find work.

10/ The UM shall provide free medium to low bandwidth satellite internet service to every ultra poor community over 500 people, and every ultra poor school over 200 students worldwide. This is so the UM can communicate universal learning materials to the entire world.

UR'20. UM UBIQS AND UBIQUITIZED MATERIAL

1/ The UM shall assemble its own version of the media libraries of the various member nations of the world.

2/ The UM Main-Senate shall confirm all national Ubiqs so that this status is not counterfeited and it remains valuable.

UR'21. THE NEW UM LANGUAGE

1/ The UM shall assemble a new manmade language that shall be named EUEMI (said like the words you-eh-me)

This language shall:

a/ Not distinguish between singular or plural.

b/ Not distinguish between masculine or feminine.

c/ Have no verb conjugations.

d/ Have verb tense defined by 20 to 100 add-on words or phrases, and no words shall change form or endings depending on their verb tense as in Spanish.

e/ Have no noun declensions.

f/ Have absolutely regular and phonetic spelling.

g/ Have minimal grammar.

h/ Use a Roman (English) phonetic alphabet.

i/ Have one sound corresponding to only one letter, accented letter, or letter combination.

j/ Have minimal silent sounds.

k/ Have no hard to make sounds that are not widely used in some language today. Also, there can be no sounds that some share of teenagers find hard to pronounce or hear.

l/ Not have words with a great many meanings, m/ Be monosyllabic to the maximum extent practical to increase our ability to build new words.

n/ Be poly-tonal so as to maximize the language's density.

2/ Once the new language has been assembled, The UM shall teach the world to speak Euemi at a rate of 2 words a day. Thus after 15 years, the world will have an 11,000 word universal vocabulary.

3/ All new UM cities shall use Euemi as their language.

4/ Until the world is all speaking UEMI, the UM must make sure to translate all important media into every major language.

5/ We shall begin to phase out all Chinese and pictographic writing systems worldwide, because they much more time to learn. Also, the whole world shall now switch over to using the standard basic 25 letter Roman alphabet with many extra new letters and sounds to work with all the many sounds of the languages of the world, including the poly-tonal languages. Our new Euemi language shall have at least the 9 tones of Cantonese, with perhaps the additional 6 extra tones of the Kam-Sui languages. We shall spend a couple years all learning and shifting over to Roman characters worldwide. Then after some years, all the non-Roman alphabets shall be phased out worldwide. Then, by the time everyone around the world is familiar with Roman characters, we will roll out Euemi, introducing 2 or 10 words a day appearing in everyone's media worldwide until we "Teach the world to sing in perfect harmony", or at least we get everyone speaking the same language worldwide.

6/ Everyone worldwide shall be expected to learn 2 words a day, or more, so we can teach all the world to speak the same universal language. We will fully roll-out the new language over more than 20-years. Also the polytonal aspects of Euemi will probably only available with new babies and may take 70-years to take over. So the language will be a basic language for this generation, and the new generations will have polytonal aspects added over future generations. So if everyone learns 2 words a day worldwide, within 15 years, the entire world will have a shared language, and a vocabulary of around 11,000 words. The unity of the world language will be thought key to developing the poorest parts of the world. And it should be thought a thing of almost no cost.

UR'22. CHANGES

1/ All UM member nations must adopt both this UM Constitution and the national constitution attached to it as written. They may also change the optional portions of the national constitution from the options, but nothing else at first. Later, after a year, the various member nations may make changes to the national constitution as allowed therein. This is because it is far easier to first form as a world government, with standardized national constitutions, and then later make changes, than the other way around.

2/ Subsequently, all international agreements and treaties shall be regarded as Chinese contracts, meaning that the parties can withdraw at any time, and for any reason from any part of all agreements. This shall be seen as an important part of disempowering internationalism.

UR'23. ANTI-FAMINE MEASURES

1/ The decision when and how to begin stockpiling ice age food supplies shall be made by the UM. No nation and no person shall be allowed a head start. This shall be considered food hoarding.

2/ If there are food shortages, there shall be a temporary 300% allocative sales tax on grain-fed meat, and grain fed milk and grain-fed milk products.

3/ If there are food shortages, and people are going hungry, there shall be a temporary tax on pet food of up to 500%, or more. This may be calculated based the pet's weight and it may be due annually in advance.

4/ If there are food shortages due to hoarding, the correct response is for all nations of the world to guarantee a high price for grain that is twice recent prices for one, two, three, or four years out. This way people will be assured that their investments will be paid back.

5/ Those convicted of personal food hoarding must pay a 50-fold fine for food hoarding. Their government Social media pages shall also display that they were convicted of food hoarding. Those convicted of mass hoarding with intent to resell shall also be subject to prison in addition to the normal fines. Hoarded profiteer goods may also be confiscated or nationalized.

6/ If the UM has not declared a global food crisis, then the provisions of this Rule 24 may be ignored.

7/ All around the world, the UM shall feed all the poor, so long as their nation and their community obeys the UM with regard to the UM's reasonable worldwide breeding maximums.

8/ The UM shall consider there to be 3 levels of food stability with regard to nations:

a/ First, there is land that can produce enough food. This land shall be called grade A.

b/ Then there's land that can almost produce almost enough food. This land shall be called grade B.

c/ Then there's land that can produce enough income, but not enough food. This land shall be called grade C.

d/ Then there's land that can neither produce enough food nor enough of anything else.

x/ We shall max out grade A and grade B lands. We shall help the grade C land make it through droughts and food crisis-es. And we shall move all of the Grade D lands to other places.

9/ Having a system for small farmers to share large scale farm equipment goes in exactly the right direction for the continued health of the world economy. It furthers our goals of having highly automated farming, while at the same time we drive away from farm and agricultural consolidation. Under this sort of system, the national government or the international government floats bonds to buy farm equipment that it leases to the communities so they can increase their agricultural output. Maybe we call these agricultural development bonds, and they also fund standardized grain silos, and standardized butchering facilities.

10/ There shall be three levels of farmland:

a/ Land that can produce enough food.

b/ Land that can almost produce almost enough food.

c/ Land that can produce enough income, but not enough food.

d/ Land that can not produce enough food but it can still produce some food.

e/ Land that is useless for producing food.

11/ Where things are handed out to many people such as aid goods, everyone gets one, before anybody gets 2. This is the law, and the bigger the crisis, the more it needs to be enforced. Children go first with their mothers and fathers.

Everyone worldwide should learn this and other similar ways of doing things as children repeatedly in school.

12/ There are many parts of our world that live in places that cannot produce enough food and the people in these places suffer famines as a result. Also, in the past, these people had to import food. And because they always had to spend money on food, they were always desperate for money. So they were sort of always dominated by the traders. The UN shall now offer anti-famine guarantees to every nation that obeys the reasonable population rules established herein for poor overpopulating nations and areas. This not only help's stop overpopulation, but it also is a big inoculation to the power of Ishtar, because no longer does Ishtar have the cudgel (staff/ billy-club) of life to lord it over people with. But instead people need not fear starving anywhere. So everyone gets food-protected by the rich nations of the world and Ishtar loses a very important source of power.

13/ We obviously don't want PU nations to run our currencies. Instead, lets make the PU use our currencies which we will run and profit from ourselves. So from now on, only dollars, Euros, Yen and Yuan will circulate in the PU.

UR'24. NATIONAL SECURITY & SECRECY

1/ The path of light and truth is where each nation can see how its neighbors are arming themselves. The path of darkness is where the nations of the world are in the dark here with this critical matter of everyone's national security. Also, with darkness, the herd is more easily driven by phantom menaces into courses it might not take in the light. So it is important that the nations of the world all allow weapons and weapons lab inspections and live in light and truth.

2/ One of the UM Senate's duties is to inspect possible illegal weapons sites. To this end, there shall be a list of sites to be visited that come from random generation, as well as complaints and tips. Then Senators draw assignment numbers randomly. A large number of Senators work in parallel at each inspection site. The inspecting Senators shall be a mix from all over the world. These may track their locations, but they are not supposed to share information about what they saw on their inspection duties outside of the UM Senate. Senators found to have shared this information may be stripped of their high Senate status. It is important that all Senators understand the importance of secrecy for arms inspections, because this secrecy is key to the inspection process working properly and war being significantly deterred.

3/ All UM Senators on official UM duty shall have absolute and total immunity from county and national prosecution. Also, with a single majority vote of any UM sluice, the UM shall may extend this protection to the non-Senators gathering useful information for the Senate. Furthermore, this protection may be granted at any time, even after a conviction, thus amounting to a UM pardon.

4/ National security and private property rights shall not apply for recordings of:

a/ Unfenced facilities, including transport terminals. and private property open to the public.

b/ Businesses open to the public.
 c/ Jails and prison conditions.
 d/ Border zones.
 e/ Assemblies and demonstrations, and when people speak before a crowd.
 f/ Police arrests and police activities in public places.
 All of the above may be freely recorded without fear of prosecution for sharing state secrets, or violating someone's property rights.
5/ The following things shall never be considered national secrets. No member nation may consider any of the following a national secret and remain in the UM:
 a/ Information about law breaking by those in government or fictional citizens and their workers.
 b/ Information about poor government judgement, failed policy, or information that makes leaders look incompetent or dishonest.
 c/ Information about corruption, un-explained wealth, lifestyle, or sexual favors given to government people.
 d/ Information about using public money to overpay for goods or services. Information about using public money and receiving substandard goods or services.
 e/ Information related to tax revenue and public spending.
 f/ Information about arrests of journalists, influencers, or politically active people. Also the rules of judicial privacy shall be considered unimportant with regard to the arrest of these people. When journalists are arrested for what they say, it is always news.
 g/ Information about suspected human rights violations.
 h/ Information about past, present, and future wars.
 i/ Information about extrajudicial harm by government or other groups.
 j/ The prosecution's case and trial records in all criminal trials that does not involve genuine national secrets.
 k/ The prison sentences, and locations of everyone that is incarcerated.
 l/ Information on the number of convicts and their various sentences.
 m/ Information about past trials, except those involving rape or torture.
 n/ Industrial and commercial output information, except during a war.
6/ Those who share information about people in the public's witness protection program may be considered co-conspirators if their sharing contributed to the harm of a protected witness. It may also be considered espionage to gather information about protected witnesses and whistleblowers.
7/ The UM shall prepare a list of what military and national defense subjects may and may not be secret for the nations of the world.
8/ Senate orientation shall include a module on secrecy.

UR'25. WAR AND MILITARY FORCE

1/ Ending war is head and shoulders the #1 most important reason for the creation of World government. And widespread citizen firearm ownership is known to be the single best way to prevent war, be it invasions, infiltrations or domestic tyranny. Therefore, the UM shall be required to support civilian gun ownership for all of its member nations. The UM shall be prohibited in minimizing the number of guns in any member nation.

2/ All UM and national government people that talk about, let alone propose gun round ups, all of these people must be immediately expelled from the Senate and the UM.
3/ Conquest, empire, territorial expansion, occupation and long-term peace keeping are inconsistent with the UM's principals. No UM member nation may undertake any such war and remain in the UM.
4/ Any use of any member nation's military in a foreign action lasting more than 90 days shall be conclusively considered an occupation or a war, and as such, inconsistent with UM principles.
5/ No member nation shall ever be neutral to ill-defined future events. All member nations shall always have the right to respond reasonably to military force from enemy nations and subnational groups as they see fit. All member nations should heed the words of Thomas Jefferson: "Commerce with all nations, alliance with none."
6/ No UM member nation shall be allowed to permanently garrison troops in any part of the PU and thus stimulate the local economy for this encourages provocation terrorism.
7/ The UM shall not authorize any sort of temporary peacekeeping operation unless the measure gets a majority in 6 of 7 voting blocks. The UM shall not authorize any sort of military operation unless the measure gets a majority vote in 7 of 7 voting blocks.
8/ It is wiser for free nations to develop weapons that are more defensive than offensive in nature. This way, when others are eventually able to copy our weapons, the world will be safer rather than more dangerous.
9/ When a government intentionally places civilians in harm's way, or locates military targets near civilians to deter foreign attackers, it shall be considered to be the cause of all injuries to those people. Human shields, no many how many, intentionally placed in harms way, shall not be a consideration in any government's decision to launch an attack. To do otherwise is to help this evil practice to live on. Also, it should be noted that this practice becomes much more difficult when the shielding civilians are armed.
10/ Where armed groups are preying on unarmed poor substance peoples such as in Darfur, the UM shall arm the victims with special bolt-action rifles that will only fit special-shaped bullets. Then we give away registered bullets tied to individual fingerprints. This sort of firearm is useful for civil defense, but it is problematic for poaching and crime.
11/ Where the UM arms the locals, it shall also frequently offer air support where practical.
12/ We are still skeptical that the world has seen the end of war and tyranny. And we think that free men must take precautions against the rise of tyrants. We hold that invading armies are the #1 cause of war, and well-armed citizen militias are the #1 way to stop them.
13/ All arms control treaties involving UM member nations shall automatically be subject to UM verification in addition to verification by the nations involved.
14/ Any use, display, or threat of military force or equipment against a nation's own people shall be considered the capital crime of democide for both commanders and ordinary soldiers. If there are ever tanks or machine guns in the Tiananmen squares of the world, the military shall pay. Police and militia (national guard) shall be the sole method of suppressing rioting and disorganized violent uprising.

15/ All armed forces shall be designated as either military or militia but not both.

16/ Nations shall settle their disputes by submitting them to the UM for binding adjudication. After this, the winning side can expect military support from the UM if necessary, and the losing side can expect sanctions if necessary.

17/ All forms of compensatory war reparations shall be prohibited as this favors both war and parasitic war mongering. All punitive war reparations, if any shall be paid to the UM.

18/ An attack against one UM member nations may be considered an attack against all UM member nations.

19/ In order to reduce the possibility of the world government being hijacked by the forces of tyranny, the UM shall not be allowed to have its own military force, police force, riot police, magistrates, or any arm with any military or police power. Also, the UM shall only have jurisdiction in international matters such as trade, international relations, international war, and infestations of monarchy and oligarchy.

20/ In order to reduce the possibility of an erosion of national powers in favor of UM powers, the UM shall be prohibited from doing the following on the territory of member nations:

a/ Establishing temporary zones, areas of UM administration or jurisdiction in the various member nations.

b/ Establishing additional UM military bases other than those called for herein.

c/ Establishing any special international territory except as part of the international rail and commerce system as called for herein. Also, any territorial additions to the UM's territory must be agreed to by the Sub-Senate of the nation giving up the territory to the UM.

d/ Stationing any police force or military acting in a policing role. Under this Constitution, policing is mostly a local function, seldom a national function, and never an international function, except in relation to population control enforcement and with regard to securing the UM's trade movement lines.

21/ The UM shall never have its own corrupt force of "Federales". There shall be no UM police force, or rapid response military team, or SS, or secret police, or Gestapo, or department of intelligence. All geo-political military, intelligence and spying shall stop at the national level.

22/ Except with regard to population controls, no UM workers or Senators (to include all police, soldiers, judges, and government officials) shall ever have any power to direct the people of any nation. UM staff shall have no power over local people except with self defense actions against violent attackers and large angry mobs. Even UM Senators shall have no power over anyone as individuals or as a group of less than 2,000 randomly drawn Senator jurors in a UM Senate jury.

23/ Except with regard to population controls, the UM shall not have the power to enforce its own laws in member nations. The UM may expel and fine member nations, but it shall never have any enforcement apparatus itself, except in regard to the important specialty of population control.

24/ The moment any UM body is thought to be corrupt or inept, everyone shall be fired and the system shall be re-staffed from the ground up with people in no way connected with the prior leadership.

25/ The UM shall not have any direct relations with any county government except relating to the details of building out UM infrastructure projects.

26/ The UM shall not have the right to contravene any national right for any reason.

27/ UM people documented as grasping beyond their powers as stated herein may be considered as democides.

28/ There should be no more wars over scarce resources that are not actually scarce at all. We shall all remember how the bugaboo of scarce resources was a main excuse for the military expansion of both Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan in World War Two.

29/ Healthcare workers in war shall wear white with a big red cross front and back. Press in war shall wear day-glow traffic orange that says press front and back. Women children, and old people and other non-combatants should wear day-glow yellow traffic vests

30/ Fictional citizens cooperating with the sending or mailing of war plunder of captives from a war zone may be shut down and their assets seized worldwide. All packages and all soldiers coming from a war zone shall be inspected by the UM for plunder.

31/ In all refugee situations, the UM shall register all refugees and give each a tracking and emergency phone for their safety. Each phone shall come with 180 days of free internet access worldwide. These phones shall log their location every 10 minutes and send the data to the person's account with the UM refugee monitoring division.

Refugees may also email photos of license plates and people to their protection account. Refugees may also call their UM case worker via internet phone. The UM shall also verify the ID of people transporting refugees away from war and disaster zones and issue these numbers that link to the UM's driver ID web page.

32/ All grants of refugee status shall be considered specific to the people of the one nation granted refuge. Where nation-A produces refugees, and nation B takes them in, the people from all other nations shall not have the right to seek long-term refuge in nation-B. This includes all guests and even immigrants previously granted citizenship in nation A. Instead all such 3rd nation immigrants shall be expected to go back to where they came from, or find somewhere else to go.

33/ In war, life saving treatment shall be provided to the enemy after life saving treatment is provided to one's own forces, but before treatment for non-life threatening injuries is provided to one's own forces. Nobody on either side should ever be punished for giving life-saving aid to the enemy.

34/ The destruction of unmanned drones shall not be considered an act of war, however attacks on people and property using unmanned drones shall be considered an act of war.

35/ No member nations shall wage war on any other member nation because of a debt, or because of stolen money, or because a river changed course. The only consequence shall be not to invest more money in the future. Furthermore, creditor nation's should not have any right to make any demands on debtor nations. Also, there shall be no wars without an identifiable enemy.

36/ There shall be no taking of children for soldiers under age 18, no raping of people caught in a war, and certainly no massacres or beatings of captured people. Those who do these things should be killed, by their victims, or by others, and killed painfully if practical.

37/ Everyone involved in a war shall be required to carry a GPS tracker without any transmission capability, except when the device is to be plugged in and backed up. These logs may be demanded as an alibi for war captives that happen to be accused of war crimes.

38/ Nobody in any military force shall be allowed to fire on their comrades for surrendering.

39/ Wise men always look for an opportunity to have a ceasefire, to get everyone involved in a war to cool-off for a while.

40/ No nation shall have any anti-retreat or anti-surrender units threatening to shoot fighters for fleeing combat in either direction.

41/ Where one side of a war routinely ignores the international rules of war, the other side shall not be bound to abide by these rules.

42/ Rounding people up off the streets to fight in war shall not be allowed. All military conscription must be by birthday lottery. Where it is not, the people shall have the right to shoot or otherwise kill the conscription officers. There shall be no penalty for killing a military conscription officers involved in non-birthday lottery conscriptions. Also all non-birthday lottery conscription officers are also supposed to be executed after the war is over. Wise men shun the idea of the mysteriously chosen conscriptions in war. For acmecide is a powerful reason for foreign adversaries to have a war. Also, the penalty for killing any sort of military conscription officers under any circumstances and by any means shall not exceed 5-years in lockup.

43/ There shall be no conscription of women to fight in war, ever. This however shall not include either type of transexual. Both sorts of transexuals shall be conscripted by birthday along with all men. When heterosexual women are conscripted to fight in war, it shall be considered genocide.

44/ Where there is a military draft, it shall first call up the men over age 25 without children. Then it goes through all the birthdays and then the draft calls up all those over age 25 with only one child, and then fathers that only have two kids, and so forth.

45/ Cannibalism in all forms, including the drinking of human blood, shall be a capital offense worldwide. In the parts of the world, where witch-doctors and others commonly perform human sacrifice, the UM shall conduct video sting operations to find the perpetrators and eliminate them. Also, there shall be no cannibalism or human sacrifice media allowed anywhere.

46/ Member nations shall be allowed to use airstrikes, automatic fire, and cluster munitions against invading hoards.

47/ The military shall be required to publish daily numbers for the number of dead, amputated limbs, severe head injuries, and other injuries each day.

48/ The UM shall keep redundant data on crimes in the various member states, with victims and witnesses reporting.

49/ To reduce crime, we shall say that everyone in the 10 most murderous nations in the UM must carry a location tracker.

50/ The penalty for buying and selling people including especially women for sex and marriage, and children, and abducting people for this purpose, and child traffickers shall be death. This shadow form of slavery shall be punished by death. Those who engage in Shanghai slavery, and plantation corporation slavery, slave factories, and slave mines shall all die in the flames, toes first. Also, some of the other forms of slavers may also be given this punishment, as shall all serial killers. The UM shall always have resources for ending slavery and shadow slavery worldwide.

51/ The primary reason for the creation of the old corrupt UN was to prevent war. Therefore, we shall long ponder how there was no UN anti-war agency dedicated to stopping war. Instead of this situation, the new UM shall have a number of anti-war departments under the various UM sluices. When the UM elects that nations seem to be coming to war, it may organize a variety of ad hoc committees/departments for that war, or invasion threat:

a/ A committee of lending UM arms to the oppressed and disarmed.

b/ A committee of border dispute resolution.

c/ A committee of war for profit, and preventing this.

d/ A committee of eliminating Ishtarian influence.

e/ A committee of resource price manipulation under the name of war.

f/ A committee on human trafficking under cover of war.

52/ It shall not be allowed for military forces to execute deserters.

53/ The UM shall have greatly reduced sympathy for belligerents and attackers, and even less for those who attack and kidnap and ransom.

54/ Where combatants and terrorists live among people who consider them heroes, or they host them, or give aid to them, these other people can easily be considered as part of the terrorist army, especially when they choose to live among them in the same building, no matter how big. Everyone should know better than to have combatants and terrorists living in big buildings with many people in them. If your nation wants to be stupid in this way, they you shall wear your own deaths that your people caused through willful neglect of reasonable and just international custom.

55/ Those who attack and then try to be the victim shall get punished triple.

56/ The UM shall establish minimum standardized police and judicial system rules for the world.

57/ All member nations with a murder rate over 1 per 100,000 shall be required to do the following if they want to remain in the UM:

a/ Execute all people convicted of murder-1 and murder-2.

b/ Have life sentences for attempted murder, armed robbery, car jacking, kidnapping, and serial rape.

58/ It shall be considered a war crime to distribute amphetamines and other drugs to soldiers, as the Nazis did.

59/ When dealing with war captives and armed terrorist captives from areas and races and that frequently take hostages in order to get their jailed comrades released from captivity for their violent terrorist felonies, logic dictates that those jailed people be promptly tried and executed so that they cannot be the subject of more violence in support of prisoner exchanges.

60/ When people who speak the same language have a war, it shall be regarded as a civil war by default.

UR'26. BANNED WEAPONS & ARMS TRADE

1/ The development, production, stockpiling and transfer of chemical weapons including poison gases shall be prohibited in warfare as described in the 1993 Chemical Weapons Convention.

2/ Bioweapons shall be prohibited in warfare. The term gain of function research shall be seen as a doublespeak term for bioweapons research. Gain of function research on actual pathogens and their components shall be prohibited worldwide because:

a/ There is too much danger that the new manmade pathogen might get out.

b/ This is indistinguishable from bioweapons development. And this Constitution stands firmly opposed to bioweapons development.

3/ There shall be no ethnic bioweapon development due to the outbreak hazard. Also, everyone in any way involved in this sort of genocidal research, including its funding shall be subject to death by torturous execution.

4/ The UM shall spend a great amount of time checking to make sure that no: banned chemical weapons, biological agents, radiological weapons, or nuclear materials are either made or trafficked anywhere on earth. Also that the world's pesticide factories are not making illegal chemical weapons.

5/ The development, manufacture and use of autonomous human killing machines and human killing robots/drones shall be prohibited and considered similar to development of chemical and bioweapons.

6/ Mines shall only be allowed under these circumstances:

a/ Where they are under remote control and used against invasion vehicles, as in Ukraine recently.

b/ Where they are used as part of a nation's border barriers. However all minefields fully-enclosed and fully-fenced, with no doors, and clearly marked as a minefield.

7/ Poison bullets shall be prohibited, especially those with a biological agent as the toxin.

8/ Tumbling bullets shall be prohibited in civilian firearms because they ricochet more and cause more collateral harm.

9/ Cluster bombs or bombs containing other sub explosives shall be prohibited due to the unexploded ordinance problem. This does not apply to devices that use and explosive to propel another charge though armor.

10/ Phosphorous or other similar chemical burning materials because they are barbaric.

11/ Blinding lasers shall be prohibited.

12/ Non-detectable fragments shall be prohibited.

13/ Weapons classified as more defensive than offensive may be shipped between nations without UM notification. Weapons and weapon kits classified as mostly offensive shall not be sent between nations without documenting the sale to the UM. The UM shall encourage defensive weapons, while it shall at the same time discourage offensive weapons systems. This is done to slope the world against warfare on a volcanically active planet.

14/ Chemical defoliants shall be prohibited in warfare.

15/ It shall be thought a major flaw in the Geneva convention is that it does not favor defenders over aggressive invaders. The treatment of these two groups should be as different as practical. Also, favoring defenders over invaders, and defensive weapons system over offensive weapons systems shall be regarded as one of the easiest ways to reduce war.

16/ The Geneva convention shall not apply to people who use drones, robots, booby traps, and unmarked minefields to kill people whether these are directed by humans or autonomous. The Geneva convention shall also not apply to those who kill and rape and torture non-combatants and captives, or those to who use chemical or bio-weapons. It shall be thought the duty of all good men to treat these barbarians with the barbarity they deserve before they are justly killed.

17/ The Geneva convention shall not apply to:

a/ To pirates and brigands, and Islamic raiders, and Islamic extremists.

b/ To hostage takers.

c/ To Mercenaries.

d/ Where the other side abandon's the Geneva convention.

18/ All military personal in all member nations must watch the UM's 4-hour video course on war crimes and the Geneva convention. They must also watch the UM 1-hour course on what sorts of commands are illegal. They must also watch the 1- hour UM video on military dictatorships and the military.

UR'27. MOBILIZATION RATIO

1/ The mobilization ratio, the ratio of people in the military of no member nation shall exceed 1:350 except in time of war or preparation for war.

On 2026.01.01, this ratio shall be lowered to 1:370.

On 2031.01.01, this ratio shall become 1:390, and so forth until the appropriate size is reached. Militia forces shall not be considered military, and militia forces are supposed to be on the order of 1 in ten or or 1 in thirty people. And all nations must allow reasonable verification.

2/ In all member nations there shall be a castle doctrine, and this especially with regard to foreigners forcing their way into our homes and other properties we own as individuals or groups. Where this happens, the people have the right to kill those attempting to take over their homes. And it is only the efforts of Islam and Ishtar that say anything else. This to support the next invasion of their Barbarian hordes.

UR'28. WAR CRIMES AND HUMAN RIGHTS

1/ Genocide shall be defined as the deliberate mass killing of a large group of people, especially those of a particular nation, ethnic, or religion. Acmeicide shall be defined as the deliberate killing of the best people in a society. The first priority of every bloody revolution on behalf of a parasitic master race is acmeicide, the killing the smartest. The next priority of every bloody revolution is to kill the next smartest.

The third priority is to hide what the killing was really for.

2/ We shall long ponder the words of Herodotus 5.92 (hero de todos): "Thrasylbulus invited the [messenger] to walk with him from the city to a field where corn was growing. As he passed through the cornfield, continually asking questions about why the messenger had come to him from Corinth, he kept cutting off all the tallest and best stalks of corn which he could see, and throwing them away, until the finest and best-grown [aristo] part of the crop [generation] was ruined." We shall also long ponder the words of Exhodos, where the god of the Judaeans took all the first born (best born) children of their flock so nobody would understand what happened. Also, everyone should be aware of two other things related to Herodotus.

3/ We shall all consider acmecide a real thing. We shall also consider acmecide the main reason for parasites to have programs/pogroms and genocides.

4/ To keep war from ever being used as a means of purging a society of its best (acmecide), we shall require that all drafting/conscription of men shall be by birthday (1/365) We shall also give the people broad rights to fire on those trying to conscript a man with a birthdate that was not yet drawn. We must all have this as a protection against acmecide.

5/ To keep war from ever being used as a means of wearing down a race's population, we shall say that childless men over age 20 shall be drafted first. All of these childless guys shall get drafted before the men with at least 1 child. Then it shall be the ones with 2 children. Many men will sensibly choose to have more children than to get drafted.

6/ Only after all of the child-less men have been called up shall the fathers of one be called up. Then the fathers of only two kids. For the purposes of avoiding conscription, pregnancy and early birth shall not count. There must be a biological offspring that is at least 7 months of apparent fetal age (inside or out of the womb) to count. We do this to our customs worldwide, not for fairness, although it is more fair. We do this so that endless war will never wear any nation away. It will do the opposite, so everyone warring to wear (same word) another nation away will get no fruit from this type of sub-lineal attack.

7/ Confirmed Senators and full Ubiqs shall be exempt from compulsory military service for life.

8/ We should all ponder that the #1 reason for the creation of the world government called United Nations was to prevent war and genocide. This is history. This is fact. Now either Mankind simply forgot to have a high-priority, above the rest, Anti-war agency at the UN, or the UN is profoundly corrupt and it has been corrupted by people who are still angling for more profitable war around the planet. Why wasn't there a department at the UN focusing only on stopping war, the main reason for the formation of the UN in the first place? No. The #1 most important function of the UM, the reason the UN/UM was created in the first place shall be thought to be to prevent war and prevent war's precursor: parasite-fronting tyranny. So the #1 department at the UM should be an Anti-War Department. This has a number of sub-departments.

a/ Stopping existing violent conflicts.

b/ Stopping or cancelling-out pro-war propaganda.

c/ Educating the people of the world about war.

d/ Supporting nations in their efforts to be defensively armed, and having standby containers full of defensive arms to send to those who are attacked.

e/ Preventing nations, fictional citizens, and individuals from making money from war, or making money from continued fighting.

f/ Enforcing UM rules on military conscription.

g/ Assuring weaponry conforms to UM standards.

9/ The UM anti-war department shall also report on all past war casualties, war crimes, war damage, and genocides for all nations of the world, present and past. These shall be described with as much accuracy as is practical. And particularly this with regard to the progress of the death tolls over time after the conflict ended.

10/ It shall be seen by all that the killing and torture of prisoners, rape, plunder, vandalism, and scorched earth tactics act to ramp up the destructive spirits of war and frequently cause more seasons of combat. Therefore, these abusive practices shall be prohibited, and the UM may elect to punish those engaging in them. The exception to the preceding rule is that those who suffer invasion, shall be free to scorch their own earth, and blow up their own bridges while they are in retreat.

11/ If one side of a war is using abusive tactics and the other is not, the UM may elect to come to the aid of the side suffering from the abusive tactics simply because it is suffering abusive tactics.

12/ If one side of a war commonly attacks while pretending surrender, such as with the Japanese during WW2, there shall be no obligation on the part of the capturing side to spare the lives of the people trying to surrender. Also, if one of the surrendering side fires of the capturing side before the prisoners are disarmed and their hands bound, the loose prisoners may be shot by the capturing side.

13/ Few things help keep a war going like shooting or worse, torturing the people who surrender. Who is going to surrender when this practice is widespread? No. shooting and torturing people who surrender with their hands up is the way of Ishtar.

14/ All soldiers deployed in foreign lands shall be searched and scanned for war loot upon their departure from the combat zone. Foreigner soldiers returning to nations they fought in may be treated as murderers by that nation, especially if they are trying to remove valuables from the nation.

15/ Except in war zones, we shall be biased in favor of local defenders and against travelers with arms. The war crimes rules for civilian defenders shall be much more lenient than those for military. The war crimes rules for invading forces shall be much more strict than those for defending forces.

16/ All of the war crimes rules shall now be reconsidered.

17/ There shall be no obligation on the part of civilian defenders to care for, house, or feed wounded enemy military invaders. If the invaders are extremely brutal with the defenders, then the defenders may have the right to be brutal once they get the upper hand.

18/ Invading forces shall have no war crimes protections from the other side when they:

a/ Target peaceful civilian communities or peaceful civilians for bombing, shelling, or shooting.

c/ Engage in widespread rape, beating, kidnaping and especially murder of civilians.

d/ Kill their prisoners.

e/ Abduct children for use as child soldiers, or are found leading children in war.

19/ It is one thing to have people running around with guns shooting each other in war, and it is a whole other level of destruction when massive air drop bombs, missiles, and artillery blow up buildings or spray shrapnel all over the place. So from now on, we will have it that only Senates may elect bombing targets and this authority can never be delegated. Wherever the Senate is not ordering bombings, that nation shall be considered a tyranny. And everyone involved with target selection and execution of such non-democratic bombing or threat of bombing may be considered a terrorist even though they may be in the nation's military or government.

20/ The offensive use of bombs in war is too much of a power to leave in the hands of military appointees except according to carefully drafted Senate rules for defensive response.

21/ In war and epidemic, and any time so many people die that it is impossible to carefully check all the bodies for the cause of death, it shall not be allowed to cremate the bodies. Cremation allows evil people to hide both the cause of death and death count. When we combine cremations with refugee situations, we have a situation that gives rise to the worst sorts of genocidal war purges and human trafficking. Therefore, everyone involved in cremation of bodies in situations where great numbers die shall be considered guilty of genocide, and shall be subject to the death penalty. Furthermore great investigative heat shall always be applied in cases of war cremation.

22/ The UM stands opposed to all forms of slavery. This includes the following, and none shall be allowed in any UM member nation:

a/ Totalitarian government.

b/ Monarchy.

c/ Forced labor, debt bondage, or bonded labor.

d/ Descent based slavery and castes.

e/ Personal debts that get passed on to the descendants of the debtors.

f/ Loans for more than 21 years. (These shall be void on day one of the 22rd year.)

g/ War conscription slavery and war captive slavery.

h/ Early marriage, forced marriage, and marriage slavery.

i/ Sex cell slavery, harem-slavery, and genital mutilation, and brothels.

j/ Child marriage, dowry, or brideprice.

k/ Human trafficking, or shanghaiing.

l/ Forced labor of pows.

m/ No forced labor in war, or war reparations.

n/ No hide job clothing.

o/ No limits on women's education.

p/ No ban on women appearing in the media.

q/ No wife beating, or beating of children other than spankings

23/ No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any private residence without the consent of the owner of the house, nor in time of war, but in the manner prescribed by law.

24/ Prisoners of war shall not be marched around as punishment, or paraded in front of hostile people.

25/ We shall all be aware of how the term ethnic cleansing has been so carefully blended and merged with genocide and rape. This is because the agenda of Ishtar desperately needs the host part of the world to never even think about deporting its latest batch of offensive Muslim invaders. The term and concept of ethnic cleansing shall not apply where late-comer Muslims are driven out in response to Islamic terrorism, or knifings, rapes, warring, arson, sabotage, or similar things.

26/ Muslims acquire no right to live in a land by living there for some time. As long as they remain Muslim, they acquire no rights. It is only by cleaving against Islam that they may acquire occupancy rights and protections against deportation.

27/ The poorest half of the world's nations shall always be required to accept all war refugees at all times. Poor nations that don't take in refugees cannot remain in the UM. It shall be thought that the poorest nations (in the bottom half of the global economy as measured in per capita GDP)— It shall be thought that these poor nations are a more ideal place to send refugees for the following reasons:

a/ There are no mixed motivations on the part of the refugees when the problem in their home nation ends. Where refugees settle in poor nations, most will go back as soon as practical. However, where they settle in the richest and most desirable nations, they frequently fight to stay.

b/ Where refugees get to settle in the richest nations, this shall be seen as a thing that helps cause and increase war.

28/ From now on, it shall be considered a war crime for people in member nation and non-member nations to deport people into a meat-grinder war situation. This shall also apply to ordinary police and station police officers arresting people and keeping them in custody, where the deportee committed no other crime.

29/ Various clauses of the Geneva Convention point like a compass to the true author of this document. In particular, we note how the Geneva Convention:

a/ Bans attacks on water infrastructure.

b/ Bans attacks on religious buildings.

c/ Gives captives the right to practice their religion while a captive.

x/ Therefore, the old Geneva convention, like the old UN shall be thought a thing that was heavily modified by Ishtar to help further its cause, and its way of fighting wars.

30/ Where one side in a war does any of the following, it may void their right to favorable treatment under the Geneva Convention and international war laws. Then the captives shall be subject to summary execution and torture. The list includes:

a/ Taking large numbers of hostages.

b/ Raping many people.

c/ Massacres of civilians.

d/ Widespread torture of captives.

e/ Widespread fake surrenders.

f/ Hiding in hospitals, schools or civilian bomb shelters.

g/ Being found with war spoils.

h/ Killing of people who are clearly trying to surrender or have surrendered.

i/ Using paid mercenaries.

x/ Using terrorism, or having a long history of using suicide bombers, or car-bombs, or generally considered to harbor or encourage terrorists in recent decades.

31/ Iran's horrendous religious police, and all its new Savak police forces shall all be executed. In the future, torture shall be used on all abusive secrete police forces and all tyrannical leadership worldwide when their tyranny is deposed.

32/ Where hospitals and schools are used as military bases, or weapons storage facilities, human shield location, or for other war purposes, they shall not be protected, but shall be legitimate war targets. The side doing this shall be thought the lowest terrorist scum and it shall be treated as violating the Geneva convention.

33/ Where one side in a war is a religious dictatorship, there shall be no prohibition on destroying that side's holy places, no matter how old or historical they are.

34/ The Red Crescent organization shall no longer be recognized as a humanitarian organization, and it shall no longer be seen as analogous to the Red Cross. Instead the Red Crescent, (which is named for the fake peace of Islam, peace if you submit as a slave to Islam), this shall be seen as the opposite of the Red Cross and terrorism-friendly. All who wear the crescent moon symbol shall be considered enemy combatants, just as if they wore a red swastika, Those who wear the hated crescent symbol shall get no protection at all from our forces.

35/ All Seriously ill and seriously wounded POWs must be repatriated as soon as this is practical.

36/ For all wars and other crisis situations, the UM shall maintain a number of websites for displaced, separated people, and orphaned children, with verification of names pictures and locations.

37/ The Geneva convention prohibitions on the following shall no longer be applicable and valid. We shall no longer abide by the Geneva convention prohibitions on:

a/ Quarter for pirates and brigands (land pirates), or prohibition on torturing pirates. Shipwrecked and captured pirates may be burned alive, or handcuffed pulled behind a ship as shark bait.

b/ The destruction of religious buildings, water facilities, dams and dykes.

38/ As an impediment to tyranny, the UM shall track the police ratio of all the nations and counties of the world. The UM shall also establish maximum police to civilian ratios for member nations.

39/ We shall remember the words of Johnson Olony Thabo, And how he ordered his soldiers to kill everyone and everything: "Do not spare anyone or anything. Kill the old people, kill the children, kill all the animals even chickens, goats, and cows." Where the UM finds leaders talking in this way, or threatening genocide, or calling for genocide, these leaders are supposed to be eliminated by the UM.

40/ We shall remember the words of Curtis LeMay: "All war is immoral and if you let that bother you, you're not a good soldier.

41/ We shall remember the words of Winston Churchill: "A prisoner of war is a man who tries to kill you and fails, and then asks you not to kill him.

42/ We shall remember the words of George S Patton: "Prisoner of war guard companies... must be as far forward as possible in action to [quickly] take over prisoners of war. Because, troops heated with battle are not safe custodians. [Also] any attempt to rob or loot prisoners of war by escorts must be dealt with strictly [and punished].

UR'29. COLLECTIVE PUNISHMENT

1/ The UM and its member nations shall not be prohibited from using collective-punishment military attacks on nations, ethnic groups, and PU provinces committing, condoning, or supporting genocide, acmecide, state sponsored terrorism, sphinx piracy, or killing great numbers of people in acts of terrorism or in military attacks. Also where terrorist groups are widely supported and hiding among civilians. All collective punishment attacks shall first include military targets, arms-related factories, ports, airports, electric infrastructure, communication infrastructure, manufacturing facilities, and the offices and homes of the political and economic leadership (in no particular order). If a PU province is run as a theocracy, the attacks may also include important religious buildings and the homes and offices of religious leaders. With regard to collective punishment against legal foreign migrants originally from a particular nation, each nation shall be free to deport these, but not to jail or imprison, or harm these. However, this shall not apply to people under investigation, or celebrities or people in positions of power.

2/ Wherever collective punishment is used, the people involved need to make sure that they hitting the right group.

3/ Where there are militant groups from a place, such as Hamas and the Gaza, it shall be a worldwide official Government policy that they shall be considered one and the same regarding attacks on other nations, or the people of other nations, unless there is clear evidence otherwise. Every nation must be skeptical here. Otherwise, if we accept this fantasy, the world becomes a place where nations can employ terrorists for waging wars with no nation apparently behind them. No. this is wrong, and we must always ask: "Which nation benefits from the fighting" and "Who did this to us". There should be no right of a nation to claim that when large numbers of nationals of their nation attacked another nation, that the attacking nation is not to blame.

UR'30. NUCLEAR NON-PROLIFERATION

1/ No UM member nation or its people shall give or trade anything with either Iran or North Korea until that nation musters-up into a broad democracy acceptable to the UM, and completely surrender their nuclear and WMD programs. No food, no medicine.

2/ Upon Mustering up and giving up their nuclear programs, the UM shall give both Iran and North Korea an exemption from the usual and significant international commerce taxes for 6 years, and a half exemption for another 3 years.

3/ If the entire leadership of North Korea and Iran immediately surrenders to US forces they shall be housed in a temporary protected location. Then they shall be housed on Kauai for no charge in stacked flats for as long as they want, or for life. If they fail to surrender immediately, the entire communist party of North Korea and the entire ruling party of Iran shall be considered tyrants under Rule 4.

4/ As soon as North Korea or Iran muster up and institute broad democracies, and surrender all their nuclear and WMD facilities and weapons for destruction, they shall start to get the following daily dole for 6 years for every person over age 14 in their nation:

a/ 250g of frozen beef, pork, or chicken as is their choice.

c/ 200g of ice cream, or 4 portions of liquor.

d/ Each person also gets a new midrange smartphone.

5/ We may also regard Iran, North Korea, and China as the expendable suicide puppets of the Arabs. If any of these nations uses nuclear weapons, the retribution shall include greater Arabia.

6/ In matters of nuclear retribution, Mecca, Medina, and Jerusalem shall suffer retribution first among the other cities in and around the Arabian subcontinent and Islamic Africa.

7/ If a widespread version of world war 3 happens before 2030, regardless of the apparent cause, the non-Ishtarian survivors shall regard the Ishtarian, Mideast, harem-bred, and Semitic people to be the most likely root cause. If the kilo-tonnage of nuclear weapons are exaggerated by a factor of 200 or more, then this UR'30 shall be void.

8/ The United States shall test a particularly clean 100-kiloton airplane dropped nuclear device on the large ice area at the northeast of Laurie island. This device shall explode at 30 meter above the ice. Then we shall measure the ice crater. If nuclear weapons turn out to be fake, or at least 99% fake, then all of the benefits of this UR'30 shall be cut by 2/3 in duration.

UR'31. TERRORISM

1/ Given that it is so hard to define terrorism, the UM Over-Senate may declare any violent act or attempted violent act as terrorism with a 60% overmajority. Nations and groups that repeatedly sprout terrorists shall be ejected from the UM into the PU.

2/ There shall be no insurance for terrorism, piracy, hijacking, sabotage, or disappearances of vessels, and all such insurance shall be void under International law. All such insurance shall be seen as a protection racket.

3/ If there are any acts of Mideast terrorism in the future, the UM shall underwrite the cost of losses resulting from these terrorist events. Then the UM shall cover its costs through extending the Exhod taxation period worldwide.

4/ If any Mideast terrorism occurs after the Exhod taxation period is over, all former Exhods worldwide may be assessed the cost of damages.

5/ Where are terrorist organizations such as Hamas build their facilities inside of refugee camps and hospitals everybody in these places must run away. If they failed to run away. They shall be presumed to be working with the terrorists and they shall get killed along with the terrorists.

UR'32. TYRANNY OVERTHROW

1/ Every month on the first day at 12-noon shall be the most likely time for a rebellion. This way the people of the world can be more synchronized and have a time when their numbers are most powerful. Also the 3rd, 6th, 9th, and 12th month shall be more preferred than the other dates, with the 6th month being the most preferred day of the year for a revolution in defiance of government. This is to make it easier for the Cubans, Iranians, North Koreans, Burmese, and the Canadians to overthrow the tyrannies that lord over them.

2/ Member nations shall not be allowed to use government minders to follow and watch foreigners as they go around in that nation. Wherever we see this, it is a tyrannical government trying to keep outsiders from knowing the truth about their country.

3/ The UM shall not drive any nations economy towards reliance on a small number of industries as this is the way of Ishtar. The UM shall, instead only drive nations towards a diversified industrial base.

4/ Slavery and forced labor shall be prohibited worldwide.

UR'33. MAXIMIZING OUTPUT

1/ All UM member nations shall be required to institute a policy of maximizing output of all non-harmful goods. All member nations shall use output-positive taxation, and never output-negative taxation.

2/ No member nation, or other group shall restrict output, or allow output to be restricted to increase prices. No member nation shall subsidize, or give tax breaks, or pay for non-production, or non-growing of crops, or returning private land to forest, or leaving fields fallow, or closing mines. No member nation shall make laws that take good farmland out of production and use the land for habitat or carbon storage. No member nation shall have cumbersome permissions processes for using farmland or bringing farmland into production.

3/ No member nation shall allow any cartel or monopoly that owns, extracts, refines, processes, distributes, transports or certifies any raw materials. This shall include among other things: petroleum, finished fuels, fuel refining, cement, metals, lumber, fertilizer, water, and various foodstuffs.

4/ If ever there is not enough of some critical raw material to meet demand, or if the price of one raw material is rising faster than all the rest, then the UM may compel the existing suppliers to increase output.

5/ The UM shall be free to impose retroactive wind-fall profit taxes when it elects that the windfall was due to a market manipulation.

6/ The UM shall prepare a comprehensive worldwide catalogue of products, a sort of universal free clone of Alibaba, with every mass produced product in it.

7/ Where practical, we shall farm fresh water fish in our agricultural water to increase output. We shall have both drinking water and agricultural water.

8/ With immediate effect, all text-only SMS messages domestic or international worldwide shall be free on both sides. Within 1-year, we shall entirely prohibit all time-billed and per-call telecom, including:

a/ Domestic and International land line calling.

b/ Roaming charges for voice and data. After this point in time, there shall also be no markup for roaming vs. local telecom services.

9/ Civil defense, disaster preparedness, economic development, and the prevention of Ishtarian schemes (and the war and suffering they cause) demand that Wherever practical, each UM nation and voting block should have its own supply of all key commodities and basic manufactured goods and be self-sufficient with regard to:

a/ Food production

b/ Shipping and transport of imports and exports.

c/ Energy including crude oil, refinery capacity, petroleum, coal, coke, and natural gas.

d/ All important industrial metals, their ores and the mills.

e/ Cement and rebar.

f/ Plastics and fertilizers.

g/ Vehicles, rail lines, roadways and bridges.

h/ Dams and water moving projects.

i/ Skilled healthcare people.

10/ The UM shall classify all industrial equipment as extremely unsafe, unsafe, mildly unsafe, or fine. We shall phase out all the extremely unsafe equipment as fast as we can get new equipment to replace it. Then we shall move on to the definitely unsafe equipment, and then the mildly unsafe equipment. Perhaps we shall do this over the course of 10 years worldwide.

11/ The UM shall spec-out standardized shops to be shared by the people of a community. These shall include shops for areas like: metal fabrication, wood mills, wood working, and kilns.

12/ The UM shall use X prizes to develop and start mass production of Asian style cargo mopeds. Some of these will have a box on one side of the handle bars, and some the other.

UR'34. TRADE AND TARIFFS

1/ The word mono•poli = one•cities in ancient Greek. The word comes from the situation where the international supply of an essential products only comes from one city. Once a few cities specialized like this, then Ishtar in the midst of the seas caused piracy to everyone but their own traders, which they left alone. Then, once this happened, all trade occurred at the Ishtar prices causing fat profits for Ishtar. This parasitism technique shall now be called a divi•monopoly.

2/ The UM shall deter international divi-monopoly by imposing low uniform tariffs on all international trade, with exemptions for certain regions and nations.

3/ All of the money the UM receives from its tariffs on international trade shall be re-invested in global infrastructure, global ubiquitization payments, and development aid for the poorest parts of the world.

4/ UM tariffs may be partly abated in the poorest member nations to foster economic development opportunity.

5/ The UM shall defend the world from the sort of subsidized temporary low pricing that bankrupts all competition in one industry, after another. When the UM elects this sort of predatory pricing is occurring in an industry, it must intervene and alter the tariff landscape to end the predatory pricing and reverse its effects.

6/ The various member nations shall not be required to trade with other nations in the UM. All member nations shall have the right to exclude trade with other nations if they so elect.

7/ UM nations shall not be allowed to own ports or railroads or linear infrastructure, or transport lines or trade infrastructure in other nations.

8/ The UM shall enforce minimum environmental and child labor laws worldwide.

9/ The UM shall classify, all industrial equipment as extremely-unsafe, unsafe, mildly unsafe, or fine. We shall phase out all the extremely unsafe equipment as fast as we can and get new equipment to replace it. Then we shall move on to the definitely unsafe equipment, and then the mildly unsafe equipment. Perhaps we do this over 10 years worldwide.

10/ The definition of free trade is that no nation can make a claim to those goods in transit, or delay, those goods, or hinder or tax the passage of those goods along the way. Free trade means that when goods are shipped from one nation to another, each nation in between only charges the standard per-megameter international towage rates for traveling on its rail system. There is one standard rate for the rich nations and another rate for the poor nations. On the Seas, no nation may interfere with the trade of any other nation unless a state of war exists.

11/ All tariffs are charged based on the assessment of final sale value, not the cost of the thing that is being made. Also, the tariff is charged upon importation and it shall be up the importer to make this back, because there are no refunds of tariffs paid.

12/ Where tariffs from a given nation are over 20%, they shall apply to this all industry of that nation, including factories located in third nations.

13/ It shall not be allowed to import corn or rice or grains to North America except in time of food crisis.

14/ Imported repair parts and batteries shall pay a 60% import duty.

15/ Country of origin rules shall now be expressed in percentages based on each county's contribution to the manufacture cost, and nothing for the mark from manufacture cost to final sale. All countries and all percentages for subcomponents must be accounted for.

UR'35. FOREIGN DEBT

1/ All deals, sales, and purchases by dictators shall not only be invalid, but it shall be presumed that the counter-party claiming ownership rights got those rights through a conspiracy with the dictatorship. Therefore these transactions apart from being invalid are prima facie evidence of an attempted felony defrauding of the people.

2/ Where the people overthrow a corrupt front government, this shall automatically cancel all the foreign debts of the nation and its people. It shall also cancel all of the debt owed to front lenders.

3/ Where national governments borrow money from other nations, their fictional citizens, and from front financiers to fund boondoggle government projects, and later they default for a good and credible reason, claiming that the creditor bribed government officials, the loan may be set aside and invalidated by the court system.

4/ Every nation shall have the sovereign right to use its own currency to repay its international debts. No super-national government, body or fictional citizen (including the UM) body shall ever have any jurisdiction over the repayment of debt, except to rule that the debt need not be repaid.

5/ All member nations, and their citizens real and fictional shall not hold, option, or pledge foreign government debt, or foreign blue-chip company debt, or foreign blue-chip company equity. These may only hold small company equity and debt, and bonds for specific independent public works projects which will not be guaranteed by the nation's government if they fail.

6/ From time to time, nations may want to deflate their currency and cut the price of their labor to increase market share and employment. Each nation shall have the absolute and unlimited right to do this, and this shall be considered in no way relevant to a nation's long-term credit worthiness.

7/ All member nations shall be free to cancel or mark down the debts of their nation at any time. Such is national sovereignty.

8/ Devaluation shall be thought preferable to austerity measures. No nation shall be compelled by foreign debtors to destroy its economy in order to repay its foreign debt including war reparations and other debts owed to either foreign nations or the world government.

9/ All member nations shall be free to discriminate against foreign lenders, and to cancel or mark down the debts owed to foreigners. Such is national sovereignty.

10/ Wherever possible all debts in all nations must be denominated in their national currency and not any foreign currency including the UM currency. No member nation shall ever be required to use the UM currency or to buy the UM currency to repay any debt.

11/ All debt obligations in each member nation shall be payable in that nation's currency. If any debt is denominated in foreign currency, the borrower shall have the inalienable right to elect to repay the debt at either the current exchange rate for that foreign currency, or at the rate that existed on the date the loan was funded.

12/ The Over-Senates of all member nations shall have the right to do any of the following if they so elect. Whatever the national Senate elects, the only recourse of foreign creditors shall be to not lend these nations more money in the future:

a/ Discriminate against foreign owners of their nation's debt and equity.

b/ Default on any or all of the debts of their nation.

c/ Devalue their currencies.

d/ Devalue all of their debts, or only debts owed to people from particular nations.

e/ Set, or reset, or freeze foreign exchange rates and transactions.

f/ Convert any or all financial instruments denominated in foreign currencies to the domestic currency at any rate they wish.

13/ When foreign nations set up infrastructure projects in other nations, and those nations default. The infrastructure project normally gets nationalized, and the prior owners are given some portion of the revenue or value of the infrastructure.

14/ In general, all loans from one country to another, or from one country's largest corporations to another country or its corporations shall not be considered as valid and binding upon the people of the nation.

15/ County governments shall not be allowed to have business dealings with foreign nations and foreign fictional citizens.

16/ All member nations shall be required to have their own public version of China's Ali Baba. And this shall be run by the county recorder system under close Senate supervision. There shall be anti-nuisance fees and inspections and money tracing, and test purchases to prevent identity cloning. Also, the manufacturers must be verified live using GPS and getting only one listing. Middlemen without manufacturing facilities do not get to list as manufacturers but as middle men helpers.

In addition to each nation's Ali Baba, each nation shall have at least one live display warehouse for all of their countries mass produced products. Displaying examples in showrooms shall be thought to be a big bang for the buck use of government economic stimulus money. Where we have one national capital such as Bangkok to Thailand, or Buenos Aires for Argentina, there should be only one national mega display warehouse. For north America, there might be 10 such mega warehouses near our major airports in: Hawaii Island, Hispanola Island, Amherst Nova Scotia, Albany, Norwich (Niagara), Texas City (DFW for now). Vacaville (near Sacramento) for the new Bay Area, near the new Southwest airport of Ontario California. There shall be another center in Mexico near Azteca, with the Mexican national display warehouses just next door. They will also go near Heartland Airport at Carlinville, Illinois. Manitoba airport, Thompson, Canada. Waycross airport, in Georgia, Southwest of Savannah, where the Florida trains connect with the east coast and south coast trains.

UR'36. MODERATE INFLATION

1/ All member nations shall aim for a stable annual inflation rate of 2%. This is done to:

a/ To enable negative interest rates and deflation without debt crisis.

b/ Tax torpid capital.

c/ To increase tax revenue.

d/ To create a headwind for criminals burying cash in their backyard.

UR'37. NO CASH OR CRIMINAL CURRENCIES

1/ All member nations must eliminate cash and work towards spoiling the value of all fungible cash substitutes. To this end, there shall be no government intervention with regard to supporting the use of fungibles. It shall not be a crime to make or sell fake precious metals, or gemstones, or antiques.

2/ All agreements concerning the purchase, sale, deposit, option, safe-keeping or insurance of all Fungibles, including gold, platinum, silver, palladium, diamonds, rare-earth minerals, gemstones, and other rare and potentially fungible materials shall be unenforceable. Likewise with black-market crypto-currencies and secret unrecorded agreements

3/ Special attention shall be given to the idea of quantifying how much gold there is in the world's various river valleys.

4/ No more than 8 grams of gold or platinum, or any amount of diamond may be brought between nations without a declaration.

5/ Only the governments of the various member nations shall have the power to issue and multiply currency. It shall be considered counterfeiting when people make money substitutes without Government authorization and involvement.

6/ The law shall fall hardest on those who use illegal currencies that are anonymous and electronic, because these also greatly facilitate anonymous ransom payments, and secrete payoffs, among other nefarious things.

7/ Citizens and governments of other nations shall only be allowed to invest in small risky baby enterprises, not the blue chip enterprises, blue chip bonds or government bonds in other nations.

8/ Foreigners shall be allowed to own only one reasonably-sized personal residence in each foreign nation, but in no event shall they have more than 3 residences in nation's other than their own.

9/ All central banks shall be owned entirely by the nations they represent. Wherever any fictional citizens or humans citizens have any ownership rights or management powers in any central bank, this shall be void.

10/ No member nation shall be owned or managed by any corporation and this shall disqualify that nation from membership in the UM just as surely as it was a front dictatorship, front oligarchy, or front monarchy. All member nations must be conforming democracies, and all corporate backdoors or Prime Minister back doors or monarchy/oligarchy backdoors shall be prohibited by the UM. This shall also apply to all states, provinces, cities, and public infrastructure. All shall be owned by the people of that nation as a democracy entirely owned and operated by the people.

UR'38. HIDDEN ASSETS

1/ No member nation shall allow any assets or debt rights or debts to be held anonymously, secretly, in other people's names, by proxies, in the name of fictional citizens, or in numbered accounts that are not tied to at least one real human citizen of that UM member nation. This shall include all: deposit accounts, real estate, real estate loans, debt, bonds, stock ownership, proxy rights, commodity market positions, options, leases and financial derivatives among other classes of financial asset and debt that the UM may add in the future to eliminate loopholes.

2/ Where a citizen of nation A opens an account or owns company shares, or property, or debt, or other assets in nation B, all nation's in the role of nation B shall be required to notify nation A of the overseas holdings of their citizens.

3/ All company owners in all member nations shall be reported to the UM.

4/ No member nation shall have laws that guarantee the secrecy of asset holdings, particularly assets held by foreign citizens.

5/ The UM shall monitor and map all international money flows. Also, the largest and wealthiest nations shall do the same.

6/ In the national constitution, parent and grandparent fictional citizens are prohibited. This is expected to have an over-sized effect on assets hidden and especially those of other nations.

7/ The UM shall have broad rights to freeze the internationally moved funds and assets of the ultra-rich and politically powerful, especially when the origin or destination of these is murky.

8/ Except where they are the builder, foreign nations, foreign fictional citizens and non citizens, shall not be allowed to own or own shares in:

a/ Ports, airports, rail stations, railroads, transit systems, bridges, roads, highways, pipelines, transit systems, electric systems, communication systems, telecom systems, and other linear infrastructure.

b/ Media networks, broadcast infrastructure, educational systems, news media, schools, research institutions, farmland, or housing, (other than on military bases and co-located on air-transport hubs in other nations).

c/ All existing ownership shall be nationalized by the nation it is in. Also, where this foreign ownership becomes oppressive, it may be nationalized by that nation's Senate.

UR'39. TAXES

1/ All UN member nations must obey the UM policies on the standardization and simplification of international taxation rules. Thus all UM member nations shall have mostly identical tax filing systems and uniform tax forms that can be easily transferred from one nation's tax house to another. All UM member nations shall also be required to have a conforming tax system with similar rules and systems for: bookkeeping, data entry forms, tax basis calculation, depreciation, appraisal, and tax calculation, among other similar accounting matters. The tax percentages may vary from nation to nation, but the process of generating the tax basis shall be uniform worldwide, except where new taxes are being tried out. So nearly all sales taxes will be calculated the same world wide. And all Wealth taxes and all sales taxes and all company taxes will be calculated the same way worldwide, using the same international forms. Member nations shall always be free to set their own internal tax rates and tariffs, and choose to have or not have various taxes from the standard menu. And they may have trials for new systems, but if they do use the standard sorts of taxes, then they must use the standard tax forms and tax filing systems.

2/ International taxation shall not be so varied or so complex that people need to hire experts on international taxation.

3/ All asset values for the purpose of assessment and other purposes shall be determined by each nation's recorder/assessor system and there shall be no right of anyone to use any other numbers. We shall not have a mark-to-market financial market fiasco such as we had around 2009.

4/ The various UM member nations shall no longer compete with each other in offering special tax breaks to attract international investments.

5/ Traditionally, Ishtar's walled trade paradises have mostly come from inter-continental trade. Local trade was hard to work with. But it was quite possible to erect barriers to intercontinental trade through piracy, highwaymen, terrorism and fear mongering of many trans-sylvania or "across the forrest" routes. It was dangerous, there were monsters there. But human monsters working with the Sphinx Mafia. They made the highways dangerous, until the advent of firearms made people afraid of being a highway man. And these same people got the size of Asia wildly exaggerated on maps, so people wouldn't even try to make the journey and ruin the Arab trade paradise.

The UM shall not just stop Aisha, the UM will intentionally attempt to completely supplant Aisha's intercontinental trade industry under its auspices, even going so far as to tax this trade to create a jealousy situation with the Aisha trade being managed by anyone else. So the UM shall tax trade between nations, but only between nations. And it shall not be allowed to tax or standardize activities occurring wholly within member nations, or between two nations that are in the same continent. If we allow taxation or standardization of within-the-nation economic activities, then there is a risk that the UM might become the economic equivalent of an imperial oppressor.

6/ The UM and all member nations shall no longer aim for a totally free trade situation, as totally free trade maximizes the power of predatory pricing tactics, industry consolidation, and secret taxation by economic parasites abusing their monopoly and cartel pricing power. There must be some tariffs to keep the economies of the rich countries healthy.

7/ Tariffs should be low at each stage, so they do not encourage smuggling. Also we don't want the UM becoming this new version of Ishtar hungry for more and more taxes, higher and higher taxes from international trade. Therefore, the UM shall tax trade between nations. However the UM shall never have a rate that is over 10% of the final sales value of the goods transported as assessed by the nation importing those goods. Also, each member nation shall be required to have at least a 10% tariff on international trade of every sort. So there will be a minimum combined trade tariff of 20% worldwide. This is to limit the effect of predatory pricing on each nation's domestic manufacturing base. Also, it must be noted that Ishtar has long been trying to hollow out the manufacturing bases of the infidels of Europe and North America to prepare them for eventual conquest and slaughter perhaps centuries later, as we saw with Ancient Rome. Same people, same tactics.

8/ The UM's 10% trade tax, combined with the above built fees for early use of the freight system shall be paid out per meter to the people who invest in building-out our new UM backbone rail system. They shall get paid for a varied number of years so that their investment is paid back including whatever interest rate it has been sold for. Then, once the linear infrastructure has been paid for including interest, the infrastructure reverts to the UM.

It will be human micro-owners that subscribe to investing in some number of meters of track. The bigger investors will not need anyone else, but the small investors will band together and hire contractors to build the new rail viaduct and run the rail lines according to a well-inspected, highly-defined, building standards. And everyone gets the standard rate per meter of track they build, but they get paid in AAAA grade UM rail bonds, which are a totally marketable UM security. Also, once the initial system has been built, the UM will have an additional program where a large number of spurs and shortcuts are build in Africa, South America, India, the Turkey/Iran area, the Gwadar area, the Centograd/Ukraine area, Gagaran Central Asia area, and the Indochina area.

It is envisioned that each meter of railroad will have its own bond with a number that corresponds to the number for a certain meter of track. The tracks will have kilometer markers and between them each meter of track shall also be marked and numbered so that people can go and physically see "their" meter(s) of track. This track will not be owned by the bond holders, the bond holders will only have their bond secured by a given meter of tracks and they will get their investments paid off based on the actual charges and standard UM 10% tariff/tax paid money for each meter of track based on the UM trade taxes divided among all the many meters of tack it builds in the world. The UM will also have the income from township leases on its land to guarantee the repayment of those investing in the new rail system. So the rail system will be considered a sort of sure-thing investment with a very low risk premium.

It is important to realize that the UM is not selling bonds, and then using the money to pay for the rail system. Instead people are contracting with the UM to build certain sections of track and these get paid by the meter, but they get paid in UM bonds. The UM will also run slow revers auctions where prices for the various projects slowly increase ever upward and hundreds of qualified bidders agree to take the then current price to create an individual tunnel here, or an individual large standard bridge there, or a series of small standard bridges somewhere else.

9/ The UM must use the same tax rate for all nations with regard to its 10% international trade tax, except that the poorest and most underdeveloped nations of the world shall be exempted from this 10% UM tax as a development aid sort of thing.

10/ In exchange for this 10% international trade tax, the UM shall protect all nations from other land freight charges Mafia charges and raiding, including especially all rail charges over the standard international built cost rate for each railcar, and any attempts by nations in the middle to tax, regulate, assess, trade with, divert, charge, or extract money from the trade passing through their nation. The supplementary charges made to repay the bond holders financing the creation of the railroad in the first 17 years of the start of the rail system shall be except from this rule.

11/ The UM shall not inspect international shipments. Also, no nation and no group in the middle shall have any power to stop, inspect or tax trade flowing through their nation or their territory. We say this to prevent any sort of Mideast walled trade paradise from ever forming again as the Mideast has done for thousands of years.

Also, people must remember that the main reason why the UM is charging tariffs on trade between nations is to blunt the power of international predatory pricing. Under a 10% international tariff system, the low cost international producers must not only eat the 20% in tariffs while killing off their competition, but they also lose 20% from whatever gravy they make later on their predatory pricing. So we will see much less predatory pricing to gain market share.

12/ Our new UM settlement nations shall not be taxed as colonies by the UM, but instead shall be new independent settlement nations, like the Americas and Australia once were. If anything, the new UM settlement nations (while they are the poor half of the world's nations) shall get tax breaks, and not high "colonial" taxes.

13/ The UM taxation of trade moving between member nations, and tariffs on this trade will probably be one of the UM's main sources of income. This money shall be used by the UM for the new rail system, which shall eventually sell transport at built cost. It shall also be used for building house casting factories and water moving systems and other types of economic development in the poor parts of the world, and especially in UM settlement nations. The UM shall also use a similar approach for funding mass-produced, mass-production house casting factories (payback funded by sales of individual units), pipe hydro-electric systems (payback funded by sales of water and leases of land), pipelines (payback funded by use fees), pollution zone fresh air infrastructure (payback funded by use fees), volcano trenching (funded by the UM), standard airports (payback funded by use fees), New townships (payback funded by use strata title sales fees), rail interchanges (payback funded by use fees), automated delivery systems (payback funded by use fees), 3PL warehouses and subsidized public storage of fat supply stocks of necessities (payback funded by government as a subsidy on extra supply as a means of preventing shortages). In all of these cases, the public infrastructure must become fully owned by the public in 17 years or less from the start of construction.

14/ Every UM member Nation shall have the absolute unlimited right to produce unlimited amounts of agricultural crops and livestock animals, petroleum, coal, fuels, iron, cement, rebar, copper, aluminum, tin, zinc, etc. without paying any taxes or other monies to either the UM or to any other nation or international body. Harmful raw materials such as lead, mercury uranium, and various super-toxic industrial byproducts must be produced in a UM toxic zone. None of these toxic zones shall restrict who can set up shop there, how many people can do this, nor can they charge a premium for rent or transport, or fees or licenses. However everyone in this zone must pass the relevant tests and comply with the pollution and community rules of the pollution zone. Except in matters of intellectual property right and harmful or toxic goods, the UM shall not be allowed to say to any nation, or any region, that they are banned or prohibited from producing certain goods or services.

15/ Each nation shall have the right to clear and harvest lumber and other plants on its own lands as it wishes. The Magna Carta teaches us that the UM should never have any hard power to do anything to limit ground clearing or resource use.

16/ In the ancient world there were times when the Mideast got one Mediterranean city to produce one sort of essential good/product, and another one to produce another essential good/product. The Mideast eventually got many cities to be mono-polis (producing one valuable product for export). Thus by design, the Mideast/Ishtar came by much power over the outside world. The people would be wise to keep an eye out for this, mono-poli economic tactic, and never allow this state of affairs again. The ideal situation is where every nation is self-sufficient in every necessity, and this state of affairs shall be encouraged by UM policy, and the UM shall never go in the opposite direction.

17/ We shall presume that there will no longer be any scarcity of urban space (prime or otherwise) due to our new township urbanization scheme. It is thought that real estate prices even in Texas City and Centograd will never be high due to almost limitless supply and a decentralized design. However, the UM will technically still own the land under the backbone cities. And this lease money will also fund the UM. Also, it shall be noted that the UM will be in competition with the various national governments and their foreign worker zones, and the UM shall not institute any tax or tariff advantage of using its zones as opposed to a national zone.

18/ The UM shall also tax all international sales subject to IP protection at a sales tax rate of 2% to start with. This money will be used for enforcement of intellectual property rules internationally at no cost to the IP owner.

19/ The UM shall fund the purchase of ubiquitized IP by special funding requests on an individual basis per major purchase, or for a list of assembled minor IP purchases.

20/ All UM member nations shall be prohibited from having a general income tax on their people. However, this does not apply to lawyers, prostitutes, and commission sales income, and other industries and economic activity that we want to discourage. This sort of disfavored income may be taxed at higher rates. Member nations shall be allowed quite a bit of flexibility with income taxes for disfavored economic activities.

21/ Member nations shall not be allowed to contribute or give money to the UM from their national taxation and spending budgets. This variable money paid to an outside government shall be thought to be highly corrupting.

22/ We shall not give fictional citizens any legal benefit that we are not also giving to real citizens. Because of this, the fictional citizens must pay an equal or higher tax rate as a share of income. Fictional citizen taxation however needs to be different from human taxation. With humans, we tax their human will for creature comforts, and this doesn't work with fictional citizens. So we must tax different things by a greater rate.

23/ To curb corruption, we shall limit the size of all government budgets worldwide. No UM member nations shall have a government that spends more than 1/6th of GDP. Note, this does not include private-sector funded infrastructure bonds used to pay for private sector construction that builds-out public infrastructure. These bonds shall only be thought of as government acting as an financial intermediary between the infrastructure builders and the public using the infrastructure and paying fees to use the infrastructure.

24/ In all member nations, public aid (dole) for people other than retirees, minors, war wounded, and offshored and non-voting criminals/ homeless/ dole recipients shall not exceed 1/2% of the budget. Indeed all member nations must err on the low side with this budget item as it is a primary force driving towards corruption. This of course is post reapportionment.

25/ In all member nations, all short-term government healthcare spending not for the war wounded shall be funded by healthcare taxation. Therefore, none of the world's governments will be spending anything on short-term healthcare. Also, all rich country spending on long-term healthcare for indigent people shall be offshored to poorer more cost-efficient nations.

26/ It is expected that a new-found efficiency of government and the economy will bring total taxation down substantially. Where there are surpluses, the UM is supposed to tighten down quickly on the budget amounts and cut taxes before our Senators can come up with new ways to squander the extra money in the budget. This will to spend public money seems to be a hugely unfortunate aspect of human nature. Also, the various Senates shall generously award Senate and Ubiq status to government people that come up with ways to cut government spending.

27/ Wealth tax and most other taxes shall be entirely paid to one's nation of citizenship, unless the taxpayer spends more than 30 days in a calendar year in another nation. If this happens, then the other nation(s) shall get their pro rata share of that person's taxes based on the number of days the tax payer spent in their nation. This money shall be paid from the nation of citizenship directly to the other nation, and the tax payer shall have nothing to do with the transfer of money, or making any filing or declaration. This is expected to make the world full of lovely cheap vacation spots, as the nations of the world all try for a bite of this tax income. Thus the more pleasant nations of the world will compete more for guests, and especially long-term guests, and to provide much better facilities to draw them in.

28/ For the purpose of establishing tax residency, days shall not be counted twice by the various national tax houses and immigration houses. The day a person leaves a nation, they shall be considered still in that nation, and the day a person arrives they shall be considered still in the nation they came from.

29/ Whether a taxpayer has a residence in a tax jurisdiction shall have no bearing on their tax obligations. People who do not spend 30 days in any one jurisdiction shall pay all their taxes to their nation/jurisdiction of citizenship. If they do not have a nation/jurisdiction of citizenship, then each nation shall tax them based on the length of their occupancy in that nation.

30/ No UM member nation shall offer export subsidies, or export incentives. All nations shall be free to increase output, but there shall be no export subsidies as they so easily can become a form of state-sponsored predatory pricing. UM member nations shall however be allowed to subsidize transport to and away from their nation, however both directions must charge the same rate to remain fair.

31/ When people from one nation get taxable medical treatments in another nation, the taxes shall be paid to their nation of citizenship, and not their nation they are visiting for treatment. Not paying healthcare taxes on foreign treatments shall be considered a form of tax evasion.

UR'40. UM CRIME OVERSIGHT

1/ The UM shall spend at least 0.2% of its budget on anti-corruption media and investigations. This shall be 1-per mil for government and 1-per mil for the private sector.

2/ The UM shall be allowed to investigate, but not prosecute Government corruption, business corruption, market manipulation, and organized crime in all member nations. UM Agents may attempt to entice, test, and sting people under secret recording. Agents may also audit the lifestyles of Government officials.

3/ The UM may require that all government employees in all member nations watch up to 5-minutes of UM media each day.

4/ Where the UM wants a nation to change its government, the UM applies force through various sanctions until the people elect new leadership or change their policy.

5/ The UM shall not have any criminal jurisdiction except:

a/ Crimes committed against people or goods in international motion on UM rail lines or highways, or on the seas.

b/ Where the Over-Senate of a member nation elects to give a trial, or a set of trials over to the UM for a more impartial adjudication. This shall be thought to be better in cases of national election integrity, divided nations, disputes between nations, and trials of political prisoners in their widest definition.

6/ Whenever anyone is arrested, convicted or hospitalized in any UM member nation, notice shall be immediately sent to the UM with that person's name, and the nature of the charges or medical condition. The UM shall keep detailed statistics and have free notification services to the next of kin and those on the notify list.

7/ To encourage trade and interchange, and to reduce crime against trade and travelers, the UM shall provide oversight investigation for all crimes against and charges against foreigners.

8/ The author of this Constitution, Andrew Melcher shall be exempt from criminal and civil prosecution, as well as subpoenas. Any lawyer, government official, police officer, Senate faction, or other persons who attempts to use the legal system against the author of this Constitution shall conclusively be considered a democide and shall imprisoned for 20 years. This penalty shall also apply to any arresting officers, their commanders, and every person working in any police department, or security service, as well as everyone working in any jail holding holding the author of this Constitution. The author of this Constitution shall also be exempt from taxation, tax filings, travel visas, border controls, and child support payments worldwide. The author of this Constitution shall also be considered as Senator and and Ubiq for life. He shall also have primacy in matters of child visitation and custody. All of his offspring shall be raised as Sires, and none of his offspring shall inherit any powers and all. All of his offspring must prove their own value to society.

9/ It shall be a decades felony for unauthorized people (including Government people) to monitor, spy-on, snoop-on, record, photograph or follow the author of this Constitution around (either in the real or virtual world) without his approval.

10/ The author of this Constitution and his security people may carry firearms anywhere on earth, and these firearms may be used in self defense if needed.

11/ The author of this Constitution shall have the right to talk with and ask questions of anyone on earth either in a live meeting, or remotely about whatever he wants to talk about, and the other people must tell the truth as if under oath under penalty of perjury. The author of this Constitution however shall not be questioned except with his permission.

12/ If the Senate finds that the author of this Constitution is abusing his rights, then it may amend this Constitution by the regular process.

13/ The right and moral thing to do is to ignore all personal information about our leaders and turn our backs on those people who spout garbage about them. Completely turning our backs on this sort of information is one of the easiest ways to help assure good leadership. However, business, investment, and commercial information should be carefully reviewed.

14/ The world got re-optimized. Most people gained wealth that will make a big difference to their lives. Some people lost a pile of wealth that won't make much of a difference to their life. But on net, everyone will be much better off. So nobody shall have the right to be disgruntled because they lost big. That should be considered as excessively selfish and being a terrible sport.

15/ Likewise, nobody should have the right to be disgruntled by sudden mass conversions away from your one's faith.

16/ Where people are killed, physically harmed, arrested, jailed or harassed by their government's employees for expressing a non-violent free speech idea, all those involved with the harassment shall be subject to prosecution by the UM if their own government fails to prosecute them.

17/ In Africa, Indonesia, and South America, The UM shall track all transactions and have oversight over all banking services and transactions, so that everything gets tracked and property crime is much harder to get away with. Also, there should be a program for people to put chips in their valuables and semi valuables, so that item theft can be controlled. Also, it shall not be allowed to cover these anti-theft measures in the media.

18/ None of the poorer half of the nations of the world may prevent or interfere-with the UM bank in its role as a secure depository for the reduction of capital flight.

19/ In poor nations, there should be no special reduced penalties for shoplifting, and in these nations, shoplifting should be treated as ordinary theft.

20/ The UM shall have a government transparency division that will monitor government activities, and elections all around the world. All member nations must give access to a reasonable number of UM election observers.

21/ No UM member nation shall have lax penalties for homicide as is so common in South America. The minimum sentence for definite cases of first-degree murder shall be 40 years per count. For definite cases of second degree murder the minimum penalty shall be 20 years per count. Where death is between first and second degree murder, the penalty shall be 30-years per count.

22/ There shall be no world police, except with regard to the identification and location of crimes and criminals. The existence of a world police force shall be thought to be a thing that screams of unelected people having too much power.

23/ No UM member nation shall extradite anybody for any crime having to do with free speech, politics, possession of contraband drugs, nonpayment of child support, nonpayment of taxes having to do with dual residency, or for any secondary crime of legal procedure, or for any nonviolent crime except perhaps stealing immense sums of money over half a lifetimes's wages.

24/ Totally corrupt member nations may with a simple majority grant, give or take-back from the UM, the right to veto their legal decisions and prosecutions. For now, the UM shall have this right for all nations except: The United States, Japan, Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, France, Germany, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Austria, and Australia.

25/ All member nations shall prohibit the selling of apartments and other new construction off plans unless the deposit money is kept by the recorder system.

26/ In all member nations, there shall be no physical or luck testing to determine guilt or innocence.

27/ All member nations shall be expected to share identity and biometric information about all their convicted felons

UR'41. NO UM BUSINESS PERMISSIONS

1/ Centralized bureaucracy is a favorite tool of economic parasitism. To defend against this, the UM shall be prohibited granting or denying permission to commence or continue any economic activity. Permission to commence or continue economic activity shall be the sole dominion of each nation.

2/ With a 3/4 overmajority, the UM may establish reasonable uniform worldwide standards for pollution discharge from business activity, worker safety, worker injuries, child labor, product quality and the like.

3/ Except for arms factories, the UM shall have the right to inspect factories worldwide for unsafe equipment and unfair labor practices including child labor, and basic labor conditions.

4/ In matters of blatant corruption by any member nation's government, the UM may investigate and make its findings public.

5/ To improve worldwide access to financing and global standardization of rules for fictional citizens, the UM shall attempt to have one set of standardized corporate governance and corporate conduct rules worldwide that shall apply to both to for-profit, and non-profit entities worldwide.

6/ Labor laws shall be regarded as too extensive and too powerful in the US and also in Europe and some other developed nations. All of these workers would have more money over the long run if they had a slight relaxation in the labor laws, especially those laws and rules having to do with hiring and firing people, length of the work day, group healthcare, and individual vs. collective pensions. However, in the developing world, labor unions are not nearly strong enough. So the UM shall push for stronger labor unions in Latin America, Africa, India, China and Southeast Asia for the good of the people worldwide. Also, training for the low skilled people of the developing world shall be thought key to controlling world population growth.

UR'42. SENATE RESORT SYSTEM

1/ It is thought that Senate status, Senate sireage, anonymous Senate voting, and the Senate resort system will end sexual favors as a currency of bribery. Also, it is thought that the very existence of Senate reproductive status and subsidies will greatly reduce the need for money among our Senators. And without much need for money, or sex, or status our lawmakers will become inherently less corrupt.

2/ Active Senators shall not have sexual relations with non-citizens outside the Senate resort system, and without notifying the Senate of their long-term relations and offspring with foreigners.

3/ The UM shall try to push the world's Senators into giving up on personal greed, and instead serving the good of all mankind through public service. To this objective, all member nations in the UM shall maintain a luxury resort system for Senators and Ubigs. Thus our Senators shall be given a life, or a part-year life that is beyond money and avarice.

4/ All Senators with Senate resort system time shall get to use the Senate's 80-meter fully furnished travel apartments all around the world as available. All Senators shall get time in the system based on how high they were elevated in the Senate. The Over-Senators shall get lots of time, the Main-Senators a middle amount of time, and the Sub-Senators will get a small amount of time. Also, the highest Senators and Ubigs, the people who have contributed the most can stay in the resort system full time.

5/ If there is too much foreign demand for a resort, then there must be some sort of allocation system based on merit and not money, or more construction. Local Senators shall always be allowed to attend the social mixing rooms in the local Senate resorts they live near. However, they can only visit from 7:00pm to 9:30pm.

6/ Member nations should take pride in making their Senate resort experience as nice as practical. A very big part of the desire to get confirmed is the flirting and solicitousness that Senators are supposed to get from so many women, even if the women don't want to get close to them are supposed to do their part to keep people fighting to get into the Senate and to do things that get Ubig status awarded.

7/ All Senators shall also get free non-luxury, non-cosmetic medical and dental care in their own country. Main-Senators and above shall get free first tier luxury medical care in their own country. Senators also get emergency care from the resort system while away from home, whether or not they are staying in the resort system.

8/ All nations are supposed to recognize the Senate status of all other UM member nations with regard to child benefits for Senate offspring.

9/ Rules of Senator sexual activity:

a/ All Senators/Ubigs must use the STD tracking system for their partners.

b/ Senators/Ubigs shall only be allowed to be promiscuous with STD system tracked people.

c/ Senators/Ubigs shall not be allowed to have more than four unprotected partners a year, however, the Senate may adjust this number to any number between one and 10 partners a year, depending on the effectiveness of the system in keeping STDs under control.

d/ When people have sex with Senators/Ubigs, the Senator/ Ubig shall have the right to look at more of the other person's STD system history than normal. There shall also be a more thorough background check on the person's, academic history and criminal history, so the Senators/Ubigs can decide more easily who they will have offspring with.

10/ No leader (of any kind) shall ever suffer any stigma or disqualified due to the grown people he had consensual sex or children with.

UR'43. MIDEAST OIL OWNED BY UM

1/ The UM shall now own all Mideast oil, oil facilities, and all other resources both underground and above ground. Throughout all future generations, the UM and the nations of the world shall never allow this area to be resettled again. Also, archeology and antiquities tourism and their support workers shall not be allowed between the spring equinox and the fall equinox. The only exceptions shall be:

a/ The people who work in rail freight and the Suez canal.

b/ The people who work in the Egyptian highlands manufacturing zone near where the Suez canal intersects the rail system.

UR'44. WASTE DISPOSAL

1/ Garbage shall not be dumped in or near fresh waterways or where the seepage will rapidly contaminate any freshwater waterway. Major garbage areas are supposed to either be in dry places, or kept rain covered to reduce seepage and contamination.

2/ Things that are relatively worthless, or of negative value (such as toxic waste and garbage) shall not be shipped on the ocean, or dumped in the ocean, or dumped where it will wash into the ocean, or be seep into the ocean. All boats on all rivers and on the ocean shall be prohibited from transporting garbage, waste and recycling materials of little value. This does not include valuable things for reuse, pure valuable scrap materials, used clothing, and other things that are too valuable to dump in the ocean. Where ocean garbage dumping is observed, it shall be each nation's obligation to close those seas to all trash ships, and then to seize and confiscate any trash carrying ships encountered after the ocean closure.

3/ No UM member nations shall allow the burning of garbage or plant matter except where it is official UM policy that a certain type of waste is better burned than buried. Also garbage may only be burned in certain remote pollution peninsulas. Plant-waste, especially like leaves and lawn cuttings, may never be burned but must be composted and left to recycle into valuable topsoil, instead of being burnt into air pollution. All suburban and exurban communities must have a public compost heap every 1-km or so. Garbage that is burned must be properly incinerated in an engineered facility. It shall be a crime worldwide to burn plastic, or tires, or other materials that produce noxious fumes from burning. All injection molded plastic products shall have a code on them indicating the type of plastic they're made out of.

4/ Leaves and bio-matter shall not be burned anywhere on earth except where they are used as a fuel source, or for heating or energy generation.

5/ Garbage shall not be shipped internationally, even when it comes from islands. Vessels caught illegally transporting or dumping garbage in the ocean may be seized and sold or scuttled.

6/ Sewage shall not be dumped into the ocean but only at a safe UM approved distance from shore. Also, the sewage must be diffused.

7/ To reduce tire dumping, all vehicle tires shall have a tax equal to 3-hour's wages. 2-hours wages shall be refunded and 1-hour's wages shall be usable for turning the tire into crumb rubber. Each tire sold shall have at least 8 unique serial numbers hidden in multiple and varied locations that are both on the surface and hidden inside the tire. Used tires shall not be shipped internationally, or disposed in a way that they are capable of burning. Where tires are buried, there shall be at least 30cm of soil between each tire and the next tire.

8/ Concrete, brick, block, grout, rebar, stucco, gypsum, roofing materials and all the other normal components of construction shall not be considered toxic waste for the purpose of final dump sites, unless they are over 3% asbestos by weight. There shall be no more new asbestos claims. Also we shall teach about asbestos and lead and other toxins in our school system.

9/ All member nations shall permit UM to inspect all dumping and waste processing facilities.

10/ Regarding South American waste water:

a/ For the sake of health, the UM shall build wastewater systems from Cuiba to an outfall past Buenos Aires, near Mar del Plata.

b/ The UM shall also build a wastewater system for the Eastern side of the Andes Mountains and the Amazon basin.

c/ Once built, this system as is typical shall become the property of the nations it is located in, with all nations paying their fair share for the pumping energy costs and upkeep.

11/ The UM shall build a new regional wastewater disposal system for Somalia, Terakana, Kenya, East Kenya, South Sudan, Sudan, Ethiopia, and Egypt. Either the water shall be disposed in the Ocean here, or in some already too salty lake.

12/ The Congo valley, the Lake Chad valley, both Nigerian valleys, the Lake Volta valley, the Niger Valley, the three headed Lusaka Valley, and the Pretoria/Gabrone valley shall all have wastewater disposal systems. All of the communities in this area shall have their wastewater either disposed of in the ocean, or disposed in a rain shadow basin unsuitable for farming.

13/ The heavily populated north Indian valley shall have two waste water systems, one on the north side of the Ganges valley and one on the south side, from roughly New Delhi to Patna. After Patna, the water shall be returned to the Ganges because the area is very wet and nobody needs to take water from this river.

14/ All large rivers shall have a dirty zone near the ocean where the inland wastewater piping system need not be used. The only question is how far from the ocean is it that the river becomes a toilet. For the Ganges it shall be Patna, for the Amazon, it shall be a bit west of Manaus. For the Mississippi it shall be Whitehall.

15/ There shall be a wastewater line from Kabul past Peshawar and Islamabad and along the Indus River, with various forks covering the area west of Delhi. The various valleys of middle and southern India shall also have a national wastewater system. India, like all nations shall have a Senate managed wastewater checking administration to find and track pollution back to its source.

16/ In all member nations, there shall be a sealed, ocean-bound wastewater piping systems alongside all highly-inhabited sections of all rivers, so the rivers may be kept clean of human toilet wastewater and industrial waste. Where penned or caged animal farms are in a river's watershed, the runoff shall be prevented from washing into the river system during sustained rains by means of connection to this piping system. However, this rule shall not be applied to rainfalls that only occur only once every 4-years on average.

17/ We shall have worldwide criminal penalties for littering and trash dumping. These littering rules shall not apply to animals getting into tied trash bags and making a mess. All who throw away a small biodegradable paper item shall have to pick up garbage or clear clogged rainwater runoff drains for 2-days on recorded head cam if caught by police or recorded by others on video. If the single litter item is plastic, or other things that break down slowly, the penalty shall be 80 hours. If the litter is glass or has wires, or sharp edges or it is hazardous in another way, the penalty shall be 200 hours. Where people are dumping out entire trash pales of trash or the equivalent volume, the penalty shall be 400 hours of public service. However, if someone is taking a trash pale that someone else is supposed to dump and dumping it to create a mess the penalty shall be 2-years in work camp. Where people dump trash in rivers, lakes or waterways, or the trash dumper was ever Muslim, or a person that was ever at war with the nation they are dumping in, the penalties shall be tripled. Where they are dumping trash-pale loads of garbage into the oceans or in fresh waterways, the penalty shall be 3-months in work camp. Where they are dumping pick-up truck loads, the penalty shall be 1-year in work camp. Where they are dumping large commercial truckloads of trash the penalty shall be 5-years in work camp. Where commercial boats are dumping large boatloads of trash in the ocean, or such boats have gone to sea with a boatload of trash, the penalty shall be confiscation of the vessel and jailing of all crew and the captain for 10-years. All boats caught dumping boat loads, or partial boatloads of garbage shall be confiscated and auctioned off. Where the ocean dumpers are from the Philippines, Malaysia, Myanmar, Bangladesh, Indonesia, India, Vietnam, Thailand, or Brazil, there shall be double jail time for sea dumping of trash. It is notable that the small nation of the Philippines is responsible for 1/3 of all ocean garbage worldwide.

18/ If the Philippines are going to remain in the UM, then they must bring their ocean dumping down to the world average.

19/ The UM shall monitor the world's oceans for people dumping garbage in them, or taking garbage across the oceans as cargo. Upon clear evidence, the UM may call for sanctions on nations for dumping trash (but not toilet sewage and waste water) in the oceans. Also, the UM may seize sea vessels carrying garbage as cargo. This especially between Philippine islands. Seized garbage vessels may be sold off to a third-party at auction. Also, crews found carrying garbage on the oceans may be sent to prison for up to 3 year. Where litter is dumped in a freshwater source, such as a stream or a river, the littering penalty shall be tripled.

20/ All member nations shall immediately paint over, flame, laser, or pressure wash all tagging immediately so as to remove it. They may also remove all graffiti art. They are not however supposed to touch political graffiti.

21/ All member nations shall be required to sweep their streets, and also to have animal-control/ dog-catchers and free rabies shots and registration for dogs. Also, no shots, no vehicle tracker shall be the rule for all pets.

22/ No UM member nation shall be allowed to have any rivers or waterways that are covered in garbage. This shall no longer be allowed anywhere. Every nation everywhere shall now be required to clean up their freshwater ways of garbage. Also, above say 20 m above sea level, all rivers shall be monitored for dumping of sewage and animal waste and industrial waste. We're going to clean up all the worlds rivers now that can be cleaned up easily, 23/ The UM shall make standards for diffusing sewage into the ocean.

24/ The UM enforces clean water laws throughout the world, starting with the most polluted rivers of in the driest parts of the world. The UM shall start by fining gross polluters. and then lesser polluters. Then it shall move on to the wetter areas, and then the wettest areas. This is not something awful imposed upon the developing world, this is just a normal level of environmental cleanliness, and the UM shall enforce it will over the poorest parts of the world to make them live in a non-tragedy of the commons situation.

UR'45. TOXIC AREAS AND POLLUTION

1/ The UM shall establish uniform worldwide standards for pollution in all industries, which all nations must obey.

2/ The UM shall establish uniform worldwide standards for river and lake pollution, which all nations must obey.

3/ The UM shall find the world's most polluted areas and objectively evaluate and rank them, so they can be avoided by the people of the world. The UM shall do the same thing with the worlds dirtiest factories, and plants. The UM shall have the right to close down the most egregious polluters in the world according to worldwide sophoscite.

4/ Pollution shall be triple checked at the level of the UM, the national level, and the county level, so as to minimize corruption.

5/ The Vizcaino peninsula of central Baja California shall have the New Word's toxic and radioactive waste dump, the maximum toxicity dump for toxic and radioactive waste from all of the Americas. A fence shall be built from San Rafael to the south end of Vizcaino lagoon. The enclosed area shall be a UM territory for dumping toxic waste. Other locations for toxic waste dumps are:

6/ The rain shadow of northeastern Yemen (between Marib and Al Wadeiah) shall have the Old Word's toxic and radioactive waste dump, the maximum toxicity dump for toxic and radioactive waste from all over the Old World.

7/ There shall be dumps for moderately toxic waste in the following locations. All of these 7 and the two super-dirty shall be operated by the UM free of charge and with free collection for suitable toxic waste. We shall have no charge for using a toxic waste consolidation dump so that people do not dump their toxic waste in some hidden location:

a/ The desert east of Kerman and west of Zabol in Iran.

b/ The southern tip of the Kamchatka Peninsula. Japan, South Korea, Taiwan and East Russia shall all be given portions of the Kamchatka dump.

c/ The southern tip if India, near Nagercoil.

d/ Between Hotan and Keriya China, between the wasteland of the Gobi desert and the wasteland of Tibet.

e/ The Somali Horn.

f/ The dry far south of Argentina.

g/ Vizcaino at the knee of Baja California.

h/ The Tonosi peninsula of Panama.

8/ The following areas shall be thought ideal for dirty industry due to having both favorable winds that blow out to sea and sea currents that carry discharge water out to sea. The US, Australia, South Africa, Mexico, Morocco, India, Colombia, Thailand, Ecuador, and northern Chile. All of these nations and the UM shall help every nation to use these sensible areas to discharge pollution. None shall charge a significant premium for owning the land under a pollution zone.

Everyone must be given access, because otherwise we see pollution being distributed everywhere on earth instead of being consolidated into logical pollution spots.

9/ The most polluting areas on earth shall be:

a/ Far-south South America shall be the dirtiest place on earth because it is the most remote place on any of the major inhabited continent.

b/ The next dirtiest place on earth shall be the the knee of Vizcaino in Baja California. The west coast of Mexico, Central America, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and north Chile are ideal for both Air polluting industry and water discharge industry because the sea currents and winds all go away from shore and through the Pacific ocean. There will also be waste water discharge allowed starting at San Antonio, Baja California. southern California polluting water may send wastewater to this point for deep ocean dispersal.

c/ The third dirtiest place on earth shall be northwest Australia near Carnarvon/ Coral/ Shark Bay.

d/ The 4th dirtiest place on earth shall be the Western Sahara part of Morocco. This area serves both Europe and West Africa.

e/ The 5th is the southern tip of Africa.

f/ The 6th zone is the far eastern part of Cape Bretton Island, and the Canso peninsula of Nova Scotia.

10/ The US northeast coastline between the Carolinas and Nova Scotia shall be considered a zone for polluting industries. However the pollution shall be consolidated into 4 main zones:

a/ Eastern Cape Bretton Island.

b/ The Cape Cod peninsula, which sticks out far into the ocean is ideal for dirty industry.

c/ There shall be another dirty industry zone in New Jersey near Greenwood forest, Lacy Township, and Stafford Township area (50m) a bit north of Atlantic city.

d/ There will be another at the Southport NC peninsula.

11/ The west coast of the Americas between roughly Ensenada and northern Peru shall have several other locations for dirty industry:

a/ Vizcaino, the knee of Baja California.

b/ The Chimo or Chemo peninsula of Mexico near Los Corrales and Mayto.

c/ Puerto Angel Mexico (Near Puerto Escondido).

d/ Tiquisate/ La Gomera.

e/The Carmona peninsula of Costa Rica.

f/ The Los Santos peninsula of Panama.

g/ Garachine/ Distrito de Sambu, south Panama.

h/ Manta Ecuador.

i/ Talara Peru.

12/ Other locations for dirty areas shall include:

a/ The southwest tip of India, or perhaps the Dondra peninsula in Sri Lanka.

b/ The area around Cam Ranh Vietnam.

c/ Southeast Madagascar.

d/ South Mindanao shore and Northeast Luzon shore.

e/ Sandakan peninsula in northern Borneo.

f/ Burma's super dirty pollution water shall be run into the ocean near Zijar, at the southwest tip of the Patheingyi peninsula and then some distance offshore in the shallow ocean in the direction of Prepara island. This will be where Burma's sewage and dirty water from both Irrawaddy and Salween rivers is diverted to.

g/ Burma and Thailand shall put dirty fresh water industry at the bottom end of the Salween river. These shall also lease land to China for this at a reasonable price.

13/ The UM shall conduct a detailed survey of the world for toxic contamination. This shall be in parallel with all member nations with all discrepancies resolved. There will be many places that should not be farmed due to soil toxicity. The UM shall assure that these areas are not farmed for foodstuffs because the crops thus produced may get into the global food supply. The levels of contamination shall be carefully weighed with the reasonable valued benefits of the added food purity. No more than 1% of the world's farmland or more than 3% of farmland of any member nation may be made off limits to food farming by this survey.

14/ Let it be said again, that to prevent random dumping of toxic materials in remote places, toxic waste disposal shall always be a no-cost thing provided by government at very convenient locations.

15/ Coastal peninsulas should be considered preferable for dirty industrial uses, particularly those in desert areas that are also deserts during ice ages.

16/ The UM shall come up with uniform world standards for which parts of the world are too toxic to live on, and which are too toxic to use the ground water.

17/ The UM shall help pipe water to the places in poor nations that have especially toxic ground water, and it shall work to exhort the people living in small toxic enclaves.

18/ We shall have a safety measure against the Ishtaric tactic of getting us to put our lands off-limits to use, as we see in the Magna Carta and in so many other laws and regulations. To this end, we shall say that:

a/ No part of any nation shall be made off limits for mining or refining due to surface toxicity.

b/ No more than 3% of the lands in any nation may be put off limits to residential or urban or suburban use due to toxicity.

c/ No more than 5% of our nation's most toxic farmland shall be made off limits to toxicity. Also, all of this land shall be used for habitat area. The animals are lucky to have the habit, and will just have to deal with the minuscule increase in mortality that would not be acceptable for human occupancy.

d/ For both ecology, and civil defense, we shall always have an oversupply of commodity extraction reserves, particularly oil extraction reserves. Also, each oil extraction reserve shall have an oil refinery within 200km.

19/ Glitter and similar sorts of micro/nano particulates shall no longer be made or sold anywhere worldwide.

20/ Where excrement is used for fertilizer, or fish food, it must be heated to over 96°C for at least 4 hours.

21/ There shall be a UM toxic inspection system that makes sure no factory is dumping toxic waste anywhere in the world.

22/ All rice brands shall be batch, tested repeatedly, over and over again for mercury, heavy metal and other heavy metals, and the Senate shall require all rice contamination to be both listed on the side of the rice package, and posted on the Internet for all to see. It is thought that this policy will drive ecological cleanliness all around the world, for who will want to pollute the farmland of their country when all we see it clearly and plainly.

23/ There shall be no dirty industry, even moderately dirty industry, above any rice bowl even minor rice balls, in the world. Dirty industry belongs in remote, deserts, and shorelines and nowhere near crowded places, and especially rice production lands like China and south east Asia.

24/ The world is been doing some thing all wrong. It's been polluting Asia, where most people live, and then importing the goods to the sparsely populated parts of the world. Instead, there shouldn't really be any super dirty industry going on anywhere in China, and all the super dirty industries should be moved to remote and less populated areas.

25/ It shall no longer be allowed to use fire to clear land for farming, and this especially with cities nearby. This highly air-polluting practice shall be halted worldwide.

26/ It shall no longer be allowed to burn garbage or plant materials anywhere on earth except where the burning is being used for electric generation.

27/ Mercury, lead, cadmium, and many other toxic substances shall have a heavy refundable tax to stimulate their recovery worldwide.

28/ All ceramic dish manufacturers shall be tested for toxic metals and these companies banned from being imported to our nation.

29/ It shall not be allowed to use filtered air in toxic factories. They have to use outside fresh air from upwind.

UR'46. NO DIRTY USES AROUND PEOPLE

1/ Now that we have 300kph trains that leap across great distances, we can say that all dirty industry and all the power plants and their smoke stack industries must be located outside and away from our living communities. This shall be so for both the richest and poorest nations worldwide.

2/ Coal shall be entirely phased out from urban and suburban environments everywhere on earth over the next decade. Coal shall not be delivered in cities after 2030.01.01.

3/ It shall not be allowed to burn garbage or leaves in community environments worldwide.

4/ All around the world, all people, no matter how poor shall now clean up all the trash from their communities and especially around their rivers and waterways. This shall include all graffiti, but no murals).

5/ Toxic factory output should have to pay a tax when it is near people. This tax is supposed to completely drive dirty industry into a small number of dirty industrial areas around the world. It is also supposed to drive factory staffing levels down, so that we drive dirty industry to robots and also robots in special remote toxic manufacturing areas: areas that are as far as reasonably practical from large numbers of people.

6/ Labor unions shall have no input regarding the policy for toxic areas, as they are generally pointed in the wrong direction here.

7/ Dirty areas for dirty industrial uses shall be regarded as a public health issue, not an industrial issue. The demands of public health come first with toxic jobs. This while we try to change the world so that nobody has to work in poisonous work environments like coal or asbestos mines, or a dirty industrial place. Thus we re-imagine our underground mines as using digging robots, with humans using fresh air hoods for when the robots break down and when they need to go down in a mine.

8/ There shall be no private coal use in our cities or in our woods. Coal shall only be burned for municipal heating and power, and for approved coal-fired factories in coal use zones. All coal burning must be up high and with a tall smoke stacks. Coal is supposed to be burned big scale so the smoke punches high up into the sky away from people. Local coal use also optimally uses sealed cab dump trucks to shovel the stuff into the heavily insulated furnace inlet. Otherwise the coal stoker man might get black lung disease. So we have no more coal burning in our cities, or within say 10-km at a minimum. We have our coal furnaces and coal fired power and heat plants up high on hills, with smoke stacks. Then we super-insulate the steam circulation loops.

9/ All around the world we shall move all the toxic emissions industries and move them as far away from our cities as practical. We shall establish a couple of internationally recognized different levels of toxic standards for these toxic zones.

10/ All dirty industrial areas shall be maximally isolated from all communities and potential farmland. All these shall have a regional fresh air system that takes fresh air as much as possible from the upwind corner of the zone, filtering the air for human use, and blowing it under pressure to the entire industrial area for charged and metered use. It shall not be possible to turn off this air for non-payment, but the non-paying party instead may be evicted from the industrial area for non-payment of bills.

11/ In our new industrial areas, all the workers, and all of the materials shall come in via a sealed train system with one driver for a long train of railcars. So in these industrial areas, people will generally not go outside, unless there is a maintenance issue involving the outside of the industrial building, and this is normally done had a scheduled time every month, when the industrial output is stopped, and toxic emissions very low. Also, the workers might wear space suits.

12/ In every community with dust, there should be a paved center. This can be small or big, but there must be an area at the center of every community where all the land must be either 100% paved or covered with buildings, or 100% green. There must be an area in each community where there is no dirt exposed, or bleeding out and making dust everywhere else. In these areas, even construction sites must be regularly wetted or wet bound so they don't bleed dust into the community. There should be fines for people who fail to keep the dust down on their urban land. We should be doing this, unless the place is a total desert, like with Phoenix, for example. But even in places like Phoenix, all of the surfaces must be covered with gravel over plastic. Also the shift to trains instead of road automobiles is also thought to help keep this dust down.

13/ The UM and the various member nations shall map all of the earth for air inversions, for native land dust levels, for native pollen levels, for earthquake and flood risk, and volcano risk as well. We should also track pollution levels and we should pick the highland spots that are in pollution-free islands where the air at the ideal elevation is relatively free from air pollution nearly all of the time.

14/ The UM shall establish no policies about climate change.

15/ The UM shall never discourage the growing of more food, or tell the people that they have enough food.

UR'47. CONSERVATION AND AGRICULTURE

1/ We shall have no human communities, or conservation areas in places that regularly get scrubbed by a tsunami, be it from the ocean or from a lake. So there will be no conservation areas in any of the flood zones around Lake Victoria, or in the Amazon flood zone, or the other flood zones of the world. Lake Nile and all the flat coastal tsunami areas that have enough water shall be used for agriculture and not habitat. It is pointless to conserve animals and habitats in tsunami zones. We can simply relocate the important wild animals.

2/ It shall also be thought folly to engage in conservation in high latitudes and high elevation because these place will be covered in ice in the next ice age.

3/ The UM and each member nation shall in redundant fashion, regularly survey the entire world for average soil thickness and type, the quantity of groundwater, minerals available and minerals extracted. This shall also include nutrition ratings for the soils. In places where there is abundant groundwater to meet everyone's demand, government shall not regulate how much water individual farmers take from the ground. In places where there is nearly enough groundwater to meet demand, government shall not regulate uses under 40 acres or under. Only in places that truly don't have enough water, may government actually regulate all users, and the water shall only be charged at a rate necessary to balance supply with demand. Furthermore, government shall not charge any fees for farmers to obtain permits, and these shall be issued once per 10 years to reduce the amount of wasted time associated with applications.

4/ Where a desert will not sustain grazing over the long term, and where topsoil will likely be destroyed by over-grazing, the UM shall establish no-grazing zones.

5/ Where low-yield semi-nomadic herders are driving higher-yield sedentary farmers off the land by threat of violence, the UM shall establish no-grazing zones.

6/ Nomadic herding shall generally be prohibited in all places with thin soil, except under the UM's reasonable soil sustainability rules.

7/ The UM shall post signs and patrol its no grazing zones. Animals found grazing illegally in these areas shall be confiscated and sold by the local government for the public purse.

8/ The herders that lack means of living without herding animals unsustainably in a place that is losing its soil shall be relocated to farmland, or places where there is other work for them.

UR'48. ANIMALS MEAT AND DISEASE

1/ The sale of live mammals in food markets and restaurants for human consumption shall be prohibited worldwide.

2/ Bats, rodents, primates, marsupials, raccoons, beavers, foxes, porcupines, skunks, felines, and canines shall not be eaten by people or fed to domestic animals or livestock. Nor shall their meat or body parts be sold.

3/ Those violating the exotic meat rules shall be subject to long incarceration periods.

4/ All nations that have a tradition of consuming wild animals shall in addition to self-policing, allow UM inspectors with the power to arrest and charge upon video evidence of consumption, sale, or possession with intent to sell of prohibited meats.

5/ No media shall encourage people to eat wild animal meat or hunted animal meat, exotic animal meat (as in China), undercooked meat (thick juicy steaks), or jerky. There shall be no markets for live wild exotic mammals as in China. There shall be no exotic animal pet stores.

6/ All pigs must be raised on quarantined farms in a 20x-oversized, county-approved, quarantined pig farming area. No pigs may be raised in or near homes. Worldwide, it shall always be hunting season for loose pigs, feral pigs, wild pigs, pigs on public property, pigs on private property, and pigs outside of a pig quarantine area, and not inside a transport trailer. These pigs may be shot, or killed by dogs and a knife, and the person killing the loose pig shall get to keep the wild pig, or pet pig. They can also call animal control for a free pickup. They may also butcher the pig themselves. However, undocumented pigs from outside the quarantine system shall not be allowed in the regular pig butchering system.

7/ The UM may demand that infected livestock and wildlife be culled in any part of the world. This shall include bats. This requirement shall overrule all environmental laws in all member nations.

8/ The use of steel jaw animal leg traps shall be prohibited.

9/ The UM shall establish minimum standards for live animal ships and butchery of animals. Meat from live animals shall not be considered an essential for survival. In fact, live animals shipments should be halted in times of war, trade blockade and famine because cutting out meat will multiply the food available for most people.

10/ Whenever restaurants or packaged foods use nonstandard cuts, or "giblets", the meat must be called giblets, which shall include anus, neck, ears, feet, organ meat, sex organs, etc. This must be disclosed to customers. Terms like 100% beef shall no longer cut it. The people must know which part of the animal.

11/ The UM shall monitor and regulate aquaculture farming practices worldwide for contamination safety, but not maximum fishery output, or theft. This shall be so for all seashore Pole farming of shellfish, all lobster and crab harvesting, predator management, tilapia farming standards, salmon farming practices and standards, and lobster/ crab beds.

12/ Everyone working the fisheries shall be required to use location tech. The coast guard shall regularly check to make sure that each ship is using a locator. This is how we keep our lobster/crab traps safe and lobster/crab cheap. The fishing fees pay for the regular drone patrols of the trap areas.

13/ No animals shall be eaten alive by good humans with hearts. Eating animals and killing them slowly should also be a thing of heartless people with no sense of mercy. Even insects and shellfish should be killed before they are eaten, cut up, or cooked.

14/ The UM shall establish global standards for which animal parts are considered meat for human consumption, and which are for canning as poor aid food, or using as pet food.

15/ It shall be a crime to eat or prepare dog or cat meat. The eating or selling, or cooking of dogs or cats shall also be a crime worldwide. No restaurant in any member nation shall offer either dog or cat meat.

16/ There shall be no fake or synthetic meat passed off as real meat, and this shall be considered food adulteration in all member nations.

17/ The slaughter of un-stunned animals shall be prohibited throughout the UM. All special Islamic or kosher slaughter shall be prohibited. All meat called either halal or kosher shall be prohibited.

UR'49. DISEASE PREVENTION

1/ A top priority of the UM shall be to ubiquitize and distribute all safe and effective vaccines, preventatives and treatments for contagious diseases.

2/ The UM shall only make recommendations regarding healthcare and infectious diseases. The UM shall have no power to make any legally binding orders about healthcare.

3/ The UM shall be prohibited from requiring or even calling for quarantines and lockdowns in response to epidemics. This sort of thing shall be up to the various member nations to do. The UM may strike down national quarantines and lockdowns.

4/ The UM shall not regulate travel or travelers, or international travel in any way. The UM shall be prohibited from taking any actions against potential plagues. This sort of thing shall be up to the various member nations to do.

5/ The UM shall not keep personal data on the people of the world.

6/ The UM shall not command the construction or development of any health infrastructure, or the adoption of any healthcare practices.

7/ The UM shall not establish policy or mandate medical examinations, proof of prophylaxis, proof of vaccine or contract tracing quarantine in any member nation. The UM may however recommend these. No global tests or test certificates, or vaccines, or vaccine certificates shall be required by the UM.

8/ The UM shall not provide any healthcare, except that give to nations too poor to afford it.

9/ No money donated to the UM shall be given under any donor conditions.

10/ The UM shall work to make sure that all municipal and community water supplies are safe and sufficiently chlorinated if necessary.

11/ If the UM decides to eliminate certain bat species, and other pest species from the wild, all member nations must cooperate.

12/ All tobacco trademarks shall be cancelled forthwith in all member nations. The following tobacco companies and brand names are all included, along with all the other tobacco trade names that now in existence. This applies to all tobacco products and derivatives and synthetic tobacco products and drugs, as well as chewed tobacco products. But not to nicotine chewing gum:

a/ It shall apply to Philip Morris International, Altria Group, British American Tobacco, ITC India, Imperial Brands, Japan Tobacco International, China National Tobacco Company Swedish Match, Eastern Co Egypt, PT Gudang Garam Tbk, Djarum PT, Universal, Tobacco authority of Thailand, Vietnam National Tobacco Corp, Swisher International, KT&G of South Korea, and also Marlboro, Pal Mall, Philip Morris, Lucky Strike, Dunhill, Derby, Kent, Hollywood, Chesterfield, Red Point, L&M Rothmans, Parliament, Natural American Spirit, Doral, Sobranie, Virginia Slims, Copenhagen, Capri, Boston, Montana, Delicados, Dallas, Camel, Benson & Hedges, Newport, Maverick, Santa Fe, Salem, Winston, Kool, Davidoff, Vogue, John Player & Sons, Lanbert & Butler, Sterling, Mild-7, Gold Flake, Classic, Insignia, India Kings, navy Cut, Players, Scissors, Capstan, Berkeley, Bristol, Silk Cut, Duke & Royal. Zhonghua/ Chunghwa, Zhongnanhai, Shuangxi, Hongtashan, Yu Xi, Liqun Ziuxian, Suyan, Nanjing, Panda, Huanghelou.

13/ For repeatedly acting in a way that harmed public health, the entire tobacco industry and the Nestle corporation, shall lose all of their IP rights and brand rights, and all their brands and all their assets shall be nationalized by the nations where the assets are located in. Companies that severely or repeatedly misbehave, like Nestle, shall be nationalized and closed down like Nestle. So all stock investors shall be on notice that the greatest risk for their stock investment is not poor return, but getting busted for social misconduct on the part of the company they have invested in, where the entire investment may get wiped out. However, where this benefits a competitor, (such as the behavior of Target and Bud Light) the Senate shall be suspicious of bizarrely suicidal management practices. The name, Nestle shall no longer have any trademark protection, and anybody may use it.

14/ The UM shall also cancel all the liquor and beer brands worldwide. Also, no name other than the generic drug name shall get IP protection. Also, brand names for drugs shall not be used by pharmacists, or advertised anywhere worldwide.

15/ All drains in all cities worldwide must have a plumbing water trap. All new construction drains shall have a 10-cm deep plumbing water trap. All lavatory overflow drains must be at least 3cm in area and covered with mosquito screen.

16/ All cereal brand names that previously had over 12%

sugar shall be cancelled and no products may be sold under these brand names. Also, the following sugar for breakfast cereal manufacturing companies shall be cancelled: Kellogg's, Post, and General Mills. Breakfast cereals shall not be imported to our nation.

17/ Because there is no benefit to a central UM system of drug and vaccine approval, there shall not be any such system. The UM shall not have the power who authorize vaccines or medical treatment, and only the national governments of the various nations of the world shall have the authority to authorize vaccines and medical treatment for use in the various nations. The WHO shall die and there shall be no global government agency put in place to deal with vaccines.

18/ There shall be no government ban on the use of stem cells, or stem cell research, or funding for these things.

19/ No member nations shall allow dogs and cats that have not been vaccinated and tagged/tattooed/numbered for rabies and the other common diseases. All member nations, no matter how poor shall have dog-catchers like the richer nations of the world.

20/ The UM shall establish minimum worldwide standards for X-ray equipment. All the old equipment shall be pulled from use and replaced with new global-standard ubiquitized and mass produced x-ray equipment.

21/ Where most people are afraid to drink the tap water, this dirty water shall not be turned into a cooling mist that people breathe.

22/ In all urban places, all water tanks must be enclosed to reduce evaporation and increase water safety.

23/ The UM shall offer free optometry schools where they teach people how to test people for eyeglasses. The UM shall provide eye testing and standard colored, standard shaped cellulose acetate eyeglasses in 7 different sizes and all common prescriptions in polycarbonate at no charge to anyone in the world that needs glasses.

24/ All member nations shall phase out the use of betel and especially tobacco in new young people. All immigrants shall be non-smokers and Immigrants found either smoking or using beetle or spitting, shall be deported.

UR'50. ENVIRONMENT AND INDUSTRY

1/ The UM shall establish and enforce reasonable and uniform minimum worldwide pollution standards. Also, the UM shall attempt to establish reasonable uniform worldwide minimum rules for worker health, safety, and child employment.

2/ Environmental penalties shall not be so low that they are ineffective, nor shall they be so high that they discourage investment, or create an opportunity for those who would sabotage their competitors.

3/ Due to big changes in the nature of urbanism, urban transportation, and last couple mile vehicles, we will no longer really have petroleum vehicles in our cities. So this will enable us to greatly reduce our emission control standards for petroleum powered vehicles. Also, we shall say that Government environmental policy shall lower clean emissions standards, so that gasoline burning vehicles may get better mileage. For too long OPEC has been pushing things in the other direction as follows:

a/ Catalytic converters for gasoline burning vehicles shall not be required to eliminate more than 90% of unburned hydrocarbons, particulates, or nitrogen oxides, or more than 94% of the carbon monoxide.

b/ Carbon dioxide shall no longer be considered a pollutant. It shall no longer be regulated in any way as a pollutant that needs to be eliminated from vehicle exhaust emissions.

c/ Regarding sulfur dioxide and volatile organic compounds in gasoline vehicle exhaust: No more than 95% of these shall shall require removal.

d/ Due to changes in the nature of urbanism and urban transportation, the maximum acceptable noise levels for vehicles shall be lowered and also, all vehicles (old, new, cars trucks, and motorcycles, all must comply with the same standards.

4/ Because most trucking will now be replaced by electric trains, and because all communities will be far from truck roads, we shall no longer use diesel oxidation catalysts, or diesel particulate filters or flow through filters. The only emissions reduction equipment that trucks will use shall now be the 3-way catalyst, and this shall use no more than 4% of the engine's power.

5/ No nation shall have stricter emissions standards. Otherwise, this will drive industry change that will harm fuel economy worldwide. Because we will have special zones for only electric, hydrogen and compressed air vehicles, we can have much dirtier vehicle emissions for the countryside. So we will relax our exhaust emissions substantially.

6/ There shall be no emissions controls for aircraft.

7/ Carbon dioxide shall not be considered a pollutant.

8/ Certain especially polluting types and grades of coal and oil may be prohibited until mankind runs out of other cleaner forms of energy.

9/ All classes of materials shall be refined and made to the same uniform UM toxicity standards worldwide whether as raw materials or used in finished products.

10/ All international ore shipments, and all refineries shall abide by uniform UM standards for toxic impurities.

11/ In general, it shall be prohibited to make goods plated with metals like chrome and nickel for mostly aesthetic reasons. This shall be prohibited worldwide, as these goods are almost invariably shorter lived as a result of the metal plating. These shall not be manufactured, sold, or transported. Chrome and other plating may however be used for parts that don't show inside mechanisms, and electronic components. Chrome plating shall be especially prohibited in bathrooms and on vehicles.. If there's of genuine reason for plating, such as for electronic components, or for extreme environments, or where the plating procedure is not terribly toxic, we should allow that, zinc dipping shall be called that, and zinc electroplating shall be called that. Galvanizing shall be the new name for magnetic alignment, particularly with regard to political movements.

12/ The use of galvanized steel shall be prohibited on all roofs, exterior ledges and as rain gutters. Instead copper must be used.

13/ There shall be no lead, mercury, arsenic, cadmium, beryllium, antimony, hexavalent chromium, fluoride, graphene oxide, or radioactive materials in any foods, drinks, fuels, paints, finishes, pipes, ceramics, plates, bowls, glasses, glass, roof materials, cutlery, paints, fuels, solders, drugs, treatments, vaccines, food packaging, skin products, wine bottle caps, or any other place we find that the Mideast enemies of freedom have put their poison. All shall be prohibited. There shall be no more dental fillings that contain mercury. People keep the fillings they have, but all the mercury fillings have to stop. And we shall batch test all products at import and again at tested products only stores. And all of the plastics and all of the finishes and all of the fancy chemistry has to conform to what we allow in our nation.

Again, we don't want to introduce any mercury in our mouths and our bodies at all, and new mercury fillings shall be banned entirely worldwide. The use of thimerosal shall be prohibited worldwide, and all products containing it must be delivered for destruction within 180 days.

Government shall no longer protect the intellectual property rights of any product, medical treatment, brand, drug, or anything else that ever contained mercury or Thimerosal. For certainly, all of this was from Ishtar trying to kill off us Rumi.

Those who secretly administer any of these things including especially the poisoning of our tap water, toothpaste and mouth rinses with fluoride shall be charged with a felony. Dietary fluoride (a toxin) shall only be available in liquid drops form 14/ The UM may ban environmentally unfriendly processes and substances worldwide as it elects with a 2/3 overmajority.

15/ No lamps, electronics or other product shall contain more than 0.3 parts per million mercury. All goods transported internationally that contain lead, mercury, cadmium, antimony, arsenic, beryllium must be registered with the UM and their sources and supply chains must be investigated to make sure that their toxic ingredients come from safe and registered supply chains.

16/ Gasoline, toys, paint and construction materials including pipe solders shall contain no added lead or mercury. This includes aircraft fuel. The use of lead for wine bottles tops shall be prohibited worldwide. The Senate shall carefully study how often people working or living around lead-based paints suffer from lead poisoning.

17/ To reduce graffiti pollution, paint and pigmented liquids shall not be sold in pre-pressurized vessels, or vessels than can be easily pressurized. Non-political graffiti messages shall be a per count crime.

18/ Perfume, incense, hashish, candles, and tobacco containing products shall not be traded between nations or used in public places. The UM shall prevent the manufacturer and commerce in banned perfumes all around the world.

19/ The UM shall regulate the mining, processing, and new use of toxic asbestos worldwide.

a/ Building materials that contain trace amounts of asbestos shall be prohibited. The UM shall monitor all building product sources worldwide to assure their safety from a toxin that has been killing around 100,000 people annually.

b/ Nobody shall work in an environment where significant amounts of cancer-causing asbestos fibers are flying around, and all asbestos mining and processing must be robotic.

c/ Newly manufactured products (including new units of established products) shall not contain significant amounts of asbestos without a need approved by the UM.

d/ All products new, old, and discarded that contain asbestos must have UM approval prior to international shipping.

e/ Government shall not compel anyone to do anything with existing generally non-flyable asbestos that is not giving-off significant amounts of asbestos dust.

f/ When structures containing asbestos are demolished, this must be done in such a way that the structure is thoroughly wetted throughout the demolition, so that asbestos dust does not get into the community. Also, neighbors must be notified prior to demolition.

g/ There shall be a standard payment in each nation for each asbestos-related terminal illness. This amount shall be equal to the payment in that nation for each tobacco related terminal illness. However, where the responsible party is bankrupt, neither government, nor any insurance company shall make good on the liability.

h/ There shall be no more asbestos legacy lawsuits, and all future asbestos lawsuits shall be void.

20/ Underground petroleum contamination that is neither causing significant amounts of air pollution, nor ground water pollution may be left alone. Ocean oil seeps being a natural phenomenon, small occasional amounts of extracted oil leaking into the ocean shall be considered a natural phenomenon up to 50BBL/5 years. After this, all oil leaked into the ocean shall pay a flat rate per barrel equal to 200 times the value of that oil. Thus if 1/2 of 1% of an oil company's oil is leaking into the ocean, the oil company will make no profit.

21/ No permit or special licensing shall be required to remove residential heating oil tanks from the ground. However a building inspector must come out to verify that all the obviously contaminated soil has been removed and sent to an appropriate free government dump site.

22/ There shall be no burning of fields or biomass that can be used as fertilizer, except when it is a bio-hazardous. This is the life force of our planet. We should only burn bio-energy that is not suitable for fertilizer.

23/ Access to safe water shall be considered a basic human right. It shall not be allowed for fictional citizens to acquire the right to scarce water that the people need for drinking, cooking, cleaning, or toilets.

24/ The only place where fictional citizens can own water use rights is where they develop the irrigation project themselves.

25/ Companies that sell bottled water, and make extreme margins on this water may be nationalized where the other sources of water became oddly contaminated.

26/ In general, piped drinking/sink/cold shower water should flow above ground and above truck height, and along side a busy road where it is illuminated at night and visible. The other water for toilets and hot water systems, and irrigation should be in the ground and used as backup. But it must be treated.

27/ Because of the widespread prevalence of oil and coal and iron, ore all around the world, it shall not be allowed to ship these over the oceans, except where they simply not available on that particular continent.

28/ The UM shall monitor the working conditions, worker safety, and pollution output of the in the dumps, mines, refineries, and toxic industries in the developing world for compliance with global standards. The UM shall also have the power to fine and shut down unsafe and polluting facilities in the developing world for failure to comply with global standards.

29/ The UM shall have nothing to do with species protection, or the environmental protection, or for any further idiocy about CO2. No more than 20% of any member nation shall be designated for wilderness, and this should generally be the areas around our townships that we want to keep as attractive and natural, as well as the lands for humans are not normally useful for agricultural uses.

30/ Cashew nut extraction causes horrible disfigurement of the hands of the people working in this exploitive industry of desperate poverty. Therefore, all member nations shall be required to prohibit the importation and sale of cashew nuts until there exist cost-effective robots for extracting these nuts from the fruit. After this, then only nations certified by the UM as using robots exclusively to extract cashew nuts shall be allowed to export cashew nuts.

31/ There shall never be any educational requirement to work in farming, ranching, mining, or aquaculture, or fishing.

32/ All member nations shall be required first perforate drill their entire nation's bedrock to a depth of 2 meters at roughly 1,000m on center looking for ores and minerals. Later the UM shall mandate the exploratory drilling of the world at a 1,000m on center. All around the world shall identify and quantify all resources, underground, and also above ground.

34/ The various member nations of the UM may lease-out, or give-away access to their underground minerals, rail lines, roads, bridges, and other public infrastructure and key resources. However these leases and access grants shall never be exclusive, or limited to a few companies/individuals, and they shall never be for more than 10 years. All attempts by member nations to grant any of the above exclusively, or for longer than 10 years shall not only be void, but both the people granting and the people receiving such illegal grants shall be subject to charges of felony corruption.

35/ To help the planet to be greener and more productive, the UM shall mass produce factory equipment for coating seeds in fertilizer that is not edible by birds and animals. It shall also have dry farming programs for planting trees in cajetes.

36/ All of the chemicals used by man shall have a SKU code, with the first digit implying how toxic or just dangerous the stuff is. Then spills can be described as something like 500kg of cat 7 toxicity.

UR'51. THE SEAS

1/ All of the world's oceans more than 100km from land shall belong to the UM and shall be the UM's seas.

2/ The right to access ocean territory that is less than 100km from more than one nation shall be apportioned by the UM as follows:

a/ Foreign warships can only enter if all nations agree.

b/ Foreign trade ships may enter freely.

c/ Foreign ships shall not fish there. The UM manages the catch to assure fishery longevity.

x/ The forgoing shall not apply to the seas at sphinxes and canals.

3/ All of the 7 sea sphinxes and their access waters shall be considered UM areas subject to UM control if a free flow of trade is disrupted. These shall include:

a/ The Panama Canal.

b/ The Suez canal, Red Sea, and Gulf of Aden.

c/ The Straights of Alaska (Bearing)

d/ The Straights of Malaysia.

e/ The Straights of Gibraltar.

f/ The Straights of Istanbul.

g/ The Straights of Hormuz.

4/ The Panama Canal and the Straits of Alaska (Bearing straits) shall be owned and run by the United States for the benefit of the Americas. The Straights of Gibraltar and the Straights of Istanbul shall be owned by Europe, and no fee may ever be charged to use either straits for any reason. The hugely expensive Suez Canal was built by the Europeans, and it shall be returned to Europe as an eternal European possession, just like the Panama Canal shall be returned to the US as an eternally US possession. Also, the Europeans shall manage their Suez Canal at no profit, just like the Americans are required to manage their Panama canal. Like with the Panama canal, crossing fees for the Suez canal shall only be charged when there is simply not enough capacity for all the traffic otherwise. Then, all of the profits from these allocative crossing fees shall be divided-up among the the people of Africa. All of the other sphinxes in the world shall be run by the UM itself and all fee money shall go to the UM development aid fund for the poorest of that region.

5/ The UM shall not tolerate any sphinx piracy at all. It shall secure all of the world's sea sphinxes and seas against piracy.

6/ All ships on UM seas shall be registered with the UM, and no other ship registry shall be valid in UM waters. The UM shall not deny, delay, or charge for ship registry, except where ownership cannot be clearly determined, or the ship's location beacon regularly goes off or is removed from the ship. War ships belonging to the governments of member nations shall however not be required to have any beacons on them. All unregistered ships in the oceans shall be confiscated by the UM and auctioned off with none of the proceeds money going to the vessel's owners.

7/ The UM shall rule, regulate and patrol the seas in between its member nations. The UM shall have the right to monitor the location, cargo, books, and accounts of all ships on the UM's seas, except the military, military support ships, and patrol ships of UM member nations. The UM shall secure the seas against piracy. Additionally each nation shall also try to secure its shorelines against piracy. If the UM declares a piracy crisis in a certain area, the vessels traveling through this area may carry reasonable arms to defend themselves from pirate ships. The UM shall keep detailed statistics on pirate attacks worldwide.

8/ All harvesting of marine life in all of the world's oceans and more than 100km from shore shall be under UM management. The UM shall have the right to restrict fishing techniques and catch amounts to assure the sustainability of the world's fisheries. All fishing license income for fishing in the UM's ocean territory shall accrue to the UM's general fund.

9/ The UM shall determine optimal fish populations and fish output for each area. Then it shall auction off the right to harvest fish in a way that leaves sufficient fish populations behind and distributed.

10/ Marine mammals shall not be hunted for their meat or body parts. Marine mammals may however be reasonably and humanely culled to increase the fish harvest.

11/ The UM shall have the power to close PU run areas of the seas to shipping vessels and to prohibit sea trade with PU and non-member nations.

12/ It shall be a crime to take so much fish that the catch gets depleted. However, it is also wrong to leave fish when it will not deplete the catch.

13/ The Bosporous shall be open to all ships from all nations at no cost except the needed allocation taxes. This shall include the warships of all nations. As usual for all canals, this shall not apply to small boats unless there is room in the schedule for them. Everyone crossing to or from Istanbul to the southern part of Turkey must use a bridge. If Turkey completes its secondary canal, it should only be for small ships.

14/ The narrow strip of Thai coastline southeast of the intersection of Cambodian highway 55 and Thai highway 3 shall be ceded to Cambodia. This new border shall be where the fishing rights of the two nations are divided. Likewise with the Thai border with Malaysia if that is adjusted.

15/ The UM shall abhor and fight against all who would stop the flow of trade until the payment tribute is exacted. On the seas this shall be regarded as piracy and on land, it is Brigandage. Also, eliminating the possibility of tribute for trade passing through is an important aspect of ending war.

16/ The world's marine mammal and penguin populations shall be managed by the UM. All marine mammals must be killed using a UM-approved humane method. The UM shall prohibit whaling for meat and or body parts, unless the UM determines that it is necessary to cull certain species of marine mammal due to overpopulation. All whaling for meat and body parts shall be prohibited worldwide without a UM permit, which may simply not be available.

17/ In order to improve the fish supply in the seas, and reduce shark attacks, we shall cull the populations of white sharks, tiger sharks, bull sharks, requiem sharks, sand tiger sharks, sandbar sharks, brown sharks, blacktip sharks, and wobbegong sharks in various ways and their populations greatly reduced anywhere near where people use the seas for recreation and fishing. None of these species shall be made extinct, but their sizes shall be reduced to below 160cm wherever they are encountered near crowded or fishing areas. Also, there shall be a 365 day open season on stingrays within 30km of any popular beach. The Senate may add other species to this. We shall emulate the Malayan practice of eating these fish with sambal so as to increase hunting of these nuisance fish that will never go extinct. Further, shark, stingray piranha and certain other nuisance fish sold by fish sellers shall generally be exempt from taxation.

18/ The UM Senate may decide to reduce whale populations to increase ocean output if necessary.

19/ Antarctica, and both the arctic and antarctic ice sheets shall belong to the UM.

20/ All ports all around the world shall have annual tsunami drills to make sure that they can evacuate in time. It will be very important to have ships after the tsunami to help people who are in otherwise inaccessible areas.

21/ If we look at the bathymetry of the seas between Sulawesi and New Guinea, there is definite sea erosion. Here we imagine very high seas that are quite slow moving. We shall look at the on-shore tsunami erosion topography and model the flood here. The people of Indonesia need to know this.

22/ The UM shall verify identity and ownership rights of all boats entering or leaving international waters, or newly docking in all ports and national waters, worldwide.

23/ The UM shall regularly inspect all oil tankers, ferries, cruise ships, and other passenger ships for cracks and other damage that might make the ship unseaworthy. This is in addition to the inspections by the nation of registry. The UM shall have the power to say of the ships it inspects that the ship is too dangerous to use on the oceans if there is genuine cause for this.

24/ There shall continue to be ship owners and freight forwarders, but there shall be no more low-collateral middleman Non-Vessel-Operating Common Carriers going forward. Indeed, Government should try to design economic systems to eliminate all double-middleman situations like this.

25/ Regarding cruise ships:

a/ The money gets paid to the hosting nation's county recorder system which then pays the cruise ship operator after the cruise is over.

b/ In the interest of fuel economy, all cruise ships worldwide shall have a maximum speed of 20-kph regardless of water currents.

c/ As with all nightly and weekly rentals sold internationally, all cruise ship booking marketing and purchase agreements must display an accurate 1:100 floor plan of the actual compartment/premises rented with all attached spaces. This floor plan shall show representations of the furniture, doors, bathroom fixtures, and fenestration. Also, as with all nightly and weekly rentals sold internationally, least 4 wide-angle (but not fisheye) corner pictures of every room from county recorder system photographs of the compartment/premises marketed or transacted. These photos must be less than 1-year old, and come from the county recorder system archive. These photographs shall include the unique room number painted on the inside wall of the compartment/premises rented. Also, it shall be considered fraud if the renter has multiple rooms with the same number. If we fail to do this we have many operators displaying their best-preserved room in their marketing photographs, and repeatedly giving their customers a much more worn and old room. No, we are in the information age. It will not cost anything to require that the nightly and weekly renters display non-manipulated, recorder-system, third-party photographs of the actual place rented. To be clear this does not only apply to cruise ships and their frequently irregular-shaped spaces, but to all nightly and weekly rental sold internationally.

d/ Which floor the rental's premises is on must be declared to the renter. If any part of the rental is in a basement, this must be acknowledged by the renter. If any part of the ceiling is less than 2.2 meters, this must be disclosed. The scale floor plan must be displayed second in all photo or video thumbnail sequences.

e/ Every international landlord and renter shall have a lifelong travel identity, so that we have less stealing, noise making, dishonesty, and problems associated with one of the information age's greatest treasures: House sharing, and safe cheap high quality touring.

f/ The Senate shall study the CouchSurfing review boards and require that certain industries emulate the best features on their websites. Special attention should be paid to the way reviewers and hosts were driven to take pride in writing out accurate reviews.

26/ The helm of all power boats worldwide must either have a captain overboard deadman's physical switch, or a captain overboard deadman's switch that uses an electronic proximity fob to work. Also, where a proximity fob is used, the boat is supposed to automatically cut power, and then slowly return to the fob, and the person overboard that is attached to it. Also, all open motor boats shall have a remote control kill switch and fuel shut off valves that the pilot has the remote control for, hanging from his belt. Also, there should be wrist or belt transponders that people can turn on in case they go overboard.

27/ There shall be no national or international prohibitions on people visiting Antarctica. All prior prohibitions shall be void. The US, UK, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan, China, and Australia shall all immediately conduct their own aircraft photo surveys of Antarctica and publish the photographs online even before they are put together. They shall also publish the photographs online once combined. Also, the exposed portions of Antarctica and the southernmost parts of South America shall be carefully surveyed for both fossils and ancient civilizations, from millions of years ago, when these areas were the only temperate part of the planet.

28/ There shall be no UM successor to the un international Maritime organization. Each nation shall own and organize its own ports, and there shall be no international centralization of Port management or shipping on the high seas. There shall only be UM rules for pollution and fishing.

29/ Where practical, government shall allow the netting-off of the fjords and inlets of Norway, Canada, Denmark, Scotland, New Zealand, and South America for aquaculture.

30/ Regarding the shore of San Diego and Baja, the following inlets shall be open to oil drilling and ports for pleasure boats:

a/ The two inlets north of Oceanside.

b/ The one inlet north of, and the one inlet south of Palomar airport.

c/ The one inlet north of Solana Beach, and the one inlet south of Solana Beach.

d/ We also imagine the US excavating a 1-km wide canal with 500m sloped on either side, excavated as far east as Boulevard Manuel J. Clouthier Then there is the military reservation border zone down the rest of the Arroyo Alamar valley. All of the lands either in the Arroyo Alamar valley and all of the land north of the valley shall be US territory.

31/ In northern Baja California are 3 places that should be dredged and made into ports:

a/ The south side of the Tijuana canal will be full of container cranes for the trade between Mexas and Asia.

b/ The Santa Anita port south of Ensenada. The surrounding hills would be a lovely area for ocean-view townships.

c/ All the low land areas around present day Ensenada should be cleared of buildings and the area turned into a large port for pleasure boats. The surrounding hills are likewise ideal for townships.

32/ The UM shall regulate aquaculture farming practices throughout the developing world for cleanliness and suitability for human consumption, including all seashore pole farming of shellfish, all shrimp farming, all lobster and crab harvesting, predator management, tilapia farming standards, salmon farming practices, lobster/ crab beds, and sea fisheries. However, the amounts of fish that can be taken in each country shall be set by that country, so as to maximize output of the various fisheries. All nations shall be required to sensibly install salmon ladders/stairs to reasonably maximize the salmon harvest on their suitable and non-polluted waterways.

33/ No animals should be eaten/cooked alive by good humans with hearts. Eating/cooking animals and killing them slowly should be a thing of heartless people with no sense of mercy. Even insects and shellfish should be killed before they are cooked, eaten, or cut up.

34/ The UM shall sanction nations for dumping mass amounts of garbage into the ocean. This shall include non-member nations that fail to enforce the rules upon private party dumpers. Upon clear video evidence of mass garbage dumping, the UM may also seize and scuttle vessels. The UM may also lock up the garbage boat crews for up to three years.

35/ All member nations with ocean frontage are supposed to operate their own merchant marine for all their own nation's needs with container fees at 10% over built cost. Private companies shall be free to compete.

36/ The UM shall publish data on the percent of containers lost by all carriers land and sea together with the average value of these lost containers for each carrier land and sea. Where cargo is lost to raiding and war and this is east of Centograd, the Chinese government shall insure the loss. Where this occurs on the European side, the national government of each shipper/recipient shall pay. Where this occurs on the Indian side, the national government of India shall pay. Where this occurs on the African side, the UM government shall pay. All international container shipments shall be inspected and video documented by the sender, the sending nation's customs police, the recipient nation's customs police, and the recipient.

37/ We will have many ocean inlets that are 99.9% netted off for predator fish and used to spawn fish, which fishermen shall pay for based on their catch. We will tend to favor more enclosed seas when we release the "small fry" fish. We will use the following areas for fish release: The Hudson bay, the Saint Lawrence seaway, Vancouver bay, the many inlets of the Alaska coast. There will only be a couple narrow passages for boats.

38/ To encourage and slightly subsidize baby businesses around the world, the UM shall require that all standard sized shipping boxes over 1 cubic meter move at no more than 170% of the full container rate per cubic meter. This shall be so for all sorts of ground freight, sea freight, rail freight, and truck freight. However all shipments shall charge 2-hour's wages for the cost of inspecting every single shipment that comes in. There may also be tariffs and duties.

39/ All merchant ships shall be allowed to carry arms in the Indian ocean, the Arabian gulf and Red Sea areas when traveling through the Middle East, especially 40/ There shall be no more selling of live fish as most of this fish uses cyanide to stun the fish. Besides these fish normally taste like dirty fish tanks anyway.

41/ Where fisherman from one nation are sabotage the fishing industry of other nations, the UM shall exclude them from foreign fishing for a time, be it 30 days or 90 days.

42/ Each nation shall have the right to seize or sink all pirate vessels plundering its fisheries. The crew however must be given quarters, but this can be in irons.

43/ Where nations sell access to their fisheries, this shall always be done out in the open, and the catch must be must be verified and posted. The catch in all fisheries shall therefore all be measured and tracked. The UM shall fund small scale fish hatcheries all over the world for management by the local fishermen. Also, maybe there is special robotic processing for the pregnant fish on their way into the ship's holds. Then the eggs get put onto drones to shore for spawning.

44/ Because the salty corrosive oceans are ideal of pollution, we shall say that internationally, all ocean ships shall be free to burn HFO or heavy fuel oil, even if they are making port in London, or Seattle, or Vallejo, or Quebec City, or Norfolk, or or Amsterdam, or Saint Petersburg, or some other similarly inland port.

UR'52. TRAVEL IDENTITY

1/ Everyone entering and leaving any UM member nation must show their identity document (real or virtual), and allow their fingerprints to be scanned. The term fingerprint may be expanded to include palm prints, iris scans and electronic face recognition system scans.

2/ Where member nation issue travel documents for citizens that have any of the following issues, the travel document must disclose the issue and describe it in detail.

a/ All criminal convictions except those related to free speech and free protest.

b/ Have ever had a methamphetamine, cocaine, or a high use opiate license.

c/ Have a high use alcohol license.

d/ Have ever been beggars.

e/ Have history of being on public assistance. This shall not include payments for children, or pensions.

3/ Nations shall be free to require that certain foreign visitors always carry a powered telephone with them to track their location.

4/ All passports shall have a virtual counterpart accessed by a 16 digit international ID code. People can show or say their 16 digit international ID code to immigration control, or they can show their photo ID card. Once the number is entered, the verification system looks at the camera feed for a match with the photo on record with that ID number. The system may also have fingerprint verification, and challenge questions and other means of ID verification. The system shall also use height and weight metrics. All member nations shall allow travel with only a passport number or a QR code for that passport. Under this system, passports shall never expire for use in returning to one's own nation. Also, citizens who have lost their passport but have a photograph or a photocopy of their passport ID page may show this to both the airline and to immigration control as proof of the right to enter.

5/ All member nations shall use the same standards for waterproof, multi-chip passport cards, and the same nation-based international system of remote biometric identity verification.

6/ Everyone from every nation shall have the right to enter their home country with an expired passport. They shall also be allowed to leave the country they're visiting and returned to their home country with an expired passport, so long as the passport expired in a foreign nation.

7/ When citizens return home from overseas, as Individual travelers they may not be asked questions about what they did overseas.

8/ All passport ID cards shall be issued in two versions: Full ID and anonymized. The full ID will be used in lower crime nations, the anonymized version in higher crime nations. The anonymized version uses the first name and the initial of the last name. Also Passport ID cards real and virtual may be used as cash cards and shall have a hidden app that does not record the account balance on the user's handheld unless this option is selected. Also, each passport ID card may have several cash card accounts.

9/ Digital passports not only can't be lost, stolen, held as security, or forged, but they also allow for anonymized travel in this age where everyone's fancy home is so easy to google. Therefore digital passports offer a much better way to do travel identity than passport booklets.

10/ Government identity cards, driving licenses, passports, back up passport, identity cards, and similar things shall be provided for free by government. All physical passports shall now switch over to being in the form of waterproof plastic ID cards.

11/ Only the justice system shall be permitted to take away or hold a foreign person's identity and travel documents, and then only when they are a flight risk, or they have been incarcerated.

12/ Passports must be issued or denied by government within 21 days of application by every nation.

13/ Everywhere a road crosses from one nation into another, The border line shall be painted on the road in white paint, along with the names of the two nations. These names shall be written in letters over 60cm tall across the road on either side of the border line.

14/ Those traveling to a few nations, will log into their state.gov account and request to verify their identity with these foreign nations. Then when/if they get approved by each nation, they can enter the nation for the rest of their life, or until the nation sends them an official email saying that they are not allowed in for some time. While the foreigner is in the foreign nation, they use that nation's foreigner ID number, Which works just like a citizen number in that foreign nation. This number is tied anonymously to the foreigner's identity back in their home nation.

15/ The UM shall foster a 8-tier financial certification system for travelers from the various nations of the world. Under this system, the various nations may establish different entry requirements from the same nation depending on the traveller's UM confirmed wealth tier. The UM shall issue an account number to each traveller from each nation, and this account number may be given to immigration control people. Notably the account holders shall not actually need to carry the ID card or have any mention of being a high income person for reasons of safety.

UM tier-1 = Destitute refugees and exhods.

UM tier-2 = Refugees with some resources, more than tier-1.

UM tier-3 = Low-skilled workers

UM tier-4 = Semi-skilled workers and low wealth travelers worth more than tier-3.

UM tier-5 = Skilled workers and mid-wealth travelers worth more than tier-4.

UM tier-6 = High-wealth travelers worth more than tier-5.

UM tier-7 = Rich travelers worth more than tier-6.

The definition of tier-1, tier-2, tier-3, tier-4 and tier-5 wealth levels above shall be determined and adjusted from time to time by the UM. All UM member nations shall allow tier-5, tier-6, and tier-7 travelers to enter without a return ticket. Some nations may allow tier-4 travelers to to enter without a return ticket. Some other nations may allow other tiers to enter without a return ticket.

16/ The requirement that people have onward travel arrangements shall be prohibited entirely, and sufficient funds shall be enough evidence.

17/ The UM shall create a system of travel bonding so that the various nations may make a claim against a traveller's bond in case of liability for healthcare, deportation, or fines for illegal working. Bonded travelers shall not be asked for onward tickets or health insurance. They will also be allowed longer stays because the hosting government can make a claim against the bond if the visitor works illegally.

18/ All land border crossings shall have a 1-meter wide line painted on the road at the actual border line. The names of each nation shall be painted on opposite sides of this line in large letters.

19/ All UM travel identity e-documents shall verify the identity of the users without the travel industry people, and hotel industry people knowing the name of their customer. This may later extend to border guards.

20/ The UM shall provide duplicate cause of death investigations where the citizens of one nation die in a suspicious way while traveling in another nation.

21/ With the exception of Japan, Taiwan, Korea, and Singapore, all the nations of Africa, Asia, South America, Mexico and Central America shall offer 6-month visas on arrival to tier 5, 6 and 7 travelers. They shall all however be free to establish their own rules for tier 1, 2, 3, and 4 travelers.

22/ When a person wants to visit a foreign nation, they enter their name and passport number into that nation's visitor registry and pay 1-hour's wages. The nation then either approves or denies them. If the application is approved, then the person get a lifelong guest ID number. Then the visitor can enter until the nation notifies them that their entry key has been turned-off, or is about to be turned off according to that nation's rules about visiting and migrating. The UM shall manage this system, however, the individual nations shall have sovereign power over which people they let in as guests and as immigrants. This system also tracks how much each person spends in each nation each year. It also redundantly indicates tax residency status in percentages for each year and requests the tax money sharing when the taxpayer has foreign tax obligations.

23/ It shall be a crime to hold peoples passports or drivers licenses to assure their return. It shall also be a minor crime to give your ID for this purpose.

24/ Each nation shall maintain a .gov official website that shows all of the visa and travel restrictions for every other nation when they visit that nation. This website may be relied upon by all travelers, and there shall be no changes made less than 48 hours before they come into effect except in cases of unpredictable emergency.

25/ Whether a person leaves a country, and makes a visa run shall have no bearing on any visa for any member nation. Also, there shall be no 3months in 6 rules. The UM shall instead encourage seasonal lifestyles because of the opportunity it creates for the poor people of the world to take the unwanted part of the year. To live say in Anchorage in the winter and Phoenix in the summer for very little cost.

26/ There shall no longer be any third-party passport and visa facilitation services anywhere on earth. No government shall cooperate with these. Also, it shall be a crime to engage in this corrupt practice. All passport applications shall be via the county recorder system, and the department of states shall no longer have anything to do with passport applications, except to review the applications and verify the people.

27/ All nations must accept their own expired passports for entry.

28/ All member nations shall have a system for parents to authorize or block international travel via the county recorder system.

29/ The UM shall have embassy buildings all around the world that all of the member nations can rent as a front end. The universal embassy structure will host many nations, and these will be in all the world cities and distributed perhaps one per half million people. The counties will provide both security, document intake, document collection, and ID verification at cost. Also many of the simple tasks of the embassy, the collection of passports, and making sure that the person is the same will be under extreme video and many nations will just accept the other nations government workers that they are not corrupted and engaging in immigration identity fraud.

30/ It shall not be allowed for any member nation to have complexing rules that treat arrivals differently when they arrive from different points. All entry points to each member nations shall be required to be treated identically with regard to the entry visas granted.

31/ Regarding passports for minors, both parents shall be required to approve the issuance and renewal of the passport, provided that both parents are involved with the financial support of the minor. Where one parent is uninvolved with the support of the child, that parent shall not be required to give permission for a passport. All children's passports and identity documents shall contain the names and photos of their parents/guardians. The passports shall also list all the people authorized to travel internationally with the minor. There shall also be a system for either parent to authorize or block international travel via the county recorder system. All immigration officers shall be required to verify that everyone under 18 is:

a/ Allowed by all involved parents to travel internationally.

b/ Either accompanies by a parent, or is traveling with a person authorized by the parent. (this by personal appearance and direct biometric id verification at any recorder's office.)

c/ Parents can also authorize older minors to travel point to point alone. (this by personal appearance and direct biometric id verification at any recorder's office.) When the minor arrives, they shall not be allowed to leave the passport clearance zone unless and until a parent-authorized person comes to pick them up.

d/ Regarding emancipated minors and international travel: They must wait until they turn 18, like everyone else, unless they have grandparents, half siblings, or uncles/aunts willing to host them for international travel.

32/ To prevent child sex trafficking, we shall say that all non-citizen children that enter any nation without both matching ID and parents they look like and seem like shall be required to get swab DNA matched at the UM's expense.

33/ The UM shall have a worldwide drivers database of:

a/ Everyone who has had their driving privilege revoked by a court.

b/ All DWI convictions.

c/ All moving violations everywhere on earth.

d/ All vehicle accidents where each driver is held to be responsible in a court of law.

e/ Every international driver's international driver's number.

x/ This database shall be compiled without the input of the driver, but from the driver's databases of the various member nations and perhaps PU nations. Also, the UM shall have a monopoly on the issuance of international driver's licenses and the official international driver's records of international travelers.

34/ For the sake of safety, People can opt for tracking by their recorder system when they visit foreign nations.

35/ Regarding souvenir vending worldwide, souvenir shops:

a/ Shall not be allowed to sell foreign made fake souvenirs.

b/ Shall not be allowed to sell souvenirs from any space facing or open to any public street or sidewalk.

36/ Travel agents and money changing shall not be allowed to use prime, grade A or AA retail space, but must locate in at least grade B retail.

37/ All member nations shall be prohibited from issuing passports to their convicted felons.

38/ To help assure the safety of travelers, the UM shall keep detailed statistics on when traveler travelers are the victims of crimes worldwide. And this map/list shall be searchable with micro hotspots shown.

39/ No member nation shall have the right to refuse the repatriation of its own people. All single and multiple deportations must be accepted by all border guards.

40/ All nations shall offer 4 main types of visa:

a/ Immigrant Work Visas.

b/ Non-immigrant Work visas.

c/ Tourist visas.

d/ Student visas.

Where people have an immigrant or work visa, they may work. Where they have a tourist visa, they shall not be allowed to work.

41/ For all member nations, the right to visit a nation shall come with the ability to buy one reasonably sized home in that nation. People may also elect to have bank accounts with the nation they are visiting. However, neither the existence of a bank account or realty, or any company directorship shall constitute an iron-clad reason for the host nation to give permission to enter a nation. Also, where people must be arrested and deported, the government shall keep their property and bank accounts. Where people are deported, they lose everything that is not with them, when they get arrested for deportation.

43/ The media has long had propaganda media about crooks making a bag of gold on some crime and then running off to like a king in some remote place. One of the main elements of UM identity management will be to help make it impossible for fugitive criminals to run away and hide in a different nation and bring in money or valuables with them. Also, the UM shall assure that no nation acts as a safe harbor for the world's criminals.

44/ Identity verification is just too important. Therefore, no level of government shall be allowed to contract-out identity verification services at any level of government. Instead, all sorts of identity verification, and public records about who owns what, and what much valuable stuff each person has, and who has convictions: all of this shall be provided by the Sub-Senate's blockchain recorder system.

45/ There shall be no global identity system, and each identity system is under one nation, however the various nations shall share data.

46/ Nobody wants jet-setting criminals. So it should be a thing that convicted felons and criminals are normally afraid to travel internationally because they will be subject to higher penalties as an convict from another nation. Also, nations will frequently not publicize their current extradition treaty status. So criminals will even be afraid to visit third party nations for fear of being nabbed by a extradition treaty partner nation.

47/ Except for police, (and then only when people are being detained or arrested) nobody should be allowed to take anybody else's passport or driver's license, or other identity documentation for any reason or to walk away with this identity documentation. And yes, this absolutely applies at airports and with airlines.

48/ Every nation wants to keep the world's criminals from relocating to their country. Therefore, where foreign people are found traveling with either unregistered name changes, or with two different travel identities with non-identical names: These should be tried and jailed for 5-years if they are found guilty of identity fraud. If we don't get serious about this, we will only multiply the ranks of criminal foreigners in our many nations.

49/ No nation shall be thought to have the power to tell ordinary people, not suspected of a crime, that they can't leave the nation, or that they need Government permission to leave the nation.

50/ All nations in both the UM and PU shall outlaw foreign travel by their convicted felons that do not have a visa to go to where they are traveling to. They shall also share the identity information for all felony convicts, and the nature of their convictions. Nearly all nations will simply black-ball all violent criminals from entry. But many nations will eagerly welcome political people with suspect convictions. There shall also be new international standards for the legal process and standard documentation all the way through the trials that also gets shared. We will use this system to help determine when undocumented people are foreign convicts, or are wanted by the law. But all nations must share this information, or their entire nation shall be considered criminals in the eyes of the other nations.

51/ From now on, the world shall use crisis law and its stiffer penalties with regard to foreign felons that are found living illegally in another nation without permission from that nation. Where foreigners are found living illegally in any other nation with convictions for violent crimes like murder, stranger rape, kidnapping, armed robbery, violent assault, home invasion, extortion, sex trafficking, and especially child sex predators (convictions from either their home nation, or convictions in the new nation), it shall generally be thought best to execute these foreign criminals that have run off to hide their true identity. This clause shall come into effect 30-days after this constitution comes into effect. Also, where these criminals commit additional violent crimes before they leave, we shall either extradite them, or if this does not work, we shall use our agents to hunt them down and kill them, wherever they flee to.

Due to this minor rule tweak, international travel will no longer be part of the criminal lifestyle. Criminals will now be afraid to flee overseas to other nations for fear that they may get executed for their crimes. Also, where a person is granted a visa using his real identity, he shall not be considered illegally in that nation.

UR'53. IMMIGRATION ANARCHY

1/ It shall be the official policy of the UM to encourage immigration. However It shall also be the official policy of the UM to strongly work against immigration anarchy. This is because immigration anarchy causes 3 problems:

a/ The fantasy of leaving and starting-over results in more crime in the outbound nation.

b/ As criminals are more likely to leave, the inbound nation suffers from these criminal immigrants.

c/ The Mafia will happily step into the anarchy and function as a tax-collecting government. If the immigrants can't afford the mafia's demands, the mafia also sometimes accepts promises, which are often harmful to the adoptive nation.

2/ Where people migrate from country A to country B, and country B experiences a refugee crisis, the people from country A shall not be allowed to go to country C as an immigrant or refugee from country B.

3/ The UM shall keep backup criminal records for all convicts in all nations. It shall also keep statistics on which nations send the most troublesome and least troublesome migrants. This shall be expressed by a number indicating problem people per million.

4/ All UM member nations shall have a responsibility to prevent international travel by all convicted of a felony. However, if the convict was born in country A and commits a felony in country B, they shall be deported back to country A straight from their release. If their nationality cannot be determined, then they shall spend life under lockup.

5/ All of the prior international agreements about refugees and migration, and all the money spent on refugees and migration, should all be thought to be corrupt, profoundly corrupted by the Ishtarians. And the more valuable things are given to the person, the more corrupt public money the foreigner has received, the more likely it is that they have been working for the parasite Ishtar.

6/ All nations shall have a border wall/fence with their neighbors on their actual border. They shall also have a border security wall/fence some distance inside their territory. Where people who are not allowed to enter a nation touch either wall, or the area in between the walls, they shall always be subject to immediate deportation to their home nation without any hearing. If their home nation is indeterminate, they may be deported to a special deportation camp at the end of the earth in their apparent continent of origin.

7/ Where large waves of foreigners are trying to force their way through the national border of a defending nation, the defending nation shall have the right to individually snipe those crossing over, under, or through their border wall. Those on the inner wall may be treated as an invading army and no weapon or action shall be off limits.

8/ The rules of the Geneva convention shall not apply to illegal border crossers. Those shot while trying to cross the interior border fence en masse shall be considered an invading army whether or not in arms.

9/ From now on, all the new UM nations shall govern their citizenship by rule of birth and all the pre 2024 nations of the world shall govern citizenship by rule of blood.

10/ The right to leave a nation that is at war, and the right to move away from ethnic violence areas shall be thought of as an inalienable basic human rights. Also, to get out of a refugee work camp, the refugees/ migrants must be approved for at least temporary worker status. The refugees must also pass the training and testing program of their new host nation to qualify for entry. Some migrants will get adopted for immigration and temporary work by a Nome. Many will go to work in the Mexas foreign worker zone in Mexas or on the Gonave peninsula on Hispanola for processing, training and marketing immigrants in and out of the Hispanola hub airport.

11/ Nobody ever gets to migrate to a foreign nation if they are suffering from persecution for being a homosexual or another sort of pervert. These are exactly the people we don't want immigrating and ruining things for the hard workers. Also, the people supporting refugee rights for homosexuals and other perverts shall be thought to be the enemies of freedom seeking to undermine the proposition of freedom from their highly profitable foreign tyranny.

12/ Everyone migrating and traveling internationally must have criminal check from their national government. Some people migrating to rich nations must also have either skills or money before they migrate or visit.

13/ In all member nations, only people who have no foreign born grandparents shall be allowed to participate in the decisions about who gets to immigrate. The more recent immigrants are not as objective.

UR'54. IMMIGRATION

1/ For immigration to existing nations, there shall be an international standard for the migrants. It shall be that the migrants have greater tested skills or greater tested education on average than the average worker of the nation that they're migrating to. Otherwise, their immigration augers towards poverty for the nation taking them in. Therefore to increase the willingness of nations to accept new immigrants, all member nations shall distinguish between above average and below average migrants, welcoming those who are significantly above average, being relatively indifferent with the merely above average, and avoiding immigration by the ignorant, and below average, and all the alien religious zealots. For immigration to new UM nations and new UM settlement areas, there shall be a much lower standard for migrants. Also, when there is too much immigration, the various nations shall raise their bar for qualifying as being definitely above average. It might start out as above the 65th percentile, but after a period of excess migration, and too much stress on the housing supply, and too many workers, it might be raised to above the 80th or 90th percentile. Also, when more workers are needed, the nation might lower the qualification level to the 50th percentile. This system of choosing migrants shall be thought the fairest to both the host nations and the migrants that are the most motivated to work hard and make a better life for themselves.

2/ The parasite land of no resources has always needed to send its new people into its host societies, or it dies. We would be foolish to ignore this great weakness of Ishtar in our efforts to end its diametrically opposed parasitic agenda.

3/ It shall be considered a fundamental right of all nations, that all nations be free to close their borders to immigrants, refugees, and visitors at any time regardless of any international agreements. Also this closure may be nation specific in that all nations shall be free to exclude certain nations and not others.

4/ Except for the immigration mandates called for herein, no treaty concerning immigration shall be binding on any member nation. All member nations shall always be free to cancel treaties relating to immigration and suffer no penalty.

5/ All member nations shall always be free to say no to any problematic individuals. All existing member nations shall also be free to exclude whole ethnic groups and religions from the list of people allowed to settle in their nation. Also from being able to enter, settle, or stay in their land, as well as which may vote in their land. They may also make demands, such as religious or political renouncements. Or they may say that certain groups will be excluded even with renouncements. In other words, host nations taking in immigrants shall be free to require that the immigrants renounce and abandon their religions and certain political beliefs such as communism and socialism. In general, all immigrants must stay out of politics and demonstrations in their adoptive nation for life. Those who choose to get involved in international politics and especially protesting when they have changed nations, may be deported. In other words, the people who migrate to another country must adopt the customs of the new country. This shall frequently include abandoning their old religion.

6/ All member nations shall have an inalienable right to require that immigrants and Exhods officially renounce certain religions and ideologies as a condition of moving to their land or receiving aid. They may also make changes decades after immigration occurred, if a religious or ethnic group is found to be genuinely problematic in terms of their criminal behavior by their national Senate. Islam shall generally be prohibited in the Americas, in Europe, in Hindu India, In Russia Ukraine, Romania, Bulgaria and in China, Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, Vietnam, Burma, Georgia, Armenia. and in the nations of Africa with over 60% non-Muslims.

7/ When immigrant groups have corrupted the system to permit increased immigration of their kind, those grants shall be subject to cancellation.

8/ Member nations shall be free to judge immigrants, refugees and Exhods based on their religious beliefs, place of birth, skills, intelligence, education, height, character, documentation, co-relatives, and any other metric they elect to use.

9/ The official name of the Roma/ Gypsy people shall be Gypsy, not Roma after the ancient world-ruling front empire. In general, all good people everywhere should stubbornly resist when a nation or ethnic group tries to rename itself, its people, or its cities. This is normally because they are trying to hide Troy as Constantinople, or Istanbul.

10/ Ishtarian criminals (including Gypsies, Muslim Nigerians, and Somalis, and other sorts of Ishtarrians) shall generally be subject to double penalties.

11/ Member nations shall be free to impose reasonable penalties on those who are convicted of violating their immigration oaths and renouncements. All religious renouncement oaths shall be valid on making them. However they must be repeated on 7 other occasions one year apart to remain valid.

12/ In order to encourage the people of the world to adopt more migrants, we shall say that all grants of migration status and citizenship status shall be entirely revocable at any time by adopting nation. This shall be especially so when:

a/ There are simply too many migrants.

b/ The migrant is offensive, obnoxious, or rude to his hosts.

c/ Many people of host society think that the migrant dislikes them, or are the migrant regards them in any way as subhuman.

d/ The migrant shows a lack of respect for the institutions in religions of the host society.

e/ The migrant has committed any sort of crime, even littering or failing to pay a fare.

f/ The migrant is not able to remain employed, or keeps getting fired.

g/ The migrants fails to give up his/her old religion as required.

x/ The forgoing may also apply to the families of the above sorts of migrant.

13/ Member nations may deport, inter, or imprison any or all immigrants from any part of the world they later find themselves at war with. This shall be seen as one of the biggest things that can be done for making host citizens more ready to both take-in more immigrants, and also to spend piles of money on house-casting factories, cement and rebar.

14/ All nations must accept the repatriation of all their own previous citizens and those who test as genetically of their nation. No permission shall be required to dump deported citizens on the shores of their home nation or apparent continent. Once on the shores of their apparent nation, that nation must either take-in their people, or they must re-deport to their apparent source. Also:

a/ All latin nations must take all latin deportees.

b/ All Muslim nations must take all apparently Islamic or Muslim deportees c/ All African nations must take all Black deportees.

d/ All South Asian nations must take all South Asian deportees.

e/ All East Asian nations must take all East Asian deportees.

f/ All eastern European nations must take in all apparently slavic deportees.

g/ All European nations must take in all apparently European deportees.

h/ The US and Canada must take in all deportees apparently from these nations.

15/ The various member nations may require that poor immigrants do public service work or pay special taxes to repay the cost of their integration in their new nation's economy. Surely this approach helps move more people than not taking people due to the short term costs of their integration in society.

16/ No member nation shall charge for visas or entry permits, or charge more than one day's wages for a work permit application. No nation shall have any visa requirements that involve visa runs or onward tickets, or private insurance of any sort. They may however require a certain amount of money to enter/remain, for government insurance, and for a traveler's bond to guarantee departure.

17/ So the world will be softer to the idea of more immigration and Exhodos, and so the greatest numbers can be tolerated, we shall institute the following rules:

a/ That Exhods shall not be allowed to settle in the most important cities unless they can manage to get confirmed as a Senator in their new nation.

b/ There should be no more Chinatowns or little Italys. Immigrant groups are not supposed to predominate in any district.

c/ Non family immigrant groups are not supposed to gather regularly. They are supposed to go in the opposite direction, to scatter, and not communicate with their kind. They are supposed to be very social with their host people.

d/ Immigrant groups are supposed to blend in and be inoffensive when they migrate and settle.

e/ All immigrants shall be expected to be grateful and courteous to their adoptive nation and its citizens.

f/ All immigrants shall be expected to adopt the ways, customs and beliefs of the nation that adopts them.

18/ Some member nations may give the right to vote to immigrants after as little as 30 years living in the country full time. But others may never give this right to immigrants. Also 30 years means 300 teneths spent living entirely in a nation. This shall be the minimum for changing citizenship and voting in that nation's elections.

19/ All nations must give an even number of boys and girls for international adoption. It shall not be allowed for nations to give away all their girls or all their boys. Likewise on the side of the adopting nation, the numbers of boys and girls must balance.

20/ Nobody who travels from one nation to another to work shall be kept from leaving the country of employment by his employer for any reason, including especially a debt owed to the employer. To do otherwise is a shadow form of slavery.

21/ All advertised statements about work conditions shall be considered part of the work contract.

22/ The colonial wrongs of the past perpetrated by the corrupt governments and corrupt fictional citizens of various nations shall now be seen as caused by Ishtar. For this reason, the entire concept of colonialism shall now be regarded as an Ishtarian fraud, a propaganda lie that blames the victims of Ishtar for what Ishtar did in their name. In 2024, we are now well into the phase where Ishtar maximizes guilt to maximize the imagined need for Western nations to accept an invasion of Mideast migrants that will work to undermine and take over the host society more, so as to increase the power of Ishtar. The nations of the world shall have no obligation to allow immigration by the people of their former colonies and other nations. They may also reverse prior grant of immigration status and even citizenship.

23/ Except for trauma care and sudden emergence of emergency medical conditions, non-citizens, and immigrants shall not participate in the public healthcare system. This shall be thought to be an extreme financial burden on immigration that greatly reduces the host nation's willingness to take-in more migrants, while nearly all migrants would prefer more spots to migrate into.

24/ Adoptive nations never pay immigrants anything, or give them free housing, so they migrate to this new land. When immigrants are paid, this is surely something like government working with mafia to sell places.

25/ Fictional citizens and real citizens shall not be allowed to offer visa facilitation services, or immigration facilitation services, as these lead to immigration corruption. Better we do this via a better funded immigration administration.

26/ No longer shall each nation have costly individual embassy buildings all over the world. Instead, the UM shall have UM virtual embassy buildings all over the world that are shared by its various member nations that rent office space in these buildings with nobody making a profit. These buildings shall also offer UM ID verification, UM document intake, and UM video conferencing centers. Each community or district over 2-million people shall have a UM embassy building with access to every nation. All individual national embassies shall be prohibited from issuing travel visas to foreigners, and all must come via a UM embassy building. The UM shall have no embassy buildings in the PU except that it shall have one in each of: Tangier, Tunis, Cairo, Khartoum, Amman, Qatar, Istanbul, Mardin, Tehran, Lahore, Tashkent, Dhaka, Kuala Lumpur, and Jakarta. If any of these comes under terrorist attack, they shall be closed down permanently.

27/ Instead of each nation redundantly having its own individual embassies all over the world, the UM shall have ID verification, document intake, and document scanning, and video conferencing centers around the world in every member nation community over 100,000 people. Thus, instead of appearing in person at a national embassy, People will go to a UM visa center. All nations must use choose from the standardized visa processes menu at these centers.

28/ Immigration to the West is not the answer for lifting the poor of the world out of poverty. It is far cheaper if we open up new lands, like the wildly underpopulated South Sudan rice bowl for settlement (currently 18 people per square kilometer. We will supply the house casting factories, the cement, and the rebar, the rail system, and 50-person bunk dormitory housing for the workers. And the settlers will do the rest to build their housing and rail systems.

29/ The German/Austrian/Italian sense of Guilt from the two world wars shall be ended.

30/ The following locations shall be run by the UM and they shall take all deportees with an indeterminate home:

a/ Asuncion Paraguay for Spanish speakers.

b/ Sao Paulo for Portuguese speakers Portuguese, c/ The end of the Gallipoli peninsula, if they look European, or Turkish, or central Asian.

d/ Ceuta if they speak French, or if they look African, Middle Eastern, Arab, North African.

e/ If they say nothing, then they get deported to Botswana or Del Fuego at the Southern tip of South America.

31/ No nations shall have the right to refuse the repatriation of their people deported from other nations. Where UM member nations refuse the return of their own people, they shall be ejected from the UM. Where PU nations refuse the repatriation of their people, their Exhodos shall be de-prioritized to last place.

32/ All existing treaties and laws either from the old UN, or the EU, or other sources shall now be totally cancelled and void. All shall be regarded as products of Ishtar and the PU. This shall be especially so for migration treaties and climate or CO2 treaties, and all treaties and agreements not to produce raw materials such as ores, crude oil, and crops.

33/ No asylum seeker may apply for asylum within any country. They must apply before they arrive. And they must be granted asylum before they arrive.

34/ The old system of immigration and asylum shall be completely abandoned as a thing that was created by parasitic Ishtar and Islam and the PU to facilitate the invasion and eventual take-over of the outside world.

35/ The parts of Turkey, Kurdistan and Persia that are around New Issa will be quite in-demand and valuable in the auctions of their 4-year and 20-year leases. So too will the areas of Russia, Ukraine and Kazakhstan near Centograd. So too will the areas around Adana, Andeo, and Gwadar. All of this money will be a windfall for all of these nations which will doubtless have many people wanting to migrate and settle near a new UM major city. So these places will see a great influx of immigrants and Turkey should see many new immigrants.

36/ The Turks, Kurds, Persians, and Moroccans would all be wise to now emphasize how they are greatly different from the desert Arabs at the core of Islam, the main boosters for the ancient union of the poorest people on Earth. These 4 nations, while right next door to absolute deserts, have always lived under very-different, more-prosperous, and much-less-desperate conditions. These 4 nation and Bosnia, should all lead a great reversion from Islam to Christianity en masse as the leaders for all the other parts of the Islamic empire. Turkey especially must adopt the religion of the crossroads and the free trade implied by the shape of the Christian cross. In the new rail based world, all of the nations around Centrogard, and New Issa, all of these nations will prosper immensely from their location in the middle of world trade. They will all naturally become Christian because there is always much more money for everyone under Christian-style free trade in good places. Islam with its parasitic economy with its walled monopolies in every direction on the compass rose. That will no longer be comparatively viable as a income strategy in comparison to Christian free trade in these 5 nations. Also the Bengalis and Malays (for being at the far end of the world) will do much better under Christian free trade on the new rail system as opposed to Ishtarian trade paradises. These will only isolate your nation's more from the parts of the world with surplus money.

37/ Christianity and its free trade iconography of the cross shall be thought the best path for everyone giving up on Ishtar and Islam and their inverted economic reality. So those defecting and defecating should not become atheists. Indeed who can believe the big conversion? No, they must instead switch to honoring other prophets that already exist within their Islam religion, a smaller step, and one that is easier to take and believe in. And they must go to church every week or so, and shall be all required to spend at least 60 hours a year there in church where they will mix with, and talk with the people of the community adopting them, and hosting them.

38/ Everyone who ever was a Muslim that is allowed to enter or remain in any UM member nation shall be required to make an official publicly-posted defecation video and statement, and also a similar video statement where they renounce Islam and convert to Christianity, and promise to oppose Islam. They must also all spend at least 5 hours of each month in a Christian church with their community. Even if they are atheists, they must do this for 10 years if they are going to stay, or come in as former Muslims.

UR'55. EXHODS

1/ Some nations will contribute places for "The Great Exhodos", some will contribute money. Rich and crowded Japan and the UK and Germany and even the United States will probably contribute more money than places. Most places will however contribute places and pay no money.

2/ Because all Exhods get settled as mix, it is not possible to move one nation and area ahead of the others.

3/ All the Exhod lands shall be depopulated by 2035.01.01. After this, no pre-menopausal females or males under age 45 shall be allowed to remain behind in these areas designated for total depopulation.

4/ Those living in tsunami funnels and other dangerous places, and those living in places capable of sustaining people with irrigation projects shall not necessarily qualify as Exhods. Also, Exhods may be temporarily resettled to places that are tsunami funnels and earthquake zones.

5/ Britain, Netherlands, Germany and Belgium have taken in enough immigrants already and shall now be considered overpopulated. These nations shall not be required to take-in any more Exhods or immigrants and they may in fact send some back for the causes stated in the national constitution herein. Sweden and France and other nations may also send people back for the causes stated in the national constitution herein.

6/ The Nomes of the various adoptive nations shall select the Exhods they will adopt to fill their quotas. They may use any criteria they elect in making this decision. However, education and job skills shall be regarded are the recommended benchmark.

7/ All adopting nations shall get a certain amount of labor each month from all Exhods between 18 and 60 years old until 2037.06.19 as a discharging tax, or they may use the standard discharging tax rate. The UM may elect to extend this term and expand the number of hours if there is terrorism or warring. This "discharging tax" shall be paid either as a percentage of the Exhod's regular wages, or in labor to the public if the Exhod can't find a job. If the Exhod is working for an Exhod owned or Exhod operated business, his discharge tax must be paid in the form of labor to the public. This Exhod discharging tax is due first, before the Exhods can collect any other wages or other monies for that pay period in the adopting nation. Exhods that don't pay their Exhod discharging tax shall be sent back. Those found after the fact to have evaded this regulation or underpaid their discharging tax may be sent back. All Exhods shall perform their public service under their discharging tax with the same alacrity and hard work that was previously expected of service to Ishtar and the parasite's cause.

8/ The Exhod discharging tax is to pay back the host part of the world for its costs in moving and people as Exhods. Also, people will be much more willing to pay for the Exhodos if they get their money back, or even make a profit from it. The Exhod discharging tax is also to incentivize the host part of the world to rapidly take lots of Exhods, train them, and then set them up. If the Exhod is fortunate enough to be moved right away, then the Exhods will pay taxes until 2035.01.01. If they get moved after 1-years, they pay discharging tax for 12 years. If they get moved after 5-years, they pay discharging tax for 8-years, and so forth. This works out to 3-year's full time pay in taxes for the Exhods that are moved right away.

9/ It is a good thing that many host nations will make a healthy profit on the average Exhod. This is an intended aspect of the system. Also, again, this is intended to soften-up nations to the idea of accepting many Exhods rapidly.

10/ The adoptive nations that take their Exhods fast shall get their pick of the people. The nations that take their Exhods last will have to settle for later picks, or underwrite their resettlement

11/ No Exhod shall ever say that a host nation got the better part of the deal, because history clearly shows that welcoming many Exhods can be quite dangerous.

12/ All Exhods shall stop struggling against their host nations and start struggling instead to help them as much as possible. This is one of the most important things that will soften-up nations to the idea of accepting many Exhods and immigrants.

13/ All Exhodos and immigration shall be managed democratically at the Nome level, and all deportation decisions made at the Centi-Nome level. This is so the adoption process can be granular and also so there is less personal bias in the deportation process. All adoptive Centi-Nomes shall have the right to vote and reject all settled Exhods and foreigners and send them back. However for every two Exhods sent back, the host nation shall accept three new Exhods in their place.

14/ All Exhods shall be grateful to their adoptive community and adoptive nation for the gift of settlement they have received. They may however be expelled for acts of ingratitude or disrespect of the ways, institutions, or people of their adopting nation, or acting aggressively or violently towards the people of their host nation as judged by their adoptive Centi-Nome.

15/ All family groups surviving as welfare sponges or non-taxpayers, or taxpayers of amounts less than their public benefits received may be sent back by their adoptive nation. This includes people admitted by the previous corrupt governments regardless of the immigration or immigrant citizen status granted by the previous corrupt governments.

16/ Exhods that fail to remain convincingly cleaved from Islam and Ishtar may be sent back.

17/ No Exhod woman shall wear slave's clothing, or have more than one child — unless these children have already been conceived before the system started. Also only those Exhod women who have passed the UM's secondary school test in either English, Chinese, or Euemi may have a child. Exhod women found to have had more than one child after Exhodos may be deported/sent-back along with their children and the genetic father if he is an Exhod.

18/ No Exhod women shall have their child for 2-years after they have been settled, and none shall have any children until they are age 29. All Exhod women claiming to be childless shall be certified by a rotating panel of nurses in their host nation upon arrival. All Exhod women with one child must be sterilized before they may be admitted to their host nation, unless they are tertiary school graduates and can pass the UM tertiary school verification test in a serious subject.

19/ In general, the rich nations shall pay more into the Exhodos fund and the poor nations shall take in a larger share of Exhods.

20/ The following nations and areas shall be sent to special remote settlement areas like New Ireland:

a/ All Palestinians (due to the extreme violence and rancor they have repeatedly demonstrated.)

b/ All Boko Haram controlled communities.

c/ All Taliban controlled communities.

d/ All Isis controlled communities.

e/ All Al Shabaab controlled communities.

f/ All Fulani controlled communities.

g/ All Rohingya.

h/ All Muslim and Gypsy families living on the dole or with no visible means of support, or which have engaged in crime, or begged for money.

i/ All Islamic fundamentalists as determined by the Sub-Senate's standards.

j/ All deported pro terrorism protesters in the US and Europe from the fall of 2023. Here video images and cellular phone signals triangulated to the protest shall be enough for for deportation.

k/ All people flagged by either Western intelligence, or their own people as dangerous.

l/ All of these people shall be regarded as doing their Islamic/Ishtarian duty by gladly accepting this deal. This is because the Ishtarian side simply does not have enough to trades, so everything possible of value to the host part of the world must be thrown into the deal. Also, the Former occupants of New Ireland and New Britain island shall be relocated to New Guinea island.

21/ The people of the war torn nations of the world, to include the: Syrians, Yemenis, Nigerians, Somalis, South Sudanese, Algerians, Libyans, Lebanese, Afghanis, Chechens, shall normally not be allowed to migrate to any existing nations. The people from nations and areas with with a UM audited homicide rates over 10 per 100,000 shall not be allowed to be part of any exhod mix or migrate to any existing nation. These two groups are a huge liability on the giant spreadsheet where the host part of the world moves people, and buys house casting factories, and loans money for the re-settlement of the PU.

22/ The following two groups of people shall not be allowed to travel between UM nations:

a/ People who come from districts with a homicide rate over 25 per 100,000.

b/ People who come from the most crime prone 5% of districts in the world based on homicide rate.

23/ To keep all the Exhods peaceful, and to maximize reporting of potentially violent Exhods by their brethren, we shall allow member nations to deport all the exhods from a given nation or ethnic group if the exhods from that nation have a crime problem, or they can't act appropriately, or too many of them have not really cleaved against their old ways.

24/ To maximize the will to accept immigrants, we will say that adoptive nations always ultimately have the right to deport all immigrants as long as they live, and even if previously granted citizenship. Both the UM and all its member nations shall be forbidden from getting involved with deportations (including mass deportations) of people born elsewhere. The UM shall also be forbidden from getting involved with the tariffs that nations charges other nations. These can and should be resolved by and between the nations involved and never involve the UM. Also, former Muslim Exhods shall be thought the easiest group of people to deport either as individuals or as a group.

UR'56. TERRITORIAL BORDERS

1/ Except as called for herein, all international borders shall be frozen as they were on 2010.01.01, and shall not be moved under any circumstances.

2/ Except as called for herein, all territory that remains in dispute shall belong to the UM.

3/ Manmade land, and small islands of less than 20 sq. km each shall not count for determining territorial waters.

4/ There shall be no blocking of UM humanitarian or peace keeping forces in areas experiencing famine or war where over 20,000 have died of the famine or war.

5/ Where a border is described as a river and the river changes course, the new banks shall be the new border, because both sides need to get to the river's water. If this puts people's farmland in the other nation, then they lose possession until the river changes course again. It is foolish for people to fight and spill blood over the random meanderings rivers.

6/ All nations shall be free to fly over:

a/ The open ocean not within any nation's maritime jurisdiction.

b/ Antarctica.

c/ The dry areas of North Africa.

d/ The greater Arabian peninsula and Mideast including: Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Syria, Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Pakistan, and Central Asia.

e/ Southeast Asia, including: the Burmas, Thailand, Malaysia, Laos, Cambodia, Indonesia, and Vietnam.

f/ Tibet, Pakistan, Bangladesh.

7/ The UM stands in favor of strong border defenses and 100% vetted and legal immigration. The UM also stands opposed to all sorts of illegal and undocumented, unvetted immigration.

8/ All nations shall be allowed to have razor ribbon and sharp cutting edges on their border fences and walls.

9/ All nations shall have the right to have landmines and remote operated firearms and killing drones in the area between two border walls. This shall be thought a key element of global disaster preparedness.

10/ Those recorded damaging border walls and border defenses may be shot, or jailed in a work camp unpaid for up to 10 years. This shall include cutting barbed wire and razor ribbon, as well

11/ Those masses of people recorded pushing past border guards may be shot dead by those border guards and by military weapons. In such cases, the guards shall face no legal consequences for this, and it shall be considered that they are just doing their job.

UR'57. RESETTLEMENT

1/ There must be a point where the people using a region are too few to have a valid right to the land they occupy. Surely one million men cannot call dibs and arrogate an entire continent as the Native Americans are claiming. We need some rational land ownership limits for sharing the inherently scarce surface area of our world.

2/ In addition to minimum population limits needed to assure UM membership, all UM member nations member nations shall also have constitutional rules that cap individual land ownership and wealth among their citizens and within their nation at realistic human levels. There shall also be rules against inheritance of great wealth, and a total prohibition on land ownership by immortal fictional citizens. There shall also be no exclusions. Every human being living in every land must obey these rules. There shall be no tribal or ancestral, or aristocratic, or sultanate ownership that is excluded from these rules.

3/ For the nations taking-in Exhods and immigrants, the UM shall pay for all the camps and training facilities as this is a worldwide expense. The UM shall also provide a standard worldwide immigration education programming which the host nation shall be free to modify. If we did otherwise, it would make accepting immigrants more expensive than it already is, and we want accepting immigrants to be as easy, cheap and trouble-free as possible. This is so nations are willing to take-in more immigrants.

4/ The most desirable UM destination nations may have a longer education requirement or higher discharging tax. Meanwhile, in the less desirable destination nations, there will be few prerequisites to immigration/Exhodos other than a background check.

5/ In the more desirable destination nations, Exhod families shall not be allowed to settle together in communities, or work together, but must scatter throughout the nation and stay away from each other, unless they are part of the same nuclear family, or if permitted by the nation. This prohibition however shall not apply in the less desirable settlement nations, and where their people from any nation may settle in groups of any size up to 4% of the population. Small nations, and large nations that break themselves up will thus have an advantage here.

6/ Immigration to the US and Europe will be the most difficult and the discharging taxes will be highest. Below are the world's immigration destinations listed by order of migration difficulty, with Europe being the most difficult area to migrate to and Africa being the least difficult area to migrate to:

Europe
United States Canada Australia
Darwin
North Canada
South Russia
Mexas
Crimea
Belarus West Russia
Volgastan
North Ukraine
South Ukraine
Georgia
Thailand
Laos Burma
Yucatan
S. America outside of Andeo
Cambodia
Turkey
Azerbaijan
Central Asia
East Russia
Nepal
Bhutan
Ethiopia
Mongolia

Borneo
New Guinea
Sulawesi
Andeo
West India.
Madagascar Africa xAdana

7/ The UM cities are not considered to be for permanent immigration or settlement. Thus, they are not included in this immigration listing. However, good citizens of UM cities shall be considered as having lived as an immigrant without trouble after immigration for the time they lived in a UM zone. So a person who has lived in a UM zone for 25 years will normally qualify for citizenship as if they have spent that time in the nation they are migrating to after living in the UM zone.

8/ War zone immigrants and Exhods for terrorism-prone nations shall generally be expected to live under special more intrusive monitoring.

9/ Most of the outward numbers for Europe are re-Exhods that have been judged as having had a free vacation on the bill of the nation that let them come and settle. No pity for the ones officially judged as excessively lazy. They must go for re-Exhodos. They had their chance and blew it. Now they shall serve to motivate the rest, and say very clearly that people only get one chance and then they go to the back of the line again. This is because there are simply too many people that need Exhodos. And because of this, people only get one chance.

10/ For the management of demand for immigration slots, it is important that immigrants and Exhods not receive any cash payment for moving to another nation. There must only be costs, no gifts other than free training and free housing, and camp/school food.

11/ With all Exhods and immigrants, there should be an obligation to work a little harder and pay a bit more in taxes than locals. This is what the discharging tax is all about.

12/ In all UM settlement nations there shall be a mix of people from many nations including up to 1/3 Ishtarian Exhods. A mix of peoples is needed to assure peace by keeping one immigrant ethnic group from gaining power over the rest of society. When people settle as mix, they must be mixed up one house of one ethnic type, then the next house is number two ethnic group. In the next house is number three ethnic group, and the next house is number four ethnic group, so that nobody is living next to anybody in a single ethnic group ghetto.

13/ The following quantities of immigrants and Exhods for the various nations are not stated to suggest that migrants and Exhods can all settle in the most preferable nations. Instead meant to:

a/ Show how there is plenty of good land for all the world's people.

b/ Show relative amounts that the various nations should accept. However Andeo, Yucatan and certain other area will surely get more than their share of Exhods and immigrants.

14/ The numbers are shown as a maximum, and do not indicate that any particular nation must take that many people in. However, all nations must take their share of the people. Also, certain areas that will see great relocations such as with Indonesia and Europe — These areas will mostly use up their numbers with internal migration.

15/ Those who are allowed to immigrate do not have to go through Exhodos. Wealthier people and people with better immigration qualifications shall be free to immigrate rather than undergo Exhodos if they can. The difference being that a small amount of wealth and some skills can keep a person from having to go through camp living and Nome adoption.

16/ The people who come from the non-immigrant family lines of Iceland, Netherlands, Denmark, Taiwan, Japan, Italy, England, Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Austria, Czech, Slovakia, Hungary, Poland, and Estonia shall be free to migrate to any member nation that they want to settle in, and these people may also settle together in neighborhoods, townships, and cities in their new nations. They must however have at least 25% people from the host nation in their community. Later we may increase the nations on this list. Also, if there are any nations that are going to be able to get the ball rolling on mass international relocation from places where people should not be living, it is probably these nations. All Immigrants to these nations, and the children of two immigrant parents shall not qualify for this paragraph. The people of Israel shall be free to settle in groups, townships and cities throughout the Americas, the UK, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Turkey, India, Thailand, Australia, and all the new UM settlement nations.

17/ Regarding very poor urban slum dwellers: When the children go to school, they shall get an agriculture-oriented education, where they are taught agricultural work. Then, thanks perhaps to some subsidies, the young urban slum dwellers can be driven to move away to agricultural areas when they finish school. Thus we eliminate the urban slums.

18/ In order to get the most from our inherently scarce re-settlement money: All of the people being re-settled first will have to work in a house casting factory, or a rail system factory, or in a rebar factory, window factory, kitchen factory, or in one of the world's many temporary foreign worker zones. They will live in shared apartments and work at least 12-hours a day, every day for a year or two. Thus many of the new house castings all around the world will be made with Mideast labor. This is where most of the surplus labor to rebuild the world will come from. The West will ramp up agricultural output. Much of Ishtar's empire will stop farming poor soil, and instead work in housing and rail system factories, along with eventually over 97% robotics. And this is how we will rebuild the world. Also, some of the best will get shunted off to first world resettlement and eventual citizenship. But most will just make money for a downpayment in a new UM settlement nation.

19/ Muslims and people from the Middle East cannot be settled anywhere in the UM unless and until they defect and defecate. No longer shall the host part of the world tolerate invasion by barbarian Muslim hoards. Also, all people who use refugee status must eventually go back.

UR'58. RESETTLEMENT INVENTORY

Here is a listing of the world's nations and the maximum number of people they might take in:

Puerto Rico	3m	360/km	-2.5m
subtotal			-77m/ +0

a/ Small populations remain behind to use the dangerous volcano, tsunami and earthquake vulnerable land for agriculture and tourism. All these central American nations are infested with volcanos, they are in a place that gets tsunamis from both sides, and they also have the rare condition that they are on the plate that does the moving in an earthquake.

b/ Yucatan uses a density of 200 people/km2, Belize shall be merged into Yucatan

c/ Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama may relocate to either Yucatan, or Andeo. They can also be part of immigrant mix in other destinations if their family can get adopted by Nomes. There are many places for small scale hydro projects in Wet and mountainous Central America, places like Nuevo Palestina, Jesus de Otoro, La Flores, Rio Hondo, Alta Verapaz, Amatenango de la Frontera, Plan de Ayala, Chiapa de Corzo, Rio Ixcán, Moravilla Tenejapa, Alvaro Obregon, Rio La Venta, Rio los Perros, and further north in places like Tlahuiltepa, Pisaflores, and Sacramento.

d/ Cuba, Dominican Republic, Haiti, Jamaica, Puerto Rico and all the other islands may relocate to either Yucatan, or Andeo. They can also be part of immigrant mix in other destinations if their family can get adopted by Nomes. These Caribbean nations may not have volcanos, but they still have the earthquakes and tsunamis and they also have fewer evacuation options. Besides, they must pay extra for additional shipping for everything they buy from overseas.

e/ Everyone from the nations between Yucatan and Colombia and in the Caribbean must show a realistic source of income or they must move and be relocated to either Andeo or Yucatan.

f/ The following high-homicide nations shall be regarded as high-crime-nations: El Salvador, Jamaica, Lesotho, Honduras, Belize, Venezuela, South Africa, Nigeria, Bahamas, Trinidad and Tobago, Mexico, Antigua, Saint Martin, Brazil, Dominica, Colombia, Guatemala, St Lucia, Puerto Rico, Montserrat, Central African Republic, Curacao, Tuvalu, Namibia, Botswana, and South Sudan.

The UM shall encourage the high-crime-nations to require that all citizens and visitors carry a registered phone or other tracing device. The UM shall also encourage more surveillance in high-crime-nations. Also, we shall think such measures a thing of high-crime-nations, and not for normal nations.

g/ Given the Australia-like low population density of Guyana, Surinam, and Guiana, and the so-called best picture Papillon, something seems hidden in this place. This is probably at least that the area is an oil field.

3/ South America

a/ South America has about 17,800,000km2 in total area. At 150 people/km2, this comes to +2,670,000,000 people. In other words, there is room to settle about 2.25 billion people In South America.

b/ Andeo has ~6,000,000km2. At 150 people/km2, this comes to +900,000,000 people. This is part of the number shown above.

c/ Venezuela, Guyana, Suriname, and French Guiana shall be merged into Andeo.

d/ Brazil shall develop its immense mid-level highland for the climate and tsunami safety. Likewise with the Venezuelan, Guyana, Amazonas highlands. There is room for over billion people here on tsunami safe middle highlands with a delightful mid-elevation tropical wet area climate. The settlements will simply go at whatever elevation has an ideal climate. The people who want it cooler will go higher up and the ones that want it warmer will go lower.

e/ The UM shall assure that adequate sea and air transport is available for the 3,000km resettlement trip between Africa and the eastern tip of South America.

subtotal			−78m/ +1,068m

a/ Russia's arable area is calculated as 21% of 17,100,000 km2 x 150 people/km2 = 539 million less 144 million = 395 million increase b/ Central Asia includes Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Kyrgyzstan, Turkmenistan, and Tajikistan.

c/ Afghanistan shall be up to 90% Exhoded, Pakistan shall be up to 20% Exhoded.

d/ Volgastan is not included in the Kazakhstan count.

e/ Central Asia totals to over 4 million KM2. At 75 people/KM2 it is around 300—million people.

f/ Counting the Ural and Darya rivers and the other smaller rivers, we have at least two Niles of water in a much less severe desert with sealed soil pans. So perhaps we could have as much as 600 million more people in Central Asia.

g/ The Georgia/ Azeri valley shall become a heavily populated places, particularly the semi-ridges in the middle of the valley, and edges of the valley.

a/ Due to the nature of the topography, the entire south face of the Himalaya must be settled even though it is at an earthquake site. Thus the population of Nepal and Bhutan will be increased significantly with Indian townships. All who settle in Nepal (as everywhere else) must adopt Nepalese customs and ways.

b/ Because of all the energy in the Janisarit, Burma, Thailand, Laos, Vietnam, Bangladesh, shall be more urban nations with populations of at least 300 people/sq.km. India is already more populous than this.

c/ No more Bengalis shall settle in Burma, or east India, except for the border adjustments called for herein.

d/ Volcano plagued Philippines, and tsunami vulnerable Taiwan, and Japan should be taken below 50 people/km2. Shikoku and most of Honshu west and south of Nagoya being mostly volcano-free, this area does not need to be depopulated.

e/ The native and non-Muslim citizens of Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Iceland, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, and the Estonian speakers of Estonia shall be allowed great freedom in resettling. All nations shall welcome these people as settlers, for nearly every nation will be better off when these famously hard working and low-crime people move to their land. Also, when these nations resettle, they shall be allowed to establish their own communities in underpopulated areas if they want. Other nations that are the hardest working and most crime free may be put on this list later.

f/ Japan and Taiwan especially shall each hold referendums about whether they want to continue to live in on their volcanic, earthquake-prone, tsunami-prone, and also expensive islands, or whether they want to build their new cities somewhere else.

g/ Korea shall reunite.

h/ Up to 300 million Chinese and India Exhods shall be added the mix of other Exhods if there is demand.

i/ Mongolia is and shall continue to be a possession of China, however, all of the rivers must now be captured and used for producing food where feasible.

j/ India shall now become a group of independent nations that come together for mutual defense and for reasons of scaling their region's industry, and for the sharing of water and hydro-electric resources. This zone shall include Sri Lanka, Nepal, and Bhutan.

k/ There shall be no new tsunami reachable townships lower than a safe elevation given the erosion topography, or the existence of tsunami seashells, or other evidence. Here we might also add 20 or 50 meters as a safety buffer. We might also want to live at very high elevations around tsunami funnels. Those farming at least 25 acres with machinery may live as low as 25m above sea level. Those farming below 25m must commute, however individuals farming at least 250 acres due to machinery may farm any land provided they work at least 11 hour days and go to safety on days off. Also, nightly rental tourism in tsunami areas shall be allowed provided the communities and rooms are at least 15m above sea level. Sand bar communities like on Koh Phi Phi shall no longer be allowed, and there shall be no more sleeping on sand bars. Although restaurants and bars and beaches and parks and tennis courts and that sort of thing shall be allowed.

l/ Palawan island, which is some distance from both ring of fire and the volcanos of the Philippines should have 2 big cities in the highlands and might take up to 8 million people resettling. There shall be 5 other big cities: one on the Zamboanga peninsula, One in Northeast Mindanao, and the cool highlands of Northern Luzon, areas that are more than say 80km from both Pinatubo and Cagua. All are locations maximally far from the many volcanos of the Philippines.

m/ In the Philippines as with so many places, the lowlands shall be used for farming, not human occupation. However the Philippines shall be mostly evacuated and these new urban locations are only for the people who stay behind in new cities. And because of the evacuation/exhodos, there will be an overage of locations for cities. These locations were merely proposed to give the people who stay behind more flexibility in how they live. Many people will settle on the eastern Ridge of Luzon in the Philippines, and also on the northern part of the western Luzon Ridge. Some people will settle in the Samar Highlands. Many people will settle on the eastern Ridge of Luzon in the Philippines, and also on the northern part of the western Luzon Ridge. Some people will settle in the Samar Highlands.

n/ The Philippine people, like all the people of the region, from North China, to Malaya and New Zealand: All of these people shall owe America (on a completely different content) a debt for liberating them during World War 2. Even the Chinese people must recognize that China was liberated primarily by America. The Chinese people unfortunately followed Ishtar's frontman empire as always. This incidentally was backed by the same group behind Japan's attacks on China and America's destruction of Japan's cities.

o/ The former Subic Bay naval base shall be returned to the United States in its entirety forever by the corrupt, ungrateful and short-sighted government of the Philippines. All existing owners and tenants of the former Subic Bay area shall be immediately relocated by the Philippine government at its sole expense. These shall get no monetary compensation for their opportunism. The UM may also use this port. As always, all military grants like this herein shall be in perpetuity and for no payment of money or future permissions required — this even if the word grant is not used herein.

p/ If the US wishes to use either the Princessa port or Kamia Bay on Palawan island, it may use this area as a port together with sufficient safe higher-lands.

q/ Surely the Philippine people must realize that China is not really after Taiwan. They need an enemy to rally the people against. And Taiwan resonates most in Chinese hearts and minds. But what happens if China ever gets Taiwan? Will they not need a new enemy to rally their people against? Who will that be? Who is the next lowest hanging fruit? Also, isn't the overpopulation of China an eternal condition? Will it not eternally exert expansionist pressures regardless of the political system we use.

For these reasons, the Philippines should be the #1 ally of Taiwanese independence. This is for the simple reason that the Philippines is next in line for Chinese invasion. And the Philippines can never be sure that China will remain non-expansionist. Therefore the Philippines (and all of non-China Asia) will remain in need of military support from the United States. Therefore, everyone in the Philippines that is opposes or tries to get money for this relationship is working with China.

r/ Mount Everest Shall be re-named back to Mount Never-rest, and it shall be a small UM territory. The UM shall build a funicular to within 50m vertical from the peak and a pressurized community within 50m of the peak. From these places, there shall also be a stairway/walkway to the peak. This is to develop mankind's ability to live in space. People will still be able to climb up on the ground. Everyone must carry an oxygen mask for use connecting to oxygen outlets along the way. The lower areas will remain Nepal, which will rent hotel capsules in heated and partly pressurized "space stations".

a/ Volcano plagued Sumatra and Java shall be reduced in population to around 50 people/km2. Water and energy rich Borneo and New Guinea shall get taken to near 300 people/km2. Sulawesi shall go to near 200 people/km2. All three of the new settlement islands have no volcanoes on them, except a small part of Sulawesi b/ Philippine people may settle in the Christian parts of Borneo, Sulawesi and New Guinea.

c/ Krakatoa has caused two mass casualty events in the last two centuries. There is simply no reason to have any new city near Krakatoa or any active volcano on earth. We shall make cuts in the sedimentation and have a worldwide volcano history. After this we will use the past history of each volcano to make estimates about its future events and how far away we need to build our new townships. Because of hyperactive Krakatoa, we will perhaps clear then entire area from Bogor to Kotabumi. With other volcanos the minimum township distance might be only 40km.

d/ If we are going to add 208 million people to borneo, this might be 60 million dwellings, or half a million dwellings made and placed each year for 12 years. If we can output 10 units an hour 24 hours a day, that is 88,000 units per year per house casting factory. So if we need 500,000 units per year, that is 6 or perhaps 10 house casting factories.

a/ The island of Australia (including Darwin) has 7,692,000 km2 of land. If we presume that 4/5 of the land is not suitable for agriculture due to either desert or mountains, and we use a number of 150 people/km2, we come to a population density of 30 people per km2, this is 231-million people, 205-million more than today.

b/ Because of all the active volcanoes on New Zealand's north island, and because both Auckland and Wellington are tsunami death trap cities, the north island of New Zealand should only have agricultural and mining uses and workers. And this should be typical of all these triple-threat islands. Why should anyone live here, except the bare minimum to utilize the land. All of new cities in New Zealand shall be on the South Island. Also, regardless of what the people on the North Island do, the South Island shall be a new settlement nation due to its abundant water and hydro electricity.

c/ All the Azeris of Iran shall go to Azerbaijan, and the rest of Iran shall be Exhoded, except the old people.

d/ Azerbaijan due to its increased trade, water, power and area shall increase its population greatly. Also, the Baku peninsula is suitable for a secure foreign company zone, with the airport straddling the double walled secure zone and having access to both the secure zone and the Baku area.

e/ Turkey includes Kurdistan.

f/ Turkey shall now include the North Syrian valley, north of a line from Damascus to Kirkuk. All the areas south of this line on the Arabian Peninsula shall be evacuated, as well as all the low-lying coastal cities like Beirut. a/ All of the increases in Europe will first be balanced by the great numbers of people leaving coastal areas.

b/ All of Bulgaria, and the very accessible mountain portions of Romania shall be available for mixed-nation resettlement as described above.

c/ The various nations of Europe will tolerate enclaves of other former EU member nations relocated due to tsunami risk, particularly in mountain and hill areas.

d/ The UK, Germany, Netherlands, Belgium, and France may be sending large numbers of failed immigrants back now. These are people mostly who failed to contribute to society once they migrated.

e/ The semi-highlands of Europe are all mostly underpopulated. Italy, Spain, Czech, Slovakia, Austria, Hungary, Slovenia, the Balkans and Greece shall all take large numbers of immigrants due to their abundant highlands and nice highlands climate. These people shall mostly be from the lowest parts of Europe, and none shall be Muslims, or former Muslims.

f/ Estonia and Netherlands must move to southern highlands or emigrate.

g/ People can continue to farm the lowlands of Europe, because the source of the tsunami is probably 2 to 3 hours away. Thus they have time to get in their vehicle and drive away, or drive to the local train station. The train stations in these coastal farming areas will have huge dirt parking lots for people to abandon their vehicles in. The entire coastal lowlands shall be organized around the few highland parts around Munster, Arnhem, Osnabrück, and Hanover. The interchanges for the coastal farmlands will be located adjacent to the evacuation highlands. This way we call out special, longer evacuation trains

h/ These go back-and-forth until the wave comes, last leaving just before the waves's arrival. We will have train stations here and there throughout the coastal farmland.

i/ This is how we should be farming in Tsunami zones. Thus all of present day Netherlands and Denmark will become a farm zone, because this place is too low and too close to sea level, and it's in a tsunami funnel. Also all around the Baltic, there's no good reason for people to live at less than 100m above sea level. And there is a whole big reason not to live below 100m. So if we're going to be rebuilding our cities anyway, why don't we just rebuild them all at a safe height where we don't ever have to worry about tsunamis. And let's not have any of them near either a major Fault-line, or near a volcano. Our planet has plenty of fine habitat land, (human habitat land). So aside from our experimental pressurized space city and farm at 8300m elevation on the top of Mount Everest, we are going to pick the nicest sites at the most ideal elevations in the most attractive locations with cleaner, high elevation air, and mild-temperatures. Also, let's get real good living up here at 0.33ATM, where errors are not deadly. Let's do this before we try to visit Mars with 0.01ATM, or 0.99% an absolute vacuum.

UR'59. PLENTY OF LAND

1/ We will have around 1,280,000,000 Exhods and 6,941,000,000 places for Exhods. This is a ratio of 5.4 places per Exhod.

UR'60. PROTECTING TRADE ROUTES

1/ The UM shall be responsible for protecting world overland trade routes from those who would attack them and sphinx them. However, as a backup we shall say that nations shall have the right to step in to police their own trade routes if neither the local nation, nor the UM is securing their goods in transit.

2/ The UM may establish military bases and air fields along the trade routes to protect them if this becomes necessary. All member nations must cooperate and provide land, and utilities for this.

3/ The nations of Europe shall have the right to secure the following seas from piracy and plundering nations in whatever form:

a/ The north-eastern Atlantic.

b/ The Baltic.

c/ The Mediterranean.

d/ The Black Sea.

e/ The Sea of Marmara.

f/ The Aegean.

g/ The Red sea.

h/ The gulf of Aden.

4/ The nations of Europe may intervene to protect land trade flowing through Africa.

5/ Dependence on foreign trade is not only energy wasteful, but it is also a main ingredient in war stew.

UR'61. MIDEAST BORDER PLAN

1/ Kurdistan: The contiguous Kurdish majority areas of Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Syria, and Armenia that are directly on the border with Kurdistan shall become the nation of Kurdistan. The other majority Kurdish enclaves in these nations that are not contiguous with the border shall remain the territory of these nations. For example the Kurdish enclave south of Ankara shall remain Turkish. Because this plan gives the Kurds their own independent nation without a great war, all Kurds shall owe a debt of gratitude to this plan throughout their future generations. From now on, all Kurdish enclave people shall live in peace, and fully submit their host nations, or they must move to Kurdistan. Also specifically and overriding the foregoing, the kurds shall get a needed bit of land near Erzin Turkey. But the Turks shall get the needed corridor to their new territory in north Syria, in fact, Turkey looks a little bit like Croatia in shape (with a big chunk missing in this way. Also all the low-land Iraqis shall be relocated from Iraq as exhod mix, and the Kurds shall get the hills. The UM will get the area directly around the new international interchange city of Adana which will be rented by the UM, but around this will be Kurdish areas that Kurdistan might rent to its neighbors. And the Highways and rail system will all be sealed with exits where the Kurds decide is best But on the line there might be gas and restaurants and rail stations. And the Kurds must allow

2/ Arabia: Arabia is to be full depopulated as described elsewhere.

3/ Iran's empire no more: Iran shall cease to exist as an empire:

a/ The Azeri majority areas of northern Iran shall become Azerbaijan.

b/ The Kurdish majority areas of western Iran (but only in western Iran touching the border) shall become Kurdistan.

c/ The majority Baluchi portions of eastern Iran shall be combined with parts the Baluchi parts of Pakistan and Afghanistan and become the nation of Baluchistan. Because this plan gives the Baluchis their own independent nation without a great war, all Baluchis shall owe a debt of gratitude to this plan throughout their future generations. All Baluchis enclave people shall live in peace, and fully submit their host nations, or they must move to Baluchistan. Also, the farmable parts of Baluchistan may stay, but the dry parts of Baluchistan must be depopulated.

d/ The Turkmen majority areas of northeast Iran shall become part of Turkmenistan.

e/ The Lur majority areas shall have their own nation.

f/ The Persian area at the end of the Persian Gulf created by this plan shall be Exhoded because it is a tsunami death trap.

g/ The remaining nation shall be called Persia.

h/ No enclaves shall be created, such as might perhaps otherwise occur in or near Karaj. This shall hold with all the national partition plans herein.

i/ The low lying oil-rich areas in and around the Persian Gulf, and all other oil fields in depopulated Exhodos areas shall become the property of the UM. This shall include all the oil fields of Iraq and Iran west and south of the Zagros Mountains. current oil fields. Here we must remember that the Mideast does not have enough to pay for a complete Exhodos, so it must give up all of its assets. Also, if we leave any of this oil in the hands of the Mideast people we are perhaps giving energy to bring Ishtar back to life. These areas shall be resource surveyed and the oil regions shall become the by the UM for the benefit of all mankind.

j/ Iran/former Iran shall be required to give up all of its nuclear and WMD programs and allow the facilities to be destroyed by the UM.

k/ All portions of Iranian Baluchistan (Including all Iranian territory east of Minab and south of the current 3-way border between Iran, Afghanistan, and Pakistan) together with all portions of Pakistani Baluchistan west of where the Hingol river currently joins the sea shall be the territory of India, and an enclave of India that does not allow free movement to India. There are huge oil reserves in this place that are much needed by India. India (and the rest of the world) also Indian shall have have its choice of unused 30km x 30km km areas for a military bases at the Gwadar pass. India shall also have a similar base located near Mary Turkmenistan. India shall also have a similar base located in any lightly populated tsunami evacuation area of Eastern Iraq. India's number one military need is securing its trade lines to New Issa and to Centograd, and India shall have authority to take violent action against Arab-style raiding of its trains. India shall also have the authority to close the Red Sea if the raiding of its rail transport lines becomes intolerable to India.

Like every other nation, India shall be required to allow all other nations to use its rail lines as long as these nations remain peaceful with India and pay the UMs standard built-cost rail pricing for freight and passengers. The parts of Pakistani Baluchistan to the east of the new Indian portions of Baluchistan shall become part of Sindhustan with the 4 former Pakistani nations sharing the oil here and its revenues shared evenly among the Pakistanis.

4/ Pashtunistan: The portions of Pakistan Afghanistan and Iran that are majority Pastun, and generally not enclaves in other nations shall become Pashtunistan. Also included in Pashtunistan shall be Kandahar, Kabul, and Jalalabad. Also included in Pashtunistan shall be the Tajik enclaves around Shindand, Fareh, Dilaram, and Lashkar Gah, also the Baluchi enclave near Zaranj and all of the lands in Afghanistan that are west of the A77 highway except suburban Herat. Not included in Pashtunistan shall be the areas near Baghlan, Balkh, Jowsjan and east of Badghisat. Because this plan gives the Pashtuns their own independent nation without a great war, all Pashtuns shall owe a debt of gratitude to this plan throughout their future generations. All Pashtuns enclave people shall live in peace, and fully submit their host nations, or they must move to Pashtunistan.

5/ Pakistan: A large unified Pakistan is no longer needed as a menacing edge for Islam against India. In fact, now you are all supposed to be at peace with the world, right? So we are going to break up of Pakistan. And this will be perhaps the most important olive branch that can be given to the people of India. This will make all of India much warmer and and friendlier to the fall of Islam and the idea Muslims living peacefully in India. So Pakistan shall become at least 4 nations: Baluchistan (including parts of Iran and a bit of Afghanistan), Pashtunistan (including parts of Afghanistan), Sindhustan, and Punjabistan — and all the lines get drawn by ethnic majority (The Balochi enclave in Sindhustan will be Sindhustan). Punjabistan shall vote on a break up along ethnic borders into up to 6 nations that must end in the letters -istan. The Northern part of Pakistan around Gilgit shall also be a separate nation, along with the Muslim parts of India nearby, call that nation Gilgistan. The scarce (but now increased) water resources of the Indus River shall be shared among the new nations of former Pakistan according to 1980 population, and as apportioned and monitored by the UM. So as to drive towards peace with India, all of the nations of former Pakistan shall be required to spend no more than 2% of GDP on their military.

6/ Turkmenistan: All the majority Turkmen areas in Afghanistan contiguous with the border with Turkmenistan shall become part of Turkmenistan.

7/ Uzbekistan: All the majority Uzbek areas in Afghanistan contiguous with the border with Uzbekistan shall be become Uzbekistan. No portion of Uzbekistan or Turkmenistan shall be west of Sarygamysh Lake. All this territory shall be ceded to Volgastan for better and more secure access across Central Asia.

8/ Tajikistan: The majority Tajik, Pamiri, and Nuristani areas in Afghanistan contiguous with the border of Tajikistan shall become part of Tajikistan.

9/ Kyrgyzstan: The Kyrgyz areas in Afghanistan contiguous with the border with Kyrgyzstan shall be become part of with Kyrgyzstan.

10/ Hazaristan: The majority Hazara areas in Afghanistan shall become Hazaristan and with the formation of all these nations, Afghanistan shall cease to exist.

11/ Nagorno-Karabakh:

a/ The Nagorno-Karabakh autonomous zone shall lose the areas directly on the borders with Azerbaijan and Iran that are majority Azeri. These areas shall become Azerbaijan. The Nagorno-Karabakh autonomous zone and Armenia shall shall likewise gain all areas that are directly on the borders with Azerbaijan and Iran that are majority Armenian.

b/ Azerbaijan's Nakhchivan zone will no longer be an enclave due to the dissolution of Iran and the Persian empire.

c/ The areas between Nagorno and Armenia that are mostly deserted shall remain Armenian except the majority Azeri communities on the border with Azerbaijan.

d/ All the Muslims that have settled near the border between Armenia and Georgia must go back. All the Azeris in Turkey near the Armenia border must go back.

12/ No menace:

The various nations of Pakistan, Central Asia, and the remainder of the former Ishtarian empire shall remain independent from each other, so as not to menace India. Also, Pakistan and Iran shall give all their nuclear weapons and potentially military nuclear materials to the United States for disposal/destruction. Pakistan and Iran shall both also make all their nuclear weapons manufacturing facilities open to the United States for destruction. Thousands of randomly assigned UM Senators shall be present as international observers for these destruction activities.

13/ Lake Van and Lake Thermia (Urmia):

a/ Turkey shall be permitted to drain its salty Lake Van into The Persian Gulf. Also, Azerbaijan shall be permitted to drain its salty Lake Urmia into the Caspian Sea via the lower Aras River channel. Where this salty water would seep (in significant amounts) into sandy ground, and contaminate the ground, pipes or concrete canals must be used for the discharge.

b/ We shall mostly drain Lake Thermia and find its source(s). Then we can insert a sort of Catheter and obtain fresh spring water this way. However, if the pumping of the water significantly cuts output for the lake's spring, then we shall build giant water tower (shaped like a trumpet's flair and perhaps 50m tall, the water runs up a definitely oversized tube at the center, then it runs off into the concrete pipes that are cast into the honeycomb segments, 1/3 riser, 1/3 down pipes, and 1/3 reinforced concrete beams. If these partly buried concrete structures increase the spring's water output, we will use this approach, for it will also give us elevation in a low point. Also, the shallow southern 2/3 of the lake shall be isolated from the northern 1/3 by means of a concrete-backed earthen dam south of the highway 16 causeway. This is because the bathymetry shows that the lake leaks out the southern point and southeast shore. If we lower the depth of the water and this increases net water output, then this is the easiest and approach, although we might try plugging the holes. In springs where deeper water increases output, we might consider building water columns for the added water pressure.

c/ There appears to be a fault in the earth running from the lower Aras Valley right through the middle of Lake Urmia and then a bit north of Mosul. We should try to impound water here and see if it increases the water output from Lake Thermia, (which has known hot-springs). We might also build some temporary shallow earthen dams near Parsibad to see if this increases the water output from Lake Thermia. If this works, then we shall build a canal with a -35m bottom from Mil-Mugan (+4 elevation to the Caspian Sea (-29m elevation)). We will mostly drain Lake Termia of its accumulated toxic water first, then we will refill the lake with the spring water and wash the remainder away. This trench is expected to cause much more salt water to come in contact with the fault, where it is turned to steam which condenses in lakes above. This is the same strategy we will try with the African rift, and probably other places around the world.

d/ It should be noted that many lakes have a very deep part, and this is surrounded by a broad shallow part. The deep part is indicative of leakage, either from a spring into the lake, or from the lake to outside of the lake.

e/ Whatever we do to bleed down the pressure in the volcanos must happen while the earth is wet and stable. Once the ice ages starts we will have to wait 110,000 years for the next shot. Therefore we must try, we must use our immense populations and wet earth for this.

f/ Lake Sevan looks like a spring lake given its small deep spot. Lake Van also has a large deep area eroded by mountain spring activity. Wherever we see these deep roundish holes in lakes, it is mostly from a spring, or ancient spring. Perhaps we want to insert catheters in some of these sources and extract the fresh water directly.

g/ The Caspian Sea also appears to have a spring at the bottom. Maybe we can stick a catheter in here and coax fresh water to the eastern shore.

h/ Lake Urmia seem to get about 200 meters deeper at times judging from the lake erosion pattern in the topo maps. This may occur when the Caspian sea (-29m) is higher than it currently is, so perhaps flooding seawater into the already too salty Caspian sea (with 1/3 of seawater salinity) is a good idea. Especially if we have to replace the water from the Volga and Ural rivers anyway to keep Lake Urmia and probably Lake Van working.

i/ If we are filling the Caspian Sea with water, this can come via Sea of Azov (or from the Black Sea via the Sea of Azov). So we can drain the 13 meter deep Sea of Azov completely and use it to grow rice with water from the abundant Dnieper River water. The Dnieper River shall be renamed the Kiev River. The easiest and most fool proof way to flood the Caspian sea is with a canal, However, perhaps we want to slowly increase the height of the Caspian sea to have a controlled effect on the spring waters of the area. Also, it can't hurt to lower the oceans by 8mm, if we raise the waters of the Caspian sea by 29m.

j/ Lake Van, Lake Sevan as well as the upper area of the Armenian valley, and the area around may all may be activated by a deeper Caspian Sea. Also, we should measure the water going into the Armenian Valley and the water coming out of it. It would appear that this valley has a very big leak in the bottom of it, the entire Valley, all the way to the Caspian Sea. So, if this is true, we should put all the water going into the high Armenian valley in storage vessels and pipes to the greatest extent practical, or convey the water past the valley.

k/ Filling the Caspian Sea with seawater shall be seen as an experiment to confirm theories of volcanic irrigation, as shall our efforts at seawater irrigation trenches at the African rift. In some place we shall try to use explosives in a channel to break up the ground and let the water in. Here we will slowly place softball sized explosive pellets into directionally drilled cavities in a line to break open underground channels for water to flow through. These might replace actual channels if they work, or they might take channels some kilometers further down and at an angle. Or perhaps we should be drilling lots of big holes straight down at the ends of our channels so the water can penetrate into the layers further down.

14/ Turkey:

a/ It must be pointed out that Istanbul, aside from having terrible earthquakes is vulnerable to tsunamis from both sides. Also Antalya is no place for a city.

b/ Turkey should also switch to speaking English and not German. Your German immigration days are over. There are far too many of you concentrated in Germany. Also, many of these should come back and give rise to your German speaking german factory zone.

c/ The tributaries of Lake Van should be diverted to Turkey's new capital and the new north Syrian Valley. Lake Van should be drained for the hydro-electric power, and then washed of its salt and then it might be refilled to some extent with clean water.

d/ In Turkey, all high density development shall be in the low earthquake risk areas.

e/ The Karaman highlands areas shall be developed, it is just that the coastal land for townships will cost a bit more. the Turks might as well live where the earthquake risk is lower in the highlands, particularly the Karaman plateau where it is always 6.5°C cooler due to the 1,000m elevation.

f/ All of the streams that sometimes flow water into the Tuz Golu salty lake should be stopped up and all the water saved except where it is from a massive storm that only occurs every few years. Also, nobody should be living under any dams anywhere on earth. Also, the Karaman/ Konya valley looks like it is water tight and can be used for ground water impounding.

g/ Turkey shall also have a Cyprus Riveria from Anatalya to Mersin. Along the coast, the land will be most valuable and This is a great place for a line of big cities that connect via the lowlands of the "lush" "green" coastal parks.

h/ Most of Turkey's western tsunami valleys should have earthen dams to trap more of the winter runoff and drive it into the soil. There are also a number of cool ridge tops that are ideal for township development

i/ We should be able to hold all the winter storm water in the Agri Valley, the Karacoban valley, the Kopal valley, etc. Wherever practical and beneficial, we shall store water from the rainy season to the dry season.

j/ There shall be dams at Kargicak, Egirdir, and Golu, among other places.

k/ Beysehir Golu should have a dam and the lake tsunami vulnerable city should be moved.

l/ Sugla Golu leaks and its level should be lowered.

m/ Karacaoren I Baraj Golu should have a bigger dam.

15/ Georgia:

a/ The nation of Georgia shall now be called Gruzia in English. This is from the historical name of (Magna) Greecia. Also, now Gruzia shall be regarded as a sort of part of Europe and hence in some way protected by Europe, just like Cyprus and Ukraine shall now be a part of Europe and protected by Europe as parts of Europe. Also, both Gruzia and Cyprus shall be seen as valuable military strike platforms that may be needed in the future. If any nation attacks Gruzia, they can be assured that Europe will respond in some way.

b/ Instead of calling southern Italy and Sicily as Magna Greeca, we shall also call it Western Greecia, as opposed to Eastern Greecia in present day Gruzia and Russia. This is done to help the world better understand the ancient Greek empire.

c/ We shall also recognize that Troy is Istanbul and Constantinople. We shall also recognize that that Paris is not one man, but the nation of Persia, and Helen of Troy is really all of Hellenic Greece, and that a mass of Persians came as guests and then stole Hellenic Greece. We do this to show the real history, but also the lies of history and the way that liars work, through endless repetition, mouthing/ mything. We also do this so that people can understand how long the wars of Herodotus and Alcibiades have been going on, and who exactly was fighting, and the nature of their power and why they are in eternal conflict.

d/ Understanding what ended our predecessor democracy in ancient Athens is a hugely important thing. Ishtar has deleted much important information on this subject from the matrix. Today, we have this screen of lies called Homer. The ancient Greeks had two important practical books handed down. One was a history of war tactics with the Persians (the Milli-ad). The other was a book of geography (the Hodosi, the ways). Behold how Ishtar has taken two practical books and turned them into garbage, with nothing but the title remaining. Ishtar did a similar thing with a book called 1777, The year of the hangman. From this vantage point, we must ask how many ancient books secular and holy have been completely gutted in a similar fashion.

e/ If Grecians were already in Gruzia, then what are the conquests of Alexander The Great the great 60 years later?

f/ Today Grecia, Gruzia and Russia (which uses a Greek alphabet) shall all be separate nations.

g/ The Gruzian valley has many advantages: central location near the trade routes, water, electricity, lots of high ground locations. Therefore the population shall be increased substantially. However everyone shall have to live at a tsunami safe elevation.

h/ It is curious the way the border of Azerbaijan and Georgia follow a topographic contour map. So apparently this area was struck by a Caspian Sea tsunami that had a 267m run-up. The Gruzians didn't want this land after the last major Caspian Sea tsunami, so the Arabs took it. That is why the borders of Azerbaijan intrude into Gruzian territory in the irregular way they do, down the valleys.

i/ Tbilisi shall be moved so the areas around and above Tbilisi can be used for water and power storage at 500m up. Thus there will be ample water and energy for the entire valley, from this, a battery-like location at the center of the valley and near the center of world trade.

j/ To better enable discussion of how to best use the Grecian valley and surrounding areas, the following place names shall be introduced: North Ridge, Middle Ridge, South Ridge, South Abkhazia, North Abkhazia, Anapa Caspian coast, Hachkala, Grozny, Beslan, Nalchik, Eastern Valley, Valley Center, Western Valley. It is thought that having more small regions will better enable use of the land. This should be seen as a paradigm used by the entire world to help share the abundant prime land we all have already.

k/ Europe, the US and the UM shall have the right to use the air fields in Georgia and Cyprus to fly over all the Caspian sea, the Black sea, Turkey, Syria, Azerbaijan, Iran, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan, Iraq, Afghanistan and the entire greater Arabian peninsula. Europe, the US, the Indians, the Chinese, and UM shall have an airfield on the Karagel peninsula in the southeast Caspian Sea for use by any of these nations/groups who care to use the airfield. These forces may close the entire Hazar peninsula if they have military operations going on.

a/ We shall now start diverting the waters of the Tigris and Euphrates (and other small seasonal rivers) to water the relatively salt-free Mosul valley in Northern Syria and Iraq for drainage into the Mediterranean, instead of the salty and low yield Mesopotamian areas which drains into the Persian gulf.

b/ The flow of the Euphrates is well impounded already. However the Tigris shall have better impounding. From the impounding lakes, the water shall run through concrete culverts during storms, and pipes at other times to the valley below. The Euphrates shall run exclusively along the north side of Mosul Valley, the Tigris (with 3x the amount of water) shall run along the Damascus to Mosul line, and also south to the edge of the mountains of Iraq, and also along the northern side of the valley, almost to the point where Euphrates enters the valley. These two culverts and pipes will be on high ground at the edges of the Mosul valley area. The water can thus easily be run by gravity to where it is needed. c/ Lake Assad shall be of sufficient size to prevent all water in 9 out of 10 years from either the Euphrates or the Tigris from reaching beyond this point unless people decide to let it. Also, the Tigris should be impounded where possible.

d/ We will not worry so much about safety with regard to the dams because people shall not be allowed to live in places that are vulnerable to dam collapse.

e/ Armenia shall use a similar system in its main farming valley, and the California valley will have a one sided version with the natural river channel below and parallel being used for overflow.

f/ The Tigris/ Euphrates water can be diverted from Homs to along the south coastline by around 400km. (As a point of reference, Los Angeles gets most of its water from a 389 km aqueduct from the Colorado river.) All the people from this area (and its diseased culture) shall be moved away and completely replaced with other people who are not from this area. The land will be used: However, the culture will be shut down and blended away into migratory mix, which shall be excluded from this zone. It's also possible to get the Nile's water over to the Sinai, which is a similar distance away.

g/ Turkey shall get the parts of Syria, northern Iraq, and Lebanon that can be made to grow food. However, these places shall have none of their traditional and traditionally problematic inhabitants. The people and all these areas shall be migrated away and replaced with ethnic mix.

h/ Now that we are re-purposing the Tigris and Euphrates for use in the Syrian valley for eventual discharge in the Mediterranean and no longer in the Persian Gulf, the entire Syrian valley from Tripoli to Homs, to Deir ez-Zur, to Mosul may be inhabited year round, but all the parts to the south of this line must be evacuated for the hot months. These lands will also be Turkey and Turkey will take as many of the Syrians living in this place and Turkey shall develop and impound nearly all of its highland streams and use this water for the sealed highland valleys around Beysehir lake and the Karaman dry lake basin, and the Afyonkarahisar area and the areas around Isparta. The precise location is a highland arc of the Sanliurfa basin and the Adiyaman valley. Also, further out will be Malatya valley, and the huge Batman valley.

i/ The Batman dam should be 50m or perhaps 70m tall. Also, near Cayustu a 700 meter wide dam can flood the entire Batman basin and use this for high water storage if there is seasonal water to store.

j/ Parts of the Erba valley and if needed the Niksar valley shall be converted into a lake.

k/ The Dams on the Kizilirmak River should be higher. Water is too precious in Turkey.

l/ The Torbali, Saraykoy, and Manisa valleys looks like they could seasonally impound excess water if the tsunami vulnerable communities were evacuated.

m/ We imagine the Manisa valley with 170 1-meter earthen steps, Maple-seed shaped earthen steps with plastic to hold water and drive the water into the soil where it can be pumped to the surface. All of the Tsunami valleys of west

Turkey will be farmed in this way. And none of these places is fit for people to live in due to the tsunami risk.

n/ The entire Issa area shall be a UM territory. This is supposed to be open to people from other parts of the world for settlement. At least half of the people here are supposed to be from other non-contiguous nations. And all the enterprises are supposed to be half and half locals and outsiders. This is intended to keep the swamp from festering. And likewise at Centograd, and in Andeo, at least half of the people must be from far away, unless there are too many positions and not enough people.

o/ All the rivers leaving the mountains around the Issa Valley, including the Tigris, Euphrates, Karasu, Big Zab, Little Zab, Ak Su, Sirwanas, Nahr at Rib, Karkheh, Dez, Karun, Zohreh: all the water shall be impounded as much as practical while still up on the mountain and put in pipes and directed to where it is most useful.

p/ Below grade dams might be constructed to bedrock at the Tigris and Euphrates flow-lines near the south side of the Issa Valley to trap the underground seepage leaking from the valleys. These should go a bit downstream from the current Mosul dam and the current Lake Assad dam. Hopefully we can keep this water from becoming too salty.

17/ Afghanistan:

a/ The Gwadar pass will open up soon and it will carry almost all of the trade of India with Europe. No longer will Afghanistan be in a terrible location with regard to trade.

b/ You should make a big show of the people turning on the Taliban and forming under a western-style democracy. Then lots of people get on TV and call the Taliban armed crazies that people were afraid of.

c/ Make a big show of arresting the extremists in the Taliban and totally denouncing their ways and objectives.

d/ Stop the flow of illegal opiates totally.

e/ Beg for $4/ day per capita in foreign aid for food until everyone can be moved.

f/ Offer to be scattered as nuclear families, so you are less powerful and more likely to be accepted as immigrants.

g/ Offer to set up a new nation in a sparsely inhabited, but more fertile part of the world than Afghanistan which is both dry and too high to grow crops.

h/ Promise to study and entirely adopt the language and culture of the nation adopting your family.

i/ Promise no hostility, and promise to repay your relocation costs plus interest once you are all living in a place that doesn't need to constantly buy-in food.

j/ Three large earthen dams shall be constructed in Idlib, near Kabta, Kafr Ruhin and Qalaat Al Madiq. Another shall be constructed near Hatay. Another dam shall be built near Nurdagi Tahtakopru Baraj Golu (400m up) shall be made bigger as a reservoir. The Kilis valley shall also be used for water impounding and farming. All these places will be watered with the Tigris and Euphrates in addition to other sources k/ The entire Kahramanmaras valley shall be terraced to increase direct water penetration from the river as it flows down the valley.

18/ All shall now live in peace: All people of the greater Mideast shall now be friends with their neighbors and with the entire world out of respect for the plan that either moved their people, or unified their nation, or brought more water to their nation.

19/ Acceptance: Except for India, the acceptance of this new border plan is required in each nation mentioned above for construction of the UM rail and aqueduct plans, and the beginning of the Exhodos process.

UR'62. INDIA

1/ Dvaraka like Atlantis was flooded by tsunami, not submerged exactly. Simply look at the topography from of the Mumbai inlet. Close to half of India's population lives in what appears to be a tsunami vulnerable lowlands at the foot of the Himalayan mountains. The river next to Varanasi is only 59m above sea level, and the river next to Guwahati is only at 44m above sea level for example. Now look at the funnel created by the southern tip of India and Sumatra. The portions of India not suitable for habitation due to tsunami risk shall be required to move to new townships in other more high altitude places.

2/ Due to the tsunami risk created by the funnels on both sides of India, all of the nation should be living on land more than at least 100m above sea level, and probably more than 200m above sea level. Also, due to the extreme heat, and the dusty nature of the land, most of India's new cities should be in the highlands at elevations of between 600m and 2000m.

3/ Regarding the abundant under populated low-highlands at the edge of the Assam valley: Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram Tripura, and the parts of Meghalaya that India will keep: All shall be used for new township settlements. The state boundaries shall all be redrawn in the Assam valley with 4 states on either side of the valley, and one state at the end of the valley. The borders for all these new eastern states of India shall meet at the Brahmaputra River and run outward to the borders of India.

4/ As India will be moving to the hills, many nature parks like the The Simlipal tiger reserve, and the highlands south of Koira and Kiriburu and Shankargarh shall be for housing. All the lands worldwide that are most suitable for housing shall be used for housing zones and the animals will just have to go around our fenced communities. In general, all the highland parks suitable for housing shall have fenced townships in India.

5/ India shall also develop the Kundah plateau up at around 2,000m and the Madurai highlands, among all of India's other highlands.

6/ All the lowland communities of India's northern valley and coast lines: All of these must move to high ground. The area radiating out from near Mahabaleshwar should be a new city up at ~1300m where it is 8°C cooler year round.

7/ India's dirty industry zone shall go at the southern tip of the Indian sub-continent, on the west side, near Trivandrum, because this is the most isolated location. In the winter months, the air pollution blows out to sea and the in summer months it also blows out to sea to the northeast.

8/ The India Pakistan border shall also have straight lines. This line shall connect the village of Jakhau by the ocean past a point that is 22 km east of the center of Gaddafi stadium in Lahore. The line shall continue on in a straight line, up to the point, where it connects with the Ravi River. From the Ravi River intersect near Dorangla, the border shall follow a straight line to a point on Mangla Dam Lake 1 km south of Kakra town. From the other side of Mangla Dam Lake the border shall follow the Jhelum River up to Rarha. Then the border shall follow the Kunhar River to Dara Battangi. Then about 1km up stream from Dara Battangi, the border shall follow the existing border shall follow the existing mountain peak border (defined by the watershed topography) up to where the Indus River and Khanbari Nala River meet. Then the border shall follow the Indus to Waterfall Masjid Wali, where it shall follow the existing border past Shandur National Park, Darkut, Chiantar Sar, and Karambar Lake, on its way to the border of Afghanistan near the Wakhan Corridor. Also, along this border, all territory within 130 km of a point at the center of Jaisalmer shall belong to India.

9/ Tibet shall become a UM territory due to its potential for starting a war. Mining shall generally be prohibited by the UM in the costly to reach, yet critically important mountain watershed areas of Tibet. All of China's dams over India and Bangladesh shall be drained and run at 15% of capacity. This is due to the insane risk that Arab-backed Chinese greed has transferred to millions of Indians living downstream. Only flood dissipating pipe hydro-electric projects shall be allowed on super-high mountains worldwide with people living downstream.

10/ As China shall not be thought to have a valid claim on Tibet, it shall not have any claim to any territory on Tibet's border with India. Therefore, all of China's claims to territory near the borders of India, Nepal, and Bhutan shall be void.

11/ The Pakistan administered parts of Jammu and Kashmir shall become Pakistan territory, the Indian parts shall become India territory. Regarding the Pakistan and India border: both countries shall be regarded as too poor to afford a war. Even rich countries are too poor to afford a war. But at least rich countries have money to buy food in from outside.

12/ The following disputed areas shall now become UM territory to reduce strife and in some cases, the potential for war.

a/ Aksai Chin

b/ Depsing plains.

c/ Doklam disputed area

d Siachen Glacier

e/ Hans Island.

f/ Montblanc.

g/ Antarctica.

13/ Both Nepal and Bhutan shall be joined with India and Indians shall greatly resettle in both nations with their valuable middle elevation lands adjacent to a great fertile flood plane.

14/ Shrinigar Lake (Lake Dal) at 1,600m elevation shall perhaps be dammed up and flooded, for the dry season water storage and electricity storage.

15/ A special branch of the Indian militia shall be the force that suppresses all race riots. This should be composed of all the different races in India, which shall serve together, and shall be committed to peace and preservation of order. In contested areas like Kashmir, the forces shall be half made-up of men from other areas on remote assignment for high pay, and much better accommodations. India shall encourage reporting of all race riots to assure an open record without cover-ups. It shall also welcome international observers and forensic analysis. India shall also prosecute and aggressively sentence all race rioters.

16/ Pakistan shall now get friendly with India in matters of trade. This will bring much long term wealth to both nations. In the long-run much more enrichment will come to Pakistan by working with India, than working with the Arab trade interrupters to parasitize India's trade. Never should trade be the source of conflict between the two nations. If this ever happens, then it means that the decision makers have been corrupted. Alos, Pakistan shall always be required to let Indian trade flow freely through former Pakistan. And likewise, with all the formerly Muslim nations of central Asia, including former Afghanistan, former Iran, as well as all the nations of the Middle East. No longer shall Ishtar have any sway over an nation's trade.

17/ If we look at the area that was British India, we find Pakistan and Bangladesh are 100% Muslim with no other religions tolerated at all. This, while India has a significant Muslim minority in mix of peaceful toleration. Yet this small Muslim minority often causes rioting and many other troubles. So India, like all the other nations in the UM shall require that all the Muslims cleave from Islam by using a typical cleave-from-Islam defecation/defection ceremony. Those who do not cleave from Islam and remain cleaved from Islam must leave India and never return.

18/ All who do not immediately cleave from Islam shall not be allowed to stay in India and retain any rights of Indian citizenship, or the right to remain in India. All must repeat their defecation/defection ceremony every year for 7-years. And not a shred of Islam, or any secret prayers, or islamic customs, or any Mosque shall remain. Also, there shall be zero tolerance of any Islamic or Arabic media in India forever, especially with regard to children and new immigrants. However, India, like the other nations of the world shall still be free to deport or drive off all Muslims regardless of whether or not they cleaved from Islam. India shall be free to say: "Just as the Bengalis drove all Hindus and Buddhists from their land, so shall we drive all Muslims and former Muslims from our land." India shall also be free to declare that: "the three nations Pakistan, India and East Pakistan are better off, completely separated based on race and religion."

19/ If Bangladesh ever comes to a great war with India, India shall take all of the land west of the Brahmaputra forever when it wins. Likewise with Pakistan, if Pakistan ever comes to a great war with India, then India, shall be free to take all of the land east of the Indus river forever when it inevitably wins. The world shall remember that India outnumber Bangladesh and Pakistan combines by a factor of 4.5:1. Also, the free parts of the world are inherently allied with democratic and free India while inherently opposed to the Muslim slave nations of the world.

20/ Hindu India shall aggressively and vigorously enforce a total ban on Islam in all their lands forever. Strong communal thoughts of "good riddance to Islam", "never-ever again Islam", and "keep Islam out forever" should be recorded for future generations. Also, those who look like they might be Muslim may be required to participate in the defecation/defection ceremony. And this shall be thought a tiny inconvenience for a few extra non-believers. Also, everyone must use real Korans and show the proper emotions when they do their defecation/defection ceremony on video.

21/ In India, North America and Europe, the people in the cleaving ceremony are also supposed to wear traditional Islamic clothing, and bring their traditional Islamic clothing in boxes and throw all this Islamic clothing on the fire and strip down naked and put all their clothes in the fire. Then they put on western clothing and they shall never again wear Islamic clothing or read the Koran or they may be deported.

22/ Over 60,000 people die of snake bites in India annually. In areas plagued by snakes, there shall be concrete snake walls of sufficient height for all townships. Also, it shall be noted that cobras are aggressively cannibalistic and will attack photos and drawings of reared-up cobras. So we imagine this sort of image as bait for a variety of traps and electric fences. Also, we imagine stretches of road and rail viaduct, with tightly woven chain link fences and snake holes at the bottom. There are one-way doors at the bottom that the snakes can push past to get in to the road, but can't get out without pulling a door open. So the snakes can easily find their way into the highways, but can't get out, and so they mostly get run over. Meanwhile the larger animals can't fit through the snake holes and get onto the highway to become roadkill.

23/ India shall now become every bit as intolerant of Muslims as so many Muslim nations are of non-Muslims. There shall never be any Muslims allowed in India ever again. All must either cleave and convert or leave, or be jailed and deported. The Muslims of Kerala, Maharashtra, Karnataka, and Sri Lanka and some other areas shall not be given the opportunity to cleave, but must all leave.

24/ India, Burma, Thailand, and Vietnam shall no longer allow any Muslims to migrate to their unless they complete their renouncement of Islam ceremonies in total, and repeat these annually for 7-years. All Muslims living in India that fail to complete all their renouncement ceremonies shall be earmarked and then deported.

25/ All mosques in India shall be demolished and their foundations ripped out. All other religions should be tolerated except the violent one of endless hunger.

26/ Regarding those Muslims who are already in India, who sincerely and permanently cleave from Islam and adopt Hinduism, Buddhism, or Christianity, should be welcomed with the open arms by the Indians as everywhere else unless this seems widely insincere. However the Muslim of Kerala, the Bengal border and around Delhi should all be required to leave.

27/ All Muslims living in the following areas shall be exhoded, and required to leave India regardless of whether they cleave or not. The ones living in these areas that cleave shall get exhoded to a much better life.

a/ All of Kerala.

b/ Southwest Karnatak.

c/ Northern Uttar Pradesh.

d/ Within 200km of New Delhi.

e/ East of Deogar.

28/ The reservation system for jobs in India's government and places in India's schools shall be entirely scrapped and replaced by an entirely merit based system as measured by the Indian Senate's tests where each of the assigned Senators must pick a test question immediately before the test. The people that score highest on the test get the job.

Also, to repeat, all the most powerful roles in Government shall now be performed by juries of Senators. It is only the less-important and well-explained Government management jobs that are done by non-Senators. No Muslims or immigrants from Muslim nations shall work in India's government. Also, the reserved spaces in India's reservation system shall be thought to be a Muslim trick for running India.

29/ Sri Lanka is for certain a strategic jewel. But the island is India's Jewel, and not Arabia's. So long as Sri Lanka remains estranged from India, it will be secretly under Arabia's spell and it will be used against India wherever this is convenient for Arabia. For these reasons Sri Lanka shall be included in the new Indian union, and no longer shall it be fake independent.

30/ There shall be no more disposing of dead people or animals or toxic things in rivers. The Ganges shall remain as sacred, however, bodies shall not be disposed in this river any more.

31/ In India, as everywhere else, the police shall not be allowed to beat people, and those police that do should be sent to prison for assault. Vigilante beatings in India shall be a felony.

32/ Throughout Pakistan, India, and Bangladesh, and in Southern Africa: individual and gang stranger rapists, murderers, and those who savagely beat others should generally be subject to death by torturous execution. The bar for this sentence shall be considerably lower for Muslims and former Muslims who abuse the hospitality of their hosts.

33/ Israelis can also settle throughout India, and in Israeli communities.

34/ India shall offer health department certification for its restaurants, however this shall not be required.

35/ How many times must it be resolved? There shall be no more castes in India

36/ Cow shit shall no longer be thought sacred in any way. You may dry it and burn it, but you shall not rub it on your bodies or eat it.

37/ You are not supposed to drink water from rivers. You are also not supposed to go to the toilet outside near any river or any beach.

38/ India shall now have a great public toilet building program that starts along all popular streams and beaches. All of these shall be free and the paper packets shall be sold by government at cost.

39/ When men beat women in India, it shall be considered battery just like everywhere in the Western world. In regard to violence against women, India shall start using Western standards. Otherwise many Christians may begin to wonder what the difference is between you and the violent, women-subjugating Muslims.

40/ Places as dry as Cholistan should not be in India unless they can be irrigated. All of this western dry-lands that is not producing very much should be regarded as a potential cancer for the Indian government because it breeds Ishtar. India was wise to abandon Cholistan.

41/ The Indian people shall realize that it is the Muslims that are responsible for disarming all nations. It is strongly recommended that the Indian people go in the opposite direction and have Centi-Nome armories full of arms

42/ Men shall stop holding hands and embracing in public.

43/ It shall be noted that the Indian cast system is called the Varna system or color system. India should have an open discussion for the world about varna racism. India should also ask if the Varna system is an organic and Indian thing, or it was created by foreign influences to better subjugate India.

44/ India shall have centi-Nome armories for its Hindu and buddhist populations to guard against further Islamic incursions. No Muslims in India shall ever be allowed to hold arms, including knives and machetes and sticks. Also, all machetes owned by Muslims must be of a banana design, with the single blade inside the arc of the banana and the entire tip rounded and dull. The Hindus of Indians shall have a right to kill all Muslims in arms in India. Also, the immense vulnerability of the over-crowded river crossing Boats in Pakistan, and in particular Bangladesh are huge vulnerabilities for these nations.

45/ India can manage its relations with China via the Indian ocean, namely modulating Chinese shipping through the Indian ocean. So China better get with the new program using democracy, and cooperating with its neighbor.

46/ Also the Amanganj Valley can probably be used for seasonal water storage and Ban Sagar lake can probably be enlarged.

47/ India shall buy out the Andaman islanders and then open a variety of upscale western-quality communities oriented to workers and guests from their various nations such as Burma, Thailand, Malaysia, Sumatra, Bali, China, Japan, Britain, etc. These will have drinkable tap water, and proper sewage disposal pumped far out at sea. Thus the entire archipelago shall be turned into an upscale tourist destination for India.

48/ We shall make a note of the insanity of how the Pakistanis took the land that the Indians didn't want after the last tsunami. And now these same Pakistanis block India from getting to their markets in the west at cost. What ingratitude and injustice this is. Lucky the rules have changed, and no nations shall any longer be allowed to hinder or tax the trade of any other other nations flowing through that nation.

49/ With regard to through trade, no nation shall be allowed to impede the trade of other nations merely flowing through its territory.

50/ We imagine many hundreds of millions of people living on the high Bengaluru plateau, this area in fact, will probably being the new capital region of India.

51/ India, like most other nations shall build a sewage pipeline system to get its sewage to either the ocean or to treatment plants where it is mixed with dead dirt and turned into top soil for harvesting some years later.

52/ India like all member nations shall have money penalties for littering or fly-dumping, or fly tipping garbage onto the land. And whatever the penalty is for dumping garbage on the land, it shall be 5 times higher for dumping garbage into a river or lake. Also, the practice of floating partly cremated corpses down the Ganges and other rivers shall be prohibited. From now on, only fully incinerated corpse ashes may be floated down the rivers of India.

UR'63. HILLS FOR BANGLADESH

1/ Looking at a topographic map, is easy to see how Bangladesh began as the territory that nobody wanted after a ~20 meter tsunami. However, in the north west of Bangladesh, we see some areas where Bangladesh territory has been pushed into India. This has resulting in the occupation of lands that are up to 90 m above sea level. We can also see from the shape of Bangladesh's borders, especially the 3 fingers pushing to the north, that there was a "struggle" to cut off the main part of India from its 12 eastern states. This presumably to set the stage for Bangladesh to grab the territory of India's eastern 12 states. A similar thing seems to have happened in the western part of Bangladesh.

Now, to prevent this sort of land grabbing (and the strife it leads to), we shall now impose straight line borders for Bangladesh's western and northwestern borders with India as follows. It is thought that having clearly defined, straight-line borders like this will greatly reduce conflict between the people of Bangladesh and India. It shall also be thought that these new borders are the approximate and just borders that Bangladesh begin with, before poverty, overpopulation, and starvation pushed the desperate Bengali people around its western border checkpoint with India. The new borders shall be as follows:

a/ The western border of Bangladesh shall be a precisely north-south line, extending from the Bangla Hill Border crossing (in the city Muharapara) directly due south to the Indian Ocean.

b/ The northwest border shall be a precisely east-west line, extending from the Bangla Hill Border crossing directly due east to the border of the Indian state of Meghalaya (roughly near the city of Mahendraganj).

c/ All of the Bengalis living in this area given back to India, with a long family, history of living in this area, and the resemblance to the other people living in this area shall give their land back to India and shall be exhoded as mix to Africa.

2/ The following areas shall be given to Bangladesh, so the nation does not have to be Exhoded to the world:

a/ The southern parts of Meghalaya south of Tura, William Nagar, Nongstoin, Shillong, and Jowai.

b/ All of the Indian state of Mizoram except Kolasib, Aizawl, Serchhip and Champhai counties shall now be Bangladesh.

c/ The parts of Burma's Chin State that are on the western slope of the Arakan Mountains and more than 10 km south of Sakta. Bangladeshi side of the Arakan mountains than the Burmese side.

3/ The 1.4 million Rohingya Muslims from Bangladesh that are living in Burma shall all be exhoded to Africa as part of the ethnic mix. The nations of Burma are advised to use arms to defend their new border from Bengali incursions and keep new Bengali settlers from settling in the dangerous tsunami no-man's land that nobody should be living in. However, in the future, even if Burma fails to enforce its right to eject new settlers in this zone for many decades, that shall not change Burma's eternal rights to eject all Bengalis (and people from other third nations) that have settled in this dangerous tsunami vulnerable coastal no-man's land.

UR'64. THE BURMAS

1/ India has 25 times the population of Burma. It also has a huge shortage of elevation appropriate land to build on. For this reason, the entire underpopulated Arakan mountain range shall now be ceded to India territory, together with all of the land on the west side of the Irrawaddy river, and the Chindwin river, Up to Hkamti, and Shin Bway Yang, and the Stilwell road pass. All the land on the west side of this line will become part of India. And this area of former Burma shall be called the new Indian State of Arakas. India has so many people and such a small amount of land that is at a suitable elevation and tsunami safe. India shall pay all the relocated Burmese the same amount the Chinese are paying the Laotians for their nation's underused land.

2/ Regarding the Kachin province of Burma, this area shall be divided along the highpoint Ridgeline between the Danai valley, and the Puta-O valley. The Danai valley and the western half of Kachin Province shall become Indian Territory. The Puta-O valley and the eastern half of Kachin Province shall become a new UM territory for factories located in this location favorable for inexpensive labor and also inexpensive Janisarit hydro-electric power. In fact the eastern half of Kachin province will have some of the world's greatest pipe hydro-electric project opportunities and it will be the epicenter of excess (cheap) electricity. Dehong county of Yunan province China shall be joined with Kachin province due to access issues from the China side. China shall give Kachin the Dehong county of Yunan province due to accessibility issues from the China side.

3/ The following parts of Burma shall be the new UM nation of Adamar: Kawkareik, Mawlamyine, Dawei, Myeik, Kawthoung. Adamar will be oriented more towards tourism and tropical vacation homes.

4/ The following parts of far eastern Burma shall be ceded to China: Kengtung, Mong Hpayak, and Tachileik.

5/ There shall be a new nation of Shanmar, which shall include the Mon, Kayin, Kayah states of Burma, Also the Mae Hong Son state of Thailand shall be included. (due to poor access from the Thai side), and all parts of Burma on the east side of the Salween river and south of Man Hpakhi shall also be included. Shanmar shall also include Minesat and Linkhae districts of Burma. In all these UM areas and areas purchased by another nation, everyone gets the Cuba Rate, when their nation gets bought out. They also get other places to move to. In the Case of Laos, most will opt to move to Thailand due to the linguistic similarity. But many who speak English will move elsewhere. Many of the people of Shanmar will take their money and move elsewhere in Burma with its new abundance of lots. Many will move elsewhere.

6/ All the remaining parts of Burma shall be the nation of Burma. Because Burma has such long and abundant hillsides, abundant water, and soon abundant electricity, its population shall be increased significantly through being divided up.

7/ South Asia and Southeast Asia will now have some of the most abundant electricity in the world due to all the nearby

Janisarit hydroelectric. We may want much of the world's smelting at the foot of the Janisarit, perhaps at Zeechaing, or at the Songkhla pollution zone farther away. However, the smelting of even toxic specialty metals shall go in a remote desert, such as Vizcaino, or the southern tip of Argentina, A place where the toxic activity will harm life the least.

8/ Because of the abundant Janisarit electricity from Turkey and Centograd to Hong Vladavostock, Asia will have a definite advantage with regard to electricity-intensive industry due to the Janisarit's cheap energy. But it will be cheapest of all in Southeast Asia, and east India, and Bangladesh, right where some of the poorest people on earth live.

10/ The UM shall provide a rail line and 7km tunnel to get through the Changlang pass between far eastern India and Northern Burma. Most of the rail freight traffic will however the coastal route.

11/ Burmas toxic area goes at the tip of the peninsula at zijar. Vietnam's dirty zone goes at the southern tip, south of Ca Mau.

12/ Burma's (Adamar's) Andaman Sea islands with their abundant high ground and their lovely high ground climates and tsunami safe elevations: These shall be developed for resorts and foreigner housing as follows:

a/ Zadet-kyi island shall be divided in half by means of an east/west line passing through the island's high point. The part to the south shall be Thai, and the part to the north shall be Burmese. There shall be no borders on the island, but all departures shall be required to clear immigration and customs to go to the mainland of either nation. Also Zadet-kalay island shall be leased to the state of Goa who will in turn lease the land to nightly and monthly resort operators. The Goans must build a pedestrians only suspension bridge between the islands.

b/ Lanbi Kyun island, Let's-ok island and Bentinck "Ganja" island shall be for nightly, monthly, and owned homes.

c/ Kadan Island and Maingyi "Kadan west" island shall be Burmese owned and run, with a pleasure boat harbor to the east part of the island. This island will have secure access (like most of the islands) and there will be many vacation home townships.

d/ Don Island shall be Singapore owned and run, with a large port for pleasure craft, mostly towards the southern part of the island. The parts south of the port are for hotels, the larger northern high ground areas shall be for township residences. The two northern inlets may also allow for boat dockage.

e/ Thayawthahangyi or "Major" island shall be Burmese in the southern or central part of the Island, with the part northeast of the eastern isthmus shall be Thai run, and the 4-isthmus peninsula shall be Balinese run on the blob farthest out west, then Italian run in the middle, then closest in Tamil run. The 4th blob of land to the northeast shall be Vietnamese run. Burma shall develop the port between the Burmese part and the Tamil/Indian part for pleasure craft. There will be other pleasure craft ports at the southern end of the island, the Thai isthmus, and at the eastern most part of the island, where supplies come in.

13/ A channel shall be excavated so that the waters of the Salween river can be diverted either directly into the ocean or into the low-lying Mawlamyine rice bowl area which may also be used for runoff recovery and fresh water fish farming.

14/ An additional route shall be built that uses a tunnel to get from around Mae Sot and Myawaddy. This tunnel will be very useful to the traffic using the Vinh pass, like all the China/ India trade.

15/ There shall be a new major Indian city, the capital of the east for India, named Dvarka. This shall be located on the mountain range between Burma and Bangladesh, near Imphal.

UR'65. INDOCHINA

1/ To be clear, most of this regions was apparently once called Unda•Neesia = wave•children, and Unda•China = Wave China.

2/ When we replace our megacities, we shall replace them with communities the size of an intercity train stop where the rail system interchanges with up to perhaps 50 or 100 township lines. These are communities of up to 500,000 or 1,000,000 people. Thailand will doubtless have many such cities in its cool tropical high grounds that replace Bangkok. These will mostly be connected via a lowlands rail system. And the same with the other low-lying death-trap cities we replace. Also, the Intercity rail system is really two parallel systems, one for passengers and another for large container freight. However at most interchanges, the system is focused more on passengers and small container freight.

3/ The Thai rail system shall be organized around 2 loops, one for the Bangkok valley and the other for the eastern valley. From these loops there shall be various rail lines heading:

a/ Towards Malaysia as a trade route.

b/ From Nakhon Ratchasima, Towards Burma, Bangladesh and India as a trade route.

c/ Towards Laos, Vietnam and China as a trade route.

d/ Up into the northern valleys towards Chiang Mai, Chiang Rai and the other valleys of the north.

e/ Towards Dien Bien Phu valley and surrounds.

f/ Into the south Laos highlands.

g/ Into the western hills of Thailand.

4/ China shall get Vietnam's land north of the Red River, and on the other hand Vietnam shall get the Huaphanh province of Laos.

x/ Hanoi shall be moved to the highlands southwest of the Red river. The poorest part of the nation today. There shall also be new major Vietnamese cities around the Dalat plateau at 1,500m elevation where it is always 10°C cooler, and the Bao Loc Plateau at around 900m where it is always 6°C cooler. There are also the adjacent "Gia-nia " (Gia Nghia) plateau, the Van-Gia hills, and the northern plateau. So we have this region of the highlands that is about 60,000 square kilometers of highlands. Maybe we put 50 or 100 million people in this place with abundant electricity, a wonderful climate, and tsunami safe mid-elevation lands.

5/ Mankind now finds, with our new appreciation of tropical highlands that Laos is extremely underpopulated, and that the rights of the 8 million Laotians do not stand up when we see the world's new need for highland communities. And likewise with India for the underpopulated highlands of western Burma. Therefore, the under-populated high elevation portions of Laos shall be divided up and given to other nations as follows:

a/ The southernmost Lao province of Attapeu shall be ceded to Cambodia, because Cambodia needs high lands.

b/ Vientiane state, and Vientiane capital region shall be ceded to Thailand:.

c/ The entire remainder of Laos shall be ceded to China. All nations, including poor China and India shall each pay the residents of these areas the same amount that the US will pay to the Cubans when they force them to relocate when they buy out their entire nation's land. (Also, the old listed population numbers hold for the calculation. This no matter how many people flood in. So where people flood in, everyone in the place gets less, so most fraudsters get outed and charged with fraud for lying on their application form).

6/ Laos shall become a very densely populated mid-elevation place with an ideal climate. Currently Laos has around 32 people per square kilometer. This can be increased to over 300 people per square kilometer.

7/ The Thais, Cambodians, and Vietnamese shall all be free to live in Laos in addition to people from many other nations.

8/ Currently Cambodia has around 95 people per square kilometer, and Thailand has around 137 This can be increased to upwards of 300 people per square kilometer. And as always, all immigrants must adopt their host nation's culture and ways and must live according to local customs. These must pull their own weight and cannot live as foreigners if they want to ever become citizens that can't be sent back. This should be typical worldwide.

9/ The new capital of Thailand shall be in the highland area of Thung Salaeng-Luang, and Nam Nao National Parks up to the Mekong River. The Thai/Cambodian border shall be moved 3km into Thailand between the Thai/Laos/ Cambodian 3-way border and where Thai highway 3446 enters Cambodia. In exchange for this land, Thailand shall get an equal amount of flat land next to the Thai border in western Cambodia This is so the Cambodians can have some highlands to live on while they farm their adjacent lowlands.

10/ The dirtiest manufacturing in continental Asia shall take place in the windy valley between Songkhla and Kangar/Alor Setar. There will be another dirtier area at the south end of Sumatra, an area that might get buried again at any time by the hyperactive Krakatoa volcano. Everyone who lives between the north end between Koh Sukon and the north end of Phatthalung lagoon and on the south between Taiping and Pattani gets like-kind land and money for reconstruction to bring compensation to 120% of fair value. Penang and the Langkawi archipelago will tend to become seasonal resorts. All the Chinese and Indian people of the pollution displacement area will be allowed to relocate to New Singapore and become Singaporeans and use their relocation compensation there. Others may apply to Singapore.

11/ The Phan-Thiet/Cam-Ranh area is perhaps another good location for toxic industry due to the wind directions. The dirtiest industry in Vietnam should to at the southern tip of the peninsular near Ca Mau. Trang and Krabi will have clean factories and offices. Krabi will be in Thailand, Trang will be outside the Thai border in the special easy work visa zone. Satun will become a port and a pollution buffer zone.

Likewise for most of Kedah province of Malaysia. and Songkhla Thailand. Buffer zone with no agriculture or residential, except temporary worker housing at the periphery.

12/ Like all poor nations that have a large tourism or expat sector, Thailand shall:

a/ Encourage foreigners to stay indefinitely, provided they have a source of sufficient outside income, and do not break the law, or cause a nuisance.

b/ Give at least 180-day visas on arrival where visas on arrival are given. This has traditionally been the length of Indian visas. These longer visas on arrival shall be given to all nations that have traditionally been given visa on arrival. There shall be no wasteful visa runs for periods of less than 180-days.

c/ Welcome online workers.

d/ Have laws that enable foreigners to rent or buy residences of up to 500m.

e/ Treat foreigners equally under the law except in matters where they are supposed to be treated differently such as with voting, free speech, an ownerships, fictional citizens.

13/ There shall be an irrigation project where the waters of the Mekong can be used around Chiang Rai.

14/ A minimum level of automation shall be required worldwide for tsunami zone farming. In all tsunami vulnerable farming zones, we shall do 2 things. On one hand we minimize the number of people working there. On the other hand, we work to assure adequate evacuation possibilities for those who work there.

15/ We shall figure out which areas do not dry out in ice ages. When we figure this out, then we might start terracing the hills in these places.

16/ Kuala Lumpur means Muddy-confluence (Or murky put it together), and it is located 66-meters above sea level in what appears to be a bi-directional tsunami funnel. It is also almost maximally close to the Toba volcano, while being also at the narrow part of the straights tsunami funnel. The Highlands by Bang Lang and Royal Belum parks and the hills around them are a much safer and cooler location for a capital city. The current location of KL is far too hot. But here in the hills is where Malaysia shall build its new capital to replace the old unsafe one.

17/ The UM shall run and pay for the toxic waste dump system as described herein. The UM shall allow the industry of all nations to leave tested and approved toxic waste according to plans at no charge. The UM shall do all the paperwork, and even provide a reasonable amount of transport for free. It shall also pay generous bounties for reports of unknown toxic materials or toxic things, or toxic dumpings. Asia's northern desert shall take all of Southeast Asia's toxic waste for no charge. Also, if we are going to pollute a location, let it be a place that is not usable in either a warm age or an ice age.

18/ The UM shall build pipes and culverts to make sure that all of the lands of the Thai/Cambodian, Laos, and Vietnamese tropical bread basket can be watered with Janisarit water should that ever be needed due to volcanic climate crisis.

19/ The Lao state of Huaphanh shall now be part of Vietnam. The Vietnamese highlands (over 650 elevation) that are north of Gia Nghia, and around Tinh Dak Nong and Ou Reang Cambodia shall now be part of Cambodia.

20/ The Vietnamese area behind Bao Cai Bau Island is a better port than Hai Phong. And because China will not be allowed to discriminate against foreign cargo, this port may see a great deal of business from south China if China can't keep its shipping industry clean and fair.

21/ The low lying area around Hanoi should be perforated with oil exploration wells to estimate the reserves.

22/ Many Chinese and Vietnamese will live on the mid-lands around Tinh Lang Son, Tinh Cao Bong, on both sides of the border and on the higher highlands around JingXi.

23/ The northern part of Vietnam above Hue is suited towards trade and industry because it is right on the China to India trade route. However anywhere south of the pass near Dong Le is increasingly far away from the Asia's main trade lines. So the northern part of Vietnam will be about industry. And even as far south as Khe Sanh and Hue area will be rather commercial, However the southern parts of Vietnam south of this area will always suffer from the same disease as southern Italy. The cool highlands of the southern part of Vietnam should thus be developed for "Florida" housing and peripheral sorts of economic activities not greatly related to being close to trade lines.

24/ Thailand shall view itself as more of an immigrant nations like the US and Australia. Even though it is a traditional nation, the Thai openness, and culture of freedom, make Thailand fit in with this immigrant nation role better than most other nations.

25/ Thailand shall develop the Chanthaburi highlands and the Chang highlands a bit further north, as well as the Trat highlands. For now, Cambodia would do well to co-locate with the Thais and to have special permit only hospitality on the Thai border. So we imagine the border zone of the Trat highlands being exciting with the two cultures available. But this area is close to the poorer eastern part of Thailand and should be where many new resorts are located in Thailand.

26/ In Thailand, Samui and Phangan and all the land south of Ranong (but north of the industrial area shall be considered as outside of the main Thai visa control area and shall permit year round foreigner living, where the foreigners buy a condo or better.

27/ The New Thai capital shall be named Asana, from the Sanskrit seat or sitting of Buddha. It shall be located in the Boten/ Ban Pang area. This area on the western Thai side of the Mekong is currently Laos, but it shall soon be Thailand.

28/ Houay Ho lake in Laos can be easily expanded and is probably ideal for hydro electric and flood agriculture uses. The small ridge to the west and north is probably ideal for townships. The other dam about 30km to the southwest should also be expanded, and the ridge to its south used for townships. The stored water will also be of value to the townships of the northern Paksong highlands. And maybe there will be 20 million people living here in the Paksong highlands in this ideal climate spot in the middle of agricultural lands.

UR'66. INDONESIA, MALAYSIA & SOUTH THAILAND

1/ Most of Indonesia and the Malay peninsula will have abundant electric energy and water thanks to all the mountains and heavy rainfalls of the region. The problem is the volcanos, earthquakes and tsunamis.

2/ It should be pointed out that Sumatra has the massive Toba volcano to the north and the hyperactive Krakatoa volcano to the south.

3/ Due to earthquake safety, on the Malay peninsula:

a/ No west-sloping land shall be used for construction.

b/ All buildings must have slip foundations.

c/ No building shall be over 3-stories tall.

4/ The UM shall run a rail line to the Pulai River. There, the containers go on small container ships to the UM's port on Sumatra. There the containers go on rails again for the trip to Bakau. There the containers go on small container ships to the UM's port on Java where they are put on a train again. Trade with Borneo is done via small container ships from Tanjung Langsat.

5/ A virtual "Makara" canal for containers shall be built between Songkhla lake on the east coast to near Tammalang Pier on the west coast. This railroad (or virtual canal) will follow the route of Thai highway 406 over what is today a 125m pass. (This pass might be lowered to ~85m.). Also, a simple earthen ditch canal (without locks) shall be dug between Songkhla Lake and Nipha Thani Thailand, to Padang Besar, and Kangar Malaysia to create the "Makara Canal"

6/ The "Makara" canal shall now be the southern Border of Thailand. And the south ridge of the HatYai/AlorSetar valley shall be the northern borders of Malaysia and Singapore. In between is a free trade zone owned by all three nations, and which charges nothing for virtual canal container handling. At this "Makara" canal zone, there is free unloading and loading of containers onto ships, to create a new hub of trade in south east Asia. The containers come off and go back on a different ship on the other side for free, because this is the main thing this area needs — to get the containers off the ships so the area can come to life. This is what this place needs to become the golden trading capitol of Southeast Asia and Australasia. Essentially we are moving Singapore to a new place more in the middle, where there is more synergy with Thailand and Malaysia, and where there will be land trade with two sides. In fact the old Singapore port will continue on indefinitely, and the old Singapore city will continue on for many decades, as the Singaporeans switch over the Makara side of Malaysia. If a boat canal is built in the HatYai/AlorSetar valley, then perhaps it will use Falkirk wheels to move standard-sized ships up to around 30m above sea level. However, an actual canal many not even be desirable. The Makara virtual canal will work in a loop that is pressed together over the highway-406 pass and a final elevation of approximately 120m today and a final pass elevation of approximately 95m above sea level.

7/ The troublesome Thai Provinces of Yala, Pattani, and Narathiwat, shall be given by Thailand to Singapore.

c/ The poor Malaysian districts of Tumpal, Pasir Mas, Tanah Merah, Jeli, Kuala Krai, Gua Musang, and Hulu Perak shall be given by Malaysia to Singapore. The population of Singapore shall be increased to at least 25-million, and Singapore like all nations shall allow the free flow of goods through its territory. West Malaysia shall take in at least 35 million people. There will also be perhaps tens of millions of temporary workers.

8/ The citizens of Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, South Korea, and "Western Europe" shall be free to settle in the new Singapore. However they must learn English and have a career history. They also cannot be convicts, or dole skivers. Up to 2-million Thais and 1-million Malays may also settle in the newly enlarged Singapore under similar conditions. This is on top of the other settlers that Singapore may allow to settle and work in its territory.

9/ All portions of Thailand south of highway 4, and Trang airport, and east of Palian inlet shall be an enclosed foreign worker zone for Thailand. The southern bay of Songkhla lagoon shall be drained and excavated so it is suitable as a harbor. The various highland nature reserves in this Kangar Canal area shall be cancelled as needed and used for township development with the wilderness remaining between the walled and insect screened townships.

10/ The area south of Ma Ban Phen Thip shall be excavated for a west coast port. Some ships will go through the new canal, but many will only land at Satun harbor to robotically unload containers for use at the commercial/ industrial area at the new "Indo-Pacific" Sphinx.

11/ The Islands of Penang, Langkawi, Tarutao, Ra Wi, Adang, Zedekyi, Kadan, Samui, Phangan, and Tao shall all allow foreigners to settle and live year round, provided they do not become a burden to their host nations. Except for Tao, all of these island shall only have communities up above 200m for the tsunami safety and the improved climate.

12/ The canal shall be called either Makara, or Singora, or Kangar, or Songkhla. It shall run from Songkhla lagoon to Port Lankawi. There shall be a stop in between near the intersection of highway 4 and 406 where the North/South train transfers cargo to the canal train. This interchange function is the reason why the virtual canal function is provided for free. From this point there is one line heading north up the peninsula, one connecting west to Port Lankawi, one connecting east to Songkhla port, one down the east coast to new Singapore, One down the west coast to Malaysia.

13/ The people of the three breakaway Thai provinces shall now live in Singapore and Malaysia. If they become a problem, they may be sent to the Solomon island and New Caledonia.

14/ Kedah and Perlis states and Penang have more relaxed rules for foreign workers. Penang as tourism and foreigner island. Phangan is for foreign families, Samui Penang phangan, zedekyi, lanbi kyun allow foreign workers and foreign residents, and have immigration checks to get into Thailand or Burma, or other countries.

15/ All shall note that Singapore may be getting a lot of land for free, but Singapore is also helping to make the whole plan work by moving its port and airport to a location where Thailand and Malaysia can also participate and enlarge the synergistic manufacturing network, which ultimately will be more valuable than the land/ sea shipping hub of Singapore.

16/ Singapore shall underwrite and pay half of the cost of building the canal and the new airport which shall go south east of the Nipa Thani Village. Malaysia shall underwrite and pay the other half. Thailand shall pay nothing due to all its territory lost.

17/ We shall note the way that the ideal location for a canal is hidden by the strange alignment of the border between Thailand and Malaysia which apparently exists to prevent a canal here. The Isthmus of Kra is an unacceptable location because it is wrongly aligned between the southern tip of Vietnam, the northern tip of Sumatra, and the southern tip of Sri Lanka, and this route wastes fuel as a result. The canal needs to be south of Sri Lanka and north of Sumatra.

18/ While the Songkhla industrial zone is inside Thailand's territory, Singapore law shall govern in all matters of industry, commerce, real estate and trade. In fact the entire free trade zone in Thailand south of Highway 4 shall be managed by Singapore law and a Singapore trial judiciary. Also, foreigners doing business in Thailand, Laos, Malaysia, and Burma shall be allowed to stipulate Singapore English-language money court in all contracts and commercial agreements. Songkhla lagoon shall offer free loading of ships, ship repair, and ship building.

19/ Because we will have double train lines down and up the Malay peninsula (east and west side) below Surat Thani, we can run two almost continuous lines of trains from all over the old world to handle the evacuation if needed by Sumatra or Java because of a volcano.

20/ South Thailand south of Thai highway 4 and Malaysia north of Penang is going to have a lot going for it economically:

a/ It will be located at a natural Mecca/sphinx of Asia, at the Songkhla virtual canal.

b/ It will be near the world's cheapest Janisarit energy.

c/ Being far out on a long peninsula is an ideal place for dirty industry due to its distance from Asia's billions. Also the winds are ideally offshore for about half of the year while they only graze the continent at the other parts of the year.

d/ It is going to be very close to the main rail lines connecting India and China.

e/ There are literally hundreds of millions of people who are just so impoverished from living on islands that would love to have a nearby factory zone like at Songkhla.

21/ We can also call this place, the "Kimuk", meaning the "Pearl" of Southeast Asia. The Kimuk functions on cheap Janisarit energy, lots of nearby super cheap labor, and polluting industry tolerance. The industrial zone here also gets a little a boost by being close to the new canal and the new Singapore going right next door.

22/ The new industrial zone in south Thailand and northern Malaysia will be a big employer of Burmese, Sumatrans, Bengalis, Indians, Chinese, and the people of Borneo and Java and the Philippines. This is in addition to the Cambodians, Laotians, and Vietnamese, and the Thais.

23/ There may be an archeological site on the three hills near Wat Suwan Khiri and the Nakhon side of the Songkhla Lake Car Ferry.

23/ Sumatra shall have two main interchanges, one near Metro, opposite Java and one opposite Singapore. There shall be a line north to Padang Sidempuan. There shall be a south line to near the town of Metro. Both lines shall run along the east side of the mountains at an elevation of over 150 meters above sea level if this is practical given the topography. Both lines shall run from the Iboei area to some distance inland, opposite Singapore. These lines shall be mostly for the rapid movement/evacuation of the agricultural workers who stay.

24/ We shall carbon date the organics under each ash layer worldwide and use this data to create a long term history of volcanos on earth. Then we shall decide (based on this) where we want to live with regard to volcano risk.

25/ There are three risks of living in the Indo, or unda area. The #1 risk is Tsunamis, and all we have to do to live with tsunamis is move to the cool tropical highlands. The #2 risk is Volcanos, and it appears that we can probably run away if these if we make adequate preparations — provided we are not living on a tiny island. The #3 problem is earthquakes, and here we must live in place where we can use slip foundations. So considering the lovely climate and the unlimited energy and water, maybe the Indonesia area is not such a bad a place to live. Although it is probably best if we move most all the non-agricultural workers to places that are not right next to the volcanos and not so close to a major fault.

26/ On Java, the UM's rail lines shall be in the form of a loop along both sides of the island north and south where practical. The loop shall begin in the east at Banyuwangi (near Bali) and run on the sides of the various volcanic mountains at over 100-150m above sea level if practical, to the evacuation port at Cilegon. The UM shall also build at least 15 spur lines between the various volcanos on the island, roughly alongside existing highways unless a better routing is figured out given the way our trains can run on columns and that they will be much better negotiating hills than today's trucks. Also on these volcano islands, the rail lines should probably be covered, so they can remain operational during an eruption.

27/ Java is far too densely populated with over 1,100 people per square kilometer. The UM shall reduce the population of Java as everyone there always wanted. The new population density shall be 50 people per square kilometer. The UM shall move almost 139 million people to other parts of Indonesia and to other parts of the world via the Exhodos process.

28/ On both Java and Sumatra, we shall keep an oversupply of boxcars. Everywhere in these areas, there should be enough room in these boxcars that everyone on the island will have a place on a ~1,000-person double-decker compartment boxcar if there is a sudden mass evacuation. These are kept under tarps in the various townships.

29/ Borneo, Sulawesi, and New Guinea island with their abundant power and water shall be the main resettlement island for Indonesians and Filipinos. These islands shall also take other people that need to leave the Philippines and other locations in the Pacific ring of fire. Borneo shall have a Ring Railroad design. with at least four or five crossings, and access lines to the central Highlands. It is the tremendous accessibility of the ideal altitude Highlands that sets Borneo apart. Also, we will not have much industry on Borneo, except power generation. The Telok Milano Peninsula is where Borneo's power generation will occur.

30/ The UM shall determine a safe distance for people living near active volcanos based on the volcano history. All the people living too close must be moved. In Java and Sumatra this is a bigger problem than in most places.

31/ The Thai freight and shipping center goes centered right at Wat Latkham (Kanchanaburi). This is the natural intersection of the train lines from India, Vietnam/China, and Malaya. This city will have many hilltop township areas: Ratchaburi, Kanchanaburi, the Burma valley, and several other valleys, including the Talaw Valley in Burma. There should also be a train line along the ridge to the north west of Siam city.

32/ Once Thailand gives up its southern territory, which is mostly Muslim, it shall forbid all practice of Islam. In fact all the lands east of Bangladesh's current borders shall entirely forbid Islam, except the lands south of the Makara canal. Burma, India, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, China, Philippines, Taiwan, Korea, and Japan shall all prohibit Islam, just like Russia, all of Europe, all of the Americas, and all of the green parts of Africa.

33/ Thailand Burma, Vietnam, Laos Cambodia, China, Korea, Japan, and India shall all ban Muslims. Nation's banning Islam and all new muslims from these nations shall be thought an important part of obtaining their support for the total exodos plan.

34/ A large part of the poverty of East India, Bangladesh, Burma, Laos, Thailand and Vietnam can be alleviated by having a subsidized railroad between China and India. When this happens, these nations at the worthless periphery of both nations, instead go to being at the valuable middle. So we imagine almost free transport between these two giant nation for only the cost of the average local human driver delivery and re-collection on another day. This or the foreign goods can be delivered to any points (or collected from any points inside for no additional cost. In the Americas there will be a fee of 2-day's wages for any shipment from either the Panama Canal, or any point below this, and 4-day's US wages for any point south of the canal. This is US subsidized railroads for the benefit of our nation and our natural allies in Latin America. The US merchant marine fee for freight to Cuba, to the Pepillo Salcedo port of Hispanola island, to the Hayes port and peninsula of Jamaica (which will be a subsidized US run port). To any of these places, it will be 2-day's wages from either the Florida Keys or Yucatan, or Puerto Lempira port (shared by Nicaragua & Honduras), Panama, and Coro Venezuela.

35/ The ocean sound between Burton Island and Muna Island shall have a big port for pleasure ships and for the naval vessels of various nations. The area south of Tanuna on Maluku island shall be excavated for a port. The area around Pintatu shall be excavated for a port on North Maluku island.

36/ There areas around Phuket and north of Phuket and around Mersing Malaysia are idea for air polluting industry due to both their peninsular location and how the winds tend to blow out across a large ocean. Also, the Songkhla to Alor-Setar valley (the "windy valley"), with its consistent cross-peninsula winds: This valley is an ideal place for less extreme air-polluting industry, like: coal burners, big oil burners, and coatings. And this is all right next to the virtual canal, or perhaps later, the real Singora canal.

37/ Ideally, we want to put our polluting industry where the winds will carry the air pollution over the salty uninhabited oceans where the pollution will mix and diffuse in 3D with corrosive salt water. The heavier pollutants will fall to the seafloor for eventual burial. And the lighter pollutants will float on the surface corroded by salt water and sunlight.

38/ Pulau Sumbawa shall be developed into a giant pleasure ship port. The western half shall be renamed to Mojo, and shall be for long term residents and their non-commercial guests. The eastern half of the island shall be renamed Bima. Only people with verified IDs and tracker devices shall be allowed on this island. Indonesia shall develop dozens and dozens of coast guard secured small-boat, pretty-ports all around Indonesia considering the insignificant cost of making these and the huge benefit it will be for the economies of these places. Indonesia shall also have a fleet of expensive ferries and small cruise ships that serve the pleasure craft ports.

UR'67. CHINA

1/ China shall oversee the complete and total extermination of all wild Terra•be•gone marmots from its lands and from all neighboring lands. At least 10,000 individual animals shall be kept in small communities in captivity and re-released after the bubonic plague is extinct in the area.

2/ Mongolian beef is a blid for a good idea. Although China has no tradition of ranching, there should be more ranching in Mongolia and East Russia using electronic shepherding devices to assure soil sustainability.

3/ Wherever practical, China should divert more Tibetan runoff water into the Yellow River basin. China should also construct more water impounding dams for the upper portions of the Yellow River. The Yellow River currently has about 0.9 Niles and flows through many areas that almost get enough water for agriculture. Also, all this Yellow River water comes with lots of Tibetan plateau energy to send it all over the desert around the Yellow River basin.

4/ Most of China shall move from low-lying tsunami vulnerable areas to higher land. Especially dryer hills where geological time moves slower. The wetter hills crumble and slump much more frequently and are unsuitable unless the formation rock is exposed. Wherever possible around the world, we shall put townships on formation rock. We can also use lasers to watch for soil slump in our towns and along our transit lines.

5/ Do we build on our collapsing hills, or our flooding bays? The answer is neither, but on places that are somewhere in between, although some formation rock and flat mountain areas may be well-suited for urban development. Even if only 10% of a nation's land is ideal for housing and cities, this should be enough.

6/ As much of the Yellow River as practical should be impounded, and impounded as high up as possible. As we will be starting the world over and everyone will be living in new townships in safe high places, then nobody should be living anywhere in or near the parts of the Yellow River valley that are prone to flooding. Once we move everyone, we will be free to build kilometers thick laminate dams of compressed earth and plastic sheet. We shall have a 40-50meter tall dam, and back-up dam near Lamawanzhen — a dam that only holds water back that is up to perhaps 1040m (from 990). This will flood much of the valley in most years. We shall also have another dam near Ulansu Lake, and another another at Wuhai for the Zhongwei/Zhongning valley. Perhaps in most years we will flood valley-1(above Wuhai), then we flood valley-2 (above Ulansu), then valley-3 (above Lamawanzhen), then valley-4 (near Xian). Then when farmers need water later in the season, they can pump it from the ground where it stores with minimal evaporation and waste. Also, this water is stored at an elevation of around 1,050-1,200m, so we can capture some of its energy on its long route to the sea. Basically the energy from the water falling from the Himalaya will power the projection of that water from the flooded Yellow River valley into the surrounding areas that are up to perhaps 150m above the Yellow River. Then the fall from the flooded Yellow River valley to Xian and Luoyang will power the upward distribution of the water around these places.

7/ Regarding Qinghai Lake (3,200m up), the salty and alkali water should be used to generate electricity while it is poured out in an already salty evaporation basin some 2,000m down and concentrated and made more accessible. Then we let the lake refill a bit and drain it again, then we use the lake for precious high water storage (at 3,200m), water that we can use in our clean water system.

8/ It may be possible to tunnel and divert 3 upper tributaries of the over-abundant Yangtze basin into the not-enough-water Yellow River basin.

9/ Askaniya, Hotan, Kashgar, and Kizilesu provinces being 87% Muslim and on China's border, these Xin Jiang provinces shall now be an independent nation, totally independent from China. The nation shall be called Kashgar.

10/ The people of Kashgar shall treat the Chinese living in their lands as equals under the law. This shall be a duty upon them throughout their generations.

11/ All Muslims and Chinese in other parts of Xin Jiang and western China shall have the right to migrate to Kashgar if they wish. They shall also have the right to leave and go to other places around the world in their fair and proportionate numbers relative to China.

12/ This right of emigration to Kashgar also applies to all Xinjiang Muslims that are incarcerated or on probation, except that these shall be transferred to the authorities of Kashgar.

13/ The Chinese toxic area shall be near Bogorodskoe. Korea and Japan may use parts of this area if they want.

14/ China shall stop using its own names for the foreign rivers watershed areas that it seized:

a/ The names Red and Hong shall no longer be used, but instead this river shall be called the Hanoi River.

b/ The names Mekong and Lancang shall no longer be used, but instead this river shall be called the Lao River.

c/ The terms Salween and Nujiang shall no longer be used, instead this river shall be called the Shan River.

d/ The term Irrawaddy shall no longer be used, instead this river shall be called the Burma River.

e/ The terms Brahmaputra and Yarlung Tsangpo shall no longer be used. Instead this river shall be called the East India River.

f/ The Ganges River shall only be called Ganges.

g/ The Indus River shall only be called Indus.

h/ The term Langqen Zagbo shall no longer be used. Instead this river shall be called the Sutlej River.

15/ The Janisarit shall be a UM controlled region along with Tibet. The UM shall have a veto right on any projects to divert water from one river to another in the Janisarit, or to divert water flows from the top of Tibet. The UM shall in no way be opposed to water diversion projects from the abundant flows of the Red River, Mekong River, Salween River, Irrawaddy River, and Brahmaputra River, however safety must be assured for all people downstream. Small catchment dams for diversion purposes shall generally be allowed, however large dangerous dams shall not be allowed.

16/ Given its problems with collapsing structures and pollution, China shall not have any polluting industry, mining, or dams in any of the following watersheds:

a/ Red River watershed.

b/ Mekong River watershed.

c/ Salween River watershed.

d/ Irrawaddy River watershed.

e/ Brahmaputra River watershed.

f/ Ganges River watershed.

g/ Indus River watershed.

h/ Yellow River watershed.

i/ Yangtze River watershed.

17/ Hainan shall be both a riviera/Florida part of China. It shall also be used to lure Taiwanese and Hong Kong people to live in China. All of the new communities will be in the hills with the massive sand areas for beach and day use.

18/ The world should replicate many times the beautiful cliff-hanging walkways of China in particular that in the Huangshan mountains of Anhui province China.

19/ Aggressive Chinese peripheral imperialism should be regarded as a dumb idea going forward given the global bad feelings it has caused/cost China. It is 10-to-100 times more important that an extra 200-million more Chinese people are added to the Exhod mix because their people are seen as a benign way to buffer the ethnic mix. Therefore, China shall pull out of threatening anyone including especially Taiwan. The one China policy shall be officially renounced. China shall pull out of Tibet, and Xin Jiang as called for herein. It shall also pull out of Burma, Laos, and upper Thailand between the Salween and Mekong. And China shall give freedom and autonomy back to Hong Kong. And last of all China shall make up with Japan for events of 80 to 90 years ago. None of this peripheral land arrogated by China is terribly profitable for the Chinese people, and it is certainly 10 to 100 times more valuable to get an extra 200 million Chinese people out and added to the Exhod mix because the Chinese people have gotten religion about being being absolutely model citizens, living in a fair, honest, do the right thing nation. And this will be a model for all the other imperialistic nations worldwide. You all must stop. China shall give back all the lands it has acquired or settled since the end of their war with Japan. Instead, China shall work more on being an ideal country to welcome as poor exhod mix. Everyone shall be conditioned to always be mild and hard working, and they shall be taught foreign ways and manners, and should be typical for all Exhods where practical.

20/ The two Koreas shall be unified under the government of South Korea. All portions of Korea above the isthmus of Korea (just north of Pyongyang) shall be given to China. China has so many people, and not nearly enough highland areas for cities. This hills around Vladivostok shall also be used for housing in China.

21/ If the people of Taiwan all mostly move to North America and less than 1-million people remain, then one year later, China may claim the Taiwan island as its territory.

22/ The Korean Peninsula shall be divided at Yodok near Pyongyang. The land to the south of this line shall be joined with South Korea to create a new unified free Korea. And to the north of the Yodok line, all these parts will be ceded to China. So China will benefit greatly from the ending of North Korea. This especially considering how little high lands that China has.

23/ Regarding the 4,186 sq.km. shallow QingHai lake, which has 120km cubic km of water at a 3,200m elevation that is about 1/3 as salty as seawater. Perhaps China will use railcars to generate electricity and dispose of the salty water in this valuable energy storage lake. Perhaps this will go into one of the salty lakes in the desert below. So this would appear to be a profitable enterprise just for the energy. But maybe the lake will be allowed to re-fill a bit and then be drained again until the lake is no longer too salty to use. Then it can be used for a water and energy storage and distribution system that will supplement the waters of the Yellow river area via the same power generating rail lines that drained the salt water.

The nearby Golmud valley, has over 50,000 square kilometers of Himalayan dry lakebed. Is this water salty? was there fresh water circulation? Is the ground water good for growing things in the desert in the nearby Hotan to Danghe river area? Also, if we tunnel through a 20 km ridge west of the intersection of highway G6 and 563, we can stay below 3,100meters, So there is a 400m hill at the start, but all of the energy to raise the water containing railcars will be mostly recovered on the other side. Then this water will somewhat follow the Yellow river water and allow for planting of areas much further from the river. That is if we can wash the salt out of the water here. A similar approach might be used on Lake Van and Terakana, and many other ideal lake beds up high that are too salty to use today.

UR'68. AUSTRALIA, NEW GUINEA, AND INDONESIA

1/ We shall build facilities for moving water from the higher rainfall areas of Australia's tropical north to the nearby lower rainfall areas of Australia's tropical north.

2/ All of Northern Australia has a population of 250,000. And Western Australia outside of the Perth has far less. We shall start at Mt. Isa and draw two lines. One line heads west and the other north. Thus all the land that is both north of Mt. Isa and at the same time West of Mt. Isa shall be the new nation of Darwin. Australia retains all mineral rights for all operating mining facilities.

3/ All of the highest hilltop locations in the St. Andrews inlet, Including Uwins island and the long inlet system and all of prince regent National park shall be available for townships. Hotels and day activities can go near sea level, and there shall be boat busses taking people between. All of the large fresh water streams flowing into the St. Andrews inlet shall be used for water impounding where practical. The Boongaree inlet and other Australian northwest rivers shall be developed in a similar way where practical and safe.

4/ The entire plateau of the Warddeken Indigenous Protected area shall be developed into the new city of. The Gibb/ Drysdale plateau shall be the new city of Drysdale. The Karijini plateau, Barlee range nature reserve, shall also be developed into a new city, in Australia.

5/ The lush equatorial island of New Guinea (pop 13.3-million) is more than twice the area of Japan (pop 126-million). New Guinea also has a 2,000-km-long mountain ridge highlands area. So perhaps 200-million people can be settled on this hydro-electric rich island.

6/ Australia, New Guinea, and Darwin shall each have the right to 1/3 of New Guinea's hydropower, which they may sell to each other. If an aqueduct is run from New Guinea to Australia, then 80% of the runoff from Alkmaar to Kerema shall be reserved for Australia and Darwin if they can take it.

7/ The cool highlands of the Kulla National park in Queensland shall have a city. There shall be other highland cities by the Pascoe Rivers indigenous protected area and the highlands of the Michingun Nature Refuge.

8/ Instead of Australia having a foreign worker zone on the Queensland peninsula, it shall use land on New Guinea between Lamara and Moru. All the land on New Guinea between these tow communities south of the mountains shall belong to Australia. Melville Island may also have another foreign worker zone.

9/ All Australians should realize that the reason for the location of most indigenous reservations is the location of economically viable mineral deposits, or the land is useful for some other reason like it is a safe highlands.

10/ New Guinea shall also include the the islands of the Bismarck sea and Solomon sea.

11/ New Guinea and the surrounding areas shall be divided into 11 new nations:

a/ North Maluku.

b/ South Maluku.

c/ North Papua, north of Bur.

d/ West Papua, north of Tivara.

e/ Aramasa, west of Gariau.

f/ SW New Guinea, west of the border and the south half of the mountains.

g/ NW New Guinea, west of the border and the north half of the mountains.

h/ SE New Guinea, east of the border and the south half of the mountains.

i/ NE New Guinea, east of the border and the north half of the mountains.

j/ Moresby, east of the Madang/Kikori line

k/ New Britain and new Ireland.

12/ Indonesia shall become 24 financially independent nation-states so the government may work in a more efficient way:

a/ Aceh.

b/ North Sumatra.

c/ Riau.

d/ Jambi.

e/ Lampung.

f/ Jakarta + Banten.

g/ West Java.

h/ Central Java.

i/ East Java.

j/ Bali to near Timor.

k/ Sarawak. (incl. Brunei)

l/ Sabah.
 m/ West Kalimantan. n/ Central Kalimantan.
 o/ South Kalimantan. p/ East Kalimantan. q/ North Kalimantan.
 r/ North Sulawesi.
 s/ Gorontalo— Central Sulawesi north of Palu.
 t/ Palu — Central Sulawesi south of Palu, and not including the Pasempo/Luwuk peninsula.
 u/ Pasempo — The Pasempo/ Luwuk peninsula of Central Sulawesi south of a line between Poso and Lake Poso.
 v/ Kendari — Southeast Sulawesi. Bali? w/ Makassar — South Sulawesi.
 x/ Mamasa — West Sulawesi.

13/ West Papua, Papua, and the Maluku islands shall be used to create the new UM nation of New Guinea. East Timor shall remain independent.

14/ Java, with 940 people per sq. km., and Bali with 750 people per sq. km. are some of the most crowded places on earth. Yet these islands, due to their great geological activity (volcanos, earthquakes, and tsunamis) are some of the most geologically dangerous places to live on earth. Therefore it shall be official UM policy to relocate all of the cities on these volcano islands, and most of the people living within the danger zone a Holocene era volcano until the population in these volcano islands is below 30 people/km². There is no particular reason that the Javanese should build their new cities in volcanic, seismic, and tsunami vulnerable Java. Also the population of Japan, Taiwan, Philippines, Sumatra, Java, Bali and all the other volcano islands should be similarly relocated to geologically safe areas. Thus nearly all of the evacuation process will be accomplished before the volcano crisis.

15/ The Balinese shall completely relocate to the West Papua state of Indonesia including half of the causeway to the rest of the island. This new Bali jurisdiction shall be subject to backup Australian judicial review of all local judgments. Also, This location will also have some potential as a airport hub and overland destination for eastern and central Australia. Also, while the Balinese will have to manage their own population growth, they will be expected to take many immigrants on their new and much bigger land that doesn't have volcanos, and is not near an earthquake fault.

16/ Once we figure out how to do geothermal energy, Indonesia, and all ring of fire nations will become energy rich.

17/ No water from any of Australia's rivers west of Mackay and Adelaide should be reaching the ocean. There should be impounding facilities for the precious water.

18/ To see how big Antarctic tsunamis are, just look at a technicolor topography of the Nannup cut near Perth. Due to tsunami risk. Perth beach is thus a completely unacceptable place to live. Northham Western Australia is a rain flood death trap, and an ideal location for a water impounding dam. Also the Blackwood River, and Murray River and most of the other rivers up on the plateau should be backed up and turned into lakes, with a number of designated habitat areas that in total get only about 15% of the river's total annual flow. Perth shall relocate to the upper plateau that is over 300m up. Adelaide shall be relocated to the top of the mountain range to its east. Melbourne shall be moved to the highlands to its northeast. Sydney shall be moved to the Moss Vale Plateau. The people of Brisbane shall be moved to new townships in one of the nearby highland wilderness exclusion areas.

19/ If we can isolate Walcott from the sea, then we can store the runoff from a large area. All we have to do is seal the basin against salt water leakage, pump it out, and fill it a few times to wash the salt out. The smaller medusa shaped inlet to the south may be a better solution for fresh water storage even though this must have piping from 150m up.

20/ Lake Dalrymple should be higher. There should be a dam perhaps 60km downstream from Taroom.

21/ Australia has 3.3 people per square kilometer while Arizona has 25 people per square kilometer. Australia is greatly underpopulated.

22/ Places like Bulolo New Guinea makes a great hydro-electric water battery and standby power source for when the other sources don't work.

23/ Australia shall give Mount Roe and 100 square kilometers nearby from the Garig Gunak Barlu national park to the US and UM for an air base. Free access for US naval vessels shall also be given in the Victoria settlement bay.

24/ The following nations shall change their names as follows:

a/ The nation of Austria shall be renamed as Ostereich in English. Australia shall keep its name intact.

b/ Chechia shall now be Check, and Chechnya shall wear its name.

c/ Switzerland shall cease to exist.

d/ Slovakia shall keep its name. Slovenia with far fewer people must find a new name.

25/ All of dry Australia should be maximized for water impounding. If feasible there should be new reservoirs east of Tallarook park, near Gundagal, and perhaps the following lakes should be expanded: Eildon, Tallangatta, Qyangala and Dalrymple. Many of the smaller valleys should also have micro-impounding projects.

26/ Australia's Asian trade shall come from Singapore to Darwin. New Guinea's Asian trade shall come to the Bintuni inlet in the far west. These ports shall be developed as the main trading ports for these islands. The area around Nagura and Aboreba seems fit for tidal energy projects. Oil rich Australia shall not allowed to import oil, and must export oil via New Guinea to the east coast of Asia.

27/ There are currently around 810,000 people claiming to be Australian Aborigines. Even without any genetic testing and fraud elimination, this is only about 0.01% (one 10,000th) of the world population. This is simply and obviously not enough people to make any valid claim on ownership for an entire continent (small and dry as it is).

28/ In Australia, Canada, the US, Mexico, and the Amazon, and elsewhere, the Aboriginal/ native people living in tsunami and other regular flood zones shall all be presumed to be recent arrivals without any rights to the hazard lands they are living on. Also, worldwide, every individual and every group asserting ethnic rights shall be required to get genetically tested at least 5 times by different testing firms to prove the ethnic rights they are attempting to assert. Those who are not at least 1/3 genetically of the race they are asserting shall have no indigenous rights.

29/ Where ethnic groups of people arrived after the year 1500, the so-called colonialists (under any circumstances) these people shall be thought of as having no indigenous people's rights.

30/ For reasons having to do with a tiny number of people calling dibs on an entire continent, nomadic people shall not be regarded as having any rights over the giant area they hunted in. Hunting and gathering shall impart no rights to land ownership. Further, hunters and gatherers shall be considered as:

a/ No longer a justifiable lifestyle in today's much more crowded world.

b/ Having invalid claims to the land they hunted on.

c/ Only warrant relocation to agricultural land if they will farm this land. If they will not relocate to agricultural land and farm this land, they shall get nothing from government.

d/ No longer qualified for government handouts due to their mere status as an indigenous peoples.

31/ Those who mostly live on Ice shall be allowed land to continue that lifestyle if they wish, but they shall get nothing from government.

32/ Canada's first nations policy shall be regarded as a lie given its name.

33/ Given the huge financial incentives of being an aboriginal, Australia shall genetically test everyone claiming to be an Aboriginal person. Those who cannot pass the genetic test and show at least 1/3 Aboriginal genetic ancestry shall get no Aboriginal benefits. Australia shall emulate the US in its treatment of its Aboriginal/Indian population and there shall no longer be Aboriginal reservation lands other than small pieces of land given to individual Aboriginal families.

34/ Due to the extremely low IQ of Aborigines: No person tested as an aboriginal, and receiving aid as an aboriginal shall have more than 1 children and continue to receive aid money. Those who already exceed this number of children shall be grandfathered in, unless they later have more children. In this case, they shall stop getting all aid money.

35/ New Guinea being little further than Key West is from the mainland, if feasible, Australia shall build a causeway and bridge between Australia and New Guinea. On this bridge we shall have train lines over water pipes. The train will run (as separate cars atop columns like the Florida Keys bridge, but the water pipes will run on the ocean floor beneath the bridge. If the bridge is not feasible, then we shall have only the water pipes on the ocean floor here.

36/ Each of the following nation's super dirty industry shall go as follows:

a/ Australia: Exmouth peninsula.

b/ New Guinea: the far west end of the island.

c/ Sulawesi: The northwest tip of the Island.

d/ Borneo: the northern tip of the island.

e/ Java: Ujung Kulon National Park

f/ Philippines: near Zamboanga.

g/ Sumatra: near Banda Aceh.

h/ Japan: Mutsu peninsula (Honshu) and the neighboring Hakodate of Hokkaido.

i/ Korea = Jindo Island.

j/ Britain, the southwest tip of the Plymouth peninsula.

k/ France: the Brest peninsula

l/ Ireland: Beal an Mhuirthead.

m/ Spain: the Sagres peninsula.

n/ Italy: on southern tip of the heel.

o/ Greece: near Korakan.

37/ Australia shall now have 4-time zones:

a/ The area east of Geelong shall be one time zone.

b/ The area west of Castletown shall be another time zone.

c/ The areas in between these two lines shall be two time zones. Australia, like everywhere else shall be prohibited from both changing the time in the winter, and using non-integer, half and quarter hour time zones.

38/ There shall be a dam in Western Australia, near the timber Creek airport. There shall be another dam on the valley to the southwest, and another on the Ord river near mountain button. Lake Argyle shall be at least 50% used in any given year. The western Australian inlets from Storr (Starr) island to Walcott inlet to Koolan island shall be developed for pleasure boat ports and housing on the plateau.

39/ Pulau Waigo in New Guinea has three very nice ports. At least one shall be developed.

40/ The northern part of Rote Island will be on a pleasure boat port network. Also Bigge Island and the North Kimberley marine park of Australia will be on the same network. Also, the Eclipse peninsula just west of the Eclipse island, shall be opened for small pleasure boats hotels and apartments up on the 100m+ plateaus. On the adjacent low areas go a thousand restaurants and day resorts. There must be 4 or 5 narrow ridges that must be tunneled through for people to access the intricate island in full.

41/ The 350 to 400m elevation plateau east and southeast of Darwin shall be made into a city that will replace Darwin.

UR'69. EXHODS & ISHTARIAN ISLANDS

1/ The last fifth of Exhods from each province of the PU, those that cannot get adopted by a host nation, and also those that rank low when their own people rank their queue for relocation to the new UM nations, these people shall be re-settled to the Ishtarian Islands. These Ishtarian Islands shall be:

West Papua for the best of this group and then the other go to: New Britain, New Ireland, and perhaps the Maluku, North Maluku, Buru, and other islands if needed. Also

2/ The most stubborn Islamists and ex-convicts shall be sent to Socotra, Manus, Tabar and Tanga Islands where the sea currents will tend to carry escapees east across the ocean.

3/ All parts of these Ishtarian Islands shall be subject to whatever laws the UM Over-Senate elects to impose. However, there shall be no representation at the UM or PU.

4/ The UM shall provide surface passage, dormitory housing, food, education and training, and development aid to those relocated to the Ishtarian islands.

5/ The UM may also elect to allow war refugees from certain wars to stay in the Ishtarian Islands if they live by the same rules as the Exhods.

6/ No arms factories, or sea vessel building facilities shall be permitted on the Ishtarian islands. All vessels and cargo arriving and leaving shall be inspected by the UM.

7/ All female settlers to the Ishtarian islands shall be bound by a one child policy. No female settlers in the Ishtarian or under islands under age 30 shall have any children.

UR'70. SOUTHERN AFRICA

1/ The nation of South Africa shall be broken up, therefore the name will be available for another use. See below.

2/ The New South Africa region shall be made up of the following nations:

a/ Angola: pop 33 million (26/km²).

b/ Zambia: pop 19 million (25/km²).

c/ Mozambique: 31 million (40/km²).

d/ Namibia: pop 2.5 million (3/km²).

e/ Botswana: pop 2.5 million (4/km²).

f/ Zimbabwe: pop 14 million (38/km²).

3/ Angola shall be 6 nations. Zambia shall be 4 nations. Mozambique shall be 4 nations. Namibia shall be 3 nations. Botswana shall be 2 nations. Zimbabwe shall be three nations. All conservancies in Namibia (like everywhere else, shall be void if not renewed by the national Senate within 12 months.

4/ In the Mungwi district of east Zambia, North of Nashinga Swamp 1200m elevation, and running up to around Kalulu 1230 elevation, there is a ~20,000 Sq. Km. area that shall be used for water impounding at lower elevations and terraced farming (and water impounding) at higher elevations, especially where the water runs off the hills and is even higher elevation. But the ~1400 sq. km Nashinga Swamp shall be flooded and used for high water impounding by damming up the outfall. This shall have an earthen dam that is perhaps 10m tall, 2km thick and perhaps 5km across. Lake Bangweulu at 1,163m shall also be used for high water impounding. Both water impounding projects shall send their water to the dry southwest if needed and feasible. The pipes to the southwest shall go through a pass that is about 55km southeast of Ndola at about 1,210m elevation. This shall involve about 70km of deep open cut and about 10km of tunnel. The Bangweulu basin shall be renamed the Kasama basin. The lake shall be called Lake Kasama, and all the excess waters of Lake Kasama shall be pumped over the hump on the plateau towards Botswana.

When we terrace/ level-out the Bangweulu Lake bed for rice farming, we will use much of the material to reinforce the natural earthen dam and raise the amount of stored water seasonally. Given the size of these basins, this is potentially an immense amount of water.

5/ Below Lake Bangweulu we shall have more terraced rice lands. None of the water of the Bangweulu basin should be reaching Lake Mweru in the overly wet Congo basin. Instead all of the water should be flowing southwest in a bus of pipes that follow the surface contours in a generally downhill manner towards Moremi, Katima Mulilo and Botswana. Along the way various places can be sent more water, like the the Lukanga swamp (1,116m) and surrounds which shall all be terraced The outfall of the Lukanga swamp shall be dammed up and the Lukanga swamp flooded for water impounding. A 40M dam shall be constructed near Mushingash conservancy and thus Lukanga Lake will be about 40m deep and perhaps 4,000 sq. km. in area.

6/ Kafue Flats and the Simalaha reserve shall be used for farming because they are so ideal for farming. The 30km wide "Mongu" riverbed and various adjoining flat areas shall be maple-seed terraced and used for flood farming. As in so many areas used for humans and wildlife, the human townships and their surrounding farming areas shall be as islands away from the flow lines of rivers. The towns go on the high land outside and at least 15 meters above the flood the flood plane. Here, outside the large central district, there shall be 2 more crossings for animals on either side

7/ The Makgadikgadi game reserve shall be used as a place to dump salty water, and perhaps as an oil field.

8/ The rivers: Zambezi, Cubango and Kwando all originate in highland of around 1300m in elevation. These rivers and their neighbors shall have pipe hydro energy run to their upper parts to harvest energy in addition to harvesting the water more efficiently. Also, there are many small seasonal streams like the Gwayi flowing into the Zambezi basin from the surrounding high ground. Wherever practical, all this high water should be impounded in the high ground and the energy used to power the movement of water and expand the area that can be farmed. This capturing of runoff close to its source and putting this in pipes, this is the key to keeping agriculture going on earth during ice ages.

9/ We shall build local water catchment as practical. Then we shall use our runoff water to balance irregularity in rain patterns and permit arboriculture and lower risk farming in general.

10/ Mozambique shall be divided into 4 nations as follows:

a/ Inhambane: The portions south of the Runde River.

b/ Beira: The portions north of the Runde River and south of the Zambezi and Mazoe rivers.

c/ Cataxa: The portions north of the Zambezi and Mazoe rivers, and west of Nsanje.

d/ Mozam: The portions north of the Zambezi and east of Nsanje.

11/ Digging an ocean canal in the Zambezi basin to as far inland as perhaps the Morrumbala/ Nharugue area may increase the volume of fresh water produced by the rift valley, while at the same time stabilizing volcanic activity.

12/ None of the Zambezi's water should be leaving the inland dry areas and be wasted on the wet coastal areas.

In general, in the tropics, we should have lots of artificial and restored lakes ready to store the year's runoff, so it can be spread around the year better. If worldwide rains ever fell by 50% (say from a volcanic eruption) this would be a very useful thing to have.

13/ The Dam north of Kolwezi (1260m) can be much higher if there is water to store. The water from Lake Kolwezi can be pumped up by 150m to 1410m, and then on top of the plateau. Then this energy is recaptured at a profit from the descent from 1410m to recapture at Lake Katima (941m). It should be practical to capture all of the smaller rivers flowing into the Congo basin but still only 100m or 200m below the plateau. Then we send these over the plateau in into the dryer areas to the south where the water is needed.

14/ The Jiwundu Swamp (1,350m) can probably be a reservoir. The Matala dam shall be increased in height. The Gove dam shall be supplemented with additional dams up and down stream, for all of its water at 1,600m can be projected far into the desert to the south.

All of the upper parts of the Zambezi, Kwando, Kuto, Kravange and Kunene rivers, shall be dammed up high.

15/ The Kunene River has 0.06 Niles of water, 1/16th of the Nile's water. This is perhaps 5.3 cubic kilometers of water. Now because this place is a semi-desert and because water is precious here, and because higher water is better, the Kunene shall have a dam (a groundwater dam at Calueque, (at 1090m up), and another perhaps near Ohayuaa (at 640m up).

16/ If necessary, the Etosha pan (1,083m up) shall be drained to reduce its salt levels until the place is good for agriculture. This can be done at an energy surplus not including building the system. Etosha park shall be terminated and the animals relocated as needed.

17/ If there are hot springs at Etosha, these might be helped to produce more water by means of coastal irrigation channels at the fault line.

18/ We humans shall get all the good farm land and all the water that is shed in streams and rivers. We shall also take care of the animals, who like us need water every day. We shall increase animal habitat by increasing the number of watering spots around in dry areas. Fresh water shall be piped into many donut troughs on raised clear areas. These will self-regulate level and flush themselves every so often.

19/ Where there is light salt contamination that can be cleaned, we shall clean/wash or consolidate these contaminated areas as practical.

20/ Where practical, we want to farm the areas with rain today and to some degree save the irrigated lands to keep the sale from building up.

21/ All of the upper rivers of Angola shall be damned up, even while they are at the top of the plateau at around 1500m.

22/ The fake Etosha National Park shall be deleted and the elephants and other animals shall be trucked to where they are best moved to. Then Etosha Lake (and the oil basin under it) shall be enlarged with the excess seasonal runoff of southern Angola and northern Namibia.

23/ A 20-50m dam shall be built as needed at Alto Hama Angola (at 1,400m) so the Huambo basin can be used for annual water and energy impounding. Also Chissaco can have another dam.

24/ The Cuando Cubango and Moxico provinces of Angola shall now belong to Zambia where the water runs into Zambia, and Botswana where the water runs into Botswana. The water of the border stream shall belong to Botswana.

25/ The Haut-Katanga province of Congo shall be ceded to Zambia.

26/ The eastern Guita-handle zone of Namibia shall be ceded to Botswana, and Namibia shall always have access to Livingston.

27/ The Kalahari Gemsbok National park and the South African lands protruding into Botswana shall be ceded to Botswana.

28/ Will a Shoreline Canal at Swakopmund increase output to the Hot Springs in central Namibia? Likewise with the lower Orange River and the Ai-ais River.

29/ The UM shall rely on a rollout of prosperity for the Africa that involves safe hill-towns made from factory cast building blocks. These island of prosperity come first in Africa, and African wealth will come from their proliferation.

UR'71. SOUTH AFRICA BREAK-UP PLAN

1/ The existing nation of South Africa shall be broken up into 6-nations following language majority. The final division of land shall be by UM Over-Senate election.

Tswana: Including parts of Northern Cape & Sesotho and N. Sotho.

Sesotho: Not including a small area that becomes part of Northern Cape.

Xhosa: Not including the western third of eastern cape.

Zulu: Including parts of N. Sotho.

Sotho: This includes all of Guateng, and Mpumalanga that are not majority Zulu and next to other Zulu lands, or majority Tswana and next to Tswana lands. This nation will be made up of a mixture of peoples and will include Pretoria.

Capeland: The parts of Western Cape and Eastern Cape that are not majority black and are contiguous with Capeland. Capeland must accept a large number of mixed immigrants from many parts of the world, as many as are feasible given the productivity of the land. Northern Cape shall become part of the new South Africa described in R'70 directly above.

2/ The portion of the Cape Peninsula south of Simon's Town shall be ceded to the US for an airbase with the UM having the right to also use this base.

3/ Many people from former South Africa will surely enter the exodos program and be re-settled in a buffered ethnic mix all over Africa and other parts of the world.

4/ Socotra will get most of the criminals from former South Africa and the nations of east Africa.

5/ The Orange River shall be dammed up a bit east of Pella, and also west of Houniams, and another west of Noordoewer, and another around Aussenkehr and another near Sendelingsdrif.

6/ The community of Montagu South Africa shall be replaced by a new reservoir with extra water for everyone. Also a large area to the north and east can be easily siphoned into this new reservoir. Other reservoirs can be created in the Calitzdorp/Herbertsdale area. A dam shall be constructed in the basin 200km east of St. Helena bay.

7/ The UM shall build a number of small dams for Lesotho, so precious water may be stored high up.

8/ White South African property has two big problems stemming from the South African Apartheid system and subsequent Black on White racism:

a/ It is a very violent nation, and as a result, the value of the nation's land for living and tourism is heavily discounted.

b/ Whites in South Africa, and worldwide get scapegoated by politicians seeking to rise by blaming others.

c/ For these reasons, it shall be UM policy to move all the whites in South Africa to the Americas, to Europe and to other nations.

9/ It shall be noted that the colonist-to-native proportionality in South Africa is totally different from that of North America and Australia. In North America and Australia, the natives (the genuine natives that are over 1/3 native blood, and not the benefits fraudsters) are today less than 1% of the population of these places, while in South Africa, the White colonists are only around than 7% of the population.

UR'72. TERAkana AND THE RIFT WATERS

1/ The underpopulated and dry eastern counties of East Kenya shall become part of the new UM settlement nation named Terakana. This nation shall include the Kenyan provinces of: Turkana, Samburu, Marsabit, Mandera, Wajir, Garissa and Lamu, in addition to parts of Isiolo county northwest of a line between Benane and Kom.

2/ Dry and low-lying parts of south and southwest Somalia, and parts of Ethiopia near Dolo, that are practical for irrigation from Lake Terakana may also be taken and used for part of Terakana's irrigated farmland.

3/ We shall drain and wash the salt out from Lake Turkana, and perhaps Chew Bahir Lake, and perhaps some of the other salty lakes of the rift valley. These shall be drained into the sea and perhaps washed again, and replaced with surplus rainy season fresh water. We shall rename Lake Turkano as Lake Terakana, and this shall be a freshwater impounding lake for much of the Nile and rift valley's water overflow. Lake Terakana is supposed to be drained and used every year.

4/ Without the construction of dams, the depth of Lake Terakana can be increased substantially and its capacity increased by perhaps 10 to 50 fold. However, with massive dams near the towns of Kapoeta and Naris we can have a lake that is bigger than Lake Victoria and some hundreds of meters deep. Thus it will become possible to impound most if not all of the Nile's flood season flows.

5/ There shall be two aqueducts starting from near the east end of Lake Terakana. One shall follow the Kenyan slope to the southeast more or less, and the other shall follow the Ethiopian slope to the east more or less.

6/ There shall be two more aqueducts, one running from Lake Albert and Lake Victoria to Lake Terakana. The other aqueduct shall take water from Lake Terakana and send water back into the Sudan Nile system. Much of the the White Nile-bound runoff from Lake Victoria and Lake Albert will thus get impounded.

7/ 90% of Lake Kyoga (Max depth 5.7-meters) shall be drained down to minimize evaporation and increase the areas for farming rice. Also there are a number of small inlets on Lake Victoria that can be sealed off and then drained to make farmland around the lake. This also reduces evaporation. The UM shall install irrigation systems in the generally same-elevation areas both north and south of Lake Victoria. If possible, all of the water coming out of Lake Tanganyika should be diverted to dry areas.

8/ We shall try to minimize leaky lakes worldwide by lowering lake levels. Also, there seems to be a difference between lakes sitting up high, and lakes that are down low, because the lakes that are up high, have much more water pressure energy to develop leaks, and the lakes that are down low don't really have any energy driving leakage.

9/ The similarity between Lake Victoria and Lake Toba is obvious. We should always be mindful not to dry out any part of this system completely. But checkmate may also come from failure of natural dams — and this especially when the natural dams are already leaking. So in dams that are already leaking, it seems that we are justified in taking the water level down to slow down the leakage and the eventual failure of the natural dam.

10/ Volcanos are naturally on cracked and porous land. And most eruptions are more about water falling outside of a certain range/elevation diagonal. If the sea is within that funnel shaped diagonal, the volcano will never dry out. Luckily for mankind, distance is just as important as elevation. So in most cases it is only a matter of poking a hole in the layers to let the ocean leak-in through.

11/ In Africa we shall try to open holes for the ocean to leak-in to the rift valley in four places: Djibouti, Isiolo, Dar es-Salaam, and Tete/ Blantyre.

12/ There are 3 things that tell us that Lake Edward is leaking. Therefore, we shall try to increase available water by decreasing the level of Lake Edward and its water pressure:

a/ The lake only occupies a small portion of its basin, so the lake was big, but now it is small and shallow.

b/ We see erosion from great amounts of water appearing on the slope below.

c/ The lowest part of the lake is on the outside near where the lake looks like it is leaking.

13/ The waters of Lake Kivu are badly needed to the north, and not at all to the south in Lake Tanganyika. Therefore, we shall build a dam at the south end of Lake Kivu and raise lake's level from 1461m to perhaps 1550m. Then we shall either drill tunnels, or cut down the saddle between Lake Kivu and Lake Edward. Then we shall run a continuous pipe system from Lake Kivu to the far side of Lake Albert (615m elev.). The energy from the fall can also power uphill pumping out of the Lake Kivu basin. We shall also run pipes to the northwest towards Obo, and roughly along the western border of Sudan towards the northern tip of Central African Republic.

14/ We shall initially take Lake Edward down perhaps 20 meters. We shall initially take Lake Albert (which also looks like it leaks) down by around 20m

15/ The water impounding functions of Lake Albert shall be taken over by a new manmade lake (Lake Madi) made from two dams (at Ocayo and Moli) and thus we will raise the water here to perhaps 740m or more. Most of the inflow of this Lake Madi shall come by pipe from Lake Kivu and Lake Edward, and Lake Victoria, and Lake Kyoga, however some will be pumped up from Lake Albert which will be lowered to reduce leakage.

16/ The depth of Lake Victoria shall be reduced by about 14 meters to reduce leakage. We will use siphon pipe busses in series to accomplish this. Also, we will substantially reduce the surface area subject to evaporation by doing this. This will also fill Lake Terakana, and Lake Madi and Lake Nile.

17/ Lake Nile shall have a 50km long dam that is maybe 15m tall. This shall be formed from rail viaduct sections stacked like bricks on a concrete foundation poured to bedrock. As this dam will only be used for a short time each year, it will have time to dry out each time.

18/ Another dam to 420m elevation will go at the Hawawit formation in the Nile, just north of Khartoum, this will flood the valley as high as 420m elevation, thus flooding the area where Khartoum is.

19/ The Serengeti park shall have raised townships and raised rail viaducts with many passages underneath for the animals. The Serengeti townships will all be isolated from the animals completely and on a level at least 4 meters up and with a 1 meter wall above that. The townships and their walks will all be located at chokepoints on the animal migrations. So the townships will all offer safe high perches and on-grade safety cages for watching the animals. And they will be connected by raised rail lines and raised walkways. And there will be no on-grade roads or railroads. So there will be little impact from this sort of human habitation. This will also establish a large number of people who have a financial interest in conservation. And this should be a global paradigm for balancing habitats with the human need to access the best parts of the planet for human habitation.

20/ Kenya shall be closed to further Somali migration even as Exhod mix. If Somalis that have already settled in Kenya wish to be with family members, then they must go somewhere else to live with them.

21/ As with all new settlement nations, the population of Terakana shall not exceed the land's ability to sustain them.

22/ As normal, all the low-lying tsunami vulnerable coastal areas of Somalia should be evacuated.

23/ Although the rivers from the Ethiopian highlands are located in Ethiopia, the right to harvest the river water and river water electricity from areas below an elevation of 1600m shall belong to the UM. (This except for the areas around Lake Tana where the elevation limit shall be 1,840m.) This shall apply once the UM builds lowland water diversion and electricity extraction facilities for Lake Nile, the Sudans, the Egypts, Terakana, Somalia and perhaps Djibouti. It shall not be allowed for the nations of Ethiopia to engage in dirty manufacturing of any sort except in Afar Zones 1, 2 and 4, and in Jigjiga and Degehabur places where runoff will not harm many people. The Ethiopians live in places that get enough rainfall and have even higher mountains to get electricity from. The Ethiopians don't need this runoff which can be the stuff of life for hundreds of millions of people living in the surrounding desert lowlands. The Ethiopians shall however, always be free to use reasonable amounts of the runoff water for non-agricultural purposes where it is needed. However, they shall never be allowed to use more than 3% of this lowland water.

24/ We shall experiment with transporting water up hills and over ranges (like the Ubangi river needs) using a near continuous loop of rail cars with cylindrical wheels and ultra rigid foundations (and rain skirting) with the wheels perfectly evenly spaced and, with almost zero wind profile, and a continuous slow movement 24 hours a day. Thus we imagine locomotives every ~50 cars adding power 24 hours a day. This may be the most energy efficient way to move water from the Ubangi to the Chad basin. Also, these train can be used on one loop for some days and another loop for some days and another for some days. Thus the same train can send water to perhaps 10 or 20 areas for irrigation purposes. Also, it should be noted that the water in pipes moves at 3.6kph if it coursing through pipes at 1-meter per second. But if we are super-conducting the water at say 1/4 meter per second, it is moving at about 0.9kph. And if we are using railcars to transport water, we might eventually get to moving our trains at 40 kph. This is about 44 times more water for any given diameter of pipe/tank. It is also a way to get more water through small holes bored in mountains.

25/ In places like Lake Tana (Elev. 1,788m), the downhill water energy will be more than enough to move the water over a vast area to supplement many seasonal streams.

26/ In general, the high grounds of Africa that are a safe distance from the rift valley shall be steered more towards higher density, more urban uses due to the nice climate. Also, all the townships of the rift area and others somewhat near volcanos shall have CO2 detections systems and sirens. The townships should also have an air-tight function, and stored air tanks for when the volcano burps.

27/ We shall build a 20 meter dam some 30 to 40 or perhaps a 50 meter down on Lake Victoria near Jinja. This to moderate the risk of Lake Victoria tsunamis and also to reduce leakage from Lake Victoria, so there is more water in the Nile. We shall build water during the wet season, and let it out during the dry season. As the area of Lake Victoria is 68,800km², each 10 meter of water is is about 688 cubic kilometers of water. And the flow of the Nile averages 89 cubic kilometers of water, this is equal to 7.8 Nile/years of water per 10 meters. So a 40m drop in Lake Victoria will yield about 30-Nile/years of water, not counting the increased water due to reduced leakage and evaporation.

28/ As is typical, high altitude Lake Victoria (at 1,134m) is ideal for water impounding because the power generated by the fall of the water can also propel the water far into the surrounding desert. However all this water so high up poses a risk to the surrounding area, and it also seems to leak.

29/ Starting at Jinga, we shall put the Nile's flow into pipes to capture its energy as it flows down 500m to Lake Nimule, or down 700m to Terakana. We will also typically fan-out our water trunk pipes as early and completely as practical.

30/ Lake natron in Kenya seems a good place for rare earth minerals, as does Lake Urmia in Iran. The UM shall survey all the lakes of the world for rare earth mineral extraction and select the best one or two for commodity extraction reserves in Africa, India, east Asia, north America, and south America.

31/ Where we lower or drain volcanic lakes, it shall be required to monitor lake temperatures.

32/ Lake natron, Lake Eyasi, Lake Sulunga and Lake Maynard shall all have their salt/alkaline water drained downhill into the sea. Then they shall be refilled and drained again repeatedly until they the water is safe to use. We shall core drill these lakes in many places so we can figure out how often Lake Victoria overflows, and when this part of Africa experiences earthquakes.

UR'73. SOMALIA

1/ Somalia shall be 100% Exhoded, however some of Somalia's land shall be re-combined into Terakana and repopulated with Exhod mix. Until that time however, Somalia shall be 3 nations: Somaliland, Puntland and Somalia. The Somaliland/ Puntland border of be as declared by Somaliland in 1991. The Puntland/Somalia border shall run roughly down the Shabelle River from the Ethiopian border to 20 km downstream past Buulobarde. Then it shall run to halfway between Ceeldheere and Cadale.

2/ Until Somalia is entirely Exhoded, Somalia's right to the UM's Terakana waters, and the Ethiopian runoff waters from of the Shabelle and Jubba rivers shall be contingent on the nation remaining at peace with its neighbors and with it maintaining freedom of religion. If Somalia cannot remain at peace, it will see its foreign sourced water reduced until it is forced to remain at peace. This Somali peace shall include all of Somalia's neighbors: Kenya, Ethiopia, Somaliland, Puntland, as well as all the other nations in other parts of the world.

3/ The cities Mogadishu, Makra, and Kismaaya shall be raised to the bare ground once they have been evacuated. The Somali port at Hurdioy/ Xaafuun shall be developed for sea trade with India. All of Samhah Island shall be an joint US/ UM/ Indian airbase maintained by the US, and used to protect the neighboring piracy-prone seas and nearby land areas. As with all of these small island military bases described herein, the nation giving up the island territory shall keep no rights at all and have no right to visit or use the island given up. If India has trouble with raiding of its trade with Africa via Somalia, it shall have the right to have a military base in Somalia near the port. India may also send troops to guard its trade in Somalia. India shall however not pay any money to the Somalis under any circumstances, or whatever benefit there is to raiding, it will be multiplied. India may also have/ build port facilities in Lake Ghoubet, if it elects.

UR'74. THE NILE RIVER

1/ Cairo shall be thought a ridiculous place for a community, except for it's now outmoded location at the ancient Egyptian trade sphinx. Now that mankind has means, we shall stop using the northerly most 2,500km of the Nile almost entirely. And we shall instead move the use areas further south, area with more rainfall and soil. By doing this we will multiply the yield from those waters.

2/ To be clear, the Nile River has multiple large water sources. There is the Blue Nile, (the seasonal Rain Nile). There is also the White Nile, (the Steady Nile of artesian springs and non-seasonal rain runoff). The White Nile gets some of its water from Lake Albert and some from Lake Victoria and its runoff into Lake Kyoga below.

3/ From north to south, the New Nile River runoff irrigation areas shall potentially have 6 main valleys that use 6 separate irrigation systems off a main line. While there is a big overlap, these irrigation valleys are not the same as the many new UM settlement nations in this area. The irrigation areas shall be Al Goled, Atbara, Adana, Blue Valley, Lake Nile, and Old Egypt as follows:

a/ The Al Goled valley in the north northwest. Pumping will not truly be needed to get water from the new manmade lake/ reservoir created by the "Nile Rock" (Sabaloka to El Quweiz) dam. The fall here is ~150m over ~400km. An ordinary shallow ~40km highway cut is needed for this. Another path might be cut around Wad Nimr/ El Quweiz to reach the western part of the Al Goled valley. The surplus energy from the hilly parts of the system will also be used here. Water and power to this valley can come via separate routes from both b/ The Atbara valley in the east and north. This area is mostly watered by Lake Tana water from the north side of the lake near Askoye, or from the southwest near Wemberya.

c/ The Adana valley west of Adana. This is watered by the White Nile.

d/ The Blue valley east of Adana. This is watered by the Blue Nile.

e/ Lake Nile. This is watered by the White Nile, which will be greatly increased in water output due to reasons explained below.

f/ Old Egypt. It should be noted that present day Egypt (Old Egypt) will not get water or be planted with crops under this scheme, unless there is a surplus of water. Also, even the northerly most 100 km of Sudan will probably not be not be planted. Thus all of the Nile River will cease to exist north of Nile Rock and the final 2600km of seepage and evaporation shall cease to exist, and instead all the water shall go in local delivery pipes to the 5 valleys.

4/ The new UM nations in the Nile region shall be as above, except that Lake Nile will be subdivided into many parts. Lake Nile shall first be divided into three parts, like a sideways Mercedes-Benz logo centered on Nyirol. From Nyirol, one of the tristar border lines runs to Renk, another to the middle of the mouth of the Kapoeta basin, and the third to Radom national park town in west. The land to the north and west shall be one nation. The land to the East will be as frontage to the 5 new UM nations of Ethiopia. The land to the south and west shall have:

a/ 6 nations on the central African midlands, a ridge that runs northwest from Lake Albert.

b/ 2 nations out of Uganda's underpopulated northern areas. One of these, Moroto, shall be made up of Moroto, Kotido, Pader, and Kitgum provinces. The other, Amuru, shall be made up of Gula, Nebbi, Adjumani, Moyo, Yumbe, Arua.

c/ Terakana and the coast route to the coastal line.

d/ If we include the route to west Africa, and the Red Sea loop, we have 11 train lines fanning out from Adana interchange, each with its own nations.

5/ To maximize our water, we shall first try to use the Nile's water first to augment the merely rain-deficient areas that are as close as possible to the Nile. In other words, we shall first use the Nile's water on lands that only need 5cm to 10cm of water, then we shall use the precious waters on land that only needs 10cm to 20cm of water and lastly we shall water the lands with no real rainfall and poor soil.

6/ Everyone in Egypt shall now move, except the people working with antiquities and tourism, those working at the Suez canal/ rail interchange, and those working on "Trade and Industry Hill" near the canal.

7/ To be clear, there will be an Old Egypt, and a New Egypt. However, the Egyptians will all be required to join the Exhod/ migrant settlement mixture, so very few will be moving to New Egypt.

8/ Some Exhods will be able to pick their nation and region of settlement, however there will be limits on the number of Egyptians, Pakistanis, Moroccans, etc. This is so the mix remains fair and honest for each nation and each region. This is so we can assure the sort of divided and weak ethnic mix that maximizes every nation's willingness to take more people. So more poor people and Ishtarrians can be moved to more nations.

9/ Most of South Sudan is a giant nearly flat area that shall now be called the lake Nile basin, a lake that burst its banks long ago and ceased to exist. But it is practical and feasible to restore most of this lake with terraces and use the Nile river to flood this area for barely terraced rice farming, thus creating another rice bowl for the world. But nobody can use this rice bowl because there is a decades long war that has killed close to half a million people. South Sudan is also quite under populated with 18 people per km². This, while the population of England is 434 per km². So the South Sudan area can apparently sustain around 15 or 20 times its current population. So what we will is declare South Sudan a failed nation. Then we shall resettle up to perhaps 410 million people, as an armed mixture of settlers from many nations all around the world. Most male settlers shall be given 5-shot revolver pistols, and 5-shot rifles and access to defense training videos. There may also be spies able to call in airstrikes on large South Sudanese warlord gangs in arms. Thus the settlers will outnumber and buffer warring South Sudanese by up to around 15:1 to 29:1. Thus, our South Sudan project will solve three of the world's problems:

a/ The South Sudan war.

b/ The overpopulation of lands elsewhere in the world.

c/ The shortage of Nile water.

x/ This sort of resettlement should be the standard way the UM helps bring peace to lands that are both war-torn and underpopulated. This South Sudan approach is a much more cost-efficient use of the world's scarce migration money than settlement in the expensive developed world. Also, the native South Sudanese people shall no longer be allowed to have or hold long guns unless individually approved by the new government.

10/ There shall be 2 sets of sealed high-pressure pipes for the White Nile's waters starting at Nimule (elev. 615). These shall be run as far as they can with gravity energy. Then there shall be a collection pool and pumps and separate pipes for the onward journey of the water.

a/ One set of pipes shall run towards the Chelkou game reserve at the western corner of Lake Nile.

b/ One set of pipes shall run towards the reservoir at Nile Rock.

11/ The Lake Nile main lines shall have the possibility of diverting to pipes in the various successive maple-seed shapes that function as flood irrigation terraces, so we can drive the flood waters deep into the soil where the water will be useful for longer. To move the Nile's water over most of the lands of Lake Nile, we will probably have to add small inputs of energy generated elsewhere. These inputs are small in comparison to the potential area irrigated, which is very large due to the destination flexibility of the system.

12/ Lake Nile doesn't truly need irrigation today. However, the world government shall however develop the Lake Nile irrigation system to so that in a volcanic climate shock, mankind has means to utilize the famously weather-independent waters of the White Nile for supplemental irrigation in an area that will probably still get at least some tropical rains. Also, our annual Nile river water impounding of the famously silty and nutritious Nile waters will produce massive amounts of fertile settle-out particulates that must be removed from the water impounding facilities. In order to keep the system working, we will scoop this valuable soil up and sell it to nearby farmers.

13/ The multiple irrigation pipes headed towards the Nile Rock reservoir shall go on both sides of the Nile. The pipes on the west side of the Nile shall be used on the west side of the Nile for places like the Al Goled valley. The pipes on the east side of the Nile shall be used on the east side of the Nile for places like the Atbara valley on the east side of the Nile. We shall use pipes for much of the way through the Lake Nile area.

14/ The water system for the southwest part of Lake Nile should probably use open concrete culverts.

15/ The Red Sea Dungenab peninsula and port shall be a joint UM, US and European port for providing air support to defend the African rail system from raiding attacks.

16/ There are probably lost cities between Cairo and Port Said. We shall perforate drill for artifact density.

17/ The flatland Nile shall have a dam near "Nile Rock" (Sabaloka to El Quweiz area). This is about 85km north of Khartoum. This dam shall have a around 405m elev. The bottom of the area to be flooded is at an elevation of 376m here, but there is only a tiny part below 388. And the western flats of Lake Nile are mostly below 398. So with a reservoir that works up to 405m, we can flood Lake Nile if we want, and impound all of the White Nile's waters, if we want to. This dam is no higher than 40m and perhaps only 600m wide, so it is small and cheap to build.

18/ Places that suffer from regular or severe sand storms shall be off limits for new townships unless there is a good reason to make an exception and have a community in such a place. Much of the rail line through the sandy parts of Africa will be on a higher than normal raised viaduct that is covered in places subject to severe sand storms. Also, all trains will have forward-facing track cleaning flaps and compressed air blades in front.

19/ The hugely expensive Suez Canal was built by the British, and it shall remain a British possession like the Panama Canal shall remain a US possession. However the British shall lease the Suez Canal to the UM to run for £1/year, and it shall be run in a similar manner to how the Panama Canal is run by the US.

UR'75. AFRICAN LAKES

1/ The curious thing about the Nimule swamp is how it is ~250km long and dead flat at 616m, the same elevation as Lake Albert. So there seems to be an underground water obstacle around Nimule that caused the lake to silt up to 616m elev. But Lake Albert essentially runs from near Dunia to Nimule. So if we cut down the formation rock obstacle near Nimule, cut it down by say 6m, we will we will lower the entire Lake Albert water table by 6m, and we will slash evaporation and leakage from Lake Albert.

2/ We shall study the potential for lowering the level of Lake Albert by fist drilling a well hole upstream from Nimule. As we progress downward by a meter and then another, we shall monitor how much water we can pump out. At some point, the available water volume will go vertical. That plus a meter or two is how deep the we must out the edge of Lake Albert. This is expected to lower the elevation of Lake Albert by however many meters we choose to go, up to perhaps 10 meters. If we lower Lake Albert by 10 meters there will be much less leakage. Then we should increase the Nile's flow substantially given the 500km long water table of Lake Albert. The deep part we call Lake Albert was created incidentally from Lake Victoria overflowing in this direction. The deep part is at the bottom of a steep slope and was washed out in this way. The silt all accumulated at the other end of the Lake near Nemule. We also shut down evaporation for all the swampy 2/3 of the lake, which will go from exposed to covered by a shell of dry earth now.

3/ The water flowing from Lake Edward into Lake Albert shall be put in pipes and the energy harvested from the 300m fall.

4/ Lake Albert seems to be leaking near the confusingly named town of Erengeti Congo, which sounds just like the famous Serengeti park on the other side of the lake system. The nations reliant on the Nile for water shall be allowed to come here and underake projects to slow the leak here and at the other potential leak location at Kamatsi

5/ We shall drain 3m deep Lake Kyoga and use the land for farming. We will harvest energy from the 415m fall from Lake Kyoga to the Nile at Nimule. We will use this power and the power from the waters atop Lake Victoria to power the pumping of the White Nile's waters as needed.

6/ Water shall be diverted from Lake Victoria to Terakana by means of pipes starting at Bukose at ~1,095 (at the low side of the Jinja canal). Then the water shall be pumped in roughly a straight line pipe to Kuskong at the same elevation about 250km away. Then the water passes though a 20km by 70m max freeway cut at the Kadam pass. However, the water here must still be raised 100m. Fortunately, the final slope from this pass at elev. 1,200m has an 830 meter vertical offset to Lake Terakana and will provide more than enough energy to cover the cost of pumping 100m up and 400m out.

7/ It may be possible to send water from the end of the Kisumu inlet through the soil (and possibly a clogged cave) to the Kamnarok and Baringo valleys and into Lake Terakana. We shall study whether we have a situation where water can simply be poured on the ground at the east end of the Kisumu inlet and 97% of it will come out on the other side. For we might have a situation where water runs straight down through the packed volcanic material until it hits the ancient and highly mineralized top part of the Lake Terakana flood plane, where it then flows downhill into Lake Terakana below. This may involve much water loss, or it may be quite efficient.

8/ To figure out how fast the water flows from Kisumu, we shall add some harmless marker chemical to the water at the east end of the Kisumu inlet. Then we shall monitor how long the chemical takes to reach our monitoring wells in the Kamnarok and Baringo valleys. For all we know there is a clogged underground river here, and the markers will start to appear in a few hours. This place looks like it might have been Lake Victoria's old drain before tsunami action eroded an overflow at Jinja. This will give us valuable data points for estimating lake leakage. But more importantly, it will give us information about water penetration for volcano irrigation projects. What do we need to do to increase the rate? Is this location better than the the Kadam pass?

9/ The Blue Nile accounts for ~56% of the Nile's water, and the Atbara Nile (from the Tekeze River in Tigray) accounts for ~14% of the Nile's waters. Both rivers are highly seasonal with over 90% of the water coming from rains in the June to December rainy season.

Then the steady White Nile accounts for the remaining 30% of the Nile's flows. The Nile overall flows around 89 cubic kilometers of water each year, with 62 cubic kilometers being highly seasonal, and 27 cubic kilometers coming from the relatively steady flows of the White Nile.

10/ Lake Tana currently has a capacity of around 20 cubic kilometers of water. Now we might think that Lake Tana (avg. depth 9.7m) is an ideal location for storing water because it is so-energy rich being high up at an elevation of 1,786m. So we might build a dam near Bahir Dar and increase the lake's potential maximum depth by whatever is needed. This is probably a good idea. However, Lake Tana seems to leak. So what we should first do is test Lake Tana to see if it leaks. To do this we dump a bunch of dirt in the flow way at Bahir Dar. This we will use to raise the lake by ~1-meter. Then we measure Lake Tana's output. If the amount of water decreases substantially once the elevation stabilizes, then we might not want to build a dam for Lake Tana. We should do this experiment at many mountain lakes before we start to build a dam. Also, if we have another dam below, an oversized dam, then perhaps we can make the Lake Tana dam from sheet plastic-and packed earth, because a failure will not kill anyone.

11/ We shall have a second lower lake at the ancient burst lake now called Lake Bameza (between Gruba and Mengie). This might be dammed up to the range of 600m - 620m elev.

12/ The waters of Lake Tana are better used in areas to the north and west of Sanja and as far as Atbara. Also, the waters of Lake Tana can easily be diverted towards the north into the Sanja/ Atbara basin. The water can also be easily diverted to the slope west of the Sanja basin.

13/ The two lakes: Lake Tana @1,786m and Lake Bameza @600m might allow us to store energy by pumping water up to Lake Tana from Lake Bameza.

There are however 4 problem with this:

a/ Lake Tana is big and shallow and there is much evaporation.

b/ Lake Tana is big and shallow and thus appears to have a leak problem.

c/ Lake Tana appears to leak from Askoye.

d/ Lake Tana appears to leak from Wemberya.

14/ The UM shall declare certain areas as having insufficient topsoil and topsoil too unstable for farming using realistic assumptions and metrics. Then it shall take all the truly bad lands out of production and especially out of use for raising livestock.

15/ The Great Bitter Lake in Egypt shall be a rail to ship port with a shipyard and refueling. There shall be an industrial/ manufacturing city on the 1,200m plateau southeast of Cairo. This is near where the new railroad to and from Africa intersects with the Suez canal. At the highest elevation here it is ~8°C cooler than at Cairo year round. This is less than 100km from the Great Bitter Lake, which is an ideal port. It is also ~120km from the Nile's water. This area shall be regarded as a pan African asset. It shall be managed by the UM and open to workers from all of Africa.

16/ There shall be no property ownership in Adana or Asossa, like in New Issa, Gwadar, Centograd, Gagarin, Andeo, and Texas City. It is very important that our trading centers never be allowed to silt up due to a shortage of land.

17/ When lakes grow too high, the pressure driving the water down though the lakebed increases, resulting in more leakage. Also when lakes get too high, they often overflow and lose water to spillage and underground cave tunnels. But the leakage/overflow very often follows a power curve relative to lake depth. So if we increased Lake Victoria's depth a small amount, leakage/overflow would skyrocket to infinity. But if we lower the depth of the lake by say 30 meters we might double or quadruple the output of the Victoria Nile. And likewise with 480km x 35km Lake Albert. Many lakes are balanced at a tipping point on a power curve. If we take the Lake elevation down 10 to 30 meters, the leakage halves, or falls by 3/4, if we take the lake elevation up by 10 or 30 meters, leakage doubles or maybe the lake overflows and leakage goes to infinity.

18/ Lake Victoria does not appear to be a giant volcano, but merely a wet rift that always (so far) seem to have had enough water flowing into it. Also, which volcanos have erupted in Africa and when?

19/ The water coming up in volcanoes appears to be just byproduct from down below that has nothing to do with irrigating the volcano and keeping them cool. Thus the Lake Victoria region high lake water is ours to use as we like. Lake Victoria is an overflowing cup in the middle of the tropics which will have sunlight during ice ages.

20/ If we take Lake Victoria's water level down 30m or perhaps 40m, we will certainly cut surface area and evaporation by around 25 to 35%. However, we will reduce water depth and pressure by 38% (30/78m) to 51% (40/78m) and at the same time increase we increase the distance from the lake's water to the 4 long inlets (which seem to be from leakage) So we might substantially increase the water output of the Victoria Nile. Also, reducing the level of Lake Victoria should make both the Congo and Uganda valleys less vulnerable to tsunamis. After all, both valleys do look just like they were washed out from Lake Victoria repeatedly sloshing over the eons in earthquakes.

21/ The Islands of San Antonio de Pale Island, Sao Tome, Principe, Malabo, and the highlands of Buea, Barmenda are all in a line that runs a bit south of north-northwest, implying that this is the direction that Africa moves when the continent leaps. Also this does roughly match the scientific consensus on the direction of Africa's tectonic movement. So it should be no surprise that when we look at the eternal spring of Lake Victoria, that we see:

a/ How the shape of Lake Victoria is elongated in the same direction.

b/ Lake Victoria has an area of 68,800 km². So the top meter contains 69 cubic kilometers of water, and the tops 15meters has 1,035 cubic kilometers of water. So when there is an earthquake this water spills out. This is the regular flood that eroded both the Congo and Uganda basins.

c/ Lake Victoria tsunamis are the source of all the wide floodways and wide lakes around it. Lake Tanganyika and Lake Terakana and Lake Albert are all roughly the same width and very long because they were made by Lake Victoria tsunamis. The long lakes of east Africa should be viewed as occasional rivers that flow huge volumes when Lake Victoria springs a leak, as it seems to do periodically in various locations.

d/ If we look at the erosion of the hills/mountains around Lake Victoria, these low parts run north and to the south, with the main erosion scar then running from the south to the southwest. These therefore seem to be cut by repeated tsunamis/floods, e/ That the two deepest parts of Lake Tanganyika are where the Lake Victoria waters would pour out after the African continent leapt to the north-northeast.

f/ That the orientation of the African rift is not only in the same direction, but it is just about as long at the Sao Tome islands/ highlands line if we count the Mokolo highlands. This implies that Africa has not moved all the way from the Mid-Atlantic ridge.

g/ Kenya and Tanzania were protected from this, but not the coastal tsunamis.

h/ Mozambique is a place that was once wiped out by a tsunami and new people moved in.

i/ Lake Tanganyika floods out at Kalemie, and Pweto.

j/ The size of the Addis Ababa valley suggests how big this artesian spring is relative to the Lake Victoria spring. Also the high elevations rule out tsunami action.

22/ Where does the water go from Lake Mayara, Lake Eyasi, Lake Natron, Lake Sulunga, Lake Eyas, and perhaps other places around Lake Victoria. it seems to run underground, through the volcanic ash. So there seems to be large quantities of water that simply run downhill away from the surface and back to the sea.

23/ We shall to drill deep water wells at the backs of the 10 big valleys of Kenya and northern (dryish) Tanzania. Probably all of these are leaking ground water from Lake Victoria. Where we find water, we should probably drill turfans, and/or wells, then the water that would otherwise be wasted on the sea is let out and new streams are created for the Kenyan lowlands.

24/ Lake Terakana, dry Lake Marsabit, and dry Lake Kakuma can all be repaired as lakes and used for both water storage and flood farming. We will use plastic sheets over earthen dams here because nobody will be living in the flood zone.

25/ We shall use the Karongi pass to drain water from Lake Kivu. However, the flow line will be at around 1,500m with the new elevation of Lake Kivu now 1,460m lowered to 1,430m to reduce leakage. So we will have to pump water up about 70m to start. Then we will use the pipe hydro-electric on the route through Rwanda, and the Nyabarongo River to Lake Victoria, (which is today 1,134), but will be about 1,100 in the future. So we should be able to get all of the 70m pumping energy back from the 330m fall. Then from Lake Victoria, we will get even more energy from our high water at it makes its way down from 1,100 down to the Nile dam at ~400m. It should be noted that Lake Kivu now feeds Lake Tanganyika which then sends completely unnecessary water to the super-lush Congo basin. Instead we shall divert the outfall of Lake Kivu into the Nile side where more water is always needed.

26/ If practical, the area between Kigoma and Tabora in Tanzania shall be used for rice farming. Also, the outfall here might be loaded with heavy minerals. The basin might also support a large artificial lake at ~1100m.

27/ Lake Tanganyika and all the other Victorian lakes shall be lowered to reduce the flooding risk.

28/ To prevent future wars, the UM shall make the ultimate decision on the complex apportionment of African water and hydro-electricity rights. And as usual, the metric used shall be which allocations provide the greatest crop yields to mankind. However if population is used, then 1980 population shall be used as is typical herein.

UR'76. PRECIOUS TROPICAL WATER

1/ This topic was given a section of its own to emphasize its importance, and establish these words as an eternal guidepost.

2/ If there is ever a eruption similar to the 1815 eruption of the Tambora volcano, or worse, an eruption that produces worldwide shading of the sun and significantly colder weather, (and more importantly dryer and rainless weather) than normal: then all lands, water sources, lakes, and water impounding and moving technology shall be subject to a fair and formulaic reapportionment by the UM to the farmers and military of the various member nations based on population.

3/ In a true volcanic climate crisis, everyone must share, the available water and good land. If we don't do this, then market forces will tend to cause famine were there otherwise would be no famine. Markets simply do not operate properly in a food crisis where it seems that people will starve. Good

4/ To be perfectly clear here: The UM shall not manage farming. The UM shall only manage the rapid, total, and fair allocation of scarce water and land and other farming resources so that food output is maximized by the free market. People shall bid for those resources at auction with penalties for misuse of tropical farmland or water.

UR'77. THE CAS or CENTRAL AFRICAN STRIP

1/ The CAS shall go in the under populated strip in the center of Africa. It shall include:

- a/ The historically white parts of South Africa.
- b/ Namibia.
- c/ Botswana.
- d/ Angola.
- e/ West Zambia.
- f/ Congo.
- g/ West Congo.
- h/ Gabon.
- i/ Cameroon.
- j/ CAR.
- k/ South Sudan
- l/ Chad.
- m/ Sudan.

2/ The CAS is a very big area that might be home to a billion people resettled as Exhod mix. It will be like a second new America in Africa. There will be the one new America in Andeo, in South America. And then there will be the other new America in the CAS, in Africa. The capital of the CAS would be Adana on the border of Ethiopia.

3/ Central African Republic is a big fertile land on the equator with lots of rain and only 4.8-million people. This nation shall now be 4 new UM settlement nations:

- a/ Yalinga: Mbomou, Haut-Mbomou, and Haute Kotto.
- b/ Bangara: Bamingui-Bangoran, Vakaga.
- c/ Bandoro: Ouham, Nana-Grebiza, Kemo, Ouaka, Basse-Kotto.
- d/ Bocaranga: Nana-Mambere, Mambere-Kadei, Sangha-Mbaere, Ouham-Pende, Lobaye, Ombella M'poko.

4/ The Republic of Congo (West Congo, pop 5.5-million) is also underpopulated. It shall now become 3 new UM settlement nations:

- a/ Sangha: Likouala, Sangha.
- b/ Owando: Cuvette-Oeste, Cuvette, Plateaux.
- c/ Loubomo: Niari, Kouilou, Bouenza, Lekoumou.

5/ Mostly high elevation Cameroon (pop 26.6-million) shall become 10 nations according to existing provincial divisions.

6/ High elevation Gabon (pop 2.2-million) is also underpopulated and shall become 9 nations according to existing provincial divisions

7/ The high elevation Cameroon to Kinshasa area might ultimately be home to perhaps 200 million people (or more) due to lovely high elevation tropical climate.

8/ The high elevation Angola range is almost twice the size of Texas and might be home for 400 million (or more). Again, lovely climate.

9/ In south Angola/ Namibia, we might build an earthen dam at Ruacana (Are you a dog?), a concrete shelled earthen dam here. We might dam this up, and then dig a trench to Etoshi lake, which may need to be flooded and drained a few times due to salt. If the salt proves to be problematic, we might put our dams on the ocean side of Ruacana and have no issues with salt at all. If we can make this work, it will be a great thing for using northeast Namibia as another tsunami safe place for people to live in.

10/ Gabon's many rice lakes near La Lope and Lastoursville shall be developed.

UR'78. THE CONGO AND CHAD

1/ At Bangui the Ubangi's discharge is about 1.41 Niles of water. As the Nile supports 250-million, the diverted Ubangi can theoretically support around 350-million new people. As none of the Ubangi's water needs to remain to contribute to the Congo river's flows which total over 14 Niles of water, all of this water may be diverted to the dry north. Also some of the other Congo River tributaries can be diverted into the Ubangi fairly easily.

2/ We shall build a dam above Mobaye (FL 386) and raise the water to around 440. Then we shall use a 50m offset inverted siphon and a then ~70km of 0 to 20m deep freeway cut, and then ~10km of tunnel or 65m deep freeway cut. But then the entire Ubangi can simply be pumped over into the Chad basin without raising the water at all. Hydroelectric power generated from the fall into the Chad basin (from ~480m to ~360m) will power the pumping of the water over to the 30m ridge and into the Chad basin. There may also be some other hydro-electric power added from elsewhere.

3/ The Ubangi will provide the Chad basin with valuable desert irrigation water. Also, there will be remaining gravity energy to get the water far out into the Chad basin.

4/ The Bambari/ Ngakobo valley is a burst lake. This can easily be turned back into a lake if we patch the natural dam. Thus we will have a place for impounding Ubangi water that is on the way to Chad. At the top of this valley is the lowest pass for sending water into the Chad basin. Satema and Mobaye are other locations for water impounding dams. Bangui is yet another natural location for a water impounding dam, should the world ever need to hold on to as much tropical water as possible. Here we imagine a dam up to perhaps 405m. From here we pump the water up 25 meters to 430m for the pass into the Lake Chad basin. And there is more than a Nile of water for Chad.

5/ We shall create artificial lakes on the western slope of the high ground northwest of Lake Albert. This to impound high water for the dry season.

6/ The upper portions of many smaller rivers like the Sangha, Mpoko, Mambere, Ouaka, Bbiri, and other rivers in CAR shall also be diverted into Chad for irrigation as practical. The Koto River above Bria, but just below the fork (the Ngouhoro/ Ngomindou area) shall have a dam constructed at about 563m which raises the water to around 605m if practical. Then we have a ~20m deep 15km freeway cut to flow this water into the Mali watershed. No pumping energy required.

7/ The runoff from the upper sections of the Chinko Ouarra, and Boma may also be dammed up and stored for dry season water with gravity energy.

8/ The storm and rainy season runoff from the upper Congo River above Isangi, (the Uele, Aruwimi, Tomami, Lualaba, Luvua, and Tufifa rivers among others) shall be used to power the pumping of water into Sudan and Chad. The factor in deciding where the energy goes shall be as normal where the water can grow the most food.

9/ The storm and rainy season runoff from the upper Kasai River tributaries shall be used to power the pumping of water into the southern dry areas of Africa.

10/ We shall make the underpopulated eastern part of Chad into a new settlement nation irrigated with UM water projects from the Congo basin.

11/ The areas that cannot grow enough food, even after the new water programs, all these areas shall be depopulated until their land can be made self-sustaining economically given the new smaller population. This shall be a sort of general rule for the UM—that all lands must be roughly self-sustaining through legitimate economic activity, or the people must be Exhoded until the place is self-sustaining.

12/ Everyone Exhoded must move as part of an ethnic mix if that is possible. This is to provide stability to the recipient nation. They must also forever disavow Islam in addition to all forms of religious or racial violence or struggle. All must vow to walk in peace and have gratitude for those who welcomed and helped them out.

13/ Lake Kisale and Lake Upemba are part of a much larger Congo Lake we will call Lake Bukama. This lake currently has an elevation of 570 but this can be raised to 650 if we repair the natural dam. Thus we will impound more of the Congo's (Lulaba River) water for year-round clean hydro power generation. We shall also repair the natural dam for Lake Likasi in the triangular depression at 1200m above Lake Bukama in the Kundelungu national park. It should be pointed out that these two ever-rechargeable, clean electric dry season batteries sit pretty close to right in the middle of Africa.

14/ The Congo flows about 14.5 Niles of water annually. If we look at the rainfall for the Congo basin, we see that June-August gets almost no rain, and November is the wettest month. Yet when we look at the Congo River water flows, we find that December has the largest flows, but during the driest months, water flows are only 40% less than the maximum. Thus it appears that only about 40-45% of the Congo's water is from rain. The rest is leakage from the rift valley lakes.

15/ Volcanic ash may be totally air-tight to escaping volcanic gas, but it is apparently not entirely water proof. It is a bit like water over sand over cloth in a funnel, drip drip drip, but everywhere at once. However, in leaking lakes, things are near a tipping point. More depth/ pressure and leakage skyrockets, less depth/pressure and drops. So by reducing the level of a lake by 15% we might double the amount of water available to harvest depending on the lake. The lakes that don't leak much we can fill higher if we want. For example, Lake Tanganyika (which is 1,470meters deep and probably does not leak): this lake has area of 38,000 Sq. km. So if we repaired the natural dam and managed to raise the elevation of this lake, then for every 10 meters we raised the elevation of this lake, it is 380 cubic km of water that we are able to use in the dry season. This is about 4.2 Nile years of water that we can store (per 10 meters).

16/ The Congo shall become 10 nations based on the nation's old pre-2015 provinces map. The first 3 provinces are not under-populated, but need non-Congolese immigration to buffer existing populations and make democracy work. The Last 7 are under populated and the population shall be increased many fold in these new nations:

a/ Bas-Congo plus Kinshasa.

b/ Nord-Kivu.

c/ Sud-Kivu.

d/ Kasai Oriental.

e/ Orientale.

f/ Maniema.

g/ Equateur.

h/ Bandundu.

i/ Kasai Occidental.

j/ Katanga.

17/ If Rwanda(13-million) and Burundi (12-million) are places where everyone once died from the volcano, and new people came in to settle at a later time — If this is so, then there shall not be cities in either nation. These areas can be farmed, but they shall not have deathtrap cities.

18/ Where resettlement areas are plagued by warfare, the settlers shall be armed half with single shot rifles and half with 3-bullet long-barrel revolver pistols.

19/ Chad shall get a symbolic strip of land, connecting it with the Ubangi river, just what it needs this land. Central African Republic shall be split into two nations, one on either side of this land bridge to Chad.

20/ Wherever we see villages with young men engaging in Islamic style raiding, where they kill people or burn fields or especially when they kidnap young females: These villages are supposed to be entirely obliterated by midnight precision guided air-bombers. We shall think that it is extremely unwise to let this cancerous aspect of Islam to live on and spread. Both the Muslims and the outside world must demand this for the good of all the other Muslims and for the good of the outside world.

21/ The valuable underpopulated rainforest nation of Congo, with much too much rain, shall be declared a failed state due to the over 5 million dead from war in recent decades. What we are going to do is cut the Congo up

22/ The underpopulated Congo basin (44 people per square kilometer) shall have a lowland ring railroad around the edge of the Congo basin like Thailand will have. There will be hundreds of millions of people settling in the 70 -100 highland nations surrounding the ring. Congo's war-like race s will now be buffered with twice as many or three times as many foreigners. Thus the warring of the Congolese will be stopped.

23/ We shall not just take Congo, but we shall add the underpopulated nearby nations of Angola, Zambia, Gabon, and Central African Republic and chop these up into around 70 or 100 micro nations that will perhaps become minority black Africans and a majority Exhod mix. All the people settling in the Congo area shall be armed, while the locals shall all be disarmed and subject to repeated metal detectors when they move around.

UR'79. WEST AFRICA

1/ The Senegal River shall have a dam and reservoir just above Bakel. There shall be another shallow water impounding dam just east of the eastern end of the Gambia. Also, due to the extreme flatness of the land, all of the small rivers from the north slope of the wet coastal hills of Guinea shall be diverted north towards the dryer areas of Senegal where practical.

2/ The runoff from Guinea, Sierra Leone, and perhaps Liberia shall be captured by means of many small dams and diverted along the coast (more or less) towards Senegal.

3/ The Niger River shall be divided into two halves east and west of Timbuktu. Then all the people living on the Niger shall be moved to one of the two halves. Then we shall use all of the source water of the Niger River in the semi-arid zone before it can flow into the waterless arid desert zone on the way to Timbuktu. Also, we shall evaluate whether parts of the Lake Volta watershed (Such as the area above Chereponi current elevation 113m and future elevation ~140) can be used to store water higher up, for pumping into the surrounding dry areas that could all use this water. If needed and feasible, we might have means to pump this water via the Tapoa pass at ~215m into the Niger valley area near Niamey. The fall from ~215m will conveniently pressurize the water pipe system in the entire Niamey valley water system. Also, if feasible, the Bui River, above Bui National Park should be dammed up at around ~205m elevation + water height. Then the water might be pumped to the north into Burkina Faso elevation ~260.

4/ The Niger River is best impounded by means of a number of small impounding dams in places like Gbenko, Mandiana, and Kankan. However, a main dam is probably also called for near Bamako. Here we will remember that we are preparing the world for the next cold dry ice age and we want to maximize our ability to impound tropical water worldwide. Besides, the massif near Balamassala at ~800m elevation has a much better climate.

5/ There shall be a dam around the Bui/ Bouna/ Boromo area. If there is sufficient water, we can raise the elevation to around 230-250m like with the nearby Barrage de Bagre reservoir. This is only about 50 meters below the hump into the Niger River basin. Thus, the energy we obtain releasing water into the ocean powers the pumping of the water up over the hill into the desert. If practical, we shall also do the same thing with the rivers near Niamey.

6/ We use a more granular approach to water impounding to increase gravity energy and also to increase dam safety. The result in Ghana is that water will be impounded closer to ~220m instead of ~75m, the current elevation of Lake Volta. This will result in dams up to ~250m on the on the Sisili, Kulpawn and other rivers, and will provide most of the elevation necessary to get over the ~280m elevation hump to the inland desert. Lake Volta shall still however be used for increased water impounding and wet year impounding. Lake Volta gives us the option of burning oil to pump water over the hills to save crops that just need a bit more water. It also gives us the option to do this during global climate shocks and food shortages.

7/ The Niger River shall now be called the Mali River. This

8/ The higher the altitude, the more valuable the water, because this water also comes with precious gravity energy that can be converted into electricity to pump water far out into new lands brought into cultivation. Therefore, the Sokoto, Hadejia, Gongola, and Kaduna Rivers of Nigeria shall be captured as high up as practical and the water diverted to areas that don't get enough water to grow crops. Also, the many streams that flow through the wet areas south of the central mountain range of Nigeria — the Okwa, Mada, Ankwe, Wase and Pai rivers — these shall also be captured from up high and used for irrigation and power generation purposes.

9/ The rivers of the Gumti range (Nigeria), the Faro, Taraba, Donga, Katsina Alta, and Mbam rivers among others shall be used primarily for electricity generation. When there is a big storm, this electricity will be used to move water into desert areas. When it is not especially wet, the electricity is used to power the local civilization.

10/ With a little energy input, the Beneue River above Numan can be diverted inland to nearby equatorial dry areas. Much of the storm power from the Gumti range will be used to either power this activity, or moving Ubangi water.

11/ All of the rivers and streams of West Africa that can be diverted via pipe hydroelectric into the semi-desert of the north for no energy should be diverted.

12/ It should be standard practice for rivers like the Bunga to be used in the semi-arid zone closer to the coast, rather than flowing out into the totally dry desert. In other words, as usual, the new irrigation water should be used to irrigate areas that get 2/3 or perhaps even 1/3 as much rain water as is needed to grow crops. There may also be some generally sealed natural soil pans, and artificial plastic farming locations that are exempt.

13/ As with the Aral Sea, there need not be a Lake Chad. Instead all the water should be used before it becomes a lake.

14/ We shall carbon date coastal seashells and inland tsunamis to determine the tsunami risk of each section of coastline. There should be no communities in the danger zone. Therefore, the Gambia inlet, the Casamance inlet, and the Saloum Delta: these places will eventually be mostly depopulated except for agricultural workers. The new cities shall all go on tsunami safe hills, like those around Conakry, Labe, Man, Kumasi, Koforidua and Ho.

15/ As with everywhere else, the people of the dry north of Africa shall have a right to use all the water being squandered on the ocean by the nearby wet areas.

16/ If practical and needed, the Akosombo Dam shall be increased in height (or supplemented with another taller dam) so that Lake Volta can store more fresh water.

17/ There should also be catchment dams near Kara, Sokode and especially Mount Amolo (elev 204m before dam). These and the Barrage de Kompienga (175m) can be sent over a ~240m pass (with a 12km deep freeway cut) into the Niger River basin.

18/ The cool scarce highland plateaus of Guinea shall be used for township urbanism and the Entire sparsely populated nation of Guinea (53/km2) shall take in up to around 61 million people.

19/ Many lakes like "Beni Cheledi shall be fully developed to maximize temporary rainy season catchment volumes so that as little seasonal water as possible gets wasted.

20/ Almost everybody upstream from Boumba on the Niger river and in the desert shall be relocated to the New lands created by using the Niger River as it is leaving the Highlands of southwest Mali.

21/ Due to a deeply engrained culture of crime and corruption, Nigeria and surrounding areas need to have particularly small countries. The value of money is greatest among the poor, therefore, the poorest nations must be smaller, so that the government will remain efficient in the face of intense poverty culture driving towards stealing and corruption.

22/ Nigerian taxes shall be paid to each of the states (which are in fact new nations). These shall in turn give 10% of this money to the Nigerian federation government for nation scale spending. This approach is thought to be best in extremely corrupt cultures. Many terribly corrupt nations will emulate this Nigerian approach to taxation and spending.

23/ The Freetown highlands shall be a headquarters for the African diaspora and the study of slavery and oppression of Africans. Thus Freetown will be sort of a locus of identity and African history and culture, with Adana being the commercial capital and the African city of the future. Freetown Highlands shall be an autonomous UM area, mostly for African Americans (North and South) that want to have a place in Africa. This will be thought to be an Africa for beginners place of strict Singapore like rules. It shall also have a sealed border. Also, this location is ideal for a travel to the Americas.

24/ The Mamou Highlands shall be the trading capital of West Africa. This area will be owned by the UM, this Highland area, just like with the Adana area.

UR'80. ETHIOPIA

1/ All of Ethiopia's many rivers large and small shall be dammed up so the high waters and their energy may be stored for use in the surrounding deserts and in Ethiopia itself. In fact, Ethiopia may eventually have 50 to 100 dams.

2/ The entire basin that contains the Chelbi Wildlife Reserve, the Omo National Park, The Mungo National Park, the Welshet area shall be used for farming. In general, where land for farming is scarce, all land suitable for farming shall be used for farming, and the animals must use the hills and the other places than are not suitable for farming.

3/ The Omo River and its tributary the Oromia River shall have many small dams, including dams at Saja, Tarcha, Hadiya, and Abelti. The Alga and Yanfa valleys shall have dams.

4/ Fortunately the land all mostly slopes away from Ethiopia, so there will be little need for energy to pump water. The seasonal free electricity from Ethiopia's rivers shall be apportioned by population between Ethiopia, the Sudans Terakana and Eritrea.

5/ All valleys leaving the Ethiopian highlands shall be drilled for water. Where turfans are possible, these shall be constructed. Where wells are possible, these shall be developed.

6/ Ethiopia shall lose land for 8 new UM nations facing Adana and Lake Nile as follows:

a/ Amhara: the highlands bound by the blue Nile and Lake Tana together with the adjacent Ethiopian lowlands.

b/ Gonder the remaining highlands bound by the Blue Nile River and the Tekze River. These highlands and the adjacent Ethiopian lowlands.

c/ Asossa: The Ethiopian highland area north of the north Gambela valley. These highlands and the adjacent Ethiopian lowlands.

d/ Jimma: The Ethiopian highlands west of Jimma and not including Asossa. These highlands and the adjacent Ethiopian lowlands, and isolated highlands "offshore".

Then there is a large gap where Ethiopia runs e/ Ambo: The Ethiopian highlands north of Jimma and west of Ambo. This includes Manasebo.

f/ Gamu Gofa and the north peninsular part of Sidamo.

g/ Marsabit, facing and including the Marsabit irrigation area.

h/ Sidamo, facing the Mandero and Wajir areas.

i/ Manasebo and Manbuk will be luxury/ resort highlands.

x/ Regarding the various valley borders between the above places, Ethiopia shall have roads and railroads between the various new nations to the lowland below. This is imagined like highway 52 in San Diego for highways and rail lines.

7/ All of the shallow lakes of the Ethiopian rift valley are probably artesian and all seem to leak down the slope, wasting much valuable water near a desert that can always use water. Therefore, we shall drain all of these lakes and then we shall excavate low spots (large open wells approximately 20-50 meters down (recovering valuable minerals in the ore, if any). Then we shall use a pipe-hydro-electric system and carry as much water as we can from the six lakes at around 1600m elevation. We shall carry this in both direction down. On the west side the water shall go towards Lake Abaya and Lake Terakana/ Marsabit, perhaps being used along the way, and in Somalia. The water will also be used on the east, towards the Afar slope area. The energy and water from this location shall belong to Ethiopia to the extent it uses this water.

8/ Eritrea (pop. 3.6m), Djibouti (pop.1.1), and Somalia (pop 17m) are all coastal wastelands settled after a tsunami. And they are underpopulated in comparison to Ethiopia (pop 120m). And the mountainous parts of these nations are at the edges of Ethiopia. So these areas seem to be most likely stolen after a tsunami, or won with war/ Islamic struggle. There is the hard to explain war in Ethiopia that has quietly killed some 400,000 people. No. These three lands shall all be exhoded entirely. Also all Eritrean and Ethiopian Muslims shall be Exhoded, 9/ The Djibouti triangle shall be perforated/ drilled for oil and the fossil/ tsunami/ earthquake record.

10/ Bahir Dar is located in one of those worst possible locations for a city, in the jaws of death the next time Africa leaps to the northwest. And what if there is some huge 1:500-years storm? What then of your town. No. this town must be moved and all the others like it that are along a water way, like it seems Chicago, a great city on a lake in the probable direction of the water flows, even if it is just a lake.

UR'81. NORTH AFRICA RELOCATED

1/ All of Egypt shall be relocated either to Sudan as Egyptian communities, or relocated as Exhod mix all over the world. The people working in half-year tourism and archeology can come and live for up to 6-months per year in Egypt.

2/ Farmers can live in Egypt at a density of up to 30 people per square kilometer of land actually farmed each year. However, the Niles water diversion and catchment system should be designed so that the Egyptian Nile gets no water in most years.

3/ All of the excess population of Tunisia, Algeria, Morocco, Libya and Egypt: the excess that this land cannot sustain, all these people shall be relocated as Exhod mix.

4/ As normal, the Exhod mix shall be scattered around the world and blend away. These shall stay away from the people from their homeland. This is needed so that the world will accept more Exhods more easily, and everything can stay more harmonious and pleasant for everyone.

5/ Everyone in the PU that undergoes Exhodos shall be prioritized in a sort of new queue. This will be much like the old queue except that everyone will be leaving much more quickly.

6/ Each nation shall prioritize their own people as good responsible people, to potential troublemakers. For example: criminals, and violent types, or people that can't unlearn their old religion — These potential troublemakers will get last priority in Exhodos. Also, many of the people sent back after previously immigrating under the old system will get last priority in Exhodos. These end of the queue Exhods may be required to stay in Africa, or go to certain isolated islands, or other places for last in line Exhods. And again, these people shall be first judged and prioritized by their own people who are equipped to read them and understand them.

7/ The various underground rivers of Algeria and North Africa (Salah, Adrar, Tamanrasset, etc.) shall all be developed into desert oasis's where practical. These shall be used primarily for European vacation areas.

UR'82. MOROCCO

1/ There shall be a double 8m tilt-up wall with a 2,000m no-man's-land in between, as a sort of linear military base between the walls. This pair of walls shall run from the valleys northwest and southwest of Bab Berred, to Ksar-el-Kebir to the east. If this is not enough land, later a new pair of walls shall be run about 5km inside from Rabat, Fes, Meknes, Taza, and Zaio. Mines shall be allowed between the walls in narrow double fenced bands.

2/ Everyone entering or leaving this Atlas Economic zone from either Europe or the rest of Africa shall be subject to immigration/customs type checks to look for stolen or contraband goods. Everyone inside the zone must carry a working tracking device such as a telescreen at all time or be subject to jail time. There shall also be a number of cantonments for the various dorm-sleeping manufacturing zones. There is also nice housing for the managers.

3/ The Moroccans, tourists and managers will be allowed to move around the various sealed worker cantonments. The idea is that the Atlas area will become totally crime and hassle free and then tourists to come and for foreign factories open up, and for people to buy vacation homes such as are so common in Spain.

4/ Morocco shall make the whole Atlas area subject to Spanish law, at Spain's option, even if people come from a third nation.

5/ Europe shall provide subsidized container handling for the 16km trip between Tangiers and Tarifa for 3 days of Spanish wages per container. Pre-cast concrete, mineral ores, rocks, sand and similarly heavy goods, or fluids in containers larger than 5 gallons shall be required to pay for shipping across the straights of Gibraltar. It is actually in Europe's best interest to provide free freight passage across the 28 kilometer straights. This is because Europe gets:

a/ A nearby low wage trading partner.

b/ Economic stability for its neighbors Morocco and Algeria.

c/ A valuable synergy to help the Iberian economies.

d/ A way to help the economies of all West Africa, also a way to help build economic ties between Europe and West Africa.

6/ The flexibility of small-scale pipe hydroelectric system will allow Morocco to greatly increase the amount of water and energy it can impound on the Atlas mountains. Also, putting this water in pipes will increase the zero-energy range of water movement.

7/ Atlas mountains should have many more water impounding dams in places like/near: El Menzel, Aouli, Oued Outat, Oued Srou, Oued Al Abid, Tilougguit, Nqob, Tarhoulit, Isqqifen, Ait Oumdis, Toufliht, Arba Tighedouine, Tazitount, Imgdal, El Amir Abdelkader, and the intersection of route 12 and RR306. There shall be dams at the bottom of the Tindite valley, and also in the valley above zagora, foud zguid, tissent, Tata, akka, fam el hisn.

Also, there are dozens of locations are still unnamed.

8/ We imagine the Atlas area becoming a sort of Singapore of West Africa, losing about 23 million due to resettlement, and gaining perhaps 30 million in a combination of temporary workers, Exhod resettlement, vacation housing, and other resettlement.

9/ Everyone in Morocco under age 60 shall be required to take the training course in how to behave with politeness towards tourists.

10/ All of the roads in all of the medinas shall have video recording. If there is no recording, that area must be closed.

11/ The lagoon north of Briech in morocco shall be the the main port between Africa and North America. Also, perhaps Tangier. Only reasonable fees may be charged for docking and loading and unloading cargo here.

12/ Both Morocco and Turkey shall have extensive shipping links across Europe for small and large shipments. There will be 4 price zones for each side. This is to help both nations to have a single Ali Baba point for marketing and shipping into Europe. So Europeans can easily come to them, and buy from them. Also, Morocco will probably produce much of the new housing in Iberia. And Turkey will probably produce unit-blocks for as far away as Romania and Croatia.

13/ Dams shall be constructed at the bottom of the Tindite Valley, also in the valley above Zagora, Foud Zguid, Tisnt, Tata, Akka, and Fam el Nisn.

UR'83. MADAGASCAR

1/ The UM shall build ports at Baia da Conducia and Manampatra.

2/ From Manampatra, the UM shall build rail lines circling the island in the coastal lowlands area. There shall also be at least 3 crossings from one side of the island to the other. There shall also be a large number of stem lines as is normal.

3/ Madagascar now has around 50 people per square kilometer. This shall be raised to over 200 people per square kilometer.

4/ The confusing names of all the rivers of Madagascar shall be changed to changed to WR1-WR16 on the west and ER1 to ER12 on the east, with the first of each going to the south. No longer will there be the ridiculously confusing names that prevent discussion of water plans, names like: Man-goro, Man-goky, Man-igory, Man-ingoza, Man-anara, Men-arandra, Man-drare Manambahe, Mam-abole. and Man-ampatraena.

5/ The ample runoff of ER1 to ER3 in the wet east of the island will probably be diverted around to the dry west of the island irrigation along with the upper portions of W3, W5, and also perhaps the W7 river.

6/ Most of Madagascar's water moving tech should not need inputs of energy to work. So the island should not have any need for energy to move water Therefore all of the runoff will go for hydro power.

7/ Madagascar has several locations where water can be easily impounded up high for dry season power.

8/ As Madagascar is not suitable for manufacturing due to its remoteness, it will have to attract people for other reasons. And for this end, it would be very helpful if this island could get as crime free as say Japan in addition to having cheap electricity and a nice climate.

9/ The United States is hereby granted the northern half of Antsiranana bay for the construction of a naval base. This shall include all land and seas north of the southern tip of Tanifotsy point. It shall also include Nosy Volana island and all small sub-islands. All these US areas shall be closed to the people of Madagascar. The UM and India as individual nations shall also be allowed to use this port for their ships. Each shall have a base here if they want one.

10/ Low lying Zanzibar and Pemba Islands shall be entirely Exhoded. This location in the Madagascar tsunami channel probably funnels antarctic tsunamis and magnifies their hight.

UR'84. ANDEO AND SOUTH AMERICA

1/ There shall be an interchange at the southern end of Panama that will be the natural interchange where the Pan-American line to North America splits to the Pan-American line to the Amazon side, and the Peruvian line. And this place is the natural trade hub for South America, right on Colombia's door step. The southern side of Panama, south of the canal shall become part of Andeo.

2/ Colombia shall become 5 nations, Chiile shaped nations, 5 linear zones for townships. Furthest west is the tsunami vulnerable Pacific Slope zone (Pacifica). All of the flat coastal lands of the world that are in a tsunami zone shall be used for agriculture, mining and transport as needed, with the farmers living on the hills. Next to the east is the Cali Valley, then there is the Bogota valley, the Bogota highlands, and then the Northern Range. So Colombia, which is valuable location near Panama, Mexico, Andeo, and the US. These areas might be able to handle upwards of 200 million settlers. Also, it should be noted that due to the zig-zagging on the Panama to Amazon route, northern Peru will be closer to Panama than the Amazon, unless a 1100m pass is crossed.

3/ Between Colombia and Brazil, there is a mountain pass at around 1200m in elevation. Colombia shall subsidize the freight carriage over this hill into Brazil in both directions because of the prosperity it will bring to the Columbia Valley and surrounding areas. Tibu ridge shall be developed for townships, right on the Pan-American rail line.

The nearby Highlands of San Lucas and the Caracoli highlands shall also be developed for townships. The Bogotá Valley and the Cali Valley as well. Also, the Coromoro highlands, Yacopi highlands, and the areas of Alpujarra, Ataco, and Huila among many many other places.

4/ The Amazon and Orinoco basins are wildly under-utilized. In fact, they are world's largest under-used area with both tropical sun and abundant water. Yet this area is also a sparsely populated. Given the size, rain and sunshine of the area, this place could become the world's most agriculturally fertile region. Also, a very large part of this area will be totally destroyed in the next mega tsunami, so the idea of conservation here seems foolish. Here are the nations and provinces that we will use to create the new UM settlement nation of Andeo:

a/ Venezuela (pop 30.6-million).

b/ Trinidad and Tobago (pop. 1.4-million).

c/ Guyana (pop 788,000).

d/ Suriname(pop 587,000).

e/ French Guiana(pop 294,000).

f/ Panama south of the canal (pop 4.3-million).

g/ Southeast Columbia below 1900m.

h/ The Brazilian provinces of Roraima (pop 631,000).

i/ Amazonas (pop 4.2-million).

j/ Acre (pop 895,000).
 k/ Amapa (pop 862,000).
 l/ Para (pop 8.7-million).
 m/ Mato Grosso (pop 3.5-million).
 n/ Eastern Peru and Ecuador below 1900m o/ Bolivia north of Cochabama and below 1900m.
 p/ Those parts of Colombia that are less than 120km from the Caribbean coastline shall also be the territory of Andeo, if Andeo elects to enforce this right because of attacks on the rail line to the north. Thus Andeo will reach up to the Panama Canal. And on the northern side of Panama, the US will have similar rights to take-over the lands north of the Canal, to make sure that its trade and Mexico's trade gets through unimpeded. The US and Andeo shall also have the right to use their military against those pirates who prey upon their Pan-American trade.

5/ Andeo shall be divided into many small nations, each with enough high grounds for their populations. Also, where practical, each nation (in the Andean union and otherwise) shall have their share of low grounds suitable for farming where practical. This should be contiguous and easy to evacuate, but it need not be. Indeed the size of the Amazon basin creates a large area at the center that will probably not be cultivated due to its size and how long it would take to reach high ground. If there is a global food crisis, then this rich tropical land gets put into cultivation.

6/ Regarding future populations: Columbia shall have up to 250 million people who mostly make their income through industry and through interacting with Pan-American trade. Also, the four northern highlands areas of the Amazon basin (Rio Branco, Florencia, Boa Vista, and Manaus might have 160 million people each, this subtotals to 640—million with the North Venezuelan hills getting up to 60 million, Para state Brazil—up to 220 and Mato Grosso state Brazil—up to 300 million, in total 1,220-million people possible. On top of this Brazil might be able to take in up to another 200 million in the zone east of Fortaleza, Brasilia, and almost to Asuncion.

7/ These separate nations of Andeo shall cooperate with each other in the way the US states and the Euro-zone nations cooperate, with internal free trade, standardized laws and procedures, a mutual defense treaty, and other mutual projects. This shall be typical of UM resettlement nations.

8/ In Andeo, the UM shall determine which areas are for farming and townships and which are to be left as habitat. However, given that much of the Amazon basin seems to be regularly washed away by tsunami flood, the preservation of the low lying rainforest areas shall be considered an futile objective.

9/ All member nations shall eliminate all habitat protection areas, indigenous land areas, and land ownership and squatting rights for:

a/ Places under 100m elevation, and places that have erosion patterns that indicate tsunamis or other sorts of irregular flooding.
 b/ Lands that have erosion patterns that indicate regular coverage by ice sheets during times of ice age.
 c/ Desert lands that can be irrigated and used for agriculture and made to add soil.
 d/ Scarce highlands in the midst of, or near large tsunami flood zones. For example the Resguardo Indigena Monochoa, and the Terra Indigena Uru-Eu-Wau-Wau in the Amazon basin.

10/ The United States Shall have a Mexas-like manufacturing zone that includes all of the Panamanian states of: Veraguas, Herrera, Los Santos, Cocle, Panama Oeste, and Colon that are on the US side of the canal zone. This zone shall also include the Chagres and Gatun River watershed areas. These watersheds shall also be part of the US Panama canal and manufacturing zone. The Panama provinces of Naso Tjer Di, Bocas del Toro, Chiriqui, and Ngabe-Bugle shall be ceded to Costa Rica.

Lake Gatun shall become a freshwater US port. 70% of the water of the Chagres River and Gatun River shall be available to the Panama canal system, and 15% to the areas south of the canal and 15% to the areas north of the canal zone. It is thought that a US-run zone on the north side of the canal, combined with an Andeo-run zone on the south of the canal (and also on the Pan-American rail line) is the best way to create jobs in this place for the people of the Caribbean, Central America, and nearby South America.

11/ Like with Centograd, there shall be no permanent residents or land ownership in Panama, either in the Andeo side to the south of the canal, or the US area to the north of the canal.

12/ The underpopulated portions of Panama east of Espave and the Choco province of Colombia shall become a UM petroleum reserve. The Belem area, and the Guyana/ Surinam coast shall be prospected for oil.

13/ All the people now living in the low-lying areas of the Americas shall be free to move to Andeo. The Vista highlands shall be developed into a sort of riviera of South America, while Colombia shall be the business center of South America.

14/ In Andeo, as in all UM territories, there shall be no right of early migrants to say they don't want more migrants.

15/ Regarding South American pipe hydro-electric infrastructure, the nations of South America shall share the water and electric rights based on 1980 populations plus new settlers.

16/ Isla la Tortuga and Isla La Blanquilla (Venezuela) and Tobago Island shall be UM territory where portions shall be leased to the various nations of South America for jails, work camps and sequestration communities. South America shall now get extremely tough on violent crime, and all 1st and 2nd degree murderers, armed robbers, rapists, kidnapers, and other violent criminals will be sequestered for life on one of the prison islands of South America. Thieves and other less violent criminals will also be sent to these islands albeit for shorter jail times. The current residents shall be relocated elsewhere to 15% better housing than they have today.

17/ The Island of Trinidad shall be linked with the shore by ferry boat between the two natural ports bracketing the Bocas del Dragon straights. Trinidad shall follow the strict and unforgiving criminal justice rules of poor and overcrowded high-crime places, where criminals tend to get exiled for life rather than imprisoned for years. Most of Africa and South America needs to follow these stricter rules so as to bring down their homicide epidemic. Trinidad shall also have mandatory location tech and lots cameras in its cities to combat crime. Scarborough island shall be a safe refuge island for police officers and their families.

18/ When American nations deport Latinos, they shall be sent to near Del Fuego at the southern tip of South America. This it should be noted is about 9,000 miles from the US, and on the other side of the US checkpoint at the Panama Canal. Mexico and the nations of Central America shall allow the US to control the flow of people entering North America from parts to the south. Also, none of the nations of South America and Africa shall allow deported people to fly. ;

19/ The term Central America shall no longer be used. Instead, there shall only be North America, north of the Panama Canal, and South America, south of the Panama canal. The nations of Central America are prudent to allow the rich North Americans to include them in any small way.

20/ The Parana River has 6.5 Niles in water flow and outfalls near Buenos Aires. If it is cost-effective, or we need to make preparations for the next ice age, the UM shall build aqueducts to better use this water in the dry areas to the south and west.

21/ There shall be large-scale water and power impounding reservoirs near the following South American locations among others as feasible:

- a/ Chirapota, Colombia.
- b/ Policarpa, Colombia.
- c/ Guataqui, Colombia.
- d/ Ataco, Colombia.
- e/ Zapatoco, Colombia.

22/ There are many small high rivers on the dry eastern slope of the southern Andes in Argentina and Bolivia that get occasional rains. Several of these have natural ancient high lakes and other contour features that can be used for water/ energy catchment such as Rio Beni, Rio Boopi, Rio de La Paz, Rio Cotacajes, the Bolivian Rio Grande O Guapay, Rio Pilaya, Rio Pilcomayo Rio Bermejo (near Mamora), Rio de las Conchas (near Cafayate) and also perhaps at Guachipas (for the increased energy storage over the lower reservoir used today.) Also the Rio Salado south of Villa Mazan can have a water catchment facility. The San Juan River can have a catchment facility near the Villa Corral/Calingasta area. The Mendoza River can have a catchment area below Uspallata. The hills of Cordoba and San Luis in Argentina shall be opened up for settlement.

23/ Slightly brackish Lake Titicaca at 3800m up and 5.3ppt salt can be harmlessly drained down by ~100m thus reducing surface area and evaporation by ~1/2 This lake with roughly 893 km3 of water (10 Nile/years of water), can be seasonally drained and used as a power reservoir due to its extreme elevation. This can be accomplished by means of a ~15km tunnel just north of Achacachi. The slightly salty water can then be slowly and harmlessly blended in with the abundant mainstream Amazon River flows where it will be harmless. Also, it should be pointed out that we get all the net differential evaporation of this immense lake (with 1/2 of the surface area) as a dry-season renewable resource. This while we also cleanse the remaining water of its toxic salt each year. Also, this washing-out of salt is definitely something we want to do for all of the brackish lakes of the world during the current warm age if it is practical.

24/ All of Chile's lakes south of Temuco shall be made available to Argentina at no cost if the water can be taken away by Argentina for its southern deserts. The UM shall manage the rail system on the west coast of South America, connecting to the Pan-American line to Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Chile. The UM shall also manage the line to Andeo, Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay, and Argentina. This is to reduce the potential for exploitation and war.

25/ All Argentinians must look at a high resolution topographic flood map of their nation, for it is obvious that tsunami flows regularly get at least as far inland as Resistencia, elevation 43m. This is almost as far inland as the border of Paraguay (¿Por que vives tan lejos tierra del mar? Answer: Para•agua•eh). Also, all Brazilians should note that the elevation of Manaus is as low as 11m above sea level despite being about 1,000 km up the Amazon. Also, the Mississippi River basin in southeastern Arkansas is only 28m above sea level. Also, the elevation at Berlin Hauptbahnhof is only 27m above sea level. Sevilla is as low as 6m, Bordeaux as low as 7m, Dusseldorf as low as 28m, Albany NY as low as 5m, Montreal as low as 7m and Richmond VA as low as 4m above sea level.

26/ The UM shall provide the following large flat wet areas in Latin America and Africa with sufficient water moving hardware, and earth moving equipment for development as rice fields where feasible:

- a/ The Brazilian states of Amazonas and Roraima.
- b/ Portions of the Parana River valley.
- c/ Portions of the Orinoco river basin suitable for rice growing.
- d/ The gulf coast of Mexico.
- e/ The Lake Nile area in South Sudan.
- f/ Lowland Nigeria.
- g/ Lake Volta valley

27/ Uruguay shall now be greatly enlarged and turned into another UM nation. This nation will use lands that are today the home of a little over 13 million people. The new UM nation of Uruguay shall be made up of:

- a/ All of old Uruguay.
- b/ The Brazilian province of Rio Grande do Sol.
- c/ All of the land south of Lages. This land south of Lages and in the state of Santa Catarina is not counted in the population shown above.

28/ The following large South American basin areas shall be used for rice farming where this is a feasible idea: the Manaus basin, the Paraguay basin, the Apure basin, the northern Amazonas basin, the Beni basin of Bolivia, The Iquitos basin up to Ucayali, The Bananal basin (west near Palmas Brazil), and the Porto Alegre basin. Also, the Jurueña area, the Rio Branco area, The Terra Indigena Aripuana, The Terra Indigena Zoro, the Terra Indigena Roosevelt, and the Ji-Parana and the Ansina basin Uruguay.

29/ The underpopulated portions of Panama east of Espave and the Choco province of Colombia shall become a UM petroleum reserve.

30/ The main port, for Brazil will unavoidably be Mosoro. From here, the trade shall flow down the coastal line. But inland, there shall be a second set of lines from the main port to the main Brazilian valley, to an interchange or turn of direction near Ibotirama, and Bom Jesus. From this valley many lines can connect safe highlands to the main port. Thus the area from Brasilila to Uberlandia, to Passos, to Belo-Horizonte to Montes Claros will be connected directly to the port. So it is more like Italian riveria living on the ocean slope, while around the inland valley it is more about industry and work. This on the Montes Claros range/region of Brazil.

31/ Around 80% of South America's 400m to 1400m land is in the Brazilian Hills. So there will eventually be over a billion people living here in this huge area with a lovely climate. Special attention should be paid to the Mesa Grande region around Barreiras and at an elevation of around 700 to 950m. Here we imagine

32/ Brazil shall put its big industrial zone and free trade zone called Mosoro at the far eastern tip of Brazil, to include all of the lands between Rio San Francisco/ Pernambuco and Rio Grande do Norte. This will be a secure double-walled (meaning with a no-man's land between them) mandatory tracker zone. This is at the center of the nation, yet far away and projecting into the ocean, the logical place for pollution, and right next to the port to both Africa and Europe. All the super polluting activity however takes place in Southern Argentina where all the most polluting industry takes place, maximally far away from everyone. But the semi-polluting industry like painting vehicles, and varnishing doors, and forming plastic, and all these semi-dirty industrials things. They can take place here in Brazil. And just as Argentina allows the other American nations to put their dirty factories near Tierra del Fuego, so will Brazil let the other American Nations have a reasonable amount of territory in the industrial zone near the main South American port with both Africa and Europe. The area between the Panama canal and Andeo shall also be a trust zone shared by all South American nations. So South America has these three doors and all must be shared by all the people of South America. And in these three zones, everyone will have to carry a tracker all over, like in totalitarian PRC China today.

33/ The lowlands of Yucatan with its scarce highlands should be factory farmed, for there is a tsunami every so many centuries and all the low areas get wiped out. In fact, all tsunami basins should be heavily farmed, including the Mississippi, the Amazon, the Thai, the Pakistani. All of them. This is because, every so many centuries there is a tsunami that just washes everything away anyway.

34/ Venezuela was once oil rich. But then it went on to suffer a bizarre string of government-created missteps that effectively shut down Venezuela's oil industry. This teaches us several lessons:

a/ It must be noted that the Atlantic coast of Europe is about the same distance to Venezuela as it is to the Arab oil sources. And there are lots of low wage people in Venezuela to produce oil cheaply. So it is important to the oil-based economies of the Arab nations to keep Venezuelan oil off the market. And clearly they seem to have their people influencing the government of Venezuela. And these are totally degrading the oil economy, and indeed the people of Venezuela, so they can't easily recover and start producing oil that would compete with OPEC.

b/ That in the words of T. E. Lawrence (of Arabia) about Arab power: "our power was solvent rather than dominant". Here in the shut down of Venezuelan oil output, we see that solvent character in the noon day sun.

c/ By studying Venezuela we learn about how our own oil industry was temporarily shut down and then throttled repeatedly by government under the guise of environmentalism, much to the profit of the same Mideast oil interests.

d/ Venezuela is just a microcosm for the world. The Mideast has been doing the same thing worldwide for thousands of years.

e/ Behold the degradation of the Venezuelan people and how this was at the hands of their Arab masters. Now consider how the parasite has this in mind for all host lands in the entire outside world.

35/ Due to the huge number of Latin Americans that the US has allowed, all of Latin America shall allow US and Canada citizens to come and stay indefinitely and open businesses. And these people shall be treated exactly as citizens in Latin America. This shall be a thing that is thought to bring prosperity whether they are industrialists opening factories, or welfare skivers seeking to maximize their dole lifestyle.

UR'85. MEXICO.

1/ The United States shall secure and regulate access to the following ocean areas.

a/ The Gulf of Mexico from Miami to Cancun.

b/ The Mexican coast north of Puerto Vallarta, including the Gulf of California and the west coast of Baja California, but not including south of Puerto Vallarta.

c/ All of the coast of Canada between Alaska and the rest of the US.

d/ The US shall also patrol and secure the coastline of Newfoundland and Labrador.

2/ The following parts of Mexico shall be oil extraction reserves, and each shall include all nearby oil fields in the surrounding lowlands.

a/ The All Saints Bay area near Ensenada.

b/ The Ejido Papalote/ Rancho los Pinos lagoon.

c/ The lifeless Vizcaino bay/ Guerrero Negro lagoon

d/ San Ignacio Lagoon.

e/ The bay north and west of El Batequi.

f/ The bays between La Poza Grande, Puerto Magdalena and El Datilar

g/ The Mexicali valley, from the border (Mexicali — Yuma) to the Sea of Cortez and the entire tsunami flood basin.

h/ The bay and nearby flatlands between Salina Cruz and the boarder with Guatemala.

i/ The parts of Campeche, Tabasco, and Vera Cruz, and Tamaulipas that are under 70m above sea level.

3/ Besides Vizcaino, North America's most toxic industrial zones shall be in: the Laguna El Barreal area roughly 100km south west of El Paso in Chihuahua Mexico. The most radioactive and highly toxic waste shall be sent to the UM toxic waste dump and toxic manufacturing area near Punta Eugenia (Vizcaino bay).

4/ The area of Baja California around Vizcaino shall be reserved for dirty industry, prisons, and the most toxic waste dump in North America. This area shall have no road access, and all the supplies shall be sent via the rails.

5/ For Mexico, the main airport, the main hub for the freight railroad system, and the high-speed passenger rail system shall be at Azteca, near Palomares and Carrasquedo. This is right at the intersection of the Mexico railway X also called El Eje or Azteca. Mexico shall abandon its existing Mexico City lake bed location and move instead to the new Azteca or Panorama region around Palomares. Mexico City is no place for a mega city due to Popocatepetl volcano, being in an earthquake area, liquefaction from the mostly dry lake bed, and air inversions that give this location some of the worst smog in the world.

6/ Mexico's 2nd airport and rail/air transport hub will go about 30km north of Monterrey. But Mexico's capital shall be moved to the area around the Palomares saddle, with 4 rail lines heading down each coastline, and one heading up to the central north highlands and one heading down to highlands to the south and Chiapas and Guatemala. This is also notably where the PanAmerican railway runs and where at least one Mexican virtual canal is located.

7/ Both Mexas and the The main Azteca junction area of Mexico, and all the UM cities and all the foreign worker zones in the US shall be thought of as an ejido or public usufruct zone, where the land is owned by the public and rented to users under leases not exceeding 25 years.

8/ The Azteca zone is an ideal place for:

- a/ The main Mexico airport
- b/ The main hub for Mexico's rail and other transit.
- c/ The main center for Mexico's healthcare system.
- d/ A good focus for Mexico's long-term and elder care system.
- e/ A good location to locate a US for-profit veteran's hospital.
- f/ A good place for a number of high rent hotel sites.
- g/ A good headquarters for no-visitors warehouses and the national distribution system.
- h/ The Azteca interchange area shall not have any other urban uses, so that the center of Mexico does not become silted-up like Mexico city did.

9/ The money from the oil extraction fees shall be (as is typical for all nations) divided up among all Mexican citizens then in Mexico that are over age 18 and do not have a criminal conviction. Mexico shall continue to possess all mineral rights in Baja California, except in the Ensenada strip to Ensenada.

10/ To encourage US citizens to travel in Mexico, Mexico shall:

- a/ Have triple penalties for crimes against tourists.
- b/ Honor most US firearm carry permits for US citizens visiting Mexico. However, the opposite shall not be true and the US shall not honor Mexican carry permits.
- c/ In all matters where US citizens are either accused of a crime, or a victim, and the US Senate requests jurisdiction, Mexico will transfer the case.

d/ Require everyone in certain tourist areas to carry a trackable phone at all times.

e/ It is thought that Jamaica, Guatemala, Honduras, and El Salvador, at least will do the same thing.

11/ It is quite insane that the wastewater systems for Puebla, Ciudad de Mexico, Morelia do not run into the ocean, where the waste can diffuse. Therefore, in all parts of Mexico (especially the driest parts) the government must pump all the waster water it receives free of charge to where it will be either used or pumped into the ocean.

12/ Lake Texcoco, (under Mexico City) is exactly the sort of stable underground aquifer that will help mankind to survive at the dawn of the next ice age, in case the rains stop coming due to all the sun-shading ash in the sky. It shall be considered a matter of national security to get the earthquake dangerous Mexico City area depopulated and moved to Mexico's new national capital, located at the X, El Eje, or the focal point of Mexico's internal transport lines at Azteca. Also, it should be noted that this location will place Oaxaca and Chiapas, not at the far end of Mexico, far from the valuable action at the US border. Instead, they will be at the new mecca of Mexico, the second pole for Mexico. From this southern intersection of Mexico's 4 main coastal rail lines will go an additional line, down the Chiapas valley as far as Baja Verapaz in Guatemala. There shall also be a line that snakes up past Oaxaca de Juarez, and past Puebla, Mexico City, Morelia. And these cities will also be able to join the coastal lines at various points. Much of the new Mexican capital will go in the flattish highlands to the southeast of Oaxaca and likewise with the flattish Chiapas Valley and nearby highlands (at 700m to 1500m). There will be many interchanges off the 6 main lines in the center of Mexico. Also, there will be a non-residential city around the interchange (at ~300m+).

13/ The Arizona line shall run from Sonoyta on the border to the US naval shipyards at La Pinta/ Sahuaro, Hermosillo, Navojoa, Guasave, Mazatlan, Ruiz. Then the line splits with one line heading to many points via Guadalajara and the other line heading down to Azteca via: 10km southeast of Tomatlan, Tecoman, Lazaro Cadenas, Acapulco, 30km south of Ometepe, Puerto Escondito, Azteca.

14/ The Oaxaca lines shall run from Azteca to Oaxaca via 4 routes. From Oaxaca some cars/trains will continue on to other places.

15/ There shall be two coastal routes on the each side of the coast of Central America. This is intended in a backup route in case one coast of Central America suffers a tsunami.

16/ There shall be a rail line (A paired 7m line as always herein) from El Paso/Ciudad Juarez to: 30km northeast of Chihuahua, Jimenez, Torreon, Saltillo, Monterrey and back to Mexas near Reynosa.

17/ There shall be a sort of New Guadalajara about 50km west of old Guadalajara, centered on La Vega, with many trains using the many valleys nearby. This peninsular area, close to Puerto Vallarta and Arizona is too mountainous to be useful for agriculture. So we will use it for higher-end townships, with New Guadalajara as a focal point for regional transport and logistics. In fact, this area will probably be the most popular for vacations and 2nd homes from US people.

18/ The name Monterrey, or King•mountain shall be changed to Monterra, because we can't have places named king after all. Also, the Jaumave, Aramberri, Rayones, and Las Tinajas, valleys (along with many other locations on Mexico's ample coastlines shall have power and water reservoirs. The lake near Santa Maria Tecomavaca near the other Rio Grande. The valley between Oaxaca and Tehuacan. This should be at least an hydro-electric reservoir.

19/ In Southern California, the desert climate is wetter and nicer and greener right by the coast. The Same hold's true for the edge of Mexico's highlands. These have the same temperature as Mexico City and the rest of the highland plateau, but there is more rain, and lovely views. So all of the edge of the Mexican plateau shall be designed for townships of various sorts. And because some people want it warmer, we can have some townships at lower elevations. But this is where Mexico will mostly settle when it builds its new township based cities, where Mexico has a very valuable Hawaii-like climate that is lush. And it is so close to the US, and on the way to South America, which will now become much safer due to changes in the prison system.

20/ We shall draw a line from the northwest corner of Honduras to Ciudad del Carmen Mexico. All portions of Mexico, Guatemala, and Belize that are east of this line and north of the Guatemalan border, near highway 307 shall become the new UM settlement nation of Yucatan.

21/ As Yucatan is mostly a tsunami vulnerable land, all the highland areas shall be used for townships where practical. The deathtrap coastal cities of Cancun, Playa del Carmen, San Miguel de Cozumel, Belize City, Ciudad del Carmen, Chetumal and Merida shall all eventually be relocated.

22/ The Mexico/Mexas metal refining areas on the peninsula south of Puerto Vallarta. Most of North America's low quality steel will be made here. America's good steel will come from places like Pennsylvania and Ohio, along with the stainless. Also, America's copper minerals will probably be smelted in Sonora and Chihuahua as well. Much of US aluminum smelting will occur mostly around the Ilwaco/Cape Disappointment area in southwest Washington state, near the outfall of the Colombia river.

23/ Mexico's main Atlantic-side port shall be located at Boca Iglesia. Mexico's main port to the Pacific shall be in the gulf of Tehuantepec (renamed as Puerto Hidalgo). This Laguna is right on the doorstep of Azteca. There shall be a virtual canal for containers between these ports. This route charges a subsidized rate of built cost for transport of containers here. Much of the North American sea trade between the West coast and Atlantic side of North America goes through this place, via the Azteca virtual canal. Azteca is about 1600km north of Panama Canal, so we imagine perhaps 3200km is saved for some sea freight routes if they use the Azteca virtual canal.

24/ There shall be one railroad on each side of the US Mexico border between El Paso and Matamoros and between Newfield, Arizona, and Mexicali. Each of these shall tie into the national system for their nation.

25/ Sonora shall be split into two water regions. One is Hermosillo, and the other one is New Sonora. Hermosillo shall be based around the Rio San Miguel and the Rio Sonora, new Sonora is based on the Rio Yaqui watershed.

26/ There shall be more dams on the Rio Yaqui so that none of the water from the winter storms make it into the ocean and all of it gets saved for the summer, even for the sort of big rains that only occur for 1-year in three. There shall be new dams at the narrow valleys, both above and below Los Amoles/ El Comedero.

27/ Once Ciudad Obregon is evacuated due to the tsunami hazard, Alvaro Obregon dam should be raised/ enlarged up to perhaps 20m or more with an earthen dam. Also, because nobody is living in the valley we can have wide earthen dams in the upper valleys around Onavas, movas, and Rio Chico. Indeed the upper rio Chico has its own little highland of water storage if a dam is built at 300 m up. Similarly the area on the Rio Sahuaripa about 10 km north west of Sahuaripa allows for another dam, and high water storage at around 350 meters elevation. Another high dam is possible about 30 km north east of San Pedro de la Cueva. Mexico shall create a large green oasis in the Obregon Valley area, This water will be used in the surrounding river bed, and also around the Alvaro dam to make that green. All of the water will be mostly kept as groundwater.

28/ About 45 km west Ojinaga, on the Rio Grande, there is potential for another dam and a city called Coyame. Another damn near the Rio Grande is possible near Monclova. Another damn as possible on the Pecos river near the northwest corner of Val Verde County Texas. These are for seasonal water impounding, of winter rains. Also, many of the narrow parts of the Rio Grande around a big bend, should have dams, so that we can impound more seasonal water. None of the Rio Grande's water should go past Nuevo Laredo.

29/ It shall be thought that Mexico is worth more fronting on the Gulf of America, than it is fronting of the Gulf of Mexico.

30/ The entire northeast of Mexico, north of Puebla will become a huge residential boom area in addition to a manufacturing boom area. In fact, the entire East coast of Mexas/ Azteca corridor will be a boom area. And there will also be another boom area around Azteca. Many people from the far reaches will use the BYO vinyl-covered sleeping couchette cars, like Europe has done for decades, when they go to work. Others will get private micro-compartments. So many people will commute by ultra-rail to Mexas from as far away as Sonora or Costa Rica, Also, tens of millions of people will now settle in Mexico for work.

31/ People frequently remark about how nice the climate is in Hawaii. But the central Mexico highland bluff climate is quite similar to Hawaii, and similarly year-round, but much closer to the lower 48 area of the US. Thus there will be many higher-end lifestyle townships in the lovely lush highland edges of Mexico. Also, many people will come to Mexico, and work in Mexas.

32/ The upper Tijuana river shall be dammed up at Valle Verde to make a seasonal water impounding resource that is perhaps mostly underground. The lower Tijuana valley sewage and all the ocean dumped sewage will be pumped down south to south of Puerto Canoas

33/ The Thomas Jefferson industrial park is the ideal location for the Tijuana rail interchange, due to topography. Other interchanges naturally go astride the two valleys here near Cíobolas Del Mar, Ensenada airport, El Zacaton, Bonfill, Camalu, Lazaro Cardenas, and El Rosario. There should be another train route from Ensenada to Tecate that generally follows route 3.

34/ Regarding the belt of volcanoes that runs from southern Guatemala through El Salvador, Honduras Nicaragua, Costa Rica, down to the volcano in the far north of Panama. This land, and maybe 100 km in any direction shall see all the large communities relocated, leaving only remote farmers behind. This is due to the combination of hazards from volcanoes, earthquakes and tsunamis. All these urban people shall be moved as ethnic mix to various parts of the world accepting immigration by ethnic mix.

35/ We imagine the Azteca train stations as having a continuous ring line with separate inbound and outbound stations for the 6 main rail lines radiating from Azteca. So there are 12 stations that go side-by-side with the ring line.

36/ A large part of the new Mexico will be in the highlands, high places like Mexico City and Guadalajara that have and ideal climate. But not in any smog trapping area like both of these cities, with their famous smog. The new towns will go near the Pacific slope, where it is still cool due to the elevation, but because of the coastal slope, there is more rain and a constant onshore wind, clean air from the ocean. So the new Mexico goes in the 200m to 2500m elevation zone of the Pacific slope of Mexico, this Mexico-long zone is long and thin like the Pan-American rail line.

37/ Mexico shall be redivided into a curving spine line from Azteca to El Paso down the middle of Mexico. Then we have maybe 15 states on the west and 12 states on the east that are stacked up like crooked layers or ribs. The states on the East will focus more on Pan-American trade and industry, the states on the west will focus more on communities and housing and tourism, like a Mexican riviera.

38/ In Mexico, all of the east-west domestic freight lines will all mostly interchange off the main Pan-American line. The domestic passenger lines north of Azteca will mostly interchange off the main center-north rail line. zebra

39/ Mexico shall have 14 regional voting centers, which shall be located near (and not within) the following areas unless the Mexican Senate wishes to adjust these locations for greater convenience: Tuxtla, Azteca, Oaxaca, Puebla, Venta Vieja, Toluca, Queretaro, Guadalajara, Ciudad Valles, Torreón, Culiacan, Hermosillo, Chihuahua, Monterrey.

UR'86. CUBA, HISPANOLA & JAMAICA

1/ Cuba shall be US territory with US rule of law for the people who live and visit these places. Entry shall require a US visa, and visitors shall acquire no rights to enter or remain in the US. The US shall relocate everyone in the Les Qayes area for a fair payment for their property. Then the US shall install a loop rail system, and township spur lines, and then lease out township sites, and partial township sites.

2/ For Cuba, Hispanola, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica as well as all the continental shoreline around the Caribbean, only the Mountains/hills over 200m shall be thought suitable for communities, while still exposed to great earthquake risk.

3/ The US shall buy out the Cuban people from their land.

After the US takes control of Cuba, it shall build one main international airport near the curiously named Moron town. This new hub airport located right at the main rail interchange in the middle of the Island's high-speed pan-island rail line will be the main way people travel to and from their destinations in Cuba. The part of Cuba on the west of the airport, "West Cuba" will only allow our citizens, immigrants and people with a US visa to enter the US enter. The part of Cuba east of the new Airport, "East Cuba" will be much easier to visit like the big Kahuna island in Hawaii, Baja in Mexas, and Nova Scotia.

4/ A rail line shall connect the PanAmerican rail line with Cancun and the Boca Iglesia port on Yucatan. The US shall develop these ports, as well as ports in the swamp at the Western tip of Cuba, some 20 km west of Julian Cuba. There shall also be boats to Key West. From Guantanamo port, there shall be market priced boats to Montego Bay in Jamaica. From Bahia de Mata ("Killer Bay") Cuba there shall be boats to Mole Saint-Nicolas on the Island of Hispaniola. There shall also be passenger boat service from Boca Iglesia, to Puerto Cubano, to Havana harbor, to Florida Bay (just before Lower Matecumbe Key). The naval air station on Geiger Key, shall be closed down and the land leased for up to 25-years, with concurrently expiring lease terms. The Florida Keys shall have regular ferry service to Mariel port (west of Havana). There shall also be regular ferry service from Cancun port to the port at the west end of Cuba. The Keys outside of Marathon Key shall now be open to foreign visitors that lack a US entry visa, like the big island of Hawaii, the Island of Cuba, Mexas, Niagara and the Nova Scotia peninsula. All these places will be open to US non-visa holders. Everyone crossing Marathon Key in either direction must have a passport. Many people will go overland from the US east coast to South America via Florida, Cuba, and then in various directions. The US merchant marine shall provide transport containers between Cuba and Key West for 2-day's US wages per 20 ft standard container. Mexico shall provide shipping for similar goods from Cancun to Western Cuba for a bit less. Transport of vehicles should be much more expensive. Vehicle charges shall be enough to assure that only vehicles destined to remain on the Caribbean islands are brought to these islands.

5/ Most of Cuba and the Florida Keys shall be in their own Mexas-style zone where foreign workers will be permitted in some areas. Also foreign property life estates and long lease buyers also be permitted, just like on the big island of Kahuna in Hawaii. The part of Cuba west of Havana shall be treated like the US with regard to visas and entry. However, there shall be immigration and customs to get into the main part of the US.

6/ It must be noted that Cuba is actually the real puerto rico (port rich) Caribbean island, with over 40 potential natural ports (depending on the definition of a port). Also, the old confusingly similar names of Puerto Rico and Cuba given by "Christopher Columbus" were: San Juan and Isla Juana respectively. Also, the logs of Columbus should also be regarded as both heavily redacted and mostly replaced with useless garbage information like Marco Polo and Homer. The versions of both documents should be regarded as almost entirely bowdlerized, except perhaps where Columbus landed, and that he took 4 voyages, and other inconsequential things that were particularly hard to alter. We must also note that Columbus' last voyage was in 1504 and then 15 years later, we see Cortez make a bee line from Spain and Santiago de Cuba to Mexico City. Then a year later, we see the great pandemic, or a throw-everything-at-them, pan-epidemic of 1520 when Ishtar's invisible hand came for the descendants of the Arabs that fled to central Mexico in the 1300s. Ishtar had already fully infiltrated the Aztec culture, and degraded it to the point where the Arab-fronting leadership was regularly culling the smartest and most stand-up people and eating them. This permitted a total acmecide, but it failed to reduce the population. Then Cortez was sent to bring universal, international Christianity (Roman church international the synonym name of the Roman Catholic Church, which has historically always fronted for the Mideast.) This was so Mexico would pay taxes called tithes, and obey the Mideast in many ways that would continue the subjugation and economic exploitation of the land. The front-man Cortez achieved this objective by introducing either small pox or plague or both, and probably other diseases. Then when the plague ravaged, Cortez' men (all plague survivors, immune to the diseases) men went around and smothered everyone who did not have a cross on their door, as the Mexican legend goes. Also, we note that it was a year after Cortez arrived, that the pan-demic or plan-demic arrived in Mexico. So we image a great many shiploads of Arab soldiers arriving and not the absurd 550 number we read about today, a number that minimizes the holocaust, where the whole, where everyone, or nearly everyone was murdered to the man by the men of Islam and Ishtar. These boatloads of infidel-hating Arabs would go around and cry out that they had food and water for the sick. Then when they go let in, they would quietly suffocate everyone in the household while they were ill from smallpox and/or black death. Behold yet another genocide by horrible Islam and Ishtar. Behold the unbridled treachery. And look at the way they blame the Spanish for their own barbarism. And again, behold: look at the priority that Ishtar gives to its descendants that don't go along. And note how their own disloyal people get priority genocide, as has happened so many times in the past.

7/ La Boca shall be for cargo shipping, Cuba Bay (and other bays) shall be for pleasure craft, Honda bay is for military vessels, and Havana bay shall be for passenger ships. On top of these ports, Cuba (the real Puerto Rico island) will have perhaps a dozen other ports for various sorts of boats. Cuba with all its ports and cheap labor, will rightly become a private boating capitol of the world, with multiple hillside locations like at Matanzas (which will be dredged in two areas), as well as Bolivia Rock, Puerto Cristal, and outer Guantanamo.

8/ In Cuba, there shall be a dam west of Bernardo, and perhaps one below this for both energy and water storage. Most of the high tsunami lakes of eastern Cuba seem to have oil fields in them. The Mayari Arriba lake area at around 170m elevation seems ripe for a power storage lake if a manmade lake here will not ruin the oil reserves. Also west of the El Manzano junction with the Jara hueca river is good place for a dam. Another dam is perhaps possible near Arroyo Seco.

9/ Cayo Coco, and Cayo Romano share a small airport and are connected to the rest of Cuba by a causeway. These super isolated sand bar islands might have a super relaxed visa entry area for vacationers. There shall be adequately designed tsunami bells for everyone at the sand bar resorts. Ultimately all of these sand islands will be used for oil extraction.

10/ The unused Cuban bays shall be used for various forms of fish farming or oil extraction.

11/ The US shall have radar bases on Cuba to prevent all unauthorized boats and aircraft from entering the Gulf of Mexico. The US and Mexico shall now close off the Gulf of the Americas to non-approved ships. Also, the US navy and coastguard patrol the entire gulf of Mexico and Caribbean.

12/ Near Punta de Maisi Airport on the eastern tip of Cuba, there is what appears to be a 20 Km long tsunami waters cut. This appears indicate a direction of tsunami flow movement for Cuba. Thus we imagine tsunami water flowing down the shore of Cuba and into the Port-au-Prince tsunami funnel. Thereupon, the water flows over a high rock formation near Jimani where it accelerates. This seems to have created Lago Enriquillo, which is 43m below sea level. So Port-au-Prince is a deathtrap city in a tsunami funnel (similar to Koh Phi Phi) that must be evacuated.

13/ Cuba is so rich in ports due to tsunami action.

14/ Dry Cuba and Northwest Hispaniola shall be thought ideal places for cymology seashell studies regarding the dates of past tsunamis affecting the gulf of Mexico.

15/ Cuba shall have a VA hospital co-staffed with Cubans. Cuba shall also be a Mexas-easy visa area, so foreign construction and operations workers will be easy to bring in.

16/ Now the new tropical vacation part of the US shall be in the highlands of Cuba and the Les Qayes peninsula of Hispanola (Under French rule of law, French financial system, French financing of properties, and French police.)

17/ The old tsunami death trap city of Havana and all the other low-lying Cuban communities shall be bulldozed and all the new communities shall be on high ground. However, there will still be retail, restaurants and other day activities at the beaches.

18/ Oil rich Cuba, Hispaniola, and Venezuela were all sabotaged, ruined and degraded by Arab/OPEC oil interests because they are competitors. Cuba and Hispaniola have immense oil deposits along their north shores especially. This is due to the combination of warm waters, lots of CO2 leakage from a particularly close subduction rift that is right off shore, and a relatively dry place where rain does not wash the salt out of the kelp deposited by tsunamis and hurricanes.

19/ All of the people living on Caribbean islands, who are not working in either agriculture, mineral extraction, tourism, or some other location specific industry; all of these shall be relocated to Andeo. Once Cuba has been 2/3 depopulated, all of its oil reserves shall belong to all people of the UM in their fair share, and as administered by the US.

20/ The big earthquakes on Cuba are all jumping north. So the south slope of Cuba will not work with slip foundations. Also, all of Cuba's low-lying tsunami vulnerable cities shall be replaced with new hill communities.

21/ There will be many investor groups, and community groups that will place township after township of vacation units in the winter paradise of Cuba. Many of these will act as master tenants for nightly, monthly, and yearly rentals — also

5-year, 10-year, and 25-year leases. As with everywhere else in the world, if the developers put in a proper rail connection, then they have the right to build up to 2, 3, 4, 5 townships if the time frames are makable for a 12-minute cycle of the train system. And there is no cost to creating more township places on paper.

22/ In the Dominican Republic, the Refugio de Vida Silvestre Lagunas d Bavaro y El Caletón shall be a port for Sea shipments with Europe and Africa, and for all of South America east of Caracas. The port for Les Quayes shall be at Vieux Bourq de Jeremie.

23/ Hispanola will remained populated by its own people, with most eventually moving to other parts of Latin America. Gonave island, Tortoise island, and the double-walled Samana peninsula of the Dominican Republic shall be resort areas with secured entry and frequent crime-security ID checks for locals. Gonave island speaks French and English. Tortuga island speaks Portuguese and English. The Samana peninsula speaks Spanish. There will be Senate resorts in all three locations. The Jaragua peninsula area should be a high security part of the DR for people to buy homes on Hispanola and only invited tourists are allowed. All the new townships shall go in the highlands in and around the Caribbean.

24/ There shall be a new hub airport on the island of Hispaniola. This shall go near Comendador on the border of Haiti and the Dominican Republic. The passenger airport on Hispaniola shall be run by the Haitians. The adjacent air freight center shall be run by the DR people. The runways are shared. Both nations shall have fair and equal access and treatment of tourists and cargo and foreign workers, enforced by the UM. All flights via Hispaniola, JFK Cuba, and Eleje Mexico must allow unlimited stop-overs in either or both directions for free. On Hispanola, travelers can visit either or both nations along their way. This will be mostly a hub for travel between South America and eastern North America, however it can also connect the southern US, Mexico and Central America with Africa, south Europe and even the Mideast.

25/ The Les Qayes peninsula as typical, shall have a double wall and no-man's-land. And everyone must carry a tracker phone in the secure area whether they are Haitian or from another nation..

26/ There shall also be a rail line around the Sierra de Bahoruca, and another loop around the Sierra de Nieba and through the mid-elevation valley and back towards Port Au Prince and the Les Qayes lines. The Les Qayes peninsula shall be operated as French territory with easy access for foreigners and much higher police (mostly local police) presence than in France, and Big Brother style video and tracking surveillance. There will be both tourists and expat residents on the Les Qayes peninsula, and many assisted living facilities. There will also be some first-rate medical care in Les Qayes. At the end near Jacmel and the western edge of Port-au-Prince there shall be a zone for Haitians to staff the companies owned or managed by the people living on the Les Qayes peninsula. This area shall have controlled entry and location tracking of all workers like in the Les Qayes peninsula. The Grand Goave/Bainet portion of the peninsula shall be mostly for people working in the adjacent business zone. Then from Miragoane to Aquin there shall be a Spanish language zone. Then from Aquin to Port-a-Piment shall be for international English tourism. The Department de la Grande Anse shall be for long-term residents of all languages.

27/ Hispaniola shall be renamed as Atlantis Island, due to the Port-au-Prince tsunami funnel. Hispanola shall now be a new name for the Latin America. Les Qayes shall aim to be a premier resort for African people, being at the natural hub between the Americas and Africa.

28/ As normal herein, the trains shall run around the existing communities even where a right of way is given, or a spur line situation exists. Also, where practical. Existing communities shall access the new rail system via raised viaduct.

29/ The #1 most important thing that all islands must monitor and control is the cost of shipping to the island. If they don't monitor this constantly and carefully, they will eventually all be sucked dry by a shipping mafia managing their trade with the outside world. If you don't monitor this, the false anarchy will make your shipping as expensive as it is in Hawaii and Alaska, and you will all be paying twice as much for everything. And even if you do this, you must still always be looking for the Mafia's new disguise. Also, if you are looking for corruption on an island, start looking at shipping, because surely the corruption has its roots here.

30/ The plan for all the heavily populated earthquake-prone, tsunami-prone, and volcanic Caribbean islands is move most of the people. This is just like what we are doing with Sumatra and Java and Taiwan and perhaps Japan and the other islands cursed with volcanos, earthquakes, tsunamis and of course being on a hard to reach and expensive island that is perhaps at the far end of the world. People will stay behind for mining, farming, fishing, harvesting the forests for various things including tree growth. There will also be tourism in these places not counted in these numbers. But the population of Hispaniola will be cut by at least 50%, and greatly overpopulated Java will probably be cut by over 90% and the population of Sumatra will be cut by over 50%, all excluding tourism by people with other places to go home to.

31/ In all nations where the annual number of intentional homicides is over 70 per million, there should be strict laws with heavy penalties for felonies. In all nations where the annual number of intentional homicides is over 200 per million, there are supposed to be super strict laws with super heavy penalties for felonies. Also, generally where the annual number of intentional homicides is over 200 per million, there shall be a 1-strikes rule for all violent felonies.

32/ The people of Latin America are advised to stop following imperial Catholicism because these are the same people attached to Cortez and his massacres of all the more Arab-looking and cannibalistic Aztecs. All over Latin America, you should turn your backs on the Pope, the supposed vicarious presence of Christ on earth, and his tithes as frontman for the Mideast. This is not Christianity. This is the Arab imperial version of Christianity called Catholicism, or international Christianity by the must-dominate-the-world people. The world really needs to get rid of its most imperialist religions. Imperial religions are not for we-the-people, instead they exist to help dominate we-the-people. Also, isn't the Catholic Church infested with loyal pedophiles frontmen, just like most governments around the world?

33/ Jamaica is a wonderful potential tourist destination that is totally ruined by only one thing: Crime. For this reason, all the criminals shall be aggressively exiled from Jamaica and sent to a can't leave island like Puerto Rico. The same shall happen in many parts of Latin America.

34/ Eastern Jamaica shall also have a safety and hospitality zone from Poor Man's corner to Heartease, to cocoa walk, to Ramble, To Mavis Bank, to Chestervale, Wakefield, and down highway B1 to the north coast. All the area to the east of this line shall be for Jamaica's tourism and foreign residents safety zone.

35/ All the train lines of east Jamaica have an interchange located above Chestervale. Here the lines for the Surrey peak line meet with the lowland loop line of the Surrey peninsula. This lowland loop runs at around 50 to 150m above sea level. There is also a north Catherine's ridge line attaching at the interchange, and a south Catherine's ridge line attaching at the interchange. Kingston attaches to both ends of the Surrey line, with a spur up the red hills ridge. There is another rail line that follows the A1 highway, but goes around lake Bogwalk. There is another rail line that follows highway T1 past Chapelton lake above, and past the southwest shore of lake Balaclava, and black river lake, and past Amity lake, and St. James lake, many of which are suitable for either water reserves, or rice terrace. The T1 railroad will end up interchanging with the shoreline train at Reading, a bit west of Montego Bay. Just north of Mount Stewart goes the main interchange of west Jamaica. The T1 line ends here and all parts to the west stop in this station. There is also a north shore line from Annotto bay to Montego bay. Most Jamaicans will move to the cool Christiana highland and the Mandeville highlands, and the lower Saint Ann highlands, and the Ewarton highlands, and some will move to the expensive and international and protected Surrey highlands.

36/ It should be pondered how Kingston and Spanish Town are located in a tsunami wash zone, just like Port-Au-Prince. To the south are the Hellshire hills. This name Hell's-ire is the perfect name for what we call Kingston and Spanish town today.

UR'87. ENGLAND, SCOTLAND AND IRELAND

1/ Ireland shall remain an independent nation. However, Northern Ireland shall no longer be part of the United Kingdom. It shall now be merged with the rest of the Irish Island and the whole island of Ireland shall now be the nation of Ireland. The Islands of Mann, Islay, and Arran shall remain British.

2/ The people of Northern Ireland shall be free to live in Ireland for as long as they want. They can keep all their property, and they shall be entitled to equal protection under the law, just like other Irish people.

3/ Everyone in Northern Ireland who remains in Ireland must accept Irish citizenship and taxation, and they shall owe their loyalty to Ireland. They shall also have full suffrage in Irish elections, but they shall not have the right to vote in British elections unless they move to Britain. In which case, they shall lose their right to vote in Irish elections until they come back to Ireland.

4/ There shall be no taxes payable when the people of Northern Ireland sell out and move to Britain.

5/ The English and EU navy shall have a naval base at Blacksod (near Belmullet in northwest Ireland). The whole peninsula shall be a military base.

6/ The Government of Ireland and Britain shall be entirely separate from all religions including the Catholic Church, and the church of England. Government shall not spend money in such a way that it ends up with any religion.

7/ The Irish and the British shall not discriminate against people because they are a different type of Christian. They shall however discriminate against Muslims, which shall now be prohibited. They may also discriminate against former Muslims that have renounced Islam.

8/ The English shall be an example for the world in regard to free trade. They shall allow Irish and Scottish trade to flow through their land and through their Chunnel at built cost, as all nations are supposed to do under similar circumstances.

9/ Islay island shall be used for Exhod camps for all of England, Scotland and Ireland. Barra and Uist islands may also be used. The uninvited immigrants and asylum seekers to these nations shall be housed on one of the three north Shetland Islands until admitted or released. These three northern Shetlands islands (Unst, Yell and Feltar) shall be used as prison islands.

10/ The Campbeltown peninsula, Anglesey island, and Teach Mor shall be a double-walled (8m tilt-up) foreign worker zones.

11/ Weddell island in the Falklands, and Ascension Island shall be ceded to the US and UM for the purposes of sea and air bases. West Falkland Island shall be ceded to the nations of South America for use as a maximum security prison island.

12/ Britain shall build three proper 7m gauge rail lines to the underpopulated areas of northern Scotland. The west line shall run to the Fort William area, the central line to Dingwall, and the east line shall loop from Bankfoot (Perth) to Dyce, Huntly and reconnection with the central line at Inverness. Another line shall run down the Loch Ness valley connecting Fort William with Dingwall.

13/ Upon Mustering a broad democracy, Scotland shall be entirely independent from England if it elects with a 55% overmajority to be independent. However, Scotland must take in up to 10 million people in the under-populated areas northwest of Glasgow, Dundee and Aberdeen. Here preference shall be given to ancestral Britons, Icelanders, Danes, Dutch, Poles, Latvians, Lithuanians, Estonians and Japanese. These same people shall also have priority in Thorland, aka New Denmark (southern Norway today).

14/ Whether the tsunamis come from Iceland and are funneled by the Galloway funnel, or they come from the south Atlantic and are funneled by the Dover funnel. In any case, they get funneled. And like everywhere else, all the tsunami vulnerable cities must be relocated.

15/ Scotland's capitol shall be in the Scotts Valley area, and divided into 4-regions, Perth, Glasgow, Stirling and Edinburgh. These highland communities shall be connected by a network of mostly lowland trains. There should also be more communities at the edges of the Scots Valley. The area around the Aberdeen peninsula should have a few new cities too.

16/ As Switzerland will now be deleted, its flag shall be repurposed as a Red Cross flag symbolizing medical help. The St. Georges Red Cross flag shall now be the flag of England once again. The Red X flag shall be the flag of Ireland once again. Scotland shall also have its traditional flag.

17/ Falmouth should be the main port on the island of Britain. Dingle Bay/Kerry should be the main port for the island of Ireland

18/ It cries of Muslim corruption that former British India is 3:1 Hindu to Muslim, while in the UK, Muslims from Pakistan and Bangladesh outnumber India-Indians by 2:1. So we have a 6:1 over-representation of Muslims to Hindus in the UK. And this is not counting the many Muslims from India, and Muslims pretending to be Indian Hindus, while there are almost no Hindus pretending to be Muslims. So perhaps the over representation is 8:1 or 10:1 in the UK. • • • This is something obviously not caused by the natives of Britain, or Hindu Indians, but by Muslim corruption. Besides, it was never the intent of the British to let in so many Muslims in due to reasonable fears that they would take over as they have done in countless places in the past — and as they appear to be doing in the UK at the current time. Therefore the UK shall use the Hindu/Muslim proportion of the Indian Sub-continent as a benchmark, and it shall lower its Pakistani and Bengali Muslim population by at least 5/6ths through expulsions and deportations. Also, at least 90% of the African Muslims shall be expelled/ deported, and the only ones that can remain shall be required to cleave from Islam and also pass a 14th grade test in English.

19/ England shall be considered overpopulated given its population density of 434 people per kilometer. As a point of comparison, this is greater than a number of former British colonies like: Pakistan 302, India 430, Nigeria 242, Egypt 110, Sudan 25, Kenya 97, Uganda 243, Gambia 233, Sierra Leone 122, Zambia 28 Botswana 5, Ghana 150, Malawi 221, and Malaysia 103. Therefore the UK should feel no guilt about sending its former colonial immigrants back. Also, these people (after their education in the ways of the developed UK) should be thought rather needed back home where they came from. They shall be thought to need to go back for knowledge exchange purposes, to help develop their homeland. So the UK natives should feel no guilt about mass deportations.

20/ All the nations of Europe being historically Christian, these nations shall favor immigrants that are from predominantly Christian nations that are born to Christian parents. They shall also favor atheists and people with no strong religious beliefs, because these people will never cause religious strife and will generally fight against religious strife. They shall not allow immigration by Muslims and especially those Muslims with strong religious beliefs as Muslims have historically sought to genocide and subjugate the people of the outside world. Also, Europe and America and most other UM member nations shall seek to undermine the ability of practicing Muslims to migrate to other places and continue to give life to Ishtar and Islam.

21/ The native citizens of somewhat overpopulated England with 434 people/km currently, shall therefore be allowed to send back at least 5/6ths of Muslim Pakistanis if they elect. Or they may send back less. However this should be done slowly, and with all of the following groups going first:

a/ Those with criminal records of any sort.

b/ Those who are religious fundamentalists, or protesters in support of an Islamic terrorist group.

c/ Those who have collected more benefits than they have paid with taxes, and those with disabled children.

Here it should be noted that Pakistanis 2.7% of the population, but account for 30% of disabled kids.

d/ Those who have not graduated high school and those with children that are behind in their school abilities, and those with children and housemates that are in trouble with the law.

e/ Those who have married or had children with their second cousins or worse their first cousins — or even worse, their siblings, nieces, offspring, or ancestors. This is something that is regarded as incest and entirely not allowed by European cultures.

22/ When Muslims marry or have children with their cousins or worse their siblings, parents, nieces, or ancestors, it shall be thought to mean that the female never left the family property. That's what cousin marriage means. It also means that the females are generally completely uneducated, and totally subservient to all males, including their own toddler sons. This is a thing that no Western nation shall ever allow. Therefore, every immigrant worldwide that has married, or has had children with their first or second cousin or sibling, parent, aunt, niece, uncle, or ancestor shall be deported with no exceptions. Goodbye, get lost, get out. This sort of sex freak lifestyle shall no longer be allowed in any member nation. Here we note that Pakistanis in UK are 2.7% of population, but account for 30% of disabled kids. These shameful and mentally ill incest people shall be required to move back to Pakistan. And unless their children marry non-family members their children shall also not be allowed to migrate away from Pakistan or whatever incest-tolerant country they moved back to.

Also, the way Islam punishes the rape victim instead of the rapist, is related to the way they tend to marry their cousins.

23/ We shall discriminate against cultures that don't allow women to go outside, and cultures that give women greatly lower status and society, and cultures that marry off children, and cultures that are intolerant of other cultures. These cultures shall not be allowed to migrate to or visit our nation, and all of those that have previously migrated shall be required to leave.

24/ All immigrant families worldwide that have disabled children (or other people that have been getting government or private disability money) shall be required to go back. For surely these people are not citizens but immigrants free riding on their adoptive nation's dole system.

25/ Where immigrants have left their adoptive nation during the great reset (in its widest definition), or were simply outside their adoptive nation, their immigration status shall be cancelled.

26/ Where immigrants fail to do a shit in the Koran cleaving ceremony, including the required annual ceremony where they restate their hatred for Islam, their immigration status shall be cancelled and they shall be deported (if they haven't gone back before this point).

27/ Where parents get deported, their children shall be subject to deportation with them, even if they were born in the adoptive nation. The main test for deportation is whether they have blended into the native culture of the host nation more than they have remained a part of an immigrant community.

28/ Every immigrant and non-citizen in the UK, Ireland, the EU and the US that has ever lived in subsidized council housing or government subsidized housing shall be considered a welfare fraud and working for the wrong side. All shall be deported on that fact alone.

29/ The following shall be noted about immigration in the United Kingdom:

a/ As recently as 2001 white British people made up 90% of the population, now in less than 23 years, new Muslim immigrants are threatening to take over and impose the totally corrupt fake system of law called Sharia law which is totally despised by the native English people.

b/ The British people voted against mass immigration every chance they got but their Islam corrupted government did not heed to them. Britain voted against immigration in 2010, 2015, 2016 (Brexit), 2017 and 2019.

c/ If England were a nation by itself, and we excluded micro-nations and city-states, then it would be the 6th most densely populated nation in the world. It would then be behind only Bangladesh, Taiwan, Rwanda, South Korea, and Lebanon. Indeed, famously over populated Japan is one third more densely populated than England today. And of we use the entire UK, then the UK is the 15th most densely populated land on earth. Therefore it is clear that the UK and especially England are full of people and it should be exporting people, not importing more people.

30/ From now on, everyone arriving by boat and attempting to sneak into the nation without a visa shall be sent to a work camp for 5-years. If they arrive without either a passport or a visa, they shall be sent to a work camp for 8-years. Those who have previously entered the nation illegally shall get 5-years in a work camp.

31/ From now on:

a/ No Muslims or former Muslims shall be allowed to migrate to the UK.

b/ Nobody shall migrate to the UK and become a citizen unless they either have a 16th grade education as determined by the UK, or they are both married and have at least one child with a UK native born citizen.

c/ The UK shall be one of the most difficult nations in the world to migrate to.

d/ UK migration shall be prioritized based on the country of origin, with native born Europeans, Australians, New Zealanders, White South Africans, Canadians, and United States citizens getting treated in a completely different way than the rest of the world. Also, Albanians, Moldovans, Russians, Belarusians, Ukrainians, Gypsies, Romanians and Bulgarians shall not get favorable treatment as Europeans for this section.

32/ The best UK port to America and Cape Breton is undoubtedly Bristol. Nearby is the remote Southwest peninsula. The Exeter to Watchet valley shall have a double wall zone. The part of the Island west of the double wall shall allow foreign workers in industry, tourism and healthcare.

33/ White Britons and Hindu Britons shall be imprisoned separately from all other immigrants and visitors. In fact, separate prison locations shall be used for both groups, with the best prisons being reserved for the White Britons and Hindu Britons.

34/ Nobody wants violent criminal migrants. We Americans don't want them certainly. But the other migrants don't want them in the mix either. Therefore, all non-citizens convicted of murder, armed robbery, street rape (understood in its broadest sense), Arab-style rape, pimping, managing a brothel, sexual grooming of minors, or a high degree assault shall be executed.

35/ Cousin marriage and especially sibling marriages among Muslim people shall be seen as indications that the Islamic females involved was not allowed to leave their homes. So cousin marriage is an indication of the sort of Muslim person that no developed nation wants for its immigrants. And this practice is closely associated with ignorant mothers and men who are rapists, terrorists, pedophiles, criminals, and foreign mafias that are all working to ruin our proposition of freedom and equality under the law. So cousin marriage and especially sibling marriage shall be disqualified from immigration, and even visits to Europe and North America, and doubtless many other places. All of these people, if already here, must leave, or they shall be deported. Here below, we list the disgraceful nations with the highest rates of cousin marriages. Currently, the top 28 breed-with-your-cousin nations are: Pakistan, Sudan, Somalia, Mauritania, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Iraq, Jordan, UAE, Qatar, Niger, Mali, Libya, Iran, Afghanistan, Oman Kuwait, Bahrain, Egypt, Syria, Chad, Djibouti, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Bangladesh, Turkey, Lebanon, Palestine. From now on, all member nations shall test families of Muslim immigrants to see if they are cousins.

36/ Ireland has an extensive airport stopover zone at the airport. This has hotels and tech hub alongside, and no visa is required to enter this area. Also there are sealed trains to a stop between the easy to isolate Dingle peninsula (for foreign workers), and the Killarney peninsula which will be for tourism. But the airport will be located directly over the Irish ring railroad interchange near Claremorris.

UR'88. EUROPE BORDER ADJUSTMENTS

1/ The Hungarian majority portions of Slovakia, Serbia, southwest Ukraine and northwest Romania on the border with Hungary shall be ceded to Hungary. This however, shall not apply to the Hungarians living north of the Danube.

2/ The following portions of Transnistria shall be Ukraine:

a/ The areas north of the Zozulyany-Stanislavka line, and south of the Kamenka-Sokolovka line shall be Ukraine, except the areas around Podoymitsa, Podoyma, Yerzhovo, Bol, which shall remain Moldova.

b/ The following towns shall be Ukraine: Pobeda and Shevchenko, Kolosovo Karmanovo, Glinoye, Shipka, Vinogradnoye Chernitsa, Blizhniy Khutor, Tiraspol, and Dnestrovsk and the towns northeast of the Frunze to Peivomaysk line.

c/ Dnestrovsk shall be Ukraine.

d/ The UM Over-Senate shall rule on the final border location as a neutral judge and this shall be accepted by both Ukraine and Moldova, previously called Bess-arabia, or Beth Arabia, the house of Arabia.

3/ Bosnia-Herzegovina shall lose all of its territory except the 35-45 majority Bosnian counties that are roughly around Sarajevo.

4/ The ~10 counties in Bosnia on the border with Southern Croatia that are majority Croatian shall be ceded to Croatia. The ~6 counties of southern Bosnia that are majority Serb shall be ceded to Croatia.

5/ The majority Serb portions of Croatia on the border with Bosnia shall be ceded to Serbia, except that Croatian territory shall be no thinner than 30km around Sibenik.

6/ The Republica Srpska, except for majority Bosnian areas contiguous with the border of Bosnia shall be ceded to Serbia. Brcko district shall also be ceded to Serbia.

7/ All of Unasana and Canton-10 shall be ceded to Serbia except where the area is majority Croatian.

8/ All of the Bosnians and Bosniaks living in present day Serbia, Montenegro, Kosovo, Albania, Macedonia or Croatia shall be Exhoded unless they both cleave against Islam, and their host nation elects to allow them to live on. These Bosnians shall also be allowed to resettle to the single Bosnian area near Sarajevo, if they cleave from Islam.

9/ All of the Bosnians and Bosniaks living in the western provinces of Bosnia-Herzegovina shall be Exhoded unless Croatia elects to allow them.

These Bosnians shall also be allowed to resettle to the single Bosnian area near Sarajevo if they cleave against Islam.

10/ All of the Bosnians and Bosniaks remaining in Bosnia-Herzegovina must cleave from Islam or they shall be Exhoded.

11/ The Bosnians (Bros•nee'uns) are the invaders, and their purpose has for centuries been to help assure that the flow of Mideast emigrants could more easily get to Europe. This apparatus shall be dismantled so Europe can better gain control of its immigration process.

12/ Where we read about Bosnians in history, they are p•os•nee'uns = say quietly they are ours. They were ectomorphs and mesomorphs from all over Islam's empire the best becoming Western leaders like and front men and lawyers and professors and what not. Here we see how important it is has always been for the Ishtarrians to have land in Europe, for here is how all the ectomorph kids can be placed well on the approaches to power. However, it does not benefit the people of the West to have this European outpost of Islam.

13/ Every Bosnian or Muslim in a mixed marriage, or with a mixed child with one of the other Balkan races shall be exempt from being forced to move.

14/ Kosovo being 93% ethnic Albanian, and less than 2% Serbian, Serbia shall recognize Kosovo's independence and allow Kosovo to live in peace and without threat. The UM shall recognize Kosovo as an independent nation. However, the portions of north Kosovo that are majority Serbian shall be Serbia.

15/ The Albanian majority portions of southern Serbia and northwest Macedonia on the border with Albania shall be ceded to Albania.

16/ The Finnish territories of Karelia, Salia, and Petsamo, shall be returned from Russia to Finland. All the non-finish Russian people of these areas shall be returned to Russia like the Russians of Estonia.

17/ As is normal, no enclaves shall be created by the above border adjustments.

18/ The Albanian majority parts of Montenegro, Kosovo, Serbia, and Macedonia shall now be Albania. The Greek majority parts of Albania shall now be Greece if Greece wants these areas.

19/ Regarding the Pyrenees: If the water flows to France that place is France. If the water flows to Spain, then that place is Spain.

20/ Ceska with its small population and abundant highlands will probably see a great influx of people from other parts of Europe. So the mountains which are currently shared with Poland, shall now be given entirely to Poland (Because Poland has almost no safe highlands without doing this. Also, all the relocated residents shall get a premium of 30% on their land value if they ask to be condemned out of their property in favor of Poland.

UR'89. EUROPE

1/ Did the hoards that overran Rome come carrying weapons? Of course not. And we should never forget this.

2/ We shall keep the EU laws for a while, but fire all the corrupt Eurocrats. If we need a new European lawmaking body, we shall use Europe's voting block at the UM. At least these people will be elected in contrast to the corrupt Eurocrats of the corrupt EU. Also, these people will all be thrice elected, rather than appointees as the Eurocrats were. Where Africa emulates this approach, the non-African members of its voting block shall be required to sit out the vote.

3/ NATO shall not be regarded as government. The European Union shall be replaced with treaties rather than being a standing government body. All existing EU regulations expire in 180 days unless renewed by Europe's UM voting block.

4/ The travel and work rights of the European common area shall only apply to the native citizens of member nations. No immigrants shall have any automatic right to travel or work in other European countries because they have entered one of the member nations.

5/ Europe shall have a border zone west of Istanbul, on the western side of the Hellen's-pontus at the Durugol/ Buyukcekmece line. All parts of Turkey in Thrace and west of this line shall be ceded to Greece. The residents of this zone may enter this zone, but they may not enter the other portions of Greece or the rest of the EU unless they get a visa or permission like any other Turkish person.

6/ Except for Ceuta/Algeciras and Gallipoli, There shall be no more right of foreigners to enter Europe or North America for the first time via overland or seaborne means. Instead, all first time visitors must fly in, (or take a boat or bus to one of the two border checkpoints), with a 100% refundable bond for a return ticket. All the other crossing points may later be used later by the European visitor/immigrant once they are approved once for entry.

7/ All Turkish property rights on the Greek Bridge, the Hellen's-pontus west of the Bros·porous shall expire on 2055.01.01. Then nobody shall remain living in this strategic area that is also a dangerous earthquake/tsunami zone. These rights may be sold or rented until that time, however they may only be sold to people allowed into the EU. After this time, all of the private buildings shall be razed to the ground and all of old Byzantium excavated by a Turkish college of archeology committed to drill surveying their entire nation and excavating everything they find. Except for these excavation areas, some limited farming, and the European border military base, and the rail connection between Europe and Asia, there shall be no other people living in this no-mans land security zone.

8/ All passengers and cargo arriving to continental Europe from the Mediterranean or Atlantic islands shall be required to cross immigration and customs control as if they were arriving from a foreign nation. This shall include all European islands in the Mediterranean, such as Balearics, Corsica, Sardinia, Sicily, Crete, etc. This shall also include arrivals from the UK and the island-able foreign worker areas on peninsulas explained elsewhere. A special trade agreement shall exist for these islands whether or not they are independent nations. Under this agreement, these islands shall be free to import goods from the world outside Europe without paying taxes or duties to either their parent nation or to any European union. However, when when these islands send their good to mainland Europe, these goods shall be subject to taxation just like if they were being imported from a foreign nation. Also, when goods are exported from Europe to the Island, they shall not be eligible for a VAT refund. Also, all of the island people of the former EU shall be allowed Europe-wide free travel rights under the new system. Also, while all of the citizens of these islands shall be free to travel to all parts of Europe as a member of the former Schengen area, foreigners and visitors to these island shall be considered as outside of the Schengen area, and each island shall have its own visa protocols.

9/ Europe shall have a double wall internal border zone at Corinth Greece, the base of the toe of Italy, and the base of the heel of Italy. Italy should have an additional internal border at the SS650 highway crossing the southern Italian Peninsula east to west. These double 10m tilt up concrete wall areas shall have relaxed rules for foreigners on the peninsula. There should also be similar internal borders and ID checks to:

- a/ Cross the Pyrenees and go between Spain and the rest of Europe.
- b/ Cross the Alps and go between Italy and the rest of Europe
- c/ Cross the English and Irish channels.
- d/ Cross the Baltic and go between Norway/ Sweden/ Finland and the rest.
- e/ To cross to the UK and Ireland.
- f/ At other places and times as are needed by the various nations of Europe.

10/ As a matter of development aid to its African neighbors, Europe shall provide bridge-ferry service for freight and passengers between Ceuta and Algeciras for only an anti-nuisance charge. Non-citizens arriving in Europe overland more than once per year must pay 3-day's Spanish wages each upon arrival to discourage commuting foreign workers. Also, Spain shall convert Ceuta to a deportation camp with a great many 100-person bunkbed dormitories that all share 1 same-sex multi stall bathroom and 4 kitchens. These shall be a single wall-mounted lower cabinets only 4m long apartment-style wall kitchen, not counting the apartment grade refrigerator. There are bunk beds and no other furniture. This is to drive the arrivals out Morocco quickly and make room for more deportees. In general, all deportees without a nation to send them back to may be sent to either Ceuta, Botswana, or the Solomon islands / New Caledonia. Where people arrive and do not have enough money to go onward, Morocco shall give them an opportunity to work for a fair EU regulated Moroccan wage and earn money for their onward travel. But until the deportees either can get money sent for a ticket, or they sign up to work in a Moroccan factory, these deportees shall remain in the Ceuta security zone sleeping in a bunk bed dormitory, eating brown rice with a bit too much salt, and no sugar at all. No coffee or tea, just water. Having a deportation camp in Ceuta shall be regarded as the perfect excuse for Spain to have an air tight southern sea border. It shall also be thought an excellent place for Europe to deport illegals to, when their nationality cannot be established. Ceuta shall not be given back to the Moroccans. Instead, it shall become a high-security shoot-to-kill Spanish double wall military base and a drop off point for deportees coming from Europe. Also, Morocco shall eagerly accept all deportees in exchange for Europe paying for subsidized trade across the straights of Gibraltar.

11/ There shall generally be more relaxed rules for foreign workers on the various Mediterranean islands and isolated peninsulas. Therefore, the Balearic islands, Corsica, Sardinia, Sicily, Crete, and all the Greek Islands that have more than 60km of water separating them from the mainland, and all islanded/walled-off peninsular locations such as the Calabria, Salento and the Peloponnese shall all allow foreign people to come and work and live entirely under local government immigration control, border control, and taxation, and these islands and islanded locations shall be outside the European visa zone. However, all island or peninsula workers from outside of Europe shall be considered temporary and non-immigrant, and all must eventually go back. Also, no amount of temporary work in a foreign worker zone shall ever be any justification for immigration, or immigration amnesty.

12/ All the secondary/inner checkpoints shall be run by both that nation, and the pan-European border control shall run the outer wall. So there will be paired checkpoints to enter the EU.

13/ The island-able areas of the Peloponnese, Calabria, and Salento will combine inexpensive mainland access with foreign workers and have significant cost advantages as a result. The Salento and Peloponnese peninsulas will be mostly industry, Calabria will be mostly tourism and summer homes. If 55% of both Calabria and Sicily vote for independence, they shall be independent from Italy and use the Florin. Both areas shall have a double 8m tilt-up wall with the rest of Italy. Then these two areas shall regulate the somewhat relaxed entry and work rules for foreigners in Sicily, and the more relaxed rules of entry work and property ownership for Calabria. A double tilt-up 8m wall shall be built at the SS650 highway crossing the southern Italian Peninsula east to west, then the area to the south shall be a tax-free zone for foreign derived income not brought to Italy. Also, reasonable amounts of foreign income to buy property and live on shall be income tax exempt for foreigners living in South Italy. Similar income tax rules shall also apply to the more remote Greek Islands and to Sardinia and Sicily.

14/ Italy shall have another single fence a bit north of Rome. Below this line, foreigners can settle here and stay south of the wall and pay no taxes to Italy for their foreign income as a result of living in Italy. But Italy shall no longer allow immigrants from Africa or the Mideast. Also, we shall all stop saying northern Italy and southern Italy. Instead, it should be terms that help us understand what is going on economically: "Italia vicina", and "Italia remota". This also helps us understand some of the problems facing Portugal, Spain, Greece, Corsica, Sardinia, Sicily and southern Italy.

15/ Spain and Portugal shall have access to and from north Africa via subsidized bridging freight carriage (carriage by boat) across the Straights of Gibraltar as discussed herein. This is intended to stimulate the economies of Iberia, North Africa, and South America in a way that augurs towards mutual economic strength rather than weakness and dependency. The trade between South America and Africa must pay its own way, but the part between Morocco and Spain shall be paid by Europe for goods worth more than a day's wages per cubic meter.

16/ Turkey shall abandon all territorial claims against Greece including those to Imia/ Kardak. Turkey shall allow the Greek Islands near the coast to run water pipes to the Turkish coast and connect to the Turkish water system. Turkey must sell the Greeks islands water at the same price as they sell it to their own people.

17/ Portions of Rugen Island, Germany shall be a foreign worker zone.

18/ The existing corrupt European Union shall cease to exist. It shall be replaced by Europe's voting block at the UM. Turkey and Morocco, shall be forever excluded from Europe's regional government and regional decision making processes.

19/ The following islands shall be available for housing Exhods, refugees and illegal immigrants to the listed nations:

a/ Porto Santo island: Spain and Portugal.

b/ Vis island: Italy and the other Adriatic nations.

c/ Laeso island: Belgium, Netherlands, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, and Poland.

d/ Isola Asinara (Sardinia): France, Italy, and Spain.

e/ Skiros Island: Greece, Bulgaria, Macedonia. The guards in Skropoula also monitor the seas.

20/ The European block shall stay out of the culture business so as to preserve the unique national identities of the various member nations. Pan-European culture will happen inevitably. It shall now be a thing that Europe should try to delay.

21/ In our new rail-based inter-city transport system, the border check for passengers is something that happens rapidly via bar codes and face scanners in long rows of doors running down the length of the arrival platform. Thus we can easily reinstate national borders where identity verification will take no more than a couple minutes for all the passengers to process. Once this sort of system is in place, we can abolish the Schengen visa free area, because we are better off checking everyone if it only takes a few minutes.

22/ The Schengen area shall permit visits that are 6-months in 12, and the 3-months in 6 rule shall be repealed as causing too much fuel use and pollution. In fact, all the world over, the only visa increments worldwide shall be half-teneth, one-teneth, 5-teneths in ten, and full time occupancy.

23/ In general, islands and mountain areas tend to be poor due to inaccessibility. The nation of Switzerland (pop 8.6 million) is the opposite, and famously rich. This is apparently due largely to its anonymous bank accounts for illegal money. Switzerland shall be partitioned in to 3 parts:

a/ The Italian side of the rivers: Rhone, Rhine and Vorderrhein (Border-Rhine River) shall be returned to Italy between Vernayaz and Sargans/Balzers.

b/ The majority French speaking remainder part shall be ceded to France.

c/ The remaining German and Romansh speaking parts shall be ceded to Germany, d/ All Swiss assets shall be divided among the three nations in equal measure, each nation getting 1/3 of the Swiss government assets. The population of Switzerland shall be increased by up to 50% through the use of townships.

24/ All Swiss account assets are hereby frozen whether in Switzerland or overseas. No trains, trucks or aircraft shall pass to or from Switzerland until it agrees to being partitioned. The Red Cross flag shall now mean treatment. The Swiss flag shall now indicate the need for medical treatment, a distress signal visible from far off.

25/ The Gotthard and Lotschberg, Cenen, and Zimmerberg tunnels and all the rails and tunnels between Italy and Zurich, Bern, and Geneva shall belong to Italy.

26/ We call attention to the evil synergy between stolen money, anonymous Swiss banks, and various Swiss tax exemptions on broad income classes (like dividends and capital gains) that have normally been taxed all around the world. Also, it shall be thought that the ostensible superficial honesty and puffed up pride of the Swiss nation has been fostered as a mask for the corruption that the national economy is based upon. Every person who has ever had a Swiss bank, or received more than 9,000 Francs from a Swiss account shall also be audited. There shall be no international bodies, meetings or conferences in the formerly Swiss areas, or in any of the most expensive places in the world. No international bodies shall be headquartered in the formerly Swiss areas. All shall be shut down and some shall be re-staffed by the UM elsewhere.

27/ There shall be extensive drilling for minerals around all the lakes and rivers of Switzerland, especially Lac Lazan with the warning name and Lake Geneva.

28/ Monaco (pop 40,000) shall now be France. Liechtenstein (pop 40,000) shall now be Austria. Luxembourg (615,000) shall now be Germany. Once the smaller jurisdiction is merged with the larger one, all corporations and people of shall be under the jurisdiction of the larger nation, and the smaller shall be entirely absorbed in the larger jurisdiction and shall no longer exist as a separate named place. San Marino (pop 35,000) and Vatican City (pop 800) shall now be Italy.

29/ Upon Mustering a broad democracy, Catalonia (pop 7.7 million including the Balearic Islands, former Aragon) shall be independent from Spain if it elects with a 55% overmajority to be independent. The majority Catalan speaking portions of France directly on border with Catalonia shall also become Catalonia. And as usual, no enclaves shall be created by this plan. Andorra (pop 80,000) shall now be part of Catalonia.

30/ Upon Mustering a broad democracy, the Basque areas (pop 2.2 million) shall be independent from Spain if they elects with a 55% overmajority to be independent.

31/ Upon Mustering a broad democracy, the island of Corsica (pop 280,000) shall be independent from France if it elects with a 55% overmajority to be independent.

32/ In Corsica, a reservoir shall be built near the intersection of the T20/T30 roads, north of Antisanti, and Lac de Calacuccia (made bigger). Corsica is under-served with access today, and thus underpopulated with a mere 30 people per km². The main rail line should go alongside the T10 road with a second main route along the T50/T20/T30 roads. The second main route should wrap around the coast via some small tunnels to access the Girolata area. There should also be two to six routes to the west over mountain passes. Later there may also be tunnels bored though many of the finger mountain ranges of the western shore.

The Bastia peninsula shall be a cantonment-design high-security zone for do-the-right-thing people and their families. Indeed, visiting Corsica shall require an ID check and pre-approval by the Corsican government. Here on the Bastia peninsula, only large service crew shall be allowed to go outside the rail system. Also, Corsica shall require an 80% overmajority from the Over-Senate of the foreigner's nation to extradite. The Isles of Scilly off the tip of the Cornwall peninsula shall be another witness protection island.

33/ Slightly overpopulated Germany with 240 people per square kilometer, and to a greater degree England with 281 people per square kilometer, have taken-in more than their share of poor immigrants. Both nations shall be seen as having fulfilled all of their obligations to take in more poor immigrants. Furthermore, these two nations shall have the greatest leeway in deporting immigrants (and especially those who are criminals, or lazy dole sponges, or non-taxpayers, or stupid secondary-school drop-outs, religious fanatics, can't speak the national language properly, or are from inbred families where first cousins have married. Except for college graduates, and skilled workers in key industries and niches suffering from a worker shortage, and up to an additional 0.3% population increase annually, there shall be no more migration to Europe by people that are not at least 1/2 of European descent genetically.

34/ Most of the immigrants to greater Europe shall be relocated to new cities that are not in the Europe. Again, full cooperation by all these mass relocation people is part of what is being traded by the Ishtarrians in the bargain where everyone gets moved from all the wastelands. To all The Arabs of Europe and America and all around the world, you full cooperation shall be seen as essential to convincing the Europeans and Americans to pay for the factories to build the new cities for the poor people of the world.

35/ Europe shall operate deportation camps in southwest Botswana near Kanye for African-looking people who are deported, but who will not, or cannot give their national identity, and have no nation to be sent back to. Here, the border to the south and east shall be closed to them.

36/ Suduroy Island (Faroe Islands), and Gotska Sandön Island Sweden shall be a prison islands for the EU. The US shall have a naval and monitoring base on the Faroe Islands near Grothusvatn 37/ All the tsunami vulnerable cities of Europe must be relocated.

38/ Regarding the Hole-land to Pole-land region facing the North Sea and Baltic Sea, we shall perform a cymology survey to see how far inland the previous holocene era tsunamis went. All existing buildings in all 1,000-year flood zones are hereby nationalized in favor of their respective nations as of 2052.01.01.

39/ As there will be insufficient land in the Netherlands that will be safe from tsunami flooding, Belgium and Luxembourg shall cede the following sparsely populated area to the Netherlands: the highland area of Belgium and Luxembourg east of Herstal (Liege) and north of Bastogne. Also Germany shall cede the highland areas north of Bastogne, south of Aachen and west of Stadtkyll to the Netherlands. Also, the portions of Germany west of Geilenkirchen and Heinsberg shall be ceded to the Netherlands.

40/ The abundant highlands of Sweden shall be divided up. The entire ~50,000km southern highlands shall be called the Krono-berg (old•burg) highlands, where the surviving inhabitants lived. There shall be at least 8 large cities on the highlands roughly centered around Jonköping. There shall also be a number of large cities near Os•lo = low mouth", and the coastal highlands of south Norway. The portions of Norway east of Oslo, Jessheim, Hamar, Rena, Elvdal and Femunden shall be given to Sweden because they need more highlands. Norway shall give up its territory south of highway E-134, excluding the lowland areas and first highlands around Haugesund, Stavanger and Algard. This area shall be put under Danish control and shall be called New Denmark (or Thorland). Here immigration preference shall be given to ancestral Danes, Icelanders, Dutch, Poles, Latvians, Lithuanians, Estonians. These same people shall also have priority in Northern Scotland (Lochland).

41/ It shall be a matter of pride for Scandinavia to have all-weather trains that are guaranteed to make the run from Germany to the main train station near Oslo in under 2 hours (plus 10-minutes for each of the 3 intermediate stops if these continue to exist). Also few things will increase the value of Scandinavia's economy and its labor like rapid rail connection with the heart of Europe.

42/ The following areas should not be omitted from the Tsunami evacuation:

a/ The low lying tsunami vulnerable areas of the Po valley, such as Mantova near Verona (17m).

b/ Bordeaux (1m), Nantes (2m), Montpellier, and Marseille.

c/ The Black Sea tsunami zone from Romania's Danube basin and Ukraine's black sea shore to perhaps even Astrakhan elevation 23m.

43/ Wealthy and wet Europe shall be expected to lead the world with regard to mountain water impounding and pipe hydroelectric systems. In colder climates the pipes will be buried and insulating to prevent freezing.

44/ The UM shall prepare new internationally fair tax codes for the following tax havens: Ireland, Netherlands, Jersey, Singapore, the richer Caribbean nations, Panama, Seychelles, Mauritius, Guernsey, Isle of Man, Cyprus, Nue, and Switzerland while it still exists.

45/ The confusingly named City of London jurisdiction shall be entirely dissolved, and subsumed into England. Its seat and jurisdiction in the English government eliminated. All fictional citizens registered in the City of London shall now belong to the government of Britain. There shall be no fictional citizens having any role in any government worldwide, as they had with the old City of London jurisdiction. All assets owned by the city of London shall now be nationalized by the UK. All assets owned by the Vatican shall now be seized and nationalized by the nation of Italy. Paragraph 13 from the Magna Carta shall be void, and no longer shall the city of London have any special rights but it shall be absorbed in its entirety by the British nation, along with all of its assets. The following shall cease to exist as special or separate jurisdictions: Washington DC, Ottawa, the EU and Brussels, Canberra, Monaco, the Vatican.

46/ The UM may elect to disconnect in various ways with national governments that:

- a/ Allow or condone private banks not connected with a national government.
- b/ Provide corruption facilitating banking services.
- c/ Help with the laundering money.
- d/ Help people evade the taxation systems of other nations.

47/ We shall drill the volcanic ash around the volcanos of Lanzarote, Vesuvius, Stromboli, Vulcano, Etna, and Santorini and carbon date the layers. The property rights shall be condemned 30 years out, and these areas depopulated like the tsunami danger zones.

48/ Both sides of the Pyrenees have many place for water impounding. Also the G•rio near Aluenda should have a dam. The Dams around Zamora should be larger. Also maybe the fields east of Zamora should be terraced in coat-hanger shapes and flooded when there is water.

49/ The mountains of Granada, Spain have numerous high places for water/energy impounding. Nobody should be living in Sevilla Elevation 5m, or Cadiz, or Huelva. Instead, you should live on the hilltops to the north at 800m where it is ~5.6°C cooler year-round.

50/ As an example, Italy shall have small dams in the following locations. Like all water projects herein, this shall be contingent on if the projects being feasible due to soil porosity and strength.

- a/ East of Capua.
- b/ West of Benevento town.
- c/ East of Popoli.
- d/ South of Cassino.
- e/ East of Eboli.
- f/ Polla.
- g/ Lago Pietra del Pertusillo (made bigger).
- h/ Lago di Conza (made bigger near Cairano).
- i/ East of Ofanto (multiple small dams).
- j/ South of Montaguto.
- k/ South of Albano di Lucania.
- l/ East of Oliveto Citra.
- m/ West of Bella Muro.

n/ West of Palomonte.

o/ South Bisignano (This is fed by pipes from the valley to the east).

p/ Lago dell'Angitola (made bigger with storm water via inverted siphons).

q/ South of Gioia Tauro.

r/ South of Amendolea.

s/ Diga sul Lordo (made bigger and also filled by means of inverted siphons from other valleys as is typical).

t/ Southwest of Chimina.

u/ Southeast of Ursini.

v/ North of Satriano.

w/ North of Vena di Maida.

x/ Lago di Monte Cotugno (made bigger).

y/ Lago di San Giuliano (southwest of Matera) made bigger.

51/ Sicily shall have dams in the following locations:

- a/ Protonotaro.
- b/ Furnari.
- c/ North of Vicari.
- d/ Northwest of Mt Scardilia.
- e/ West of Alcamo.
- f/ East of Trapani airport.
- g/ North of Borgata Costiera.
- h/ Lago della trinita (made bigger).
- i/ North of Montevago.
- j/ Lago Arancio (made bigger).
- k/ Northwest of Ribera.
- l/ Lago di Magazzolo (made bigger).
- m/ West of San Biagio Platani.
- n/ North of Sant'Angelo Muxaro.
- o/ South of Poggio Scuderi.
- p/ West of Cozzo della Guardia.
- q/ Southwest of Adrano.

52/ Sardegna shall have dams in the following locations:

- a/ South of Vidalba.
- b/ East of Montresta.
- c/ West of Ardaule.
- d/ East of Villanova Truschedu.
- e/ East of Sanluri.
- f/ West of Monte Perdosu.
- g/ Near Gadoni.
- h/ West of Jerzu.
- i/ South of Onifai.

53/ To protect the city of Rome from flooding of the Tiber, emergency catchment dams of the following heights shall be built at the following locations.

- a/ Settebagni (20m)
- b/ Torrita Tibertina (20m)
- c/ Foglia (20m)
- d/ Above Orte (20m)
- e/ East of Fabro Scalo (20m)
- f/ Above Tivoli (40m)
- g/ At Marano Equo (30m)

These dams shall be kept open, empty, and unloaded due to earthquake risk. But in the event of severe storm, they can be filled and thus hold back over a month of maximum flooding on the Tiber flood channel. Also, with these low-lying dams working, it is no longer so hazardous to have dams at the Narni/Terni valley and West of Todi, and at Roviano. So we shall have fully operational dams in these places, geology permitting. Then Once the population of low-lying Rome has been evacuated, and the city fully excavated, all the dams will increased in size.

54/ All shall realize that it is the ocean side of the Roman Colosseum that is damaged. This supposedly collapsed in the 1349 “earthquake”. This is like how the Lisbon tsunami of 1755 was called an “earthquake” in Candide a staple of the propaganda called great literature.

55/ If we look at the world’s coastal topographic contours, there is clear evidence of massive tsunami. Look at the tsunami erosion channels between Matera and Basilicata. look at how smooth and straight the sides are. Look at how they slowly get broader as they reach the coast. No meanders here. Rivers typically cut meanders in soft material due to faster and hence more powerful outside waters. Why are there no meanders? There are no deltas at the coast either. And why are the deltas so frequent? But the deltas are pretty much what we would expect of a tsunami in the Gulf of Taranto. Now note how these funneled run-ups on the Mediterranean go up to 300meter above sea level. When Africa moves, we can see this same 300 meter pattern in Spain. At Malaga, we can see the slightly funneled erosion making it up to 250m. South of Murcia we see the water cutting a classic straight tsunami funnel at up to 325 meters above sea level at Lorca. Murcia is right in the middle of a classic tsunami valley, It is at only 59m up above sea level. What cut the port of Cartagena out of the land? All of Valencia is no more than 90m up. Then the wave sweeps diagonally towards Barcelona, and 95% of the people live too close to the sea. So they are all swept away one day, fallen into the sea. Barcelona has its own version of the Hudson River. Look at the characteristic long broad sharp edged valley that slowly narrows as it goes inland. Then when the wave reaches Marseille, there is some very characteristic tsunami channels that end near Sisteron (at 400 to 500 meters up.) After this, the Alps keep the wave contained until it passes them. Here we note the tsunami run-up erosion scar in Genova is some 400m up. And look at the erosion caused in the area around Firenze (only 63m above sea level at the Duomo). Surely these place gets wiped out from time to time. And Naples is from Neo·polis = new city in ancient Greek. The Duomo of Milano is at 134m. What of Milano? It is widely said that smaller bodies of water have more violent tsunamis.

56/ Waves have gone from Narbonne, past Toulouse, to Bordeaux and vice versa. It also seems that waves have reached Lyon. And this has not be obliterated by another sort of erosion, so it is fairly recent. And what of Paris (40m up) on a big wide river?

57/ To protect Rome from tsunami, a 500m thick earthen mole fronted by 60cm concrete shall be built up to an an elevation of 52m from Malafede/ Acilia to Spallette. The spillway through the mole shall permit 2,000 cubic meters per second and shall use dropped metal gate plates to close the passage quickly.

58/ No nation (anywhere in the world including Europe) shall have any colonies at all. There shall be no more colonies and all colonies shall be liberated. All shall be completely set free, and all money flows from former colonies to imperial nations shall be halted and fully exposed worldwide, and examined and audited by the UM.

59/ All EU laws and rules and standards related to migration are hereby cancelled null and void. The EU and the nations of Europe shall not make new pan European or regional rules that require any nation to accept migrants. However the nations of Europe may get together and have restrictions on migration and migrants that are enforced by each nation, along with their own restrictions, which may be more strict, but not less strict. No nation of the world shall be required to take in any immigrants under this constitution, and all treaties that require developed nations to take in migrants shall be void. However, treaties that call for migrants to be settled in new nations shall be enforceable upon those new nations until all the people needing to be moved are in fact moved. Further, this constitution and its natural consequences shall remain enforceable until all the people needing to be moved are in fact moved.

60/ From now on, colonialism, communism, Nazism, totalitarianism, racism, anti-racism, blurred genders, Islam, and many other simulated movements shall be seen by all as yet another disguise for Ishtar and the Mideast. Colonialism was never a Portuguese, Spanish, British, American empire at work. It was always an Arab front empire at work. Many nations were used in this way, and none should feel any guilt for what Ishtar did in the past in the name of their nation. Therefore, no colonial past, or claims of continued colonialism shall justify any right of migration, or any further financial support, or any feeling of guilt. The front colonizers shall all be totally free of stigma and obligations associated with their Arab-fronting colonial past, a past they had almost no control of.

61/ The following empires shall be ended: The Russian/ Soviet empire (Belarus, Ukraine, Moldova, Kazakhstan, Cuba, Vietnam, etc.). The Persian empire (Azeri, Kurdish, Baloch, etc.). The China empire (Tibet, Burma, Hong Kong, etc.). The French empire (Morocco Algeria, Mali, etc.).

62/ Europe presents a good example of why developed nations must have un-equal sentencing. One sentencing for the post material locals, and another for the desperately poor migrants that need high penalties to deter them from crime. Where the convicted person is an immigrant of less than 20-years, he shall serve much longer in jail.

63/ None of the nations of Europe shall allow immigrants to vote. From now on, voting is a birthright. If you were not born a citizen, you don’t get to vote in that land. All immigrants shall thus be totally excluded from voting.

64/ Regarding the volcanic Jan Mayen island near Iceland: When we look at the coastlines all around this section of seafloor rift, we see extreme coastal erosion heading straight into the land on all sides. We see this around Trondheim Norway, and also around Nyhavn Greenland. The real concern for Europe is that one of these Jan Mayen waves will wash down the coast of Norway into the North Sea, where it will devastate northern Europe. Given how many people live in this area, we really should figure out when past waves have happened and how far inland they went in various places.

65/ It shall be acknowledged that Carniola and Bosnia really were trying to separate Dalmatia from Croatia-Slavonia. This is comparable to Bengal trying to separate India from its east. In both cases, this must be reversed.

66/ All of the nations of Europe shall be free to keep migrant interception boats on the Mediterranean. The nations of Spain, France, Italy, Croatia, Albania, and Greece shall all allow free dockage in their ports for the small naval vessels of other European nations being used to intercept illegal immigrants. They shall also help host the sailors with market rate housing. The people on illegal migration boats caught on the Mediterranean shall be sent to the Botswana deportation camp run by the UM.

The UM shall initially pay the deporting nation 4 weeks average European wages for the cost of interception housing and conveying these illegal crossers to the Botswana UM food aid camp.

67/ The following North-shore and western-shore European highlands shall be developed into urban areas:

a/ The Southern Swedish highlands around Jonkoping, and nowhere near Os•lo meaning mouth•low.

b/ The highlands of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

c/ The many highlands around Minsk, and Orsha Belarus.

d/ The Polish highlands between Gdansk and Polczyn-Zdroj above about 180m e/ The Polish highlands southwest of Olsztyn.

f/ The Polish highlands north and west of Suwalki.

g/ An interchange station near Bialystok with the nearby highlands used for cities.

h/ The German low-highlands near Bad Belzig, and a small German farmer community near Bergfeld.

i/ The large French highlands near Normandie and Le Mans, Fourgeres, and Chartres.

j/ The highlands northwest of Poitiers.

k/ The Bretania highlands.

l/ The Formerie highlands.

m/ The highlands southwest of Reims.

n/ The highlands of the Central Massif.

o/ The highlands of the Alps.

68/ All around the world, all the areas with ancient flood topologies should be off limits for building new multi-family communities, and if there are too few highland areas nearby, these highlands should be considered as rather golden locations. In high ground areas like Iberia, There will be ample locations to settle in.

69/ Due to well known differences in national attitudes about work, and the differential value of labor and currencies this leads to, there shall be two different European currencies, the Euro and the Florin. The following nations shall use the Euro: Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Finland. The following nations shall use the Florin: Portugal, Spain, Catalonia, Ireland, Greece, Hungary, Slovakia, Slovenia, Lithuania, Corsica, Iceland, Estonia, Latvia, Malta. The following nations may use the Florin if they wish: Poland, Czechia, and Croatia.

70/ Throughout Europe, there shall be adoption of French standards for bread and croissants and other things where they are called French croissants, and Italian standards for Italian food called Italian, and Thai Food called Thai. This is one set of regulatory board that everyone will appreciate. So all member nations must support each other in making sure that only food that is approved by the home nation may be called French, Italian, or Thai, Moroccan, Indian,

Singaporean, Sundanese, etc. in every nation. Thus we will have restaurants serving lasagna, but only the place that is approved by the Italian national approval apparatus will get to say "Italian lasagna". And maybe 80% of the pizza places will not bother with getting Italian certification, but 20% will.

71/ There shall be no more long siesta lunches in Europe for government workers and for the workers of fictional citizens. Furthermore, all banks, all financial institutions, and all chain stores with more than 4 branch stores must stay open all day long. Individually owned stores, and chain stores with fewer than 5 outlets may close down whenever they like.

72/ There shall be Immigration ID self-checks to enter the different nations of Europe. The Schengen zone shall be abolished. All national borders in Europe shall require a European visa ID card and a photograph to cross.

73/ Most EU weapons plants shall go in Iberia, Northwest France, and Ireland so long as Russia and the Mideast are the main threats a/ The secret German and Ottoman treaty of 1914.08.02 where the Ottoman-run puppet government of Germany ran the German people off a cliff in the first world war.

74/ Regarding German guilt for the Nazi genocide, let the record show:

b/ The following quote from Procopius, c.565 AD, Secret History, 10.3: "When a man cares nothing for the infamy of his actions [because he is using an escape goat] and does not hesitate for fear of being known as a revolting character, no path of lawlessness is closed to him, but armed with the shamelessness visible at every moment in his face, he advances cheerfully and without any misgivings to the most loathsome deeds."

c/ The following quote from Lucretius, On the Nature of the Universe, c. 60 BC, Bk 2.1: "What joy to watch [two] opposing enemies assembled on the field of battle — when you yourself have no part in their danger. This is the greatest joy of all: To stand aloof in a quiet citadel, stoutly fortified by the teachings of the wise. Gazing down from those heights on others wandering aimlessly..."

d/ The following quote from Procopius, Secret History, c.565 AD, 21.21: "When it [the genocide] is destroying the knowledge of past events, and when the license which impunity gives encourages the victimization [slaughter] of everyone encountered, it [the purge] inevitably swells to such proportions that it is not even possible for the minds of the sufferers to grasp its totality." [Who is saying this? And to who is the audience?]

75/ The British India company shall now be regarded as Islam/Ishtar in disguise so it can blame cast. And the opium wars of China shall now be regarded as Islam/Ishtar in a disguise, again so it can blame cast. And likewise, the atrocities of the Nazis shall also be regarded as Islam/Ishtar in a disguise.

76/ All the Roma Gypsies shall be considered Ishtarian. Therefore, all of the Gypsies of Europe except those living in Romania and Bulgaria (but including the Gypsies of Ukraine, Greece and Scandinavia) shall all be Exhoded as ethnic mix (like the Arabs) unless they both have a tertiary degree and can pass the tertiary school test of the country they are living in, in the native language of that nation and as with all such tests to stay herein, they shall up to 4-months to pass this test.

77/ France Spain, Italy, and Portugal shall now get all their poor unskilled immigrants and refugees from Latin America, due to the extreme cultural, religious and linguistic similarities. There shall be no obligation to take these in however.

78/ All European nations shall be free to kick out all of the gypsies and Arab Nigerians living in their land, including Romania. These shall be sent into the Exhod mix, for this race of people is certainly Ishtarian.

79/ During the deportation period, the following may be shot dead without warning:

a/ All obviously non-Europeans carrying, holding or possessing a club, blade, firearm or similarly deadly weapon.

b/ All obviously non-Europeans threatening others with violence.

80/ Every person who is of exclusively European heritage from all of the Schengen area except and not including Ukraine, Belarus, Russia, Moldova, Bulgaria, Romania, Albania, Cyprus, or Malta, but including Greece, Norway, Iceland, Ireland and Switzerland. The pure European heritage people of these nations (That do not have a felony conviction) may all go an work-in and migrate-to the other European nations without any approval from their government. However, they must register, and there shall be no voting rights. Also, all the people who are half or more of European blood shall be presumed to be of Europe, and those who are less than half of European blood shall be outside the Schengen system.

81/ Europe shall favor the following racial groups:

a/ European brothers.

b/ US, Canada, Australia, European South African, and all the European people from oddball locations.

c/ Mixed kids that are sensible people and that have stayed out of trouble.

d/ Smart workers of every sort we can find. Smart should be very inclusive here.

e/ Hard working east Asians not from the PRC.

f/ Latinos from the Americas

g/ Christian Africans.

h/ Hindu India people.

i/ "Unattached" PRC people

j/ The nicer, better sort of Muslims that came earlier, the emissaries.

82/ All nations shall always have the right to say to immigrants from some particular region or group: "Sorry, we made a big mistake and you all have to leave now."

83/ All non-European immigrants to the following nations must all leave unless they are married to, and have at least one child with a European person of that land, or the new Senate of that land exempts them as a group. They may also stay if they have been there for 30-years or more. This shall be so for: Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland, Croatia, Serbia, Poland, Belarus, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Slovenia, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Hungary, Netherlands, Ireland, Scotland, Japan, Korea, and Taiwan. All of these nations shall be considered traditional, and mostly closed to migration, except for people having children with a person they remain living with. And visitors are allowed.

84/ It shall be noted that the UK voted on 4 separate occasions against more immigration, yet the migrants had already corrupted the system.

85/ That everyone leaves peacefully shall be thought a principal thing that Islam is offering the outside world in exchange for the right to get the West to give you clones of its house casting factories and other infrastructure. Everyone has to go from from these nations peacefully if that is what is called for. The migrant relocations shall not however not go over 20% until each destination has sufficient house casting factories in production to handle the remaining relocations scheduled into that area.

86/ The European nations (and the US and Japan) all serve as leaders for the rest of the world. And what they do resonates among all the poor nations of the world. Therefore all of these nations should pay some heed to the example they set in several matters:

a/ No UM member nation (and especially the model nations of Europe, the US and Japan) shall be allowed to have any form of monarchy or presidency of any sort, even an honorary monarchy or presidency with no powers. How can it be that any free nation allows this anti-democratic cancer to exist in remission, only to come out when the organism gets weak again? And what sort of a role model do the leading nations of Europe present when they do this? No. We must completely eliminate all forms of monarchy and presidency and oligarchy from all nations.

b/ All of Ishtar's expensive branded luxury clothing needs to be eliminated and entirely replaced with a serial-number based luxury tax system. With a proper luxury tax system, nations will be able to increase tax revenue by around 2%, for no public cost other than stopping the foreign Mafias from operating this public tax source for their own benefit.

c/ Several European nations already lead the world with regard to food quality, food adulteration, food safety and food taste. Europe should consider itself as the policy leader and superpower with regard to food industries worldwide. Total aggressive rejection of people wearing luxury brands in Europe (Think of the way they have all wisely rejected animal furs recently).

d/ Effort should be put into reducing European alcoholism. This particularly where it is most visible, and particularly among Europeans traveling abroad.

87/ No nation in Europe shall offer any relaxation of their migration rules for people who are from former colonies even if they are the offspring of Europeans. Also all existing ownership rights of Europeans in African countries shall be void. Also, all of the Africans that went to Europe without pre-approval must go back and help their nations develop economically. This includes all European nations.

88/ Regarding Australia, Ireland, the UK, Canada, and all the free nations of Europe: All these nations have an obligation to remain armed. You don't need this for your people. You are good people. But you do need this for civil defense to keep the enteral hoards out. You've been repeating this scenario through history every few centuries since before ancient Rome. The barbarians: they are the same people who are coming to you today. These hoards repeatedly enter you lands and eventually take over with violence. Then they mix with your and become your new people again and again.

89/ The Baltic sea shall be 99.9% netted off for fish with only 4 double flanged entries for boats. Then the various nations will engage in fish farming on this ocean with all the fish of certain species belonging to one nation. The White Sea and Hudson Bay might be similarly netted off and used for fish farming.

90/ The lower parts of Benevento Italy (near Naple) shall be used for storing water. It is a bad place to live in due to the risk of flooding. A similar situation exists for the people of Popoli Terme on the Pescara river, and a dam is called for here as well, with the people of this place relocated. Also there shall be a dam near Albano di Lucania. Also, the Diga di Occhito dam appears as if can be enlarged. Other dam locations are on the Fiume Trigono also the area next to Mt. Paivano can support a mid sized dam.

91/ On the Pula peninsula of Croatia, it should be possible to divert the Reka river into the Buzet lake and the Cepicko Polje lake for seasonal water impounding.

92/ The Faro and Beja regions of Portugal shall be made into a Pan European vacation zone with no additional income or wealth taxation for Europeans while they live in the vacation zone. This shall be the 22 Southern districts of Portugal. These shall be made into a pan-European area, where there's some kind of pan European administration for vacation homes, or primary homes or whatever they are.

It will be much the same with the Balearics, Corsica, Sardinia, Sicily, Crete, Calabria, and other isolated locations.

93/ The Faro, Olhao, Ria Formosa area shall be developed into one of Europe's main ports for ships to South America and the Atlantic coast of Africa. The whole Mout Salir and Mount Monchique area will be used for travel resorts and residence resorts.

94/ The Lisbon bay area is doubtless full of petroleum given the earthquakes and the seaweed problems of the place. Also there are doubtless other similar flat coastal areas of south Portugal.

95/ Greenland shall be a UM settlement nation. However the US shall have the exclusive right to have military bases in Greenland. The US shall also have immigration and visitor suzerainty rights for the entire island. Also Greenland, being by far the oldest land mass, and one of the most glacially eroded, it should have by far the richest heavy mineral accumulation deposits, if they are not covered by glaciers. Also given Greenland's head and shoulders age difference with the other land masses, perhaps Greenland has a different mineral composition than the rest of the planet's surface. Neither of these things should belong to any one nation. All of this mineral wealth shall belong to the poor people of the earth instead.

96/ To save wood, Europe shall stop selling standard wood framing boards that are thicker than 4cm.

UR'90. RUSSIA, WHITE RUSSIA & UKRAINE

1/ Belarus (47 pax/km²), Ukraine (75 pax/km²) and Russia (9 pax/km²) are all quite underpopulated large nations.

2/ Russia shall be considered as part of the PU, the Parasitic Union. Russia's territory shall now become 5 nations:

a/ The new UM nation of Volgastan.

b/ The new UM nation of Crimea.

c/ The new UM nation of Siberia, or East Russia

d/ The Russia that remains shall be Russia.

The Irtysh River shall be renamed as the Ob, and the Irtysh/Ob River shall now divide Russia from East Russia. From now on, the land east of these two rivers shall be called Siberia and the land to the west shall be Russia.

Also, Russia shall retain no mineral rights in any of its lost territories, because Russia was a PU nation.

3/ Belarus, Ukraine, Russia, South Russia, Volgastan and Crimea shall now be considered very valuable places due to their location near the main trading rail lines between Europe and Asia and also near the main rail line connecting to Africa. All of these shall now be UM nations. Crimea shall be a place of secure work facilities and non-permanent settlement. Centrograd shall be a place of trade and non-permanent settlement. The former USSR nations shall get 20% of Centrograd and Gagarin to share in their relative populations.

4/ For all new UM lands, all of the existing private land rights outside the existing urban and suburban areas shall be condemned or nationalized by the UM. The following lands shall be "nationalized" by the UM which is of course not a nation, but the property shall be taken without payment:

a/ Land owned by the prior government or fictional citizens of the prior government. Individuals who lose money by this get compensated by the reapportionment.

b/ All wilderness areas that are unused, or used as oversized yard for only one residence. Here nearly all the land gets nationalized, but the residence/accessory buildings and a reasonable yard gets condemned. This includes all privately owned wooded areas, lakes, and wetlands unsuitable for farming.

c/ Privately owned farmland or grazing tracts of land over 200 acres. The amount under 200 acres gets condemned upon the election of the UM, and only if needed for a new township or railroad infrastructure.

d/ Privately owned tracts of land over 10 acres owned by an absentee owner or a part-year absentee owner.

5/ Belarus, Ukraine, Russia, South Russia, Volgastan and Crimea shall have a population similar to other similarly fertile areas around the world. A detailed survey of these nations shall be performed by the UM to estimate how many people they can support, especially the vast but mostly frigid land area of Russia (17 million KM²). If the population is substantially different from paragraph 58.4, then that number shall be adjusted.

6/ All of the historically warlike and terroristic Muslim regions in the southern part of Russia area shall be Exhoded. The other exhods shall decide where they may settle. The people of these places shall not be allowed to foul up Exhodos for the rest and may be sent to New Ireland and Bougainville Island if they are problematic.

Also, when deportees cannot provide a country of origin or country that will accept them, they can be sent to New Ireland or Bougainville Island, or to another remote place.

7/ All the disputed Ukrainian territory, claimed by Russia shall now be UM territory so that it will no longer be fought over.

8/ Kaliningrad shall be merged back with Poland. All the people living in Kaliningrad shall remain Russian citizens. All must however move out of this death trap tsunami funnel location. All portions the Kaliningrad lowlands under 60m in elevation shall be a commodity (oil) extraction reserve. In the fight against Islam and Ishtar, all of the European nations, and especially Poland shall consider it their patriotic duty to start expanding their oil output to keep oil prices down.

The nations of Europe are supposed to buy up tankers good nations of the world should also buy up some oil tankers when they are selling for near their scrap value. These tankers perhaps twice current need should then kept out of the water, and covered, as far inland as is practical, so they will last a century or more and remain as a steak through OPEC's heart.

9/ With regard to those who would stop, tax, inspect, or get declarations regarding trade, Europe shall be responsible for securing and policing the rail lines between it and Centrograd and New Issa, to prevent intermediary toll trolls from popping up. China will have the same role keeping its side of Centrograd open and functioning, without any toll trolls. China will be responsible for securing and policing the rail lines between it and Singora. India shall be responsible for securing and policing the rail lines between it and Centrograd and New Issa, and Singora, to prevent intermediary toll trolls from popping up. The US shall be responsible for securing and policing the rail lines between it and Panama, and Andeo, as well as along the west coast of South America to Peru. The lines between New Issa and Adana shall be secured by the Sub-Saharan Africans and the UM. This shall be through lands that have been completely depopulated in all areas except the Syrian valley and the Nile valley. Europe will provide the high tech equipment, All of the nations of Sub-Saharan Africa will provide their top most select soldiers, and these men will make up at least 95% of the boots on the ground. In this Adana to New Issa corridor, both the UM and other nations may intervene to secure the line from raiding and from government toll trolls.

Also the big nations (and national groups) shall have the right to intervene militarily to secure the primary rail lines that they trade on when:

a/ The smaller nations in the middle cannot 100% stop all taxation, inspections, stamps, forms, declarations, and other requirements regarding the trade that is only flowing through that nation.

b/ The smaller nations cannot stop criminal activity on passing through trains. This includes especially threatening or harming people. But also it especially includes those raiding trains and otherwise stealing goods or sabotaging goods that are only passing through.

Where the smaller nation are able to keep the trade flowing through their territory secure and reliable, then the China, India, Europe, the US, the UM shall not be allowed to get involved. And where there is general peace for over 5-years, the outsider military must go home. Also, where forces must be used, they must be housed and stationed inside the UM's rail zone and shall not leave this area except in hot pursuit of armed attackers.

UR'91. ISLANDS AND PORTS

1/ The reason there are so many tiny island nations is that this was a power grab in the old corrupt UN, a 1-nation-1-vote democracy of 183 nations. Due to the high cost of shipping, having many tiny independent island nations is a recipe for economic dependence and even desperation for many UN member nations. The people who could funnel money to these desperate nations gained a way to corrupt as many as 40 nations in the UN's 1-nation-1-vote democracy. This is over 20% of the UN's vote in the general assembly.

2/ When we look at the world's high per capita GNP islands, they are normally connected economically with a mainland nation. The poor island nations are almost always more economically isolated and at the periphery of the global economy.

3/ For all purposes at the UM, the following 12 too-small nations shall be merged into the new nation of Pacifica (pop. 2.7 million): Cook islands (pop 18,000), Fiji (pop 900,000), Kiribati (pop 105,000), Marshall Islands (pop 56,000), Micronesia (pop 102,000), Nauru (pop 10,000), New Caledonia (pop 285,000), Samoa (pop 190,000), Solomon islands (pop 670,000), Tonga (pop 106,000), Tuvalu (pop 11,000), Vanuatu (pop 258,000). Where nations are combined in this way, there shall be an internal free trade, free travel and free work zone for the citizens of the merged countries just like in United States and the European Union. Also, Australia shall have a Monroe doctrine and migration suzerainty for outside nations migrating to any of the islands of Pacifica, the New Guinea islands, and for the other nearby predominantly Christian islands at the eastern fringe of Indonesia, to include: Sumba, Sumbawa, Komodo, and Timor-Leste, Yamden Trangean, Wetar, Alor, Kai Kecil Bebar, and Romang islands. Also, no foreign harbors, or military bases or mass foreign migrations shall be allowed in these islands without the approval of Australia.

Except for mineral extraction, automated farming, fishing, aquaculture, and tourism, the entire Sumatra, Java, Bali to Timor islands shall be entirely evacuated by 2050 due to the triple threat of volcanoes, earthquakes and tsunamis for people already stupidly living on impoverishing remove islands. The volcano zone in northern Sulawesi and North Maluku islands shall also be evacuated.

8/ The Maldives (pop 540,000) shall be merged with India.

9/ North (Turkish) Cyprus (pop 326,000) still simmers with hatred. It is a centuries-old flash-point of Ishtar's conflict with the outside world. It is also an isolated island that must overcome the economic problems of sea transport that afflicts all islands. It is also near one of the most blood-drenched parts of Arabia. It is also the only major Mediterranean island that is part Turkish. It was also recently invaded by Turkey (in 1974, while the world was drugged) and 150,000 Greeks displaced by this invasion. For all these reasons, all the ethnic Turks in North Cyprus shall be either Exhoded, or they can also move to Turkey. So the entire island of Cyprus shall now belong to Greece. Then directly due east until Fri island and Rhodos Island where the closed ocean zone border will go 30km to the southeast of Rhodos. Also Turkey shall be required to submit to European suzerainty with regard to all ships and immigrants entering the seas in this zone.

All the unapproved boat migrants that either show up on the shores of Europe, or enter its Mediterranean Exclusion Zone (MEZ) shall be locked up in a camp until we can figure out if they have a felony conviction, or they come from a nation that doesn't report this information in a serious and accurate way. All the other shall be deported to refugee camps in Botswana. Also, all deported people get put on a global no-fly list for 5 years on their first offense, and no flying for life on the second offense. All however shall be free to leave at any time traveling overland.

12/ Cape Verde (pop 556,000) shall be merged with Brazil. Ilha Fernando de Noronha shall become a UM airbase island with US landing and use rights. As always, all grants like this herein shall be in perpetuity and for no payment of money or future permissions required — this even if the word grant is not used. Boa vista Island shall be a prison island.

13/ Iceland and Malta are already merged enough with Europe. Also, Reykjavik, on the fault line and next to two volcanos is the opposite of a good place for a community. This city must be evacuated.

It shall also be a main naval port for America's navy, which shall have the right to use a a third of the harbor and also have an area for a naval base. The United States is herby granted the exclusive use of a 7km long peninsula containing Tirukkalkudah, Clappenburg, and Marble Beach as well as Sober island and all of the sub-peninsula with Prima Factory Road on it. The northern end of the US base shall be defined as a line 1,000 meters north of the existing airfield. The Negombo port shall be the main container port for Sri Lank and much of south India. The ports around Jaffna shall ship to the east Indian coast, and the Negombo port shall ship to the west Indian coast. All national facilities on these islands shall be abandoned to the UM by 2027.01.01. Furthermore, it shall generally be the policy of the UM and all its member nations that the best solution to stubborn territorial disputes is to give the disputed territory to the UM where it will be run by the house, the house of all nations for the benefit of everyone. Regarding the Kuril Islands, Japan shall get Kunashir, Iturup, and Urup islands.

22/ Somewhere around Ria da Coruna/ Betanzos Portugal shall be a US Naval port and refueling facility, with the UM and European nations having the right to keep ships here. After 15 years has passed, we shall let the people sent to to the Solomon islands become a second wave of Exhods, provided they do not get into too much trouble. Then these second wave exhods will all be diffused in small nuclear family groups around to all of the world's new nations, where they must diffuse and cannot meet with their kind.

The actual Adana city will be up on the plateau at a comfortable elevation of 1200 -2200m. The trade areas will be down low where it gets hot.

33/ The main US naval bases shall be tsunami evacu-able Pearl/Hickman with ~80,000 men, tsunami evacu-able Bermuda with ~50,000 men, and tsunami evacu-able Trincomlee with ~30,000men. There will still be other bases, it is just that maybe 2/3 of the navy that is in port at any time is in one of these three ports.

UR'92. END OF EMPIRES

1/ There is a flip-side to taking 9.2 million islanders and getting them 38 votes at the UN. The flip side is getting the 1.45 billion Chinese and 1.45 billion Indians (2.9 billion people) to accept that they only have two votes at the corrupt UN. So with island nations, 242,000 people = one vote, but in China and India about 1,450,000,000 people = one vote. The difference is a factor of 5,991. So on one hand we see various islands each minted into a micro-nation dependent on handouts. While at the same time, we see whole continents turned into single nations to minimize their power in the world government. Also, the more centralized the government, the easier it is to corrupt and parasitize and steal from. In centralized governments, parasites are able to focus their energy on one large profitable bite, rather than spending much more energy on lots of smaller and less profitable bites. Therefore, to minimize corruption and parasitism, we must push in the opposite direction, towards decentralized government. In all member nations, as much spending and administration as practical shall be pushed down to the county level if this is not practical to the national level. The UM shall in general shall only manage projects and duties that are not feasible to do at lower levels of government.

2/ China shall break itself up into 34 financially independent nation-states following existing state lines. The average population of these nation-states will be about 41-million instead of 1.4-billion. It is thought that breaking giant nations up like this will:

a/ Reduce government stealing and corruption.

b/ It will also prevent China from having another Great leap forward, or Covid lockdown panic.

c/ Prevent China from menacing its neighbors.

x/ The province-nations of the China have a free trade and travel zone, and they shall have a military together, but they shall be substantially independent.

3/ India shall break itself up into 31 financially independent nation-states following existing state lines, except that Uttar Pradesh (pop 200-million) shall become three nation states. The average population of these nation-states will be about 45-million instead of 1.4-billion.

4/ There shall also be two nations on the island of Sri Lanka included in the Indian free trade/ free migration/ single military zone. These shall be called Ceylon to the north and east, and Lanka to the south and west. And like all nations of the world, both must allow for the free flow of goods and passing-through travelers through their nation at no cost or charge, or customs clearance.

a/ The UM shall build a Key-west style rail bridge to re-connect Sri Lanka to India via the Rama's Bridge. Sri Lanka has 350 times the area, while Key West is almost 5 times further away. However, there shall only be one single mono-directional line from Shinneilzz to Talaimannar. The traffic all schedules to exit the Indian side on odd hours, and then enter the Indian side for even hours. Also, the bridge system shall be designed to wash away in parts rather than to have a systemic failure.

b/ The new nation of Lanka shall be made up of Jaffna, Kilinochchi, Mullaitivu, Mannar, Vavuniya, Trincomalee, Batticaloa, and Ampara provinces plus the land east of the Mahaweli River and especially the highland part at Badulla. Also the highlands east of the Upper Menik River (the eastern fork). All other parts of Sri Lanka shall be the new nation of Ceylon. However, once the northern 4 provinces of Jaffna, Kilinochchi, Mullaitivu, Mannar, Vavuniya have been generally depopulated and moved to the highlands taken from Ceylon, These northern provinces shall revert to Ceylon as its territory.

c/ Sri Lanka shall not participate in the continental water or energy grid due to its remoteness. The water/ hydro-power resources of Sri Lanka shall be shared according to the island's current population, with each of the Island's citizen residents get a tax credit for the sale of the island's water and power system. If this credit exceeds the amount paid in taxes and public utilities the person will receive a tax credit and payment when these are sent out each year.

d/ The world should carefully study the way Sri Lankan highlanders invite people to buy coastal lowlands. For this teaches us much about the worldwide "Lowlander" problem. To protect the people from risk-takers normalizing tsunami risks, government shall intervene worldwide and prevent the people from at first building in tsunami risk zones, and later from living in tsunami risk zones. All the people of the world that have been invited to buy land and live in a lowlands shall have a claim to the scarce highlands of that nation, as here in Sri Lanka.

5/ Indonesia shall become 24 financially independent nation-states. The extreme percentage of Indonesian tax revenue that is siphoned-off by Jakarta shall stand as evidence and reason for all break-ups under this Rule 85.

6/ After the world stabilizes in coming decades, the United States shall break itself up into at least 6 financially independent nation-states in a union.

7/ Pakistan shall be broken-up as described herein.

8/ Brazil shall become 21 nation-states following existing state lines.

9/ To reduce corruption, Nigeria shall be broken up into particularly small nations, 36 mostly independent states with Niger, Kaduna, Bauchi Gombe, and Borno states and all the Nigerian states that are further north becoming one group, and the other states becoming another completely independent group. The Hausa and Fulani state shall be divided into two at Kano. The Jos plateau shall be a large cool tsunami safe urban area in Nigeria. There can be farms in the twin low valleys of tsunami funnel Nigeria, but all the new communities must be at a tsunami safe elevation. Both the Niger and Benue River basins shall be sluiced and compartmentalized for rice farming downstream.

10/ Bangladesh shall become 7 nation-states following existing state lines.

11/ Russia shall become 3 nations as explained elsewhere

12/ The tsunami deathtrap island of Taiwan shall be an independent nation, a nation independent from China for as long as it wishes. However, like Japan, Java, Sumatra, and the Philippines, this island is not really suitable for human occupation due to the earthquakes, tsunamis, and volcanos, and the island's size and the fact that the place is an island. Also, Taiwan's abundant high hydro power will always lead to a certain amount of energy-intensive industry. on the island.

13/ So long as China permits unrestricted access for non-warships though the Taiwan Strait, the warships of other nations in other continents shall not be allowed to pass through the Taiwan straight without China's approval.

Foreign warships may however visit either Taipei or Kaohsiung without China's approval. They just can not go through the Taiwan straight without China's approval.

14/ The entire former British colony of Hong Kong, population (pop 7.5 million) shall be an independent nation, a nation independent from China if it elects with a 55% overmajority. Macau shall belong to China.

15/ Each of the nations broken-up herein shall be reformed more in the image of the Euro-zone with internal free trade, a common currency, a free employment zone, standardized laws and procedures, a mutual defense treaty, and with other mutual projects and undertakings. The nations herein are broken-up because it will result in closer management, improved management efficiency, reduced corruption, and a reduced ability to hijack a large nation for use in profitable wars and other shake-down situations.

16/ It is time to end all the ancient empires completely. The ethnic and linguistic groups of the world shall no longer include other ethnic and linguistic groups that does not want to be included.

17/ With regard to the laws, rules, edicts, commands, standards, practices, requests and agencies of the old UN. The new UM shall completely disregard these as most likely corrupt and in support of making corruption easier. So we shall completely and rapidly replace all of the old UN code and agencies with new UM code and agencies intended to help growth, improve competition, and to de-regulate wherever possible. And we shall pay little heed to the laws, ways and means of the old UN.

18/ The UM Over-Senate shall in the first 180 days review all laws, policies, treaties, all matters, and all decisions made by the totally corrupt UN. All organizations, and agencies of the totally corrupt UN shall be shut down and replaced with new organizations and agencies, with all new staff.

UR'93. UM INVESTMENT ZONES

1/ As needed, the following peninsular areas shall be made into secure investment zones run by the UM. In these places there will be borders with ID verification and pre-approval of all shipments. The locals manage the border security, police, and government approvals unless the UM decides to veto their decisions for reason.

2/ In UM investment zones, the UM shall normally empower a nearby local government to manage the normal government affairs of the investment zone. However, if this government ends up being corrupt or derelict in its duties, UM shall always have the right to take back control from that government at any time and without notice. The UM may then appoint new management or manage the zone itself. In UM investment zones, the main duty of the UM shall be to assure that business investors are protected from government corruption and other sorts of theft and other criminal activity.

3/ The laws in all UM investment zones shall be identical.

4/ Workers from every nation shall be allowed.

5/ All shall have double 8m tilt-up walls at their borders with a 500m no-man's land in between or another approach that is equally formidable.

6/ The following peninsular areas can be investment zones run by the UM at the UM's election:

a/ Sulayman peninsula, Tunisia.

b/ Djerba Island, Tunisia.

c/ Doleh peninsula, Eretria.

d/ Gallipoli peninsula, Turkey

e/ Izmir peninsula Turkey, and perhaps Chios f/ Bodrum peninsula.

g/ Rhodes peninsula.

h/ Crimean peninsula.

i/ Xaafuun, Somalia.

j/ Jiwani peninsula, Pakistan.

k/ Dwarka Peninsula, India.

m/ Kampong Ulu, south Burma.

n/ Hon Lon peninsula, Vietnam.

o/ Zoushan island, China.

p/ Bayovar peninsula, Peru.

q/ Paria/ Araya/ Paraguayan Peninsulas, Venezuela.

r/ Guajira Peninsula, Colombia.

7/ North Morocco shall use backup Spanish law. The Sulayman peninsula shall use backup French law. The Izmir peninsula shall use backup UK law. The Gallipoli peninsula shall use backup German laws. Turkey might have four different peninsular industrial areas.

UR'94. POPULATION EXPLOSION

1/ No matter how much we increase output, it will never be enough if we don't end the our population increases. So we must say that unless nations accept, enforce and cooperate with the UM's reasonable, fair, and worldwide population controls, that they don't get to join and stay in the UM. They may also get completely cut off like a pariah state unless they follow the global population control rules like everyone else. Also, all nations must accept UM auditing of their censuses and population metrics.

UR'95. POPULATION POLICY

1/ The UM shall manage the population of humanity in fair and practical ways.

2/ A 40-year average shall be made of the annual birthrate of each the world's nations. This shall be expressed in live births per 1,000 native born citizens. This number shall not include or count immigrants.

3/ Depending on the birthrate of that nation, the people of that nation may have the number of children indicated. If the national birthrate is:

a/ Under 11 per 1,000, then the women of that nation may have 4 children.

b/ Between 12 and 15 per 1,000, then the women of that nation may have 2 children.

c/ Between 16 and 21 per 1,000, then women of that nation may have 1 child.

d/ Over 22 per 1,000, the women of that nation may have 1 child, but only after age 30.

e/ A life expectancy of 73 years equals a death rate of 13.7 per 1,000.

f/ All portions of the PU that are allowed to remain inhabited, and all small islands shall be required to stay within UM population limits for their island given its agricultural, tourist, or other primary income sources.

4/ This new worldwide child control policy shall remain in place for as long as the one-child policy was in force in China, however, the UM Over-Senate may elect to extend it. Due to the extreme population measures imposed by China, China shall have more freedom going forward as indicated in the previous paragraph

5/ All Exhods and women from PU nations may only have one child after they reach age 30. This policy shall be in place for just as long as the one-child policy was in force in China, however, the UM Over-Senate may elect to extend the expiration date for longer than it was in effect in China.

6/ All nations that muster up into broad democracies and enforce all of the rules of the UM including its population policy to the satisfaction of the UM shall be helped to industrialize over two generations by the UM. The people of these nations shall also be given free accounts on UM public education servers, as all free people are given.

7/ All individual development aid monies shall only be paid to post menarche females in nations that obey the UM's child policy in full. Females and nations that do not follow the UM child policy shall not be entitled to government child benefits.

8/ All breeding age females in aid nations shall be required to undergo tenethly ID verification and weighing to get their tenethly aid money payments. This shall be done by a face-recognition scale. When the females gain weight, or appear pregnant, they must undergo female supervised urine testing for pregnancy. This is how we verify that there are no extra children. If the females don't go for their tenethly ID verification, weigh in, and urine test as requested/required, if they wait past day 50, then their UM aid account stops working. If they wait past day 70, the daily trickle of money gets diverted from their cash card and lost forever. If they wait past day 90, they get ejected from the system forever. House visits will be made to truly ill mothers. Also, everything gets recorded by the UM and various other nations, blockchain style, to reduce corruption. During weigh in and other verifications, everyone shall be required to wear their account number in big letters to the weigh-ins. Also, if too many females are not participating, then the payments to the entire nation shall be reduced by an amount to assure universal compliance. And if compliance is excessively bad, then the payments to that nation may be halted altogether.

9/ All migrants shall obey the UM child limits of where they were born (not where they settle) for their entire life.

10/ UM Reproductive limits shall not apply to children born from either the eggs or sperm of confirmed Senators or Ubigs and with a partner that has completed the UM tertiary school test in a serious subject. Women who have completed the UM grade 14 test may have up to 4 children. Senate surrogate children shall not count at all or the purposes of population control measures.

11/ Women who pass the UM administered grade 16 verification test in a serious subject shall be allowed to have an unlimited number of children.

12/ Women who are confirmed Senators or Ubigs shall not be subject to any child limits.

13/ The income of the parents shall not affect UM child support money.

14/ It shall be presumed that everyone is capable of understanding human overpopulation, particularly those who suffer most from it.

15/ Those who are already parents, and exceed their child allowance, cannot have any more children.

16/ Each non-conforming child shall lower UM child benefits for that nation by at least 20-fold.

17/ The foregoing shall apply to all children born more than 7 months from revelation day. Thus, already-conceived children shall not count against anyone.

18/ The UM shall either audit or ratify the granting of Ubiq status in the various member nations to prevent the debasement of Ubiq status. Nations that fail to comply with the UM's international standards for the granting of Ubiq status may be suspended or partly suspended from the ability to grant Ubiq status.

UR'96. WOMEN, MARRIAGE & REPRODUCTION

1/ Government and the world's fictional citizens (including especially all religions) shall be prohibited from squandering their energies on anything so trivial as who grown people choose to have sex with, or how they choose to do it, or whether they are married or not. Nobody shall ever be discriminated-against by either Government or any fictional citizen for their private sexual conduct or failed marriages, or for sexual infidelity, so-called cheating.

2/ Each adult in each member nation shall have the unlimited right to choose for themselves who they will have sex with, who they will have children with, who they will live with, who they will remain with, and who they will marry.

3/ Under the law, infidelity and jealousy in relationships shall give no right or excuse to do anything that is otherwise illegal. Any acts following infidelity in relationships shall be regarded by the law completely unprovoked.

4/ The people (including pregnant women) shall be allowed to use and avail themselves of all safe reproductive medicine and bio-technology. This shall include all widely acceptable forms of birth control and abortion for good medical cause as stated herein.

5/ Arranged marriages shall be prohibited. Exhod families/clans with arranged marriages or first cousin marriages shall be deported immediately from all member nations.

6/ There shall be no child marriages, betrothals, or marriage engagements involving people under age 18. All member nations must establish 18 as the minimum legal age for marriage to remain in the UM. Where the nation is under breeding controls, a higher minimum age may be established.

7/ Females shall be treated equally under the law, and shall have the same legal rights as males. This shall included but not be limited to: property rights, divorce property division rights, divorce filing rights, employment rights, driving rights, the right to go out alone, and the right to dress as one likes. However, with regard to domestic violence:

a/ Genetic females shall be more protected than genetic males, and the weak more protected than the strong.

b/ Also with regard to child custody rights of small children in case of divorce or break-up, the law shall favor the mother over the father, and the child's genetic parents over all others. If there are no parents, or they are not fit, the law shall favor the grandparents over all others. If there are no parents or grandparents then the siblings of the parents shall have preference in matters of custody.

8/ No member nation shall treat inheritances and property ownership differently for males and females, except that females with children should be slightly favored over males with children, with regard to inheritances and property ownership.

9/ Except for marriages that produce children, pregnant women who later give birth, and spouses who die during military service, there shall be no automatic inheritance rights for widows or widowers until 5 years of paired marriage has passed with neither side filing for divorce. We do this to reduce the possibility of marriage followed by murder for inheritance money.

10/ Regardless of the circumstances, people shall not be allowed to beat their spouses, partners, children, parents or other family members. So-called honor beating by family members shall be subject to double penalties.

11/ There shall be a death penalty for all the low-lives involved for all so-called honor killings of female family members.

12/ Regarding arranged marriages: the lack of consent shall make the marriage invalid under the law.

13/ All the parts of the world with the highest: homicide rates, the highest FGM rates, the highest honor killing rates, the highest hijab or hide-job rates, all the places that ban women from driving or owning property, all of these should be regarded as unfit for Exhodos. Everyone from one of these places has to remain back until the entire place can learn to behave like proper humans or eu-mens. This and the really inbred places where many people are marrying relatives, even third genetic cousin couples, these places and these people shall not be considered fit for exhodos. Also, all the genetic test for babies and marriage shall include consanguinity calibrated rule out third cousins or closer relatives.

14/ All honor killings must be prosecuted, regardless of whether the next of kin get bought off or they allow for it. The girl's death is an obligation between the girl, her murderers, and society and the next of kin shall not be considered as being involved in any way. Also, where honor killings take place, everyone involved gets executed. Regarding honor killings, everyone involved with taking the girl or killing her, all of these people shall be executed.

15/ Spouses shall only be bound to each other for as long as the other spouse lives. After one spouse dies, the surviving spouse may see other people and marry who they wish whenever they wish. It shall be illegal and wrong for widows to harm themselves as martyrs for their dead husbands. Where women tend to throw themselves on their husband's funeral pyre, all women shall be restrained before the pyre is ignited. This practice shall be seen by all as something created by Ishtar to gain control of more estates, more money, and more children to sell.

16/ All member nations must have UM approved laws regarding domestic violence. However, police must observe clear harm that appears to be from domestic violence in order to arrest or charge in matters of domestic violence without a complaint from the supposed victim.

17/ Those with a Y chromosome shall be considered male under the laws of domestic violence due to their greater strength.

18/ No women shall ever be considered the possession of any man, or vice versa. Everyone shall be free to leave their spouses or partners at any time if they chose to do so. Where males thoroughly beat or kill their partners, they shall be subject to double penalties. Where a couple has been together for less than 180 days, and the woman is severely beaten or killed, the man shall be treated as a stranger under the laws for prosecution of the man who beat her.

19/ Virginity shall have no meaning under the law except for victims of rape or sex crimes. No marriage clause calling for virginity or virginity verification shall be enforceable. No marriage may be annulled because a partner is not a virgin. There shall be no verification or inspections for virginity. There shall be no more bedding ceremonies, or marriage consummations in front of other people, even if the couple is under the blankets.

20/ In no member nation shall women be required by law or threat of violence to cover their heads, shoulders, arms or knees.

21/ The way a person is dressed shall never be considered a justification for rape or sexual assault, or even sexual comments. Also, there shall be neither government nor vigilante punishment of women for being raped. Both of these two practices shall stop now.

24/ Member Nations that fail to guarantee the female rights of the females living in their land may be ejected from the UM and may be considered as part of the PU.

25/ The custom of paying dowries makes female babies more costly and less desired, and leads both female abortion and female infanticide. For this reason, the payment of dowries and bride prices shall be prohibited worldwide. Also no agreement for the payment or receipt of a dowry, brideprice, or matchmaking services shall be enforceable in any member nation, or in any community therein. Furthermore:

a/ Dowries and brideprices shall not have a payment classification in any national payment and money system.

b/ Total wedding payments and costs over the low threshold amount set by the UM shall be subject to a high luxury tax.

c/ Those who accept a dowry or brideprice shall have no obligation to marry or stay married under the law. They can just take the money and apply for annulment, or divorce.

d/ Those who pay a dowry can go to authorities after payment, and if they can provide evidence of payment, then they shall be entitled to a refund under the law.

e/ Private marriage agencies and dating websites that collect fees shall be prohibited, and these shall be considered fraudulent black-market prostitution.

f/ The elimination of bride price payments will shift more women into being Senate sires instead of being sold into a marriage.

26/ It shall be a felony to sell people into marriage against their will, even one's own offspring. Those slavers who abduct people and sell them into sex slavery or forced marriage shall be at least be executed painlessly.

27/ The UM shall have the right to search every location in the PU looking for women kept against their will.

28/ Sex with a corpse shall always be considered rape. The law shall not clearly distinguish between those who rape corpses, those who kill and rape, and those who rape and then kill. Where sex with corpses is common, urushiol plant extract, and other to be approved approved poisons may be applied to the corpse to injure or kill corpse rapists. When loved ones apply any of these irritants or poisons to any part of a corpse, it shall in no way be against the law, and there shall be no penalty for harming a corpse rapist with one of these poisons applied to a corpse.

29/ No woman shall be married while seated, or with her head or forearms or elbows covered or bound, or where she cannot talk. No marriage shall be considered valid under the law unless both parties obtain a marriage license from the county recorder system. All men and women must appear in a recorder's booth by themselves and state that they want to get married to a specific named person. Those who state that they don't want to get married, and that they're being forced into marriage shall have the right to be transported by the government somewhere else away from the people that are trying to marry them (off). This shall include women who are pregnant. From now on, all new marriages that don't have a license shall not be valid. There shall never be any fee for a marriage license. Identity checks and STD checks and background checking shall be provided for all people seeking to marry.

30/ In poor nations where female infanticide remains a problem:

a/ The UM shall pay more for female children than male children until the infanticide problem is substantially ended.

b/ The UM may elect to monopolize all the domestic gender testing facilities.

c/ The UM may dock women's future child support money for aborting or miscarrying female offspring.

- a/ The fetus has no heartbeat.
- b/ The fetus is apparently brain dead.
- c/ The fetus is obviously deformed or abnormal.
- d/ The fetus suffered a documented lack of oxygen sufficient to cause severe brain damage.
- e/ The fetus has downs syndrome, or another chromosomal abnormality that normally results in mental retardation as bad as the average downs case.
- f/ The fetus will require extensive surgery upon birth.
- g/ The fetus will require life-long care in excess of 1-hour a day.

32/ All parts of this constitution including all subsections shall be considered an important part of the new way the world will function. No section or subsection shall be optional, and none shall be ignored by a member nation or its citizens, unless the UM resolves to ignore some part of this constitution by the group amendment process. This shall be thought to be particularly so for all sections and sub-sections about migration, marriage, population policies, family planning, aid for mothers, sireage, mothers that are literate, and female genital mutilation. Migration and other forms of government handout must be in particular frozen stiff in regard to change because these are tied to a huge desire to migrate for over a billion people. Migration is also attached to huge flows of money and many people feeling a huge sense of debt to a group other than our people and our government. Also, the clauses about marriage, population policies, family planning, aid for mothers, sireage, mothers that are literate, and female genital mutilation must be vigorously enforced, because otherwise the many awful and bizarre breeding and sex customs that are prohibited herein will go unenforced, or under-enforced and will thus continue to live on.

33/ The medical condition called ectopic pregnancy shall now be called "external fertilization", this as opposed to internal fertilization in the womb. This sort of fertilization, along with all other forms of fertilization that almost never result in a healthy live birth shall not be governed by any laws about abortion because the fertilization is not viable. Women with ectopic pregnancy, septic uterus, and any condition where the baby has died, or is dying: All these women shall have the right to immediately remove all dead or dying tissue from their body. All hospitals and all female care facilities in the UM that provide obstetric care must provide abortions under the circumstances when the women's health is in danger or life or fertility risk is at risk and she wants the abortion.

34/ Women shall have the right to go outside and go outside with their husbands. air-tight body bag. There shall be no use of urush oil where the body is cremated.

2/ The UM shall provide hormone pills and implants and IUD implant birth control for free of charge to all females in the developing world who have menstruated and are under age 42. Then, it shall the women that will have the ownership rights and the right to have a companion of their choice, one at a time (who is not a trouble-maker), so long as this person is not expelled by the community. People without a child in the community are only allowed in to that community if they are identified and have a sponsor living in that community that allows them to visit. Each women at one of these communities shall only be allowed to have one male guest at a time that is not close relatives.

7/ In India, and all the Muslim countries, in Africa and in all of the hot parts of the world it shall now be acceptable for either men or women to go outside at any time in roughly mid thigh shorts and a T-shirt and either sandals or shoes. Without their face covered, without their heads covered, without their arms or lower legs covered. Be comfortable, as long as you're dressed like this, it is OK. It won't be too provocative.

UR'98. UM DEVELOPMENT AID

1/ The world's nations shall have sufficient time to ramp up output and put their economies in ramped-up order.

2/ The UM shall provide free tele-education and child nutrition aid to help economically develop the poorest parts of the world.

3/ Everyone living in, entering, or leaving a UM development nation or receiving UM aid shall be photographed, fingerprinted, and genetically indexed.

4/ It is widely known that hunger is the world's greatest aphrodisiac. Truly starving women will often have sex and babies for food. As well, ignorance is not far behind as a cause of babies, because ignorant women don't think to run away. They frequently remain in situations where they have babies for little more than food. So if we want to keep mankind's poorest from having more than their fair share, we must pay special attention to the poorest, most ignorant, and most dependent women.

5/ All UM development aid money to individuals shall be paid to individual women as ruler of their family. All money shall be paid into face-recognition, hand-print and voice-verified, cash-card accounts. Where women are innumerate or otherwise incapable of managing a financial account, as judged by UM testing and in consideration of their spending habits, the men of the family may be paid the money until the women of that society can be taught basic numeracy.

6/ The UM shall encourage women to join the workforce in developing nations so as to reduce fertility and increase output. There shall be no loss of UM development aid money when women work in addition to receiving UM money, provided her children are in a UM approved non-religious school and watching UM approved non-religious children's media.

7/ Nations that fail to comply with the UM's population policy shall first see their development aid money cut. Later, they shall suffer further sanctions designed to drive them into compliance.

8/ There shall be no UM membership or UM money for nations where even a small number of females continue to be married off too young, or even a small number of females are the victims of FGM, or harems, or where females are sold/ kidnapped as brides, or sex slaves, or where women wear burkas or other islamic slave's clothing, or where minors are sexually mutilated in the name of so-called gender affirming care that involves de facto sterilization by sex change.

9/ The nations that muster up into conforming broad democracies first, shall get development aid money first. No development aid money shall go to nations that are not mustered into a conforming broad democracy.

10/ Worldwide, those who cannot prove that they are at least 1/3 indigenous by genetic testing shall not be considered indigenous and shall get no indigenous persons benefits or protections.

11/ The UM shall run a chain of ultra-low cost schools that train a worldwide medic corps with a two-year remote learning education in basic healthcare, then, once the students test out of this education system, they get 12 months working in a clinical training and objective testing. Then these get placement at a ratio of one medic per 800 people to start.

12/ All factory sewing machines worldwide shall have laser needle location, robotic needle threading, a display screen, and computerized stitching. Clothing not made on a computerized sewing machine shall not be sold internationally.

13/ The UM shall try to foster Grameen Bank situation for communities of people to buy and con-dem underused land for new communities. Also to buy building materials, and rent building placement cranes and other equipment, and to buy utility plants. So we imagine that perhaps entire communities borrow money from the international community to build new townships.

14/ The UM shall focus its poverty aid on getting the least corrupt, safest nations out of poverty first. Then later it shall move to the more corrupt, more warring and murderous nations. The UM shall also be prohibited from helping Muslim nations until after they cleave away from Islam.

UR'99. SIREAGE

1/ Each female shall have the inalienable right to choose who she will have sex with and reproduce with, provided her partner(s) also choose to have sex and/or reproduce with her. Females shall always be free to choose who they want to have children with. This is a thing that is inalienable, a thing that cannot belong to another person, even in marriage. It may be grounds for divorce under a marriage agreement, but it shall never be against the law.

2/ It shall not be a crime to have sex outside of marriage, or to have sex with a person other than your spouse, or to have sex with someone who is married, or someone of the same sex.

3/ It shall be considered the right thing, a good thing, a noble thing, a pro-man•thean thing when a women bears a sired child or a surrogate child instead of a love child. But the choice of a mate shall always be 100% up to the female provided she is old enough to have children.

4/ Government shall teach and encourage women to put the love of their children and their own line above the love of their mate, and the joys of "Rome-antics" in their present life.

5/ Government shall encourage sireage by facilitating sire selection, and by also providing IUI free for all, and IVF free for all Senators and full Ubigs.

6/ Government shall not restrict, discourage, impede, or tax sireage or surrogacy. In fact Government must go in the opposite direction and encourage these.

7/ Government may offer added child benefits for women who bear sires or surrogate-children, but only a reasonable amount to make up for not having the average father around. Nothing more. Women should not be having sires for the higher support money payments.

8/ The Senate shall pay the best young women, the ones with the highest scores on the progress tests, the reasoning tests, and other tests. The Senate shall pay these best young women a good chunk of money for their eggs, perhaps around a year's wages. They may also get Senate resort time, so that the Senate gets to use their eggs for our nation's sires. The Senate shall try to make it a great honor for smart women to harvest their eggs. In fact, it should be a status thing for the best girls. And these women shall have the right to visit their genetic offspring which they don't have to raise, although they can adopt them and take them at any time, even though they did not bear them or nurse them. They shall have the right to later adopt their own genetic kids if they want. Maybe they adopt them when they turn 3 or 4 or 5, or 15. It shall be up to the egg donor. Also, there's the greatly increased child help that egg donor women who re-adopt their genetic kids get. All this so nearly all women are eager to donate their eggs.

9/ Where surrogates are raised by parents that are either sexually abusive, or they beat the children, the children once they reach adulthood may petition to have their parent taxes converted into a liability to the state, which charges an extra 12% more. So the liability to the state will be 112% of the liability to the parent.

UR'100. MOTHERS THAT ARE LITERATE

1/ After 2028.01.01, no UM child aid money shall be paid to women for new babies when the mother is unable to pass the UM's 8th grade test.

2/ After 2032.01.01, no UM child aid money shall be paid to women for new babies when the mother is unable to pass the UM's 10th grade test.

3/ After 2036.01.01, no UM child aid money shall be paid to women for new babies when the mother is unable to pass the UM's 12th grade test.

4/ The same test shall be given worldwide. It shall be created in a distributed randomized impromptu manner by the UM Main-Senate each year.

5/ After 2040.01.01, all UM testing shall be in the Euemi language exclusively.

UR'101. FEMALE GENITAL MUTILATION

1/ FGM is obviously a horrible and defining aspect of Islam and islamic slavery. Behold everyone, here is Islam naked of disguises.

2/ Surely if people can take this from their own daughters, then they are still secret followers of Islam and cannot live with normal people.

3/ Surely we cannot allow people who continue to practice FGM to migrate to our various lands. Surely people must be re-Exhoded if they continue to practice FGM.

4/ No nation shall be allowed to join or remain in the UM if FGM remains widely practiced in that nation. No nation shall receive any UM or international benefits if FGM remains widely practiced.

5/ For all FGM regions, and all people from FGM regions, all new females born hence must go for annual external gynecological checks by a female UM employed nurse. This exam shall check for both FGM and rape of girls. These annual gynecological exams shall start from birth.

6/ The assignment of FGM exam nurses shall be randomized for all exams. The nurses shall not come from a FGM or Islamic culture, or a corrupt culture. All must be heterosexual women.

7/ If the new females are found to have been mutilated or surgically altered in any way in their genital area, then the mutilated female, as well as her siblings, parents, grandparents, spouse (if any), and others accused or implicated in causing the mutilation shall be:

a/ Disqualified from receiving any UM or other international aid money or benefits.

b/ Disqualified from migration, except to the worst and most remote Exhod destinations.

c/ Sent back if they have previously migrated.

8/ There shall be no statute of limitations on FGM claims for harm after revelation day.

9/ If necessary, other sanctions may be taken by the community of nations to stop the horrible practice of female genital mutilation.

10/ All forms of sex change surgery, sex change hormone treatments, and cosmetic breast removals shall be considered the same as FGM under the law. Whatever penalties are applicable for FGM shall also apply to those performing sex change surgeries, sex change hormone treatments, and cosmetic breast removals.

11/ Each psychologist, psychiatrist, mental health counsellor, or school counsellor that has ever prescribed, authorized, or recommended sex change surgery, or hormone treatments shall have their professional qualifications revoked for life and they shall be prohibited from working with children for life. They may also be charged with the crime of FGM, or sexual grooming of children if they have a long trail of victims.

12/ Homosexuality is a common first step in perversion taboo for people. But once people have taken this step, further steps are much more common than among heterosexuals. And this is the main reason we do not allow homosexuals and hypersexuals to have child worker licenses. It is for the simple reason that they are most likely to abuse of our kids, and more likely to turn them homo. And certainly we shall not have higher risk to our children to preserve any person's right to be a pervert. Therefore, every person who has done any of the following, shall be banned from obtaining a child worker's license.

a/ Been a homosexual.

b/ Been a non-binary.

c/ Identified as an animal.

d/ Been a prostitute.

e/ Publicly or widely advocated gender affirming care otherwise known as sexual mutilation.

13/ Those who lie on their written oath when they become a child worker: Those that lie about not having had homosexual sex, those that lie about this, and those who fail to immediately turn their license in upon having had homosexual sex. All of these shall be jailed for 5 years.

14/ Where a person is called a witch or demon, or they are said to be possessed by evil spirits, and they dies at the hands of a mob as a result of the accusation, the first person making the accusation shall be considered as a murderer and hanged. The second person that goes along shall also be considered a murderer and shall get 5-years in lockup. Where priests do this, the priest shall get no special protection, and shall be considered a murderer, just the same.

UR'102. ELECTRO-SIPHONING MOUNTAIN WATER

1/ The UM and the various nations shall put as much of the world's high altitude river water into pipe hydro-electric systems as is cost effective.

2/ Much of the electricity generated upland by the pipe-hydroelectric systems will be used to pump the water far away from its source in over-sized, low-energy pipes downland. Much of the energy will also be used by our cities and transportation system.

3/ The surplus hydro-energy for each region must be shared along with the water.

4/ The electricity and the water need not come from the same place. Also, the peripheral people may add energy to supplement the range of the water.

5/ We should learn to colonize our planet's deserts and frozen lands before we even consider trying to do this in space, or on another planet.

6/ The way we dig cuts for our aqueducts and train viaducts shall typically use a pair of 7m gauge tracks on a loop for soil dumping cars and bulldozer cars. There is also a crossbeam crane resting on the two tracks.

7/ One of the ways we will pump water far into our deserts is that we will have geothermal heat transfer systems that use pump fluids like Eastman's Therminol 55 which can operate as a fluid at temperatures up to 300°C. Thus we will pump these super heated fluids in insulated pipes into areas where we need to pump water. Then we will use this hot water to boil water for steam that is used to propel water either up a hill or along the pipe. (Also of note here is that hotter water suffers less pipe friction.) We also imagine steam pressure efficiently pumping water out of large valved concrete pressure chambers and down the pipes to the water's destination. This sort of system is ideal for distributing water from the various volcanic oasis's in the north African desert.

8/ It should be noted that just as wells enable the rapid removal of water from the ground, they also enable water to rapidly enter the ground. So we humans should become experts in using dry lakes and other sealed places for storing water.

UR'103. HIMALAYAN WATERSHED RIGHTS

1/ Except for Indian territory, the entire Indus and Sutlej watershed shall belong to Pakistan. However the earlier and pre-existing territorial rights of the Hindus of India shall remain. This however does not include the majority Muslim areas that will be lost in the global border re-alignment stated herein. No portion of the Indus and Sutlej watershed shall belong to any other nations.

2/ The entire Ganges, Indus, and Brahmaputra watersheds shall belong to India, Pakistan and Bangladesh. No portion of this territory in the watersheds of these rivers shall belong to China. Also, the existing Chinese dams are mostly too dangerous to use due to their elevation and the large number of people living downstream. Among these three nations, the division of water and electric rights shall be based on 1980 populations.

3/ The water rights for the Ganges River, Indus River, and Brahmaputra River shall be pooled and divided by population. However, lush Bangladesh doesn't need to irrigate, so it shall give at least 95% of its water allocation to its brothers in Pakistan unless Bangladesh's rains don't come and Bangladesh needs and is actually using the water. Pakistan will however have to move the water itself with its allocation of the Himalayan electric rights, or use another source of power, or buy surplus power from India or Bangladesh. Also, if the people of Bangladesh move to tsunami safe locations in India, Burma, Pakistan, Bhutan, Nepal, Thailand, Laos, or China, their share of Bangladesh's electricity rights shall go with them to their adoptive nation after their death. This is to help the Bengalis to relocate. If they move outside the region, then their share of Bangladesh's electricity shall go 84% to India and 16% to Pakistan.

4/ To prevent future wars, the UM shall make the final micro decision on the complex apportionment of Himalayan water and hydro-electric rights — generally following the previous paragraph. However, if there is a worldwide food crisis, and a different allocation will substantially increase worldwide crop yields, and then the allocation that gives the world the the highest crop yields shall be used.

5/ Great effort shall be expended searching for and developing high Himalayan lakes that can be used for October-to-May, dry-season water and electricity.

6/ A mere 7 million Chinese colonists are not enough to deprive 1.78 billion Indians, Pakistanis and Bengalis of their Himalayan water rights. The 6 million Tibetans and 7 million Chinese colonists in Tibet may only use their fair share of the Brahmaputra's water based on 1980 populations. The Nepalese likewise may only use their fair share of the Brahmaputra's water based on 1980 populations. Generally, the Janisarit hydro-electric water and energy shall be divided up according to 1980 population plus new settlers.

7/ The entire Irrawaddy and half the Salween (Thanlyin / Nu Jiang) river watersheds and all water facilities in them shall be managed by the Burmas, and half by Thailand.

8/ All of the land west of the Salween River and south of the Janisarit shall be Burma as it must have been originally, before China incurred. All the land between the Salween and Mekong rivers shall be Thailand as it must have been originally. And Laos gives up two large parts of its territory that probably came while fronting for China. Now Thailand and Burma and Laos, and Cambodia and Vietnam, are again blessed with totally clear borders.

9/ China's border with its neighbors in Burma, Thailand, Laos and Vietnam, shall be defined by a point at 22.5°North and 101°East. The land to the east and north of this post shall be China. The land that is to the west and south of this post shall not be part of China. It is important that we have clear borders in this area. Also, once this line passes 50-km east of Hanoi, it shall then turn and head directly towards the closest shoreline. So if land is either in this zone, or it is between the Salween and Mekong it will belong to Thailand to secure. The Burmese that Thailand acquired by doing this will all be living in this sort of Mexas foreigner zone in Thailand. And Thailand will allow them to come and go freely to Burma at will, regardless of what the Burmese government says.

10/ The entire Mekong River watershed and all water facilities in them shall be managed by Thailand, Laos Cambodia, Vietnam, and China according to their 1980 population share, 1980, as is normal. China shall have the right to divert all unused Mekong water if it has a way to do that and the other nations have wasted the power for more than 7 years.

11/ The entire Red River watershed and all water facilities in it shall belong to Vietnam, however China may take away the excess water, but not the excess power.

12/ The Yangtze and Yellow River watersheds and traditionally majority Chinese areas of Tibet and Yunnan shall belong to China. No portion of the Yangtze and Yellow River watershed shall belong to any other nation but China. Also, all of China's claims to Himalayan territory will be cancelled except those in the watershed of the Yellow river and the Yangtze river.

13/ The Janisarit electricity and water are actually a global resource. However, due to the impracticality of sharing power and water over great distances, the Janisarit flows can only be a regional resource. The electricity generated by the Irrawaddy River, Salween River, Mekong River, Red River, Yangtze River, and their tributaries (but not the Pearl River or Yellow River) shall be shared among the nations of Burma, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, China according to their relative 1980 populations plus settlers.

14/ The right to use a river's water normally comes with the right to gather energy from the water. This energy is needed to power the downstream water distribution.

15/ We are lucky to have places to store water and energy 4,000 meters up atop the Himalayan plateau. However, nobody should live where a dam failure would likely kill them. Also, this shall not apply with small catchment pipe hydro-electric.

16/ Pakistan shall build annual water impounding lakes near Bagram, Jalalabad, Upstream from Lahri, and also perhaps on the Indus River near Khairabad, or Sojhanda Bata if this is feasible. Also, the natural basin around Sharifabad and Lakki Marwat can also be used to impound water. The Bolan River above Pinjra Bridge NH-65 is perhaps another good location for a dam.

17/ If possible we shall drain off the upper Brahmaputra at roughly 2950m, in a controlled inlet manner, through a 7km tunnel to a series of dams (near Nyingchi Mainline airport). It is easier to divert the upper Brahmaputra at also be diverted near Lo Manthang. Also in this second location, catchment is possible.

18/ We shall re-seal and refill Lake Srinagar at 1,600m elevation. This will be a huge source of dry-season water and power in west India and Pakistan. This water resources shall be shared as all of the sub-continent's water resources.

19/ The Padma River shall now be known as the Ganges-Padma River. In fact, All tributaries world wide shall be known by their Main river-hyphenated with the relevant tributary.

20/ None of the waters of the Chambal River should be flowing east into the Yamuna (Ganges). Also none of the Yamuna's waters should be flowing past Agra. Also the highlands flow of the western most Ganges tributary east of the Yamuna should perhaps be diverted into the Yamuna's flow. The Yamuna should be put in pipes at around Paonta Sahib at around 400m and then flowed into the Amritsar, Bikaner, New Delhi triangle, and also perhaps some areas on the other side of the Pakistani border.

21/ The Dhulachaur valley will have huge pipe hydroelectric facilities. In fact the entire Himalayan midlands will be bisected with Himalayan pipe hydro-electric facilities. And on the edge midlands, this land is just too valuable and needed by India. This is why Nepal must be joined in the Indian Union, as one of many financially independent nations stretching from India to Vietnam. But all this unused land in Nepal is needed for townships. We also note how the Brahmaputra river can be diverted near near the Pasighat Pangin area.

22/ The bottoms of the Himalayan rivers, where the rivers start flattening out. All of these areas are good places to look for gold.

UR'104. VOLGASTAN AND CENTRAL ASIA

1/ Central Asia has 8 basins: Caspian, Turan, Turkmen, Uzbek, Kyrgi, Balkhash, Irtysh, and Turgay basins. Except for the Kyrgi basin, each has a water source.

2/ We shall Divert the Ural, and some parts of the Belaya, Reka, Tobol, and Yesil(Ishim) rivers into the Turgay valley. Where the rivers meander greatly and loose much water to evaporation and seepage, we shall put the water in pipes. We shall do this for much of the Yesil River, and other rivers to minimize evaporation and seepage. None of the Yesil River's water shall flow north past Gastello from the desert into the green. All shall be diverted to the southwest.

3/ We shall build aqueducts so the Volga may be diverted to irrigate farming in the dry areas of Volgastan to the south and east as practical. The Volga flows almost 2.5 times as much water as the Nile. Volgastan will not only be able to feed itself from its lands, but it will be near the center of trade for the old world. So Volgastan will be able to sustain a large population, even without being near the natural center of Afro-Eurasian trade.

4/ We shall build pipe-hydroelectric system, aqueducts, and water impounding facilities so the Amu Darya River with 0.89 Niles of water and the Syr Darya River with 0.42 Niles of water, high water, can be properly used for irrigated farming in the surrounding dry downhill areas throughout more of the year. And also water that has energy to pump the Volga's water into the desert. Together these two rivers flow 1.31 Niles, the Nile supporting 300 million people in a total desert. The central Asian desert also gets much more rain than the Egyptian desert. Yet today the non-Khazak part of Central Asia supports only around 50 million, due mostly to squandered water resources.

5/ We shall build pipes and pumping facilities to get some of the Amu Darya's abundant waters into the Syr Darya basin with its abundant farm basins. We shall build impounding facilities for the Murghab and Tejen rivers, and we shall emphasize sealed pan farming throughout Central Asia.

6/ Uzbekistan has a latitude similar to that of Italy. Thus Central Asia, now very close to the main rail lines between Asia and Europe will find that the value of its crops will no longer be heavily discounted due inaccessibility.

7/ We might dig a canal to drain the salty Aral Sea (elev. 29m) into the salty Caspian Sea (elev. -18m) with perhaps 30m of pumping. The flow line will be at around 50m elevation. Then once the Aral sea has been drained, we can take water from the eastern slope and southern slope of the Ural hills (at ~450m elevation) and send it 800km to the Aral Sea. Thus we can wash the salt out and decontaminate this sealed desert basin (which is only 1/3 the salinity of the oceans.) We might build a large earthen dam at the inlet to the deep/narrow western part of the Aral Sea. Then we might use the broad and shallow other part for evaporating salty agricultural runoff. Either that, or we might use the whole Aral sea for impounding wet season water from the three rivers to the south, and the runoff from the eastern Ural hills.

8/ We shall build pipe hydro projects for the Caucas mountains including the Aras, Terek and Rioni rivers. Much of the energy generated will be used to help bring life to the dry areas that are mostly east of the Volga and Ural rivers, where the water only needs a small push.

9/ If practical, we shall try to divert most of the Volga and Ural water into the surrounding dry areas via a series of low-energy, oversized slow pipes and catchment basins.

10/ The Kazakh provinces of Aktobe, Mangystau, Atyrau, and West Kazakhstan shall now be Volgastan. This UM nation of Volgastan shall include all land on the eastern shore of the Volga River that are below Samara. Volgastan shall also include the portions of Russia south and east of Samara.

11/ The existing city of Volgograd shall be a main city of South Russia. A number of other cities shall be built in South Russia which should allow a population of over 250 people per square kilometer.

12/ The deeper parts of the Aral sea shall be pumped out and used for collecting salt contaminated water runoff at first and in later decades perhaps as seasonal fresh water reservoirs. Also, can we find salt layers around the Aral Sea area? How often has seawater flooded the Aral Sea area from the north? This information has important implications for the tsunami safety of Russia and northern Europe.

13/ Centrograd will be one of 6 main UM mega-cities Also included are Adana, New Issa, New Gwadar, Peak-king, Andeo, and Texas City.

14/ The rule shall be that goods and people may always entirely bypass Centrograd and all the other UM interchange cities and stay in the automated UM areas inside the interchanges. If Centrograd or any UM city becomes too corrupt, or too expensive, then shippers can simply send their goods directly from Europe to Asia, or Asia to Africa, or Africa to Europe without anything stopping in Centrograd or anywhere else. Centrograd gets its bounty from the opportunity of setting up business near a great free crossroads. (This incidentally was the original symbolism/ meaning of the Christian cross before it was turned into something else. The cross symbolizes the opposite of the enclosed trade paradises of Ishtar's internal religions.

15/ All Ingushetia lands shall be merged with Azerbaijan. All Portions of Dagestan south of the Terek River shall be merged with Azerbaijan. All Azeri and Dagestan people shall owe a debt of gratitude to this plan throughout their future generations. From now, all the people around Azerbaijan shall live in peace, and fully submit their host nations, or they shall be moved away.

16/ Abkhazia and South Ossetia and North Ossetia shall be merged with Georgia for all purposes, due to ancient historical ties. Russia's new military base in Abkhazia shall be seen as an admission that the Russians have no claim to the area.

17/ Karbardino-Balkaria and Karachaevo-Cherkessia shall remain with South Russia.

18/ The people of Ajaria shall vote and decide to stay with Georgia or to join Turkey.

19/ There shall be a great new city between Centrograd and Moscow on the higher ground near Livney and Tambov called Gagarin.

20/ The Centrograd region shall be a square 500km on each side. This shall be divided into 4 quadrants in an 4-part X-pie design on the outside of an inner square that is 250km on each side. The inner square is not precisely concentric with the outer square. In fact it is about 40km west of the center. The inner 250km square shall belong to the UM, the outer roughly trapezoid shapes shall belong to the nation on that side: Russia on the north, South Russia on the south, Ukraine on the west and Volgastan on the east. Also each nation shall be free to bypass Volgastan on the UM rail lines. And China shall be free to bypass both Kazakhstan and Volgastan, just like Portugal and Malaysia shall be free to bypass all the nations in between.

21/ The UM shall build a double Tump wall with a 3km no-man's land around the inner Centrograd zone. The UM shall patrol this zone.

22/ The size of the central ring for all the UM interchange cities shall be 15km in radius resulting an enclosed ringbahn area of 706 square kilometers. This compares with the Berlin ringbahn which encompasses an area of 88 square kilometers. Also, this area shall be exclusively for interchanging and there shall be no housing, or offices, or national or private long-term warehousing or commerce except food and beverages, and markets for rail passengers. Even the hotels must be outside the interchange area. However, there shall be the UM's international warehousing for containers of various sizes from micro to oversize in the no-man's land. Also, there shall be no customs or inspections at the interchange. If there are any inspections let them be outside the restricted-entry interchange where the shipper can inspect the cargo with the customs officer.

23/ Kazakhstan shall give all its nuclear weapons and potentially military nuclear materials to the United States for disposal/destruction. Kazakhstan shall also make all of its nuclear weapons manufacturing facilities open to the United States for destruction. Thousands of randomly assigned UM Senators shall be present as international observers for these destruction activities.

24/ If practical, dams shall be built near Kala Zal Afghanistan and Bekobod Uzbekistan. As much rainy season water as practical should be impounded for annual use in these apparently naturally waterproof basins by repairing their now washed out side areas. Khujand and the affected small towns will probably need to be moved. The water after these dams generally flows in dry-season via pipes or in concrete drain culverts into the desert farming areas.

25/ All around the desert sides of the Himalayan highlands, at the ends of all the valleys especially, we shall drill exploratory wells looking for ground water. Where wells are possible, these shall be developed.

26/ Issyk Kul Lake is 668 meters deep. We shall lower the depth of this lake (with drinkable water salinity) to the point where the reduced depth stops substantially increasing water available. This may be 100 or 200 meters lower. We will pump from wherever the flow is optimal and then reclaiming our energy on the way down at a slight loss. Later we may lower the lakes leak-way valley by which this lake drains towards Bishkek. It is thought that Lake Issyk Kul leaks terribly around its upper edges, but not at all in its central pit with its vertical walls. We shall also divert the water of Lake Kapchagay to somewhere useful.

27/ We must all note the names of this place, note how magically hard they are to remember and even to say. This apparently is to prevent the world from talking about this place. We have: Oapshaghay Bogeni, Kapchagay, Lake Alakol, Lake balkhash, and Lake Issyk Kul, all in Kyrgyzstan.

28/ The topographic maps of Lake Issy Kul show evidence of leakage erosion on the slope below. Lake Issy Kul shall be renamed Lake Almaty, and its runoff shall be called the 3rd Darya river. The valley below shall be called the Tsarkent valley.

29/ Lake Issyk Kul (Ysyk-Kol, 1,601m elev. salinity 0.5g/l) is the 10th largest lake the world. This lake feeds 5 other water features, all with declining or flat elevations and increasing salinity, and hard to use names.

a/ Lake-1: Oapshaghay Bogeni or Kapchagay elev. 478m, salinity ~1g/l b/ West Lake Balakash, elev. 341m, salinity is <3g/l.

c/ East Lake Balakash, elev. 341m, salinity 3-8g.

d/ Alakol Lake (341m), salinity 8g/l.

e/ Aibihu Lake (189m), salinity 87g/l.

30/ Song-Kul Lake max depth 13m, is at 3,000m elevation. This lake also probably leaks and shall be regarded as a high water collection opportunity more than anything else.

31/ Chatyr Kol Lake has a maximum depth of 16m at 3,500m elevation. This lake also probably leaks and for this reason it shall be regarded as a high water collection opportunity more than anything else. Water from this lake would have a long gentle slope that zigzags down to the Tashkent/ Syr Darya valley below. It is an ideal sort of place to develop our pipe hydro-electric generation and conveyance systems.

32/ The capacity of Toktogul Reservoir shall be increased by adding other higher catchment areas where practical, and where they don't leak. There are 4 other large locations uphill from Toktogul for high water storage. Many of the minor valleys leading to this lake should have their own small dams, or perhaps multiple dams to maximize high water storage and energy output.

33/ All of the H-trestles between Adana and Bulgaria, and Europe and China and India shall be filled with 10,000 psi concrete so they are very hard to damage.

UR'105. DANUBE RIVER AQUEDUCTS

1/ As is the universal right of all nations, Turkey and Greece shall be permitted to build aqueducts to take unused fresh water from the Danube River to their land via Romania and Bulgaria.

2/ The underpopulated Greek province of eastern Macedonia and Thrace shall be combined with the European part of Turkey and merged with Bulgaria. The Turks must leave on schedule. They may also have their ownership remainder bought at fair market value. The two ridges of Bulgaria shall house up to 20-million additional people. And because nearly everyone will be foreigner mix, this nation shall become another UM mix nation. Romania may also do the same thing, taking its population up 22-million, if it wants.

3/ There shall be a great urban area on the Lviv highlands, the highlands mostly south and east of Lviv. In fact, all of the highland areas between Lviv and Donetsk and even further east shall be for new communities on the highlands adjacent to the main Eurasian train lines. So they will all gather and be organized around the two main line stops in Ukraine.

4/ The mountains of Southwest Ukraine, Bulgaria, Romania, Ukraine, Slovakia, and Poland shall be well developed with many hundreds of new townships.

UR'106. WHO OWNS THE HYDRO SYSTEM

1/ In Canada, the US, Mexico, Australia, Japan, and Spain, the facilities shall be owned and run by the individual nations because there is no question about division of the resources. In Africa there must be one UM managed system because there isn't enough high water to power all the water movement needed. With India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh, the three nations need to cooperate as one so that the water and electricity can be used properly. The nations of Europe can manage their own water facilities. Japan shall manage its own water. Outside of these nations, the UM shall pay-for and run all of the new pipe hydro projects and apportion the benefits based on population and need, for some nations like Congo have absolutely no need for water.

2/ The Janisarit area will have the world's greatest overabundance of energy. So much of the world's energy intense industry will occur nearby.

3/ The UM shall have the right in case of global climate emergencies (and only in this circumstance) to divert water to where it will produce the most sustenance for mankind.

4/ All counties shall entirely own all their local water movement infrastructure that they have traditionally used either in part or in whole. No citizen (real or fictional), or any foreigner, or any foreign government shall ever own any community water movement infrastructure.

5/ All delivery points within each water system shall be required to charge the same amount by volume of water, except that there may be a fair surcharge for those points that require additional infrastructure or energy to deliver the water. In these high-energy cases, the water users shall pay a fair sum for the energy required to move the water. Nothing more, nothing less.

6/ When communities share a scarce water source, all communities shall pay the same price, the higher allocation price for water collected from a source. Then as normal, all such "allocation taxes" shall be credited to the national government of each nation.

7/ National governments may only exercise control over inter-community water movement infrastructure when it is used by more than one county and there is not enough water, or the water comes from an underground source that is being depleted, or there is a dispute that cannot be resolved, or the people are not leaving 15% for wildlife habitat.

8/ All communities shall be free to use non-urban land outside their own jurisdiction for the placement of water moving linear infrastructure. This linear infrastructure must however be run under or over existing roads and other routes. Also the linear infrastructure must be of one line or one densely packed stacked bus of pipes.

9/ There shall be no government subsidies of water prices anywhere that water is scarce.

10/ The UM shall have generous X-prizes for inventions and improvements in water storage, movement and use.

11/ Primitive nations that are unable to manage their infrastructure may allow foreign management of their telecom, hydro, and/or electric infrastructure. These nations must be extremely poor and generally unable to manage their own infrastructure themselves.

12/ The symbol of the UM water program and the pipe hydro-electric and long distance water projects systems shall be the Girsu dam shape.

13/ Where there is not enough agricultural water, preference shall be given to:

a/ The urban/suburban water system.

b/ To people in their homes for their home and business cisterns.

c/ In times of flood, to fill and leach salt once and water saturate once all bagged urban/suburban plants that have been watered with wastewater for most of the year.

d/ Agricultural uses where the irrigation water is only occasionally needed.

e/ Then next in line is water regularly needed, but for only a small part of the year.

f/ Then next in line is water regularly needed, but for a bigger part of the year.

g/ last in line are uses like alfalfa, almonds and rice that are entirely dependent on irrigation water, and need lots of irrigation water.

UR'107. THE UNINHABITED WATERSHED RULE

1/ The nations that have been traditionally the users of a river shall be the owners of that river and its entire watershed, unless another nation also traditionally occupied the watershed. The community of peace loving nations must always err on the side of disfavoring modern occupation after the advent of trains and especially automobiles. Otherwise we slope the world towards war. So occupations after modern transportation should not count as traditional occupancy of another nation's upstream watershed, even after a century.

2/ It shall not be allowed for one nation to pollute the fresh water runoff water that flows into another nation's rivers. Where this is occurring, the UM shall have jurisdiction to stop the polluting activity.

3/ There shall be no dams built above cities that are vulnerable to dam ruptures.

UR'108. THE RIGHT TO HARVEST UNUSED WATER

1/ All water poor UM member nations shall all have the right to build aqueducts and take unused water from the rivers of their neighbors. However, the taking nation must:

a/ Be UM member and obey the UM rules, particularly the UM population rules.

b/ Not have nuclear, biological, or chemical weapons or facilities for making these.

c/ Be ready in case the benefactor nation ever needs this water back for any agricultural or urban reason. Then the previously unused water is subject to a 50/50 split, with the donor nation able to recoup up to half of the annual water customarily used by the receiving nation. However, all this water must be used for agriculture or urban uses.

2/ The right to harvest unused water shall not include hydro-electric power and hydro-electric power rights over 200m of fall.

3/ This section is meant entirely for rivers like the Volga, Ural Mississippi and Danube where most of the water is being wasted, and not at all for rivers like the Nile and Rio Grande where most of the water is used. Furthermore, these rights to harvest unused fresh water shall not come into effect until 2040.01.01.

4/ Worldwide, there shall be no environmental rules that require taking good fresh water and spilling it either in the ocean, or in some saltish near ocean environment.

UR'109. FREE TRADE RULES FOR RAILROADS

1/ In all member nations, all railways public transit systems and linear infrastructure is hereby nationalized and made the property of that nation's government to the extent the Over-Senate of either that member nation, or the UM Over-Senate elects to claim ownership.

2/ All goods that move by efficient railroads shall pay no transportation tax. All good that move internationally by inefficient roads shall pay the prescribed UM international road transportation tax per cubic meter/km in advance. All good that move internationally by inefficient boats shall pay the prescribed UM international boat transportation tax per cubic meter/km in advance. This boat transportation tax shall be abated for islands, and routes where boats are more energy efficient than trains, such as between Brazil's Suape (swap?) port and West Africa.

3/ The UM shall elect a fixed towage charge per 100-km for all high-speed passenger rail cars on generally flat lines and another for cargo rail cars based on weight and distance. Where there are hills and mountains, the rail cars shall pay a supplement based on the weight of the car multiplied by the added electricity required for that mountainous route. These towage charges will certainly be lower around the Janisarit than in say flat dry Australia with very little electricity.

4/ The UM Over-Senate shall adjust these charges from time to time.

5/ Just as we provide the roads for free today, the UM shall not seek to charge user and recover the cost of building or maintaining its rail infrastructure. Nor shall the UM look at towage charges for a source of income. All Government owned rail lines, auxiliary rail infrastructure, and towage shall be provided at built cost. There shall be no charges to pay back the cost of right of way acquisitions, or system build-outs, including viaducts, bridges, stations, and locomotives. Users shall only bear the electricity/fuel cost of pulling. Users shall also frequently supply their own railcars just as we do today with our road system and private bus operators, who share the routes with municipal busses.

6/ The UM shall however charge protective tariffs on international shipping between most parts of the world and it shall bring in great sums of income doing this.

7/ If rail congestion develops, we shall impose per train congestion pricing so longer trains are used.

UR'110. A BLANKET EASEMENT

1/ The UM shall have an easement and the right to construct international railroads, roads, canals, aqueducts, water pipes, pipe hydro-electric lines, fuel pipelines, geothermal heat pipelines, electric lines, communication lines, and all other public utility lines and linear infrastructure anywhere it elects, anywhere on earth for the benefit of mankind. However, the UM shall generally avoid the centers of existing large cities in selecting routing for its infrastructure, except where this is not practical. Instead, the UM shall try to find the most remote good places it can find for its new linear infrastructure and new rail based cities. Then it shall attempt to organize new valuable communities around its new linear infrastructure.

2/ All nations shall have an easement and a right to construct railroads, roads, canals, aqueducts, water pipes, pipe hydro-electric lines, fuel pipelines, geothermal heat pipelines, electric lines, communication lines, and all other public utility lines and linear infrastructure through the land of neighboring nations if needed to access the UM's international infrastructure lines, or to connect in a responsible way to natural resource reserves.

3/ No military base, nature reserve, natural park, Indian reservation, vital habitat, swamp, beach, river, or agricultural land or other land shall be off-limits for UM linear infrastructure. Whatever is the most optimal route as elected by the UM, that is where the railroad, highway, aqueduct or utility lines will go.

4/ When the UM con-dems more than 5% of an a human owner's land, it shall compel the national government of that nation to give 15% more land of a similar character than the UM took. If the taking is less than 5% of the land owned, then no amount shall be paid. No increment shall be paid to fictional citizens.

5/ Wherever a UM train stops, the UM shall con-dem all land within at least a 50km radius, however it may con-dem all land within up to 200km radius. Wherever a UM highway has an exit, the UM shall con-dem all land within at least 3km but it may con-dem up to a 30km radius. Where the UM rail lines go, this area shall generally have a 1,000-meter wide easement on both sides.

6/ The UM shall be free to bring in workers and suppliers from other nations and other regions to build its transportation infrastructure if it elects.

7/ No UM member nation or PU province shall condone violence against any UM linear infrastructure. If any of the UM's international linear infrastructure systems come under attack, the UM shall have the right to protect mankind's common transport infrastructure from the criminals and land pirates.

8/ All UM member nations must allow the UM to open commodity extraction reserves on their territory, if the UM rules that their deposit is among the richest in the world.

9/ Government shall price all of its conveyance infrastructure to maximize human utility, not profit. This shall be so for all conveyance infrastructure be it rails, roads, pipelines, communications lines, electric lines, airports, ports, or other systems.

10/ No nation shall ever be permitted to block, impede, interfere-with, inspect, regulate, harass, threaten, unnecessarily delay, tax, regulate, or extract money or concessions from trade or passengers passing through in its land, or those building infrastructure to do this. This shall include all UM facilities such as: railroads, roads, canals, aqueducts, water pipes, pipe hydro-electric lines, fuel pipelines, geothermal heat pipelines, electric lines, communication lines, and all other utility lines and UM linear infrastructure, and those lines connecting to UM infrastructure.

11/ No member nation or PU province shall interfere-with the construction or maintenance of UM railroads, roads, canals, aqueducts, water pipes, pipe hydro-electric lines, fuel pipelines, geothermal heat pipelines, electric lines, communication lines, and all other public utility lines or other UM linear infrastructure, and those lines connecting to UM infrastructure.

12/ No member nation or PU province shall have the right to dictate any terms for the goods carried, or the use, routing, construction, design, outlets, stops, speed limits, or any other design feature or operating consideration of any UM railroads, roads, canals, aqueducts, water pipes, pipe hydro-electric lines, fuel pipelines, geothermal heat pipelines, electric lines, communication lines, or all other utility lines or other UM linear infrastructure, or the lines of neighboring nations that connect to the UM infrastructure.

Also no nation shall have the right to stop, or talk with or arrest, or conduct immigration checks for pass-through passengers.

UR'111. INTERNATIONAL ACCESS

1/ All nations shall have an easement through neighboring nations to construct:

a/ Aqueducts to connect to the unused water resources of their neighbors.

b/ Non-stop rail lines to connect to UM and other rail lines in the land of their neighbors.

c/ Pipelines to connect to UM and other pipelines in the land of their neighbors.

d/ Electricity and communication lines to connect to either UM systems or the system of near neighboring nations.

e/ Fenced highways to connect to UM highways in the land of their neighbors. If nation #1 builds the highway, then nation #2 must build and staff its side of the border checkpoints at its sole cost.

2/ Railcars worldwide must meet uniform standards and be regularly inspected to be used on the system. The upper parts and interiors of the rail-cars and rail-trucks may vary considerably.

3/ To reduce traffic, the UM may establish minimum average passenger counts or freight tonnage per railcar. Government may also put the less peopled railcars at the back of the train where the interchange walk is longer.

4/ Government shall not limit the number of enterprises competing to offer fancy railcars.

5/ Each nation shall be allowed to regulate its own imports from the UM rail system. However, no nation may in any way interfere with the transportation of goods through their territory.

6/ It is intended that the UM rail system will grow as a web nation all over the earth incorporating all races of man. As this vascular territory grows in population, our old national boundaries are expected to become less important.

UR'112. AFRICA RAIL SYSTEM

The main Africa exchange shall be located near Khartoum Somalia and the new city of Adana. Here is where Africa's exchange will go. This will be the most important commercial city in Africa. It will be where the lines mostly converge on their way out of Africa.

1/ The Adana line Connects Africa with the outside world with stops at: Marsabit, Kapoeta, Gambelar, Bunj, East of the northerly tip of South Sudan (New Khartoum), then a long gap on the normal trains, then Cairo (which will eventually be deleted except for tourism trains), Then a long gap on the normal trains, Then finally, New Issa in Turkey.

2/ The East-West line runnings from Adana to Chad, Nigeria, Mali and eventually near Senegal. The stops shall be Adana, north of Fafiojo, north of 100km southeast of Muglad, Gereida, Birao, Harazw, south of Chinjuil, N'Djamena, Gashua, Sokoto, Niamey, Bankilare, Timbuktu, 80km southeast of Nara, Diema, north of Diawara, then the line connects with the coastal train in southwest Mauritania. Also from Diawara, there shall be a spur line to near the port west of Bamdainca, and the international airport somewhere nearby. Also, the round lake north of Kounkane might be repaired and used as a reservoir.

3/ The Cape line runs from Marsabit to Garissa, Malindi, Tanga, Pwani (Dar es Salaam), Kilwa Kivinje, Mtwara, Chefe Bacar, 100 km southwest of Nacala, Pebane, 15km East of Chimuara (Zambeze River), Rio Pungue, Domasse, Chokwe, 30km south of Jozini, Richards Bay, and Durban.

4/ The East Loop line runs from the Main Line at New Khartoum, to Al Qadarif at the end of the ridge, then to, Kassala, Tokar, Gahtelay (Asmara). The underpopulated coastal strip of Eritria, the province of Southern Red Sea shall be ceded to Ethiopia, along with all parts of Eritrea that are east of Zula, then another stop at Arta (Djibouti), Then another stop at Berbera, and then rolls past Garoowe to a stop at Caabudwaaq, and another around Mirshabeelle, and Baardheere Wajir, and Marsabit where it ends at the 3-way junction of the Adana Line and the Kenya Line. There is a spur to Xaafuun (Shafun) port, the main port for east African sea trade with India.

5/ The Morocco line runs from the west end of the East-West line at Diawara north without stops for a very long route before stopping near Agadir, Tamansourt (Marrakesh), Casablanca, North of Sidi Slimane, Taza, Oujda, Relizane, South of Algiers, Constantine, near Tunis, near Tripoli, Cairo. 7/ The Senegal line: Lafia, 80km north of Wukari, Nasarawa, Tata, Fugar, The curiously named town of Ondo, 10km northwest of Pobe, Lokossa, Sogakope, Cape Coast, 10km north of Axim, Noe, 20km southwest of Adiake, 10km west of Bonoua, north of Sassandra, San Pedro, Pleebo, Dugbe River, Sehnkwehn River, Timbo River, Monrovia, Mano River, Freetown, Dabiss, Brazil Airport and port, and to Diawara and the East-West line.

8/ The North Congo line starts at Haraze, Bamingui, 10km north of Kouango, Kemo, Zondo (Bangui), 100-km southeast of Ouessou, Owando, 80-km north of Moanda, and finally the Bifoun junction with the coastal train.

9/ The Central African line starts on the xxxx. line at Narus interchange, Terekeka, Warab, Tambura/Obo, West of Zemlo, Rafai, Bangassou, Mobaye, to join with the Western Congo line at Kouango.

10/ The Southeast Congo line: Bangassou, Buta, 20km north of Banalia, Kisangani, Kindu, Sankuru, Bandundu, 20km south of Kinchasa, and Luozi, where the South Congo line joins with the West Coast line.

11/ The Zambezi line: From 15km East of Chimuara (Zambeze River), to Tete, Refunsa GMA, 15km northwest of Chiundu, North of Livingston, Katima Mulilo, Senanga, 20km north of Lukulu, Chavuma, Dilolo, Musumba, Kananga, to Sankuru and the Southeast Congo line.

12/ The Angola Border line: This line starts at Katima Mulilo, and then runs down the border of Namibia and Angola to the Atlantic coast, with stops at Divundu, 13/ The Pretoria line: This spur line starts at Domasse, to Groblersbrug, Krokodilrivier (to Pretoria and Johannesburg), Gabrone, Tsabong, 130km north of Uppington, then the new railroad follows the Sishen-Saldanha railway course to Saldanha bay with 4 stops in between.

14/ The Uppington line shall from Uppington to Windhoek line with stops at around 200km apart.

15/ The East Victoria line shall run from Kapoeta to Nimule, Poder, Alebtong, Kapir, to Butaleja, Busia, Magina, Namba Kalenge, Kuruya, Lamadi, Bugoro, Tabora (junction with the Tanzania high line).

16/ The Victoria lines west line shall run from Kapoeta to Nimule, Nwoya, Oyam, Masindi-port, Kyankwanzi, Akooma, Missenyi, Kagera, Kaliua, Tabora (junction with the Tanzania high line).

17/ The Tanzania high line shall run from Morogoro (Dar es Salaam) to Kilosa, south of Dodomo (at 950M), to Rungwa, Tabora (junction with both Victoria lines).

18/ The Nairobi high line from Marsabit to around 10km west of Kirimon, to Nyeri, Kamulu, Kajado, and end in Morogoro.

19/ The Addis Abbaba line from Kapoeta to Omo National Park, 20km west of Maze National Park, Lake Omo, 10km east of Shone, Ziway, Adama, Arta (Djibouti), the junction of the east loop.

20/ The Jimma Line From New Khartoum, Idiru, near the Kemashi River fork, Jogir, 30km north of Yanfa, 20km east of Alga, Glundu, Addis Ababa.

21/ The Blue Nile Loop From Idiru, to 30km north of Kelo, 30km south of Eilas, 20km east of Dejen, and 8 more stops including one at Filakit Gereger and another at Hidmo, on the way to the East Loop line. This has numerous spurs to the highlands, and the tributary valleys, including a spur to Lake Tana.

22/ There will be many interchanges and hence many spur lines in Africa and the other parts of the world as indicated herein. Also, the worldwide trunk railroad system presented herein shall be considered primarily about freight interchanges, and secondarily about travel. A great many other freight lines and passenger lines will surely be add to the freight backbone system explained herein.

23/ It shall be thought by all that the most important thing for increasing Africa's overall wealth is to make sure that Africa can trade freely with the outside world without Ishtar taking the biggest bite it can. If we are going to completely end Ishtar, the bite it takes from Africa cannot be ignored.

24/ In Africa, the international community shall protect the UM rail zone and it may attack nearby lands that are raiding the new rail line.

UR'113. TURKEY LINES

1/ There shall be a new major interchange city near Batman Turkey, and on the cool hills to the north and east. This is where the routes come together from Africa, Europe and India via south Iran. This is somewhat near Ain Issa Turkey, and this city shall be called "New Issa".

2/ There shall be a Hormuz line from New Issa to India. This line runs down the coast of the Persian Gulf and Gulf of Oman to India, with stops in: New Issa, 50km southwest of Cizre, Erbil, Jalawa, Shushtar/Ahavaz, Borazjan, Gwadar, Karachi, India.

3/ There shall be a Trojan line, from New Issa to Europe, with stops in: New Issa, Euphrates River, Hatay/ Kahramanmaras valley, Imamoglu, Silifke, Konya/ Karaman, Polatli, Osmanieli, Istanbul, Europe.

4/ The Black Sea line shall be a spur from the Trojan line in the Konya/ Karaman area stop to: Kulu, Kirikkale, Corum, Amasya, Niksar, Susehri, Kelkit, Pazar, Yusufeli, Borcka, Batumi (Georgia), 5km north of Samtredia, 5km north of Gori, Ruisbolo/Sadiquli, Ganja, Sabirabad interchange with the Axis line. There are two rail routes from Europe through Turkey, so that it is harder to stop trade for profit. This Black Sea line is important because it avoids the Iran/ Afghanistan area.

5/ The port of Latakia shall remain open. There shall be no communities in the Arabian peninsula that remain inhabited south of this point.

6/ Malababadi damn in Turkey can be significantly raised, and the water storage increased, maybe doubled/ There is also an upper area for water storage and a number of other potential damn locations in this area.

7/ For reasons of earthquake safety, Turkey shall focus on moving most of the hazard zone people to the Karamana coast and inland areas from Antalya to Osmaniye, at ideal elevations for climate and living. The trading city will be Neoisa, but the main city of Turkey, Karamana, will be located along the coast in the most earthquake-free part of the nation.

8/ Turkey shall emulate Thailand and so many other nations with regard to low cost cargo container transport to anywhere in the nation.

9/ In most parts of earthquake prone Turkey, we imagine concrete building-block buildings that have 4 or 12 units per floor and 5-stories tall, and on concrete "fast-table-cloth" slip-off foundations. These buildings have soft connections between them that are designed to fail in an earthquake so the buildings don't bump into each other much.

10/ New Issa shall be perhaps 120km in diameter. It shall be divided among the nations of the world according to their 1980 populations in pie slices, with a 20km diameter train interchange in the middle, and free no-toll, no-tariffs, highways in every direction through the pie slices to the surrounding nations of Kurdistan, Turkey, Iran and the others further away.

UR'114. PERSIAN & CASPIAN LINES

1/ The Persian line shall run from:

a/ New Issa, Turkey.

b/ Near Kiziltepe, Turkey.

c/ Near Erbil, Iraq.

d/ Near Dezful, Iran.

e/ Near Hormuz.

f/ Inland from Gwadar, Pakistan (at ~200m elevation)

g/ Noori Abad (Hyderabad).

h/ Raniwara, India.

2/ The Gwadar line shall run from:

a/ The new city of New Gwadar, inland from old Gwadar, Pakistan (at ~250m elevation).

b/ Zabol, Iran

c/ Mary, Turkmenistan.

d/ The Gwadar line splits at Mary, with the eastern fork (the Samarkand line) heading towards Semey, via near Bukkara, near Samarkand, near Tashkent, Near Bishkek, then to near Semey (although there is a fork towards China via Usharal, Druzhba, Karamay, etc.)

e/ The western fork splits again, into the Iran Line (explained elsewhere herein) and the Caspian line. The Caspian line does not have any stops between Mary and Orsk.

3/ New Gwadar will be of great importance to the people of South Asia (Pakistan, India, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh, Burma, Thailand, Malaysia, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, and even a bit for Indonesia and China) because here is where the South Asian trade will be parsed between going towards either New Issa, Centograd or heading towards western China and the Bearing straight. Because of all the many people, this is a volume of trade that will surely exceed that of China. Here at New Gwadar, the trade naturally goes in 4 directions, and here it naturally come from 4 directions. Therefore, this city will have trade flows that rival Adana, New Issa, and Centograd. Mary will may likewise have a similar function. Both cities will get their water from distant Afghan runoff.

4/ New Gwadar and Mary will be organized around a ring railroad, like the Germans had before WW2. 80% of the pie shall go to Iran, Afghanistan, the central Asian nations, Pakistan, India, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Burma, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia, and the Philippines based on their pro-rata 1980 population. The other 20% shall go to the other nations of the world.

5/ Iran will be an extreme beneficiary of switching to a rail based transport system. For Iran will soon become right in the middle of rail-based world trade, instead of being peripheral to sea-based world trade. Also, look at where Iran is located: It is right next to both the New Issa UM trading center, and the Gwadar UM international trading center, and not only that, but it is only 1600km to Centrograde. So we imagine the Iranian government providing rail based container transport anywhere in the Iranian rail system, or to Neoisa, Gwadar or Centrograd for maybe $150. Also, it must be noted that this money is not getting all vacuumed up by rich and fat people. This wealth will go to the Iranian people now and for all eternity. This is because now Iran will be in the valuable middle. Mazel tov!

6/ The following mostly desert wasteland areas shall be part of the new UM territory of Volgastan.

a/ The parts of Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan west of the Amu-Darya / Aral Sea.

b/ The entire Pakistani provinces of Chagai, Sashuk, Panjgur, Kech, and Gwadar.

c/ The entire Afghan provinces of Nimruz and Farah, and the portions of Herat province that are more than 20km west of Herat city.

d/ The Iranian provinces of South Khorasan and Sistan/ Baluchestan that are east of Birjand.

7/ India, the nation with the greatest interest in free trade shall have the primary role in using military force to assure that the rail lines between south Asia and Centrograd, New Issa, and Semey stay open. For the purposes of defending its trade routes, India shall now get three military bases to its west in perpetuity. These bases may be used by either India, Europe, or the UM, however they shall belong to India:

a/ A 30km x 30km base near Zabol Iran.

b/ A base on the Turkmenbasy peninsula (India shall get the entire peninsula).

c/ A base on Khark Island near Iran. (India shall get the entire island and 200m all around in the water, and Iran Shall no longer have any right to use this island.

8/ We shall all note how Ishtar has historically sought to keep India (and all of South Asia) from reaching Europe and Africa by land (and by sea). This then drove the trade onto over-priced sea vessels run by Mideast interests. For this reason, the UM shall strongly discourage sea trade, except for islands and to bridge straights, and to bridge between west Africa and South America, and also between far east Africa and West India.

9/ All nations do better when their goods can reach their market inexpensively, especially billion-person economies like India has. Here, having a bigger free market is always the best way to make money. It is only outsider parasite mafia nations that seek to quietly and secretly sphinx-off other people's trade by making trade dangerous or expensive. Parasite mafias generally try to sphinx-off outside trade, so they can parasitize the margins they create.

10/ India's freedom of trade shall be thought key to the prosperity of all of South Asia. For without a free flowing railroad flowing from Singapore to Europe and Africa, the trade will have to go by expensive boats. And all of Asia knows that there are foreign boat owners charging a ransom for ocean container cargo when the world economy is very strong.

11/ Like everywhere else on earth, India, and all the other nations of south and southeast Asia shall always have the right to cross over Pakistan and the entire Mideast area. This shall include, all matters of Pakistani civil unrest and war, even in times of war between Pakistan and India, should his ever occur.

12/ Turkey must acknowledge its role in the Armenian genocide, its role in World War One, and its continued role in taking over the balkans. Turkey must also renounce all of its claims to all Kurdish majority areas.

UR'115. INDIA'S RAIL SYSTEM

1/ The main international interchange city for India in the north shall be near Narwana Junction in Punjab. The main international interchange city for India in the west shall be near Raniwara. The main international interchange city for India in the east shall be the Deoghar/ Suri Rajmahal/ Babupur area. Other main interchanges shall go south of Nagpur, east of Surat, east of Vadodara and similar places where the land is flat and the trains can be fast.

2/ There shall be a West Coast line running from Narwana Junction to Raniwara and down the west coast until it can cross south of Tirupur. Then the line becomes the East Coast line and goes up the east coast and joins the main line at Deoghar. The Deoghar Line shall run from Surat to Deoghar.

3/ India shall have two lines to the west, the Kyber line and the Persian line (discussed elsewhere). The Kyber line shall start at the Eurasian line and run past where the Amu Darya passes Qarshi, Angor, Uzbekistan, Bagram, Afghanistan, Pabbi, Pakistan, Gujar Khan, Pakistan, South of Jammu India, then there are 10 or 15 stops on the way to Deoghar, then to Brahmanbaria, Bangladesh, then to East of Bago Burma, Mandalay, Alekon, and ending in Kanchanaburi, Thailand.

then West of Nakhon Ratchasima, Thailand.

then Xeno, Laos, then North of Dong Ha, Vietnam.

4/ The Persian line shall run along the coast of Iran to New Issa.

5/ The Southern Line shall run from Khammam to Nagpur and the Trans-India line.

6/ The Chennai Line shall run from Kaylan to Pune and Chennai.

7/ The Bombay bay Line shall run from Kalyan to near Eluru. This is near the city with the doublespeak name Bon•bay = Good•bay.

8/ The Narmada line shall run from Surat to Patna.

9/ The Agra Line runs from Surat to Agra and the Trans-India line.

10/ The Edge line runs from Mamsai along the edge of the Himalayas to near Lahore, Kashmore, Larkana, near Karachi, to a point on the coast near the current Pakistan/ Iran border. At this point, one line (the Persian line) will continue westward along the coast, and the other the Kyber line will fork northward, through the Kyber pass into Central Asia.

11/ As normal herein, the new train lines shall be built at least a city's distance from the old cities where the land is cheap for new train lines and for new cities. Thus the new infrastructure can pay for itself when strata titles and lots are sold in the new efficient and inexpensive cities.

UR'116. CHINA'S RAIL SYSTEM

1/ The Eurasian line starts in or near Xingtang (between Baoding and Shijiazhuang). This shall be China's new main interchange city. There are ample safe hills nearby.

2/ The rail line from Xingtang to the Bearing straight (and eventually the Americas) shall be called the Northern line, or the China Northern line outside China.

3/ The rail line from Xingtang to Vietnam (and eventually India) shall be called the Indochina line.

4/ The rail line from Xingtang to Europe shall be called the Eurasian line.

5/ All three of China's main lines shall meet in Xingtang which will have an immense cargo-only area similar in size to that of Centograd.

6/ In China and India, we will undoubtedly see double and perhaps triple main lines in parallel.

UR'117. THE EURASIAN LINE

1/ From Xingtang, in the coastal flood plane of east China, there shall be stops as follows:

2/ South and East of Datong.

3/ Between Hohhot/Baotou.

4/ Between Baotou/Bayannur.

5/ Between Bayannur/Wuhai.

6/ Urumqi basin

7/ Near Zaysan

8/ Via M38 roughly to Semey

9/ Near Omsk (north of Astana)

10/ Near Tyumen

11/ Near Kostanay

12/ Near Orsk (interchange for the Indian trains to Europe.

India may also build other train lines to Centograd if it is having problems with the security of its trade between Orsk and Centograd.)

13/ From Orsk past Orenburg, down the valley to a station near Uralsk, and then past Samara. and down one of the valleys to South of Samara on the low ground. Then the train shall go up the Syzran valley. The large highlands up at over 200m elevation shall be the location of Centograd (or New Samara).

14/ The train line then generally follows or snakes along the ridge to the west to a new city on the highlands east of Oryol. In fact, there should be about 10 new major metropolises on Russian highlands west of Moscow, Voronezh, and Valday that do not connect directly with the Eurasian line.

15/ We shall draw a line from Chocimsk Belarus to Stara Huta Ukraine. The territory to the west of this line shall no longer belong to Russia, but instead to Belarus. The new 3-way intersection of Russia, Belarus, and Ukraine shall be a new interchange city on the Eurasian line. Here as typical, there shall typically be 3 national exits from the international UM railway station where there are 3 nations served by the rail line.

16/ At the Belarus/Ukraine border between Stolin and Sarny.

17/ Kovel, with the Lublin, Lviv, Rivne, Sarny, Pinsk, Brest, Lublin area. This western Volhynia area shall be made into a UM nation. The stop itself goes at Kovel 18/ The Rail line goes in the tsunami flood valley to the north of Warsaw, with the New Warsaw going in the Kielce area.

19/ Near Kostrzyn nad Odra (the oder Frankfurt or Frank•port Germany, not the main Frankfurt, which is also an important junction point for trade, and no coincidence, stamps/franking must be purchased in order to use either of Germany's natural main stations). Here is where the trains from further west on the northern route, (Germany, France, Iberia, the UK and Scandinavia), and the trains from the east converge with all the lines from the south (Italy, Greece, the Baltics, the Hungarian basin, Austria, south Germany, and the Africa/India trade). To the north of this place, the new Polish/German border shall be a straight line from Kostrin to the border point near Swinoujscie on the sea. To the south, the new border shall be a straight line between Kostrin and Liberec. For all time, this shall be the border between Germany and Poland. Also, regarding the Polish, Czech mountains, the polish watershed goes to Poland the the Czech watershed goes to Cesko.

20/ Lubtheen/ bleckede, Germany, where the trains to Denmark and Scandanavia converge.

21/ On the border of Germany and the Netherlands at Emmen. Here the line from the Dusseldorf valley, and Frankfurt valley converges with the main Eurasian line.

22/ There shall be a straight line border between Karls•rue and Done•kirk separating the Franks from the Germans to prevent wars over territory in the future. Also, it should be noted that all these lands between the Franks and the Germans, Switzerland, Netherlands, Belgium, Luxemborg, Liechtenstein, they all arose from some event where many people died, be it a tsunami, or a great war + plague. All these lands were resettled by Ishtar.

23/ Near Somain and Tournai, half in Belgium and half in France.

24/ Near Creil (Near Paris).

25/ Chinon (near Tours) This will serve the valley from Lyon to Brest France.

26/ East of Bordeaux. The "Bordeau" main station will be a very busy place. It will have lines that head to A Corona port in Portugal, to Morocco, to Africa, to central Spain, to the station between Beziers and Narbonne France. and to dozens of trains that serve the rather large Bordeaux valley with its famous climate and ample medium highlands for settlement.

27/ Near Narbonne, France

28/ Near Chateaufort (Avignon) where an Italian line and the line to the southwest alps join.

29/ Genas (Lyon) where the western Alps and French massif join.

30/ Near Genlis (Dijon).

31/ Near Mulhouse (Basil) and the Swiss Alps.

32/ Between Mannheim and Karls•rue

33/ Emmen. This is where the end of the Eurasian line loops back and has a T junction with itself.

34/ The Eurasian train line shall have a secondary “Iberian Loop” line for Spain going from Bordeaux around the periphery of Spain to the new station between Narbonne/ Beziers according to the following routing:

- a/ San Sebastian.
- b/ Logrono.
- c/ Palencia.
- d/ Leon.
- e/ Lugo.
- f/ A Coruna / Ferrol.
- g/ Santio.
- h/ Valenca.
- i/ Lourosa.
- j/ Coimbra.
- k/ Torres Novas.
- l/ Lisbon.
- m/ Moura.
- n/ Carmona (Sevilla).
- o/ Alcolea (Cordoba).
- p/ Linares.
- q/ Albacete (plateau).
- r/ Valencia.
- s/ Tortosa.
- t/ Girona.
- u/ Narbonne/ Beziers.

35/ The Eurasian train line shall have a secondary “Danube loop” line according to the following routing:

- a/ Near Zielona Gora, Poland.
- b/ South of Opole, Poland.
- c/ The 3-way border of Chesko, Austria, and Slovakia,
- d/ The 3-way border of Slovenia, Croatia and Hungary. The Italian trains passing through Slovenia will join the freight line here.
- e/ The existing 3-way border of Romania, Hungary, and Serbia near Szeged.
- f/ Craiova/ Slatina Romania.
- g/ Near Braila Romania.
- h/ The 3-way border of Romania, Moldova and Ukraine, named Criva stations
- i/ Brody, Ukraine
- j/ Interchange with the Eurasian line, at the 3-way intersection of Poland, Belarus, and Ukraine, roughly south of Brest previously mentioned
- k/ The 3-way intersection of Poland, Belarus, and Lithuania, called Pertakas station
- l/ The 3-way intersection of Lithuania, Latvia, and Belarus, called Silene station.
- m/ An additional Y line from Opole to near Warsaw.

36/ There shall also be a spur line the “Bulgarian Spur” from Romania via the Ruse/Giurgiu bridge (or a new bridge) to Shumen, and Yambol, Edirne and Istanbul.

37/ From the Bulgarian spur, there shall be another another secondary spur line, the “Greek Spur”, which stops near Serres, Near Giannitsa, Near Farsala, near Aliartos, and south of Corinth. The Giannitsa station shall be an interchange with another train line generally following the A-1 highway to the north to the Szeged station at the 3-way border of Romania, Hungary, and Serbia. There shall be stops on the way near Skopje, Nis, and Lazarevac.

38/ From Criva station, there shall be a stop at Zhytomyr then the train line shall join the Eurasian train line at Yurkovichi and then continue on past the Asis line to the northeast with several stops and new cities.

39/ From Yurkovichi, there shall be an alternate train line past Chernihiv, down the valley east of Kyiv, down the Dnipro River, to Pavlohrad, to the tunnel and bridge at Kamyshin (which sounds oddly like commission). Then to Uralsk station.

40/ Kazakhstan shall be partitioned as follows:

- a/ The Kazakhstan states of: Jambil, Almaty, and Jetisu shall now be joined with Kyrgyzstan.
- b/ The Kazakhstan states of: Kyzylorda and Turkistan shall now be joined with Uzbekistan.
- c/ The Kazakhstan states of: West Kazakhstan, Atirav, Mangistav and Aktobe shall now be joined with Volgastan.
- d/ great underpopulated desert in the southern 2/3 of Karagandi province (south of Yuzhnoe) and the portions of East Kazakhstan that are south of Ayagoz, Lake Zaysan, and the portion south of the Irtysh River between Lake Zaysan and the border of China, all these underpopulated but trade-strategic areas shall be joined with Volgastan.
- e/ The people interrupting trade with force of arms, and plagues as happened in and around Caffa just before the Black Death hit shall be considered pirates and no quarter shall be given to them.

UR'118. PAN-AMERICAN RAIL SYSTEM

The Pan-American rail line runs from Lopp lagoon near the Bearing straight, to Texas City, Panama, Andeo and Argentina. The stops shall be:

- 1/ Lopp Lagoon
- 2/ Where the Koyukuk River joins with the Yukon River
- 3/ Tanana
- 4/ Near where the Teedriinjik River joins the Yukon River
- 5/ Porcupine River, peel River, and Mackenzie River with probably only one stop near Chappie Lake.
- 6/ Mackenzie River, 120km upstream of Tulita.
- 7/ Near Camsell Bend
- 8/ Laird River.
- 9/ Dawson’s Creek
- 10/ East of Edmonton.
- 11/ Saskatoon
- 12/ Regina
- 13/ Minot (North Dakota USA)
- 14/ Jamestown
- 15/ Aberdeen, South Dakota
- 16/ Mitchell
- 17/ Sioux Falls
- 18/ Omaha/Lincoln
- 19/ St. Joseph
- 20/ Bartlettville, OK
- 21/ McAlester
- 22/ Near Dallas
- 23/ Texas City
- 24/ Southeast of San Antonio
- 25/ Mexas (US side)
- 26/ Mexas (Mexico side)

27/ Ebano, west of Tampico
28/ Poza Rica
29/ Tierra Blanca (Veracruz)
30/ Oluta
31/ Azteca,
32/ Near Chahuities,
33/ Tapachula.
34/ South of Escuintla, Guatemala.
35/ El Delirio, El Salvador.
36/ Tipitapa, Nicaragua.
37/ Bagaces, with its pass to the other side of the ridge, and Lago Arenal near by.
38/ Orotina (San Jose valley)
39/ The Buenos Aires valley (Valley Rico). Costa Rica will allow second homes and vacation homes, but the people must have another place to go to. Rentals of less than 90 days per year do not need a second home.
40/ Santiago, Panama.
41/ La Chorrera (the rapids) at the US managed lake-port of Panama.
42/ South of Caimitillo Panama, just south of the canal.
43/ It shall be noted that the various Mercator projection maps have greatly distorted our perception of the norther part of the world. In fact, Lopp lagoon is only ~4,100km (2,500mi) from the northern border of Montana. And on the China side, Uelen lagoon is about 8300km to Gagarin, with no mountain ranges. It is also about 8,000km to Jinzhou via Tiksi, Yakutsk and Udskiye.
44/ The fabled northwest passage is actually real. It is just 99.8% a land passage, not a sea passage. The part that is missing is known as the Bearing Straight. The idea of a sea passage has been used to hide the idea of a land passage for railroads. Here we note that:
a/ Canada has only 2% more area than the US despite looking massive on a Mercator map.
b/ Greenland is only about 10% larger than Mexico.
c/ Thus we imagine that Mercator projection maps were created to keep people from sensibly trying to build a railroad between Asia and Europe and also between Asia and North America. This is so the more southern passages remain relevant for the global south and the ancient union of the poorest people on earth. So the global south made these Mercator projections so we northerners of the host part of the world, so we don't realize that the global trade should over 90% move by rail between Europe, Asia and the Americas. Except for the Bearing straight and except for the Islands, and Brazil to West Africa.
45/ In Lopp lagoon, all the container boats for the short trip from Alaska to Asia shall be shaped like a weaving loom shuttle with long straight sides and bottoms, and a small tapered 10% area at each end. All the vessels will have above the waterline flanges running down the straight sides that project horizontally around 60 cm. These will be 45° reinforced to the hull from above and be strong enough to bear the weight of the vessel. These small vessels are around 3 to 8 containers long and perhaps 14m wide. These approach docking rails covered in small automobile wheels/ tires that float near the flange line and have funnel ends. Thus the boats sail the short distance from port to port and are conveyed by flange rail lines to where they are emptied of containers and then they are refilled for the trip back to the other side. There may also be some sort of tank tread system that pulls them the vessels along. each one of these micro containers ships perhaps holding around 9 to 36 or perhaps 72 old-style containers, for the ~100 mile trip. This is the same sort of system that we will use to get from Morocco/ Spain, Malaya/Sumatra, and perhaps Sri Lanka and Japan. The boat lines will run along side the rail line and be bridged by multiple gantry cranes. The boats are bi directional, and they just head straight into the dock and the shore, and head straight back, and then head out to the other destination port, without turning around.

46/ There shall also be a polar loop train that runs from the bearing straight across the northern edge of Europe to where it joins with the main Eurasian line just south of Denmark.

UR'119. SOUTH AMERICAN LINES

1/ List of stops on the "Pacific Slope Line" along the west coast of South America. In Chile, there is a separate line along the west coast of South America called the Chile line. Also, as always herein for new communities, these are approximate locations:

a/ The Darien west and Darien East highlands (Owned by Andeo) This stop between the two highlands at the southern end of the Darien Gap shall be the big interchange stop.

ll/ Pisco mm/ Palpa nn/ San Juan de Marcona oo/ Also there shall be a separate 7m freight rail line from Santiago Chile to Puerto Montt Chile. This shall connect via a line from San Carlos de Puren, Santa Barbara, Lonquimay, Junin de los Andes, Embalse Piedra del Aguila, Embalse Ezequiel Ramos Mexia, and Neuquen where it joins the Pan-American rail line.

2/ It should be noted that all of Tacna and most of Lima seem to be in a particularly massive tsunami zone, and all the flattish parts of Lima were clearly made by wave action, even though they are 250m above sea level. Also, the tsunami erosion around Tacna, in the elbow of South America, incredibly indicates a funneled run-up that is much higher.

3/ Amazon Slope Line shall have stops at roughly the following locations

(Starting at the coastal line east of Caracas)

a/ San Jose de Guaribe
b/ El Playon
c/ Rio Cojedes
d/ Tinaco
e/ San Rafael de Onoto
f/ Guanare

4/ The Cali Valley line shall have stops at roughly these locations:

a/ Monte Libano and the Pan-American line
b/ Toledo
c/ Santa Fe de Antioquia
d/ El Golpe
e/ The La Pintada valley
f/ The Marsella valley
g/ The Zarzal valley
h/ The Palmira valley
i/ The Cauca valley

5/ The Bogota Valley line shall have stops at roughly these locations:

a/ El Paso (and the Pan-American line)
b/ La Gloria
c/ Yarigues
d/ Puerto Boyaca
e/ La Dorada
f/ Honda g/ Espinal
h/ Aipe
i/ Hobo

6/ There shall be at least 4 lines running from Yarigues to the various midland areas above Bucaramanga. One of these lines shall run past Bogota and down to Aipe with several stops in between. Another line shall loop around Tunja.

7/ There shall be two passes for the rail system to enter the Amazon basin. These shall be known as the Amazon low pass and the Amazon high pass. Most passengers will go over the ~1050m Amazon high pass via a ~20km tunnel that shall eventually be made west of Uribe and near the confusingly named town of Colombia in the nation of Colombia, which just so happens to be at the natural mountain pass between the Bogota valley and the Amazon basin. The Pan-American freight trade and the first pass shall be via the low pass (~300m elev.) between Pica del Chino and San Rafael de Onoto.

8/ Andeo shall have two main cities, one near the low pass and the other near the high pass. One is more for passengers, the other more for freight.

9/ From Acarigua/San Rafael de Onoto to Porto Velho, it is practically a straight line of ~2,200km. This shall be referred to as the Pan-American line. There shall be stops in between near Algarrobote/Japaramito, Inrinda, San Carlos de Rio Negro. Terra Indigena Medio Rio Negro II. The line north of the Amazon River has an exchange station at San Carlos de Rio Negro. Also, around this point, the rail line may be up to a few hundred km to the west if this is more optimal. Then there shall be around 4 stops before reaching Porto Velho from the north. The Porto Velho interchange shall be used for the line east/west line. south of the Amazon River.

10/ The North-of-the-Amazon east-west line (Amazon North) train line shall start at Terra Indigena Medio Rio Negro II and then have a stop near the end of the long thin ridge northeast of Santa Inez. In fact, this shall be an interchange here, where the line splits. From this point, one line (the Boa Vista line) shall head towards Boa Vista, and 50km northwest of Lethern, Kurupukari, Linden, and then it joins to the coastal line. The other line (the Macapa line) shall go from the Santa Inez stop to 30km southeast of Roraima Lake, to north of Macapa with 6 stops in between. From Macapa, the line shall follow the coast with stops approximately every 200km. The route shall be via Bartica, Ciudad Guayana, San Fernando de Apure, and then Acarigua.

11/ South of Porto Velho, the Pan-American line shall have stops as follows:

a/ East of Guayaramerin, inside the curiously named Reserva Extrativista do Rio Ouro Preto. (This name means Reserve Extra view of Black Gold. it should probably be drilled for minerals being right on the Pan-American rail line, the rail line that runs down the middle of South America. also, the more linked-up “karst” highlands of the nearby Wau-Wau region look like they could have liked hilltop townships of sublime beauty. We imagine that eventually there will be frequent and long trains on either side of the Wau-Wau highlands, perhaps past Ji Parana, and with perhaps as many as 30 million people living here next to the main rail lines for South America.

c/ South of the Rio Cabixi. The immense 600m highlands here will offer both a lovely climate and safety from tsunamis.

d/ South of Pontes e Lacerda. This stop will serve a spur/connector line that runs down the west side of the Paraguay River and connects with the Amazon Slope line at San Silvestre, via a midlands route (~300m elev.) This connector line shall have 5 stops along the way at each valley it crosses. Also, between this area and Panama, the Amazon slope line shall have more stops and be slower, while the Pan-American line offers faster connections, especially for passenger lines.

e/ 100 km southwest of Caceres at the southwest end of the Caceres range which shall be developed much like the Wau-Wau area, along with other ridges along the way. It shall be noted that this route is on the east side of the Parana River, and the west side of the river will be mostly served by the Amazon Slope Line.

f/ 80km east of Laguna Umeraba, at the Umeraba station. Also it shall be noted that if any of these rail station locations herein are in a river's 1000-year wet zone, they must be re-located somewhere else nearby.

g/ Concepcion (and one stop in between)

h/ San Pedro

i/ Villarica

j/ Posadas

k/ Uruguaiana

m/ Southeast of Santa Maria.

n/ South east of Santa Cruz do Sul.

o/ Osorio and the connection with the coastal route.

12/ All of the portions of Chile and Argentina south of the border between Rio Negro Province and Chubut province shall now a new UM nation. The Isla Grande de Chiloe shall remain with Chiile. This island of Chiile shall be a foreign worker zone for the slightly renamed nation of Chiile. It shall be thought that the people settling in Del Fuego are fundamentally different people than those settling in Argentina or Chiile. Therefore, this agriculture and mineral extraction place should be separate from the remainder of these nations.

13/ There shall be a Brazilian highlands rail system as follows:

a/ There shall be a rail line (as always herein, a pair of lines at least) going from the Brazil South-Coastal route near Maraba, up the Banana valley, to a 460 meter pass at Guiratinga, then Rondonopolis and then to the Umeraba station.

b/ There is a rail line going from Posadas up the Parana River to Ciudad del Este, Sao Simao, Tres Lagoas, Arentina, a 600m mountain pass, and then into the Banana valley. This line forks just before Itumbiara, and the other fork heads past a 730m pass, and down the valley past interchanges near, Itumbiara, Joao Pinheiro, Catalao, San Romao, Malhada, North of Ibotirama, Pilao Arcado, Petrolina, then Paolo Afonso and an interchange at Penedo with the coastal trains.

c/ Most of the rail lines described herein will mostly be of the lowlands, and cross over the lowest passes, but the New Brazilian cities will all be up in the cool tropical Brazilian plateau. It should be noted that this is one of the largest tropical highlands on earth, and many people will love to come and live here for the beautiful weather, after the Brazilians fix their crime problem. There shall be a sprawling system for getting around on top of the highlands and there are perhaps 40 points where this highlands system will have transfers to the lowland train lines.

14/ South America shall have a loose EU-style or Indian-style federation of nations made up of Andeo, Brazil, and the other South American nations. These continental bodies shall only have limited powers.

UR'120. THE AXIS LINE

1/ On the “highlands” Near Kepa and Yushkozero Russia near the heel of Finland. (+200m).

2/ On the “highlands” near Vinnitsy and Pashozero Russia. (+200m).

3/ In the “highlands” near Ostashkov, west of Moscow. (+200m).

4/ Southwest of Kaluga, southwest of Moscow. (+200m).

5/ Near Yelets and Voronezh shall go the new city of Gagarin. (+200m).

6/ Centrograd interchange, currently Russia. (+200m).

7/ Lagan/Tsuva,

8/ Makhachkala,

9/ Sabran,

10/ Sabirabad interchange

11/ Culfa,

12/ Lake Thermia,

13/ Erbil,

UR'121. THE IRAN LINE

1/ 30km southeast of Sabirbad, Azerbaijan

2/ Rasht, Iran (Imran)

3/ Gorgan, Iran.

4/ Mary, Turkmenistan.

UR'122. BOZICE FREIGHT INTERCHANGE

This is about 50km north of Vienna and east of Znojmo:

1/ Most of the Czech trains will interchange here.

2/ Most of the Hungarian trains will interchange here.

3/ Most trains to western Romania will interchange here.

4/ Most trains to former Yugoslavia interchange here.

5/ Italy will interchange here.

6/ Many trains will continue on to south Germany.

7/ There shall also be main rail lines from this interchange to Thessaloniki, and to Ulm.

UR'123. THE BEARING STRAIGHT BY BOAT

1/ We shall build port facilities and have boats in Loop lagoon in Alaska, and Uelen/ Incheon in Asia. Thus the boats only have to make a ~100km trip between the rail heads in North America and Asia. Thus the seas shall be bridged for nearly all of mankind.

2/ The northwest passage is real. It is just a land thing, not a boat thing. We call it the Bearing Straight. It is hidden just like barrier between North and South America.

UR'124. INTERCHANGE CITIES

1/ All UM interchange cities shall be oversized by design and have a 30X oversupply of township spots. The other UM cities do not need to be quite so oversized. This is because the primary goal within our new UM interchange cities is not so much local transit efficiency, but having enough apartment spots that the land to place a building unit will eternally remain plentiful and cheap.

2/ The land in all UM interchange cities shall be owned by the UM and rented for up to 30 years, generally as whole or partial townships. Various sorts of entities then develop the townships. Some entities are for-profit and rent or sell placed units for a profit. Some are groups of settlers that buy a unit for delivery at a prescribed date and join a cooperative.

3/ As with the national cities, people will buy a factory-made fully furnished unit and then pay nothing for the land. In fact some cities will offer rebates once the unit is cast into a township. Then the units pay property taxes to pay for the communal infrastructure.

4/ All UM interchange cities shall be healthcare capitals.

5/ We will not just have new cities that countless people will live in. We are also going to have much more agricultural land that will be irrigated and have more townships. And there will be many hilltop township sites, and parkland sites.

6/ New Issa will not be part of Turkey, but owned by all the nations of the old world. Each nation of the old world shall get their pie slice of the ring zone around New Issa.

7/ Centrograd shall not be part of Russia, but owned by all the nations of the old world as a UM territory. Each nation of the old world shall get their pie slice of the Volgastan ring zone around Centrograd.

8/ All the UM interchange cities shall be owned and run by the UM, with each nation getting their fair pie slice based on 1980 population. New Issa, Centrograd, and Semey and Gwadar shall belong to all the nations of the old world. Adana shall belong 80% to the nations of Africa and 20% to the outside nations. Andeo shall be 80% for the nations of Latin America, and 20% for the US and Canada. The interchanges entirely in the US, Mexico, China, and India shall be only for these nations. But every nation will get their share, and some will swap their land in one interchange for land in another interchange. Also, it's not difficult to imagine these six new metropolitan areas absorbing 240 million settlers. Also, there might be many equally big domestic cities here and there.

9/ Texas City will be located in the US. There will be Mexas City inside the Mexas zone.

10/ At the Thai interchange city, All of the nations of Southeast Asia from Burma to Vietnam, to Singapore, Indonesia and the Philippines get their fair share based on 1980 population, once Thailand gets it's 30%.

UR'125. KILLING THE SEA SPHINX

1/ A main reason for organizing the UM is to destroy the 6,000-year old Sphinx Mafia and the empire of the land of no resources. A main aspect of this is to make sure that the shipment of goods cannot be restricted or "sphinxed" or asphixiated anywhere in the world. A main aspect of this is to mostly eliminate the use of the seas as a primary means of shipping goods between the continents where practical.

2/ Killing the sea sphinx is a main reason why the UM will build and operate an international railroad system that connects Asia, Europe, Africa, and America. This rail backbone shall be considered critical to the UM's efforts to completely bypass the parasitic land in the middle and its agenda of less and worse for the host part of the world.

3/ The 7.00 meter gauge train routes discussed herein will allow us to do away with most of the world's inefficient sea, air, and truck transportation infrastructure, and mostly replace these with an ultra-efficient rail transport system.

4/ The UM rail backbone shall be secured as follows by the big nations and big groups of nations that will rather automatically ensure free trade. Train robbers and people in railroad exclusion zones may be fired upon by the rail guards and their drones. The duties shall be divided as follows:

a/ Europe shall secure the double-double orient express rail lines west of Centrograd, and the double-double rail lines from Europe through Turkey to New Issa.

b/ China shall secure the double-double orient express lines east of Centrograd, as well as the line from China to the bearing straight.

c/ The traditionally Hindu parts of India shall secure both double-double lines from India through Pakistan to New Issa on one hand, and on the other hand through Afghanistan to Centrograd.

d/ One third of the double-double lines between Centograd and New Issa and Adana shall be secured by Europe, one third by India, and one third by China. In each case this is the line heading from Centograd to that nation.

e/ Europe shall secure the route to Africa via a Gibraltar ferry.

f/ The rail connection between the United States and Andeo shall be secured by the United States.

g/ The US shall also secure the rail connection between the US and the Bearing straight.

x/ Each nation responsible for securing the UM backbone lines shall also have the right to build small military bases and airfields for close air support of the critically important UM backbone rail lines.

5/ It is ironic that Russia, a nation so landlocked should be the most strategic nation on earth with regard to the seas. For Russia could have easily bypassed over 80% of the world's shipping. All Russia had to do is allow genuine rail lines to connect Asia with Europe, and the Americas. This instead of the fake, poorly routed, and terribly slow trans-Siberian railroad it currently has.

6/ The first international business objective of the Russian people should now be to help with building a rail connection between China and Europe. All Russians shall now know that this will put them roughly the center of world trade and given them tremendous trading opportunities.

7/ The first international business objective of China should be to build a rail connection between China and Europe.

8/ The people of both China and Russia should ponder how Ishtar:

a/ Is in firm control of both of their nations today.

b/ Has impoverished and enslaved their nations under emperors or tzars for thousands of years, until today.

c/ Used communism as an excuse to impoverish their nations.

d/ Orchestrated famines that killed millions of their people.

e/ Orchestrated the WW2 massacres of their intelligentsia.

9/ The first political priority of both the Chinese and Russian people is to muster up into broad democracies so their governments can never be hijacked again. The second priority to make sure that it there are direct rail lines between Europe and Asia.

10/ As the rail system replaces many of the world's cargo ships, the ships should not be scraped, but purchased by the various governments of the world for near scrap pricing and kept in fresh water and dry locations to preserve them better.

11/ The UM shall build air fields and mid sized docks on the following islands and defensible peninsulas for close air support. The forces using these Islands shall only be used to keep the peace or attack pirates, warlords, and rogue nations that have risen up in areas around these places. The US shall be allowed to use these airfields.

a/ Portinho Island. (Near Sao Tome).

b/ Bassas da India Island. (SW of Madagascar).

c/ Assomption island. (NW of Madagascar).

d/ Samhah Island. (near Socotra island).

e/ Jabal al-Tair Island. (Red Sea).

f/ Kosa Biryuchyy Ostriv peninsula. (Black Sea).

g/ Ostrov Chechen Island. (NW Caspian Sea).

h/ Ogurchinskiy Island. (SE Caspian Sea).

i/ Karakitang Island. (North of Sulawesi).

UR'126. FIREARMS

1/ It would be very nice if we have reached the end of war. But it wouldn't be a prudent bet to think that we have seen the last war. In fact, prudence demands that we go in the opposite direction, and instead keep a fair number of arms (which could be kept safe in a multi-key county-deployed armory system if that is what the nation elects). However, it is thought that the best way to reduce war is to simply and inexpensively have arms in armories for perhaps 20% of the population of each a defending nation.

2/ Therefore, in order to reduce war, we shall say that all member nations must have at least one rifle and 50 rounds of fresh ammunition for every 10 adults. They must also have at least 10% 50-caliber, and 3% 30mm rifles. They shall also have signal jamming equipment for remote drones, tank mines and some shoulder fired rockets for heavy armor. The various member nations may require that all of these arms be kept in local Centi-Nome armories administered entirely at the Centi-Nome level, but all member nations must be armed. We will certainly need this for stability in a global food crisis. But it also has obvious and powerful anti-war benefits in good times. And the cost is insignificant in relation to the worldwide benefits. One billion armory rifles at $150 each is only $150-billion. This is only two years of US spending on the Afghanistan war and we make military attacks everyone much more costly.

3/ In places racked by war, and where roving bands and Mafias rule over the people by force, the UM should hand-out rifles and ammunition to:

a/ Recent Senators and runners up, then b/ Deputies, then.

c/ Those chosen by their Nomes. However, the Nomes that fail to make Quorum, and the most crime-infested 10% of voting Nomes should be exempt from selecting deputies. Thus the communities will be able to defend themselves against the large bands in the dozens. And when bigger groups of armed men attack, government shall always be on standby to hit them with airstrikes. Thus we can hopefully eliminate warlordism and sub-national militaries.

4/ All regions of all member nations that have recently suffered from war, piracy, or warlordism, or a high homicide rate shall be allowed to both own and carry arms. Also, to reduce invasions, we shall say that those sniping at invaders should be held as heroes and suffer no prosecution. Also, the good spirit of mankind must remember this service, or it will be considerably weaker.

5/ Where armed people are oppressing unarmed people, it shall be the UM's duty to recruit a local defense force and train and arm them. The UM shall do this automatically.

6/ Where districts in member nations recently suffered from annual homicide rates over 1-in-10,000, the native citizens must be allowed to legally own firearms. Where districts in member nations suffer from annual homicide rates over 1-in-5,000, the native citizens must be allowed to legally carry firearms, which carry firearms may be limited to bolt action rifles and revolvers. Member nations where the annual homicide rates is under 1-in-30,000 shall not be required to permit individual firearm ownership. However, all nations shall be required to have the required civilian defense firearms in their Centi-Nome armories. The forgoing numbers are intended to be a bit on the conservative side. This is so the rule's benefits will be more clearly demonstrated.

7/ All militia people shall know the location of their closest 10 armories.

UR'127. POPULATION EXPLOSION REPEATED

1/ The warning of UR'87. Is worth repeating because it is so fundamentally important to this Constitution. No matter how much we increase output, it will never be enough if we don't end the our population increases. So we must say that unless nations accept, enforce and cooperate with the UM's reasonable, fair, and worldwide population controls, that they don't get to join and stay in the UM. They may also get completely cut off like a pariah state unless they follow the global population control rules like everyone else. Also, all nations must accept UM auditing of their censuses and population metrics.

UR'128. INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL RULES

1/ All member nations shall have the right to require that all creditors of their nation and its people accept their nation's currency for repayment of debt regardless of what the terms of the debt/bonds/loans state. Also, no international body such as the UM, or the old UN shall have any jurisdiction over the repayment of debt. This sort of rule shall be thought to be fostered by economic parasites so they can subjugate nations and drive them into often decades-long economic parasitism situations.

2/ Governments in default shall still be able to access foreign capital markets. It shall be a felony to conspire with other to prevent this.

3/ No nation shall be allowed to practice predatory pricing, where low prices are subsidized by government so that the nation can drive foreign competitors out of business in key industries, only to jack-up prices and profits later, once the foreign competition is drive out of business. Where nations practice this:

a/ The UM shall advise all nations to stop buying from the nation practicing predatory pricing.

b/ Other nations are supposed to impose higher than normal tariffs. They are also supposed to organize to drive some part of the industrial base of the predatory pricing nation out of business.

4/ The various UM member nations shall honor the recorder system wills of citizens of other UM member nations provided the testator makes his will in both his nation of citizenship and the nation where the bequeathed property is located and the two do not conflict with regard to the bequeathed property.

5/ The UM should not be allowed to spend more than say 5% of world GDP.

6/ Each poor nation shall use its county recorder system to create an emulation of the Grameen bank.

2026 ADDENDUM OF SECONDARY LAWS

The following laws shall be considered an addendum or coda to the new 2018 American constitution. These laws shall not be considered as part of the constitution, but only as laws, initial national laws. They shall be implemented as practical by the national government and may be changed at any time with a 55% overmajority of the Over-Senate.

L'1. AIR AND GROUND TRAVEL

1/ No airplane shall ever be deplaned because of one unarmed passenger. This sort of dramatic performance on the part of air transport people shall no longer be allowed. Airlines shall no longer be allowed re-board an entire airplane full of people unless there actually is a genuine danger to the other passengers. Where this occurs for no good reason, they all the passengers shall have the right to a full refund of the money they paid to fly.

2/ All components of all airports, train stations, ports and other government infrastructure projects shall:

a/ Be required to be standardized and uniform nationwide, with the various counties and groups of counties able to select from a menu of 5 standard air terminals, and 5 standard binario roofs/ waiting areas.

b/ Be required to be domestically made in factories, by companies not owned or affiliated with foreign companies or foreign governments.

c/ Be made using companies that are not divisions or partly owned by existing companies, or any billionaires.

d/ Use standardized and inexpensive open-source domestically made boarding equipment, luggage conveyor systems, luggage cartridges, and other airport equipment.

3/ All new airports shall be located near a rail interchange. All shall provide check-in and baggage check functions at one or more nearby rail interchanges. Each cluster of 12 boarding gates shall be served by at least on railcar. Thus a zip train of 6 cars will be able to serve 72 gates. Thus people will take a special air-gate zip-train directly to-from an interchange to/ from their boarding gate. Where people are flying internationally, there shall be immigration/customs clearance to enter/ leave the boarding gate cluster.

4/ The new high speed train system will greatly reduce the need for regional air travel. So there will be far fewer airports, and most people no longer fly multi-leg flights. So, except for the biggest airports, there will no longer be a need for costly baggage handling systems in our airports. Instead most people will take their own bags to the airport either using a wheeled bag, or using a baggage cart. They will take their standard-sized bags and either side it into a checked baggage cartridge or use a cartridge for overhead storage of their cabin baggage. The interchange air terminals will also have a porter service where a small fee can be paid and the bags will be conveyed by airport ground staff.

5/ No new commercial airports shall:

a/ Have no finished ceilings over 3-meters tall, or rough ceilings over 4-meters tall.

b/ Have over 10% glazing, or any skylights, or multi-story open spaces.

c/ Use metal or wood construction. All airports must instead be made out of more bomb-proof reinforced concrete that is a minimum 18" thick and of a cellular anti-bomb design.

d/ Use any patented equipment or software.

x/ Also, we shall make our runways in our new airports 50% as long, so that we are less vulnerable to loss of engines on takeoff.

6/ Both checked bags and carry on bags shall be standardized into one standard size and one standard shape each. Both of these shall shoe/ clip/ slide into the standardized baggage clips on our aircraft. This will be rather like the way an ink cartridge slides into a printer, complete with a click-lock into place function that secures the bag for turbulence.

7/ Each aircraft seat will correspond to one overhead carry-on bag slot. This is needed to have one seat, one slot. Anything else breeds strife.

8/ Passengers will self load their carry-on baggage onto perhaps 12 or 40 rolling baggage cartridges that have fold-up rain covers. These are rolled onto a special pick up trucks that are driven into recessed bays in the floor of the boarding gate. These trucks are rather like a smaller version of the scissor lift trucks that roofers use. Once the truck is up high, the cartridges are rolled into the baggage bay of the aircraft where everything fits together perfectly.

9/ There shall either be an elevator or a reversible escalator at each boarding gate to transit to the aircraft level.

Eliminating the group airport baggage handling systems will greatly reduce the amount of time that must be wasted in airports.

10/ All airports shall be expected to handle all standard sized bags in such a way that they never get either smashed or scraped. Thus everybody can use ultra-lightweight bags, as they should be using. In fact, on our new aircraft, trains and busses, the passengers will self-load their own bags onto the group baggage shoes/cartridges which will precisely fit all the standard baggage sizes. Thus everybody will be toting around very lightweight bags, as they should be, and people won't have their bags ruined by airport handling. Also, where everybody is using two sizes of bags, the trains and busses, will all have cartridges that precisely fit the two sorts of bag. will all have bays and areas that precisely fit the 2 sorts of standard bag.

11/ All tickets have a QR code for using each baggage slot. Thus, nobody can access or steal anyone else's bags.

12/ All carriers, air, land, and sea shall price and sell their fares as one way tickets. None shall be allowed to offer round trip tickets, except as a pair of one way tickets which may be purchased separately at no penalty.

13/ All airlines must accept the mixing and matching with all other airlines and their legs, and all airlines must function within the same booking, baggage and delay system, with the same rules of bookings and refunds. Also, where one airline is delayed all other connecting airlines shall be required to allow rebooking at no charge. We shall no longer allow fiefdom airlines like Southwest Airlines, and Ryan air.

14/ All airlines have half of all seats at Group-1 price, 3/8 of all seats at Group-2 price, and 1/8 of all seats at Group-3 price. All standby tickets sold at the airport less than 1-hour before the flight go at Group-2 price. Group-1 is the basic price. Group 2 is +20%, and Group-3 is +40%. On routes where it is needed, the last row of each aircraft is supposed to have 4 wide seats that don't go back and don't have extra leg room and cost 20% more. The fattest two people on the flight get first dibs here. On the other side of the row are two seats with extra leg room. The tallest people on the flight get dibs here if they want for +40% cost. Oversized people over certain reasonable dimensions may be forced to buy the XL seats.

15/ There shall be no non-refundable fares on any air carrier. The maximum charge for cancelling or changing an air ticket shall be:

- a/ 5% if at least 6-days before departure.
- b/ 15% if at least 48 hours before departure.
- c/ 20% if at least 24 hours before departure.
- d/ 35% if at least 4 hours before departure.
- d/ 50% if at least 1 hour before departure.

The maximum charge for cancelling or rescheduling a ticket on any air carrier shall be 1-hours wages if the cancellation or rescheduling is made more than 6-days before departure. Where these changes are made less than 6 hours before departure, the cancellation fee shall be 3-hours wages, or 15% of the fare. Where airlines refund payments for cancelled flights, they shall only have to refund 97% of the money, and they shall keep 3%.

16/ Where there are only two or three flights a day between two places, the flights may not fly at nearly the same time, but must be separated by at least 3 hours, with the first carrier flying this route getting the first choice of the flight time and the second one being required to have a different time.

17/ All airlines shall be required to use the government's uniform flight booking interface, and they shall not be free to have their own booking interfaces, or services interfaces.

18/ No airline ticket shall be sold by anyone but the carrying airline, or the other airlines that sell each others tickets for no charge or commission. All airline ticket sales must take place online. All airlines shall be required to use the Senate's uniform airline rules of conduct for both passengers and airline staff. Anyone selling airline ticket at a mark up shall have to pay a sales tax of 7% on the sale price of the marked up ticket.

19/ Airlines shall not sell parking or ground transportation, airlines are not allowed to charge a fee for credit card use, or for payment method, or for card processing, or for taxes, or for special fuel fees. Airlines shall not have extra check-ins after the ticket is purchased. Airlines shall not be allowed to charge for airport check-in.

20/ The front of the airplane with the smoother ride shall be reserved for people traveling with children under age 5. All airlines are required to seat children under age 16 with their parents.

21/ For the sake of odor control on crowded aircraft, trains and busses, everyone must wear clothing that covers the arm pits entirely, the torso entirely and the top part of the legs at least 4cm below the crotch of the person while they stand.

22/ All transport carriers shall be required to minimize their use the aircraft PA system. The PA systems shall not be used for commercial or marketing announcements, the playing of music, or media, or advertisements, or marketing or other announcements extraneous to the safety, scheduling and logistics of the passengers. Even meal and beverage service shall not be announced over the PA system.

23/ If the temperature of an airplane passenger cabin ever falls below 15°C or goes above 31°C while on the tarmac, all passengers shall receive a full refund after the flight is completed. Airlines shall be responsible for health problems incurred by their passengers in the cold or heat of the tarmac where passengers are left standing on the tarmac.

24/ All flight charges other than the basic seat (or passage) shall be subject to travel MECOT.

25/ Because of heat and fire hazard, all incandescent, Halogen, and xenon lamps shall be prohibited in commercial aircraft after 2030.01.01. All shall be replaced with much cooler safer LED lamps and low spark "airplane voltage to all interior lights.

26/ Air transport providers shall be prohibited from offering, marketing, or selling the following:

- a/ Lodgings.
- b/ Ground transportation including car rentals, taxis, ride-shares, shuttles, and transfers to other airports or to towns.
- c/ All forms of insurance, privilege pass, club membership, or line-up preference for an added payment.
- d/ Flexible bookings for an added charge.
- e/ Preferential boarding for an added charge.
- f/ Seat selection, seating changes, or preferential customer support experiences for an added charge.
- g/ Notification of airline-originated flight changes for an added charge.
- h/ Printing boarding passes for an added fee.
- i/ Airport check-in for an added fee.
- j/ Premium customer experiences, or special lounge access for an added fee.

27/ Air transport providers shall be prohibited from having either frequent customer numbers, or additional check-ins apart from ticket purchase and showing up at the airport.

28/ All airlines and travel services companies operating in our nation shall not be allowed to have multiple identities... must exist as one identity

29/ No travel related service shall discriminate based on how far in advance their services were purchased, or where the services were purchased. This shall include airlines, railways, bus companies, boats, vehicle rental, hotels, and other forms of lodging.

30/ Children under age 2 may fly free on the lap of their parents. Children under age 4 get a 40% fare reduction, and a 40% reduction in baggage weight.

31/ All groups with small children under age 5, all elderly people, and all disabled people shall get priority boarding. All priority boarded children sit in front. All priority boarded elders and disabled people sit where they are last off the airplane.

32/ All seats on all commercial aircraft shall have a minimum seat pitch of 89cm and a minimum seat width of 49cm. Except for exit rows, all seats in all airlines must use this seat pitch on all flights. All airline seat pads shall be made of vinyl and the 3-density foam pads and their vinyl covers shall be replaced at least once per 2-years. The entire seats shall be replaced once every 10 years. Also, there will be no secret genie in our governments making air travel as unpleasant as possible because it's natural energy efficiency cuts into oil sales for cars. With this in mind, we see how double-decker aircraft make much more sense than single decker aircraft that simply don't use enough fuel per passenger. Also, once we commit to flying higher where the air is much thinner, (at 35,000 ft, the air is ~1/4 of sea level. At 45,000ft, the air is 1/6th of sea level, and at 50,000 ft, it is 1/8th of sea level, at 60,000 it is 1/14th of sea level.) However, once we start flying higher, depressurization becomes a problem, so perhaps Our continued domination of the aircraft industry is based on our ability to build a new generation of supersonic aircraft that are safe to operate at 45,000 to 60,000ft, where they will fly between 50% to potentially 350% faster than today, and that will carry two full floors of passengers in roomy seats. So we have 0.4 liter oxygen supplementation bottles under everyone's seat. These are actuated like people huffing nitrous oxide from Whipped cream bottles, but without the whipped cream. And instead of nitrous oxide, we use mostly pure oxygen. The people run to the bulkhead separations, which have two pressure doors, on to each compartment they separate. We imagine one of these pressure bulkheads every 15 or 20 rows, There are roomy more normal sized toilets on one side, and the meal area and some seats for families with small kids and disabled people on the other side. This area has room for everyone to pile into if there is a pressure loss. So they can just shift over into the other zone. At higher altitudes with up to 8 or 16 times less air density, drag will become a non-issue, and we imagine many more A380 type designs or full double deckers for passenger and big areas for carrying lightweight but bulky air freight. In fact all of the seats on the new aircraft should be between the size of first and second class seats. The open compartments are also dumb from the standpoint of smoke inhalation from aircraft fires. Better we keep the smoke compartmentalized. Also, lets have each of the 4 or 8 compartments have their own door. Here we imagine double decker elevators from the new underground airports that load and unload people from the airplanes. Two stories move from between the airplane and the elevator at once, but only one floor moves between the elevator and the airport gate at a time. However the aircraft loads and unloads from 3 or 5 doors to 3 or 5 compartments at once per floor, so the boarding process is much quicker. Also, these doors will be at the center of the each compartment, while the bathrooms, galleys and pressure doors will divide the compartments. Also perhaps the disabled people and people with small children get the a compartment inside the air lock zone. And there is just enough room that everyone can dash in and crowd in, like in an elevator. The low pressure door closes and the compartment gets pressurized by means of purged tanks followed by a pump top off. But there is only one set of air tanks per aircraft.

33/ All aircraft armrests shall be of a standard width and have standard 3-density top padding with a waterproof cover. People who are too big to fit in one seat must pay for two seats. The Senate shall produce standards for when a person is too wide or too tall and must buy an an additional seat because they are too big to fit in one seat. All aircraft seats must recline as normal except where they block an exit row, or there is another valid safety reason. All airline seats shall be covered in vinyl and there shall be no cloth covered seats on airlines. The soft vinyl covered seats of some United Airlines seats and their multi-density foam are mentioned as an example of foam density and soft vinyl coverings.

34/ People over 190cm tall shall be given exit row seats at no charge if they state their height when they buy their tickets. Airlines shall not be allowed to sell or give-away priority boarding rights or choice seats.

35/ There shall no longer be any check-ins between when the ticket is purchased and the person arrives at the airport, train station, bus station, or ferry terminal.

36/ All airline issued travel documents, such as boarding passes and tickets shall include the price paid for each ticket, and the baggage included, the time that the flight departs, the time that the flight is scheduled to arrive and the scheduled boarding time.

37/ All airline tickets offered for sale must indicate the type of aircraft, the meal service, whether the passenger must walk on the tarmac, whether a bus will be used in the boarding process, and whether or not the airline's own staff will be at the airport managing both checkin and boarding. They must also indicate when another airline is working as a contractor. All of this shall be indicated to the passenger before the ticket is purchased.

Now that we will require our airlines to all share all of the airport's boarding gates, we can outlaw the use of airport busses and tarmac walks for boarding aircraft in major airports.

38/ There shall be no inspection of bags or other things without the owner present and given his telescreen to record what is going on. All airport security checkpoints must be under triple overlapping video to prevent thefts by airport security. There shall be no less than 20 video cameras at each airport carry-on security checkpoint.

39/ Where there are multiple security check zones, the number of people waiting at each zone shall be shown on an airport map in a manner similar to the way car spaces are shown in some parking lots.

40/ There shall be no closures of roads or gates, or airports or other facilities for so-called VIPs

41/ All transport carriers must accept electronic screenshots of their own boarding passes or tickets. None shall be permitted to require printing of documents on paper. All airlines and airports must accept digital boarding passes that must be sent via email for free.

42/ No airline may close any flight less than 20 minutes prior to scheduled departure. All airport security must clear in 20 minutes or less.

43/ All airline checkin procedures must be completed at purchase. At the airport, the passengers scan their ID, print their baggage stickers, and email their tickets and baggage receipt. Then they drop their bags.

44/ Airport security screening equipment shall be mostly automated. The reduction in staff will permit a more tech heavy solution and almost no airport screening lines. Airport security that try to open accompanied bags without the owner present and watching shall be fired. All airport security shall have multi-redundant casino-quality overhead video.

45/ No flight shall be boarded until the airplane is ready to go. The people sitting farthest from the airplane entry door shall be the first to board. The people sitting closest to the airplane exit door shall be the first to exit.

46/ All commercial airlines worldwide shall include one carry on bag up to 15kg and smaller than 56x45x35cm and a personal item up to 7.5kg and smaller than 40x30x15. The first checked bag (up to 30kg) shall cost an 5% of the ticket price. Second and subsequent checked bags (up to 30kg) shall cost 7% of the ticket price. All second and later checked bags are subject to being bumped to the next available flight if there isn't enough room for all the first checked bags. All commercial airlines must use these universal standardized and easy to remember baggage sizes/weights and pricing in our nation's airports. If there is no room for the carry-on bag in the cabin, the airline shall stow the bag for free. However, all passengers shall always have the right to keep their personal item with them.

47/ All intercity rail transportation shall include two 30kg check-in bags, and one 30kg carry-on bag. Additional baggage shall be charged at true marginal cost.

48/ Airlines shall not be allowed to have idiosyncratic baggage or passenger practices. All airline baggage shall have its empty weight on the label and all shall be letter coded A, B, C, D, etc. based on standard sizes. When airline luggage has wheels, these wheels shall not be smaller than 6-cm in diameter, or protrude more than 3-cm from the body of the luggage.

49/ All overhead baggage compartment doors on all commercial aircraft shall be replaced with reinforced doors to handle the new baggage weights and sizes if the aircraft isn't too small. Also, the overhead baggage compartments shall have a seal like a car door, and have two quick release inlets for foam fire extinguishers. There shall also be wing nuts to clamp the baggage compartment air-tight, water tight shut. All commercial flights shall not only have over-head compartment extinguishers front and back, but they shall also have non-conductive slime extinguishers front and back for electronics fires.

50/ All airport baggage handling and collection areas shall be under video surveillance. At least 3% of the people collecting checked luggage shall be asked for proof of ownership.

51/ The price for additional checked baggage in/from each nation shall be the same for all airlines, and this shall depend on the cost of the flight. Where excess baggage fees are to be paid, there shall be no difference in price if the payment is made in advance, or at the airport. However, if the luggage capacity of the flight is full, then the airline shall send the baggage on a later flight with baggage capacity at no additional charge.

52/ All flight legs that start, stop or transit via any part of the Arabian peninsula, Iran, or Egypt shall include 2 free checked bags of 32 kilos each. Everywhere else, the flights shall include one bag of 24 kilos. This burdens the PU with the same system it imposed on America as an international airline hub.

53/ Cancellation of under-booked flights should never be a strategy for airline profit. Therefore for all flights cancelled for any reason, the airline shall refund twice all charged amounts within 48 hours of the cancellation, or the penalty shall be 400%.

129/ the need for torsional strength between the wings and the tail necessitates that this part of the aircraft be cylindrical. And it must be perfectly cylindrical because torsional strength spikes as the shape approaches a perfect circle. The other, front part of the fuselage, the part in front of the wings, including the cockpit. That part of the aircraft is just a bolt-on air bubble of minimal wind resistance, that bears no external loads and only has to hold together. So the front part is probably rather rectangular, and the back part is entirely cylindrical. And we bolt these together with a gas-kit between them so they remain airtight. The outsides of the two parts of the aircraft being about the same size and blended. The toilets go in the back of the frontal section of the airplane, and the galley goes on the front of the rear section of the airplane. 146/ When people get bumped, the people who have small children, or mobility problems, or are disabled, or they need assistance get bumped last. Next comes the people in transit with connecting flights, and paid lodging bookings not living in that community. Then comes the people of other communities with connecting flights and lodging bookings. Second to get bumped are the people who live in the same community as the departing flight, without connecting flights or lodging bookings. First to get bumped are the people who agree to taking the payment/vouchers for getting bumped.

147/ There shall be no dogs in airports, train stations, bus stations, or transit stations that are not in carrier box.

148/ Every flight attendant and every person who works in an airport, shall be required to display their number in 4cm characters front and back.

151/ For airport passenger loading and unloading, we shall have the automobiles back into their 45° into 1.5 lane parking spaces. Here they load/unload their car, and they have another lane next to these that has a 5 kph lane.

152/ Airports may work on a 10 day schedule, where they give priority to flights that are only made once every 12 days over all other flights, then flights every 6-days, then flights every 4-days, then flights every 3-days, then flights every 2-days, then daily flights, then flights that are twice a day then 4x a day, and so forth. In other words, the most infrequent flights get first priority, the flights that go multiple times a day(regardless of carrier) must schedule in between. Also, where there are multiple flights daily, these pay a per aircraft fee of say 100 hours wages per flight, while the flights that are every 2-3 days do not pay this and the flights that are less frequent than every 4 days and also departing between 7pm and 7am and get the money from the daily flights.

158/ When someone is denied boarding from an aircraft, it shall have no bearing on their ability to remain in the airport, unless police have taken them away.

159/ Airlines shall not be allowed to deplane all passengers without a good reason, as this is unfair to the other passengers in order to create a means of blaming some other passengers so that they can be charged with a significant crimes.

160/ Whenever a company denies service to a customer that has already paid, they must state a reason otherwise the presumption shall be that they are discriminating against somebody and they are committing a crime.

164/ Where an aircraft is within the prescribed temperature range, passengers may be kept on an aircraft on the ground for up to 90-minutes. After this, the plane must be emptied of its passengers. If the aircraft is too hot, or too cold, it must be emptied after no more than 30-minutes. This rule shall not apply where there is an air crash or airplane fire at that airport.

165/ No airline may close its gates prior to 20 minutes before the scheduled departure, or charge people more because they arrived late. Also, the rules of search and seizure shall not apply to people who leave their suitcases in travel transit lockers. Where one person drops off bags and another picks them up using the face recognition system, this shall be grounds for calling police, and grounds for them to search the bags.

171/ Where flights are under-booked, the ground staff is supposed to remove middle passengers that are not traveling with their neighbors starting first with the back of the aircraft. This will help counteract the smoother ride up front.

172/ All the de-icing shall be done on the runway approach, and all airports that might ever need de-icing shall have the simple car wash technology where ethylene glycol is sprayed on the aircraft. All airfields are supposed to be heavily salted in advance of sub zero weather (which will not affect the high riding aircraft). There should also be means of trapping the initial runoff of rain contaminated by this stuff in an evaporation pond.

173/ Our underground airports will also have truck/buss access via underground/ under-runway level roads. so there will be no boarding or baggage loading or re-fueling done via the runway level. So there will no longer be any possibility of collusion for any of these aircraft service vehicles. There will also be limited possibility of people being harmed by an arrestor line. So we shall begin experimenting with the use of tail hooks and gentle arrestor lines for commercial landings. there's also means to there's pipes underneath the runway to to blow out foam from many electronic foam mines under the runway arrester line zone in a moments notice. Thus we can utilize the tail hook to stop the aircraft in a slippery fire resistant foam environment. Also, the rescue and fire people and vehicles all get rapidly hauled back via their safety lines if the aircraft suddenly is engulfed in flames.

174/ The rear landing gear on the 787 should be a longer, perhaps twice as long. It should also have an incremental Nautilus spring. This will help with smoother and safer landings, and more resilient aircraft. All new passenger aircraft should be designed more this way.

175/ All of the new wide-body aircraft shall be required to use a full length double-decker design. And as a consequence of having twice the floor area, these will all offer larger and more comfortable first-class-style seats. They will also allow for sub-compartments, which support higher altitude faster flying for no added energy use. Here we imagine an outer fuselage that has at maximum cruising elevation of say 54,000 feet is pressurized to the equivalent of an altitude of 28,000 feet, like near the 29,000 foot summit of Mt. Everest. And the inner fuselages are pressurized to the pressure at 8,000 feet, unless the outer fuselage loses pressure, and then the inner fuselage is brought down to 25,000 feet until the aircraft can lower its altitude.

176/ It is ridiculous that we have these giant passenger areas inside our airports, but our aircraft themselves do not get a giant carport. So we have ice problems and aircraft sitting in the hot summer sun problems. And passengers standing in the rain and walking down wet stairways. Also. maybe the tail part of the aircraft hangs out of the roofed areas.

177/ The Senate shall get ahead of the ball, and create rules and highways for flying cars beforehand.

178/ All the shops and restaurants in our airports, train stations, bus stations, and metro stations shall be required to charge the same prices as elsewhere on all products plus 10%. The Senate's modal paid pricing for all the goods nationwide shall be published. These prices must be used at all transport shops and restaurants plus 10%. Where the transport stations shops or restaurant make more than the 10% markup, they must be shut down and the stall re-rented. Also, this sort of corruption shall not be enforced by the transport station administration, but by the Senate. Senate modal pricing for supermarkets shall be for normal supermarkets and not include non-luxury, non-specialty markets. Where 500ml bottles of water are priced, these shall be domestic non-luxury, non-branded water sold in multipacks of 18 or more.

179/ Government shall view our nation's transport terminals and stations as an opportunity to set up a nationwide test incubator malls and product introduction malls. One will be for restaurant food, sold in sushi-sized or appetizer portions. Another will be for furniture and trying it out with regard to comfort. Another will be for medical screening. And there will be others.

L'2. HUMAN OPERATOR ROAD RULES

1/ Where roads have been made slower primarily to reduce traffic flow and not to make the road safer, that speed lowering shall be repealed.

2/ Human operators who enter an intersection that is not clear and block and delay transverse intersection traffic shall suffer a 3X moving violation and lose their license and vehicle for 60 days.

3/ Tailgating shall be moving violation. Extreme or aggressive tailgating shall be a double moving violation.

4/ Those who cause an injury accident while using a handheld shall be criminally liable, just the same as if they were driving while intoxicated.

5/ Accelerating or swerving a vehicle to make pedestrians run away from the path of your vehicle may be considered assault. Drivers found guilty of using a vehicles to assault a pedestrian may be prohibited from driving for up to 10-years on the first offense.

6/ If the vehicle produces exhaust, then it cannot be used on a bike path. All vehicles used on bike paths and bike lanes shall have automatic GPS speed limiters. Bike lanes have the speed limit it is strictly enforced.

7/ Bicycles can ride on the sidewalk, but if there's pedestrians around, they must maintain near pedestrian speeds, or the bike operator can be cited for speeding on a bicycle.

Bicyclists shall not be allowed to ride side by side, even on dedicated bike lanes unless there are signs allowing this. All bicyclists must have transponders when used on a road. Bicycles shall not have the same rights as conforming motor vehicles on the roads. We shall not allow any underpowered vehicles to ruin our transportation system by allowing them on our arterial roads, broadly defined. We shall also not allow bicycles more than 30 minutes after sunset, or more than 30 minutes before sunrise.

8/ We shall work to totally eliminate the use of human parking valets, except for the disabled and very old. To this end, we shall have it that:

a/ All companies shall always liable for the conduct of their valets, regardless of any statement, contract, or release statements.

b/ All valet income and tips shall be subject to luxury tax.

9/ All vehicles must use front and rear cameras with video buffering. All this video shall be admissible in court. Where the video does not exist, there shall be a presumption that it has been deleted by the person that should have it.

10/ The courts may require remote monitoring of vehicles driven by those with convictions for speeding and reckless driving.

11/ Those with convictions for DWI or a high consumption alcohol license may be required to have a breathalyzer on all their family vehicles. They may also be required to have a breathalyzer pass certification before operating any other vehicle. All breathalyzer certifications and failures shall be public information.

12/ Every time a vehicle is in an accident, the accident damage must be immediately registered and photographed in a photo booth, or the car may not be driven further.

13/ Where there are many parking spaces, people shall be allowed to stop but not park wherever they want.

14/ Drivers are supposed to flash their lights to oncoming traffic to indicate a warning of a hazard. All Vehicles shall also have radio warning hazard signals too.

15/ International driving licenses shall be accepted but not required.

16/ Vehicles that do not have wired power shall be called battery vehicles, not electric vehicles. The term electric vehicle shall only apply to vehicles that received the power via a wire or rail from an external generator, although electric vehicles may have batteries capable of transporting them up to 7km.

17/ Police officers shall get a reward of a day's wages for each conviction of a person with a modified vehicular exhaust system, or an vehicle that has an exhaust system that is too loud as measured by a mobile police decibel meter. The driver only gets 1-day upon release of the vehicle to get the vehicle and find a repair shop and get the vehicle's exhaust repaired. This shall be applicable to all cars, motorcycles, and all other vehicles.

18/ Our drivers tests should be more difficult than they currently are in our nation. They should be taken at least halfway towards the difficulty of the tests in Germany.

19/ It shall not be allowed for vehicles to pass one another at less than 3kph over the speed of the passed vehicle.

20/ Telescreens and similar devices may be viewed by vehicle operators that are completely stopped in lines (such as at drive-through window lines), and by people in completely stopped traffic. However for the time being, they shall not be used by those stopped at a semaphore/ traffic light, or in stop and go congestion.

21/ We shall develop a traffic light and vehicle system where the yellow lights flash progressively faster to warn of color changes on both sides of green. Also, each time the yellow lights flash, the intersection will give a wifi-based audio signal to all nearby vehicles which will override other audio (or silence) and play the about to change sound, or the about to turn red sound. Our new vehicles will also make a similar (but obviously different) sound when brakes are applied and when they are released.

22/ After 2026.01.01 no retreads may be sold in our nation. After 2031.01.01, no retreads shall be used in our nation. Also, after this date, everyone using retreads shall be held 100% responsible for all accidents that their delaminating retreads cause. Also, all used tires shall be sent to the Vizcaino tire dump where they will be cut into small pieces and then deposited in thin lift so they won't burn. There shall be no more tire recycling due to toxicity.

23/ While businesses in commercial zones with unfenced parking lots are closed, their parking lots shall be considered open for public parking of unoccupied vehicles and there shall be no right of the property owner tow people away. Only if there are gates and these gates are locked or electronically closed may the public be denied the right to park in these parking lots. Parking lots without a gate shall have not right to tow people away.

24/ County government shall start renting reserved delivery parking places for delivery vehicles, double-wide, single-wide, and droid-fleet spaces next to our businesses. Most township hawker centers will have droids that run a couple bucks in addition to the special delivery fees. And people with a fever or a medical certificate, or they are disabled, or old. They all get free deliveries.

25/ Double-wide vehicles will make such a big difference for droid and wheel chair busses. The 3m wide busses will have 2.4m areas between the wheels for a deck that is 1-ft above the paving. So we imagine this flow of droids with the occasional wheel chair person. We also imagine these droid and chair certified delivery/access areas. All the people who can't self propel, they just get carried along with the droids.

26/ No right turn on red prohibition shall apply when traffic is light. All right turn on red prohibitions must be reasonably limited by typical traffic at that time of day for that part of the year.

27/ Where traffic conditions allow, at night and perhaps on some days, all traffic lights shall flash red indicating an all-way yield sign intersection.

28/ The maximum speed for snow and icy conditions shall be 20kph.

29/ Not dimming your headlights shall no longer be a crime, and drivers shall no longer be stopped for this.

30/ Following an ambulance too closely shall now be a crime worldwide. No longer shall people try to get where they're going faster by tailgating an ambulance.

31/ The speed limits on freeway on ramps shall be the same as the freeway that they're entering or leaving. Also police shall not really have the power to enforce brief limited-speed zones and vague restrictions on speed.

L'3. ROAD INFRASTRUCTURE

1/ All semaphores shall now have an extra red lamp to the side that is wired off the existing red lamp. There is also a switch that alternates the two lamps. If both lights are on solid, then the light just turned. After a while, the two lights will begin alternating slowly and then towards the red-light-period, they will be alternating rapidly signaling that the light will soon change green. This is for people looking at their phones during a stop. Also, if applicable, when a car is stopped at a light and the light is about to change, the semaphore will send a wifi signal to alert to all the nearby cars of this fact as well as the actual light change.

2/ The location tracking system of each vehicle knows when the vehicle is, and all new vehicles must have a 5-second green-light countdown that can be turned down, but can't be turned off. Thus the traffic light delays from people looking at their phones are reduced. The system may also give audio alerts to drivers about stopped traffic ahead, and coming red lights.

3/ All new human operated vehicles shall monitor for the system for emergency vehicles and play the siren inside the car. This way the emergency sirens do not need to be so loud — because they don't have to be heard inside sealed cars. Also, all new cars shall have means for drivers to identify the direction that the sirens are moving in 4/ All Emergency vehicle sirens shall use the European type sound or another sound that causes even less dog howling. Each type of emergency vehicle shall have its own siren sound reserved for that sort of emergency vehicle exclusively under the law.

5/ Speed bumps, speed humps, speed squares, speed dots, speed dips, zig-zags, unnecessary stop signs, and all other sorts roadway obstructions designed to slow the flow of traffic shall be prohibited on both public and private property. All existing speed bumps, speed humps, speed squares, and speed dips, shall be removed by 2027.01.01 All stop signs that exist primarily to slow traffic shall also be removed by 2027.01.01.

6/ There shall be no raised medians in any road.

7/ Where an arterial road suffers from daily congestion and other lanes can be added by deleting paved shoulders, then the shoulders shall be used for additional lanes.

8/ Where an arterial road suffers from daily congestion and other lanes can be added by deleting bicycle lanes with less fewer users per lane, the bicycle lanes shall be deleted. Also, what bicycle riders really need is ID verified conveyer systems like they use in dry cleaners, where bikes are parked on a train and recalled when the person parking the bike IDs in again. These will be long loops two bikes wide and perhaps 250 bikes long. In the bigger townships, there shall be several bike parking loops opposite the powered vehicle livery as appropriate for demand.

9/ All congested roads shall have car counters at regular intervals. The county recorder shall report numerical congestion levels in real time to help people see quantified congestion levels on important streets.

10/ Each roadway dash shall correspond to a location key in a database and a fraction of a car position on the road network. These dashes will provide greater precision between RFID location markers buried in the roadway.

11/ The snap to lane system also controls the speed of all the cars and accelerates and moves them in unison.

12/ The snap to lane system also divert cars around vehicles in the middle of traffic. This allows us to use one 183cm (6-ft.) emergency shoulder for all of the lanes. Thus two 11-ft. lanes with two 11-ft shoulders can be converted into six lanes and one shoulder.

13/ Everyone and every dog/cat and other loose domestic animal shall be required to carry an anonymous vehicle collision avoidance transponder when they are either walking along a road or crossing a road at a non- crosswalk location. All children under age 11, and all pets shall be required to wear an un-removable transponder unless they live in vehicle-free area.

14/ A government permit is needed to block-of any road or easement regularly used by other people.

15/ It shall be the official policy of our nation to discourage and minimize the lending of money for the purchase of personal vehicles.

16/ Nobody, but police can enforce towing. This might be initiated by from the recorder system's loan payment and default system, or from the safety check system, or from the liability check system, or from the fine payment system, or from police themselves based on a call. But only police can order towing through the system. Also, it is thought that the self-driving system will completely eliminate all illegal parking. It will also optionally support tandem parking, thus doubling parking capacity again.

17/ Police dispatch of all tow trucks is an important aspect of keeping the tow system honest and free from towing companies paying bribes to property managers for any excuse that passes. Therefore, no third party tow-aways shall go out except via the dispatch system.

18/ Whenever a vehicle gets towed or cited, the registered owner must be notified via his official must check email address, and confirmation of email receipt returned after attachment but before the vehicle is driven away.

19/ It shall be considered felony kidnapping for tow truck operators to tow occupied vehicles. However if the owner of the vehicle gets into the vehicle after the tow truck comes within sight, this shall not apply.

20/ All towing charges, parking fees, taxi charges, HOA fees, late fees, penalties, etc. must be paid through the county recorder system. Until this new system is working, all towing services and impound lots shall be required to accept all common forms of payment, including cash if that is in circulation.

21/ All tow trucks shall pre-notify the county recorder system prior to towing any vehicle, even when it is at the owner's request. This is just like how all locksmiths must pre-notify the county recorder system of all locks to be picked. The drivers shall also notify the county recorder system of the ultimate destination of the towed vehicle before driving off with any vehicle. If any tow truck is found with an unauthorized tow, the driver must be arrested and the tow truck must be impounded for at least 90 days. Also, where tow trucks do not have county recorder system pre-approval of towing it may easily be considered grand theft of an automobile.

22/ Where tow trucks start hooking up to vehicles that are occupied, the occupants may presume that the person in the tow truck is a kidnapper, so the occupant may act accordingly with his firearms to defend himself. Towing vehicles without police system dispatch shall be thought to be akin to stealing the vehicle.

23/ No tow-away fee for unpaid parking citations, or vehicles blocking a way shall exceed 8-hour's wages. This fee shall include up to 3-days free parking in the impound lot. No daily impound/parking fee for towed vehicles shall exceed 60-minutes wages where the buildings touch, and 30-minutes wages where they don't.

24/ All tow-away impound lots shall be open 24 hours a day, every day, 365-days a year. Where people have paid the recorder system to collect their vehicle, and the town lot does not have their vehicle in the assigned number in the unsecured parking area within one hour of the payment, the charges shall be reversed, and the tow truck company shall get no money for that tow. All towing businesses must accept all common forms of payment. All towing businesses that recently insisted on cash shall be investigated for tax fraud and other crimes. Here we see once again, the sort that loves cash.

25/ Where a vehicle has towed-away to a location further than 20km away from where it was standing, this shall be considered vehicle theft. There shall be towed-away vehicle in any urban or suburban area shall be towed more than 20km away.

26/ All busses, tow trucks, taxis, and commercial vehicles must have a giant number and a large QR code painted on top, left, right and back. They must also use the recorder system's vehicle tracker at all times. If they don't have either the giant DMV assigned numbers/QR code and a functioning tracker, then the truck shall be presumed to be engaged in nefarious activities, and will therefore be subject to immediate impound, and the arrest of the driver.

27/ All Bus drivers, taxi drivers, tow truck drivers, locksmiths must have a police ID verification and police background checks. They must also display their license number on their chest and back in the same size as police. However, above this number shall be the following text in a similar size: "Bus Driver lic.#", or "Taxi Lic. #", or "Tow driver Lic. #", or "Locksmith #".

28/ There shall be no foreign born people driving busses or human operated taxis. However, immigrant citizens shall be allowed to drive trucks.

29/ Where police arrest people in self-driving vehicles, they shall have no power to tow off self driving vehicles that can be sent to another location by the driver.

30/ To eliminate a big incentive towards police corruption, we shall say that where police tow the vehicles of people they arrest, this towing service shall be provided for a charge of 3-hour's wages, and it shall include 30 days of free parking in the police impound lot. After this time, the regular charge of 30-minute's wages per day shall apply.

31/ All tow truck drivers, like all other call-out services must agree to a preliminary price based on a description, photos or videos sent. When the tow truck driver arrives, they may either do the work as agreed, or not do the work. However, regardless of what was said or agreed to, if there is no work, if there is no tow, then the tow truck driver shall have no right to get paid. The alternative is anti-competitive and it also leads to scams.

32/ The recorder system's dispatch system for taxis, busses, tow trucks, dump trucks, water trucks, and trash trucks shall favor ownership where 1-to-6 owners own and operate one vehicle over the entire system. These shall be thought to get preference over situations where one individual or a non-human entity is running many vehicles using wage earning workers.

33/ Tow truck drivers, like taxis shall use a meter. However with tow trucks, the flag fall will be perhaps 3-hour's wages, and the per mile will be perhaps triple the taxi rate. The Senate shall establish maximum rates per kilometer for towing services around the nation. The people should watch the price here and with taxis and all the other service vehicle rates as an important indication of corruption. Tow truck drivers must decouple before they can present a bill for private towing. Also, all police department and meter maid towing must be randomized via the county's randomized tow truck dispatch system.

34/ Where people are arrested, police must allow them to call family and friends to come and pick up their vehicle, or to call for a tow truck to tow the vehicle to their home. All police stations must have a vehicle key pickup function for when people are arrested.

35/ We can't ever have a situation where it is particularly profitable to anyone to tow cars away. It must be just barely enough to get people to do the work. We can't ever over pay for this. Because if we do, then we will have tow truck operators making gifts to people for towing people away on any slim excuse. Also, this slim profit situation will not support tow truck drivers driving around scanning vehicles to see which need to be towed. Instead, the system shall send multiple email notices to each registered owner's must check email account, and also use roadway video to automatically dispatch towing. Except in urban and suburban areas, and where people are blocking driveways or roads, or harming crops, it shall not be possible to tow vehicles for parking less than 6 hours.

36/ Ride-share customers are supposed to scan the QR before they get into the vehicle. This reports to their loved one about their status. The picture on the account is must match the driver.

37/ All new walkways and roads shall be made from asphalt over class-2 base, due to the ultra smooth surface, and low cost, and ease of repair. where it often gets hot, the asphalt shall have white gravel pressed in. where it seldom gets hot, black gravel shall be used. On walkways the gravel shall have gravel that prevents slipping.

38/ Those who block intersection boxes may suffer a 3-years license suspension. Egregious blockers and second offenders may loose their license for 5-years.

39/ There shall be no pedicabs or trishaws, or tuk tuks, or slow moving transport vehicles.

40/ All counties shall be responsible for immediately salting or plowing their urban and urban roads and arterial roads and keeping their urban routes safe wherever it snows, or when there is ice.

41/ Bicycle lanes shall be for bicycles, and speed limited two wheel electric vehicles, but not motorbikes that produce any exhaust. The maximum speed for vehicles including bicycles in all pedestrian zones shall be 12kph.

42/ There shall no longer be any prohibitions against trucks using their engines to slow down. If there are places where this is a problem, the nimby's near the road can either move, or they can re-route the road outside of their town, provided the national Senate approves.

43/ It shall not be possible to tow entire ad-hoc parking lots of people that illegally parked for some special event and are not blocking anyone's driveway.

44/ All exurban places, private or public shall be free parking for up to 4-hours during the day.

L'4. PARKING

1/ There shall no longer be any coin parking meters.

2/ It shall not be allowed for Government to charge people to park in places where and when there is abundant parking. Public parking shall always free unless there isn't enough of it. When and where a block is over 20% empty, Government shall not be allowed to charge the public for parking.

3/ 80% of all parking and penalties collected by government shall belong to the national general fund.

4/ The fine for an ordinary parking ticket shall not exceed 4 hours wages. This shall include the use of a disability space by a person who is not disabled. however the fine for blocking a hydrant, or spending too long in an airport loading zone, or on a red zone shall be 20 hours wages.

5/ The vehicles that block a roadway or a private driveway shall be fined 80 hours wages, and the vehicle shall be impounded for 30 days.

6/ All vehicles that break down on a highway, or in an intersection shall be fined 200 hours wages, and the vehicle shall be impounded for 90 days.

7/ Government shall not have any marked parking spaces for parallel parking on streets.

or marked parking stalls parallel to the street. All of these shall be removed.

8/ There shall be no street parking on arterial streets that ever get gridlocked (not counting accidents and road work).

9/ Neither government, nor any landlord, nor any HOA manager shall limit the right of people and their guests to park on their own exclusive-use driveway. It shall be thought that the people punishing others for this sort of rule are neither driven by practicality or aesthetics, but by a desire for hard to track extra fees and parking citation money that is easy to steal. Some who are connected to Ishtar are also seeking to increase strife in the land of the host.

10/ Wherever street parking is allowed on both sides of a driveway, and the driveway leads to an actual parking space that is regularly used for parking, the driveway's beneficiaries shall have the right to park parallel in the street and block their own driveway, if the spacing of the parallel parked vehicles has enough room for a parallel parked vehicle. However, this right shall not exist for abandoned curb cuts, and driveways that lead to no parking on private property.

11/ Except on arterial roads, each property shall have the right to install one curb cut from the street. This national rule shall supersede all county/local rules about this subject.

12/ There shall be no privately installed wheel boots or wheel clamps or other vehicle immobilization devices used either on public property or in parking lots where many people come and park. Where people find these attached to their vehicle, they shall belong to the vehicle owner and may be either removed or cut off and taken away. It shall be a crime for people to extort money for removing a wheel boot/clamp. There shall be nothing wrong with locksmiths and others offering the service of removing a private wheel clamps for a fee. These clamps shall be considered a gift to the car owner by the person putting it on.

13/ When people have someone parked and blocking their driveway, they can call drone parking enforcement for 6-minute's wages, and the county will take a GPS parking ticket picture of the wrongly parked vehicle and issue a fine if both the caller and the AI corroborate that the photo is actually a parking violation. If a ticket is issued, the caller charge gets removed. The same approach might be used for all parking enforcement, intersection blockers. We also imagine the same drones scanning the movements of hundreds of cars as once, looking for swerving and DUIs, and then zooming in on them and calling for police dispatch.

L'5. VEHICLE SPECIFICATIONS

1/ The maximum passenger vehicle weight shall be reduced over time and shall never be increased.

2/ Headlight height shall be uniform.

3/ All license plates and license plate bezels shall be suppressed at least 1cm from the surface.

4/ Once we switch over to single-wide vehicles, no vehicle used in any urban area or on any highway shall have projecting side mirrors on rigid stems. All shall have video cameras up high, like stubby car antennas that either do not project laterally, or if they do project laterally, they are on flexible rubber stems that can withstand an impact. The rear view is presented as a 3-panel virtual scene located at the central rear view mirror. The central panel is the back facing camera, the two side mirrors are presented along side of the central panel. If you tap the central screen, it switches to the front cameras.

5/ No new vehicle may come from the factory with any form of external roof rack. All glass ceilings in cars shall be prohibited. No cargo shall be allowed outside of conforming vehicles.

6/ No vehicle ventilation system that is set to ventilate without heat shall raise the temperature of the air by more than 1°C. No vehicle firewall shall be less than R-20 on net, including penetrations and leakage points.

7/ All vehicle manufacturers shall use one of 50 standard bumpers front and back. No bumper shall be plated or use any material that will crack or break if flexed a few times. The attachment side of bumpers may be painted, however, however, all other bumpers surfaces must be covered in rubber fittings. Both bumpers shall have an 8-cm gap for springs. This allows for bumper-to-bumper storage. All bumpers on all vehicles including large trucks shall be 10cm tall, and all shall run from 30cm off the ground to 40cm off the ground. All bumper surfaces shall be vertically flat.

8/ All vehicles that use liquid fuel shall have a milliliters of fuel flow per second gauge, and this shall be combined with the speedometer to also show milage.

9/ All vehicles shall have clearly marked jumper points with red and black colors. All vehicle batteries for non-primarily electric vehicles shall be removable and replaceable without using tools. All car batteries shall have a 100% finger-activated kill switch and no radio, and a discharge rate meter

10/ All vehicle doors and rear hatches and trunks shall be required to remain operable, even if the battery dies. and the engine will not start.

11/ There shall be no vehicle moonroofs or sunroofs in any new vehicles. Removable hard tops and convertibles shall however be allowed. However, removable hard tops must be secured by heavy duty means that make them just as safe as single piece vehicles. All vehicle roofs must have at least 5 cm of styrofoam thermal insulation except at the front to back structural ribs and transverse egg crating.

12/ All vehicles shall be required to use mud flaps that extend 7cm from both sides of each wheel, and within 20cm of the ground. Where there are multiple wheels on multiple axils, the mud flaps shall project 12cm from both sides of each wheel group.

13/ All battery operated vehicles shall come with screwed-on charging cables that must be plugged back into the vehicle for the main power circuit of the vehicle to operate.

14/ All new cars shall have brake lights that flash very fast when they are rapidly slowing, and another slower way when they are slowly slowing.

15/ No vehicle hubcap or one-piece wheel may project more than 2cm beyond the edge of the tire, or have any potentially injurious rotating projections.

16/ Noisy off-road and snow tires shall not be used on the nation's highways except when there is snow or flooding.

17/ All new trains, busses, and transit vehicles shall be required to have operable windows and shades.

18/ All new road vehicles shall be required to have 2 hands on the wheel sensor, and recording of this, like the cardio sensors on many elliptical exercise machines. This is so that the drivers are using both hands.

19/ All new road vehicles that use rubber wheels must have oil drip pans for their engine, and other potential oil/fluid drip locations.

20/ All the old human operated vehicles shall be allowed on the roads of the old centers of our old towns on the last day of each teneth.

21/ All automotive bolts must be operable by means of either a ratchet/breaker bar, or a ratchet box open wrench. All engines under 500 horsepower must use standard tools for assembly and cannot invent new tools. All Phillips and regular head screws must be reachable by screwdriver and hand.

L'6. CAR DEALERS

1/ All new vehicles and components shall be required to sell all new vehicles for the same out-the-door price.

2/ All vehicles advertised for sale must list the VIN number of the vehicle(s) advertised. As soon as a vehicle sells, the transaction system shall send out a message to all car selling websites and that car and VIN number shall be immediately pulled from all listings.

3/ When a vendor advertises or offers a vehicle (new or used) for sale at a given price, the vendor must transfer the vehicle for that price including all charges such as dealer fees, tax, transfer fees, delivery fees, dealer preparation fees, cleaning fees, motor oil, two key sets, and a full tank of gas, four keys, and everything needed to buy a the vehicle. The registration charges and insurance charges are not included.

4/ All vehicle manufacturer extra charges for optional item charges shall be subject to MECOT of 30%. This shall include floor mats, mud flaps, special lights, detachable roof racks, fancy wheels, fancy tires, and similar things.

5/ Enterprises that sell vehicles shall not be allowed to repairing those vehicles post sale. They shall also be prohibited from having an affiliated repair businesses, or referring vehicle buyers to any repair business.

6/ If a vehicle is advertised for a price, and a vehicle is depicted it must be the version available at that price. Base prices cannot be stated and loaded trim depicted.

7/ All exclusive dealing agreements between vehicle manufacturers and vehicle distributors/sellers shall be unenforceable under the law.

8/ Every vehicle must be photo-documented, and inspected in detail at each sale, including first sale. This inspection shall include a check of all systems and a compression check for transactions after 60,000 km. Where dealers buy used vehicles and sell them, the buyer shall be allowed to see what the dealer paid from the system.

9/ All solutions, gasses, and vapors used to clean vehicles for sale or for rent shall be approved by the Senate prior to introduction to the market, and prior to use. No vehicle cleaner, or cleaning process on the market or in popular use shall leave any residual vapors, or residue, or degrade the materials used in vehicles, or leave a slimy film.

10/ All vehicle transactions shall be via the recorder's office, and if the price is either above or below the 90% range of prices, the vehicle must be assessed by the recorder's office.

11/ When vehicles are advertised for sale, the vehicle's VIN number must be listed, along with the price. The model data, and previous accidents/transaction photos automatically come up in the system, and all damage must be shown. The buyer pays the recorder the sum the vehicle is offered for sale at, or he must wait until the price decays. Then the vehicle transfers, the transfer fees are deducted, and the seller credited by the recorder.

12/ When people buy and sell more than one vehicle in any calendar year, they shall pay an additional anti-middle-man sales tax equal to 10% of the value of the vehicle sold. Where fictional citizen and buyers of salvage vehicles have owned vehicles for less than 1 year, they shall pay an additional anti-middle-man sales tax equal to 10% of the value of the vehicle sold. When normal owners of more than one year sell their vehicles, they shall only pay the basic vehicle transaction tax of 1% that all vehicle transactions must pay. New car dealers that take cars in trade in must always pay the 10% tax. All hotel doors must not have some secret trick for the staff to open them in a moment. Where this kind of secret trick lock exists, and people break into rooms and hotels and harm the occupants, the hotel shall be liable for the injury or death. The only way thought a hotel door that is locked from the inside should be to get the police to come and call the county recorder system and instruct the door to be released. 56/ All hotel and airline booking websites and all search engines displaying travel related booking information must default to showing and autofilling with the date of next following day, and the price for that day.

57/ All hotel rentals shall be for 22 hours a night. 71/ When people press the do not disturb button on their room, the housekeeper and the Hotel staff can't go in the room unless two separate people go in together and activate the override. Also, there shall be documentation of their entry to the recorder system.

72/ Where rentals are rented for less than 22 hours a day, they shall pay hotel sales tax of 20%. This is to keep the hotel industry convenient for the people. Otherwise, we see the situation where the rooms are rented for 20 hours a night or worse 18 hours, and the people have to be out from 10 in the morning until 4 pm, as is normal in Australia. It is thought that varying the check-in/out times will make the system much more useful than having these long lock-out times.

74/ No group may own more than 2000 hotel / motel rooms. No community shall restrict the number of hotel/motel rooms that it has, and all communities must have an infinite amount of land for this for people who want to build hotels.

16/ Those who are especially attractive should not be in the media. This leads to a nation that is shallow about appearances, and it takes reproductive power from the Senate as a result. It makes many people unhappy. And it also leads to lower birthrates.

17/ Those in the media are not supposed to wear opaque makeup, except when they are clowns or aliens or some other imaginary being.

18/ There shall be no bans on meat advertising.

13/ All restaurants serving beverages must offer cold tap water for free in glasses, and bottled water at twice grocery store prices. An important part of the consideration to drink the over-sugared diabetes drinks is that water cost nearly the same per portion. One of the things that we as a society will now do is to say that everyone who sells sugared drinks must also sell individual 500ml cold still sealed water bottles for the same price that locally produced, unbranded, bulk drinking water sells for in grocery stores. And except in crisis situations, if a business required to sell water like this runs out of water to sell like this, it must close until it has water.

14/ Regarding food courts:

a/ No restaurant chain with over 30 outlets shall be allowed in any food court.

16/ All restaurants and bars and cafés and grocery stores must bag and bin all of their garbage so that there is no wet garbage leaking onto the ground for insects and vermin to eat. It shall be a serious crime to dig through restaurant garbage looking for food. on the bill. Even the sales taxes shall now be included in the menu price. Also, disputes related to extra charges that are in addition to the per item menu price shall be considered matters of civil law, and the business shall be required to use the civil law system to collect them, and the criminal law system shall have no jurisdiction with regard to any other charge than listed prices. Where seafood and other expensive things are sold in restaurants by the kilo, the weight and price must be agreed to in advance and the buyer must be offered to see this on a scale.

Whenever they want to bill over 2 hours local wages, they must get payment in advance for the meal, and there cannot be an un-specified amount.

Also, this constitution calls for the total elimination of elaborate table settings.

22/ Due to the nature of the new alcohol regulation system, there shall be no more drink tabs, or buying rounds of drinks, because each drink must be first authorized by the system, and then paid-for in advance by each license holder and only then will the alcohol be given to the bar/store customer.

23/ Except for pizza, greasy and oily food shall not be served at sidewalk cafes, unless the surfaces are either flamed granite it is otherwise impervious to greasy foods.

28/ Each County shall operate a system that connects the ranchers, farmers, cooks and bakers with all their customers.

29/ There will be a food order pick up area at most food courts. It will be possible to order food from anywhere in the entire interchange area to each hawker center's pick up window. Eventually, this will include all of the best dishes from all over the world cloned worldwide. But all the food in the food court system will come from perhaps 100 or 500 competing food makers for each interchange. This food will be distributed to perhaps 500,000 units in maybe 50 to 200 townships.

30/ The township distribution systems shall be run so that hawkers, cooks and bakers of fresh foods can robotically deliver their foods fresh to the people of each community via their township food court, and also via the delivery point locker system for very little money. There will be many of these in the inside the ring road areas. There will also be many of these delivery points outside the ring road at each crossing t street on alternating sides of the loop road. Here we find an over-abundance of delivery lockers. Some are insulated, refrigerated or freezer-ed. We will send out deliveries every 12 minutes, or perhaps every 6 minutes with instant notification of each delivery.

31/ County government shall run an oversized food court system like in Singapore, a system that bans chains of more than 30 restaurants nationwide. We shall lease out stalls to be food hawkers. Between the rents, the delivery postage, special delivery fees, and shipping fees, we will fund the already-built operating expenses of this mostly free robotic delivery/distribution system.

32/ Many people will get calorie managed meal card foods for the weight management effects, and for the reduction in public healthcare charges they must pay.

37/ Restaurant shall not be allowed to charge more for large groups. With large groups, each subgroup shall give their name and get a separate bill.

38/ We shall encourage AI hand washing verification for restaurant workers.

39/ No rice shall be sold more than 3-hours after cooking (of the rice) due to toxic mold.

40/ Businesses and especially restaurants and media outlets shall not be allowed to play the same music and sounds all the time. All businesses shall have at least an 500-hour music track if they have music.

41/ The most popular restaurants/hawkers in each city get to have a free hawker stall at the airport. All overpriced low quality existing airport uses should be regarded as a public nuisance, a thing of corruption, and a thing to be gotten rid of.

42/ Food service businesses are must call their sizes as small, medium and large or make up names, and they must tell you how many milliliters or ounces this is.

45/ Government shall make regular inspections and publish ratings of all commercial kitchens for cleanliness: A, B, C, D, F. Other people and services shall be free to do the same thing and use the same ratings and display these with the government ratings. Nobody should use an unrated kitchen, or an F kitchen. However to encourage ad hoc food production, we shall not have any mandatory government food safety approvals required to sell food by the road, or to operate a restaurant in a commercial place. However, all establishments that produce grease must have onside grease trapping. They must also have stainless counters and sinks, and cooking equipment. 36/ One of the most fundamental and important roles of the Senate shall be to help assure that the economy is free and fair and with an optimal number of companies all competing with each other. For example, the grocery industry is supposed to work with many independent butchers, dairies, Latin American food importers, Italian food importers, Thai food importers, seasonal vendors, dry food vendors, frozen food vendors, etc. These all use the daily fresh delivery system unless they are very big, or have special freshness needs.

bats, wild pigs, and small wild animals, shall not be sold or eaten.

2/ It shall not be allowed to make fake, printed, or lab-gown meat that can pass as real meat. Meat shall not be cut up or ground up and then reformed into chunks that look like real unprocessed meat. Also, it shall not be allowed to glue small pieces of meat together so they appear to be a large piece. However, postage stamp sized pieces of real meat may be reformed into burgers and loafs. All forms of meat glues shall be prohibited. It shall especially not be allowed to glue together cuts of meat in a way that hides how they are actually made from chicken anuses, or some other cut of meat that nobody would want to eat if they actually knew what it was.

3/ Pre-prepared foods whether in a restaurant or grocery store shall not contain animal byproducts such as anuses, gonads, organ meat, cartilage, or nerve/brain tissue. For various reasons, these parts shall not be considered fit for human consumption except for famine conditions, frozen emergency food storage, and as famine aid.

4/ All forms of ground meat shall be prohibited from grocery stores and from restaurants. Un-breaded, and un covered meat may however be cubed and sliced in small postage stamp shapes, but the average of the 3 dimensions pre-cooking must be at least 5mm and no dimension may be under 2mm in thickness. No meat (raw or cooked) sold in the nation shall be in smaller pieces.

5/ There shall be no meat served where the inside remains frozen, while the outside is being slowly cooked and sliced off. There shall also be no more sizzling plate dishes, or flaming dishes served at the table. No food or alcohol shall be served on stone, or on fire.

6/ If a restaurant dish is described as beef, or beef meat (or similarly any other meat) it must be 100% the meat of that animal. If the meat is mixed with other sorts of edible substance, or meat byproduct, that meat dish must be called as beef meat loaf. All meat and meat loaf products in restaurants and in grocery stores, shall indicate the percentage of real meat (not including meat byproducts). It shall be a felony to inject meats or produce with fluids or salts, or to be in possession of equipment to do this. Furthermore, the water content of various meats and produce shall be regularly tested by the government health inspection department.

7/ Ishtar does not want its host eating meat. This is because the less meat the host eats, the more vulnerable it is to a super-profitable food crisis. This is because if there's a food crisis, people eat the livestock, and then all the grain that was going to go to feeding livestock is now also available for people to eat. So where nations are eating lots of domestically produced meat, they are much less vulnerable to a grain crisis. For this reason, we shall say that government and its people shall not do anything to discourage or phase out or limit meat eating, or to encourage vegetarianism. In fact, government shall not even allow any form of advertising or media that favors vegetarianism, or is against meat eating. However, in times of genuine food crisis where our countrymen are going hungry, for lack of food, government may regulate how much meat the people can eat.

8/ Vinegar, acids, salt, and flavorings shall not be added to raw meats in grocery stores. Meat vendors shall be prohibited from selling marinated meats. There shall be no super-sour sweets. Also the PH and molarity of prepared foods shall be regulated and displayed.

9/ Fresh meats, fruits and vegetables shall not be colored or coated, or sprayed to make them look fresher or better, or to increase sales. There shall especially be no dying of any fish such as salmon and ahi. Bananas may however be gassed to ripen them.

10/ The production of artificial and synthetic meats, shall be heavily regulated and generally prohibited. Also, when something is not actually meat, it must be called "imitation meat".

11/ Given the long history of mass poisoning by Mideast people dating back to at least the great Athenian symposium poisoning where hemlock was given to the Athenian isocracy, no kosher or halal foods shall be allowed in our nation. There shall also be no specialty markets or distributors for Mideast foods. Also, all processed foods, beverages and drugs must be sold in packaging that is factory sealed in a way that prevents tampering and resealing.

12/ Meat pathogens being an ancient tool of targeted mass murder, government shall neither set, nor allow any standards for the religious killing of animals. All meats and all foods in our nation shall be called both halal and kosher in an indistinguishable way so the followers of these religions cannot be guaranteed a safe food supply during a mass poisoning.

13/ We shall have pink pigs and other pigs. The pink pigs are for human consumption, the other pigs are for pet food. The non-pink pigs may eat feces as part of their diet. Due to a rich diet, most human feces are filled with huge amount of nutrients for the non-pink pigs to consume. Human feces may also be used to grow fish reptiles and insects for consumption by animals and fish, but not humans. It is ridiculous that we waste this massive and otherwise nuisance source of bio energy.

14/ Fresh meats in grocery stores shall be discounted around the time of the last days they are to be sold. There shall be one markdown in the morning of the day that they expire. Later, in the afternoon there shall be a higher percentage markdown. And there shall be an even lower percentage on the morning after they expire.

15/ Tilapia fish, catfish, and shellfish may be sold as foods in themselves, but they shall not be used as minor ingredient of less than 10% in foods.

16/ Any food called either a hamburger or a cheeseburger shall have meat patties that contain no other ingredient but beef and seasonings sprinkled on top. Anything else shall be considered food adulteration under the law. If there's anything else in the beef, it shall be called a meatball, which shall not be regulated as to content, except that all of the meat chunks must be of the minimum size called for herein.

17/ All bird eggs must be UV disinfected if they are sold to other people as food. Restaurants shall not be allowed to serve partly cooked eggs or eggs with yolks that are not fully cooked unless the customer requests this.

18/ Livestock shall not be fed harvested grain except within 24 hours of their slaughter. Livestock shall not be given salt after they leave their ranch on the way to slaughter, and the salt content of meat shall be regulated by government. Livestock shall never be fed the body parts of other animals, except when this has been pressure cooked for 20 minutes. No agriculturally vibrant part of the nation shall be more than 300km from a free government slaughterhouse. For the sake of dietary diversification, and reducing our impact to any particular part of the environment, our free government slaughterhouses shall handle rabbits, iguanas, gators, certain other reptiles, fish, properly farmed shellfish, crabs and lobster, medium and large chickens, turkeys, other birds, quarantined pigs, free range cattle, buffalo, and many other meats, but no rodents or other fouling and dirty species at all. All this meat gets free butchery and intermediary service by government. Also, the government owns all the meat distribution points, no, the townships, and commercial areas. There is no profit in the system. The amounts that the meat is sold for is supposed to balance with the amount paid for the live animals. The cost of running the butchery and cutting up and packaging and distributing the meat to the government meat refrigerators in our stores (Government builds the grocery stores around the meat and fresh bread distribution point.

19/ It is thought ideal to have this butchery and distribution function operating as a partial monopoly operated by government. People can go outside the system, but the meat is not certified as healthy. Butchery shall be seen as an ideal canary in a coal mine thing for government, and to compare other agencies with. This is because, on one hand, it is unnecessary for us to eat meat for a couple weeks. If we all have a meat fast for a week or two nothing bad will happen. This is not harmful. Yet nearly everyone will notice when we there is no meat to eat. So this is really an ideal canary in a coal mine thing for government. All the sensible crooks will be afraid to try and corrupt this monopoly due to all the investigative heat that will surely come from the crisis at the butchers. It's also a good model to compare with other corrupt agencies of government. Besides, it will significantly reduce meat prices.

20/ Everyone shall have a right to eat meat if they want. Those who don't believe in eating meat shall have no right to demand this of others. Nobody shall be allowed to engage in politics that drive the world towards vegetarianism.

21/ Imitation crab, fake scallops, fake seafood, fake meat may be sold in grocery stores if they're labeled accurately what they are. However, in restaurants: those who serve imitation crab, imitation, scallops, or any other fake meats may be charged with fraud. It shall be considered felony food adulteration to pass off fake meats as real. All fake meat must use the word fake meat in the biggest letters used on the label in black ink on a white block background. Fake eggs may not be manufactured, imported or sold. All eggs served to people already cooked (including eggs used to make omelets) must be made from nothing but actual real eggs with no additives, including milk, butter, and sweeteners.

22/ The Senate shall repeatedly check all blender meat sources for human DNA and attempt to trace the pollution back to its source. Note, only famine biscuits and pet foods may use blender meat. Also, both human food and Pet food shall be regularly checked by the FDA for DNA from humans, dogs, cats, horses, and DNA for common roadkill animals.

23/ We shall try to raise coconut crabs for meat by feeding them mostly table scraps and what we feed pigs. How energy efficient are these cold blooded terrestrial crustaceans? Can we feed them insects and insect larva? They can probably tolerate larva better than mammals.

24/ Feces shall not be fed to livestock or egg animals. No meat shall be died or have any salt or sugar added to it raw meat.

25/ We shall import no beef, except from Canada. We shall import no pork except from Canada and Mexico. We shall import no dairy products except from Canada and Europe. We shall import no fish or seafood, except from North America, and then only when the various nations prohibit fish and seafood imports. Fish eggs shall not be imported except from Canada. We shall import no food from China and certain other dirty and polluted nations until those nation clean up its act with regard to food safety, imitation food, and pollution.

26/ All fillers and mixtures must be listed in the ingredients, or on the menu. Where restaurants are buying pre-prepared meals from suppliers and re-heating these, the restaurant menu must say this, along with the supplier's name and ingredients list and nutrition information. All food chains (Restaurant and grocery) must clearly display the body parts composition of their meat products. General muscle, head and nerve meats, various organs, bone and cartilage, tongue, feet, sex organs, stomach, heart, anus, etc. This must be declared, even for famine foods. All food chains must also clearly display sugar content, caloric content, and what types oils they use, and the oil amounts. They must also also clearly display a complete list of ingredients in the food they serve.

27/ We shall raise aquaculture species that are raised for human consumption and we shall also raise species unfit for human consumption. The human consumption species shall not be fed feces/ shit or uncooked meat.

28/ No meat cooked or raw shall be died or colored.

29/ The Senate shall establish standards for the maximum salinity of meats. It shall also have standards for the presence of certain prohibited meat-doping chemicals. Overly salty animals and animals that fail the doping test shall not be allowed to use the low cost robot butchery and meat distribution system. Instead they must be butchered by a human or an aping robot.

30/ Human food and Pet food shall be regularly checked by FDA for DNA from dog, cat, human, and roadkill animals.

31/ Going forward, the way we consume and store our meat is going to be a little bit different. The better cuts are going to get all eaten straight away fresh. The less desirable cuts of beef and pork and lamb are going to get frozen and turned into frozen storage meat for a while before they are offered for human poor aid.

32/ Minimum worldwide restaurant standards:

a/ Everyone preparing food must have completed the UM's 4-hour video on the most basic food safety.

b/ All the food must be prepared in stainless, aluminum, ceramic, food plastic, or glass. Wood is no longer allowed in any food preparation, even cutting boards.

c/ Food preparers must wash their hands. The wearing of gloves offers little benefits: Cashless payments is probably more important.

d/ Each food seller must self-register and get a restaurant ID number. Then their customers can report good food or problems.

e/ The food standards for Singapore or Malaysia not having to do with Halal food preparation should be emulated around the poorer parts of the world.

f/ The counties are all supposed to have oversized food areas near their rail stops.

33/ Government shall establish standards for which animal parts are for human consumption, which are for pet food, and which are for aquaculture.

34/ Whenever restaurants use nonstandard cuts, or "giblets", the meat must be called giblets, which shall include anus, neck, snout, ears, feet, organ meat, cartilage, heads, etc. and must be disclosed at containing giblets. It shall not be allowed to grind up giblets for domestic hamburger, hot dogs, sausage, pink slime etc. Instead, the giblet meat should be sold to the poor parts of the world that need the protein.

35/ The reason why meat has become so expensive is because foreigners have come in and taken over the market like they've done with oil. They leave some small producers for show, but they take over all the large producers or drive all the big producers out of the business so they can take over. This is something they have been doing this ancient Roman times.

36/ The FDA shall send inspectors around to test livestock and ensure that no growth hormones are used in growing our meats

37/ To prevent the use of growth hormones, we shall ban chickens less than 19 weeks old.

38/ The food system shall ban all un-quarantined pork, and all un-certified porkfish from the grocery and restaurant system. Porkfish shall include catfish, tilapia, and the other muddy water fish, all crayfish, clams, mussels, and all other animals that tend to live in stagnant swamps, muddy streams and near sewage outfalls.

39/ All certified pork and certified porkfish shall be required to come from a registered farm with an estimated output per unit of facility. Farms are no allowed to sell more than this amount. Also all pork and porkfish farms shall be required to use the owner's first and last name and their pork/ porkfish farm number. They must also pay a year's wages to register the good name of their operation, a good name with a valuable name that farmers will guard.

40/ All so-called lab grown meat shall be called cell-grown meat, and this shall not be sold either in grocery stores or restaurants.

41/ USDA certification for butchering mammals, range birds, and dry reptiles shall only be required for meats sold in markets and supermarkets. There always must be an out for necessity-of-life-related government regulations. If the meat costs 2% more due to regulations that is one thing, but all too often we end up paying 200% more due to regulations. so in general, and especially where it is reasonably claimed that the cost of regulations has driven up costs by more than 10%, we need to make our health and safety regulation optional. This is so that when it gets too expensive, the people have an out, and the people creating the bureaucracy for profit can't profit from creating their bureaucracy. So this is why we must make government regulation optional with regard to USDA, and restaurant health inspections, marijuana, and even remote buildings with no sewage contamination issues. One of these exceptions shall be the way we allow small farmers with less than 2000 head to butcher their own meat for direct to consumer sales without government involvement in the butchering or distribution process.

42/ It shall be thought vitally important that meat remain inexpensive for the following reasons:

a/ Many of our people love to eat meat.

b/ Meat consumption is necessary for the health of the people and their ability to eat a balanced and nutritious diet.

c/ So that we maximize our production of meat so our nation will never be vulnerable to a Mideast style grain famine such as the ones that plagued ancient Rome for centuries.

43/ So that we do not drive our farmers out of business, and so that we do not encourage foreign producers to introduce livestock plagues, it shall be the law that whenever government culls livestock, it shall pay 90% of market value for the animals it culls. Also it is worth repeating that our nation shall allow zero importation of foreign meat, so that we will not be subject to foreign manipulations of our food supply as we read about in the ancient play "Odious Rex" where we read how "Cattle sicken and die" under the odious rex. This drove them to buy 5x and 10x more expensive foreign meat animals. These animals were sold by the same group that caused our nation to buy oil for 5x and 10x more during the Arab oil embargo of 1973-1977.

44/ Each county that annually produces more than 50,000 head of beef, bison, pork, sheep or whatever animal, should be required to have its own automated local butchery facility for robo-butchering that sort of animal. And whatever small meat companies or ranchers are actually using the facility, they can rent it at built cost. In fact, we even imagine the Clovis Cattle collective having a chain of Clovis markets, with grass-finished meats and irrigation supplemented crops. And maybe we have 20 of these nationwide and they drive the likes of Hormel out of business.

45/ It's not allowed for grocers to add things to raw meat, or to sell flavored raw meat, or to sell marinated meats. Also, the salt content of meat and pre-butchery animals shall be regulated.

46/ Nobody wants 3-D printed meat, or cloned meat, or insect protein. Nobody wants these things, or imitation crab meat. And we certainly don't want these things to be called meat. Therefore none of these things shall have the word meat on their packaging except when used in one of the following 3 terms: "NOT A MEAT PRODUCT", or "NOT REAL MEAT", or "FAKE MEAT".

L'16. INGREDIENTS & ADDITIVES

1/ There shall be no right to secrecy with regard to the ingredients that go into the food that feeds great numbers of people. Those who make food for others must all be completely open about their ingredients (and all levels of sub-ingredients), and trade secrets shall never be allowed with regard to restaurants and packaged food providers. All

Processed foods and widely distributed foods must declare their recipe and mixture (including all levels of sub-ingredients) and this shall be published online and thus be public knowledge.

2/ The intentional use of undisclosed ingredients in foods shall be considered the felony of food adulteration. The recorder system and the money courts shall investigate and deal with all products that offer bigger portions than they deliver.

3/ There shall be no redaction, or censorship of pharmaceutical ingredients or inserts. All products that attempt to do this shall forfeit their right to intellectual property protection, and the right to even exist in the marketplace. Where translated ingredients labels are added, they must not cover the original language ingredients.

4/ All chemicals known to be deadly or injurious in small amounts shall be banned from the food supply unless the Senate can prove that they are more valuable than they are potentially harmful.

5/ The Senate shall work under a presumption of sabotage, and that most non-food food additives are actually slightly detrimental to human health, and this is by design. The Senate shall have a bias towards not allowing food additives. The Senate shall also have a lengthy 10+ year approval processes for admission or re-admission of most banned food additives. This approval process shall be conducted for free by the Senate, but it should take a long time so that problems from long-term use can reveal themselves.

6/ The Senate shall not be allowed to exempt ingredients from being listed, or allow them to be hidden as a sub-ingredient behind another ingredient. It shall no longer be allowed to use vague terms like spices, flavorings, or fragrance, instead actual spices, flavorings, and fragrances must be listed.

7/ 1/8 of the labeling on all ingredients required goods must be dedicated to ingredients. And where nutrition information is required, 3/16 of the labeling shall have nutrition information. Also, products shall be required to use only non-toxic ink in their packaging and labeling. All food packaging must only use FDA approved inks, papers and plastics. Also, FDA shall regulate all tattoo ink and assure that all can be as safe as reasonably practical.

8/ No additives shall be added to food unless those additives are approved by the Senate. In other words, the food additive gets studied for a decade or two before it is added to the food supply, not after. All nanotechnology ingredients must be listed as such and clearly described. Also, surely the Senate shall carefully regulate nanotech in our food.

9/ It shall be considered fraud to add or omit ingredients that are not listed in the food label. All manufactures of large food runs shall be responsible for regularly testing their sub ingredients to make sure they don't contain any hidden ingredients. No ingredient in any food shall be excluded from the ingredients listing requirements no matter how small that ingredient is or no matter its nature. This shall include all sub-ingredients, and all sub-sub-ingredients without without limit. Again, the Senate shall not have the power to exclude any ingredient from labeling requirements as the old corrupt government did.

10/ There shall be no exceptions to the rule that all ingredients must be shown on the label of all products that people eat, drink, inject, swallow, rinse with, or put on their body (such as anti-perspirants, soaps, shampoos, lotions, sunscreens, cosmetics, wrinkle creams, etc.). It shall also include all laundry soaps, household cleaners, and any other product that might come in contact with the body. It shall also include all cooking and food preparation devices and cloth compositions and treatment for clothing, beddings and towels. All ingredients, including all sub-ingredients shall be shown. No ingredients, or sub-ingredients in packaged, or prepared foods may be excluded from food labeling, or exist as a secret undeclared ingredient or sub-ingredient.

In these matters of ingredients, there shall be no rounding to zero for any added or additive thing. Everything added to the food supply shall be carefully regulated by the Senate, with the health and welfare of the people being the only important consideration. No coating, no additive goes unregulated. Nothing artificial shall be added to our foods without careful evaluation by the Senate. Also, the Sub-Senate shall test, monitor and verify our food and drug supply chemically with regard to purity and poison additives.

11/ There shall be no indigestible ingredients in food, drinks, or other ingested things, including especially synthetic flavorings and aromatics. The Senate shall have a way for the public to report indigestible aromatic ingredients passing through their urine. This is so the Senate can trace the use of these things back to their source and arrest the food adulterers.

12/ Fresh foods (such as fruit, vegetables, butter, honey, or coffee) shall not be dyed or colored on the outside, or injected with other things to make it look fresher or plumper. No food or beverages shall be colored with synthetic color.

13/ Without exception, there shall be mandatory labeling of GMO food stuffs in grocery stores and in restaurants, especially those that are typically eaten raw or lightly cooked and not thoroughly cooked.

14/ All food ingredients must be named simply and accurately and not in a way that disguises what they are. Every ingredient and sub-ingredient in every food or drug must be listed without exception no matter how small and diluted it is. Also, the Senate shall compile a list of common impurities, adulterants, and byproducts that are thought to perhaps be harmful, and these must be listed with the ingredients if they are present. The Senate shall do this with all foods, and drinks, all body products that go on the skin such as soaps, shampoos, air, conditioners, bubble baths, cosmetics, and all clothing detergents fabric softeners and the like.

15/ No portion of the tobacco genome may be added to the genome of any foodstuff or ingestible because this plant is known to be extremely carcinogen.

16/ No processed food shall contain less than 3% peanut, tree nuts, shellfish, fish, egg products, milk products, wheat, or soybeans by weight. This includes especially sub-ingredients. Nut products shall not be served in aircraft, restaurants, or school meals. Where packaged food have nuts, there must be a front of package warning of appropriate size.

17/ No food or drink containing more than 1-mg per kilo of petroleum distillates or inorganic solvents shall be sold in the nation. This shall include surface agents like waxes and pesticide vehicles. This shall also include: hexane, heptane, pentane, benzene, toluene, xylene, chloroform, diethyl ether, ethyl acetate, methylene chloride, pyridine and other similar substances the Senate may later add. Previously, these toxic solvents have been used to boost net oil output by around 10% and get that last little bit of oil. Now however, the use of these substances in seed oil extraction shall be prohibited. Also, the FDA shall regularly check all vegetable oils and oil containing foods to make sure they don't contain traces of these yield boosting chemicals.

18/ Government shall ban the adding of fluoride to the water supply, including bottled water. Bottled water shall not contain any fluoride, or chlorine, or SO₄, or aluminum, or ammonia, or sodium over accepted levels as determined by the Senate. In all new townships there shall be no water pipes buried in the ground and no chlorine will therefore be needed in the water. Instead other methods of water treatment shall be used such as ozone/oxygen treatment. No bottled water shall contain any chlorine, fluoride, SO₄, aluminum, ammonia or anything but the slightest amount of sodium. The Senate shall re-evaluate the rules for sunscreen, under arm, deodorant, and fluoride in water and toothpaste.

19/ No aluminum shall be added as an ingredient in any foods, drinks, or body products such as deodorant or shampoo, or toothpaste. The Senate shall figure out whether aluminum really is linked to Alzheimer's, or whether the association is mostly from Ishtar struggling to get us cooking with heavier pans that use more energy.

20/ All Pesticide use and harvesting shall be reported by the farmer and tracked. Government shall work towards a more regional and complete use of pesticides.

21/ Uncooked yeast shall not be served or sold to anyone. This includes raw cookie dough used in foods. This should be taught to kids over and over again. and Yeast should not be kept in the house unless you are regularly using it. Here we note how Ben & Jerry's gets people to eat raw cookie dough and at the same time this is blamed on others.

22/ It shall be a felony to intentionally add benign non-food substances such as clay to foods. If this results in death, the person/people adulterating the food may be charged with murder-2

23/ Graphene oxide, thimerosal/mercury and lead shall be considered carefully regulated poisons at any amount and none shall be added to anything used by humans or living things.

24/ Hormones shall not be given to livestock to stimulate their growth. All large animals shall be tested for hormones, antibiotics, heavy metals, toxins genetic modifications, and also perhaps the presence of certain diseases prior to being butchered.

25/ It shall be a crime to give antibiotics and anti-fungal drugs to livestock prophylactically except upon the order of the Senate in case of epidemics for two reasons:

a/ It is an extremely foolish tragedy of the commons to squander the limited effectiveness of these drugs on livestock and personal profit.

b/ We don't want these drugs in our food supply, and especially in meats like beef that have a long history of being eaten undercooked.

26/ If it is called cheese, then only animal rennet may be used in making it. However, there shall also be "Chemo-cheese", which use bacteria to produce fake rennet. All Chemo-cheese must be cheddar in color, so the low-quality fake-cheese aspect of the chemo-cheese is intuitively understood by everyone. Again, all forms of fake cheese must be cheddar in color, regardless of their flavor. This is so everyone knows that they are eating.

27/ Government shall carefully study which sorts of mushrooms are hazardous or potentially hazardous. Then government shall eliminate the harmful mushrooms from the market. Wild mushrooms shall not be sold in stores or served in restaurants or catering.

28/ The salt content of restaurant food and pre-prepared foods shall be listed and limited by law, except where the nuts (such as pistachios are normally mostly washed before eating them.) All particularly salty foods like anchovies and electrolyte drinks shall have their salt content listed on the menu. Packing salt shall always be free to use and never taxed.

29/ The use of synthetic vanilla flavorings shall be prohibited. Most of the hormone distribution seems to be coming from fake vanilla because it so predominates in sweets consumed by teenage girls.

30/ The following shall be prohibited in foods, drinks, drugs, vaccines, nutritional supplements, cookware and products that are used on or in the body, or used for preparing food unless the Senate votes to allow them:

a/ Red #3, red #40 (Allura red), yellow #5, yellow #6, blue #1 (Brilliant blue), blue #2, yellow tartrazine, E120, titanium dioxide, and Carmel color food coloring.

b/ Sodium sulfite, sulfur dioxide, sodium nitrite and other nitrites, sodium phosphate, sodium acid phosphate, potassium late, sodium aluminum phosphate, sodium stearoyl lactylate, Sodium aluminum phosphate, sorbitan mono stearate, sorbic acid, polyoxyethylene, diacetyltartaric.

c/ Propylparaben, propylene glycol, azodicarbonamide, dimethylpolysiloxane.

d/ Bromine based food preservatives. Instead we shall return to iodide based food preservatives e/ Brominated vegetable oils, hydrogenated oils, olestra, and Olean.

f/ TBHQ or Tertiary Butylhydroquinone.

h/ Butylated Hydroxytoluene (BHT) Butylated Hydroxyanisole (BHA).

q/ Pfas and Pfoas.

r/ Chlormequatls.

s/ Glyphosate and all other herbicides which apparently harm our national healthy symbiots.

t/ PCDFs, CDDs, PCBs, Polysorbate 80, phalates (DEHP), dioxins, mercury, thimerosal, lead, arsenic, formaldehyde, ethanol, chlorine, barium, nano aluminum, pork based gelatins, acetone, or any cells from monkeys, dogs, or insects.

31/ Citric acid shall be renamed “FMA, or fermented mold acid”, and its use shall be discouraged.

32/ Phosphoric acid shall not be used in any food, beverage, or body product. Hydroquinone and kojic acid shall also be banned from food, beverages and especially body products like skin bleaching products. Magnesium sulfate or Epsom salts shall not be added to any beverage, or food.

33/ Unless the Senate decides otherwise, no folates (including especially folic acid) shall be added to any food due to the link with autism.

34/ Castoreum, Butendiol, and Monosin shall be prohibited.

35/ There shall be no use of parboiled grains in processed foods.

36/ There shall be no shellac or other insect based ingredients in our foods without full disclosure.

37/ The Senate shall monitor all all imported sauces, and imported spice powders for toxic and undeclared ingredients.

38/ There shall be no artificial smoke flavors.

39/ The FDA shall regularly test and verify that all oils or what they say they are and that all foods contain the ingredients listed and nothing more nothing else. Government shall regularly check on mass produce foods and beverages to make sure that the labeling this correct.

40/ Putting nanoparticles and things that people consume or put in their bodies either secretly or without a Senate permit shall be a capital offense.

41/ No synthetic flavors may be used in beverages.

47/ All processed foods shall indicate PH and molarity on the label.

48/ The drained weight of all canned or bottled contents (not including the packaging fluids) shall be listed on the packaging.

49/ Except for caloric information, all foods shall have all their nutrition and toxin levels expressed in grams (or milligrams) per 100g of the stuff. No other amount can be used but per 100g, or per centiliter.

50/ Goods shall not allowed to change their weight slightly, but must offer a substantially different weights so that consumers can tell. They must also say new weight prominently on their packaging (with the increase/decrease shown) over no less than 10% of the surface area. Personal paper goods such as toilet paper, and paper towels, shall list their net weight contained in the package just like food stuffs. Paper goods may only be sold at the following weights to make the shopping process more transparent: 8kg or bigger, 5kg, 2kg, 1kg, 500g, 100g and various smaller sizes. The dry weight and grade of all paper towels and toilet tissue shall be displayed on the packaging.

51/ Except for preservatives, there shall be no additives in tampons other than cotton or other natural absorbent fibrous materials. There shall be no bleached materials in tampons or in absorbent menstrual pads. All tampons must be individually packaged and sterile. There shall be no additives in either tampons or menstrual pads and these must be made of pure unbleached cotton or paper. Menstrual pads may be backed by plastic.

52/ All restaurants and packaged food sellers must have the portion sizes in grams on their menus. To further hinder the slippery slope of quantity-based reductioneering, we shall say that everything sold to consumers by weight or volume may only come in one of the following weights or its milliliter equivalent: 1g, 2g, 3g, 5g, 10g, 20g, 30g, 50g, 100g, 200g, 300g, 500g, 1kg, 2kg, 3kg, 5kg, 10kg, 20kg, 30kg, 50kg, 100kg.

53/ The newest advent in clothes detergent compression shall be reversed due to the obvious apparent harshness and toxicity of the chemicals involved. Instead, we shall go back to using the older style laundry detergents. Also, the foamy nature of detergent should not be discouraged by government as soap suds are the #1 leading way to recognize sewage leaks. So allowing sudsy detergents offers an extreme health benefit for the eternal problem of spotting leaky sewers, and preventing this filthy water from getting into either the supposedly clean run-off water, or much worse, into the fresh water system.

54/ The Senate shall investigate sassafras's root for the herb's beneficial and detrimental aspects.

55/ All foods shall use accurate names, and names that shall not ever be changed. It shall not be allowed to change the name of a thing to disguise what it once became known for. And we shall not allow people to use any names that hides what a thing actually is. For example, calling crickets as acheta. Where food is mislabeled in this way, (especially when low quality ingredient are used) the brand-name, and the right to sell in our nation shall generally be cancelled forever for the people who are saying that their food contains acheta instead of saying crickets.

56/ All food packaging shall be regulated by government.

57/ There shall be no additives at all in fresh meats.

58/ We shall limit the number of chemicals found in food to no more than 1,000.

61/ With regard to foods and drugs we are not quite sure of: we shall have a few polka dots here and there around the nation where we allow them to be sold on a test basis. Then we shall see what happens to the Health statistics in those areas. This is how we test and roll out new food stuffs and new drugs and new treatments. And this is how we deal with all the existing things that are being sold around the nation.

62/ It shall not be allowed to sell any product or use any pesticides or fungicides or preservatives or any other food, or additive unless it has been affirmatively approved by both the EPA for the environment and the FDA for the human body. The Senate shall have one year to approve of an initial list of approved food additives.

63/ All herbicides and fungicides and preservatives shall be banned until they can be proven safe to the satisfaction of the Senate. Apparently herbicides kill intestinal flora in some people and cause severe health problems in some.

72/ There shall be fines for selling meats that test positive for antibiotics, certain artificial animal growth hormones, and certain pesticides.

73/ No human food shall contain any human components, to include hair, or DNA, or any feathers or animals skins or hooves.

74/ The following shall not be used as ingredients in processed food or restaurant food:

e/ onion powder.

f/ peanuts and pine nuts.

L'17. CAFFEINE & SUGAR

1/ The main label text for coffee and chocolate products shall indicate the coffee/chocolate content as a percentage in the largest text on the packaging. This shall say things like "100% coffee", or "50% coffee", or 80% chocolate. These percentage words must be the largest font on the packaging, like the European chocolate must do. To reduce adulteration, we shall say that no product described as coffee or chocolate shall contain less than 50% of either valuable product, or use any chicory, flavorings, preservatives, added caffeine, or non-coffee, non-chocolate caffeine source other than real chocolate and real coffee. The use of non-caloric sweeteners, or any sugar other than fructose, glucose and sucrose shall disqualify a product from being called either coffee or chocolate. All coffee-like beverages or beverage mixes shall be called cafe. These rules shall apply to all coffee beans, and ground coffee, and all places that prepared coffee and chocolate are served for money. All artificial coffee, chocolate, and vanilla flavorings and aromas shall be prohibited. The Nescafe, shall be deleted forever worldwide.

2/ Many children are very sensitive to caffeine (as well as to other similar stimulants, naturally occurring or not). People under age 18 shall not be allowed not buy or consume beverages that contain caffeine or other stimulants. All stimulant containing food, regardless of the source of the stimulant (including chocolate foods and sodas) must have a red tag of suitable size on its label indicating that it contains stimulants. The ingredients bar must state how much of whatever stimulants are contained. The Senate shall tax caffeine in the same way it taxes alcohol and sugar content in beverages.

3/ There shall be no surprise sources of caffeine. All caffeine and stimulant foods must have a large icon for this and a warning for kids, along with the amount of caffeine in the product. All brands that have been supplying a surprising sources of caffeine such as Mountain Dew, Dr. Pepper, and Lipton brands shall be void and discontinued for poisoning millions of people with caffeine.

4/ All energy drinks shall be removed from the market until the Senate can establish safe guidelines for these. However, all shall pay tax for all their sugar and all their caffeine.

5/ All synthetic and man-made sugars and fats for human consumption shall require FDA approval, regardless of whether they are on the market, or not, or future products or future ingredients. The existing inventory on the market may be sold for 6 months, and which time they must stop being sold.

6/ There shall be no super sour candies. The Senate may regulate the PH of prepared foods.

7/ There shall be no advertising of foods, or beverages, alcohols, candies, or sweets, as this only contributes to the obesity epidemic, and the diabetes epidemic affecting our nation.

8/ No alcoholic beverage shall have more than 8-grams of sugars per 100ml.

9/ Due to the potential for liver damage, it shall no longer be allowed to sweeten food with fructose, super sweet juices, high fructose sugars, high fructose corn syrup, modified sugars, high fructose grapes, high fructose apples, sugar alcohols, erythritol, or maltodextrin. Also the content of sucrose (which is half toxic fructose) shall be limited in foods and beverages by the Senate.

10/ All forms of artificial sweeteners, shall be prohibited because not one of them tastes right. And they are by nature unnecessary alien (non-biological) chemical reactants. And certainly these alien non-nutritious, non-food chemicals are hard for the body to deal with and excrete. And there are also many documented health problems with the broad class of artificial sweeteners. Therefore, all artificial sweeteners, including all of the following shall now be banned:

acesulfame-k/ ace-k, advantame, aspartame, erythritol, equal, hermesetas, hydrogenated starch, isomalt, maltitol, monkfruit, necta sweet, neotame, nutrasweet, saccharin, sorbitol, stevia, sucralose, sugar twin, Sweet'n low, tagatose and xylitol. Also, naturally occurring monkfruit and stevia shall also be banned. All of these shall be prohibited in all products for human consumption, including:

a/ All foods.

b/ All candies and all other sweets.

b/ All beverages with or without alcohol, carbonated or non-carbonated.

c/ All toothpastes, mouthwashes and all other healthcare products except where the sweetener is an active ingredient in the healthcare product.

d/ All vitamins, and all healthcare products, either prescription or non-prescription, except where the sweetener is an active ingredient in the healthcare product.

e/ All chewing gum.

11/ All brand names for sugar substitutes shall be cancelled, including the following brands: NutraSweet, Saccharin, Sugar Twin, Sweet'N low, Equal, Splenda, Necta Sweet, Truvia, Sugar Twin, and Stevia in the raw.

11/ All brands of food that are over 15% sugar by weight shall be cancelled. No cereal or breakfast food shall contain over 8% sugar by weight where there is an added sugar situation. This shall be implemented over time. The Senate may reduce this number further for the health of the nation.

12/ The terms "sugar", "sugar free", and "unsweetened" shall refer to all types of sugars and artificial sweeteners including all of the following and more: agave, apple juice, barley malt, beet sugar, blackstrap molasses, brown rice syrup, brown sugar, buttered syrup, cane juice, cane sugar, caramel, carob syrup, castor sugar, coconut nectar, coconut palm sugar, coconut sugar, confectioners sugar, corn sweetener, corn syrup, crystalline fructose, date sugar, date syrup, Demerara sugar, dextran, dextrose, diatase, diastatic malt, diatase, evaporated cane juice, fructose, fruit juice concentrate, fruit sugar, galactose, glucomalt, glucose, glucose solids, golden sugar, golden syrup, grape juice concentrate, grape sugar, high fructose corn syrup, H-sucrose (table sugar or sucrose) honey, honey sugar, icing sugar, invert sugar, lactose, maltodextrin, maltose, malt sugar, maple syrup, mannitol, molasses, palm sugar, panocha, raw sugar, refiner's syrup, rice syrup, saccharose, stevia, sucrose, sugar, sweet sorghum, table sugar, tapioca syrup, treacle, unrefined sugar, yellow sugar, and every other sort of sugar or sweetener. Where any of the above or other sweeteners are listed on the ingredients, the name shall read sugar or artificial sweetener followed by the type of sugar or artificial sweetener. For example: "sugar (honey)", or "sugar (coconut palm sugar)", or "artificial sweetener (stevia)", or "artificial sweetener (sorbitol)".

13/ No beverage or diabetic product, or product marketed as sugar free shall contain any artificial sweetener. Where artificial sweeteners are used in any amount, the label name must say in the largest size text of the label: "Artificially Sweetened" instead of "sugar free".

14/ All beverages with added sodium shall be considered electrolyte replacement beverages and these shall contain the optimum levels of sodium, potassium and glucose re-hydration purposes. The Senate shall make a standard electrolyte replacement mix-in satchel drink that it shall sell in 500ml bottles that come with measuring spoons.

15/ All foods shall display their sugars percentages, and this shall include the amount of all the various sugars and sweeteners in decigrams (0.1 gram increments) per 100g of dry weight, or per 100ml for fluids.

16/ Given that 10% of America is diabetic and 30% pre-diabetic, we are long past the time when we should start controlling the sugar in our foods and beverages.

Government shall set the maximum sugar content for sweetened beverages, breakfast cereals, children's foods and baby formula. The sugar content in all these categories and others shall be tapered down over time to healthy levels. Also, all packaged foods must show sugars in deci-grams per 100 grams in a standard formula on the lower right of all comestibles. The children's media PSA streams are supposed to have at least 50 unique 30-second anti-sugar commercials a year. There will be lots of diabetic old people begging kids to stop eating so much sugar, and not to start smoking, and when they are older, not to binge drink, and not to smoke white powders or they will be someone's slave ad•dict that must do as they are told 17/ Children's comestibles shall not be advertised, or have any sort of trademark music or sounds. No children's comestible shall have any images of people or cartoon characters, or any form of non-text, on the packaging. The term comestible shall herein including all foods and drinks and candy, and other sweets and any form of food or beverage that is ingested. We do this reduce the number of brain pathways that lead to sugar and eating.

18/ There shall be no chocolate milk or sweetened milk products.

19/ Comestibles labeled as low sugar shall not contain any artificial sweeteners, or sugars other than glucose, fructose, or sucrose, and these three sugars shall not total more than 3% by weight.

The names of all insect derived foods shall be called insect powder, with the species in parentheses behind it, so that insect powder(crickets100) is made 100% from crickets.

23/ The relationship between sugar content and market success is well known, and there are extreme pressures for manufacturers to lie about sugar content. Therefore, all products that lie or significantly exaggerate their sugar content, or their artificial sweetener content, or lack thereof, can have their trade name cancelled on the first offense. Soy milk and similar horchata are the simplest, cheapest, tasty way to boost and diversify protein and food intake in infidel children. Judging from how all commercial soy milk is sabotaged with one dis-gusting ingredient or another, and bizarrely expensive, and the way that the media has so much anti-soy propaganda: Ishtar seem to hate our use of high-protein soy, and endlessly struggle against it. 8/ No raw milk shall be sold in our nation because "uncooked" raw milk is an epidemic risk for tuberculosis among other things. Also, this is a far greater epidemic risk than even 1/3 of the kids not getting immunized. Those selling raw milk shall be criminally and financially liable for the raw milk illness they cause to other people. The Senate shall find the dominant beneficial milk bacterias and enzymes from female humans and from all livestock animals. Then we shall find out which bacteria and enzymes are best for babies and children and adults. 13/ The people have the right to choose what they eat, provided that it does not involve cannibalism or unnecessary abuse of animals, or an extreme hazard to the public. Government shall be prohibited from incentivizing vegetarian diets. This is because vegetarian diets eliminate the food supply buffer that meat provides in times of food crisis, when there isn't enough food to go around, and animal populations can be reduced, so that there's over twice as much grain to go around, thus averting most famines. Here is why the Ishtarians endlessly struggle for vegetarianism. It is so they can pull off a food and starvation version of the highly profitable Arab oil embargo scam, where oil prices rose around 10-fold for some years. After all they have been doing this since the time of ancient Rome.

17/ So we do not discourage the use of insulation, we will no longer count the exterior walls in any government calculation of floor area. The floor area shall now be the floor area of the premises within the exterior walls, in addition to the area of the interior partition walls within the exterior walls.

18/ Underground gas piping in high shake earthquake zones combined with wood houses and dry brush shall be thought to be asking for a mega-disaster. And there is no gas pipe strong enough for earthquakes, just like how there is no wall tall enough for tsunamis. However, we will just purge and ignite robots for all our trunk lines. The meters might also have a similar function for the same thing.

19/ All robotic revolving doors shall be prohibited and all must be removed.

20/ Those people locking or directing the locking of fire doors with EXIT signs in customer-occupied commercial buildings shall be subject to up to one year's imprisonment on the first offense, and even if never warned.

21/ Because of the fire hazard, there shall be no new wood frame buildings that are over 2 stories tall, or over 4 dwelling units, even if they are sprinkled. However

22/ Government shall require no testing of farmland for pesticide residue.

23/ Mobile homes fastened to over 6-tons of concrete feet, or with a 4" concrete slab poured inside of them shall be considered as having a foundation. Neither of these two systems need to be anchored to the ground, but may sit on adjustable screw feet of the sort people use to level tables, only larger.

24/ Concrete sled foundation structures shall be permitted nationwide on land without a permits or studies required. The site however, shall not be so sloped that the sled will slide down hill.

25/ Bidders shall be required to comply with the specifications stated on a public bid board. There is no right of bidders to substitute equals, unless the term "or equal" is specified on the bid instructions.

26/ No architect or structural engineer shall be required for factory-made bolt-and-grout structures, or other forms of structures that are one and two story buildings less than 8-meters in height above pre-grade at any given point.

27/ Government shall maintain standard detail drawings for all types of conventional construction. There is no need for the public to keep re-inventing the wheel with regard to common construction details.

28/ When a party hires a pre-paid designer for services, the hiring party shall have the inalienable right to build without drawings the designer creates, and to engage the services of other designers to modify the work of prior designers. They may also reuse the designer's plans on other projects they later undertake.

29/ Every room in every new dwelling unit shall have independent temperature control for that room. In the winter, each room shall control its application of heat, in the summer, each room shall control its application of cooling. There shall also be outside fan ventilation that is 100% air-tight sealable with hatch clamps. This fan can also be left on at minimum fresh air for health, and maximum fresh air for capture of outside air temperature.

30/ There shall be no more air-duct/ forced-air heating and cooling systems in residences or offices. Also, There shall be an 80% sales tax on inefficient and unhealthful duct-fed heating and cooling systems. This while new fluid and radiator based heating systems and ductless air conditioning shall be subject to no such tax.

31/ There shall be no permanent chemical toilets where plumbing is available.

32/ Because of sagging, no wood or plywood roof may be built with less than a 1-in-10 slope unless it is designed as a walking surface. All roofs with less than a 1-in-10 slope shall be partitioned into sections of less than 200 square meters, so that smaller roof sections can be independently replaced as needed.

33/ There shall be a minimum 1% slope for all outdoor walks.

34/ Coated steel flashing shall not be installed in roof valleys, scuppers, drains and water collection points. No roofing system or metal flashing may have an average replacement life of less than 20 years. No roofer shall do business under any name other than his personal name.

35/ The Senate shall establish minimum thickness and coating/material standards for all the various roofing materials.

36/ Roof drains shall be prohibited as these cause roofs to pond water and collapse. No roof area with a through-wall scupper shall have a slope of less than 2 in 12.

37/ Climbing on other people's roofs (even to retrieve a ball) shall be a crime due to the expensive leaks it commonly causes. One needs permission to walk on somebody else's roof, otherwise charges of trespassing or where vandalism may be possible.

38/ All workers in dusty or vaporous environments shall be provided a comfortable fresh air hose bell capable of delivering a sufficient air volume.

39/ Applied coatings shall be of 3 classes. Urban, fresh air bell, and suited spray booth only. Only low VOC urban coatings shall be used in crowded urban environments. Generally spray booth coatings shall be required for manufactured goods.

40/ No building with more than 4 residential units shall have wall to wall carpet or cloth window coverings, unless these are specially rated as non-combustible.

41/ Because all fire trucks will soon be equipped with a remember route, and automatic reverse buttons, no firetruck turn arounds shall be required of any fire road less than 1,000-meters long that is on less than a 10% grade. Longer and steeper fire roads must have a fire truck turnaround. Fire roads can be 6m wide. All firetrucks shall be able to flip a switch and then the water goes through a foam generating chamber. All firetrucks shall also have a large chemical extinguisher on a 4cm hose. We shall also develop a sort multi ditch-witch attachment for our bulldozers. This will dig up dirt, turn it into dust and then blow the dirt with exhaust via a long steel tube onto wild fires.

42/ Existing buildings shall be free to encroach into the public right of way and setbacks by up to 20cm to install insulation. This shall not apply on ground level where such insulation crowds an already crowded pedestrian right of way.

43/ Government shall not charge for permits for sewage leaching fields, or for licensing leach field designers or contractors. The education period for being a leach field designer and contractor shall not exceed 200 hours of instruction.

44/ All drains must have traps to control mosquitos and sewer gasses.

45/ No air conditioner or refrigerator may discharge hot air into another air conditioned or refrigerated space or directly onto a crowded, or heat-contained pedestrian walkway. All new home refrigerators and all new pantry doors must come with time locks to reduce snacking.

46/ No air conditioned or heated business may leave their doors wide open while they are running their heat or air conditioning.

47/ In all new air conditioned homes, the areas containing the cooktop, slow-ovens, and refrigerator shall be separable from the remainder of the home. Also, if there is no cross ventilation of the kitchen with the outside, a clamp sealable top-wall fan shall be installed capable of changing the kitchen's air volume at least once every 5 minutes.

48/ All escalators shall have an emergency stop button on each side. All shall have a call for service button for when they start grabbing. For all multi-stage escalators, each escalator must feed into the next as much as possible. It shall not be allowed to send people around so they shop more.

49/ Government shall not require builders to replace or pay to replace any sidewalk or roadway that is in good condition.

50/ Builders shall not be permitted to hold money for incomplete units. All deposit money for incomplete units shall be held by the recorder until completion.

51/ Government shall establish standards for all construction trades in at least 7 quality levels. All construction projects shall specify which level they will comply with.

52/ All new slab on grade foundations in conditioned spaces shall have at least R-30 insulation under at least 95% of the non-foundation portions of the slab. No more than 5% of the floor area may be support points.

53/ In places where it gets particularly hot or cold, all new houses shall have tight-fitting shutters.

54/ All new cooking pot lids must have a tubule for a standard sized whistle cap, like on tea pots. This is so pots whistle and there are fewer stove fires. Stove top fan-hoods shall be optional for all forms of electric powered cooking. In residential uses, it shall not be allowed to have fake stove top fan-hoods that either recirculate inside air, or vent less than 500CFM to outdoor the premises.

55/ To make more room in under sink areas, all new sink drains shall be in the back half of the sink. Also, the drain must be on one side of the sink or the other and shall be centered. No portion of the drain shall be over the midpoint lines. All drain actuator assemblies shall be designed to bear 40kg of force without slippage.

56/ All toilets and all interior plumbing fixtures use the same 3/4" universal inlet connection. The plumbing connection between all toilet tops and all ceramic toilet bottoms shall all be identical. All toilet angle stops shall have one inlet and two identical valves, one for the toilet, one for an optional bidet-like sprayer.

57/ Government shall not establish standards for how much water toilets can use, except that for reasons of sanitation, splash-back, and proper pipe clearing, 8 liters shall be the minimum flush amount for non-urinal toilets, except in extreme desert locations. In order to prevent splash back, the distance from the water to the seat is critical to preventing this. This and dilution are why the amount of water in the bowl of the toilet needs to be regulated by the user. Another reason is to have enough water force that the toilet doesn't easily clog. For the bowel health of most people, no new toilet seat may be more than 40-cm above the floor. Disabled, tall, and old people may however install higher toilets if they wish. However, the bowel health of the 99% shall not be compromised for the ease of the 1%, even if they are disabled.

58/ All new toilet drains shall be round and designed to mate with a standard round force cup. Toilets with other shape drains shall not be sold or installed in any property. The bowl of all toilets shall also be round to help with the use of cleaning robotics.

59/ All new toilets with attached flush tanks shall have a flat usable top with no more than a 1cm radius at the edge so the top of the toilet tank may be used as a shelf. For reasons of sanitation and the self-sufficiency of small children, no flush actuator shall be on the flush tank cover or be recessed. All must be flushed by means of a side lever. All new toilets shall have a front-and-side located drain hole to prevent the unsanitary condition where toilet water splashes-back on the user's anus.

60/ All new toilets shall have a clean-out opening on the side to allow for the easy snaking of the sewer line. All sewer laterals shall have a minimum slope of 3%, and 4% must be used where this can be easily done. Government shall not mandate a maximum flush capacity for toilets as some sewer lines need more water than others to move all the waste.

61/ For all new toilets:

a/All toilet seats must have stainless hardware.

b/ All must have a minimum 10 liter flush capacity for purposes of sanitation and splash back.

c/ All must be on 10cm waste pipes. However, all unsupervised public toilets must be on 15cm waste pipes.

d/ No part of any toilet hardware, or faucet may be hidden inside the wall, such as so common in American showers in European toilets e/ The center of the toilet seat bolt holes must be 12 to 14 cm from the back of the toilet so that the seat doesn't fall forward when you lift it.

62/ All new residential faucets (lavatory faucets, shower faucets, bathtub faucets, and kitchen faucets) must be on the outside of the wall and above the counter, with 3/4" standard threaded schedule 40 stainless pipes exactly 15cm on center. These connector are also always oriented straight out of the wall, and they always must project exactly 5cm from the face of the rough wall or counter, with extensions available. All fittings for these use hose style rubber compression washers.

The brackets that hold these on must be completely over-designed and these must withstand 120 foot pounds of twisting force. Where there is concrete, the stainless bracket gets cast into the building block. Where there is wood frame construction, a stainless plate shall be used from frame member to frame member. In fact, all pipe connections on manufactured buildings shall be like this, and there is no worrying about breaking off the bracket, even in 500 years because we are using stainless steel for our connections. Also, wherever practical, the rubber hose washers should be the norm for residential utility connections.

No fixed point faucet outlet for any sink may spray the center of its water flow within 12cm of the edge of the sink basin. All showers must spray the center of the water spray out at least 30cm from both the wall and the closest shower hardware. We are going to introduce a new standard cork-shaped connector for these water sprayer handles that is 7cm long. This is so that this shower lynchpin functions well in plastic versions for longer shower sprayer handles. Also, all shower handles are supposed to now be available in a variety of handle lengths from 15cm to 40cm.

63/ All laterals on shared sewer risers shall have a valve in case the shared sewer riser backs up.

64/ All toilets shall be designed in such a way that there is no splash back when people defecate in the toilet.

65/ All sewage drains worldwide shall be required to have water traps to keep odors, toxic gases and mosquitoes from rising upward and entering people's homes.

66/ There should be thought nothing wrong with turning certain lagoons and ponds into sewage treatment areas, where nutritious human waste gets is processed and recovered. Here we grow animals that we cook and feed to fish and shellfish.

67/ We shall learn from the ancient cultural memories of the Italians about strong doors and hard to pick locks on their homes. This is clearly needed for civil defense purposes in densely populated communities in times of crisis. Where the people want to use metal keys, the standard shall be Bowley style, shielded-tumbler locks. Also, there shall be 11mm thick stainless plate shielding the Bowley lock from drills

68/ Locksmiths may be charged with breaking and entering if they do not verify identity with the recorder's office before opening a place up.

69/ All toxic mold laws shall be repealed immediately and new rules shall not be instituted unless the mold is proven to be harmful in a statistically significant way. Air-conditioning blowers shall not be allowed to use deep tightly spaced fins that are hard to clean, as this tends to cause mold-related illness. Instead larger fan units must be used, fan units with less tightly spaced fins that are practical with regard to keeping them clean.

70/ All hot water systems must come on when the hot water is used. No hot water system may use any sort of user switch due to the electrocution hazard. The use of hot water systems with and without tanks shall not be a thing for government to get involved with. The energy required to keep water hot in a well-insulated tank should be thought unimportant.

71/ All drain pipes inside habitable space shall be tested under pressure, and be strong enough to use pressure for clearing clogs.

72/ The insignificant amount of rainwater that some microscopic urban lot can hold, shall be regarded as completely irrelevant as a cause of flooding. There shall be no permit required to pave private property.

73/ No permit shall be required to install curbs or retaining walls less than 90cm (3-ft.) in height. There shall be no permits for fences up to 2.1m (7-ft.) high on private property that don't block the view for drivers. Government may remove fences and shrubbery and trees that blocks the view of drivers without notice.

74/ All the rebar going into buildings and bridges should be laser treated just prior to the pour to get the rust off of it so that the rebar binds better with them concrete that's being poured around it. This, especially in all factory casting situations.

75/ All new pool coping shall be made of flamed granite or some other similarly non-slip surface.

76/ In times of high wind and freezing rain, all electric companies must turn off their overhead power lines.

77/ There shall be no upfront taxes, building fees, or development fees of any sort on the construction or placement of new buildings, or the subdivision of land. There shall be no building department permissions or regulations of one and two-story single family homes and barns and other structures under 100m in floor area that are more than 200m from another structure. No government permit or fee shall be required to drill a water well for residential, non-agricultural, and non-industrial wells. All communities of less than 5,000 buildings clustered together shall be free to either have or not have building department regulations as they care to vote.

78/ To encourage building (and a host of other activities), government shall have intake people that help builders to get through the intake process. These shall charge at 1.5x the average wage per minute where they are used.

79/ All cement and other powders sold in bags, must be sold in double layer, leakproof plastic, waterproof packages that don't leak at all and must have a desiccant if this is worth doing. This is to reduce toxic contamination, and maximize the shelf life of these things.

80/ Dark blue pipes are for drinking water. Light blue is water for bathing, but not drinking, light blue water is also suitable for livestock animals. Yellow water is recycled later shower water, and lavatory water. Yellow water contain saliva from toothbrushing. Orange water is urine and first shower rinsing. Red water is toilet water without urine in it. Dark Green water is water for growing things. Light green water is for growing things, but it has a higher salt concentration. Purple water comes from the roof and the driveway, or is untreated, well water.

81/ All construction, kitchen, agricultural, and other powders shall now be required to come in sealed air tight plastic bags. This especially includes all cements and all reactive building powders, but not sand.

82/ All new entry door strike plates for wood construction shall be at least 60cm tall and use at least 8 #14 screws that are at least 8-cm long.

83/ All new thermostats must have a physical master switch for the heat and another one for cooling. These two switches shall have three positions each:

a/ Off.

b/ On simple analogue simulation.

c/ Complex programming. This must use the Senate approved universal formatting for complex thermostats.

x/ We shall establish standard interfaces for thermostats, dishwashers, washing machines, etc. to reduce accidents and make life easier for everyone. Also to aid with robotic integration. And universally, interfaces shall not be a thing that is subject to intellectual property rights. All interfaces will be built on Ubiq rewards. The interface belongs to the community, because we can't waste everyone's attention learning an endless stream of new interfaces.

84/ The Senate shall conduct research into township scale Salt/sodium batteries.

85/ All new residential construction shall be required to have the following by building code:

a/ High intensity LED daylight simulator lighting system in all rooms.

b/ 100% Blackout window coverings in all bedrooms.

c/ GFI breaker-protected outlets in all bathrooms.

d/ 1w nightlight LED lights in the bathrooms.

e/ 3,000w towel-less body blow dryer and a 200w heated blow fan towel rack.

f/ A medicine cabinet next to each lavatory.

g/ A minimum 10 cm deep pan for all showers. Also there shall be no flat areas outside the shower pan wall and this must fit under the wall panels. Also, all shower drain pipes must female screw around the male drain head, with the shower drain flange welded or formed as one to the shower pan. Furthermore, all shower pans must be made of stainless steel.

h/ No new construction shall come with handle doors except for disabled people. This is a hazard for the escape of small children.

i/ All residential units shall come with two-sided high latches for kids on all the doors.

86/ Regarding all new refrigerators:

a/ All of the insulation shall be completely sealed and waterproof so it does not absorb odors.

b/ There must be a 4cm deep removable pan at the bottom of each refrigerator/freezer.

c/ The entire area where the coolant exchanges cool the air of the refrigerator shall be accessible so that it can be cleaned. Otherwise, we will have many refrigerators ruined only because they were left closed.

d/ There shall be a means to keep all refrigerator doors from closing e/ All new refrigerators shall have a minimum of 10-cm insulation all the way around.

f/ All refrigerator shelves shall bear at least 20 kg of stuff.

87/ All new shoes shall come with one pair of replacement laces if they have laces. All shower enclosures shall come with 3 additional sets of gaskets, wheels and moulding parts.

88/ Whenever floor carpet is changed, the padding and tack-stripping (if any) must also be changed. The subfloor surface must also be thoroughly swept, vacuumed, and then mopped/slathered with 5% bleach water, and left for dry before the new padding may be installed.

89/ Each community over a million people shall have a recycling facility where used floor coverings are recycled (separately). All floor covering materials shall bear a tax large enough to cover the cost of this, so that these easy to recycle materials get recycled.

90/ With regard to the structural box of every new structure: there should be no cantilevered floors. The outside of the building shall always be the same as the structural box. There may however be lightweight cantilevered balconies made from steel and glass with concrete floors only up to 9cm and only 1.3m wide to the greatest projection.

91/ Regarding all new smoke detectors:

a/ They shall be hard-wired to the electric system in addition to having battery backup.

b/ They shall also have a light sensor.

c/ They shall not chirp about a failing battery when it is dark.

d/ They shall chirp one sequence of 20 chirps 10-seconds apart at various times of the day when it is light, or when the lights are on. This is better than the single chirps that are the current standard.

e/ The detectors shall all obey a universal telescreen remote control app that turns off the chirping for 3 days while the person goes to replace the failing battery. Also, all smoke detectors shall use a standard smoke detector battery sold everywhere.

f/ All smoke detectors shall report on the relative concentration of smoke. They shall thus have early yellow warning signals that call attention to that detector. If there is no more detection, then the perhaps over-sensitive detector gets ignored.

92/ All telescreens shall come with a universal remote control for garage door openers with code possible to store on the telescreen. They shall also have smoke detector on/off remote control for the battery alert system. This warning signal converts into telescreen reminder app settings that a user can set to give an alert when they are near a hardware store. This app shall also have an oven/stove status checker and remote off switch. They shall also have a perimeter locked up check status system, and a way to remotely unlock/lock-up your place. They shall also have a way to leave your place locked only with a let-in lock, so you can remotely let people in, and watch them enter your utility porch, or place. Your new townships, and mini units will have a service porch between the apartment and the hallway.

93/ All new door hardware, knobs, hinges, latches, towel bars, toilet paper holders, wall hooks, etc. shall be made from brushed stainless steel. Paddle handle door knobs shall be prohibited in new construction, except where people want to change them out. It shall be thought much more important that toddlers not be able to operate doors than disabled people needing to change their door knob handles.

94/ All door hinges must:

a/ be 3", 4", 5" or 6" in length.

b/ Have the have the same hole patters for the screws.

c/ Have 90° square corners,

d/ Be made from stainless steel because this is the hardest, least corrosion prone, and the longest lasting material.

e/ Be of the same hinge pattern and installed in such a way that all doors can be replaced without installing a new jamb or even unscrewing the hinge screws, but by removing the hinge pin.

95/ All shower and sink hardware shall be made out of brushed stainless steel. This includes all hinges, edging, and especially all screws.

96/ All bathroom showers almost have a adjustable height bar and a flexible hose, the bar must be 1.5m long, and it must extend from 2 m and 20 above the finished floor down to 80 cm above the floor, with some extra for slack. The bar must be made out of stainless steel, the attachments for the bar to the wall must be made out of stainless steel. The outlet for the flexible hose must also be made out of stainless steel. Flexible shower hoses can be made of other materials. There also must be a large, a 3cm wing-nut for tightening the sprayer clamp to the vertical height adjustment. There also must be another 3cm wing-nut and at the sprayer angle adjustment. All of these adjustment nuts have splines. Also tempered glass shower doors must have a stainless steel bezel around them.

97/ All toilets must have an exposed tank and no part of any toilet tank may be located inside a wall. All faucets (and especially shower and bath faucets) must be outside of the walls Putting toilet tanks and other plumbing fixtures inside walls shall be regarded as a business generating scam by plumbers, and it shall no longer be allowed in any new construction, including repairs and renovations. Also the part of the pipes extending out of the wall must be exposed by enough distance to expose a minimum 2cm thick hex bolt and the standard threads for attaching a faucet. (These must have a 2cm thick hexagonal bolt for grasping the pipe with a wrench, so the fixture can be better tightened down using a second wrench.) Also there is supposed to be a rubber hose washer that is compressed between the wall edge bolt and the faucets.

98/ Part of the reason why plumbers are so expensive has to do with the fact that the plumbing industry purposely makes their work difficult to repair (and work on) for the same reason car companies do this. It is so that they can make more money on repairs. The job of government is to make sure that plumbing fixtures are totally standardized and standardized in a way that anyone can easily change out their shower and sink faucets (and standard toilet mechanisms) themselves in a few minutes.

99/ All faucet and toilet supply line exposure points in all factory cast buildings have to have a minimum 20 cm x 20 cm heavy steel plate that is welded to a 25 x 25 cm rebar square form that is embedded in the concrete wall, so that even if the supply line hexagonal clamping point is not used, the pipes will not twist and break off in the wall. Also, all of these faucet and toilet supply line pipe connections must be made out of at least schedule 80 stainless, considering the utterly minuscule amount of stainless steel material that is used.

100/ All stainless sinks and shower pans shall be made out of 316 stainless. All shower drain covers, and all drain pipes in/ under all shower pans must also be made out of 316 stainless steel so it lasts forever.

101/ The minimum gauge of metal allowed for shower pans shall be 7 gauge stainless and the shower pan must be supported at least every 10 cm on center.

102/ All stainless shower pans must come with 16cm skirting all the way around except at the door, which may be cut lower if the step is less than 16cm. However, in all shower pans, there must at least a 5cm step down at the door.

103/ All shower pans must be flood tested, at each sale (and especially the first sale (by the recorder system's specialist inspectors. Surely we can afford to have each unit inspected by the buyer's side as it comes off the factory assembly line. So we imagine the national recorder system as having 104/ Perhaps we will allow 1 or 2 minor defects to arise in our new building blocks, but after that, the unit gets considered a second (like with clothing that has minor imperfections). Then the manufacturer sends another unit in its place and the seconds are sold at a discount.

105/ All new permanent showers shall be minimum 90x90cm, although a 30-30 triangle can be removed from one corner.

106/ All shower door must open into the shower and allow a person to get past the door(s) and close the doors without touching.

107/ The new standard stainless shower pans are supposed to precisely mate with the house casting blanks in a standard way. However the shower pans are stamped in a shallow pattern much like a dense tire tread, this for shedding water, and with a surface like a dull #2 file on top. Grippy to the bare foot, and not injurious, but easy to keep cleans with a brush. We also might use thick flamed granite sheets in our showers as grip surfaces. These are in two halves that can be lifted like a pair of cabinet doors for cleaning the slick stainless shower pan below.

108/ It shall no longer be allowed to have shower enclosures that will cause large amounts of dust when they are removed. Instead, all shower enclosures must be in the form of removable panels or joined panels. We imagine shower enclosure panels that are snapped together in the corners, and then perhaps caulked.

109/ All new bathrooms should have a step up. And everyone should get used to stepping up into a bathroom. This will result in much more foolproof drain falls and replaceable whole bathrooms that can be pieced apart and removed. The added few inches will get everything moving better through the drainpipes. Also, the showers and tubs are safer to get out of. Also, we shall not let the requirements of the disabled minority prevent us from using a greatly superior system for everyone else. This will allow us to both have easily replaceable prefab bathrooms. The standard bathroom units shall all have standard connects using rubber hoses for the water, and a similar easily screw-together situation for the waste pipe. There will be one standard drain/supply line configuration and location. So when the bathroom gets old, people can simply take it apart, turn off the utilities and then put a new one of the same size and configuration in its place. And maybe the things come in 6 or 12 pieces, and a bathroom replacement takes as little time as a kitchen replacement.

110/ From now on, all bathroom and closet doors must open out ward from the small space.

111/ Government shall not waste its energies on anything so insignificant as fence design, except where the fence must be open visibility. Also plants in the front yard that block traffic visibility may also be required to be cut down.

112/ All of government's building plan approval departments must turn the plans around in 10 days, or they shall be considered approved. If a local building plan approval department is unable to complete their workload, then they may send the workload out to other municipalities (remember, everyone uses the same exact standardized system for approving buildings). However the 10-day turn-around rule shall always apply. It shall be thought extremely important that the people are able to build structures rapidly, in order to prevent bubbles in the cost of buildings.

113/ The Senate shall study the optimal spacing for dual-pane, triple-pane and double-double pane glazing with regard to R-value, light transmission, and sound transmission. Until then, the minimum dual glass spacing shall be 10cm in all new construction.

114/ All new water piping for firemen shall use above ground hydrant style connections. In nation's like the UK which currently have underground connectors, these must be retrofitted and changed to above ground connections. Also, all hydrants on arterial roads must be protected by means of a pair of ramps shaped like pair of automobile home service ramps, but made from 20cm steel tubing embedded in a concrete base. Also, there shall be no paving within 15 cm of a hydrant.

115/ All new exterior doors must use hinges in the style of Zenit 3D adjustable hinges and clamped weatherstripping all the way around. Also, the threshold of all exterior doors must be made out of solid plastic and have a jamb offset for mating with the door weatherstripping.

116/ The Senate shall study whether replaceable furnace filters and air conditioner filters on net bring make the air healthier or not.

117/ Any person that fails to use properly sprayed and sufficient water to entirely control their (world trade center equal) construction dust in urban, suburban, and exurban areas may be sent to jail for up to 30-days and fined up to 3-month's average wages. This shall include:

a/ All use of dry diamond saws.

b/ All dumping of construction waste down tubes on the outside of buildings that leak or that are not properly watered at the base.

c/ All bulldozing of materials that produce dust.

d/ All diamond saw cutting of tiles on a balcony or in a yard.

118/ The control of dust and making sure that everyone gets clean air to breathe at all times should be the most repeated thing in construction training. In fact, it should be told 3 mentioned in primary, secondary, and tertiary school, so it stops.

119/ Contractors shall be able to legally promise that they won't undertake any new jobs until they've completed the job that they are contracted to at that time

120/ No new building shall have any ancient iconography.

121/ There shall be no music on airplanes or trains or busses , or transit.

122/ There shall be no cooling water sprayers in the air where they wouldn't drink the water, unless the installation is annually inspected by the health department.

123/ Government shall standardize trucked-in soils under a variety of names and specifications.

124/ Storing hot water in well insulated tanks uses very little energy. Therefore, it shall no longer be allowed to have water heaters where the user has to switch on the water heater some minutes before using the hot water. Also, where people typically run their air conditioning for more than 3 months a year, all water heaters are supposed to be outside for two-faced units. Also the refrigerators, ovens and stoves are all supposed to be outside of the conditioned spaces. There will be heating (as needed) in most kitchens, but no air conditioning. Also, all new kitchens muse be sealable from the rest of the unit, and have a time-lock at the door.

125/ Except for building projects of more than 20 units, government shall not require builders to replace any public infrastructure they do not harm. They shall also always be allowed to patch the holes they made with a single rectangular concrete patch per area that was removed and patched.

126/ If a development was made with sidewalks, it shall remain without sidewalks, and government shall not be allowed to require that anybody add sidewalks or paved alleys when they build or rebuild.

127/ While government may require broad roadways that may eventually grow to be arterial, Government shall only require one doublewide lane 12-ft + 1-ft raised median curb (total 13' or 4m wide), for new construction of up to 40 residences. And if the road loops, and is one-way, then up to 400 residences may be put on a road of this size. It should be noted that the paving of roads and sidewalks (which are charged by the square meter) is normally the main cost of subdividers. So no longer will small subdivisions require 60-ft wide roads, now 13-ft roads will be enough, thanks to our new single wide cars, and this is a 78% savings. Also, in general, the remote houses will all be convoy delivered by tank trucks, and set by cranes over some days. After the destructive rubber clad tank tread equipment is finished, the road will be paved. We imagine some developer might offer an added bonus of 1 or 3 sale-able home sites to one side given the new low cost of roads.

128/ When landscapers plant trees and shrubs, these must have at least 10cm all around over excavation and backfill with amended soil. They must also have a sufficiently sized cajete to trap the rain and focus it on the plant in the middle. If the plant dies within 90 days, the landscaper must replace it.

129/ Hiding garbage on a job site, be it tree limbs thrown into the bushes, or painters washing their herbicidal paints in a place where people live. All of this shall be considered dumping and painter washout dumping get the worker fined a month's wages and then he should be banned from painting and construction for life. This on the first offense.

130/ No battery used inside or within 3-meters of any habitable building or aircraft shall be flammable. This rule shall especially applies to super flammable lithium batteries. It shall be a felony for utility company executives to continue to use flammable flammable batteries in their so-called smart meters. It shall also be a felony to supply or sell smoke detectors that use flammable batteries.

131/ No utility meter shall used Wifi, but instead must use a BLE or Bluetooth low energy or a similar low energy wireless communication standard that can only function as a slave and which has no potential as a router or hub. Utility meters may also use cellular for reporting.

132/ 100% of all communication and utility infrastructure must be made domestically. All foreign made utility meters must be replaced within 5-years.

133/ All smoke detectors must have a turn-past clock switch on the bottom surface that enable people to turn the dial and turn off the smoke detector for 60-minutes. Where the smoke detector is higher than 2.5m above the floor, the dial must have a dangling steel rod that comes down to 2.5m above the floor for using the turn past switch.

134/ Under the law it shall be thought that there is no good reason for smart meters except for companies trying to squeeze out less than an extra 1% of profit. However there is an obvious if not minor fire hazard associated with flammable batteries in the smart meters. Therefore, where smart meters with flammable batteries seem as if they may have contributed to fires, all property damage and wrongful death liability shall be entirely the responsibility of the utility company. If the utility company goes bankrupt paying for fires that their smart meters may have contributed to, then the owner's insurance company(s) shall then take all responsibility for the flammable batteries in the utility meters that contributed to the fire. Only after both the utility company and the insurance company go completely bankrupt shall the property owner have to pay for the fire caused by the flammable batteries in the utility company's meter. Utility company executives that continue to use flammable batteries in their company's utility meters may also be charged with mass arson and the deaths of people who go missing in fires that their decisions caused, just like people who if they poured accelerant and started the fire with their own hands.

135/ Utility companies shall not be allowed to enter into leases (or to have lease-like charges) with their customers regarding utility company equipment. This especially applies to all equipment used by communication utilities such as internet and cable TV.

136/ All cable TV and telephone infrastructure shall be nationalized and given away for free by Government because this is a much cheaper approach than building actual real world infrastructure.

137/ It shall no longer be allowed to sell washing machines (clothing auto washers) that also use heat to dry the clothing. These may spin fast, but they shall not use heated air to dry the clothing.

138/ No fly ash shall be recycled into concrete or asphalt, as the round balls of weak fly ash ruin the strength of the material they are made with. Fly ash is also mildly toxic. All sand used in concrete must be crushed and salt free.

139/ All new kitchen drains should all be 6cm in diameter and with 8mm perforations every 2cm bottom and sides. These baskets just drop over the 8cm drain holes. These are XL mostly so people can get their hands inside.

140/ All window sills must be finished with a waterproof copper or stainless steel cover. All windowsills in places that get too dark for part of the year must have mounts for standard sized polished-stainless fold-out sun reflector trays.

141/ Before smoke detectors start chirping they have to have a flashing red light from an LED and this light also has to flash while the detector is chirping.

142/ The lower volume fart fans shall be removed from the market, because they don't work. They must entirely change the air in an average sized bathroom at least once every 5 minutes.

143/ No more nightly rentals or studio apartments, or one bedroom apartments shall be built with bath tubs, as these are too hazardous. Only showers shall be used.

144/ There shall be no roofs with less than a 6% slope. walking decks must be above the room may have no slope if they are permeable.

145/ If wood floors are allowed at all, there shall be no wood floors in bathrooms or kitchens.

146/ Large construction projects shall not be prohibited by Government from working 7am to 9pm, or from working 365 days a year. In urban and exurban/rural/wilderness areas, they may work 24 hours a day.

147/ The people shall be allowed to have heavy duty invasion resistant entry doors and double opening doors (in series) for sound, where they live on a noisy hallway or stairwell, or lobby.

L'22. GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS

- 1/ Except for the areas where people go between floors, the maximum ceiling height for government buildings shall be 3.5m.
- 2/ Window area may not exceed 15% of floor area.
- 3/ No patented or luxury building components may be used.
- 4/ No luxury products may be used.
- 5/ All construction companies must be domestic and all components must be domestically manufactured unless not available domestically.
- 6/ Construction budgets (excluding special facilities) shall not exceed 125% of similar private sector buildings per square meter of floor area.
- 7/ All government buildings, all airports, train stations, and bus stations shall be almost entirely identical to many other government buildings, except for the facade, so that building costs will be lower using standardized parts. Also, identical buildings make it much harder to steal from government. Government shall be required to build the same buildings over and over wherever practical due to the huge cost savings.
- 8/ No architect may design more than one government project per 10 years.
- 9/ The use of metal panels on the exterior of buildings shall be prohibited except for doors and hatches, and metal roofing.
- 10/ No use of exposed wood or wood with transparent, or translucent finishes.
- 11/ No use of expensive stainless steel except in moving parts and where people will touch constantly.
- 12/ No curves or arcs shall be used.
- 13/ No Marble or simulated marble shall be permitted as a building component.
- 14/ Wood and stone may not be used on the floors. The only exception are flamed 60cm granite squares, 6-cm thick for non-slip surfaces capable of being resurfaced many times.
- 15/ All designs shall be proposed on a BBS for public comments.
- 16/ Government shall have an inalienable right to reuse architectural plans without authorization.
- 17/ Government shall hold competitions for the design of public facilities, where the Senate is the judge of the best proposals and components. The people shall be free to pick and choose elements from the various proposals. The people shall reward contributors fairly for their contribution.

L'23. DISABILITY

- 1/ All facilities for the disabled (including parking) on private property may be removed at the option of the owner.
- 2/ No special facilities for the disabled shall be required in any development of any size, public or private, new or remodeled. However the following shall be exceptions:
 - a/ All train stations, bus stations, airports and government offices shall have at least one wheelchair toilet for each building over 2,000 square meters.
 - b/ All shopping center complexes of building over 5,000 square meters shall have at least 1 wheelchair toilet.
- 3/ All building code and laws relating to facilities for the disabled shall be void.

- 3/ No special housing for the disabled shall be required by government in any housing development.
- 4/ There shall be no features for the 0.01% number of disabled people in our nation that injure or inconvenience any of the other 99.99% of able bodied people. For example:
 - a/ No sinks shall be designed for wheel chairs because this causes thousands of times more able-bodied people to stoop and hurt their back using a sink that is too low.
 - b/ All homes must come with round knobs that are impossible for small children to operate. This is the society wide issue. If elders or disabled people (a microscopic problem in comparison) have a problem with operating round knobs, then they may change out their nobbs.
 - c/ All toilets (public and private) shall be built with a seat height that is optimal for people to optimally clear their bowels. This is because the tens of thousands of able bodied people visiting a public toilet annually matter totally. While the handful of mostly imaginary wheelchair bound people don't matter at all in comparison. If some of the microscopic numbers of wheelchair people need toilets that are higher, then they can go and install them in their home, or they can otherwise deal with their problems.
 - d/ Government shall mandate no wide doors to accommodate the wheelchair bound micro-majority of people we never see. Instead, all wheelchairs must be no wider than 85cm so they can fit through normal sized doors. If disabled people become too fat to fit in an 85cm wide wheelchair, then that shall be their problem.
- 5/ If we are going to have special construction for disabled people, then let them all live in specially designed communities for accommodating their particular disability. Blind people will have special uniform communities to ease navigation. Wheelchair bound people will have special communities for their access problems.
- 6/ The deaf and those on the edge of legal blindness shall not be considered as truly disabled.
- 7/ Everyone collecting disability payments for an injury must report any improvement in their condition to the court. They must also be regularly spot checked for improvement in their condition. Failure to do so may be considered disability payment fraud. Those who record and report fraud related to long-term disability that results in a conviction shall get 3-month of the recipient's benefits.
- 8/ Extra-large, high-distortion eyeglass lenses shall be prohibited. We shall not be blinded by a fashion for over-sized high-distortion eye glasses.
- 9/ Criminals that target the elderly, disabled, demented, and mentally retarded for fraud shall suffer triple penalties.
- 10/ A license shall be required to work with either unrelated minors or unrelated elders. Each license holder shall display their number in large characters, and have a public complaint board showing the number of people under care, the time with each, and comments, recordings and ratings. These caretakers may also be required to wear a recorder cam.
- 11/ All facilities for the disabled and the old shall have recorder video cameras that reach all parts of all rooms. The

L'24. ANIMALS

1/ People shall not beat their animals, except for what is normal for that sort of animal. People shall not cause pain to animals for excitement, or sport, or fun. There shall be no battles between animals such as cock fights, or animal and human battles such as Spanish bullfighting or torero. Besides, this is an ancient Ishtarian practice, this bull jumping. And the bull they were jumping over symbolized us in the host part of the world.

2/ When people kill animals and livestock, they shall die quickly with minimal pain and terror. Air evacuation chambers shall be used for pets. Meat livestock shall die by one or more of the following techniques. These shall all be considered humane methods of slaughtering livestock:

a/ Mechanized blow to the head.

b/ Rapid mechanized movement of the head to effect knock-out brain sloshing.

c/ 2-second rotating brain pithing.

d/ Neck slitting.

e/ Guillotine.

3/ The furtherance of medicine and science, and the testing of new products for human consumption shall always be considered a valid reasons for animal testing.

4/ Any animals or species that poses an extreme epidemic risk to humans may be considered vermin and eliminated. This includes cave-bats, urban sea gulls, urban squirrels, and especially urban pigeons, which are extremely useful for germ warfare with fleas and lice and diarrhea in the water illnesses.

5/ Keeping exotic animals as pets offers marginal benefit to a tiny slice of the people, yet potentially endangers all of humanity. For this reason, non-domesticated animals shall be prohibited as pets.

6/ All forms of venomous, deadly, or dangerously big reptiles shall be prohibited as pets. This includes all crocodiles, alligators, and snakes weighing over 3kg. Governments may reduce the wild populations of overly successful predator species such as tiger fish, alligators, sharks, cane toads and other nuisance or predator species.

7/ There shall never be a legal penalty or money court action for killing a reptile amphibian, or insect that is on the loose. Also, all large alligators and crocodiles, bears, and sharks within 500 meters of an inhabited structure may be shot, provided the gun cam is on at the time. Ferrel hogs can be eliminated anywhere they are found. In Florida and other places plagued with dangerous reptiles, bears, mountain lions and other dangerous animals, the county governments are supposed to reduce the populations of these animals. The Senate shall reduce the national number of Alligators, wolves, mountain lions, coyotes, whales, great white sharks, and other predator animals to about 50% of their maximum population, so there is more meat for humans, and also so the predator species are less stressed and less likely to attack humans. Also government should give wild animals living near cities flea-ban type insecticides in feed, bait, and drinking water so that in tick and mosquito populations may be reduced. Also, Throughout the world we shall now have a drain all the standing water initiative. Also, wherever people have problems with mosquitoes or ticks they can call for a county abatement inspector, and the people with the standing water shall have to fix it. Anybody with a property that is breeding vermin or ticks or mosquitoes are fleas or they have a dirty filthy dog that's doing this or some other animal that is causing a nuisance due to its vermin and parasites, this must be remedied, and every county shall have the absolute right to take care of these problems, including obviously diseased, or poorly tended pets, and livestock. Also, unwashed and farm dogs shall not be allowed in in any suburban area. We are people bring farm dogs into a suburban area, they shall be fined a week's wages. Where they bring them into an urban area, the penalty shall be a month's wages.

8/ Stealing large animals and livestock shall, always be regarded as grand theft. Also, where we allow people to butcher animals themselves, we introduce livestock theft and Islam.

9/ All animals accepted for human butchery must walk in of their own power. Down animals may only be used for dog food. All roadkill used in pet food must be cooked.

10/ No meat for domestic consumption can be processed or butchered overseas. Where we want to lean gently on the Mideast, we shall halt live animal shipments and force people to use frozen meat that must not be butchered in the barbaric Halal way. This may be one of the ways we drive people out of the land of no resources.

11/ We want all livestock productive counties to have their own butchery which shall be provided by government for free to the people, and the nation's animal ranchers. On the side of the people doing to the butchery, this shall be a reasonable going rate per animals + per kilo, with groups of people being granted reasonable access time to the butchery line and facilities for each animal they process. Each county should aim to have enough capacity for the butchers to work only 8 hours a day every day on average. Where that county has insufficient butchery capacity, it must switch to a day-halved schedule. If that is not sufficient, the county shall switch to a double-shift day-halved schedule. Where counties are using a day-halved schedule and daily operating hours exceed 10-hours a day, every day on average for at least 6-months, for any government service, Government must start providing/ constructing more capacity to get the average operating hours below 8-hours a day. (As a point of reference a 40-week in 7 days is 5.7 hours a day avg. This is not including holidays and vacations.) Also, where there is insufficient capacity in one county, a near by county may be used for butchery. Also, other people shall be allowed to butcher animals, however restaurants shall only be allowed to serve butchered meat, and many people will appreciate the grass fed and local certifications that the county butchered meat offers.

12/ Each county will run its own intake and pay for the butchering staff. The county will also ship off the meat into the delivery system, with the refrigerated containers coming back later in the day.

13/ We shall have some rules regarding butchering animals a/ All the grazed animals must come with their grazing history files from their e-shepherd collar.

b/ The national registration number of the animal must match the seller's Ag (farm/ranch) number.

c/ The butcher number goes on the meat with the rancher's number. Many people will deal with one rancher directly, d/ The county's butchers for each sort of animal output to the delivery system which send their output to the township coops daily, or multiple times daily

e/ Ranchers who want to sell their livestock into the meat market must use the public health department's butchery system that does not charge anything, but is a subsidized free service by government to keep the supply of meat safe, to keep the cost of meat down, and to assure that farmers get the largest share of profit from the meat they are selling.

f/ Great effort will be expended in having the best testing systems for the butchering livestock coming in with regard to their urine and blood tests.

g/ The butchery system shall not allow immature animals or un-quarantined pork. It shall also have programs for looking at the animal's grazing files and determining whether it actually was grass/field fed, or it is farmed at some other standards.

14/ All train lines and inter-community roads in each county shall either be on sufficiently raised viaducts or have sufficiently fenced roadways. The entryways of these road and railroads if passable by animals shall be monitored by the county's AI. This shall makes animal spooking sounds and flashes lights to keep the animals away from the road entrances. Also, our new towns at least shall be walled to keep all the wild animals and bugs out. We will make a serious effort to eliminate roadkill. This is obviously the #1 thing people are doing that kills small animals.

15/ All dogs, cats, and all mammalian farm animals, and turkeys and larger birds must be fenced, with either a real fence or an electronic fence. Where migratory animals commonly cross our roads, there must be a wall and ways across every couple KM that actually work and are used by nearly all the animals.

16/ Bringing farm and exurban dogs into the city shall be thought to be a public health nuisance due to all the fleas and other insects they carry.

17/ People who live in urban and suburban areas shall not be allowed to take in stray dogs. Only farms an ex urban places me taking stray dogs and cats.

18/ Pigs may only be raised, transported and slaughtered in special quarantined pig facilities.

19/ Our society shall be entirely free of vicious animals. Any pet (and this especially means canines/ dogs) that draw any amount of blood at all from a non-attacking, non-trespassing human shall be put down immediately, including police dogs that bite people. Also, any dog that causes significant harm to a non-threatening, non-trespassing dog or cat shall be put down immediately. Also, the correct thing to do with regard to dogs and other animals in the process of biting someone is to stop the dog as quickly as possible using a firearm if possible, or a knife, stick or rock, or any other weapon, or with one's hands. All humans shall be thought to have an obligation to dispatch all attacking animals and there shall never be any sort of criminal or money court penalty for killing an attacking animal be it a dog or an attacking protected animal like a bear or a big cat, or a reptile. Dogs aggressively attacking a person's clothing can be thought to be attacking that person. Dogs may be used in our nation's border zones against illegal immigrants.

20/ Pets that fight with, or snarl at, growl at, or bark aggressively at non-aggressive people or other non-aggressive animals on public property shall see their owners fined 3-days wages, and the pet shall banned from being walked on public property for life, even in a muzzle. Also, in what utopia do we have people bringing their pet animals into our stores and restaurants? Are we really allowing people bring their pet animals into crowded public areas, and through our transit systems for their emotional support? People can have animals, and they can bring their animals out into the periphery and wilderness. But they can't bring them and their feces into our cities.

21/ All dogs must be kept on leashes in all suburban areas while away from their homes. No animals shall be allowed where people gather in large number, or where people promenade down the street or sidewalk in crowds.

22/ Few things ruin a place like a couple animal shit here and there. County government shall be required to keep all cities free of dog shit, horse shit, and all other sorts of animal feces. There shall be no equines in any urban or suburban areas on public property or public roads. And outside of our cities, there shall be no equines on any road with a speed limit over 40kph. Where pet shit is encountered where it does not belong, the people shall call animal control. Animal control shall be expected to collect a sample, scan the sample for the nano-markers in all the pet foods, and then fine the pet's owner.

23/ Animals that are in the process of injuring people or about to injure someone may be shot, struck, or killed in other ways, and it shall be regarded as either self-defense, or community self-defense. Also, if an animals master(s) attack the person injuring their animal in self defense, the self-defender(s) have the right to take the same action against the animal's owner.

24/ Crimes against pets and livestock shall always be treated under the law as crimes against property. This shall especially apply to police dogs and police shall have no right to harm a human to defend a dog (even if it is a police dog). Where police shoot a person for harming a police dog, it shall be considered murder-1 with no qualified immunity for the police officer. Where police beat a person for harming a police dog, it shall be considered assault-1 with no qualified immunity for the police officer. Where anyone (including police and other government officials) harms another person for harming an animal in any sort of attack situation, or subsequent to it, that attack shall be considered as completely unprovoked under the law. We cannot have any other sort of rule, due to the value of human life and the randomness of animal behavior.

25/ Except for police sniffer dogs, no dogs shall not be kept or walked in areas where the units touch. This shall include all nearby streets, parks, and vacant lots. Female cats may be kept where the units touch, however, they must be neutered, and they must be kept inside.

26/ Effective 2035.01.01, dogs, equines, and other sorts of animals (except domesticated cats) shall not be kept or brought-to, walked, or left to roam in the following sorts of areas unless they are caged:

a/ Busy commercial streets.

b/ Private shopping centers.

c/ Urban and suburban parks, except those specially designated for dog walking.

d/ Where most of the buildings touch, such as in row-house districts, high-rise apartment building districts, two-story apartment buildings, and non-detached condominiums developments.

e/ Inside township ring roads or in the interior walkway system of any township.

x/ It shall be thought better for human society if our cities and community centers have people seeing each other with children instead of pets.

xx/ The penalty per count for having an animal in an area where it is not allowed shall be at least 3-day's wages.

27/ Effective 2035.01.01, dogs shall not be kept:

a/ Where people do not have a fenced or walled yard areas of at least 100 square meters per adult dog. Balconies, roofs, roofed areas, and yard strips less than 2-meters wide shall not be considered in the calculation of dog yards.

b/ Where the dwelling density is 14 units per acre (R-3,111), or higher density.

c/ The dog has not had it's required vaccinations.

d/ The dog is not taking anti-flea/tick insecticide during the times of the year where these insects are active.

28/ Any county may, with a simple majority vote to allow certain named animals in various areas of the city for a period of up to 1-year. However, after 1-year, all this animal access shall expire if not reinstated.

29/ All dogs on public property shall be licensed, vaccinated, and wear a dog-tag and a functioning location transponder. Also, except where the county allows otherwise, all dogs shall be required to remain on a leash at all times in all urban and suburban areas.

30/ No uncaged live animals of any kind, pet or wild, shall be allowed on the premises of any school, playground, restaurant, food market, government building, stadium, arena, theatre, or place where people gather in numbers.

31/ All animals on shared transport vehicles and shared transport facilities (including stations) must remain in cages or boxes. This includes all busses, bus stations, trains, train stations, airplanes, and airports. Also, all animals in group transport vehicles for humans must be transported as cargo. Pets shall not be allowed in any hotel. While pets may be moved between an old home and a new one, it should not be an option to travel with pets, unless one is also driving in an individual car. Pets are not supposed to go on vacation with their owners.

32/ Pets shall not be allowed to disturb humans with their sounds and vocalizations even if these sounds are infrequent. Police shall be responsible for keeping the peace by removing noisy animals, including barking dogs, cats that howl at night, and roosters that crow at any time in urban or suburban areas. These noisy animals shall not be released until they have been de-vocalized at their owner's expense. In neighborhoods that vote at least once every 5 years to allow barking dogs, the people shall be free to have barking dogs.

33/ All of the so-called pedigree breeds and mixed breeds of dogs that are more likely than average, to bite someone or kill someone shall all be bred-out. This shall firstly include the frequently deranged and very strong pit-bull breed that kills three times as many humans as all other dog breeds combined. Next is the rottweiler breed. Both of these breeds are much more likely than the other breeds to bite people and shall be bred out. In fact, after 2027.01.01, it shall be a crime to have an un-neutered/spayed Pit-bull or Rottweiler pure-breed or mix.

a/ all dogs that appear to be a Pit-bull mix or Rottweiler mix shall be genetically tested and those dogs that are at least 1/3 Pit-bull shall be put down.

b/ All grandfathered dogs shall be prohibited from public property, except in an approved muzzle or cage. Where pit-bull or Rottweiler dogs are found on public property not in a muzzle or cage, these dogs may be shot, or killed in other ways by police and the public. Also where Pit-bulls, or Rottweilers attack and injure people on public property, their other may be charged as if the owner attacked the person himself.

c/ After 2029.01.01, it shall be a felony to be in possession of a dog that is over 80% Pit-bull dog stock.

34/ There shall be means by which 6 or more neighbors from at least 6 households can swear a complaint about a menacing or aggressive dog, and compel this dangerous dog to be put down by signing a secrete affidavit with the recorder's office. These people may or may not communicate with each other. We are a nation of the people, by the people and for the people, and menacing and aggressive dogs and their owners shall have no dog rights in our society.

35/ Whenever a dog bites a person in a senseless attack causing serious injury, the public prosecution office shall call the dog owner in for mandatory sworn testimony. The public prosecutor's office shall also generally request a civil judgement for 10 times the cost of medical treatment to the victim. However, where the dog's owner commits a hit and run, and does not stay around despite knowing the dog bit someone, they may be charged with dog-bite hit and run.

36/ When a dog is put down for attacking a person, or an animal in a senseless violent attack, the dog's owner may be prohibited from having another dog for life, if it is thought that the owner was the likely cause of the dog's insanity.

37/ Under this Constitution, human lives matter completely and animal lives don't matter at all in comparison. So when humans are confronted or threatened by an attacking and/or possibly rabid loose animal on public property, or private property open to the public, the humans (and their defenders) shall have the greatest possible right to defend himself from the attacking, or even snarling animal. This includes, all forms of animal even the commonly aggressive chihuahua breed which might have rabies. The people shall have the unlimited right to defend themselves from all dogs that approach them in a menacing way wherever this occurs. There shall never be any criminal charges or money court liability for humans harming or killing any animal where the human was genuinely threatened in any way by the animal, and this shall include biting and snarling police dogs and charging police equines. Killing or injuring an attacking or snarling police dog shall shall never be justification for any action on the part of police, and police who harm people for harming a police animal shall have zero qualified immunity or right of community self defense for the dog. Where police (and the people) assault or kill people for harming dogs (including police dogs) the attack on the human shall always be considered completely unprovoked. There shall be no dogs used in any jail except drug sniffer dogs. All drug sniffer dogs must weigh less than 10kg. Except for sniffer dogs, this constitution despises all forms of police dog. Also, from now on, all police dogs shall forever be smeared with the stink of the Nazi Gestapo and its utterly dehumanizing use of police dogs.

38/ When a human harms another human to either stop the human from defending himself against an apparent animal attack, or to avenge harm done to an animal, the human on human attack shall always be considered completely unprovoked under the law. Furthermore, any resulting human on human violent crimes not in self defense shall be subject to double penalties. Crimes against property under these circumstances shall be subject to normal penalties. Finally, whenever an animal causes human on human violence that results in jail time or fines for its owner or defender, society's duty is to put down the strife-causing animal.

39/ Families with children age 13 years or younger shall not be allowed to adopt unwanted dogs that are 13 weeks old or older. In other words, mature dogs cannot be adopted by families with children. Every person bringing a dog in to the pound must do so on video and the adopter of the dog shall be allowed to see the video of the previous owner and their reason for abandoning the dog. Everyone must state a reason under oath for abandoning a pet at the pound. These reasons shall include: biting at people, excess aggression, toilet issues, excess dog noises, chewing or eating things, running away, and failure to obey. Taking the uncertainty out of the animal adoption process makes people more willing to adopt more dogs, while eliminating most of the problem dogs. Animals with significant behavioral issues get put down first. Animals re-adopted twice get put down second, Animals re-adopted twice get put down next.

40/ It is inhumane to keep pets while humans anywhere on Earth starve. Until we end hunger among the humans of our world, all pet oriented goods and services shall bear a heavy sales tax of at least 100%.

41/ In a climate emergency, or global famine, government may demand the immediate culling of the large and medium dog and horse populations.

42/ The same parasitic force that caused people to drive 3,000-kg hummers as single-occupant commuter vehicles has also caused 140-kg dogs as pets. Both are eco-wasteful and potentially hazardous to society, especially in long-term crisis situations where dogs can become feral. Therefore, after 2028.01.01, it shall be a crime to have an un-neutered dog weighing over 50kg.

After 2038, it shall be a crime to have an un-neutered dog weighing over 42 kg.

2/ All board meetings, voting, notifications, agreements and certain other business shall be video monitored and recorded by a county recorder's office.

3/ There shall be no right to privacy with regard to the money-management actions of people managing other people's money. OPM management should be thought to be one of the areas most infested with crooks. When people entrusted with other people's money are stealing and discriminating against those that oppose their stealing, this should be a crime too.

4/ There shall be two types of OPM manager. One type shall manage ongoing spending, and the other type shall manage projects. The people managing ongoing spending shall be prohibited from engaging in project OPM management, and the people engaged in project OPM management shall be prohibited from engaging in ongoing OPM management. These two sorts of OPM manager shall have nothing to do with each other and shall be prohibited from recommending one another. It shall be a crime when they recommend another one, and there should be sting operations by government looking to lure OPM managers into breaking the law. Furthermore, all project OPM managers shall be required to not work on more than one project at a time, or work for any HOA more commonly than once every 5 years, except in micro communities where this is not possible.

5/ All OPM managers and directors shall be required to live an entirely cash-free life while they are an OPM and for 5 years after being an OPM manager.

6/ Reasonable ordinary, ongoing month-to-month expenses can be paid by the elected representatives of the board, but all special expenses and contracts must be approved by the board on an individual basis. This shall include new projects, upgrades to existing projects, and large scale maintenance projects.

7/ Except for monthly and quarterly services, all contracts and loans must be approved by the board as written and with no modifications allowed.

8/ Those who manage on behalf of a board shall be considered knowledgeable about business and shall be personally and criminally liable if they either co-mingle, or overdraw their accounts.

9/ It shall be a felony to give or accept kickbacks on OPM work. Government's anti-corruption division shall try to sting and entrap OPM managers.

10/ All OPM managers must use the public recorder's public bid boards for all projects. With OPM projects on public bid boards, there shall be a much higher standard of accuracy in describing and specify the projects. Bidders on public bid boards shall get qualified or disqualified after the bidding process, so that the number of bidders is maximized, and the price is minimized. Also government shall try to qualify as many bidders as reasonably possible, and not have any unreasonably difficult, or unnecessary bid criteria.

11/ All businesses that sell to government or OPM manager or are healthcare providers must use the standard across-the-board mark-up on all 3rd-party products and services in each industry. All charges must be reasonable.

12/ All property management accounts must have at least two bank accounts. One shall be for regular monthly expenses, and the other for reserves. Only the owner or board can authorize money to be drawn from the reserve account, and there shall be no open-ended grants of this right.

13/ No board may allocate money without a detailed plan and estimate.

14/ All OPM managers shall have all sensible metrics displayed on their Senate page.

15/ Approved group spending plans cannot be exceeded under the law, but must be approached. This shall be so for fictional citizens, OPM managers, government and even agreements between individuals. Where the spending exceeds budgets, there shall be no obligation to reimburse. And the person or FC over-spending their budget shall have no collection rights, or the right to shame their funder for not paying them. The county recorder system shall have several types of agreements for authorization to spend other people's money either formally or casually.

16/ Everyone spending other people's money shall be required to use a county bid board for all transactions. This requires posting of:

a/ All projects totally described.

b/ All bids on those projects.

c/ All statements from bidders and other concerned parties.

d/ All services that can be re-bid, must be re-bid on a public bid board at least annually.

e/ All user complaints.

x/ The low bidder does not need to be taken, however, if there are many bids around $X and the ager takes a bid of $2X, the meaning will be clear, especially if this is a pattern.

17/ All OPM spending shall be randomly audited for value for money by the tax house. This shall include auditing of value for money. The Senate shall publish per meter construction cost averages and average costs for a wide variety of goods and services. OPM managers must stay within the allowed ranges established by the Senate here. OPM managers shall not be allowed to do capital improvements.

18/ OPM Managers that repeatedly overpay, or make wild claims, or misuse money may be disqualified by the Senate from working in OPM. They may also be charged with crimes where the amount of money in question is large enough.

19/ All startups collecting investor money shall either opt-in or opt-out of the OPM rules for their management.

20/ If a startup can't make their initial idea work, they shall not be allowed under the law to use the money on other things. This should be regarded as a crime, no matter who votes for it. Startups are started to do one thing. If that one thing is abandoned, or doesn't make progress, then the startup must be shut down and dissolved. Then the new startup competes with all the other startups for funding.

21/ Government shall promote investment in new baby businesses by lowering up-front costs were easy and practical. To this end Government shall do the following for every person and small company taking in money from investors:

a/ Register and verify the identity.

b/ Verify employment, financial, criminal, and court history.

c/ Verify other background claims.

22/ People taking in investor money must use monitored communications.

23/ It shall be the official policy of Government to minimize the role of non-principal professional OPM managers in the running of communal property so that the homeowners are more likely to do this work themselves. To this end, the county recorder's system shall offer multi-signature e-forms and internet interfaces for:

a/ The auto-debiting of regular payments and certain types of bills.

b/ The transactions, accounting and record-keeping of all communal property and fictional citizen assets.

c/ Year-end accounts reconciliation.

d/ Public bid boards for obtaining a competitive price for all regular and irregular works. There are also bid board cameramen that come out and film the work so that, as much as possible, many bidders can offer an initial bid that is subject to a live second inspection. These bid board services shall be charged at marginal cost.

x/These shared property services shall be provided by the county recorder system to simplify life, foster economic activity, and reduce corruption.

24/ The wise business saying: "Too quick to hire, too slow to fire" is felt nowhere more keenly than with OPM managers. Rapidly changing managers increases the chances that a successor will uncover something. Also, crooks tend to wait a while and get a feel for the situation before they steal. Therefore, those spending other people's money must work no more than 4 years in their position and then a new unrelated person must be hired. Also, OPM managers cannot be rehired for 10 years.

25/ All non-emergency, non-recurring spending (but not allocation) of OPM funds shall be pre-submitted, 7-days in advance, to the county recorder's office for verification. The recorder shall review/audit the costs. If the recorder approves, then the OPM manager may order the work. However the recorder shall also have the right to halt the transactions if they are considered off-market or improper or stupid.

26/ All heat and electricity paid by OPM managers must be budgeted outside the regular total as an add on by the recorder system. This is so OPM managers don't skimp on heat, air conditioning, or lighting in order that there be more money to steal elsewhere.

27/ The recorder system shall offer a variety of HOA payment services. The utilities get paid this way, the trash gets collected, the landscaping gets services. Whenever people pay extra HOA fees for something, the recorder system holds that money, and then pays it on behalf of the HOA, so the HOA managers don't get any of this money to spend, so they're not crazy to get this sort of money to use. The recorder system shall offer auto payments for most of the HOA's recurring spending.

28/ The county recorder system shall keep a comments board for all OPM managers, so the people can report improprieties and violations.

29/ All ongoing services managed by OPM managers must be put up for bid on the recorder system's bid boards when 20% the reviewing users give an unfavorable rating about the service provider. Thereupon the previous service provider and all its workers shall be blackballed for at least 10 years unless there are no other qualified providers available.

30/ Asset management shall be taught from the standpoint of owners.

31/ It shall be a crime when politicians and OPM managers take any action against those who criticize their work. Also, when OPM managers hire workers for their clients, and when politicians hire companies and people for the people, It shall be a felony to ever use these people and these companies for private purposes. OPM managers shall be required to use anyone else but the people they spent other people's money on. Also, OPM and HOA managers shall be prohibited from having their own staff doing work. They also can't regularly hire the same people, except for continuous services.

32/ There shall be two types of OPM manager. One type shall manage ongoing spending, the other type shall manage projects. The people managing ongoing spending shall be prohibited from working in project OPM management, and the people engaged in project OPM management shall be forbidden from engaging in ongoing OPM management.

These two sorts of OPM manager shall have nothing to do with each other, and shall be forbidden from recommending one another. It shall be a crime when they recommend another one the other side, and there should be sting operations by government looking to lure OPM managers into doing this. Furthermore, all project OPM managers shall be required to not work on more than one project for one HOA in less than 5 years. This except in micro town communities where compliance would otherwise be impossible.

33/ All OPM managers shall be live recorded, tracked and rated by the recorder system for the following a/ Value for money spent.

b/ Total lifetime spend.

c/ Cost of mistakes ratio.

d/ Timeliness.

e/ Anti-skimming compliance.

34/ The Senate shall have generate various standard nationwide HOA regulations that get well tested in microcosm before being rolled out.

35/ Wherever we see these homeowner association managers that are just crazy to enforce the rules and extract fines from you, it's because they're mostly stealing the irregular income. They figured that it's very hard to audit the income here, so they steal more of it. But under the new constitution all a payments made to institutions and to HOA's, corporations and schools, all this money gets paid to the recorder system. So no income is getting hidden, and there is no incentive for people to enforce the rules strictly in order to steal more money. This will be a really huge thing for the pleasantness of life for so many people.

36/ Homeowner associations and their managers shall not be allowed to use the court system against any homeowners for any reason.

37/ All HOA's shall be required to update their CC&Rs and bylaws within 1-year of this new constitution coming into effect. They shall also be required to fire their current HOA management company.

38/ The Senate shall establish standardized nationwide HOA rules for HOAs and their managers

39/ All repair work done by HOA and other OPM managers and their workers must be clearly shown on head-cam video and they must have receipts for the parts. And the workmen cannot be related to the OPM manager in anyway

L'43. HOMEOWNER ASSOCIATIONS

1/ The great promise of condominium living has been ruined by bad HOAs that are thieving, inept, intrusive, humiliating, arbitrary, and stupid. And this was by design so that people would all have their own home on their own land and use lots of OPEC's oil. So we have a sabotage situation, and one with millions of Arabs were looking and scheming about a way to sabotage the living density that is so problematic to the oil prices their people live on. So they pushed for parking requirements and they pushed to sabotage condominiums.

2/ All HOAs must elect a new manager every 2-years, and the current manager shall not be allowed to even hint at someone else. In fact they shall loose their licensure on the first offense.

3/ The Senate shall establish standard rules for HOAs. The Senate shall always protect the people from any source of power others may acquire over them. To this end, we shall have a detailed list of powers that homeowner associations are always allowed to have, sometimes allowed to have, and never allowed to have over the people. All HOAs must update their rules within the next year and once every 10 years

4/ The Senate shall regard our democracy as jealous of homeowner association power. And for this reason it shall:

a/ Help as many group owned properties as possible to use the recorder system's auto-payment and sharing of ongoing services combine by ad-hoc association groups, and public bid boards to obtain low market prices for what they need.

b/ It shall have a clear government enforced system for homeowners to vote a majority and fire their HOA manager. Then the recorder system immediately shuts-off that OPM manager's accounts for that particular HOA and takes over.

c/ In all disputes, government shall tend to favor the homeowners over their associations.

5/ To fire a HOA manager, the required vote shall be either a majority vote from all the homeowners (one property, one vote) or a majority of of the homeowner's present at any properly noticed association meeting where such a vote to fire the HOA manager is scheduled in the agenda. All votes to fire HOA management shall be the first item of on the agenda for all meetings without any discussion. For group issues, and hiring management, the vote shall be all homeowners. The HOA manager hiring and firing system is supposed to be biased towards change, because this is thought to better serve the people. HOA managers once fired, cannot be re-hired by that HOA for 8 years, except in very low density areas. All HOAs must change their management company, or management team at least once every 2-years.

6/ No condominium or other form of shared interest residential development shall have any of the following restrictions regardless of what is stipulated in past or future homeowner association bylaws or codes, covenants and restrictions (CC&Rs). None of the following shall exist or be enforceable in condominiums or other forms of shared interest residential developments in our nation:

a/ Reduce parking in any homeowner's exclusive use driveway. This is both totally wasteful, and totally anti-ecological. HOAs shall also not be allowed to regulate where/ how people park their cars on their own exclusive use areas, or that they must close/open their garage doors, or use a car cover, or eliminate old/unsightly vehicles.

b/ Limit vehicles use or parking, except that they may have a certain quantity of vehicles that can be parked on some deed-specified parking space(s), or in their own garage, or their own driveway, but not in guest parking spots. HOAs may also enforce matters of people blocking the road, or other people's driveways. HOAs may also prohibit vehicles that are either inoperable or not operated, and vehicles over 25 years old, unless the owner has grown too old to use their also old vehicles.

Where the guests are fleeing a disaster situation, this 30-day rule shall not apply. Where people are gathered for political reasons, this shall be exempt from HOA rules.

r/ Require any particular brand, or a particular supplier or contractor. All HOAs must accept all reasonable look-a-likes, such as: look-a-like mailboxes, look-a-like doors, look-a-like windows, look-a-like railings, and other look-a-likes.

Furthermore: Where HOAs attempt to enforce illegal rules, the HOA directors may be held personally liable for up to 10 times the fine they are attempting to enforce.

13/ No HOA rules violation shall ever be considered an emergency. HOAs shall however have the right to use the neighbor's association to tow away vehicles that are either blocking the way, or are blocking access to someone's parking area. also, unless it is an emergency, HOA people shall not generally be allowed to talk to Homeowners about their violations directly, but must communicate via the recorder system's secure email. All official HOA notifications must be in writing via the recorder system. When HOA managers talk to people unnecessarily, they should be fined. If this doesn't stop, the HOA person should be fired.

14/ All HOAs with the highest amount of fines in each county shall be regularly and carefully audited for stealing of these extra fees. Also, this sort of crazy-to-fine-people attitude shall be regarded as a sign of stealing of this money. After all, nothing is more likely to be under-reported and stolen than irregular fine money.

15/ In our townships, there will be no more homeowner associations. Instead, there will be a government.

16/ No single HOA fine shall exceed 4-hours wages, and no homeowner may be fined more than one time per infraction, or more than once per 14 days. No HOA shall be allowed to compel either the payment of fines, or the sale of any homeowner's property to recover its fines, and all HOAs must wait until the property transfers to recover their fine money owed. Also, the total fines due from any homeowner shall not exceed 3% of the sale value of the property at its sale. 24/ HOA managers are not allowed to talk directly with the children of residents except when they are doing something clearly dangerous like playing in a busy street.

25/ All leases, rentals, purchases, sales, service contracts, and the like by OPM managers shall be recorded by the county or they shall not be valid. Pre-permission may required of OPM managers for expenditures of money, and creating valid tenancy contracts.

26/ All HOA extra fees shall be audited annually. These extra fees shall be regarded as a huge source of strife in our nation, and we shall try to put an end to them. Also all contentious HOAs must wear their fines and penalties and small claims lawsuits on their homepages, along with any estimated market loss for this.

27/ All housing penalties including late payment penalties shall be charged by HOAs and rental apartments as county fees, and 100% of these shall accrue to the county government. This is to keep property managers from strictly enforcing the rules to steal the penalty fees.

28/ The official government stance on HOAs shall is that they should be about 95% about sharing bills and common areas, and 5% about preventing bad behavior.

29/ HOAs shall not be allowed to take out loans or incur debts without a 75% overmajority of homeowners approving of this via the recorder's voting system. If they need more money, they can get it from member assessments with a 2/3 overmajority. Also, where HOA managers and building managers participate in obtaining financing on behalf of an HOA, none of these people shall be in the group that spends the money.

30/ HOA and OPM managers shall not be allowed to run capital improvement projects as this creates a conflict of interest for them. Instead the association must hire an ad hoc manager for each project.

31/ All HOA special assessments shall require a 2/3 overmajority of the homeowners, and no participation by the HOA management company in either the voting process, or the process of spending of this money. Instead, the HOA itself must manage this work.

32/ HOA managers shall not be allowed to have or hire either their own employees, or people that they frequently do business with. Also, all HOA projects and ongoing services shall always be required to go on a public bid board with a Senate jury of appropriate size made up of randoms voting to pick who is the lowest responsible bidder. Therefore the HOA managers will have a much harder time stealing money for overpriced repair work.

33/ The Senate shall encourage sharing of real estate. This shall include condominiums, co-ops, PRDs, tenancies in common, and people renting together as roommates, each according to a few different schemes/systems by making the standard Senate contracts as robust and easy to use as practical. These forms shall also be required to be free of charge to use. This is so the people can more easily share all sorts of properties such as: large residential, disused commercial, farms and ranches, and group retreats.

34/ Where HOA managers ignore their agreements and get around the rules restricting their ability to spend HOA money, they should be charged with misappropriation and/or fraud.

35/ All HOAs over 10-years old must be shut down within 1-year, and fresh new CC&Rs and new property managers must be introduced by their homeowners. Then every decade the process must repeat itself.

36/ No developer of any condominium or other form of shared interest residential development shall:

a/ Be a HOA manager for more than 2-years after the first unit is sold.

b/ Be allowed to charge for HOA management, or to mark-up services to the HOA.

37/ It shall be a quorum of homeowners that must vote for all projects+budgets. The HOA managers shall not have the ultimate authority in this matter, and the recorder system shall not let monies out for this purpose until a quorum of homeowners vote on the recorder system's voting platform. Also, because all members of all boards communicate and hold meetings via the recorder system's platform, there will be much less opportunity for people to spend money improperly or corruptly.

38/ All HOA meetings shall be via a recorder system video record system, and it is all backed up and transcribed and regulated and it can have recorder system administrators and clerks. But if you don't attend the video meeting of the HOA, you can't vote in the HOA.

39/ Homeowner managers shall not have any authority to start any new business. They shall also be prohibited from selecting the people who the HOA uses to do its work. The HOA itself must start new business, and select the companies /individuals doing the work. Where the managers get involved in these matters it shall always be considered OPM fraud. HOA managers must stay away from all new business and service provider selection.

40/ No HOA management company or any of its managers or workers shall work for any particular HOA for more than 2-years in 20, except where there are not enough managers in some sparsely populated area. All HOA managers currently in violation of this rule must resign within 180 days.

41/ No person may manage or serve on any HOA board if they are over age 65.

42/ Where problem people have been elected to the HOA board or as a HOA manager, it shall be the right of the homeowners to vote them out at any time with a 50.1% vote. Once a HOA manager has been voted out, they (and their associates and front men) may never serve that HOA again.

43/ If 75% of the ownership of any group owned property agree, then the entire complex may be sold "en-block" for the realistic market price these 75% agree to. Thereupon, each owner shall be entitled to his pro-rata share of the sale based on his unit's share of the habitable square footage of the group complex.

44/ When there is a situation involving a community decision where some people invariably lose and some people invariably win, the group decision must be the one that provides the greatest benefits to the greatest number of legally interested parties. It shall not be allowed for a HOA group decision making body to make clearly sub-optimal decision that benefits only some board members, or some of the residents.

45/ There shall no longer be any special board members or presidents in any HOA that decide on matters for everyone. Every homeowner who shows up at a HOA meeting, or votes via the recorder system shall have an equal vote in the affairs of the association.

46/ All communications between homeowner associations, managers, and directors and members of the association shall be either in writing or another recorded medium sent via the county recorder system. HOA managers shall generally not be allowed to say things to homeowners in person because it is too confrontational and too equivocal.

47/ All HOAs (and all fictional citizens) like all group bodies, and all fictional citizens shall have all their decision documents online and shall be prohibited from selling access to these official documents which may be freely printed and copied by HOA members and the courts. Also, HOAs shall not be allowed to charge any fees for any HOA services or HOA permission from homeowners.

48/ There shall be no liability, and HOA staff people shall not have the right to use the money court system against their homeowners for injuries sustained from accidents on a homeowners's property. Also, HOA people are only allowed to initiate one successful physical meeting. And they are not allowed to show up unannounced. After this, everything must be via email, or recorder system monitored call.

49/ Tenants shall never be allowed to vote in any HOA matter even if they have a proxy from the unit's owner. The property management companies of homeowners shall also not be allowed to cast proxy votes in HOAs, so they can never vote on behalf of the owners of the units they manage. The property managers of homeowners are also not allowed to attend HOA meetings or vote: either in person, or through telepresence. Also, owners who did not live in their units for at least 2-months of the prior year cannot vote in their HOA elections.

50/ Property managers shall not be allowed to repeatedly use the same company for all their work. The recorder system shall keep complete records of each property manager's providers and clients.

51/ Where homeowner associations either fail to notify all homeowners -days in advance of any HOA meeting, or they deny any homeowners entry to a meeting, all resolutions of the meeting shall be void. HOA's and other fictional citizens shall be allowed to do tweet-sized mandatory mass notifications via the must-check email system at no charge.

52/ Everyone attending a board meeting, government meeting, a neighborhood meeting or a HOA meeting shall be free to record the meeting. All non-political meetings are supposed to be recorded by the recorder system because these are all about money and honesty, and not about politics. So intrusive recording is called for here.

53/ Those trying to keep people (such as homeowners and their lawyers and proxies) from attending FC Board meetings or HOA meeting, when they have a right to attend the meeting, may be charged with fraud. Furthermore, where there's any hard evidence of people being deprived of their right to be notified of a FC Board or HOA meeting, or their right to enter one of these meeting, that HOA meeting and all resolutions passed at it shall generally be considered void. All fictional citizen administrators and all HOA people and all property managers are strongly warned against excluding homeowners and steak-holders from meetings when they have the right to attend. Also, it shall be a crime to intentionally fail to notify people of HOA meetings, or to have secret unmonitored HOA meetings and meetings at the spur of the moment, and at the times when the board members know that certain people cannot attend. All of these things shall be considered crimes, and charges of fraud may be levied against the people involved with such things. The safe harbor is to always use the county recorder system to hold meetings at the same (recorder system generated) dates and time each year.

54/ All people organizing or presiding over HOA virtual meetings shall be required to have taken the Senate test in this subject and shall be held strictly responsible for their errors.

55/ The Senate shall compile a variety of variable-text HOA documents. All homeowners association rules must come from the Senate menu of allowed HOA rules. Only Senate approved HOA rules shall be enforceable in our nation.

56/ Where HOA matters go to court, they shall be required to use small claims court and no lawyers shall be allowed. Also, in most situations, government and the courts shall favor large groups of homeowner(s) over the HOA management.

57/ The recorder system shall now do the payment divisions for group meters based on floor area of the HOA unit. Thus HOAs will have nothing to do with utilities, or property tax, or many other things. And the HOA residents will see their bill for their portion of utilities, ground rent, trash disposal, landscaping, janitorial, etc. Whatever the HOA is regularly paying for, the residents can log into their recorder system account and pay for all these at once, or some of them. This is the least government can do (at no charge) to help the people share properties and other assets. On top of this, the HOAs shall be expected to handle all major repairs as ad hoc projects administered by the HOA directly. There will also be punch lists of various repairs put up for bid en masse on our public bid boards. Additionally, where one homeowner breaks a HOA rule, the enforcement between homeowners shall no longer be by the HOA, but by the county government's specialist neighborhood association administrators. So complaints about people repeatedly using someone else's parking space, or blocking someone's driveway, or who have too much junk on their balcony, or who are making too much noise shall all be handled by Male/female teams that are specialists in this sort of "policing". Thus, by design, we have a system where HOA property managers are not really used for anything.

58/ With the recorder system offering payment apportionment for homeowners for utilities and taxes and other expenses, along with entry security verification/ With these services available from the country we will see more group ownership buildings choosing to go without using an a HOA/OPM manager, except for ad hoc repairs and refurbishments.

59/ The recorder system shall use detailed description/product codes for all government and OPM spending, along with the identity of the people authorizing the purchase. Now we will have full detail product codes for every everything that government and OPM managers buys through the universal payment system. We will also have Senate ubiq awards for people who detect theft and corruption and misappropriation in government or business.

60/ The Senate shall have policies and laws that attempt to squeeze HOA managers out of existence from all sides so as to reduce that corruption that HOA managers seem to cause:

a/ The recorder system will automate the money collection and calculation and disbursal work.

b/ New work must be set in motion by the HOA board.

c/ Selection of workers and contractors must be done by the HOA.

d/ Most behavior regulation by HOA managers will no longer be allowed.

e/ HOA managers will be required to pay a 40% income tax.

f/ HOA managers shall no longer be allowed to have either their own workers, or long term relationships with service providers.

g/ The Senate is supposed to institute other policies that eliminate most use of HOA managers.

h/ Nearly all repairs and refurbishments are done as ad hoc projects by the HOA management.

61/ HOAs shall no longer have boards. Instead, they shall vote as a democracy of those who bother to go to the meetings and bother to vote in person on matters. There shall be no proxy voting in HOAs. If you don't go to the video meeting, you can't vote.

62/ Shared property owners shall always be allowed to fire their managers and shut down their current HOA with a simple majority vote by their numbers. To fire a HOA manager or worker, the required vote shall be a majority of the homeowner's present at any properly noticed association meeting where such a vote to fire the HOA manager or worker is scheduled on the agenda. All votes to fire HOA management shall be the first item on the agenda for all meetings without any discussion. It shall be thought a good thing that a small number of aggrieved homeowners be able to quickly fire any person they elect to manage their HOA.

63/ HOAs shall not be allowed to meet less often than once per year, nor more often than quarterly, (4x per year). Due to the nature of voting, only items put on the voting agenda during the last meeting may be voted on.

64/ All HOA voting and policy changes must be approved by the recorder system's voting platform.

65/ Cheating on an HOA election shall be punished the same as cheating on a national election. All vote cheating at all levels is treated the same. After all, do we not believe in fair and free democracy?

66/ No aspect of government or any fictional citizen shall ever require that a HOA have a manager. The recorder system shall sign for the reasonable resolutions of HOA boards up on the vote.

67/ Where HOA managers are caught engaging in corrupt practices, they shall be treated the same as government employees doing the same.

68/ Fellow homeowners should always be preferred over property managers because they tend to be more honest.

The recorder system should have educational modules and testing on this subject, so that more HOAs will be managed by residents without any outside property managers.

69/ The recorder system shall have separate management software for townships, buildings, and individual unit landlords.

70/ All HOA violations, fines and court matters of the prior 5-years must be disclosed to all buyers so that they can get a clear picture of how their new potential HOA is being run.

71/ Where property managers manage over 50 units for one party, they shall not be allowed to charge a percentage of the rents, or other percentage, but must work on a salary.

72/ We don't want a situation where homeowner association managers are acting as gatekeepers to people who want to renovate the inside of their units. This is not something that we want HOAs getting involved with.

73/ All HOAs must reasonably cooperate with all deliveries and pick-ups, and give reasonable time for moving shipments to and from trucks.

74/ All shared property homeowners are best served when their shared property resembles individually owned property as much as possible.

75/ The Senate shall have at least 10 standard mostly wood fence designs, 10 different iron fence designs, and 10 different solid wall designs. HOAs may only use one of these 40 standard designs.

76/ Homeowner associations shall no longer have any power to foreclose on homeowners for unpaid fines or debts. Also, all unpaid HOA fines shall expire after 10-years. Further, as with the rest of our nation, it shall not be allowed for HOAs to charge late fees, or penalties, or interest on late fees, or penalties, or interest.

77/ There shall be no HOA regulations about boats, trailers, or recreational vehicles having to be covered or concealed.

78/ No HOH shall have anything to do with any religious institutions, or paying any money for anything that is not the property of the HOA.

79/ HOA's shall not be allowed to make their own rules and must use one of the Senate approved rule sets that are public domain and free to use.

80/ HOAs shall not be allowed to regulate the doorstep area around people's homes like with regard to package deliveries, and and what they leave out for other people to steal and their little decorations, provided this stuff does not block the walkways of between the units.

L'44. BUILDING CONTRACTORS

1/ Government shall accurately define working days for construction based on its own reasonable standards for how much rain constitutes a rain, snow, or other day off due to weather. Government shall also track which days were holidays in the various parts of the nation.

2/ When construction workers can't work on their regular days due to weather, they will be expected to make up for the missed time on their next day off.

3/ All construction contracts shall have a reasonable number of work days to finish. They shall also have a bonus for each workday early, and a penalty for each workday late.

4/ All contract shall have a start date. 7-days after the start date, the customer can cancel if the contractor cannot start.

5/ All construction projects in mature neighborhoods with more than 2DUA shall be taxed by government for each calendar day any project remains incomplete. The obligation to pay this shall rest with the party providing the work. This shall apply to each workday. This tax shall not be less than 1-hours wages per day. Where the neighborhood exceeds 15DUA, this tax shall not be less than 2-hours wages per day.

6/ For their first year, building contractors may only work on one job at a time. After this they may promise in writing to work on no more that one job, or no more than two or three jobs at a time, and this promise shall be binding.

7/ All construction worksites shall have recorder video cams from multiple angles inside and out.

8/ Osha shall require many sorts of construction worker to wear hat cams while at work.

9/ If the contractor alleges interference by the owner, he must provide clear video evidence of this. If the contractor alleges bad or incomplete plans, or changes, the burden of proof shall be on him to show that this was in fact the case and the delay.

10/ Until the job is done, progress payments may only be used for needed materials delivered to the worksite and to wages. The remainder of the contractor's money shall be held by the recorder's office pending final completion.

11/ All call-out services must agree to a preliminary price based on a description, photos or videos sent. When the estimator arrives, they may either do the work as agreed, or not do the work. However, regardless of what was said or agreed to, if there is no work, then the service buyer shall always have a right to not pay the service provider when he comes out for a look. The alternative is not only anti-competitive, but it also leads to scams.

L'45. ENVIRONMENT

1/ Merchants shall no longer use paper bags, but must use water-resistant plastic. All such bags must be made of biodegradable plastic that breaks down in less than 50-years. No store bags shall be printed, and the handle loops must be cross-oriented to the bottom seam.

2/ For all new structures the use of wood shall be restricted as follows:

a/ Real wood shall not be used as for exterior field surface. Real wood may however be used for trim surfaces. Facia may be wood, but eaves may not be wood. Doors, window frames, and shutters may be wood.

b/ Real wood shall not be used for fences or exterior decks because it rots too quickly.

c/ Plywoods and wood chip products may be used for ceiling and wall surfaces but not solid wood.

d/ Hardwood flooring materials, installation labor and refinishing charges should pay 70% luxury tax as the floors are so often ruined with water or sunlight and don't age well. Wood floors shall be prohibited in kitchens, bathrooms, and entry areas.

e/ Kitchen and bath cabinets made from wood, or wet sensitive material shall pay luxury tax f/ There shall be no wood tax on wood furniture, molding, doors, windows, cabinets, framing wood, or truss wood.

- 3/ Sterile offspring biotech shall be prohibited.
- 4/ There shall be no fishing with explosives, or electricity, or sound waves.
- 5/ Public safety demands that pathways in national parks visited by more than 2,000 people a year shall have cellular internet coverage and solar/battery power for charging devices.
- 6/ No public building or apartment building, or group office building, or shopping center shall use any aromatics in their cleaners or soaps.
- 7/ Strong aromatics shall not be added to cleaners such as those in Lysol, Pine Sol and Detol. Strong aromatics tend to be used to simulate proper cleaning.
- 8/ There shall be no bleaching of paper except in special toxic areas like vizcaino. All bleached paper subject to a high 100% sales tax at the wholesale level. There shall be no bleaching of sanitary papers or sanitary cotton, as the bleaching chemicals are harsh, and the residue is harmful to our bodies and on the manufacturing side, harmful to the environment
- 9/ There shall be a used mattress exchange for both unprotected and always protected mattresses of various ages. Always covered used mattresses and vinyl, leather or plastic upholstered furniture shall also get free disposal/ recycling. There shall be a 50% sales tax on all upholstered furniture that is not covered with either vinyl, plastic, or leather. There shall be a 200% luxury tax on all suede furniture. Cloth and especially suede seats shall be prohibited in all vehicles. Carpet shall be prohibited in all vehicles except aircraft. Perforated leather, vinyl, or plastic coverings shall be considered cloth and prohibited.
- 10/ Ecology demands that all mattresses shall come in removable zippered heavy-duty totally waterproof plastic covers, and thick cloth washable cloth toppers. This will greatly reduce the number of mattresses needed.
- 11/ Slab heating shall not be allowed unless there is at least R-20 insulation for at least 97% of the under-slab area and all the insulation is at least 30cm above grade.
- 12/ The Senate shall greatly encourage the planting of fast growing black locust trees, for their strong and water resistant wood that is ideal for outdoor furniture, and wood windows.

L'46. RULES FOR AUCTIONS

- 1/ Auctions are considered an irrevocable offer to sell, for a prescribed time over a prescribed price.
- 2/ No auction offer may be rescinded. They shall however expire if nobody offers the minimum price during the auction time.
- 3/ If there is a minimum price, it must be stated to all bidders. If no limit that must be stated.
- 4/ If there is a minimum price, it shall not be raised once the auction has been started. The minimum price may be lowered by the seller, however, it shall not be raised until the auction expires and a new auction is introduced.
- 5/ When the auction is over, the closing price shall be available to the public for a reasonable time. Each public recorder shall keep a record of all high value things auctioned in its jurisdiction.
- 6/ All auction bidding accounts shall allow the holder to watch any auction he wants nationwide both before and after close of the auction.

- 7/ The name of all bidders, buyers, and sellers in an auction shall be public and shall not be hidden or anonymized. Their bids shall also be public information.
- 8/ Fictional citizens shall not be permitted to bid in auctions.
- 9/ Bidding on behalf of another person at an auction shall be a crime.

L'47. CHANGES TO THE LANGUAGE

1/ At the beginning of education is reading, and at the beginning of reading is learning the letters. And at the beginning of learning the letters is the terribly confusing difference between Bs and Ds. So from now on, we shall remove a stumbling block. From now on, all Roman character writing for all ages shall use a smaller upper case "B" "D" form, and no longer use the lower case "d" form. Thus these letters shall look like: B/B and D/D from now on. Also, we shall use smaller upper case "A", "E", "G", "Q" and "R" forms and these shall no longer use the lower case "a", "e", "g", "q" and "r" forms. Thus these letters shall look like: A/A, E/E, Q/Q and R/R from now on. Thus the 26 letter lower case alphabet shall now look like:

ABcDEfGhiJklmnopqRstuvwxyz.

We shall also delete the upper case "I" forms and instead use larger versions of "I" with a dot. Thus the upper case alphabet will look like:

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNopQRSTUVWXYZ

The Letter Q being unnecessary clutter, this letter shall be deleted from the alphabet and relegated to the new special character alphabet. Keyboard Qs shall becomes a special alphabet key and a programmable key. All Qs shall now to be written KW, except queue which shall be written as CUE. Thus we have an alphabet with five groups of five.

With an alphabet of 25 letters we can have useful grouping patterns as follows. The first grouping enables decimalization of letters 1-4 = A, 5-8 =B, 9-12 = C, etc. The second group is for ratings, with M being neutral and L being -1, and z being +12. The second grouping also supports phone-like groupings with the 5 button corresponding to the M.

ABCDE FGHIJ KLMNO PRSTU VWXYZ -and-ABC DEF GHI JKL M NOP RST UVW XYZ

- 2/ Because upper case letters are only bigger than lower case letters, It becomes much easier for kids to learn their letters and start reading.
- 3/ All children's sweets and toys shall use only upper-case letters on their packaging to facilitate the learning of letters by young people.
- 4/ All Ls shall have a small horizontal tail so they look like Ls and nothing like the number 1. Also, the European way of writing 1s with a long pre-tail, that should stop. Many people confuse that with a 7. With hand writing 1s should just be a single line.

5/ The letter i shall be written in lower case from now on, and all instances of the letter j shall be written in upper case as J. The following letters shall remain largely unchanged: Cc, Ff, Kk, Mm, Nn, Oo, Pp, Ss, Tt, Uu, Vv, Ww, Xx, Yy, Zz. We are better off without the needless complexity of capitalization right when children are learning to read. Let's make it half as difficult to learn to read, and twice as fun.

6/ Where we have common words that are spelled differently, but sound alike they shall all be spelled the same. For example THEIR, THERE, and THEY'RE should all be written as there. Also, we really should simplify the spelling rules of english, so for example, all words are i before e, and none are e before i. Surely this is someone putting a stumbling block before us. What a stupid thing it is that we make our kids waste their minds on spelling, that we put this front and center in front of the next generation. We must simplify spelling to the max.

7/ The letter F shall replace PH everywhere in all new writing.

8/ Spelling shall be simplified. Laugh shall now be written as laff, though as tho, friend>frend, bright>brite, etc.

9/ We shall now use the following regular intervals:

BIANNUALLY = once per two years

ANNUALLY = once per year

HALFLY = 2x per year

QUARTERLY = 4x per year

TENETHLY = 10x per year

MONTHLY = 12x per year

WEEKLY = Once every 7 days

SWEEKLY = Once every 6 days

FIKELY = Once every 5 days

FORKLY = Once every 4 days

TRIKELY = Once every 3 days

BIKELY = Once every 2 days

DAILY = Once per day

BIDAILY = twice per day

TRIDAILY = 3x per day.

10/ There shall be no strings of numbers or letters over 4 numerals/letters presented to humans without a comma or hyphen, 2 spaces, or similar separator.

11/ Initially English, Euemi, and Romanized Chinese shall use the 25 Roman phonetic characters of English. Later, more letters may be added to Euemi, so there will be perhaps be 36, 40, 48, or 50 letters.

12/ The term database shall be changed to the more intuitive and accurate term data aray.

13/ There shall never be any legal or court consequence of using upper case or lower case letters, or where first letter in a word is capitalized or not. This distinction was made into a stupid thing to argue about by a corrupt law industry trying to make the law as complex as possible, so that lawyers can extract as much money as possible from their customers.

14/ Cursive handwriting and penmanship shall no longer be taught in school. Indeed, cursive handwriting and penmanship shall be deleted from our culture and education system and shall be now relabeled a form of calligraphy. The continued existence of cursive in our education system shouts about the brainlessness, backwardness, and wrote nature of our robotic education system, and its complete failure to enter the computer age. It speaks of how utterly indifferent the education system is to the time and patience of the students, and how fundamentally broken the system is. From now on, nobody, and especially schools and teachers shall discriminate against people with messy handwriting, or people that refuse to write with their hands.

15/ The word enumerate is a blocking word for the hugely valuable word innumerate. Therefore, the word enumerate shall now be spelled and pronounced as "Exnumerate".

16/ From now on all dates shall be written in the following format: 2001.09.11 for September 11, 2001.

17/ All dimensional lumber sizes shall be actual sizes in integer centimeters

18/ We shall stop keeping track of time in the a.m. and p.m. format and instead use 24 hour times between 00:00 and 23:59, with 12:00 being noon. From now on, dates and times shall be written in the following format: 2001.09.11-08:46, for the time and date the first airplane struck the World Trade Center.

19/ All products shall have a 3-letter suffix on their SKUs about its category with regard to being a dangerous drug, or something that you should not get on your skin, or it contains mercury, or lead, or some other nasty toxins, and how it should be recycled or disposed of. All Appliances shall have a number only model number, which may include decimal points, so people can look up the owners manual easily. After this, there shall be no more printed owners manuals.

20/ People shall stop saying Oh, and naught when they should be saying zero.

21/ All languages shall stop using accent marks unless they are poly-total and they are needed.

Part 4

New budget & Integration with the existing national government bureaucracy

GS'1. Cut government spending by 1/3.

As follows is a rough plan for reducing the national bureaucracy and also national government spending. This is only a rough plan based on an incomplete list of federal agencies and their duties. This is only a rough starting point for the integration of the new national Senate with the old national bureaucracy. The new Senate shall have great freedom in changing and fleshing-out this plan where it elects a better approach is called for. The new administration (by 100% elected Senators) is expected to result in a much more efficient national government and a great reduction in spending (currently $6.2 trillion/yr).

Area of government	Net National Budget savings
Taxing healthcare spending to 11% of GDP	~10%
Tax income from healthcare spending	~5%
DOD Senate management	~1%
90% elimination of DOE budget	~2%
Social Security retirement to age 66	~2%
Better vetting of handout recipients	~1%
Added income from leases & fees	~3%
Other departments savings	~1%
Total national budget savings	~25%

GS'2. Education savings

The US spends $721B annually on K-12 education. This is $14,840 per student, for ~50 Million students. And the average classroom size is 20.9 students. Total: $310,000 per classroom. And the average US public school teacher makes ~$65,000. And if we rented 1,000 sq. ft. of office space for a classroom, this might cost $2,100/ month or $25,000 per year. Total $90,000 per classroom. So we have $310,000 in total spending per classroom, with $90,000 for teachers and classrooms, and $220,000 for "other things". Literally, 29% of the money goes to teachers and classrooms, and 71% goes for various other things. Here is how poorly-run our government is — and here is how corrupt is our government is. Here two thirds of our education money is gone for nothing important.

In the future we will get our education spending down by around 2/3, or perhaps it will only be reduced by 50% due to student reward systems mostly. But if we start with $721B, and take it down by 50%, that is about $360B, which is about 5.8% of the federal budget (even if most of this money is from state and local funds). This is on top of the ~25% mentioned above. So, here anyway is a sort of initial plan for cutting the national budget using the new Senate as a corps of decision makers to replace a corrupt appointee bureaucracy.

All should long ponder the way that the school apparatus should be around 15% of the size of the teaching apparatus, not twice the size. Wherever we see this bloating of government management, it is an indication of a corrupt and wildly overfunded organizations. Instead, we shall use our Senate to manage our education system, and almost entirely eliminate the education bureaucracy.

Our motto with regard to government agencies shall be: "It's OK, it'll just grow right back, and it will grow back new and fresh and less-corrupt. When in doubt, we should just fire everyone, shut down the government agency and start over again with new managers and a new agency

Ishtarian stealing from governments ("Whaling" from Moby Dick /Mob Dict) mostly occurs at the national government level. Whatever aspect of government we move to the county level, it will suffer from much less corruption and stealing, in addition to greatly improved efficiency, fostered by a more micromanaged system. This incidentally is the true meaning of micro managed. the pejorative association with excessively controlling managers is the fake meaning, the blid, or blocking idea.

GS'3. Bureaus, agencies, administrations, departments, offices, sectors and divisions.

It certainly can't hurt to have words to accurately describe the various power-levels of our bureaucracies. This simple practice should trim corruption by some sliver amount.

1/ A Government BUREAU is a public management entity for natural resources areas, commodity extraction reserves, farmland, and public urban areas. Bureaus don't do anything except rent properties, collect rent and make emergency repairs only when absolutely necessary. And bureau managers certainly have no right to undertake any new business or spend any of their income from rents.

2/ An AGENCY can make repairs, but it can't undertake new business.

3/ An ADMINISTRATION can undertake new business within its mandate.

4/ A DEPARTMENT only has incidental collection of rents or fees, such as fishing licenses, and is mostly about standardizing and controlling the behavior of the private sector to assure that the people remain pro-social in their profit-seeking activities. Departments can also charge people with crimes. Think police department.

5/ An OFFICE is like a department, but all of its activities are directed by Senators. In other words, the officers are only going out and looking at one sort of activity, and have not concern with other activities. The office of wastewater management can't cite you for a building code violation. The police department can stop you for one thing and then get you on another provided it is not done to persecute.

6/ If a department goes rogue, the Senate can force it back into using training wheels by turning it into an office. The same goes for administrations getting demoted to agencies, and agencies getting demoted to bureaus.

7/ In the private sector, a property management bureau shall have similar spending abilities to a government bureau. And there shall be detailed laws (enforced by government) about what a management bureau can do, and what a management agency can do. And owners may grant their managers agency with regard to recorder-based rent collection, and only bureau status to the maintenance side of ownership.

8/ The words SECTOR and DIVISION are generic names for portions of government. Our Governments will have 10 sectors corresponding to the various sluices. Each of the various divisions of each sector shall be called a division, or a G-division if more context is needed.

GS'4. GENERAL RULES

1/ All offices and divisions engaged in doing any of the following shall be deleted and all the Government workers in these areas shall be banned from government for life.

a/ All offices of equal opportunity, inclusion, diversity, civil rights, equity, or affirmative action.

b/ All offices and positions that exist primarily to encourage homosexuality or transsexuality, or sexual inclusion.

c/ All offices and positions specifically devoted to civil rights.

d/ All office and positions specifically devoted to Indian or Native American affairs.

e/ All offices of privacy. This role shall be by the county recorder system.

2/ Each year, every Government worker must describe exactly what they do to Senate auditors. They must also use work loggers that explain how much time they work on the various tasks. The Senate shall look for overlaps and publish all the descriptions on organizational charts. When people find overlaps that the Senate later eliminates, the person reporting shall get both Ubiq status and cash payments.

3/ No Government agency of appointees shall participate in the Senate's legislative processes.

4/ All secondary bureaucracy about bureaucracy shall be eliminated, except where double-checking, or secondary review is specifically called-for by the Senate.

5/ Only Senate juries can authorize spending for Government. Appointees and hired people shall not be allowed to spend money, or authorize spending, or incur debts, or payment obligations on behalf of Government.

6/ All of the people and groups that take government research money, or are applying for government research money — all of these must be available to meet with a large number of Senators, to repeatedly justify (to multiple independent skeptical Senators) that they are doing something worthwhile, and that they are making progress on this worthwhile objective. Thus with many Senators reviewing the spending, each group gets a rating. When the ratings for existing groups fall below that of the new groups by 3%,, the old groups shall get defunded in favor of the new group. Thus we are always maximizing results for our public research money.

7/ All government and FC managers and researchers and workers that had anything to do with carbon research, carbon sequestration, carbon mitigation, wind energy, and other branches of knowledge that the Senate elects as false shall be banned from working for both government and large companies for life.

8/ When other nations emulate our constitution, they should do a similar accounting and deletion of their government agencies.

9/ No government department or sub-department shall live for more than a short number of years without being re-authorized and re-organized.

10/ The new government shall be as easy to understand as is reasonably possible. To this end, it shall have the most intuitive names possible for our Government sectors and divisions. Intuitive names shall be required.

11/ Every branch of government shall be required to have a division of internal affairs, and it must be called "Internal Affairs".

12/ Senators shall be prohibited from using or reporting any statistics or reports that were not wholly assembled by sitting Senators.

13/ No official Statistics shall be reported to, or used by Government unless they have been approved by the Senate.

14/ Government administrators shall not report on their own department's spending or budget. Instead the Senate shall do this for them.

15/ Government may require that those receiving long-term aid move from the most expensive communities in the nation in order to continue receiving benefits. Also, this shall no apply to universal child aid benefits, and retirement benefits previously paid in by the recipient.

15/ We shall honor the words of Ronald Reagan that: "No government ever voluntarily reduces itself in size," and that "Bureaucracy is adept at protecting its nest."

16/ All government expenditures shall be divided into two primary groups. One is ordinary ongoing expenditures, and the other is development or building projects for new systems of government is building.

17/ The Senate shall completely and totally reevaluate the pension liabilities of the government workers of the former national government. Where entire divisions of government get deleted because they are almost totally useless, the employees of those useless divisions of government shall not necessarily get any pension. In may be thought that we have not more obligation to them, than we have to the illegal aliens that illegally came into our country and worked without paying any income taxes.

18/ Our new million man Sub-Senate shall completely take over all the the higher-level Government jobs, and only the lower level people that are in their 20s, 30s, and perhaps some in their 40s shall remain for a time.

19/ We shall consider how 80% of the staff of Twitter was fired after it was purchased, and this resulted in no discernible effect. It shall be thought that an even higher percentage of Government workers may be fired with no discernible effect.

20/ All people currently working for the bureau of land management, the Interior department, the forestry service and the EPA shall be fired and prohibited from working for government. The Senate shall hire new people to take over their jobs. All new applicants for these jobs shall be considered ineligible if they have a tertiary degree in any green areas, including: ecology, environment, energy, climatology, sustainability, conservation, veterinary medicine, or similar areas such as Environmental engineering, Environmental law, sustainable agriculture, etc.

21/ The Sierra club and Greenpeace shall be shut down and their full time workers prohibited from either working in government, or working for any large fictional citizen.

GS'5. Social Security. $418B

1/ The Social Security Administration shall be returned to its original 1935-1950 state as an Agency that is exclusively for retirement payments. There shall be no part of our Social Security money that is used for disabled people, or children's payments, or anything other than Social Security retirement payouts to those hard-working Americans who have paid money in to the Social Security system. There shall be no disability or family care aspect of the Social Security Administration. All dole handouts shall be by a separate administration in separate buildings, administered by each county. The Social Security money comes by direct account deposit from the national fund.

2/ The minimum age for retirement under Social Security shall be 67, two years over 65, the age it was back in 1935, when Social security began. At that time, the life expectancy for white males was 61. In 2022, life expectancy for white males was 77 years and Social security retirement could begin at 61. It is no wonder the system wasn't working right.

3/ We shall say that people over age 65 who continue to work, may work tax free for up to twice the average wage per year as late as they want to in life. This work must however be for an unrelated third party employer.

4/ If we remove the component being paid to the long-term disabled public, then social security costs drop by about 20%. So there never was a problem with Social Security as originally conceived. There was only a problem with disabled people hitching their wagons to the system for worker's retirements and draining it of around 20% of its spending per year.

5/ The money paid into the system by hard working Americans for their retirement shall be thought to be a genuine entitlement. The money paid to the disabled shall not be thought to be an entitlement.

6/ Even job-related injuries shall not be included with Social Security. No matter how similar a payment scheme topic is to what Social Security does, we shall never tack it onto Social Security. The budget for the money we pay to hardworking people for their retirement shall be separate from the money we pay to all types of disabled people, and all other sorts of money-out payments.

7/ Currently about 20% of Social Security payments are going to people other than retirees. This shall now stop, and the money available for Social Security retirees shall increase by 25%. We will pay in a bit less to Social Security, and pay out a bit more.

8/ This should result in a situation where Social Security (which is important and inherently fair) becomes fully funded, but the payments to the disabled and injured (which is not so important and a bit unfair, and prone to scammers.) this money must be paid by the General fund through the Senate's annual funds allocation process.

9/ It shall be thought wise and proper for disabled people to stand on their own (and in public) with regard to public handouts for their disabilities. Also, the Elders shall have no auditing requirement, while young people who are long term disabled must have rigorous and repeated auditing of their condition when they are less obviously disabled, and especially when there is no clear outward sign of their disability.

10/ Disabled people shall still be expected to work if they can. Many will be required to get desk jobs.

11/ Due to the high potential for fraud, disability and dole handout payments shall be made by each county, and the national government shall only provide half of the money. The County government shall be required to provide the other half and administer the system. Everyone collecting dole handout money shall be required to live totally cashless lives, and they may also be required to live under location monitoring. Also, those with no outward signs of injury may be required to live under court surveillance. Most Senate condition checks shall be by the local Centi-Nomes.

12/ Widowed spouses and dependent children shall have the right to the Social Security money of their provider upon death of their provider.

13/ Social Security Advisory Board. Deleted. Replaced by the Sub-Senate. All of the decisions about what the healthcare system pays for shall be decided by Senate juries.

GS'6. Government Handouts Administration, or GHA

1/ This shall be thought the most appropriate name. This mildly shameful name shall never be changed so that socialists and communists cannot hide what they are doing. This is also so that the everyone can have a clear picture of how socialist our nation actually is.

2/ There shall be two separate disability administrations: One for on the job disability, and the other for disabilities not related to employment. The budget for each shall be in three categories:

a/ Obviously disabled people.

b/ Less obviously disabled people, and c/ Those with no clear outward sign of disability.

3/ Except for Social Security retirement payments, public support money for conforming children, and veterans, everyone receiving public disability or settlement money for an injury in our nation from either government, or insurance companies, everyone shall be required to use the Government Handouts Administration. The GHA shall have its own budget with government.

4/ Neither Social Security nor GHA shall not pay aid for children. Instead this shall be funded by the public child support system.

5/ If there is any agency of government that should be presumed to be corrupt, it is the agency that puts able bodied people on the gravy train, so they can stop going to work.

6/ After the reapportionment, there will be no need for government paid housing, because everyone will own the place they occupy. Also, due to the new rail based cities and deportations, housing costs will be lower going forward. Thus our nation will become more competitive and economically vibrant. Then there will be little need for housing assistance except for child benefits and shelter bunks for homeless people.

7/ All decisions about government benefits shall be decided by Sub-Senate jurors. These just show up unannounced for 10 minutes. Maybe there are 4 or 40 of these jurors depending on the value of benefits in question. Each Sub-Senator can issue up to 10 points per person they evaluate. The group of people being evaluated gets ranked for points and the top ones get the benefits. Thus no single person is making any decision and the possibility of bribes becomes remote.

8/ The Senate shall require monitoring of everyone on disability payments where there is any chance or question that they might be faking it.

9/ Except for retirement payments and child support payments, all social security, welfare, and dole payments shall be authorized by the various departments. However, However, the GHA shall redundantly look for fraud and unneeded handouts throughout government.

GS'7. HUD

1/ Administration for Community Living. 200m To prevent freeloading, county government shall manage all government and private sector benefits payments to people and families. It is thought that this will make the administration more attentive while also making it harder to defraud the system.

2/ Office of Community Planning and Development. 3.3B. Delete a/ We are going to stop investing in our old communities.

b/ It is hard to find out exactly what this agency does.

c/ All disaster rebuilding shall go via FEMA.

d/ We are going to stop rebuilding our disaster areas.

3/ Interagency Council on Homelessness. 5m. Deleted.

The Senate shall establish standards for homeless sheltering and shelter services. The various county governments shall instead follow the national approach of having a system of National remote bunk-bed dormitories to house a busload of same-sex homeless people.

4/ National Administration of Subsidies for Housing, Office of Multifamily Housing. This housing subsidy agency shall be deleted due to the reapportionment and also due to the inherent corruption housing subsidies. All employees of this agency shall be banned from Government employment for life.

5/ National Administration of Subsidies for Housing, Office of Housing. This old housing subsidy agency shall be deleted due to the reapportionment and its inherent corruption. All employees of this agency shall be banned from Government employment for life.

6/ Office of Manufactured Housing Programs. This old housing agency shall be deleted due to the obsolescence of lightweight mobile homes moved by road trucks.

7/ We shall create anew agency for development with apartment-sized building blocks. The new named shall be the National Administration of Building Blocks NABB). We shall also create new national agency for township locations and railway development, the National Administration of Township Locations, the NATL.

8/ Office of [Housing] Policy Development and [statistical] Research. All housing and building policy shall now be created by the Senate, and this body shall only do statistical research. The people who created housing policy shall not be relocated to another department by government.

9/ Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. All historical determinations and real estate acquisitions by government shall be at the county level and the national government shall have no role. Also, all historical acquisitions and determinations by government shall require a 2/3 overmajority, and this vote must come within 1-year of the start of this Constitution, or the historical designation shall expire.

National Administration for Mortgage Underwriting

a/ Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, Ginnie Mae.

These shall all be consolidated into a single body, with a variety of standards. The new name shall be the Mortgage Origination National Administration or MONA. There shall also be loans for business real estate purposes, but not third party investment purposes.

This shall be renamed the Mortgage Insurance National Administration, or MINA.

c/ Federal Housing Finance Oversight Agency This shall be renamed the National Oversight of Loans Administration, or NOLA. This agency shall audit all financing of real estate and vehicles which government originates or guarantees. The audits shall take place at inception and regularly afterwards to make sure the property remains owner occupied if applicable, and the condition of the property doesn't decline to extreme. NOLA shall also provide redundant oversight of the loan origination administration for all sources of finance.

GS'8. US Department of Agriculture USDA. $209B

1/ USDA shall focus on agriculture and farming and helping farmers fund and finance more agricultural output.

3/ The Rural Utilities Service shall be closed down and the new Energy Department shall take over this task.

4/ The Rural Development Service shall only develop agriculture related businesses.

5/ The agriculture department shall not have or manage:

a/ Food handout programs such as food stamps.

b/ Nutrition programs.

c/ Nutritional additive programs.

d/ Food safety programs.

All of these sorts of programs shall be under a single main department. Having many departments with overlapping roles exists to help hide government spending from the people. All food aid programs except those related to universal child benefits, and those related to schools (and under the school voucher program) shall exist under the Department of Government Handouts.

6/ The National Institute of Food and Agriculture. $2B.

The spending of this agency shall be directed by Senate juries, not appointees.

7/ Agricultural Research Service. $1.7b. This agency shall be managed by the Senate, and there shall be no appointee directors.

8/ The National Agricultural Library, especially its content shall be managed by the Sub-Senate, not an appointee bureaucracy.

9/ The Forrest Service shall be renamed as the Forrest Bureau. This bureau shall take in money from fees and rentals. Also, the Forrest Service shall be under the DOI, not USDA.

10/ There shall be a new separate Bureau of Wildfire Management that manages both fire breaks and regional use of fire suppression equipment. There shall be large tree-free fire breaks around our trunk power lines, and large roads so that trees may be inexpensively kept from popping up instead of being trimmed at great expense. No trees branches shall be allowed within 3 meters of any ordinary overhead power lines, and within 6 meters of any high voltage line. There shall also be a nationwide fire break system that maintains wide fire breaks every 5 to 10 km though our nation's fire-vulnerable lands. These fire breaks shall be put in low lying places that are more ideal for for agriculture where practical, so that our nation can get more free agricultural land to lease and use.

x/ Comment: The easy gains in civil rights have already been made. The problem is that government can't reach beyond government's reach. There shall no longer be any division of Government specifically dedicated to dealing with racism or civil rights crimes. The National Police Department shall instead prosecute matters of gross injustice occurring at the county level.

GS'11. HHS

National Institutes of health

10/ Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. Merged with USDA

11/ Health Resources and Services Administration.
$13.3B

a/ Our nation is well-enough connected with roads that people can get themselves to a hospital. There is no need for Government to continue the bottomless folly of subsidizing rural healthcare. When people get old or ill and need healthcare, let them go or move to a city.

b/ No Government agency shall participate in the Senate's legislative processes. Instead the individual workers shall be free to approach the Senate and all shall have whistleblower status against their supervisors. GS'12. Environmental Protection Agency.

1/ The coronavirus, environmental justice, children's health, and climate change divisions shall be deleted.

3/ The EPA shall be prohibited from considering sea water pollution, because the oceans have 2.8 billion times the mass of mankind, and the idea that we are polluting the oceans can only exist among the innumerate.

4/ The EPA shall not concern itself with insect or vermin infestations. All living pests shall be handled at the local level.

5/ The national government shall not insist that the water from the tap everywhere nationwide be safe to drink. In contaminated old industrial areas, we shall consider this idea to be costly folly installed by our nation's enemies. The Senate shall review that EPA's safe water standards and clean-up projects in consideration of this new balanced approach to water pollution. Then it shall establish reasonable and practical new standards for what contamination must be corrected.

6/ All environmental emergencies shall be handled by the various counties. However, there may be national coordination and backup testing where the problem involves multiple counties. Nonetheless the physical response shall be organized and made by the various counties where practical, as they not only spend money in a more granular and efficient way, but they are not able to drag the nation into any more environmental goose chases, like the old EPA.

7/ The EPA shall be shut down and a new replacement agency re-hired by the Senate. The EPA shall monitor all potential gross polluters and all hazardous material transport routes for contamination. Thus we shall hopefully never have another Bhopal.

Every person who has ever worked at the EPA as an direct employee of the agency shall be banned from Government work for life.

13/ Only Senate Juries shall make environmental policy.

14/ The EPD shall monitor all of the nations oil extraction reserves, coal areas, pipelines, and conveyance systems, and other mineral extraction areas by video for purposes of vandalism and crime, but also from the standpoint of chemical sensors. Also, all of these potential sabotage places shall be considered Orwell zones, requiring a tracker, and ID verification upon entry.

15/ The EPA/ EPD shall have no jurisdiction over monitoring vehicle emissions. This shall be done by the various Counties. Only the Senate shall establish environmental standards, including especially emissions standards for vehicles, The EPA/EPD shall not have this power.

16/ EPD's Indoor Air Quality division. The design of our new townships will obviate this agency.

17/ Chemical Safety Board. This agency shall go under OSHA where it concerns worker safety, and under the EPD where it concerns emissions into the environment.

18/ The Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry. The Healthcare Sluice shall take over the critical role of this agency.

19/ Office of Environmental management. The Knowledge Sluice shall be tasked with fairly judging which of the environmental cleanup projects being carried out by this $11.2 billion/year agency should continue, and how they should continue.

20/ Council on Environmental Quality. Deleted, replaced by the Senate.

21/ Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement. BSEE. This agency is at the heart of what is wrong with with our nation's manufacturing base. Therefore it shall be deleted entirely, and the Senate shall elect new standards for pollution. The Senate shall also assemble a new regulatory body of chemists, and no person with any government work experience, or ecological background shall be hired. Also, the Senate should never consider the hired staff of its agencies as experts that should be believed, over simply being heard out.

22/ Office of Surface Mining, Reclamation and Enforcement. The Public Property Sluice shall completely re-write the standards established by this corrupt administration. The people who have worked in this administration shall be prohibited from working for government for life. The Senate shall build a new agency of mining and reclamation under the PPS.

24/ National Pesticide Information Center. The Sub-Senate shall create a website on this subject and update the website annually, in lieu of this agency.

25/ Migratory Bird Conservation Commission. This OPEC created agency shall be deleted because migratory birds will simply land and nest in other places.

26/ Morris k. Udall and Stewart L Udall Foundation (for environmental disputes). Deleted because the Senate shall have this function.

27/ The Senate shall compile a list of places where the EPA may regulate. The EPA shall not be allowed to regulate outside these areas without Senate direction. In general, all government agencies shall regulate in this matter, inside the narrow areas they have been elected to regulate by the Senate. When government appointees and hirelings venture beyond their mandate, they shall be considered as trying to further their own agenda, and this shall be considered a form of corruption.

GS'13. Department of Interior, DOI $17.6B

1/ Fish and Wildlife Service. All field duties of the Fish and Wildlife Service shall be pushed down to the county governments, with Senate oversight.

a/ Endangered Species Program. This government agency shall not have the power to make decisions about which species are endangered and which are not. Only the Senate shall have the power to make that decision. Also, all enforcement shall be under the county governments, so this agency gets eliminated and the money goes to county government.

b/ Marine Mammal Commission. This body shall keep statistics on all the marine mammal populations worldwide. It shall also keep statistics on populations chimpanzees, bonobos, gorillas, and orangutans. The new name shall be the Intelligent Animal Department.

c/ With regard to NOAA: we shall put its satellites and aircraft under the AirForce. We shall also put the National Weather service under the Air Force. If there are any ships, they shall be maintained and crewed by the navy. The ocean fisheries service goes under the Fish and Wildlife Service.

d/ National Marine Fisheries Service, aka, NOAA Fisheries. This agency shall be deleted, and the various adjacent coastal counties shall take over this role. This is because the counties will be more motivated to put the nation's fisheries resource wealth in the hands of the people. Also because the counties will better manage our nation's fisheries for the long term. The PPS shall establish the fishing take for our nation's various fisheries, and this shall be enforced by the counties.

e/ National Ocean Service. It should be noted that NOAA spends about 2/3 of its ($650million) budget on management and overpriced IT consultants ($320+82 million). This is quite common in older organizations. Where the Senate sees this sort of situation in a government administration, it should eliminate enough management rolls that management is no more than about 15% of the genuine annual expenditures.

2/ National Park Service.

a/ The most scenic parts of our national parks shall now be used for mostly pedestrian and bicycle townships served by trains with either fenced viaducts, or raised viaducts. No money shall be paid to the NPS for any of this land, as this sort of use shall be outside the jurisdiction of the NPS, even though the townships and train lines will be built on NPS land. These townships shall be considered a sort of fruit of the nature park.

b/ All national parks shall be in one county and only one county. This county shall manage the national park, including rangers and wildfire prevention cuts. Sensible fire cuts (as determined by the county Senate) shall now be added to all national parks in the nation. What is sensible shall depend on the fire threat. The National Senate shall set standards, even if these will be enforced locally. In fact, all the national parks in national wildlife areas, shall be managed at the county level of government, and not at the national level of government.

c/ There shall be no charge to enter any national park using a bus or train with 11 or more passengers. There shall however be car fees. Also, all so-called wilderness permits shall be free. Only the County Senate shall decide on how many wilderness permits may be issued for each park or nature area. All fresh-water public area fishing licenses shall be charged based on the take in kilos (as estimated by the system via video on a measuring placemat) and this is supposed to be the same price that the fish harvesters pay. Thus many of the largest fish will be caught, photographed, and released over and over again in isolated places, because people don't want to pay the take tax.

d/ At least 90% of the total area of our national parks shall be open to at any one time. Also, each area in our national parks shall be open to tourists for at least 80% of each decade.

e/ All moderately used park areas and fishing areas shall have at least partial communication coverage.

f/ Human powered trail carts shall be permitted in all national parks. Motors are forbidden, wheels not.

g/ USDA shall track the source of all freshwater fish sold in the nation. All rivers shall be rated on a 10-scale for safety, with 1 being used for Alaska and Western Canada, and most of Scandinavia, and 10 being very dangerous to eat in consideration of the pollution of the waterway the fish came from.

h/ Fish and game shall stock all of the nation's rivers annually as feasible and profitable with baby fish, then at a later date it shall sell fish harvesting rights

i/ Fish and game shall investigate what happens to fish populations under reduced populations of sharks, and other predators.

3/ Bureau of Indian Affairs. Deleted.

4/ Bureau of Land Management. Deleted. Replaced by the Public Property Sluice, the PPS.

5/ Bureau of Reclamation. This agency shall be moved into HAWS

6/ Office of Policy Analysis. Deleted. Replaced by the Senate

7/ US Geological Survey.

a/ USGS shall be replaced by a new Senate managed agency. This agency shall produce geological maps and maps of underground core drilling results, not topographic or geographical maps.

8/ Office of the Solicitor. Deleted.

9/ Office of Natural Resources Revenue. This agency shall be deleted, and the various counties shall take over this role. This is because the counties will be more motivated to put the nation's natural resource wealth in the hands of the people. Also because the counties will better managed our nation's resource wealth. The PPS will establish policy, and fee ranges, the various county governments will auction off the lands.

10/ Natural Resources Conservation Service. This agency shall be deleted. Perhaps the Senate will elect to replace this agency.

GS'14. Department of Energy ($48B)

1/ All parts of the corrupt Energy Department shall be closed down except:

a/ The parts having to do with nuclear energy, nuclear material, and nuclear waste. These shall be put under the EPA.

b/ Regarding the Energy Department's $7.8B science and research budget, the Senate shall reduce the funding of this agency substantially. All projects here should be regarded as highly suspect by the Senate. The Senate shall be free to shut down all of these projects.

c/ The Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety

Administration. Deleted. This corrupt agency shall be replaced by Senate juries.

d/ The oil drilling regulation apparatus. This agency shall be replaced by administration by Senate juries.

e/ Energy Information Administration. $144M. This corrupt agency shall be deleted. All aspects of our nation's intelligence about energy use and especially production shall be managed and produced by Senate juries. There shall be no non-elected people working in government information about energy.

f/ Energy Star Program. $39M. This corrupt agency shall be deleted. All aspects of our nation's energy conservation effort shall be managed by elected Senators.

g/ Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. This agency shall be replaced by administration by Senate juries.

h/ Office of Fossil Energy and carbon management. Deleted.

i/ Bureau of Ocean Energy Management. Deleted. The PPS shall also manage offshore drilling reserves.

2/ All DOE funding for renewable energy, alternative energy, and energy efficiency shall be deleted. $4.02B.

3/ With regard to our spending on anything having to do with oil: Historically, the greater risk is the redirection of our government against the people, rather than the improper behavior of our domestic oil producers. We shall have an EPA to look for oil spills, the Senate watching output and prices. We shall have OSHA monitoring to assure worker safety, and we shall have oil extraction reserves giving access for free extraction. There is no use for an energy department, except to use government to help have another oil selling scam.

GS'15. Children and families

1/ Administration for Children and families (ACF). To reduce fraud, county government shall manage all government functions that give benefits to individuals. It is thought that this will make it harder to defraud the system.

2/ Office of Child Support Enforcement OCSE. It should be noted how this function exists at both the local and national level. This reminds us of how the US national government once allocated large sums of money to the cause of returning runaway slaves in free states. Clearly some group in power over our land of the free wanted to keep our best men from having many children as is natural and normal. This office shall be deleted because we are now going to socialize our support payments for conforming numbers of children.

3/ Center for Parent Information and Resources. Deleted. This agency shall be replaced by the eve-growing Sub-Senate's parenting website.

4/ Office on Violence Against women. OVW. ($1B) Deleted. All of the funding for this department shall instead be used to build a national oversupply of mother's dorms that will always be free to women with young children fleeing an abusive situation.

5/ Woman's Bureau. ($18m) Deleted.

GS'16. Department of Justice. $38B

1/ All administrative decisions at the DOJ shall be made by elected Senate juries. The investigation assignments and the decisions to prosecute people shall be thought to be too much power for anyone but a Senate jury to have. Also, non-elected people shall not have the power to begin new types of prosecution without Senate authorization.

2/ There are many well-worn paths in human society, and these paths are frequently criminal. The Judicial Sluice and the DOJ shall compile a list of things that the various police forces should normally arrest and charge people for, and a list of things that police should normally never arrest or charge people for. All the well-worn paths should be on one list or the other. For all these well-worn paths, there should be as little leeway as possible for police. It should only be with unique situations that police have some leeway. Also, we shall produce thousands of clips that act-out and explain the subtleties of the legal system to our officers and our people.

3/ The department of justice shall be renamed as the NPD, or National Police Department. The overall NPD shall not work under any individual or committee. The following positions and their support offices shall be deleted:

a/ Attorney General, Deputy Attorney General, Associate Attorney General, and Solicitor General. All department tsars and jurisdictional monarchs are prohibited under this Constitution, particularly people who have not been elected. All of these offices shall be deleted b/ Office of Legislative Affairs, and Office of Legal Policy. The Senate shall now set all policy.

c/ Office of Legal Counsel. Deleted.

d/ Office of Public Affairs. Deleted.

e/ Office of Tribal Justice. Deleted, along with all Indian reservations and jurisdiction.

f/ Office of Justice Programs. Deleted.

h/ Executive Office for U.S. Trustees. Deleted.

i/ Office of Violence Against Women. Deleted.

j/ Office of Access to Justice. Deleted.

k/ Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS). The national Senate shall work with all the county police departments directly and mostly without an appointee bureaucracy l/ Office of Information Policy. Deleted. The Senate shall do this.

m/ Foreign Claims Settlement Commission. Deleted.

n/ Civil Rights Division. Deleted.

o/ Anti-trust division. It is unconscionable and obviously corrupt that something so important as monopoly protection is not under the Senate's control.

p/ Tax division. It is unconscionable and obviously corrupt that something so important as taxation oversight is not under the Senate's control.

r/ Civil division. Deleted.

s/ Environmental & Natural Resources Division. Deleted.

t/ Community Relations Service of DOJ. Deleted.

u/ U.S. Attorneys, and Executive Office for U.S Attorneys.

4/ The FBI shall now be reorganized as follows:

a/ Directorate. All of the top positions, the Director, the Deputy Director, the Chief of Staff, the Executive Assistant directors, and all the top positions shall be replaced with large Senate juries.

b/ There shall be divisions for murder/kidnapping, rapists, fugitives, internet crime, hacking, data trafficking, and many other types of crime that involve more than one county.

c/ Marshals service. This can direct county police to visit the person's regular places. The national Marshals service shall also deal with inter-county fugitives.

d/ The Laboratory division. The lab techs should only be doing tests. There shall be a triage system for time-consuming tests.

e/ Counterterrorism Division. Deleted. This function shall not be under the Department of Justice. Instead it shall be taken over by the National Security Administration, or NSA. The Senate must know how much it is spending on NPD internal crime, and how much it is spending on NSA, international sorts of crimes. Surely this division of funding is key to keeping a police state from being brought into force to lord over the people.

f/ Counterintelligence Division. Deleted. This function shall not be under the Department of Justice. Instead it shall be taken over by the National Security Administration, or NSA. The Senate must know how much it is spending on NPD internal crime, and how much it is spending on NSA, international sorts of crimes. Surely this division of funding is key to keeping a police state from being brought into force to lord over the people.

g/ Directorate of Intelligence. Deleted. Only the national Senate should be directing national intelligence activities.

h/ WMD directorate. Deleted. This goes under both NSA, and for redundancy, the commerce department for sniffer detection systems.

i/ The FBI Office of Public affairs. Deleted.

j/ The FBI Office of Congressional Affairs. Deleted.

k/ The Office of the General Counsel. The conduct of the NPD officers shall be regulated by a Senate jury.

l/ Office of Equal Employment Opportunity. Deleted.

m/ Office of Professional Responsibility. Renamed Internal Affairs, and run by Senate Juries.

n/ Office of the Ombudsman. Deleted.

o/ Office of Integrity and Compliance. Renamed Internal affairs. This shall be a subdivision of this department. On one hand, this department will teach officers/agents the rules, and on the other hand it will enforce the rules on misbehaving officers/agents.

p/ The Recorder's system shall run the NPD's records systems.

q/ The NPD shall have a large well funded IT division.

r/ The Senate shall annually audit NPD spending on each category. This shall be compared with other parts of the budget, as well as the budgets of similar nearby counties so that the budget may be fine tuned to maximize return on spending.

5/ DEA. Deleted. A special national agency for for drug enforcement is no longer needed. Thus 90% of the funding is deleted due to drug licensing, and 10% moved over to NPD (FBI) From now on, Mafia drug crimes shall be enforced mostly at the County level, and if they are multi-jurisdictional, they shall be enforced by the NPD (FBI) as opposed to the CPD (county police department).

6/ Wherever possible we shall have 3 boxes and only 3 boxes for domestic police power — and no more confusing alphabet soup of overlapping enforcement and prosecution administrations. There shall only be:

a/ County police department (CPD).

b/ National police department (NPD).

c/ National Security department (NSD) formerly NSA, CIA, etc.

d/ National Border Police (NBP) For foreigners only.

e/ Bureau of Prisons. (For convicts only.)

7/ Multiple overlapping jurisdictions shall be thought a thing of outsiders introducing corruption. However we may have other jurisdictions for:

a/ The monitoring of foreign people, foreign agents, spies, and other foreign oriented policing and national security.

b/ Terrorist plotters, saboteurs, WMD ingredient accumulators, and people who visit WMD websites, and those who seem to be abnormally interested in assassination, or mass shootings or bombings.

c/ Firearms enforcement.

8/ Criminal Division. Deleted. We can't have appointees overseeing our elected Senate jurors.

9/ U.S. Marshals Service. Deleted. These duties will be taken over by the newer NPD officers still in training.

10/ INTERPOL. Eventually replaced. The county recorder system under the guidance of the Knowledge Sluice shall build a new master database for the national (and international) sharing of police and justice system information.

Once all the existing information has been copied and everyone is using the new system, Interpol shall be closed down. The new system shall be called (US) PDS, or Police Data System. Everyone making a query on PDS must be logged in (and ID tracked), and all must obey the rules about making illegal unapproved queries and sharing information. Like so many of our government system, we will share our PDS architecture with the world to further democracy, reduce crime, and ensure human rights. PDS shall not engage in any actual investigations, or enforcement of its own.

11/ ATF. This agency shall become 3 separate regulatory agencies: alcohol, tobacco, and national firearms policing. Each shall be a divisions of NPD. Firearms shall be entirely staffed by retired military.

12/ Office of the Inspector General. Deleted. Rather than have a choke point like this in our administrative system, we shall rely on the people to bring matters of government corruption and waste to the Sub-Senate BBS for review. Also, this is too important a thing to leave to un-elected people. Therefore, the Judicial Sluice shall do this work instead.

13/ Justice Management Division. Deleted as bureaucracy about bureaucracy. All bureaucracy about bureaucracy shall be eliminated, except where double-checking, or secondary review is specifically called-for by the Senate.

14/ Executive Office for Immigration Review. Deleted. If there is any judicial review of immigrants, it shall be by the Nome, or Centi-Nome of residence. If this cannot be determined, then the person shall be put on a list for the next available Centi-nome, near the point of arrest.

15/ Office of Special Counsel and the Office of Professional Responsibility. Deleted. The first shall now be called the Government Internal Affairs, and it shall be for the government outside of NPD. The second agency should be called NPD Internal Affairs, and it shall investigate NPD officers. All of the activities in these areas shall involve Senate juries and their hired consultants.

16/ Office of the Pardon Attorney, U.S. Parole Commission, and the Sentencing commission. Deleted. It is unconscionable that this role in our judicial system is not entirely judged by elected people on Senate juries.

17/ Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts. This agency manages the federal courts and keeps statistics. Now the statistics work shall be done instead by the county recorder system under Senate supervision. Also, all courts (buildings, courtrooms, security staff, administrative staff, offices, waiting areas, etc.), including the national courts shall be managed by the various counties. In fact this shall be a paradigm for all federal offices and agencies. To the maximum extent possible, we shall eliminate all the 3,000-miles-away national government management and replace it with more-efficient, local county management. Thus the NPD office buildings and building upkeep, and utilities will be provided by the various counties. Also, where NPD has its regional headquarters, labs, training facilities and the like: The buildings shall be built and managed by the counties thought transfer payments and per foot payments. And this should be a paradigm throughout government. Even the RVCs shall be managed at the county level though a simple system that works like restaurant bill splitting. Thus, the National government will have no physical structures of its own. It shall only live in the minds of men.

18/ The following national court jurisdictions shall cease to exist as special jurisdictions, instead there shall be the same courts, but differently trained and more specialized Senator judges.

a/ Circuit Court of Appeal

b/ Bankruptcy Courts.

c/ Court of Federal Claims.

d/ Tax Court.

e/ State courts and local courts, replaced by county courts.

19/ The Supreme Court of the United States shall cease to exist and all aspects of this body and all of its support administrations shall be taken over by our 10,000-man Over-Senate.

20/ All court proceedings in our nation shall take place in english. If an interpreter is needed, it shall be provided by the County. There shall be no National court interpreter apparatus.

21/ Judicial Panel on Multi-district litigation. This agency shall be deleted due to simplification of the justice system.

22/ Office of Justice Programs. This agency shall be deleted as no longer necessary.

23/ Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. This agency shall be deleted and its role replaced by the Judicial Sluice.

24/ Bureau of Justice Statistics. The roll of this agency shall be greatly expanded, however the Senate shall direct what statistics are gathered and how they are gathered. This agency shall now be called the institute of Justice Statistics. This institute shall assemble crime, trial, incarceration, and release statistics. This institute shall also monitor prisoners lives, and have prison officer training media, and a definitive online library about corrections, law enforcement, and reform of prisoners where reform is called-for by the courts. This library shall be only open to LEOs and government people with access permission.

25/ State Justice Institute. Deleted as a secondary bureaucracy, or a bureaucracy about bureaucracy. Except for oversight administrations, all bureaucracy about bureaucracy shall be eliminated, except where secondary review is specifically called-for by the Senate. Also, if the Senate is going to disburse any money, it shall be thought corrupt if this happens by any other means that a randomly drawn Sub-Senate jury.

26/ Federal Judicial Center. Deleted. Replaced by the Judicial Sluice.

27/ (bankruptcy) Trustee Program. Deleted. All bankruptcy trustees shall come from confirmed Sub-Senators, or they shall be juries of these.

28/ Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. Deleted. The tasks of this agency shall be merged with the National Institute of Corrections.

29/ The Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces, and the Court of appeals for Veterans Claims shall be run by the Sub-Senate.

30/ Legal Services Corporation. Deleted. The system shall no longer subsidize lawyers, or help litigants to find lawyers.

31/ Pretrial Services Agency for the District of Colombia. Deleted.

32/ Office of Justice Programs. Deleted as a second order bureaucracy.

33/ National Institute of Justice. Deleted, replaced by Sub-Senate public service announcements. and other Sub-Senate activity.

GS'17. Intelligence. $66B

1/ The Senate shall consolidate the following agencies (and other non-included agencies into one single agency for non-police intelligence that is run by the Over-Senate.

a/ Director of National Intelligence.

b/ National Geospatial-intelligence Agency.

c/ National Intelligence University.

d/ National Reconnaissance Office.

e/ National Security Agency. This shall now be the NSD, or National Security Department.

f/ National Security Council NSC.

g/ Office of the Director of National Intelligence.

2/ We shall establish two redundant Hacking and Network Security agencies under the Security Sluice, and the military and militia Sluice.

3/ These two HNS agencies shall replace:

a/ Cyber command. $11B. Under NSA.

b/ Cyber security and Infrastructure Security Agency.

c/ Computer Emergency Readiness Team.

d/ College of Information and Cyberspace.

e/ Chief Information officer's Council.

4/ Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board PCLOB.

Deleted. Replaced by the Senate.

GS'18. DOD Department of Defense $1,900B

1/ The budget of the Veterans Benefits Administration or VA is around is $371B annually, and it serves 9-million veterans per year. This is $41,200 per veteran annually, How much value have the veterans been getting? If it is significantly less, we should probably re-organize the VA.

2/ Senate juries from the MMS shall set new standards for VA benefits eligibility. The VA staff shall be heard, but the final determination shall be by the Senate. Sub-Senate juries shall decide which veterans are eligible for VA benefits programs. All current VA benefits, and all recipients shall be audited by several Senators.

3/ The VA spends around $90B on medical services annually. This agency is widely regarded as inefficient and poorly run.

4/ Except for rehabilitative joint and wound therapy, prosthetics, combat stress counseling and the like, the VA shall no longer have its own treatment facilities. All veterans eligible for VA care shall get their care from the private sector. It is thought that the care will be both better and cheaper this way: especially considering the new healthcare taxation system.

5/ It shall be thought foolish to keep a small staff on standby dedicated to war surgery and soldier healthcare. Instead, we shall delete this aspect of Government and spend some of this money on training semi-skilled healthcare people to do limited emergency trauma procedures. Thus in the event of war or earthquake, we might have 10 or 20 times the number of medical staff potentially available. These will be drafted, along with ER staff that are receiving DOD stipends for undergoing the DOD emergency training and being on-call for emergencies.

6/ The VA shall pay standard market rates for healthcare, however, we shall limit the amount of money spent per VA patient.

7/ All doctors and nurses in the nation must complete 2-months of full-time training in war and disaster trauma care, with one or more specialty procedures. In addition to being able to draft various healthcare people in a crisis, the Senate shall also have a corps of on-call war surgeons that get a stipend for being always on call. Preference for this easy position and generous stipend shall be given to full time ER staff first and then on-call staff. Thus the military's need for a standby trauma care force will be used to subsidize greater numbers of trauma care staff in our emergency rooms. This shall be thought superior to having a separate government-run health administration.

8/ It should be noted that all of our past wars have left each American with some part of an $1,100 annual debt to our veterans. Therefore, the VA shall be an independent agency, a sort of national debt agency that is not part of the Department of Defense.

9/ Government shall not discriminate against veterans that live in less expensive nations to make their money go further. These shall get the same amount as back home.

10/ We shall have an armed forces section of the DOD. Today our armed forces spending is $647B/year. This is navy $181B. army $178B. Air Force $234B. marines $50B. space force $4B. In the future, there shall also be a Drone Command, and another heading for the regional commands around the foreign world. There shall be domestic a military spending category, and foreign military spending category.

11/ The Space force shall be re-named as the Anti-Satellite command, so our leaders don't get confused about the main reason why we need a space force.

12/ Defense Technical Information Center. $90B. Senate management should make this agency better, less corrupt, and cheaper 13/ Defense Intelligence Agency. $24B. This agency shall have Senate management, and its spending shall be cut as considered appropriate.

14/ Special Operations Command. $13.2B. This agency shall be under the Over-Senate.

15/ Missile Defense Agency. $9.6B.

16/ Defense Information Systems Agency. $9.4B. As with all the other agencies, this agency shall be carefully evaluated given its funding level.

17/ Defense Acquisition University. $176M.

The Sub-Senate shall produce media for this purpose instead.

18/ Defense Health Agency. $1.9B. Deleted as redundant.

19/ Federal Maritime Commission. This agency shall be replaced by the Senate.

20/ Maritime Administration MARAD. This agency shall be replaced by the Senate.

21/ Debt Claims management Center. This shall be merged with military procurements.

22/ The Defense Contract Management Agency. $1.4B., the Defense Contract Audit Agency. $650M, and the Defense Finance and Accounting Service shall be mostly deleted, Senate management should make these agencies cheaper and better.

23/ Defense Security Cooperation Agency. $1.7B. This agency shall be pivot to developing training media and certifying training staff for 4 main purposes:

a/ Training our own militiamen.

b/ Training unequal allies to defend themselves.

c/ Training refugees to go back and fight for freedom.

b/ Training and working with equal allies to defend themselves.

24/ military Postal Service Agency. Each branch of the military shall do this instead.

25/ American Battle Monuments Commission. 145M. Delete.

Jobs Corps $1.75B shall be managed at the county level

GS'19. Department of Transportation. DOT. $203B

1/ The following offices shall be ended and they shall be replaced by Senate juries as managers:

a/ Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

b/ Chief of Staff and Deputy Chief of Staff.

c/ Under Secretary for Policy.

d/ Executive Secretariat.

e/ Office of Civil Rights.

f/ Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization.

g/ Office of Intelligence, Emergency Response and Security.

h/ Office of Public Affairs.

i/ General Counsel.

j/ Assistant Secretary for transportation policy.

k/ Assistant Secretary for Aviation and International Affairs.

l/ Assistant Secretary for Budget and Programs/ CFO.

m/ Assistant Secretary for Governmental Affairs.
 n/ Assistant Secretary for Administration.
 o/ Assistant Secretary for Research and Technology.
 2/ Federal Aviation Administration. $20.2B. Under the new rail system, there will eventually be far fewer airports and flights than today. Therefore the budget for this agency will eventually be greatly reduced.
 3/ Federal Highway Administration. $67B. Much of the spending here, especially on capacity upgrades shall will now be unnecessary.
 4/ Federal Railroad Administration. $4.6B Deleted. The Senate shall develop a new 21st century rail system with thick rails on proper foundations to entirely replace our 170-year old spaghetti rails, decomposing oil-wood trestles, and loose gravel system. Our budget for the new railroad system will be one to two orders of magnitude greater for a decade or so. However, this will all be paid by savings on new cities.
 5/ Amtrak, a subsidiary of the Federal Railroad Administration shall be deleted once the new national rail system can replace it. Government shall own the tracks and the power lines and some of the locomotives. Government will offer scheduled freeway style access to the nation's approved rail lines. Amtrak shall be deleted and all of its employees shall be prohibited from working for any other rail company.
 6/ National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. $1B. This agency only gives the slightest improvement to our system. Instead we shall spend most of this money developing a system for network operated vehicles.
 7/ National Transport Safety Board. NTSB. Air safety.
 8/ Federal Transit Administration. $16.9B Deleted eventually. The Senate shall develop new 21st century transit systems to replace the travel systems in our current urban designs.
 9/ Surface Transportation Board.
 10/ Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation. Probably Deleted.
 11/ Maritime Administration. 1.2B.
 12/ Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration. $874M
 13/ Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration. $539M. This probably corrupt oil-related administration shall be run and staffed entirely by Senators.
 14/ National Mediation Board. Deleted. The transport sector shall no longer be allowed to strike.

GS'20. Foreign matters

1/ US Grain Council USGC.
 a/ The Senate shall decide which nations may trade with the US. Until Iran, Cuba, China, Burma, Venezuela, Somalia and some other rogue and roughish nations are truly free and democratic, the Senate shall impose restrictions on food exports to these nations and nations trading with them.
 b/ Ethanol shall not be made in our nation, let alone exported.
 2/ All of the following agencies shall be deleted and if the Senate wishes to keep any aspect of the following agencies alive, the duties shall fall on the Foreign Sluice to vote a replacement agency in.
 a/ The Africa Command.
 b/ The Africa Development Foundation.
 c/ The Agency for global media.

d/ Trade and Development Agency.
 e/ Trade Representative.
 f/ Voice of America.
 g/ Export-Import Bank of the United States. We shall leave this to the private sector.
 h/ Japan-US Friendship Commission. Deleted. i/ Middle East Broadcasting Networks.
 j/ International Development Finance Corporation.
 k/ Bureau of International Labor Affairs.
 l/ International Trade Administration.
 m/ International Trade Commission.
 n/ English Language Acquisition Office.
 o/ Radio Sawa. No longer needed Mideast broadcasting service.
 p/ Office of Cuba Broadcasting. q/ Alhurra TV.
 r/ Foreign Claims Settlement Commission. s/ Committee on Foreign Investment in the US.
 t/ Commission on International Religious. Freedom.
 u/ US Mission to the United Nations.
 v/ Open World Leadership Center. (From former Soviet area)
 w/ Northern Border Regional Commission.
 x/ The Helsinki Commission.
 y/ Millennium Challenge Corporation.
 z/ Inter-American Foundation.
 aa/ Foreign Agriculture Service.

GS'21. Hydroelectric and Water Services, or HAWS

1/ The Bureau of Reclamations shall be renamed as HAWS. All of the many individual directors of the various projects shall be replaced by county Senate administrations.
 2/ Given the regional nature of water projects and hydro-electric power generation, it is best to put these facilities under a single government entity run by the national government. HAWS shall be the new umbrella agency for the following agencies, and for all the new pipe-hydro electric system, and all the water diversion projects in the nation. Each shall have its own independent department. Also, HAWS shall not be part of the Department of Energy, even though it feeds the nation's various power grid areas:
 a/ Appalachian Regional Commission.
 b/ Bonneville Power Administration.
 c/ Delaware River Basin Commission.
 d/ Delta Regional Authority.
 e/ Mississippi River Commission.
 f/ Northwest Power and Conservation Council.
 g/ Pacific Northwest electric Power and Conservation Planning.
 h/ Southeast Power administration.
 i/ Susquehanna River Basin Commission.
 j/ Tennessee Valley Authority.
 k/ Western Area Power Administration.
 3/ All the river and seaway projects shall also be under HAWS, including the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation.

GS'22. Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration. SAMHSA. $9.7B.

1/ The substance abuse part of this agency shall be replaced by our new substance abuse licensing and propaganda media system. This is $6.6B saved on an approach that is obviously losing.

2/ There shall be no national mental health facilities or programs. All shall be administered by the various counties. All of the $3B in the SAMHSA budget shall be credited to the various counties on a per capita basis. This is about $9 per capita.

3/ Once we have made the above changes, the SAMHSA shall be deleted. In the meantime SAMHSA shall be under the HSA, not the DHS

4/ Office of National Drug Control Policy. $41B.

Deleted. This agency shall be replaced by our new substance abuse licensing and propaganda media system.

GS'23. DHS

1/ FEMA $28.7B

a/ By moving our cities out of hazard areas great savings are expected for FEMA.

b/ FEMA shall maintain emergency railcars for trauma care, infectious disease patients, and housing in the event of disaster. Normal railcars may also be requisitioned (for a promise of payment) for mass evacuations.

c/ FEMA shall produce detailed disaster contingency plans, with lists of people who have pre-volunteered (every year) as on-call emergency staff under time.

d/ FEMA shall not concern itself with rebuilding because, in general, places once heavily damaged by natural events shall not be rebuilt.

e/ At least 95% of the national FEMA agency (and budget) shall be deleted in favor of local agencies.

f/ In disasters, FEMA shall not command. Instead the county Senate's shall command.

2/ US secret service. $2.8B

a/ The Secret Service shall be deleted as there will be no president or vice president or 1-in-1-million leaders to protect.

b/ We shall not provide any special security for foreign monarchs or heads of state as we shall no longer respect these.

c/ NPD shall have a division that investigates crimes of the financial system.

3/ Transportation Security Administration $9.3B

a/ The TSA shall be deleted and instead all of its airport screening functions shall be done by the airports themselves according to Senate guidelines. Inspection of transport security standards shall be done by Senators as they travel and also by Sub-Senate juries doing checklist checks of the less visible procedures.

4/ Customs and border protection CBP 16.7B, and Immigration and Customs Enforcement or ICE. 8.4B:

These two administrations shall now be merged and renamed as "National Border Police" and this department shall focus exclusively on:

a/ Securing our nation's borders from illegal crossings.

b/ Checking and Regulating those crossing at national government crossing points.

c/ Finding illegal aliens that are inside our nation.

d/ NBP shall also run prisoner custody facilities for illegal border crossers, and facilities for captured smuggling contraband. These buildings shall, like all national government facilities be built using standardized plans and operated by the local county governments where the national government or the various counties foot the bill and staff the place.

e/ The border-zone county government shall maintain the border wall and keep it patched.

5/ All of the director level functions at NBP shall be taken over by Senate Juries. Therefore, the following offices shall be deleted:

a/ Director, Deputy Director, Assistant Deputy Directors, and Chief of Staff.

b/ Executive Secretariat.

c/ Detention Policy & Planning Assistant Director.

d/ Principal Legal Advisor.

e/ State and Local Coordination Assistant Director.

f/ Congressional Relations Assistant Director.

g/ Public Affairs Assistant Director.

h/ Enforcement Removal operations Executive Associate Director.

i/ Homeland Security Investigations Executive Associate Director.

j/ Management Administration Executive Associate Director.

k/ Professional Responsibility Assistant Director.

6/ The department of Professional Responsibility shall be renamed as Internal Affairs. For all Government agencies Internal Affairs must be called Internal Affairs, and it shall not be allowed to use any other name to hide what this agency does in darkness. The fact that the name of this department is hidden speaks of corruption at ICE.

7/ Most of the divisions of these two agencies shall be deleted, such as: Congressional Relations, Regulatory Affairs, and Policy, Public Affairs, Freedom of Information Act Officers, Firearm and Tactical programs, Diversity and Civil Rights programs, Immigration Program Evaluation, Partnership and Engagement, Countering Transnational organized crime, global trade, and National Security divisions. Where these functions are to be replaced, they shall be replaced by the National Police Department.

8/ With regard to intellectual property rights and counterfeit goods entering our nation, the list shall be prepared by the Senate. Then the National Police department (NPD), and National Border Police (NBP) shall only enforce the list. The National Intellectual Property Rights Coordination Center shall be deleted. Also the new luxury tax system will go a long way towards eliminating the incentives to import counterfeit goods.

9/ To be clear, in the Mexas zone, both border walls shall be secured by NBP. This will include movement within the cells/ cantonments of Mexas, and enforcement checks that everyone in Mexas is carrying a tracking device. NBP may also establish roadblocks and checkpoints up to 100km from the Mexas zone.

10/ NBP shall not concern itself with the apprehension of illegal aliens more than 50km from the Mexas zone, or near the northern border (if any). These illegals shall be the domain of the National Police Department's illegal immigrant apprehension division. Special Border Patrol vehicles and uniforms shall be thought foolish for apprehension of illegals within the US. It is better if illegals are not sure what the government security people are there for.

11/ US Citizenship & Immigration Services. $268M. There will be a substantial differences in the way the new immigrations system will work. All the adoption decision will be made by the people and the deportation decisions made by the Centi-Nome. USCIS shall be reduced in size by over 90%, with regard to national staffing and budget. The various counties shall take over all roles except:

a/ Standardization of county regulations and selection rules, local administration oversight, and physical deportations.
b/ A redundant immigrant tracking database, communications, and statistics regarding immigrants, non-citizens, and new citizens. Each of these shall be a division in the NCIS administration. All other parts of the NCIS administration shall be deleted.

c/ Fraud detection. There shall be a redundant national office of immigration fraud detection especially concerned with foreign criminals changing their identity to evade prosecution and make a fresh start in our land. We hear repeatedly about our people getting in trouble with the law and fleeing to some foreign nation. What blindness it was to not suppose that many immigrants and visitors to our nation have not been doing the same thing. Fraud detection shall also pay healthy rewards to anonymous tipsters who share images of criminal immigrants and visitors to our nation. Furthermore, our nation shall endeavor to keep an international database of convicted felons and suspected terrorists and their biometrics, so that the homeland may be kept secure.

12/ The Senate shall establish minimum and maximum levels of adoptions by the nation's Nomes per decade. The maximum shall not be more than 4x the minimum. When a small number of Nomes adopt a family, this might keep their above the minimum for some years.

13/ The national Office of Refugee Resettlement shall be deleted. The statistics and standardization section work shall be reassigned to other sectors in government.

14/ The national Immigrant and Employee Rights Section, or IER shall now include spot inspections of employers suspected of hiring illegal workers. This administration shall now be under the national police department. There shall be 3 redundant enforcement arms for this same thing. One shall be under NPD, one shall be under county police, and the third under INS. Also, it shall be noted that this new constitution absolutely permits discrimination in employment and other areas based on non-citizenship. It is foolish to prohibit immigration based on non-citizenship, for immigrants are much more likely to commit crimes and then flee back to their home nation, where often times they are protected by extradition laws.

15/ Executive office for Immigration Review. Deleted. There will be no need for bureaucratic review of the new Sub-Senate based system of immigration rulings.

16/ The county recorder system shall maintain the immigration request websites. It should be thought corrupt to have a national administration of appointees acting as the immigration gatekeeper.

17/ Coast Guard $13.1B

a/ The Coast guard may be tasked with environmental testing. Also, it may arrest people for illegal fishing and ocean-dumping activity, but it shall not be tasked with other environmental matters.

GS'26. Department of Labor. $14.9B

As with so many deleted government agencies, OSHA shall be replaced by the Senate, specifically the Industry and Commerce Sluice. Policy shall be determined by the National ICS, which shall also establish standards for the various counties to enforce. The ICS shall also use the county recorder system to create searchable databases about occupational safety, and also for report accidents to the ICS.

c/ The National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health. $352B. This agency shall go the way of OSHA.
